Makes Another Demand

BLUEFIELD, W.Va, Sept. 15—(AP)—John L. Lewis Wednesday threw out another demand for unpaid coal royalties with a prediction that a no-pay policy can start a "social convulsion" in the mine fields of the United States. The surprise move, postponing a showdown over the payments, seemed to ease any immediate threat of a strike call.

Sandra Muspratt Wins WMS Prize

CENTREVILE, Cept. 15 (ENS) —A large number of women and children met Wednesday afternoon for the annual joint meeting of the WMS and the Mission Bands of Centreville Presbyterian Church.

A short WMS meeting was held with the president, Mrs. R. Brackenridge in the chair. The president then presented Miss Sandra Muspratt with a junior membership certificate given by the WMS for the best Mission Band member of the past year.

The junior and senior mission bands played under the leadership of Mrs. Dick Hutchinson, Mrs. James Gaynor and Mrs. R. Bonner. The program included a duet sung by Glenna Hall and Doris Hutchinson. Prayer for China was led by Douglas Hall. A piano solo was played by Norma Willan and Sandra and Sylvia Muspratt sang a duet.

Lunch was served by the committee.

Visitor From Hamilton At Keene WA Meeting

KEENE, Sept. 15—(ENS) — Women's Association of the United church met Monday at the home of Miss Margaret Bryce, with the president, Mrs. A. Rennie, in charge. The Scripture was read by Mrs. S. Comrie and prayer was led by Mrs. Rennie.

Future meetings and provision of dinner for the Peterborough Presbyerty, which meets on September 20 at Keene United church, were considered.

Mrs. H. McFarlane was pianist. Miss Bryce read an interesting topic.

A former member of the Association, Mrs. James McFarlane, of Hamilton, was welcomed. It was decided to hold a service under the auspices of the W.A. in the church one Sunday morning in October.

2 Men Die In Ottawa Hotel Blaze

One Suffers Burns, 55 Others Escape By Way Of Rooftops

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP)—An investigation was underway today into the cause of a $75,000 flash fire that swept through the two top floors of the downtown Belmont Hotel Thursday night, claiming the lives of two men and sending a third to hospital.

Dead are James Williams, 57, and Herman Adams, both permanent residents of the hotel situated at the corner of Lyon and Sparks Streets, five blocks west of the Parliament Buildings.

Recovering in hospital is 76-year-old Ruggles Orr, also a permanent resident at the hotel. He is suffering from minor borns and shock.

About 55 other persons in the hotel when the two-alarm blaze broke out at 7:15 p.m., EDT, fled from the burning three-storey building. Majority were in a crowded cocktail bar and made their way to the safety of adjoining rooftops through a window. They were assisted from the rooftops by firemen using extension ladders. Cause of the fire was not known immediately.

Flames Near Closet

Roomers said they first noticed the flames coming from a guests' storage closet on the second floor and near the hotel's cocktail lounge.

The two dead men and Mr. Orr apparently were cut off by the flames as they attempted to run from their rooms to reach safety They were found lying in the corridor only a few feet from their rooms

Williams, native of Almonte, Ont. and an inspector with the Ontario Highway Department, was burned to death in the fire. Adams died in hospital about four hours later from severe burns and shock.

CURTAIN GOES UP—Prime Minister St. Laurent greets Viscount Alexander, the governor-general, as he arrives to open the first session of the 21st Parliament in Ottawa Thursday. Viscount and Lady Alexander arrived at the Parliament Buildings shortly before 3:00 p.m. After they inspected a tri-service guard of honor, they entered the Senate chamber where the governor-general read the Speech from the Throne to the combined houses.

2 Gunmen Rob Bank of $4,000

MONTREAL, Sept. 16 (CP) — Two armed bandits today robbed a westend branch of the Royal Bank of Canada of $4,000 and escaped after beating a clerk with the butt of a gun.

It was the second Montreal bank holdup in three days. Wednesday a pair of gunmen took $4,000 from a Banque Canadienne Nationale branch in the north-end of the city.

The two entered the Royal Bank branch at the corner of Monkland Boulevard and Harvard Avenue shortly before 11 a.m. and threatened the staff and customers with their guns.

The injured man struck across the back of the neck with the butt of a revolver, was Leonard Konings, a clerk who joined the bank staff five days ago.

A dozen customers were transacting business when one of the men walked into the office of the manager, William Hill, who was dictating to a stenographer, Miss Mildred Stryleski.

The man told Hill to go into the bank proper and both gunmen then ordered the 10 bank employees and customers to line up against the wall.

Mine Fire Burning More Than 3 Years

KANEN, Germany, Sept. 16 — (AP)—After 3½ years, a stubborn fire still guards the tomb of 418 German miners in this tiny Ruhr valley coal town.

The men entombed in February, 1946, by a mighty explosion that never has been fully explained. It was one of the worst mine disasters in history.

The entire shaft was cut off. Engineers flooded it in an effort to halt the raging fire that followed the blast. Then it was sealed off to protect other veins.

The fire never has actually stopped, officials of the Essen Steinkohle Werke said. Crews have dug steadily from another direction ever since to reach the area and remove the bodies.

Bomber Hurtles Into Lake, 5 Dead, Missing

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 16 (AP)—A giant B-36 bomber hurtled into Lake Worth Wednesday night at 100 miles an hour, killing at least one of its crew of 13. Four were missing and eight injured.

A mysterious power failure as the plane roared down Carswell Air Force base's long runway was blamed for the accident, first major mishap since the big bombers started flying a year and a half ago.

Sgt. William G. Seymour of Fort Worth was fatally injured.

Lt. Richard L. English, the flight engineer, said he stood on the fuselage of the cigar-shaped ship after the plane hit and took a hasty roll call. He said every man answered.

Crash boats picked up eight survivors from the wings fuselage and the water as the multi-million dollar six-engined air monster stayed partially afloat.

A fisherman said he saw flames shooting from one of the engines.

"I watched it coming down the runway," he said. "The middle engine on the left side was on fire.

"The pilot tried to stop, it looked like, saw he was too close and then gunned it. He jumped right into the lake."

The plane was carrying a light load of gasoline. It is capable of holding 21,116 gallons of fuel—enough for a non-stop flight of at least 9,600 miles. That's the distance air force officials announced one B-36 travelled in a mock bombing mission.

Peaches 35 Cents Basket As 100,000 Tons Rotting

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 16—(CP)—Peaches are a glut on the market in the Niagara Peninsula, it was reported here today. Shortage of baskets, an over-abundant crop and poor sales have sent peach prices sliding down to 35 cents a basket. Some farmers have stopped picking in their orchards, hoping for a rise in price or a supply of baskets to store or sell their peaches. Others are cintinuing picking and storing the fruit in barns in the hope that baskets will be available before they rot.

The National Employment Service still reports a great shortage of farm help for picking, and none available.

One farmer estimates that there are now 100,000 tons of peaches rotting on trees and on the ground in the Niagara Peninsula.

Packing plants are running at full capacity to put the fruit down while it is available. Each plant contracts for the amount of fruit it can handle before the season starts at an agreed-upon set price. The plants thus can carry little of the surplus crop and this is now piling up for lack of a market.

Harold Shapiro of the St. Catharines Basket Exchange estimates that 1,000,000 bsketsa are needed now to relieve the shortage in this area and enable the farmers to market their crop.

Basket factories are working at full capacity to meet the demand. In the last two years two basket factories — one at Grimsby and one at Jordan Station—have been destroyed by fire and rebuilt, but these and other factories have been unable to cope with the demand.

Police Return Girl To Cobourg

MONTREAL, Sept. 16—(CP)—Police said Thursday night that they are holding a 15-year-old girl fugitive from a Toronto psychiatrict hospital and that she will be handed over to officials of the Ontario Training School for Girls at Cobourg when they arrived here today.

Police reported the girl was in a strait-jacket after she had "fought like a wildcat" and had bitten police attempting to arrest her.

The girl, who as a juvenile was not identified, escaped from the hospital Aug. 25. Ontario authorities had declared her a mental case who was "a danger to society."

The girl had been hired as a maid in a suburban Westmount home when police found her.

Red Leader's Son Flees To British Zone

BERLIN, Sept. 16 — (AP) — Joseph Reimann, 23, son of West Germany's Communist leader, Max Reimann, has fled from the Soviet zone and placed himself under the protection of the British military government, British authorities announced Thursday.

Reimann was flown Thursday from Berlin to the British zone in an R.A.F. plane. A headquarters spokesman added: "He told us he just got fed up and made a bolt for it."

Europe Self-Supporting By June 1952—Hoffman

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 16 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, Marshall Plan administrator, foresees a self-supporting western Europe as a "definite possibility" by June 30, 1952.

In his first major speech since returning two weeks ago from a tour of seven European countries, Hoffman said that the plan now is ahead of schedule.

However, he cautioned that fulfilling the target date "is going to take a lot of doing on the part of both Europeans and Americans."

As a further means of advancing world prosperity, Hoffman advised the United States to take a "slightly higher percentage" of European imports. He said this would be balanced by "our own high volume of American exports."

World trade is essential to United States prosperity, he said and it requires "a two-way street."

Hoffman also called upon the United States to "give full evidence that we intend to carry the four-year Marshall Plan through to its completion."

The amount of aid "must be on a decreasing scale," he said, "but if Europe meets her obligations under that plan we should meet ours."

For Europe he advised achievement of "an economic unification which will create a single market of 275,000,000 consumers, for whom European industry and agriculture can produce economically and to whom European manufacturers and farmers can sell freely."

"Only within such a framework can Europe begin to become truly self-supporting," he said.

Protest Of Guards Sent To Authorities

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — Sheriff J. D. Donover of York County said today he has passed on to the Ontario Department of Reform Institutions the protest of guards at the Don Jail here against removal of guards' stools from jail corridors.

The sheriff said he met with some of the guards Thursday to hear their complaint. There was no disturbance and the meeting was orderly he said.

Mr. Donover said he issued the order at the suggestion of the department "to bring the jail more or less in line with other institutions where there are no stools or chairs for the guards."

C. F. Neelands, Deputy Minister of Reform Institutions, said he had been informed of the men's complaint and considered the matter "purely an administrative one and the responsibility of the governor of the jail."

Turns Over 10 Times In Plunge

Steering Gear Fails In Rouge Hills Passing Transport,

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — A sharp pain in the chest is all Bill Main, 28, of Ajax, has to remind him of a nightmarish ride down a 1,000 foot embankment by the Rouge River in suburban Scarboro Thursday night.

He said his late-model rented car flipped over 10 times, cutting a swath through trees and underbrush before coming to a halt on its side.

The steering gear failed as he was negotiating the bridge on No. 2 highway, 10 miles east of Toronto.

Main said he cut out to pass a transport and the steering wheel did not respond when he tried to cut back.

Hits Wires

"I recall seeing the headlights shine on a fence," he said. "The car hit the wires and looped. There was more crashing and banging. It seemed an eternity before there was utter silence."

When he managed to get out of the car he heard the driver of the transport yelling "Anybody down there?" He switched his lights on and off to show that he was all right.

He started up the ravine and met the transport driver about half-way up. Police arrived as he reached the highway. Police had to light flares in the valley before they could find the car.

A veteran of 5½ years with the RCAF Main was taken to Toronto's St. Michael's Hospital, where he was found to be uninjured.

Windsor Names Hospital Head

WINDSOR, Sept. 16 (CP) — Robert Buckner, 49-year-old administrator of Greater Niagara Falls General Hospital, has been named superintendent and business administrator of Metropolitan General Hospital. He will assume his new duties sometime in October.

A special meeting of the Metropolitan board of governors interviewed three applicants Thursday night. The choice was narrowed down to that number from a total of 25 applications.

Mr. Buckner will take over the position left vacant by the resignation of Horace E. Atkin who quit in the face of a Royal Commission edict that he be dismissed.

Disgusted Pilot

ROME, Sept. 16—(AP)—An American pilot poked his head out of his boarding house window Thursday night and was struck by a one-pound hailstone. He had to have three stitches taken in his scalp. Said David Woters, the pilot: "I've flown over 2,000,000 miles without a scratch. And I had to go to the hospital for looking out of my window."

4 Allied Soldiers Escape In Daring Break

BERLIN, Sept. 16 (AP)—One American and three British soldiers made a daring escape last midnight from a Russian prison in east Berlin, the United States army announced today.

The American, Private John J. Sinkiewrcz, 26, told officers he and his companions burrowed through a thick wall with a blunt knife and managed to reach through and open their cell door.

Sinkiewrcz was taken to an army hospital where he was reported in "a generally weakened physical condition but not unduly undernourished."

He had been held by the Russians since last Nov. 5 when he rode a streetcar into the Soviet sector by mistake. He said he was questioned 16 days and nights and "beaten when they said I was lying."

Sinkiewrck told army officers he and the three British prisoners used an iron bar from one of their beds to pry open their cell block door and then fled over a wall topped by jagged glass.

They reached the street by sneaking through a bombed-out building and then separated to make their way to the western sector. Sinkiewrcz managed to get to a German police station in the French sector and telephoned American authorities.

He said he was taken to Oranienburg prison in the Russian zone for exhaustive questioning "by high Russian officers," and later was returned to jail.

Pleads Guilty In Plot

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 16 (AP)—Laszlo Rajk, once Hungary's No. 2 Communist, told a People's Court today he plotted with Americans and other westerners to overthrow the Communist government and make Hungary a "colony of Yugoslavia."

Rajk, former Interior Minister and Foreign Minister in the Communist government, went on trial for his life with seven others against a background of seething war of nerves between Communist Yugoslavia and the Soviet-led countries of the Cominform.

Frost, Winters in Huddle On Housing Needs, Say Ottawa Co-operative

Also Has Conference With St. Laurent About B.N.A. Parley Will Study Federal Proposal Over Weekend

OTTAWA, Sept. 16—(CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario today came out of a 60-minute huddle with Reconstruction Minister Winters of Ontario's housing needs and immediately went into another one with Prime Minister St. Laurent. While no announcement was made, it was believed the Frost-St. Laurent conference dealt with the Federal government's proposal to hold a conference with the provinces on constitutional amendment agreement.

Premier Frost said in an interview earlier that he would "study" the Federal proposal at his hometown at Lindsay during the weekend and make known his views "some time next week."

He said he had been visiting various Ontario municipalities during the last few days and had little time to go over the Federal proposition, contained in a letter sent to all Provincial Premiers Thursday.

On the question of housing, he said the situation in Ontario still was serious, but that he was getting "excellent co-operation" from the Ceconstruction Minister.

Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, and Chester Walters, Ontario Treasury official, accompanied Mr. Frost.

Optimistic View

Skirting questions on the constitution and housing, Mr. Frost noted that the Ontario Hydro situation was improving.

"If we get sufficient rain, the restrictions which, in the normal course of events will come into effect October 1, will amount to nothing," the Premier said.

"We must protect our position with these restrictions," he added, "but if the rainfall is normal, conditions will be lightened materially.

"Next summer we will be all right. For by then we shall have nearly a half-million more horsepower for this province. Our power developments will really begin to click. Next year we shall be completely out of the woods."

Blast Rips Dairy

EDMONTON, Sept. 16 (CP) — Six men were injured today in an explosion and fire that ripped through the northern Alberta Dairy Pool building in Edmonton's warehouse district. Firemen quickly brought the fire under control.

All Provinces Approve Parley On BNA

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP) — In respect of matters under provincial jurisdiction the government will consult the provinces in hope of arriving at agreement on methods of amending the constitution, it was announced at the opening of Parliament on Thursday.

Later, after members had returned from the Senate to the Commons chamber, Prime Minister St. Laurent tabled copies of letters he has sent to Premiers of the 10 Provinces asking them to meet the Federal Government on the matter.

"Our aim," the letters said, "is to reach agreement as soon as possible on a method of amendment (of the British North America Act) which will relieve the United Kingdom Parliament of an embarrassing obligation and establish full and final responsibility for all our national affairs."

Full Agreement

Early reports from provincial premiers indicated the provinces would agree whole - heartedly with Mr. St. Laurent's request for a Dominion-Provincial Conference to establish agreement on ways of attaining full constitutional autonomy.

Although a definite date for convening the conference is not expected to be set for some time, the most probable date is some-

5 Men On Trial For 47 Thefts

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — Five men, arrested last week, will appear in court today in connection with the theft of 47 automobiles valued at $40,000, stolen from various points between Oshawa and Windsor.

James Casey of Hamilton, described by police as the ringleader of the province-wide ring, faces 18 charges of theft and a similar number of charges of receiving stolen goods.

Carl Coughlin and Edward Bisson of Winnipeg face five charges of theft and receiving. Lennus Patterson of Toronto is held on five charges of theft and four of receiving and Joseph Menchetti of Hamilton is charged with six thefts and receiving.

Two Top Scientists With Howe At Talks

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP) — Trade Minister Howe plans to take the government's two top defence and civilian scientists with him to Washington for trination talks which Canada hopes will lead to revival of a formal agreement on exchange of atomic information. They start Tuesday.

The former agreement lapsed in 1948. There has never been any official statement that exchange has been difficult since but the current situation is not believed to be entirely satisfactory.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Defence Research Board, and Dr. C. J. Mckenzie, chairman of the Atomic Energy Control Board, it was learned, are slated to accompany the cabinet's expert on the atom. Another aide will represent the External Affairs department.

Let Britain Buy Grain From Canada

Allow Freer Use Of Marshall Dollars To Improve Crisis

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (CP) —The United States Thursday told Britain she may use $175,000,000 of her Marshall-plan funds to buy Canadian wheat this year. The United States also extended to France and all other Marshall-plan countries trade and financial concessions granted to Britain to relieve her dollar crisis.

Permission for Britain to use Marshall-plan money to purchase Canadian wheat was announced by the Economic Co-Operation Administration. ECA described this action as "an effort to alleviate the critical drain on British gold-and-dollar holdings."

This decision was a result of the recent Anglo-Canadian-American conference here, and amplified the meeting's announcement Monday that the United Kingdom would be given more freedom in her use of Marshall-plan dollars. Since last March Britain has been using earned and reserve dollars to pay for wheat she contracted to buy from Canada.

Outline Plans

Thursday's ECA statement added:

1. Wheat. Britain will buy some $30,000,000 worth of US wheat and $8,000,000 to 10,000,000 worth of perishable surplus agricultural commodities.

2. Shipping costs: ECA will pay Britain $30,000,000 for certain "vessel disbursements"— bunker fuel and harbor expenses for the shipment of wheat to Britain. (These costs were previously not allowed by ECA).

3. Produce: Canada will re-examine her restrictions on imports of US fruits and vegetables with the view of giving relief where possible from restrictions that are especially burdensome to US producers.

Extension of similar privileges to other countries getting United States aid was assured at a meeting of State Secretary Dean Acheson, with Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

Reassure French

The French received these assurances:

1. Use of Funds: All the ECA countries and not Britain alone will be permitted to use Marshall plan funds to buy elsewhere a wide range of commodities which they are now required to obtain from the United States;

2. Customs: Whatever relaxation of U. S, customs regulations is worked out to help Britain sell its products in the United States will also apply to France and the other countries;

3. Stockpiling: They will share in any increase in stockpiling purchases of tin, rubber and other strategic materials by the United States and Canada.

Some opposition to ECA's granting of authority for British purchase of Canadian wheat with Marshall plan money is expected to be raised in Congress. But the leaders of major farmers' organizations are reported to be favorable to the plan.

Beneficial Move

The U. S. government contends the Anglo-Canadian-ECA arrangement will be beneficial to United States agriculture, including wheat producers. Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan said United States wheat exports may be larger as a result of this move. It would enable Britain to buy from the United States some $30,000,000 worth of wheat not previously included in planned purchases. In addition, Canada's sales to Britain may leave to the United States export markets which Canada otherwise might have supplied.

The ECA announcement involves no change in the quantity of wheat Britain has contracted to buy in Canada. It makes it possible, however, for her to use Marshall plan money to buy the wheat, instead of being compelled to use her dwindling supply of gold and dollar reserves. Britain is scheduled to buy $309,000,000 worth from Canada this year.

The decision to include France and all Marshall plan countries in the trade and financial consessions to Britain was announced in a joint communique following Schuman's initial meeting with Acheson and Snyder, a conference of nearly two hours.

London Waits Cripps' Report

LONDON, Sept. 16 (Reuters)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will hold a press conference Monday, at which he will report on the Washington talks, it was announced Thursday.

Sir Stafford is in Washington attending the meeting of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund. He is expected to fly home Friday.

Treasury sources said that the chancellor is not expected to make an announcement on devaluation of the pound. They said the conference may be preceded by a meeting of the cabinet.

Official sources here continue to express satisfaction at the outcome of the Washington dollar talks by representatives of Britain, the United States and Canada. They say the British delegation feels the official communique was "moderate in its expression of achievement."

Government quarters discredit suggestions that the talks produced any secret arrangements. (Reports have been published that one secret clause calls for devaluation of sterling.)

Bizonia No More

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 16 (AP)—Bizonia, the economic union created by Britain and the United States in western Germany formally ceased to exist Thursday. All three western zones—the American, British and French—now are to be under the new West German federal government.

Bishops Bar Marriage Law Change

May Be Introduced At Next Synod In Three Years Time

HALIFAX, Sept. 16 (CP) — The upper house of the 17th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada Thursday night vetoed two proposed amendments to the Church's marriage laws. One motion, passed earlier by the lower chamber, would have permitted the "innocent party" to a divorce to remarry and keep all church sacraments.

The upper house also decided its re-marriage laws would not be widened to cover divorce and dissolution. This means the only persons who now can be remarried under church law are those whose previous marriages have been nullified by a civil court. The amendment was introduced Tuesday by Mr. Justice W. H. Harrison of Saint John, N. B. It still can be brought forward at the next General Synod in three years.

The resolution would have permitted the re-marriage of persons where the civil court had adjudged their previous separation either divorce or dissolution.

But the re-marriage would only be recognized if the Church could establish the first union as null and void.

This would be based on nullifying factors present at the time of the original marriage such as bigamy, consanguinity or because one of the parties was under age. These factors would not include, for instance adultery which is a ground for divorce and occurs after the marriage.

The upper house concurred in the motion but qualified their decision with deletions which left the resolution fundamentally the same as the old law.

To Renew Plea

SEOUL, Sept. 16 (AP)—President Singman Rhee said today a group of Korean observers now in the United States had been asked to renew his South Korean Republic's plea for membership in the United Nations. The appeal will be made to the UN general assembly meeting this month. Russia has blocked the Korean application.

Declared Innocent

REGINA, Sept. 16 (CP) — A Court of King's Bench jury on Thursday found James Nelson Watson, 40, of Estevan, Sask., innocent of the 1934 murder of Eileen Bailey, 17, of Estevan, by reason of sanity. Watson is being returned to North Battleford, Sask., mental hospital, where he had been confined for the last 15 years. Miss Bailey was killed with a knife in her home March 24, 1934.

No More Winking At All-Night Parkers, But Will Get "Courtesy" Tickets First

Mr. Motorist if you have no garage for your car, now is the time to start searching. Throughout the summer many car owners have been infringing a city by-law by parking their cars overnight on the street in front of their homes. Knowing the difficult garage situation, city police "winked their collective eye" to many of these contraventions, but winter is not far away and enforcement of the by-law is, therefore, becoming imperative.

City Police Commission discussed the situation Thursday and Chief Constable John Thompson was instructed to take steps to have the regulations obeyed.

Courtesy tickets, drawing the offender's attention to parking by-laws, are to be placed on cars during the next few weeks. If offending motorists do not take advantage of the courtesy warnings, they will find parking tickets on their cars.

Says He Was Drunk

Pleading guilty to a charge of being drunk Sept. 9, Ross Curtin was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court this morning.

On written pleas of guilty, Bernard Condon, Douro and Gordon Quirk, Warsaw, were each fined $15 and costs on charges of having liquor in place other than their residences.

Golds Climb Briskly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — Golds climbed briskly ahead in active trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Demand increased steadily in senior and junior gold producers with a few smaller issues holding a large share of the volume. Industrials also gained while base metals mixed gains and losses. Western slipped slightly.

The climb in golds began late Thursday following news from Washington that the United States had asked for a special meeting of the gold committee of the International Monetary Fund to discuss the price of gold. The throne speech at the opening of Parliament in Ottawa Thursday said also that the government is planning extension in the emergency gold mining assistance act to assist marginal mines.

Upper Canada Mines returned to the spotlight with a new high at $4.45 in brisk dealings. O'Brien Gold Mines, with property in northwestern Quebec, was in brisk demand and touched a new high at $2.17.

Papers featured Industrials, climbing strongly in brisk buying. International Paper was up a full point at $60.

Base metals opened stronger but mid-session selling wiped out most of the early gains.

HURT IN BLAST

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — John Murphy, 51, was taken to hospital Thursday in critical condition after a dynamite explosion on a sewer construction job in suburban Etobicoke township. Foreman of the blasting operations, Murphy was struck on the head by flying rock.

Suggest Union Be Thrown Out

CALGARY, Sept. 16 (CP) — The spark that will touch off anti-Red action by the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress was applied to the TLC's annual convention yesterday.

It was a recommendation from the TLC executive that the left-ist-slated Canadian Seamen's Union be thrown out of the Congress. The move would be just about the death knell for that organization as a big influence in Canadian Labor.

All indications today were that the proposal would be adopted by an overwhelming majority, backed not only by the executive but by the more militant anti-Red faction of the Congress under Frank H. Hall.

However, it was not expected that the CSU issue would break out violently today. Expectations were it would come to the floor next week, possibly Monday afternoon.

Two Workmen Hurt In Plant Accidents

Dropping a heavy roll of wire on his right foot, Kenneth Hutchinson, 22, Lindsay, fractured three toes while working at the CGE Thursday afternoon.

He was taken to the Civic Hospital where officials reported his condition good this morning.

John Hickey, 357 Rogerts St., had a thumb cut off while working at the Quaker Oats Co. Thursday night about nine p.m. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment.

His 8th Escape

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Sept. 16 (AP)—For the eighth time, William Jerome Phyle Thursday escaped execution for the killing of Elmer Frazee in a San Diego holdup in 1946. He was scheduled to die in San Quentin prison's gas chamber this morning. The Supreme court granted a temporary stay of execution so Phyle's attorney might seek another trial of his client's sanity.

Five Men Under Arrest In $90,000 Drug Raid

MONTREAL, Sept. 16—(CP)—Five men are under arrest and $90,000 worth of illegal heroin has been seized as the climax of a month-long undercover program by the R.C.M.P. to break up a big dope ring here. Among those arrested are a Roman Catholic priest —Rev. Arthur Taillefer—and a night-club operator, Michael Sisco, 35.

The others: Rosario Delisle, 48, a department store salesman; William Lamy, 32, a painter; Frank Perreault, 21, brother of an executed murderer, Douglas Perreault.

Six months of work by a dozen undercover R.C.M.P. officers posing as dope peddlers, addicts and receivers in Montreal resulted Wednesday in the arrests. The heroin was found in a public locker in Windsor railway station. Shortly afterwards, Father Taillefer and Sisco were arrested quietly at a bank on St. James Street.

The story did not become public until Thursday, when Father Taillefer and Sisco were arraigned in court. The priest—a Vicar of the parish of St. Madeleine D'Outremont in greater Montreal's north end—was charged specifically with having sold morphine and heroin illegally last April 21, July 14 and Sept. 14.

Trial for him and Sisco, arraigned on a similar charge, was set for Sept. 22.

Two Other Arrests

A few hours later, RCMP announced the arrest of Delisle and Lamy. Delisle was charged with conspiracy to distribute drugs while Lamy was charged with possession of one ounce of heroin, valued at $2,500. RCMP spokesmen said that Delisle was connected with the ring but that Lamy was not.

The fifth arrest came Thursday night when city police picked up Frank Perreault on a charge of possessing illegal drugs.

Delisle, Lamy and Perreault will be arraigned today. When arrested, Perreault was free on bail while charged with complicity in the attempted escape of Douglas Perreault and Noel Cloutier from Montreal jail, where both were waiting execution for the murder last fall during a bank robbery of two Montreal policemen. Cloutier and Douglas Perreault subsequently were hanged.

Lacrosse Finals Start Saturday

TORONTO, Sept. 16—(CP) — The best-of-five Ontario senior lacrosse series will start at Hamilton Saturday night between Brampton Excelsiors and Hamilton Tigers, it was announced here today. Winner of the series will meet either New Westminster Adanacs or Vancouver Burrards in a best-of-five Mann cup final at Vancouver starting Sept. 26.

Second game of the Ontario finals will be played at Brampton Sept. 19 with the third at Hamilton Sept. 20. A fourth game, if necessary, will be played at Brampton Sept. 22 and if the series is still tied the final game wil be played at Mimico Sept. 23.

Rap High Costs

OLMYPIA, Wash., Sept. 16 — (AP)—A newspaper men's committee that spent three months investigating Washington State finances called for "an aroused and informed public" to check mushrooming state costs. Reporting that the State's outlays have shiprocketed out of proportion to individual incomes, the newspaper men have recommended "a public awakening," economy measures, and better accounting.

OPENS FOR BOWLING
Saturday, Sept. 17

IN THE PAST four years we added more than half a million telephones and installed new equipment in every exchange in Ontario and Quebec. At the same time we were able to make substantial improvements in service. But it took a lot of money, over two hundred million dollars!

There remains much to be done! Many applicants are still waiting for telephone service, and many more subscribers' present service is not adequate to their needs. We intend to meet their wishes, and to continue making the service clearer, faster, better in every way.

This will take more millions for new equipment and buildings. As in the past, this money must come from the savings of thousand dians who are willing to invest in the telephone business.

In his letter, Mr. St. Laurent suggested the conference be held after the current sesion of parliament, expected to last at least until Dec. 2. However, if provincial governments wanted it, a preparatory conference could be held immediately by federal-provincial constitutional experts.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia, one of the first provincial premiers to comment on the proposal said "we not only heartily welcome the conference but will be glad to attend it whenever it is held."

Typhoon Eases Off

TOKYO, Sept. 16 (Reuters) — A 100-mile-an-hour typhoon which had been approaching Formosa from east-southeast now has dissipated in low pressure and is no longer a danger, the American weather unit in Tokyo said today. The typhoon was last reported off the China coast near Foochow.

New Lt.-Governor?

VANCOUVER, Sept. 16 (CP)—G. A. Hunter, editor of the Prince Rupert Daily News, said Thursday in a dispatch from Ottawa that John Hart, former Premier of British Columbia, will be appointed B. C.'s next Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Hunter credited the information to "political circles" in Ottawa

Will Straighten Township Road's Dangerous Bend

HASTINGS, Sept. 16 (ENS) — The third serious motor accident within three weeks on the corner of River Rd. by William McGrayne's farm has resulting in a decision to have the road straightened, thus eliminating the present danger zone.

After a car overturned at the corner and was totally wrecked in the early hours of Thursday morning, Township Reeve Arthur Wartman inspected the road and has since said that the bend will be eliminated.

Driver of the car Thursday was Donald MacDonald, 20 Sidney St., Toronto. Although the car rolled over twice before settling in the ditch, he was uninjured, complaining neither of scratches nor bruises.

Plan Band Concert At Morrow Park

The program of the concert by Peterborough Citizens Band at Morrow Park next Tuesday night, sponsored by the Social and Athletic Club of Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co. has been received from Walter Dyer.

This concert is free to the public, probably with a special invitation to the residents of the south end of the city. The Club is offering several attendance prizes which will be drawn during the intermission, and Clarence Corbett will conduct a sing-song.

The concert will be in the former parade hall of the military camp. Seating accommodation is being provided. Club members wish to make this a community event down in their own neighborhood, but they are inviting everybody to the concert.

The program prepared by the conductor, Mr. Wm. Peryer, is as follows:

O, Canada.

March, Washington Greys, by G. S. Grafula.

Overture, Light Cavalry, by Franz Von Suppe'.

Waltz Bower of Beauty, by Ellis Brooks.

Bassoon Solo, Lucy Long, arranged by F. Godfrey (played by Bandsman Frank Hully.

Selection, Chu Chin Chow, arranged by Frederick Norton.

Song for Cornet, Berceuse de Jocelyn, by Benjamin Godard, (played by Bandsman Earl Johns)

Hunting Scene by P. Bucalossi.

Pays Fine Of $15

Pleading guilty to having liquor other than in a residence, McLaren Logan, RR 5, Peterborough, was fined $15 and costs in police court Thursday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

Logan had beer in a car early in the morning of Sept. 4.

John Maloney, 148 Park St., was freed from a charge of vagrancy when the crown offered no evidence.

NO SPECIALL CHAIRS—Jack Garland, 500-pound, six-foot-one member of Parliament from Nipissing, sat in an ordinary chair in the Commons chamber for the opening of Parliament Thursday. When the 31-year-old North Bay heavyweight, who defeated four other candidates to win his constituency, was elected last June, government officials built special chairs for him—just in case. Mr. Garland says he doesn't need them. He did, however, get a desk in the chamber all to himself. Other members sit two to a desk.

Hit Small Girl, No Negligence

A charge of careless driving through having ineffective brakes against Eric G. Mead, 584 Downie St., was dismissed by Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C., in police court Thursday.

A four-year-old girl, Linda Mahoney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mahoney, 525 Patterson St., was hit by Mead's car about 7 p.m. August 22.

Investigating constable William G. Scott told the court Mead had told him at the time he had been driving west on Patterson St. at a moderate speed. He saw a group of children playing some distance back from the Rutherford St. corner. He didn't pay any more attention to them because they were back from the corner. The next thing he saw a little girl in front of his car bounce off the fender.

The girl was not seriously injured.

Constable Scott said he examined the brakes and found they were not in good working order. He said the brakes wouldn't skid the wheel at all.

Defence counsel W. J. Arthur Fair KC moved for dismissal on the grounds there was no evidence of negligence shown.

Obituary

MRS. MALCOLM SLOAN

ROSENEATH, Sept. 16 (ENS)—The death occurred Wednesday of Mrs. Malcolm Sloan. She had had a long illness and died at the age of 47.

Formerly Ada Small, Mrs. Sloan was the only daughter of Mr. Alex Small and the late Mrs. Small of Norwood. She had spent the greater part of her life in and near Norwood, coming to Roseneath last year to reside on the farm they had purchased.

Of a retiring disposition she was held in high esteem by all with whom she came in contact. Mrs. Sloan had been ill for the past ten months bearing her long, painful illness with the utmost patience and Christian fortitude.

She leaves her husband to whom she was married December 17, 1924, her aged father, Mr Alex Small, Norwood; three brothers Norman Small, B. A., Bronte; Kenneth Small, Hamilton and Wilson Small, Norwood.

The funeral service will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. at Tedford's Funeral Home, Norwood. The service will be conducted by Mrs. Sloan's pastor, the Rev. R. C. White of Roseneath.

Salvation Army Heads Moved To Maritimes

Brigadier and Mrs. H. Newman who have been in charge of this district of the Salvation Army extending from Kingston to the eastern parts of Toronto, have received farewell orders, and are taking charge of the Salvation Army work in Nova Scotia.

While in this district they have endeared themselves greatly to the people of Peterborough, particularly by their kindness and thoughtfulness. They gave backing to the projects carried out by Major and Mrs. Watt, and have been equally co-operative with the new officers, Major and Mrs. C. Everitt.

Brigadier and Mrs. Newman will be at the Peterborough Temple this evening when a special farewell service is being held at eight o'clock.

Three Day Week At Cobourg Plant

COBOURG, Sept. 16 (ENS)—Another Cobourg industry dropped to a three-day week with the announcement Thursday that the men would not be required on Friday and Saturday. Export business dropping off is held responsible for the temporary slackness. The local employment office manager said he could not issue figures on the number out of work but it was learned that the three days a week schedule on which some plants are working, is causing a sizeable reduction in pay envelopes. However work is going full blast at the sewage disposal plant construction job and at the recreational centre, taking up some of the unemployment slack.

Claims Car Operated With Poor Brakes

Judgment on a charge against Wallace Weatherup, Bewdley, of driving without adequate brakes was reserved until Sept. 21 by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. in police court Thursday.

He deferred his decision until defence counsel Emmett F. Sheehy had time to produce a ruling affecting the admission of some evidence given by Constable H. R. Mesley. The question arose whether or not the constable could tell Weatherup's account of how the accident happened.

Constable Mesley testified that as the result of an accident Aug 21, he tried the brakes of Weatherup's 1931 model car. He said the brakes stopped the car at a slow rate of speed. He added Weatherup told him he had the brakes fixed only a short time before.

"I thought the brakes were good, but they wouldn't stop for me then," Weatherup testified. He said he hadn't been driving much since he had the brakes relined, and thought they hadn't been "wore in."

Visits Cobourg Rotary

COBOURG, Sept. 16 (ENS) — John W. Gooch of Toronto, Rotary District Governor, paid his first official visit to the Rotary Club of Cobourg today. He was guest speaker at the luncheon. Mr. Gooch is president and general manager of the Canadian Metal Window and Steel Products of Toronto and is a member of the Rotary Club of that city.

Rents Two Rooms Crosses WPTB

For renting two rooms of his house which he didn't want to rent in the first place, Howard Harding, 86 Dufferin St., was fined $15, and $9.30 costs because the rent he collected was too high. He was also ordered to return $70, the amount collected in excess of the rental finally set by the War Time Price and Trade Board.

Harding was charged with taking a rent that was more than reasonable and just and also with failing to apply to the WPTB to set the rental.

From October 1948, to April 1949, he rented two rooms to Harry E. Clark for $35 a month. Clark now lives near Omemee. The rent finally set was $25 a month.

"This man approached me and begged me to rent him two rooms because he couldn't get any place to live," Harding protested. He said he rented the rooms only as a favour to Clark. He also said he didn't know anything about having to apply to the WPTB to fix a rent.

Clark he had asked for the two rooms and Harding had finally said his wife would make the decision. He reported that Mrs. Harding said if she rented the two rooms it would be $35 a month.

Device Sets Poser For Police

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 16 — (ENS)—Producing a weird looking machine, with multiple dials and marked with strange hieroglyphics, Provincial Constable Kellogg argued in police court Thursday that it was used for gambling purposes. He told the court that he had confiscated it in John Carlaw's place of business at Warkworth.

Carlaw's counsel, J. F. R. Douglas contended that the crown would have to prove without doubt that the machine was a gambling device. In the absence of Crown counsel Harry Deyman, KC, the case was laid over until Sept. 29.

Road Accidents Keep Court Busy

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 16 — (ENS)—The charge against Edward Hicks, Campbellford, for causing a disturbance in a poolroom was adjourned by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court Thursday.

Carl Ennis, Campbellford, who was charged with careless driving on July 30, when he collided with a car driven by Miss Meiklejohn in Seymour Township, was fined $50 and $16.30 costs.

Failing to report a truck accident to the police, cost Garfield Fraser, Campbellford, $15 and costs.

Charged with careless driving, W. Spencer of Campbellford, was fined $25 and costs. He had left the scene of the accident and could not be located for some time, Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings, told the court.

An Urgent Message...

IT IS OUR BELIEF that a serious problem is gravely affecting the efficiency of many Canadian businesses, and the prosperity and happiness of the men and women who staff them.

THE PROBLEM?

A perilous shortage of adequately trained office help—chiefly typists and stenographers!

It's a fact that many thousands of teen-agers are annually finding employment in offices. But . . . it's also a fact that only a very small minority possesses even the basic training in typing, stenography and general office routine essential for a proper start.

THE REASON?

Far too many boys and girls—the overwhelming majority, in fact—are leaving Business Schools too early. Lured by the thoughts of "easy money", they are embarking on their careers deprived of the proficiency and confidence gained only by staying at school long enough to graduate with recognized standards. Too early departure from school cheats them of normal advancement and the greater earning power that goes with it.

Each precious month of Business schooling curtailed can and does have gravely far-reaching consequences. Under the test of actual work at an office desk, a skimped, "unfinished" training in typing or stenography soon reveals itself. While the half-trained typist gropes to attain accuracy and confidence, his or her adequately trained colleague does more work and better work—thus is automatically marked for promotion!

For these reasons parents are urged to remind their sons and daughters that only by staying at school until they have obtained the complete and adequate training prescribed, can they get ahead as they hope—today or in the future. That last month or two of schooling purposely designed to eliminate "rough spots" . . . guarantee proficiency . . . build self-confidence . . . will save years of disappointment and frustration later!

The Red Cross May Canvass With The Others

The Peterborough branch of the Red Cross was given orders by the National Executive (as was Windsor) to get out of the Community Fund Campaign or to surrender their charter. The top brass of the Red Cross has, it seems, had a temporary change of heart, and is considering allowing Peterborough and Windsor branches to remain in the local Community Fund campaigns, for the next canvass at least. We are pleased to hear this.

The Red Cross conducts a national canvass, and correlates its publicity across the country, for its chosen week. Understandably, the Canada-wide campaign is thrown out of timing locally if Peterborough or other branches lump their appeals with those of other local societies, and if the local Community Fund campaign takes place earlier or later than the national Red Cross canvass.

The hierarchy of the Red Cross feel, too, if it is bulked with half a dozen other welfare societies, it carries the local campaign, yet does not get its full share of the monies collected. The Red Cross during the war may have been the chief drawing card in appeals, but that was because of the war, and the Red Cross was primarily an organization to succour the wounded. Naturally its patriotic appeal was great. The situation is somewhat different now.

Peterborough people have found one annual appeal on behalf of numerous welfare organizations to be quite satisfactory. The participating organizations also seem to have found this method satisfactory, for the campaign has always reached the objectives set, and the distribution of monies has been equitable, even, it is locally considered, to the Red Cross.

We hope that next year's campaign will prove to the National executive of the Red Cross that no separate Red Cross appeal in Peterborough is necessary or desirable.

No Ward Heelers In Peterborough

Peterborough rid itself of the ward system of electing aldermen in 1919. It was considered then that the city's size and community spirit did not warrant it; aldermen were capable of knowing personally every section of the city and its problems, and the voters likewise. In recent years there has been talk of the advisability of going back to the ward system, where aldermen are elected by a district, to serve primarily their district. The Council itself has not favoured the ward system, and recently wrote in reply to the Allied Labour Council that a case for a return to the ward system had not been made out.

There are good arguments against the ward system, even in a larger place like Toronto. Mayor McCallum said last Monday, in reference to the new Toronto plan, that a system of priorities of work must be adopted, so that the best interests of the city as a whole would be served, "Sectionalism would thus not be apparent. Under the present system, certain elected representatives have been able to secure for their particular districts the lion's share of civic improvements, while others have received little or no considerations".

Peterborough, not being dogged by the ward heelers, has been advanced without regard to sectional pressures, yet all sections of the city have been served equitably, to the civic good.

More Information Needed

The British-American-Canadian conference on the dollar and pound problem ended on Monday with seemingly advantageous results to Britain and Canada, and therefore indirectly to the United States. A ten-point communique was issued in which there were some broad but reassuring generalities about common aims, a realistic statement that "no permanent solution to the problem could be found in the emergency steps contemplated"; and some very meagre and scattered details about those emergency steps. Canada and the United States are preparing to adopt a more open policy towards imports, to enable Britain to remain in the markets of the United States and Canada. Britain will make a vigorous attempt to increase exports and lower the costs of production.

* * *

The crisis has been met—and that is as much as could be expected in a week's conference—but it still remains to be seen in what directions and on what specific points the "sustained effort" will be made to work out "conditions under which world trade can develop steadily". To what has Canada committed herself? What restrictions, concessions and remedies were contemplated by her at Washington? What does she intend to do? More elucidation is needed. One of Mr. Abbott's first tasks in the new Parliament which opened yesterday must surely be to give the House an adequate account of the Washington conference, together with an explanation of the measures which the Government proposes to take, and the probable effects on Canada of contemplated British and American measures.

Prey For Communists

A correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor reports that, according to an Italian equivalent of the Gallup Poll, 42 per cent. of all Italian families have a weekly income averaging $9.65, while another 31 per cent. have an income averaging $18.42 a week. These figures are of complete family incomes, and among the poor in Italy, every member of the family works who can find jobs. While these low incomes obtain, the cost of living in Italy is very high, even by North American standards. It is estimated that three-quarters of Italian families are unable to live up to the very lowest standard which westerners consider essential.

It is therefore not surprising that fifty per cent. of the Italians in Italy want to leave Italy to earn more and better bread abroad—chiefly their hope is to get to the United States. Further, 25 per cent. of the enfranchised Italians vote Communist, despite the common belief that Italians are considered by nature unsuited to be Communists. Since few of the would-be emigrants will be able to get out, and unless Marshall Aid dollars, European recovery and the Italian Government help the average Italian better than they are now doing, Togliatti and his Communists will have most responsive and increasingly numerous adherents.

Jail For Forest-Fire Bugs

The Honourable Harold Scott, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, calls our attention to regulations and penalties provided by the Forest Fire Prevention Act (Chapter 32 of the Statutes of Ontario, 1948). This, we note, imposes a penalty on a person judged guilty of infringing its regulations, of not less than $25 and not more than $300, or imprisonment not exceeding ninety days, or both. Thus a person found guilty of causing a fire, can be both fined and jailed, in addition to having to pay any expenses incurred by the Department in putting out the fire. It is to be hoped that the full rigour of this law will be applied to offenders whose carelessness causes fire to ravage crown lands. A fine alone should not be considered sufficient penalty.

We note as proper justice that a man of the Kenora District who was found guilty of deliberately setting a forest fire was recently sent to Stony Mountain (Manitoba) Penitentiary for three years. In his case, of course, the Criminal Code was invoked, and the stiff penalties provided for arson were applied. That is as it should be. Our plea is that a careless person, who can cause the same amount of damage to a forest as can an arsonist, should be dealt with severely. The penalties as they exist now are probably sufficient, provided they are applied fully.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

ALPHA: Are there any Communists in Peterborough?

ANSWER: I nope that you will pardon my saying so, but I consider that a thoughtless question. Of course there are. What do you expect in a place as industrialized as this? There are not very many, however, not of the really knowledgeable convinced C.P. members. Peterborough is too comfortable; its employer-employee relationships too friendly and intimate; its housing, wages and food too good; and its society too homogeneous, for the C.P. to make much headway. In a place like Peterborough, with its stable and easy social conditions, almost the only ones who could be netted into Communism are a few imported people and intellectuals. I doubt that there are any real intellectuals resident in Peterborough. Two or three might be termed intellectuals, but the ones I know are not Communists.

QUESTION: There are "Beanery Gangs" of youths, but there seem to be no "gangs" of girls. It is always gangs of men and gangs of boys. Why?

ANSWER: Only a learned psychiatrist, sociologist and anthropologist could answer that question. It seems to be a fact that males are gregarious, run to mobs, and are less individual than females. The lone wolf is a rare bird; even the human wolves on street corners whistle in chorus. . . Because of this fact, there will never be armies of women, not successful armies. . . . Women and cats do not hunt in packs.

DEAR ALPHA: I do not know whether you are a journalist or not, but if you are, are you—apparently a man of some taste—not ashamed of your profession at times, or ashamed for your professional brethren? They indulge in so many cheap and sensational tricks, make "news" where there is none, and pretend to have wit when really they exhibit the imagination of a calf, the taste of a boar, and the humour of an adolescent goon. One example in point was the Canadian Press story this week, carried by The Examiner on its front page, of "Stanley, the fugitive steer, who caused quite a furor" near London, Ontario when it escaped from a truck. Even if he "caused quite a furor" (that, Sir, is journalese at low ebb), one is reasonably certain that this steer was unnamed until a journalist fastened on it the name "Stanley". If I remember correctly, a few months ago The Examiner named a beaver "Butch" or some such, with the same false whimsy.

DEAR READER: Thank you for the compliment of thinking that I am a person of some taste. I hope it is good taste. . . . Since I write a column in a newspaper I proudly claim to be a journalist and a member of the Fourth Estate. As among priests, doctors, poets and housewives, there are good, bad and insipid among journalists. One should judge the tribe from the best, though there is always the temptation to make the criterion the worst.

As for Stanley the Steer, or Butch the Beaver. Have you never heard of Ferdinand the Bull, or Peter Rabbit? It is a favourite device of romancers, as well as the modern ones—newsmen—to personify and make individual birds, beasts and blackguards. Reynard the Fox goes back to the satirical fables or 'bestiaries' of the twelfth-fourteenth century French and to earlier Latin. Moderns like Goethe have taken him up in "Reinecke Fuchs". Chaucer's Nun's Priest's Tale is centred on Reynard.

The Caxton printing of a Flemish version (now lost) of 'Roman de Renart' tells of King Noble the lion, Isegrym the wolf, Courtoys the hound, Bruin the bear, Martin Rukenawa the ape, Chanticleer the cock and Partlet the hen. "Reynard", by the way, is from an Old High German word, 'regin-hart' meaning strong in counsel.

◇ ◇ ◇

ALPHA: When does Daylight Saving Time end?

ANSWER: A week from tomorrow night.

ALPHA: Sherry and port both come from the Iberian peninsula, I know, but I always get mixed up: which comes from Spain, which from Portugal?

ANSWER: That's easy. Port from Portugal. Actually the names are derived thus: Port from the Portuguese town of Oporto; sherry from the Spanish town and district of Jerez de la Frontera, near Cadiz. Jerez, when pronounced in the Spanish way sounds like "Sherry," and the English, sailors and diplomats and governors, always slow about languages and therefore never slow to Anglicize a word, gave it the English version "Sherry". In the same way the English call it Paris (not Paree); Leghorn, not Livorna; Florence, not Firenze.

Jerez used to be Xeres, pronounced about the same, and Xeres comes from the word Caesaris (the genitive singular of Caesar, whose troops reached that frontier). Hence Jerez de la Frontera.

DEAR MR. ALPHA: Our little girl is back in school, and she doesn't like her teacher. I don't either. What can I do to get her moved into another teacher's room? (etc. etc.)

ANSWER: Make her work well at her books so that she will pass next year, and stop beefing, especially in front of your child. I cannot believe that any Peterborough teacher is bad or incompetent these days, and merely because a child does not like a teacher is no reason to believe that the teacher is not good. Did it ever occur to you that the teacher may dislike your child and even you?

The old days of iron rule in school have passed. So also the days of thoroughly incompetent teachers. I had a teacher who broke a hardwood pointer on my knuckles and had a nervous breakdown three weeks later. I had another who told us that "Anon." at the bottom of a story in the Reader was the name of a Greek writer. But look where I am today; despite it all, my knuckles are whole, and I know that "anon" means presently.

FOR THE RECORD: Some 8,000 children got down to books and teachers' looks last Monday in Peterborough schools. About 4,000 are attending public schools, 1,250 the Collegiate, and 1,900 the separate elementary and high schools.

'TOP THAT, GIRLIE!'

A Bishop On Capitalism

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

AT Sherbrooke, on Labour Day Msgr. Philippe S. Desranleau, Roman Catholic Bishop, flourished his mitre, pronounced an anathema on capitalism. Said he:

"Capitalism is the cause of all our miseries. We must work against it—not to transform it: it is immutable; not to correct it: it is incorrigible."

What can be done about a high dignitary of a great church who talks this dangerous, blatant nonsense, is hard to say; Roman Catholicism, apparently, has no more means of dealing with its Desranleaus and its Coughlins than the Church of England has of dealing with its Red Dean of Canterbury. But many Roman Catholics there must be to wonder whether Bishop Desranleau shouldn't be asked by whoever is in authority over him to take time out from his platform activities and include in his ecclesiastical duties a reading of the encyclicals of the Vatican—knowing that he would find in them much about capitalism of which he seems to be in ignorance, and much also about socialism and communism.

And many of Bishop Desranleau's flock must further be wondering whether it wouldn't be a good thing for him, spiritually and otherwise, to begin studying what is happening to his church and all other religion in countries which have capitalism, which is only a by-product of freedom, in contrast to what is happening to his church and all other religion in countries which have no freedom, and consequently no by-product of capitalism.

But perhaps Bishop Desranleau is in the state which he attributes to capitalism—"incorrigible." We seem to remember him as the cleric who, a few years ago, decreed that Catholics must choose between Rotary and the Devil.

Letter To The Editor

BOY'S SUMMER SAVINGS GONE

Sir: During the recent Peterborough Exmy 15-year-old boy attended and lost $42.00 to a ball game which was permitted to operate. This money was holiday earnings during July and part of August.

Mentioning this loss to some of my friends, was very much surprised to find that other games were permitted to operate by the police and Fair Board and apparently many were short-changed at the different ride ticket booths.

I would suggest that the Junior Chamber of Commerce accept and record all complaints of those who lost money etc. at the Peterborough Exhibition.

If it is true what some of my friends tell me, the amount of money lifted annually by these people at our Exhibition runs into many thousands of dollars and the Fair Board should be ashamed for permitting such people to set up games in which some of our unfortunate citizens and visitors to our county are fleeced by these men who worked with the show and lead the poor unfortunates into the games.

I appeal to you Mr. Editor to expose them through your columns in an effort to prevent future occurrences at the Peterborough Exhibition, the coming Lindsay Exhibition and all other fall fairs etc.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities. (Luke 5: 12-15.)

And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick. (Matt. 8: 14-16.)

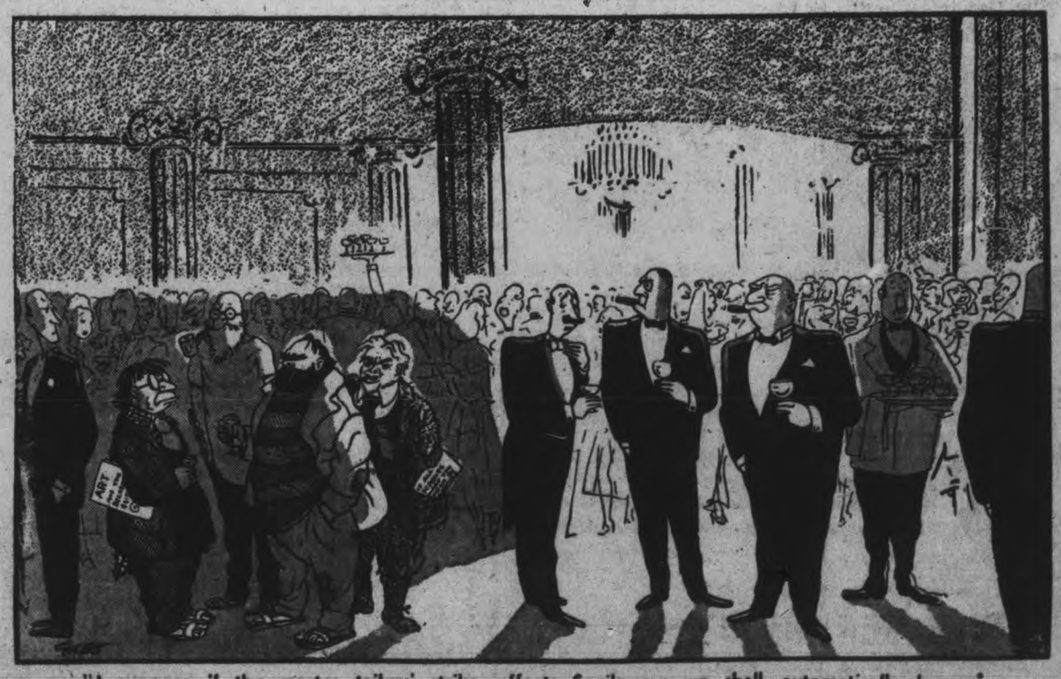
Newspapers Best



(Brantford Expositor)

The daily newspaper still provides the most convenient, easiest and cheapest route to the news or a bargain.

Experts in merchandizing are alert folk who are willing to try almost anything once, to see if it helps their business. They have tried all manner of "promotion" ideas, from popularity contests to radio give-away programs. Many of these ventures have proved profitable and useful, but, to date, the greatest reliance has still been placed, in the long run, on the daily press.

Printer's Ink offers the latest confirmation of this. It reports that in the United States the newspapers were the only medium to carry more national advertising in July than in the corresponding month of 1948.

Truman Gets Power Again To Negotiate Trade Pacts

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—(CP)—Power to negotiate trade agreements with foreign countries has been restored to President Truman. For 2½ hours he had no such authority, despite the administration's avowed belief in a multilateral approach to world commerce with lower tariffs and fewer restrictive arrangements.

The catch was that the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, founded in 1934, expired last June 30, automatically taking away the presidential power.

But, despite opposition from a combination of the Republican miority and some northern Democrats, the Senate finally extended the law today in its original form.

Truman's congressional lieutenants put the heat on this week to get the Senate to pass a law extending the act for three years.

Administration critics fought unsuccessfully to include the controversial "peril point" proviso in the act.

Weakens Powers

Republican controlled 80th Congress last year extended the act only for 12 months. And it weakened the presidents powers by directing the tariff commission to set minimum "peril points"—the limit to which tariffs could be cut without harming domestic industry.

That meant that if the president went below those points, he had to explain his action to Congress.

So the real issue this week was not whether the act should be extended but whether the "peril" point" clause should be retained.

The House of Representatives last spring passed legislation for renewal. The Senate, because of other legislation such as the North Atlantic Treaty and the European military assistance measure, did not get around to the trade agreement matter until early this month.

Foreign traders say that action is of particular importance at this time because of the recent completion of tariff negotiations at Annecy, France.

This 34-country agreement is slated to go before the United Nations for signatory action on Oct. 10 at Lake Success. Another stake the Truman administration had in the Senate debate, therefore, was to get the renewal into the president's hands for signature before action on the Annecy protocol.

Death Ruled Accidental

PEMBROKE, Sept. 16 (CP) — A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury on Thursday at an inquest into the death last Aug. 25 of Stefan Rosiniski killed when a truck overturned. He was employed on the Des Joachims Hydro Electric project northwest of here at the time.

Another man was killed and 19 persons injured in the accident. Witnesses said the men were riding in the truck from the dam workings to a cafeteria when the truck overturned.

Although clearing 18-year-old Keith C. Thompson, driver of the truck, of any blame in the accident, the jury added a rider recommending that more experienced drivers than Thompson be employed as truck drivers on the project. A second rider recommended that all trucks on the project be equipped with emergency brakes. Evidence showed the emergency brake on the truck involved in the accident was not working.

Theatre On Tour To Play City

TORONTO, Sept. 16.—(CP).—A five-week theatrical tour of Eastern Canada will be launched Oct. 24 by an all-Canadian professional company performing the comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The tour was announced Thursday night by Brian Doherty, Canadian stage producer, who last year took a Canadian company on a successful tour with "The Drunkard," a revival of the old-time comedy-melodrama

"Arsenic and Old Lace" is to be performed in Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Kitchener, London, Windsor, Peterborough, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cornwall, Ottawa, and Quebec City

Associated with Mr. Doherty in the production will be Michael Sadleir and Graham Ferguson, who have just completed a successful season as producers of Summer Theatre in Peterborough.

Turkey Dinners To Be Cheaper

VANCOUVER, Sept. 16 (CP)—Housewives have one consolation in store for Thanksgiving day — they won't have to pay so much for their turkey dinners.

Turkey-raisers at the annual convention of Canada's Federation of Hatchery Associations on Thursday gloomily predicted the much-prized gobblers will be cheaper for the Oct. 10 holiday.

Verne Hallman, veteran Calgary grower, told breeders during a round-table discussion on the industry's future that bids this year are "very low, much below 1948."

J. W. Patterson, a Hamilton grower, said the United States outlet of the last few years "was not and is not a permanent market."

Canadians don't eat so much turkey, however. The average Canadian eats 2½ pounds a year as compared with the U. S. average consumption of five pounds.

Lowly Indians Hammer Lordly Yankee Boys 10-6

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Second Guessers Society, kept conspicuously silent this year by the sound baseball tactics of Casey Stengel, has finally come to life.

The members of the SGS are pointing fingers at the veteran manager of New York's Yankees, accusing him of pulling a couple of "rocks" Thursday that cost the Bronx Bombers an important game.

How much more those "lapses" will cost the Yankees will not be determined until the season's close, but Thursday they helped Cleveland Indians defeat the Yankees 10-6 trimming the New Yorkers first-place margin in the American League over Boston to 2½ games.

The SGS is asking just why Stengel ordered pitcher Allie Reynolds to issue an intentional pass to Larry Doby in the eighth inning thus forcing Allie to face the ever-dangerous Joe Gordon with a runner in scoring position?

And why didn't Casey yank Reynolds during that hectic eighth when the Tribe slammed him for four straight hits and five runs after two were out?

Here is what happened in the eighth. The score was 3-2 in Cleveland's favor. Reynolds walked Dale Mitchell to open the inning. Lou Boudreau sacrificed but Mickey Vernon flied out for the second out. At this point Stengel ordered Reynolds to walk Doby for Gordon. Larry had homered in the sixth to snap a 2-2 tie.

Hit Their Stride

Gordon promptly doubled, scoring Mitchell and sending Doby to third. Bob Kennedy singled scoring two more.

Thurman Tucker followed with another single, but Stengel gave no sign to his bullpen briade. Jim Hegan accounted for another run with the fourth straight Cleveland hit. When outfielder Gene Woodling fumbled the ball, Tucker scampered across the plate with the fifth run of the inning.

Trailing 8-2 the Yankees pounced back for four runs in their half of the eighth inning but the Indians added two insurance runs in the ninth to make Bob Lemon the third 20-game winner in the major leagues. The others are Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder of the Red Sox.

The Yankee defeat probably raised the spirits of Joe McCarthy's Red Sox, who now trail by four games in the import "lost" column. The league leaders have 16 games left to play, and the Red Sox only 13. The league leaders will be at home in 12 of them, while Boston has only seven home engagements.

The Indians, practically out of it, trail by 6½ games.

Chris Spencer U.S. Race Upset

WESTBURY, N.Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—Proximity may still be queen of modern-day trotters, but she is no longer rated invincible.

The seven-year-old mare, winner of 18 of her 19 previous starts this season, suffered her second setback of 1949 Thursday night at Roosevelt raceway when, in the role of a 1-4 favorite, she finished fourth in the $25,000 American trotting championship.

Chris Spencer, a gelding and also a seven-year-old veteran, sprang one of the harness racing upsets of the year in winning the one mile affair by 4½ lengths for a $33.90 payoff. His time was a mediocre 2:04 1/5.

Rodney, harness horse of the year in 1948, took second by two lengths over Dutch Harbor, who nosed out Proximity.

The victory was worth $11,250 to the victor's owner, Dunbar Bostwick of Shelburne, Vt. Proximity, leading money-winnnig mare of modern times, picked up a $2,500 fourth share which raised her total winnings to $147,454

Tigers Defeat Crescents 10-5, Enter Finals

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 16 (CP) — Hamilton Tigers, defending Mann Cup champions, Thursday night advanced to the Ontario Lacross Association senior finals by defeating Owen Sound Crescents 10-5 in the third and deciding game of their semi-final round.

Tigers next meet Brampton Excelsiors, with the first game at Brampton Saturday night.

Tommy Love bagged the first two goals of the game for Hamilton. George Masters, Bill Isaacs, Jack Gair, Doug Davidson, Marv. McKenzie, Blain McDonald, Elmer Lee and Tank Teather each scored once.

Jack Mason and Grant Gillespie each scored twice for Owen Sound. The other tally went to Bill Allum.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

The United States Thursday night won the "first round" in the Ryder Cup golf series—a ruling that deep-grooved clubs owned by Dick Burton of the British team must be filed down before he plays in today's opening matches at Ganton, Yorkshire, England.

Ben Hogan, non-playing captain of the United States team, raised the charge against Burton's clubs Thursday during an inspection before high golf officials from both sides of the Atlantic Hogan and Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British team, agreed to submit the sticks to Bernard Darwin, chairman of the British rules and golf committee.

Darwin ruled that the club faces were marked with rough spots but "it is nothing that a little filing can't correct."

Officials on both sides insisted inspection was "just a matter of routine" and sought to keep details of the argument secret.

The matches begin with the first of four 36-hole Scotch foursomes. Eight 36-hole singles duels are slated Saturday.

More than 40 rookies and veterans started intense training preparations at the Montreal Canadiens' pre-season camp at St. Hyacinthe, Que., Thursday.

Fourteen rookies lined up against 19 veterans in search for berths with the team which plays a 70-game schedule in the National Hockey League this season.

Thursday at Montreal, general manager Frank Selke announced that veterans Emile (Butch) Bouchard, Joe Carveth, Jean (Tod) Campeau and Roger Leger had renewed their contracts.

He said the only players not yet signed were Norman Dussault and Bobby Fillion, who were expected to ink their contracts when they arrived at the camp later today.

The United States Eastern Amateur Hockey League, which failed to operate last season for the first time since it started in 1933, was reorganized and expanded Thursday for resumption of competition next month.

League president Tom Lockhart said in Toledo, Ohio, at the end of the reorganization meeting that six teams have been signed for the 1949-50 season. The circuit is to be divided into two divisions. The eastern division will include Boston Olympics, New York Rovers and Baltimore Clippers, and probably Atlantic City Sea Gulls and Washington Lions.

In the western section will be Toledo Mercurys, Milwaukee Clarks, and Grand Rapids Rockets, and probably Cleveland Knights.

At Montreal, a telegram from Calgary saying "all three are on the way" was good news for coach Vic Obeck of McGill University's Redmen because it meant that three stars of Calgary Stampeders last year's Grey Cup football champions, are on their way to Montreal.

The three are Harry Irving, Fred Wilmot and Dave Tomlinson coming to McGill under a student loan fund established by a group of Montreal business men.

Obeck said he expected Irving to arrive last week. When he failed to turn up Wednesday the coach sent off a batch of wires and got the good news Thursday morning.

It's ORFU football tonight here at Morrow Park, commencing at 8.30 under the fine new floodlights. Orillia Bombers tackle the Peterborough Panthers, and it ought to be a swell grid scrap between two good clubs. The big-shouldered boys will battle it out bitterly in this local opener. Panthers have gold jerseys with black numerals, black trousers with gold inserts, and black helmets. They will parade from Riverside to the Ex. at 7.30. Spike Matthews' squad need this win to get a solid footing in their short schedule, and they should ground the fleet Bombers after dropping a 3-2 tilt to Oshawa Raiders last week-end. Likely a huge football crowd on hand.

Elsewhere we have a story on Director Walter Bent and Boys' Town of Trafalgar House in the Oval. Walter has a fine background in athletics and boys' work before and after his war service, and he should do a real job with local youth, working along with the Recreation Commission. Open house up there this Sunday aft and eve, including films "Hockey Cavalcade" and "Boys in Europe". Any lad in the city, 10 to 18 years, may join Boys' Town, and they'll have rugby this fall and four PMHA teams in the winter, besides their own rink at the Oval. Equipment is bought from canteen funds, and they'll operate the canteen at ORFU games here.

Sounds Okay To Us

We're all for this setup. Sports, hobbies and craftsmanship—as well as the chance to run their own affairs—make for a fine fill-in for young fellows between school and home life. Best of instruction and training, good healthful, social and educational tie-ups for the teenage chaps. A great combatant for juvenile delinquency, and parents should get behind these worthwhile ventures of our youth. Not only is it good for them, but—and this is more important to 'em—the boys have a lot of fun. And what could be better than that? More power to our Boys' Town.

On our recent OHA junior "B" group suggestion, the Quinte scribe says: "The suggestion should meet with the approval of junior hockey masterminds here. In fact, Bill Cook of the Belleville Association expressed himself to the effect that the setup would be good for all concerned. For the past two years, Belleville has been grouped with Kingston which resolved itself into home-and-home games. Good hockey but the same faces. An Oshawa-Peterborough-Lindsay group would not only give the Rockets plenty of work but the fans something different in hockey. Oshawa and Peterborough have always looked askance at the long jumps to the Limestone City—and it is probable that shekels down Kingston way are not so plentiful for extended travel. In any event, as Marse Perdue says, it is something for junior interests to mull over."

Westcox Get Title

Congrats to Westclox, perennial city girls' softball champs, on again taking the title. And regrets to Ashby's who made such a fine show as runners-up. The Clockers took it in two straight, winning last e'en at the Bowl 6-5 in 12 innings—a swelegant scrap. A little lapse afield in the second inning by Ashby's probably cost them this important contest as, otherwise, it was just a tossup between two good teams. Both pitchers turned in a neat mound chore and they also hit in healthy fashion, while Nona Whetung was a fielding star at first sack for the champs. A dandy duel. This winds up the local girls' season, though Woollens have a junior PWSU tilt in Toronto tomorrow.

An info folder from University of Western Ontario Mustangs says: "Jack Matthews, now that Bob Phibbs has graduated, will be the Mustangs' top kicker. In his first season as a Mustang in 1948, Matthews showed that he can boot a long ball. A Peterborough boy, Jack also played with the Mustang basketball team. He is 21, weighs 170 and stands an even six foot." Jack is Spike's brother and a son of Gordon S. Matthews here. Other local gridders mentioned in tryouts lately in the Intercollegiate Union are Moe Richardson and Jack Sisson at Queen's, and Blair Thomson at McGill.

Batting—Joe Gordon, Indians—Doubled in the first run to spark a five-run eighth inning that gave the Indians a 10-6 triumph over the Yankees. He also singled in a run in the ninth.

Pitching—Al Benton, Indians—Relieved Bob Lemon after the Yankees had counted four times against the righthander in the eighth and stopped the league-leaders cold with one hit in 1 2-3 innings to preserve the Indians lead.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Tonight, at 7.15 o'clock, men's doubles.

Saturday, at 1.30 o'clock, men's open trebles. In both of these tournaments choose your own partner.

On Monday afternoon, at 1.30 p.m., the ladies hope to have their twice rained-out "On the House" tournament. All ladies are invited.

Down at Port Hope on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. R. Hendry, Mrs. W. Hepburn, E. Pritchard and R. Hendry came in for two high wins.

When they start sending out notices re a curling club meeting it begins to look as if the lawn bowling season is about over. However, there is some fine weather coming up and maybe some of those challenge games wil be played yet.

Today's thought: Honking the horn is less useful than careful steering.

Royals Edge Rochester In 2-0 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Apparently the International League's final playoff is going to be a battle of champions.

Montreal Royals, the defending playoff titlists, slid past Rochester again Thursday night to take a 2-0 edge in their semi-final series.

At the same time, Buffalo's league-champion Bisons were slapping Jersey City, 12-10, to also assume a cozy 2-0 margin.

The Montreal-Rochester tilt was a tight pitching duel between Johnny Van Cuyk, Royal left-hander, and Johnny Yuhas until the 10th inning. Then, two Montreal runs, via three singles and a walk, put the quietus on the slugging Redwings.

Lou Stringer unfurled a home run in the first to give Rochester a 1-0 lead. However, Sam Jethroe cracked his second four-master of the series in the fifth, and it was tied 1-1.

George Byam sparked the Bisons' 14-hit assault. The first baseman crashed three doubles, a home run, scored twice and batted in four tallies.

Ray Coleman chimed in with a double and home run for the winners, while Gene Markland and Lonnie Frey clipped three hits apiece.

Alex Carresquel, middle man of three hurlers, received the victory. Red Hardy, hit soundly in three innings, suffered the defeat.

Lucky Jack Lohrke was the L'il Giants' big hammer, driving a double and home run while knocking in four runs.

Annual 10-Mile Race Planned By Harriers

The third annual revived Lakefield-Peterborough 10-mile road race will be held by the Peterborough Harriers Club on Saturday, Oct. 1. It is a closed event but athletes wishing to compete in the city or district will be permitted. First prize is a fine trophy presented last year by the late Henry A. Flowers, and special prizes will be given to each athlete finishing.

W. Thistlewaite, last year's winner, is again a favorite after his showing all year and his recent record of first in a mile at Oshawa and 10th out of 40 in a five-mile run at Niagara Falls, this event including stars like Walt Fedonich, 1948 Olympic competitor, and George Norman, of Gladstone A.C., 1950 Empire Games athlete.

Jack Martin, 10-mile course record holder, who has been going lately in the middle distance, and Coach Morewood has been grooming him for long distance, is training hard. David McNeil, oldest of the distance runners here, is something of a dark horse, placing second last year.

Mike Basciano, junior half mile, and Jack Dougherty will likely compete for the first try at the distance event. None of the sprinters are likely, though Jim Flowers is a possibility since he will not be competing in sprints after the race. Bill Morewood is coach of the Harriers and head official of the race. He hopes for a large entry of unattached athletes, and some of the Oshawa distance men. Entries should be training now and may turn out with the Harriers any Tuesday or Thursday night at seven at Morrow Park.

B. C. IS HOPEFUL

British Columbia's all-star junior lacrosse team, backed by goalie Vic Grover's stellar performance, trounced Manitoba's Hopefuls 15-4 Thursday night at Winnipeg in the first of their best-of-three western Canada junior finals.

Next game will be played Saturday night and a third, if necessary, Monday. Winner of the series play an eastern all-star group for the Minto Cup and the Dominion junior championship.

Westclox Edge Ashby's 6-5 In 12 Frames To Gain Title

Westclox edged out Ashby's 6-5 in 12 innings at the Bowl last night to capture the Girls' Softball League championship and the R. S. Cotton Cup. In the best game of the season before a good crowd, J. Hardy walked, moved up on an out and scored on a hit by J. Vass in the 12th frame for Westclox. Ashby's had the tying and winning runs aboard in their half but didn't quite make it. Both Doris McFadden and Mary Downer pitched good ball and their support generally was good, but for Ashby slips in the second frame.

Nona Whetung starred at first for the winners, with B. Morrow also good. E. Simmonds and J. Dunk stood out for the game losers. B. Morrow led her side at bat with four hits and M. Downer helped her cause with three. D. McFadden did her part for Ashby's as she led at the plate with three safe blows. There were few walks or strikeouts in the nip-and-tuck tussle between two good teams, but Westclox again took the title and Ashby's were runners-up.

The teams:

Westclox: J. Vass, 3b; B. Morrow, ss; M. Hawthorne, 2b; N. Whetung, 1b; D. Westlake, c; A. Anderson, cf; J. McIntyre, rf; J. Hardy, lf; M. Downer, p.

Ashby's: D. Callan, cf; J. Reynolds, c; E. Simmonds, lf; E. McFadden, ss; L. Jordan, 2b; J. Dunk 3b; M. Freeman, 1b; B. Reid, rf; D. McFadden, p.

72 Boys Try Out For Places On Two PCVS Rugby Squads

Seventy-two boys, 29 seniors and 43 juniors are trying out for positions on the two Collegiate squads. Of the 72 only 24 have had actual playing experience. On this year's senior squad coach Bev. Goulding has two backfielders and five linesmen from last year's C.O.S.S.A. champions. Ten juniors of last year have come of age for the senior team with the other 12 boys newcomers to the game.

Coach Goulding's biggest headache at the present time is the need of a good experienced centre secondary. Lawrence Outram, Eric McIlveen and Blair Thomson, old centre secondary stars of the last few years have all graduated. Each of these three players had at least two years experience.

As in the past three years Mr. Goulding expects the other teams in the league to outweigh his boys. This year his team is fairly light but he passed this thought off with saying that in the other years weight has not made too much difference to their chances.

Throughout the Summer the seniors practised for the backfield and ends. The whole team started work on August 29.

Coach Alex Londry has only seven of last year's squad. This means that he is working with 34 boys who have never participated in a Collegiate game.

In a workout at the Oval on Monday afternoon he had the players divided into three teams running through their plays. His first line, he said, weighed slightly over one ton. The heaviest boy on the squad is Bob Howe, 245 pounds, while the lightest man in this particular line was 155.

Two years ago, he said, the team relied upon passing but last year with a good line both running and passing plays were used equally.

His team won the district and then the COSSA honors last year. They were grouped with St. Peter's High School, Lakefield and Lindsay. He expects that the same grouping will be this year.

PCVS JUNIOR FOOTBALLERS, coached by Alex Londry, have one line that tips the scales slightly over one ton. These three boys, (left to right) Bob (Bounce) Howe, an inside, Larry Cunningham, snap, and Stan Facendi, an inside, total a charging 628 pounds as soon as the ball is snapped to quarterback Bill Stewart (standing). Stewart weighs a hefty 170 while Howe weighs 245, Larry Cunningham 189 and Stan Facendi, 194. (Examiner Staff Photo)

years the juniors have been victorious 20 times. In the 11 games two years ago they only lost the last game, the COSSA final, and in the 11 games in 1948 they only lost their first effort.

This week the schedules for the local district will be arranged. Last year the seniors were grouped with Oshawa, Belleville and Albert College. Mr. Goulding said Monday that he believed the only team in play this year besides PCVS would be Oshawa. In this case there would be more games with Toronto collegiates.

The Collegiate teams open their football season on Saturday, September 24 at the Exhibition grounds with Riverdale, Toronto. In the past three years the Riverdale boys have had two wins and a defeat in each bracket. The games will be under the lights, the junior beginning at 6:30 p.m. and the Senior at 8:30 p.m.

On September 30 the PCVS Seniors will tackle the East York Collegiate Seniors under the lights in Toronto.

In order to play for the football squads the students must obtain a 50 per cent average in their subjects in Grades 12 and 13. In the other grades the students have to be promoted.

Eight Games For Weekend

By The Canadian Press

The "form charts" of the Canadian senior football scene should be completed tomorrow. It's up to the undefeated Ottawa Rough Riders to supply the finishing touches.

In a week-end studded with eight games—four in the east and four in the west—the powerful Rough Riders clash with the Hamilton Wildcats at Ottawa. Montreal Alouettes battle Toronto Argonauts at Toronto.

Other games Saturday:

ORFU — Sarnia Imperials at Windsor Rockets; Toronto Balmy Beach at Hamilton Tigers.

Western Union—Calgary Stampeders at Winnipeg Blue Bombers; Edmonton Eskimos at Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Monday:

Western Union— Edmonton at Winnipeg; Calgary at Regina.

The Rough Riders will be gunning for their fourth straight victory when they meet the Wildcats Judging by performances of either club, they shouldn't have too much trouble.

PC Senator Finally Saves Day For Speaker

Manhunt Sweeps Parliament Buildings

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP) — It wasn't part of the schedued formalities and it shrieked of an absence of accustomed dignity, but a real hell-for-leather manhunt sneaked into Parliament's opening day.

It was provoked, really, by the steady and sometimes embarrassing decline in the number of Progressive Conservative Senators, now at a low of 15 of whom possibly half are seldom on hand. There are 102 seats in the chamber.

They needed an Opposition Senator for the ceremony of swearing in a new Speaker for the Upper Chamber at 10.30 a.m. and they couldn't find one. They began to fret a half hour or so before the event and then they began to hunt.

The search went up and down the corridors buzzing with sightseers, reunions among old members, the self-conscious movements of new members, the hustle and harangue of the final moments before a new parliament is born.

Outside, Mounties stalked, unaware of a manhunt quite outside their province. In the Commons chamber, the last members were being sworn in with an informality quite different from that later enacted in the Senate.

On the first floor, the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod wrestled with the final problems of seating all the people who wanted to watch the official opening at 3 p.m., with the protests of the high civil servant who said he should have a better seat, with the plaints of the wife of an important man who just couldn't understand why so-and-so was placed ahead of her.

And through the corridors went the hunt, spearheaded by stout, perplexed Senator Charles Benjamin Howard, the Liberal Whip from Sherbrooke, Que., and bulwarked by secretaries, runners and ancillaries.

It penetrated the six floors of the Centre Block, carved into the cafeteria where people are wont to tie with a mid-morning tea or coffee. It encompassed offices and familiar hangouts.

Just No Tories

Senator Howard, it is reported, was finally reduced to a reconnaissance interspersed with bellows of "Leger . . Leger" in hopes of turning up Senator A. J. Leger (PC—New Brunswick). It was useless. There were plenty of Liberal Senators, clouds and clots of them, but no Tories.

And then as the crisis hour neared someone cast an eye on the floor of the chamber itself and there, among the others, was a Tory—short, suave Lucien Moraud of Quebec City.

A few minutes later, Senator Moraud nicely spoke compliments of his party to the new Speaker. The missing Senator Leger sat quietly beside him. Senator Howard smiled benignly across the aisle. There was nothing to indicate anything had been wrong.

May Suspend Danny Lewicki

REGINA, Sept. 16 (CP) — Al Pickard, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Thursday the CAHA will suspend Danny Lewicki if asked to do so by Clarence Campbell, National Hockey League president.

Lewicki, under contract to Toronto Maple Leafs of the NHL was quoted in a dispatch from St. Catharines, as saying that he doesn't intend to turn professional this season and that he does not wish to play hockey in Toronto.

Pickard said that if Lewicki refuses to accept a professional contract, should the Leafs offer him one, the club may ask Campbell to suspend him from professional hockey. Campbell then would ask the CAHA to suspend him also.

At St. Catharines Thursday night Conn Smythe, the Leafs' general manager, said the 18-year-old Lewicki recently renewed a "C" form in accepting money from the Leafs. The form calls on players to perform only for such teams as may be designated by the club.

Smythe has said that Lewicki wouldn't play at all this season unless he played within the Maple Leaf organization and he reiterated that statement Thursday.

Up To Britain To Improve Salesmanship

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Of top interest in the coming months will be United States steps to lower her trade barriers, and Britain's attempts at a real selling job in North America.

So far it has been difficult to say which has been most responsible for keeping British goods out of the United States market—American barriers or lack of British salesmanship.

The United States has in recent years done much to lower her tariffs, though exporters, including Canadians, complain that she has been maintaining an "invisible tariff" through complex customs interpretations.

There now is hope from trade conversations over the last year or so, and from the recent Washington talks, that something will be done to simplify these customs regulations.

Paul Hoffman, head man in administration of the European Recovery Program, pointed out recently that the United States has a gross national production of $256,000,000,000. He added:

"Just three-tenths of one per cent more of that spent on British goods, and the dollar gap can be closed."

Up To Britain

Stated that way, it would seem that Britain should be able to win the small required fraction of that huge market.

It is understandable enough why British selling efforts on this side of the Atlantic may have lacked drive.

One reason is that for six years she was so occupied with war that she had virtually nothing to sell and so had to neglect these markets. Another is that, in former days, when currencies were interchangeable, it wasn't necessary for her to sell great amounts here so long as she maintained her sales to the world at large.

The result of the wartime drop-off in her selling programs is visible in Canada. At one time British goods were generally well-known here by name, whereas now, a Canadian Daily Newspaper Association survey shows, less than five per cent of Canadians can name the brands of leading British products.

HOT WEATHER HINT

Recent laboratory tests show that black shoes are much hotter than white, especially when worn in sunlight.

NOT WANTED—PERMANENTLY — Robert H. Carlin, eastern Canadian and international director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, has been permanently barred from the United States. Announcement of the ban was made this week by A. J. Karnuth, district director of the US immigration at Buffalo. Reason given was merely that Carlin's presence in the US was "not considered in the best interest of the country." Carlin, who lives in Sudbury, has long been accused of Red affiliations but a year ago he took out an affidavit saying he was not a member of the Communist party.

No Foreign Ownership

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sept. 16 (Reuters)—The Pakistan government is likely to introduce legislation soon to prevent foreigners owning newspapers in the Moslem dominion, it was authoritatively learned Thursday night. The Clartex Corporation, a newly formed United States syndicate, announced last week that it had bought the Civil and Military Gazette, Pakistan's oldest newspaper.

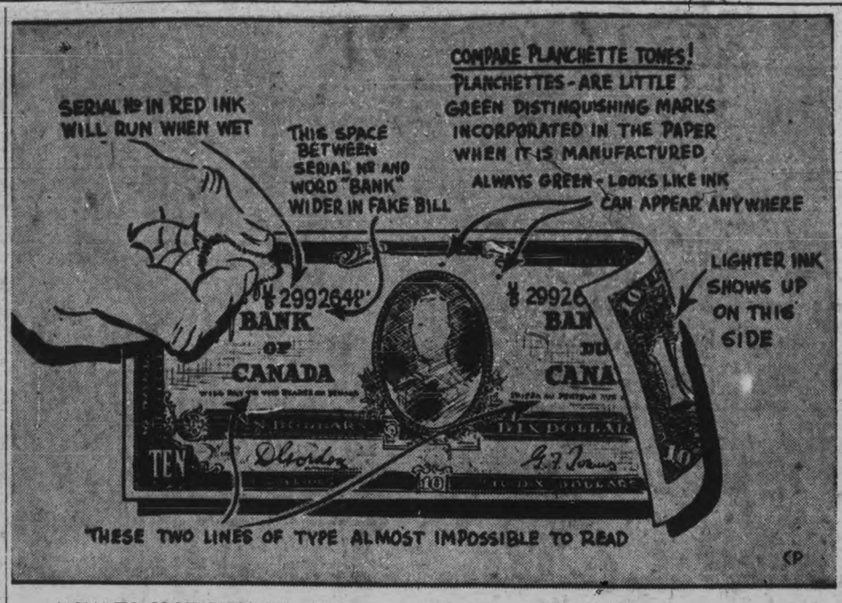
Veterans' Stars, Medals Ready For Distribution

OTTAWA, Sept. 16—When veterans of the Canadian Forces in the Second World War send in their applications for campaign stars and medals about the end of this month there will be no need of them listing those decorations to which they feel they are entitled, Hon. Milton F. Gregg, VC, Minister of Veterans Affairs, said today.

"The job has already been done," Mr. Gregg said.

For the past three years we have been working on the files of the 1,081,875 Canadian men and women who enlisted, and on each file there is now a notation as to the veteran's entitlement. All that will have to be done when the application is received is to check it against the veteran's file and send out those decorations which the veteran earned."

The whole operation, Mr. Gregg said, is one of considerable magnitude and one never before attempted in Canada. Distribution to the Army alone, he said, involved the careful examination of 730,625 files. This was done by the War Service Records Division of the Department of Veterans' Affairs. Compilation of the awards earned by the 106,522 who enlisted in the Navy and the 244,718 who enlisted in the RCAF was done by those two services.



Minted In Canada

"Distribution of these medals marks another Canadian first," Mr. Gregg said. "Previously all campaign stars and medals had been minted in the United Kingdom. This time, for the first time in history, the Canadian mint has done the work. It has been a tremendous job but they have delivered the medals pretty well to schedule."

Mr. Gregg warned that there might be delays in receipt of the medals after the application was sent in. This, he said, was due to the fact that the medals are being sent out by registered mail. Each package will have to be individually registered and this would impose a very heavy burden on post office facilities.

It might be necessary, he explained, to suspend mailings entirely during the period of the peak Christmas rush, even though the post office department is doing everything possible to facilitate distribution.

Application cards should be available at all post offices and Canadian Legion branches during the week of September 26, the application being necessary to ensure that addresses are accurate.

HOW TO SPOT PHONIES—This is an artist's conception of the various methods of detecting counterfeit $10 bills which have been reported in various Canadian cities in the last few weeks. On bogus bills, the red serial number smears when moistened and rubbed. There is an absence of small green dots, called planchettes, which appear on genuine bills. Portions of the printing are blurred and indistinct and there is a definite difference in the ink on the reverse side of the note.

To Face Commission

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 16 (CP)—F. M. Hall, suspended as Woodstock's chief constable, will be called before the police commission Sept. 22, to answer a charge of disobeying orders in regard to the distribution of informations equally among justices of the peace. Date of the hearing was announced Thursday by Judge Eric Cross, chairman.

Air Armada Back

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP) — A small air armada roared over Ottawa Thursday morning marking the return of No. 414, RCAF photo squadron from a four months photo survey trip into the Yukon and North West Territories. Flying in formation, 12 aircraft carrying 86 men returned en masse. The aircraft set out in small groups last April and May to carry out the largest aerial photo survey ever attempted in Canada's northland.

Israel In Market For Wheat, Lumber

VANCOUVER, Sept. 16 (CP)—The 15-months-old Republic of Israel is in the market for Canadian wheat and lumber.

Dapper, 35-year-old Abraham Harman, the Republic's newly-appointed Consul-General in Canada, said Thursday his country wants to discuss trade questions "in a preliminary way" with the Dominion.

"We are definitely interested in purchasing Canadian wheat, agricultural machinery, building materials, and in particular Canadian lumber," Mr. Harman Thursday told a press conference.

Canadian Moot Seen Possible In Near Future

Canada may see an international Rover Moot in four or five years, Peter Dominik, District Rover Leader, said Wednesday night. He was speaking briefly on future Rover plans in Ontario and Canada at the "welcoming home" party of the 5th Rover Crew, All Saints' Anglican Church, for Rovers James Webb and Jack White, who represented Peterborough at the International Rover Moot in Norway in August.

Mr. Dominik said that the recent Scout Moot at Ottawa proved that the Canadian Association was capable of holding such a large meet as the one in Norway. He added that Canada did exceptionally well this year in sending 29 Rovers to the Moot. At previous Rover Moots, he said, nine were sent to Sweden and 15 to Scotland.

In Canada in 1951, Mr. Dominik continued, there will be held a Rover Moot similar to this year's Scout Moot at Ottawa. The location of the proposed camp has yet to be decided.

As for the provincial Rover Moot, Mr. Dominik said that he believed next year's Moot would be held in Eastern Ontario. This year five Rovers from Peterborough attended the Moot at Orangeville.

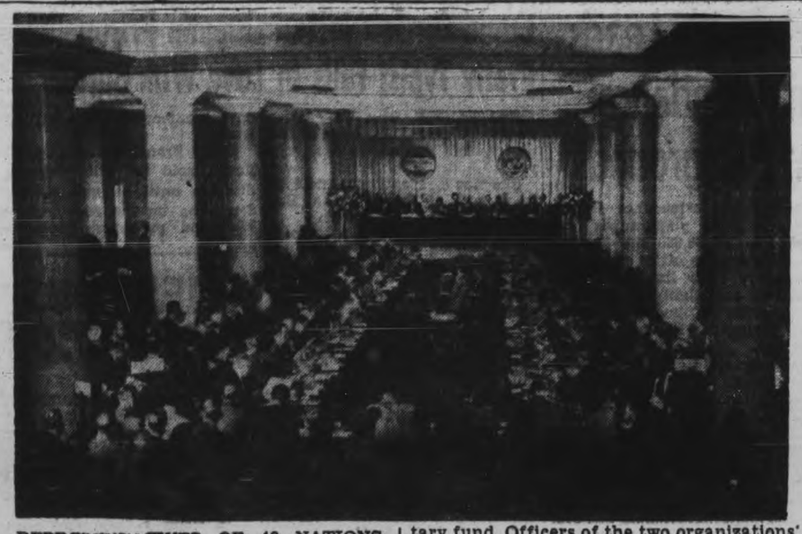
Although the only Rover crew in Peterborough is the 5th, he said, other crews are in the process of being started. He said he hoped there would be four Rover crews in the city by next summer.

Rover Jack White told how that on the trip to England the Rovers' lounge on the ship became the centre of the evening's entertainment. Passengers on board, he said, joined in the sing-songs being held by the 29 Rovers.

One evening's entertainment supplied by the Rovers, he said, was the initiating of several of the passengers into the Royal Order of the Samaria (the Samaria, the ship on which they crossed the Atlantic). Following the initiation ceremony music was supplied by the boys.

After five days in London, Rover James Webb said the contingent of Rovers left England and went to Norway via Belgium, Germany, Denmark, Sweden. The debris in the Ruhr Valley has just been pushed to the sides of the streets. Most of the people were living in the cellars of the houses.

Southern Norway, Rover Webb said, was much the same as the country in Northern Ontario. As they moved further north into the country, he said, it became mountainous.



The Moot was held in the Skjak Valley. In camp the Canadian boys were surrounded by the camps of the Dutch, Danish, Indian, English and Swiss Rover crews. He said the raising each morning of the flags of the countries represented at the Moot was most impressive.

The hospitality given to the Rovers by the Norwegian people was unforgettable. Everywhere they went the two boys reported the Norwegians courteous, generous people.

The guests at the head table were Dr. R. A. Kelly, Ald. Hurrell Dodds, Ernest Wolf, B. I. Burgess, James Houghton, Mrs. Edith Morley and Peter Dominik. Skipper Sidney Ray acted as chairman. Supper was prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Crew. A sing-song was led by Peter Dominik.

14 Senators Sworn In At Parliamentary Ceremony

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 — (CP) — Scorning superstition, the Senate Thursday initiated parliamentary opening ceremonies by swearing in 13 new Senators.

A list of 14 new members of the Upper Chamber had been expected, but the 14th appointee, William A. Fraser, of Trenton, was unable to attend. He will be sworn in next week.

About 40 Senators present for the swearing-in of Senator Elie Beauregard as speaker and the 13 new Senators, kept the formalities as informal as possible.

Evidently glad to be back for a new session, they welcomed each other with hearty handshakes and chattered amiably as each man took the oath of allegiance and signed the roster.

Once Speaker Beauregard assumed the chair, J. A. MacKinnon, minister without portfolio, was first to go through the initiation proceedings.

Escorted from the group of new appointees waiting at the door by Government Leader Wishart Robertson and Senator W. A. Buchanan of Alberta, he repeated the oath after Claire Moyer, Clerk of the Senate, and was introduced to the speaker.

Others Introduced

Following, in order, were Thomas V. Grant, of Montague, P.E.I.; Henry R. Emerson, Dorchester, N.B.; J. J. Hayes Doone, Black's Harbor, N.B.; Adelard Godbout, former Liberal leader in Quebec; William H. Golding, Seaforth, Ont.; George H. Barbour, Charlottetown; A. B. Baird and Ray Petten, both of St. John's; G. J. Penny, Ramea, Nfld.; Thoma Reid, New Westminster, B.C.; R. W. Gladstone, Guelph, Ont.; and J. Wesley Stambaugh, of Bruce, Alta.

Only a handful of spectators occupied the seats which would be filled to capacity for the formal opening of Parliament at 3 p.m. EDT.

Recent appointments have filled all but eight vacancies in the 102-seat Upper Chamber, which now has 70 Liberals and 15 Progressive Conservatives. There are still three vacancies in Newfoundland, two in Ontario, two in Nova Scotia and one in British Columbia.

Family Of Three Taken Off Liner At Montreal

TORONTO, Sept. 16—(CP) — Harold V. Hogan, 32-year-old Toronto veteran, his attractive 28-year-old wife, Gwenn, and their four-year-old son, arrived here today under police escort after being taken off the liner Ascania by police at Montreal Wednesday.

Montreal police arrested the couple at the request of Toronto police who said the Hogans were wanted here in connection with a $750 fraud.

They face arraignment in Toronto on a charge of false pretences arising from the sale of furniture which was not theirs.

Hogan told police in Montreal he was in debt because of his wife's illness so he decided to get a loan on the furniture and return to Wales, his wife's birthplace.

The dealer seized the furniture which had not been paid for and Hogan was arrested after the man who loaned him the money with the furniture for security complained to police.

Discuss Building Tunnel Under Straits of Gibraltar

By HENRY BUCKLEY

MADRID, Sept. 16 (Reuters)—The possibility of linking Africa and Europe by a tunnel under the Straits of Gibraltar again is being discussed in Spanish and foreign newspapers.

At present, many travellers from Africa to Europe go by the Morocco Express which links Casablanca with Paris via Madrid, but the Straits must be crossed by ship from Algeciras to Tangier.

The strategic importance of the railway is also much stressed now in view of the many plans for the defence of Western Europe. Most military experts consider North Africa and Spain as key spots.

The building of an underground railway through Madrid to link the railway systems of north and south Spain directly, was begun in 1933 and has been continued under the present regime. It forms an important link in the chain of transportation reforms necessary if Europe and Africa are to be joined.

Estimated cost of the Europe-Africa tunnel today is between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 — the cost of two modern battleships.

The scheme provides for a tunnels of 19 miles going under the Straits at their narrowest point near Tarifa. The exit in Africa would be in Spanish Morocco, near the international town of Tangier.

There would be two tunnels for electric trains and a third tunnel between where the pumping and ventilation machinery would be installed. The possibility of using the tunnels for road traffic as well has been studied, the main problem being ventilation.

"THE 10 GALLON TEST CONVINCED ME!"

JULIUS JEKEL, Accountant
Oakville

"Driving 70 miles a day to and from work, I need a gasoline that gives top mileage and performance. The Ten Gallon Test convinced me that Dynafuel is the gasoline for me! For extra mileage, power and consistent high performance, winter or summer, Dynafuel is unbeatable. I wouldn't drive on anything else."

GERMAINE BEAUDRY
Fashion Designer
Montreal

"Long trips by car are part of my job as a designer of women's hats. I've found those trips easier since I switched to Sunoco Dynafuel after making the Ten Gallon Test. I'm getting more miles of smooth power from every gallon of Dynafuel than from any other gasoline I ever used."

SIDNEY BAILEY, Taxi Driver
Toronto

"I always felt that all gasolines were pretty much alike, until I tried the Ten Gallon Test with Dynafuel. What a difference! I get a surge of pick-up power now that I didn't know my car possessed. I seem to be getting slightly better mileage than with my previous gasoline, too."

FRANK E. McKENZIE
Foundry Worker
Oshawa

"I tried the Ten Gallon Test with Sunoco Dynafuel out of curiosity. And what a pleasant surprise I got! My car has more pep, starts easier, gives me more miles to the gallon than I ever got with ordinary gasoline. With a difference like that, it's Dynafuel for me every time, now!"

THOUSANDS OF NEW USERS SAY:..

"I'LL NEVER GO BACK TO ORDINARY GASOLINE"

SUNOCO DYNAFUEL

Make the 10 Gallon Test in your car and prove for yourself . . . that no other gasoline gives

1: LONGER MILEAGE
2. HIGHER KNOCKLESS POWER
3: FASTER ACCELERATION
4. QUICKER STARTS

AND REMEMBER... For best results, don't dilute Sunoco Dynafuel with other gasoline. Wait until your tank is nearly empty—then put in 10 gallons of Dynafuel. Compare its action against the best gasoline you ever used.

10 GALLONS OF SUNOCO DYNAFUEL WILL CONVINCE YOU!

Cattle Prices Up 50 Cents During Week

TORONTO, Sept. 16 — (CP).— Cattle prices were 50 cents higher on choice quality and firm on lower grades in trading on the Toronto Livestock Market this week, the Dominion Marketing Service reported today. Calves rose $1 a hundredweight, while hogs were $1.50 higher. Lambs gained 50 cents a hundredweight and sheep held steady.

The cattle run of 8,103 head was added to 400 cattle left from the preceding week. Included in the fresh supply were 1,200 Western cattle, mostly stockers. Choice cattle were scarce and prices higher for any offered. Top for weighty steers was $23.50 with others from $23 downward to $18 a hundredweight. Good light steers sold at $20.50-$21.50 and good heifers were $19.50-$20. Plain light steers and heifers sold downward to $16, with boners from $12-$15 a hundredweight. Medium to good cows were $14-$15.50. Canners and cutters were mostly $9-$11.50. Good bulls ranged from $15.50-$16.50, with plain light bulls closing as low as $13 a hundredweight. Choice fed yearlings were $24-$25 and mediums sold downward to $20.

Store cattle were firm, with picked lots at $18-$19 a hundredweight and ordinary stockers from $13-$17.50. Plain to medium quality milkers and springers were $130-$170 each.

Calves totalled 2,375 head and the market was $1 higher on better vealers. Good to choice calves brought $23-$26 a hundredweight with plain to medium selling from $16-$22. Grass calves for slaughter sold at $12-$15.

Hog offerings were 2,433 head. Light runs sent prices up $1.50 a hundredweight. Grade-A hogs sold at $31.50 and Grade-B1 at $31.10. Sows were $1 hundredweight higher at $19 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts totalled 3,752. Lambs were up 50 cents at $21.50-$2 for good ewes and wethers with bucks at the usual $1 discount. Culls were mostly $14-$15.

Sheep sold steady at $9-$11 a hundredweight for good light ewes with culls from $5-$8 a hundredweight.

Car, Prisoner Vanish

GUELPH, Sept. 16 (CP) — A prisoner and an automobile disappeared from the Ontario Reformatory here at about the same time, Thursday. The car was found in Guelph about two hours later but the prisoner remained missing. Prison officials said Gordon Ritchie, 20, working as a bricklayer at the new hospital in the grounds disappeared about 4:30 a.m. The car was reported stolen about half an hour later.

Lions To Play Police In Donkey Softball

Softball fans who like to see a little humor injected into their favorite sport have a date for tonight at Riverside Bowl when Peterborough Lions play the City Police at donkey softball.

But that won't be the only entertainment. The police team, led by Constable W. G. Scott, will be in old clothes, and the Lions captained by Douglas Anderson will dress as women. To the accompaniment of the CGE Pipe Band and a couple of clowns—and perhaps some donkeys as well—these gladiators will parade from the Market Square to the Bowl.

The parade will leave the Market Square at 6.30 p.m., march west along Charlotte St. to George St., then north to Hunter St., and east, over the bridge to the playing field.

As soon as the teams arrive at the Bowl they will engage in a tug-of-war, if possible seated on donkeys. The game itself is scheduled to start at 7 p.m., and the first ball will be thrown by His Worship Mayor Max Swanston who is an ex-baseballer as well as a staunch Lion.

The entire proceeds will be for community welfare. Number one project with the Lions now is the completion of the swimming pool in Lions-Riverside Park.

Marmora Greets Catholic League

MARMORA, Sept. 16 (ENS)— The regional meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday. Mrs. C. Cook, president of Marmora sub-division, was in the chair.

The Frankford sub-division was represented by five members and visitors were present from Campbellford, Havelock, Marysville, Detroit and Buffalo.

The president welcomed the Diocesan president, Mrs. M. F. McGlade of Smiths Falls, and the other guests. Greetings were also extended by the Very Rev. H. J. Farrell, who paid tribute to the loyalty and support of Marmora sub-division.

Mrs. McGlade presented a report of the convention at Chatham which she attended last week. She spoke of the fundamentals of the League and urged the members to be good members by their sincerity, example and perseverance. She deplored the evils of the present day, such as drinking, and some types of movies and reading, which were bad for young people.

Mrs. McGlade was presented with a bouquet of roses by Carol McCrodan.

Members Entertain

Mrs. Dan Shannon and Mrs. Ernest Shannon played a piano duet, Mrs. J. Black spoke about health and nutrition, for which she is diocesan convener; Mrs. J. A. Paquet played a piano solo and Florence Auger gave a reading. Mr. Farrell sang four solos with Mrs. J. Black as accompanist. Anne Clairmont and Janet Hughes, wearing Dutch costumes, sang "The Little Old Mill" and "The Blue Zuyder Zee."

Refreshments were served.

Says Canadian Standards High

MONTREAL, Sept. 16 (CP) — Canadians are acclimated to North American tastes and standards of living and it is doubtful whether overnight they would be willing to accept European equivalents for many goods, E. G. Burton, president of the Toronto Board of Trade told a combined gathering of the Montreal Board of Trade and Chambre de Commerce Thursday night.

Mr. Burton headed a group of 75 members of the Toronto Board of Trade who are touring Ontario and Quebec. Earlier the group was tendered a civic reception by Mayor Camillien Houde and visited the city.

In his address to the dinner meeting Mr. Burton asked how long Canadians would be satisfied with "less desirable electric refrigerators, automobiles and those other things which have become part of the normal way of Canadian life."

Speaking partly in French and partly in English, he said his comments were made in answer to recent suggestions that Canada move from the dollar sphere to the sterling bloc.

Will Pay $160,000 To 2 U.S. Landowners

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — The Ontario Municipal Board on Thursday approved payment of $160,000 to two United States land-owners for about 85 acres of property expropriated by the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission as part of the site of a steam-powered electrical plant at Windsor.

The Board's judgment stated that the land-owners, Emma Ouenaecher of Louisville, Ky., and Thomas A. Yankey, of New York, had sold land adjoining the steam plant site to Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor in January, 1946.

The three lots purchased by the Commission are on Windsor's westerly limits in Sandwich West township. The owners asked the Board for $846,930, that amount to include $724,500 for the land, $72,450 for the compulsory taking, and $50,000 injurious affection.

Riverside Leads In Attendance At Playgrounds

Playground attendance figures for the eight playgrounds this year totalled 48,630 the Recreation Commission office announced Thursday. Four thousand five hundred and eighty-six adults participated in playground activities during the 10-week summer program. The final attendance figure for children on the seven playgrounds last year 43,828.

The attendance peak this year was reached the last week of July or the first week of August. In 1948 the attendance peak was at the beginning of the program in July.

The average daily attendance for the eight playgrounds was 919. Riverside led in this department with an average daily attendance of 176. King Edward 143, Fleming Place 134 and Inverlea Park 119.

Riverside Park with a total of 8,504 children during the summer program led in total attendance. The totlot there was used by 3,763 children. Fleming Place playground placed second with an attendance of 6,600. King Edward Park followed with 6,420.

Total figures for the playgrounds are:

Cupid On Job In San Quentin Prison Pretty Typist Falls In Love With Burglar

BALTIMORE, Sept. 16 (AP)— Peggy Peterson, 22, blonde and pretty, fell in love with a convict.

She was a receptionist and typist in one of the offices at San Quentin Prison, California.

William J. Sansbury, a 24-year-old convicted burglar, was assigned to the same office as a clerk.

"I don't know when or how we fell in love exactly," she said.

But she does know that it has sent her life up a new, uncharted road that has not been easy to follow.

Sansbury was released on parole recently after serving 21 months for burglary. He was brought to Baltimore to stand trial on a two-year-old charge that he forged $875 in cheques.

The trial was held Wednesday. Sansbury's lawyer told the story of the prison romance.

Then Peggy took the witness stand. She had quit her job to come east to help Sansbury.

"Judge, I know he'll go straight," she pleaded.

She offered $200 of the $240 she had left from her savings to help Sansbury make restitution for the offence he admitted.

Peggy disclosed she had applied for a marriage licence. Whether or not they can be wed she said, depends on permission of the California parole authorities, and on the outcome of the Baltimore trial.

Judge France, although sympathetic, said he will postpone a decision until he gets more information on the case from the Maryland probation department.

Packers' Union Reviews New Wage Scale

The policy committee of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) has approved a general wage increase for the eight Canada Packers' plants across Canada, including an eight-and-a-half cent boost for approximately 200 Peterborough workers.

This was concluded in Winnipeg where the UPWA was negotiating with the "big three" of the packinghouse industry — Canada Packers, Swift Canadian Co., and Burns and Co. The increases resulted from a "wage opener" in the two-year master contract with the packers.

Fred Dowling, vice president and Canadian director of the union, stated that the agreement could not be considered as concluded until all locals had ratified it.

Without Result

Alfred Barber, president of Local 210 UPWA and Peterborough delegate to the policy committee, Thursday night presented the proposed increase to the local's membership. Results are being withheld until the final returns from the seven other Canada Packers' plants are known.

The basic rate for men with more than 13 weeks' employment is 99-cents-an-hour in Peterborough, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Hull, and Montreal; in Toronto $1.02, and Vancouver $1.03½. Lowest is Charlottetown with 91 cents. Starting rate for men is four cents lower.

75 Cents To Start

According to the agreement Peterborough women will receive 75 cents to start, with an additional four cents after 13 weeks (in Toronto the interval is 26 weeks). The starting scale follows: Vancouver 81 cents, Toronto 83, Winnipeg and Edmonton 82½, Montreal 76, Hull 73½, Peterborough 75, and Charlottetown 69½.

All increases will be retroactive to August 1.

Mr. Barber said this year the UPWA tried not only for wage boosts but also to bring the scale paid at the eight plants into better alignment.

"We are still not satisfied with the women's rates," he told the Examiner. "We feel there is still too much differential and it must be brought up in line next year."

His overall comment was: "Considering the general wage advances this year, we feel we did pretty well."

The eight-and-a-half-cent increase applies to those who have been employed at the local plant since July 31, 1949. Expiration of the present two-year contract will be August 19, 1950, but contained in it was provision for a wage opener after 12 months.

The Lions will be attired as women and the police will dress in old clothes. Music will be provided by the CGE pipe band. The route is from the Market Square along Charlotte St. to George St. and north to Hunter, east along Hunter to the Bowl. The game is scheduled to start at 7.30 p.m.

4 Youths Given Sentence Of 30 Months

Four young men were sentenced to a total of 30 months plus eight months indefinite in the Guelph reformatory after pleading guilty to charges of robbery in police court Friday morning before Magistrate W. R. Philp, K. C.

The charges arose out of a robbery on Gordon Girven, 22, 189 Mark St. A wrist watch and $6 from his wallet was taken from Girven as he was crossing the CPR footbridge about midnight Aug. 26.

Longest Sentence

Robert Blackwood, 26, 188 Rubidge St., was given the longest sentence, 10 months definite and two months indefinite. He has a police record. His wife cried out in court when the sentence was pronounced.

"No. He's a good worker," she exclaimed.

Harold Blackwood, 26, 301 King St., who had a small record which Magistrate Philp said was "not of a particularly serious nature," received a sentence of eight months plus two months indefinite.

George Blackwood, 21, 99 Aylmer St., and Kenneth Gynane, 23, 118 Aylmer St., each received six months and two months indefinite. All three Blackwood men are married.

Detective William A. Calrke said he received a tip and worked from there until he had the whole story of the robbery.

He testified in court that the four had robbed Gordon Girven, of his watch and wallet containing $6 while he was crossing the CPR footbridge on his way to East City about midnight Aug. 26.

He said he had a statement from George Blackwood in which George said they were standing down by the bridge. Girven passed them and on the spur of the moment one of them said, "Let's get him."

Asked by the magistrate what was the idea behind the robbery, Harold Blackwood said, "We didn't have any idea, just did it on the spur of the moment."

The money was divided between them and the money they got when the watch was pawned in Toronto, was divided between George and Harold Blackwood and Gynane.

All four have worked regularly but Gynane has not worked since March. Harold said he had been working until two weeks ago.

Magistrate Philp said he took a very serious view of the offence and informed them under such a charge they were liable to a maximum penalty of life imprisonment with the strap.

"It has all the earmarks of a certain degree of thoughtlessness," the magistrate said, "but they are not boys any longer."

Women Resist High Egg Prices

Grade A eggs were priced at 77 cents Thursday and storekeepers were told the current price for stock bought today is 83 cents retail. The eggs are priced in the 80 cent region but they are not selling. The stores dealing in grade A have noticed a marked sales resistance this week as the price soars, not yet having reached the peak.

Storekeepers dealing in pullets eggs as well as the large size say their customers have turned to the smaller variety, now selling at 55 cents a dozen.

One Peterborough dairy, which obtains its eggs direct from the dairy farm, says sales were slack at the beginning of the week but there had been no noticeable drop over recent weekly periods.

Toronto Traffic Inspector Surveys Conditions On Peterborough's Streets

Formation of a traffic squad and introduction of additional traffic bylaws are recommended to the city Police Commission by Inspector Vernon Page in charge of Toronto police traffic division. The recommendations are contained in a report considered by the police commission Thursday which Inspector Page submitted after being invited to make a survey of Peterborough's traffic problems. After accepting the Toronto police officer's report in principle, the commission decided to refer it to the city council with a suggestion that the necessary bylaws be passed.

About parking the Toronto traffic expert says:

"On your main thoroughfare parking should be prohibited 80 feet from the corner of your main streets and 50 feet from the corner on side streets. At the present time cars are parked right up to the intersection on both streets, thereby forcing vehicles making a right hand turn to do so from the centre of the road and also causing congestion at all intersections. It is also a hazard to the pedestrians, in that their vision is obscured when crossing the street until they are out in the roadway six or seven feet.

"Your main accident hazard to children is when they cross the road from between parked vehicles. Therefore, in passing this legislation you would free the throats of the intersections and allow the vehicles making a right hand turn to get into the proper lane close to the curb. Also, through traffic would be given room to proceed and vehicles making a left hand turn would have the centre of the road."

Double Parking

"Another problem seems to be double parking on your main thoroughfares. This creates a serious obstruction for through traffic and I would recommend that in each block a 30 feet loading zone be established for commercial vehicles making deliveries only. I would suggest that such zones be staggered in the block and not directly opposite one another. This procedure has been adopted in many American cities with great success.

"At many of your "T" intersections and especialy around the intersection at the General Electric plant parking is allowed within the intersection. This is also a traffic hazard and obstructs the free flow of traffic."

Restrict At Stop Signs

"At all intersections where there are stop signs or signal lights there should be parking restrictions of from 50 to 80 feet depending upon the amount of traffic using the thoroughfare.

"The re-location of your traffic signs may bring about a better compliance by the motoring public."

"I feel that there is a lack of street markings in your city and it is essential that pedestrian cross-walks be marked around intersections. At the General Electric plant there is a pedestrian cross-walk in mid-block which is not marked and a stranger to your city, not acquainted with the city, might drive through there without caution because there is nothing to point out to him that there is a pedestrian cross-walk.

"Parking should be prohibited for at least 50 feet on either side of the cross-walk in fairness to the motor vehicle operator and the pedestrians using the cross-walk."

No Left Side Parking

"Parking left side to the curb should be prohibited. This is a dangerous practice because it creates two definite hazards—(a) when a vehicle is pulling over to the left side across the lane of oncoming traffic and (b) when a vehicle is pulling back to the proper lane. We strictly enforce this regulation in the city of Toronto."

Concerning the number of police officers required to deal with a population the size of Peterborough, the Inspector says the International Association of Chiefs of Police considers that four traffic officers are required for every 10,000 of the population. On this basis, however, Peterborough would need 15 officers assigned to traffic duty. As the Inspector remarks, this would be Utopia.

The Inspector recommended to five traffic officers but the Commissioners thought that four would probably be sufficient. Before making any decision the Commission will await Chief Constable John Thompson's opinion.

The Inspector recommended three motor cycles and a three-wheeled motor cycle and the Chief's comments on this are also awaited.

The Commission decided to send two officers to a three-day training course in Toronto on traffic control and accident investigation. The Chief will decide which men will go.

Commission Confirms Police Promotions

Promotion from sergeant to Deputy Chief of Police was confirmed for John Naples, who for the past three months has been acting deputy. Police Commission ratified the rank Thursday and set the salary at $3,000.

Sergeant Leo Murphy's promotion from constable was also confirmed and his salary raised to $2,767.

Resignations from Constable Vern O'Donoghue and George Shaw, both of which became effective in August, were formally accepted. The Commission decided to advertise for replacements.

Civic Hospital To Employ Two Interns

The employment of two interns for the new Civic Hospital was approved Thursday night at the monthly meeting of the Board of Governors.

Acting on a recommendation of the Medical and Surgical Advisory Committee, the Board decided that at least two interns were necessary. This information will be circulated among the universities so Peterborough's bid can be put in as quickly as possible Some members of the Board felt it was doubtful if any could be obtained this year as the demand for graduating medical students exceeds the supply.

Dr. G. S. Cameron stated that the ratio usually accepted in major hospitals was one intern to 50 patients.

John R. Marshall, chairman of the Board, said it was felt that four would be needed and the additional cost he estimated at $7,000.

"The addition of these four interns would be of immense benefit to the patient," said Mr. Marshall. "It will probably reduce the patients' medical charges but the cost will have to be met by the hospital"

Now Compulsory

Dr. Cameron said a year's internship was now a compulsory part of the medical course and these newly-graduated men could render much assistance to the patients. Also they would benefit the staff doctors by making some of the hospital visits routine, and doing other medical work such as administering anaesthetic in minor operations.

"Why have we had none previously, then?" enquired Alderman Dick Raine.

"We didn't have enough money," said Mr. Marshall. "Besides we didn't have the accommodation and it is doubtful if our previous standard was high enough for them to come."

At the new Civic Hospital there is accommodation for interns and it will be more up to date.

Salaries now paid interns in comparable Ontario hospitals are either $100 a month with living expenses, or $150 straight salary.

Moviemakers Have Own Big Worries

By GENE HANDSAKER.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16 (AP). —You got problems? Listen to those of moviemakers and exhibitors.

Shooting on a picture starts. Then, Producer Dore Schary told the Convention of Theater Owners of America....

"There's weather. There's sickness, accidents, calamities of all kinds. There's the time the film isn't in the camera—the time the camera breaks down — the time the lights go out.

"There's the time the visitor trips over the cable—the time the makeup needs repairing or the hairdo falls off—or the strap on the evening dress slips too low.

"There's the business of looking at rushes and discovering that the scene that sounded so wonderful in the story conference doesn't play at all. Those are the dog days. You find you are wrong. You've got to go back, rewrite, and get it on the set again."

And Pressure Groups

Then there are pressure groups. Schary said:

"We are constantly badgered by the people who are against drinking, for drinking, the people who are against smoking, the people who are for smoking....

"The morticians, architects, automobile manufacturers....the hotel owners, the dog lovers of America, the people who are for short skirts....

"If we could manage to be everything to everybody, we would be releasing blank film with nothing but silence on the sound track."

Accuse Sheriff Of Law Breaking

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP) —Henry E. Becker, Niagara county sheriff whose deputies have arrested several score union members in connection with the Bell Aircraft disorders, became a defendant himself Thursday.

Three union men arrested a week ago accused the sheriff of violating a law requiring prisoners to be arraigned "forthwith" after arrest. The penal code does not specify the time to be allowed.

Becker pleaded innocent to the three charges. He was granted a week's adjournment.

The complainants were Willard Spencer, Charles A. Rellinger and Jesse Watkins, all of Buffalo.

They allege they were arrested last Thursday on charges of rioting and the sheriff "wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully, corruptly, falsely, maliciously and knowingly" delayed until Saturday taking them before a magistrate.

While the court action was in progress, company and union representatives continued conferences with State and Federal mediators seeking an end of the strike of the United Auto Workers (CIO) which began 14 weeks ago. Negotiations were renewed Tuesday for the first time since they ended in a deadlock July 29.

Clerk Goes To Jail

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — Former clerk in the city works department, James Goodwin, 27, Thursday was sentenced to nine months definite and three months indefinite in reformatory for theft of $2,200 from the city. Goodwin was in charge of collecting freight charges on boats operated by the city.

Social Problem As Pianos Out, Emotions Count

"We are able," says Mr. Chapman in the language expected of sociologists, "to make a complete inventory of the contents of a random sample of 51 parlors in a working class housing estate, and in this there were 45 three-piece suites, 33 pianos, 30 carpets, 40 occasional tables, and eight china cabinets. .. " It appears that the piano, once the principal prestige object, but now difficult to get, is being supplanted by the tiled fireplace, though Mr. Chapman does not mention the radiogram—or the television set.

The poorer families Mr. Chapman finds, still prefer plenty of polished metal, bright colors, and gaudy patterns, and leather cloth upholstery which does not show the dirt. The better-off groups seem to prefer "antique or reproduction furniture or other furniture produced in the pompous manner." But the larger middle group prefers "plain furniture of simple design and light woods, with plain pastel shades in carpets and soft furnishings."

Appearance counts far more than utility in the choice of furnishings. The irrational majority of families pile their three-piece suites even into bedrooms fully equipped with built-in wardrobes and cupboards. Few consider that children have any special needs of their own once they have outgrown the pram, and high chair. Though eight homes in 10 have rooms in which (if suitably heated and equipped) school children could do their homework in quiet, only one school child in three is in fact afforded such conditions.

Mr. Chapman holds that designers should give more weight to these insignificant irrationalities of their customers, though he agrees that the customers need to be encouraged to show more discrimination and, that advice should be much more readily available when they really want to equip their homes, and especially their kitchens, rationally. The aspidistra, the picture on the wall, the ornament on the mantelpiece, the books (if any) on the shelf, are not mentioned in Mr. Chapman's survey. It is to be hoped that they will be included in his next random sample.

Sociologists so far have done much less than the novelists in the study and description of ordinary people's habits in the furnishing of their homes, comments The London Times. Mr. Dennis Chapman, a sociologist at Liverpool University, has sought to repair this omission in a paper recently published in the Architects' Journal.

His "field survey" into the behaviour of typical working and middle class families who are neither rich nor very poor confirms the novelist's impression that the popular attitude to furnishing the home is primarily emotional. The designer is interested mainly in the functional and aesthetic qualities of a piece of furniture, the customer mainly in its emotional associations or prestige value.

Young couples setting up home tend to devote a third or a half of their outlay to the bedroom, a good deal less to the dining or living room, and very little to the kitchen. The nursery and the parlor are furnished later.

The parlor, however, plays an important part in the family's subsequent life—as a repository for family portraits and treasured objects, a show place for "prestige objects," a "neutral zone or an area of defence in depth" for the reception of strangers who must be given a favorable impression of the home, and as the housewife's retreat during family quarrels, the husband more frequently withdrawing to the garden or the workshop.

Conservation Ideas Read To Committee

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 16 (CP)—Recommendations covering all phases of conservation from soil depletion to reforestation in the Bay of Quinte area were presented Thursday to an Ontario Legislature committee touring the province.

The recommendations were presented in a 15-page brief read by Col. Roscoe Vanderwater of Foxboro at the committee's one-day sitting here.

The brief covered soil conditions and suggested remedial measures which might be taken in the five counties of Hastings, Northumberland, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac.

New Buildings In Otonabee Total $39,250

Permits for new buidings in Otonabee amounted to $39,250 for the two months of July and August, John Cooney, inspector, reported to the township council this week.

The council passed a bylaw licensing and controlling public garages. It provides that no person may operate or work in a public garage unless he has first obtained a license to do so from the township council, and every person so licensed shall be subject to the provisions of the new bylaw.

A bylaw authorizing the establishment of the Otonabee Memorial Rink as a community centre was given its three readings and adopted.

Management Committee

The following committee of management was appointed, members' terms to be for two years: Charles C. Nelson, David McNeven, Jack Gall, Jack Thirnbeck, Dr. Wilson Ford; and the representatives of the council for one year: Reeve Harry Reid and Harry McIntyre.

The township telephone system was discussed by W. A. Anderson. Action was deferred until Nov. 1, with the understanding that the account would be paid by that time.

Authority was given for the placing of two culverts in connection with the improvement work at Keene Cemetery.

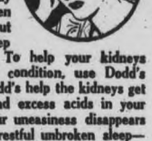
Reeve Reid and Deputy-Reeve McIntyre and the municipal clerk were appointed to interview Peterborough council's fire and light committee for an agreement respecting fire protection in the township.

Third reading was given a bylaw to close the road allowance between lots 11 and 12, concession three. This was bylaw No. 1100.

The 1947 tax roll was accepted from the collector, and the following accounts were passed for payment:

Road expenses $2217.60, relief $267.65, W. Brealey (valuator) $3.00, John Cavanagh (sheep killed, $22.00; Un. Ins. stamps $13.44; Indigent care $40.00; J. Corkery (sheep kiled) $15.00; W. A. Drummond (valuator) $3.00; J. Cooney (Assesor salary) $385.70; Schools $600.00; H.E.P. Co. $2.70; Commercial Press (printing) $38.61; Elliott Stationery (printing) $5.05; Reg. of deeds (registrations) $10.48; Municipal World (supplies) $3.14; J. Cooney (building inspector solary) $115.75 Peterborough Examiner (advt) $16.19; Kerr & McElderry, Howell (legal) $49.00.

Manslaughter Verdict Returned For Howlett



SARNIA, Sept. 16 (CP) — A Supreme Court jury Thursday night returned a verdict of manslaughter in the case of 23-year-old Ralph Howlett, charged with murder in the bludgeon death of Harry Brown, 63, in the Town Hall furnace room last March.

The jury was out two hours and 20 minutes. It came back to the courtroom once to ask the definition of "culpable homicide."

Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow said he had "no argument" with the jury's finding, and would deliver sentence Sept. 22.

In argument at the end of the three-day trial Thursday, Crown Prosecutor E. D. Wilkins of Sudbury, submitted that Howlett slugged Brown over the head with an empty wine bottle to steal the $21 he knew was in Brown's wallet.

King Enjoys Freedom From Office

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 — (CP). — It was a nice, relaxful day for Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. For the first time in two decades he had no responsibilities in the opening of Parliament.

Freed from the cares of state, he was seated in a barber's chair in a downtown hotel Thursday when discovered by a reporter. Mr. King was getting "the works" from Paul (Red) Tasse, his favorite barber, and he was looking genial.

"I've been thinking over the past years," he said, "and what a difference it is this morning to feel a freeman. I know what the others are going through today, and have been for the last few weeks with the session approaching."

However, the 74-year-old former Prime Minister was in no mood to miss the opening. As a Privy Councillor he was entitled to a seat on the floor of the Senate during the ceremonies, and was "happy" to attend.

Instead of being in the chair occupied by Prime Minister St. Laurent, however, at the immediate right of the throne, Mr. King sat far down the Chamber.

The Canadian Family owes much to...Belgium

For over two centuries, Canada has been the land of opportunity to settlers from almost every country in the world. Much of our strength and vitality stems from this blending of racial and cultural heritages.

It is a matter of pride to all Canadians that so many races, without sacrificing their national characteristics, have united themselves into one great citizenship — the Canadian Family.

Gallant Belgium, whose poppy-carpeted fields of Flanders hold tender memories for many Canadians, has sacrificed much in the cause of freedom. Comprising two distinct racial groups — the Flemings and the Walloons — she has given many of her sturdy sons to Canada.

Among them have been many distinguished figures in Canadian arts and sciences. The majority, however, specialize in agriculture and have done much to stimulate tobacco-growing in Ontario and Quebec. In the mid-west many have become successful dairymen.

A devout, thrifty and dependable people, they have earned the respect of their fellow-citizens for their contribution to Canada's progress.

Calvert, Secretary of State to King James 1, and head of the famous Calvert family, founded one of Canada's first colonies in Newfoundland in 1622. Calvert and his descendants fostered the principles of religious tolerance and democratic freedom and thus helped sow the fertile seed of democracy in the New World.

British History Teaches Democratic Way Of Life

"British history is our heritage as it teaches us our democratic way of life," said Dr. Eldon P. Ray while addressing the Kiwanis Club at their Thursday luncheon. His subject was "Our Heritage."

The political way of life, not only of Canadians but of every state which has the tradition of Western Europe, was worked out largely in Britain, Dr. Ray explained. He continued saying there is no need for false modesty because it lies at the very centre of the defences against the Red menace.

England alone, he said, discovered how to transform the feudal order which followed the fall of the Roman Empire into a limited parliamentary monarchy by which the way was paved for democracy in the modern national state. Dr. Ray added that other nations made contributions but these were built on the foundations laid by Britain.

"Our heritage comes from the past, from British History," Dr. Ray said. This was a story of a series of successive triumphs over circumstances in a breathless story of progress unsurpassed anywhere in history.

Four Periods

Dr. Ray said that the story falls into four dramatic episodes, the Anglo-Saxon period, the feudal period, the Tudors to the 20th Century and the 20th Century. During the Anglo-Saxon period the foundations were laid while in the second period the change to the modern state began to take place.

In the 20th Century period whic hhas been full of wars and discontents the old political order has been destroyed in some areas where it has been weakest. Modern difficulties have grown out of achievements of the political order. The old social and political ideas do not apply so easily in the complex modern world, Dr. Ray said, but these ideas can and must be made to apply.

Education, clear thinking and understanding can protect this heritage, not "the drum and trumpet."

Now after the state has been transformed by the triumph of bureaucracy and democracy, Dr. Ray continued, it is threatened by the rise of totalitarianism. No new instrument like parliament is in sight to protect the individual arising to solve the modern problems.

Greatest Story In History

Without such an instrument a new enlightenment must be depended upon and, the speaker added, the greatest strength is in history. In order to hope to make the institutions work he suggested that people be taught the traditions by which civilization grew.

"The need is for an awareness, a recognition that our way of life is being threatened, and that it cannot be defended unless those in whose hands the defence rests understand clearly what it is that really matters in our way of life."

Dr. Ray was introduced by the Crown Attorney, John Bradshaw, and thanked by Lloyd Parnell.

President Vincent McCabe told the Kiwanis that a gross of $3,000 was made at the Kiwanis Sale Saturday. He added that he expected a net gain of $1,400 or $1,500.

Mine Union Gets Disputed $16,000 Dues

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP) — The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) Thursday was awarded $16,000 in disputed union dues paid by workers at the International Nickel Company at Port Colborne.

Both the mine-mill union and the Canadian Congress of Labor claimed the money. The award was made by Mr. Justice G. A. Gale of the Ontario Supreme Court.

The money collected by the company under a check-off arrangements was held by the firm pending settlement of a dispute between two union locals over bargaining rights.

The company asked the court to decide which union was entitled to the dues. The employees originally were mine-mill members. Later, a group headed by John Shedden seceded from mine-mill and formed a rival union. The court did not recognize the rival organization and in its judgment ordered that the money be paid to the financial secretary mine-mill union.

Mr. Justice Gale directed that expenses incurred by the company and by the mine-mill union as a result of the court action must be paid out of the $16,000.

Mr. Justice Gale said in his judgment:

"The company has acted throughout in a proper, sensible and reasonable way. It should have its costs in this case out of the fund."

Famous Regiment Hasty Pees To Meet In City

The streets of Peterborough early in October will once again resound to martial music when the "Hasty Pees" hold their fifth annual reunion here.

More than 700 vets of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment are expected to attend the reunion held over the Thanksgiving weekend (Oct. 8-10). It will be the first time the Hasty Pees have met in Peterborough.

Former members of the Regiment from British Columbia to Newfoundland have made enquiries about the annual get-together And besides these any member of the Canadian Army that served with the 1st Corps in Italy will be welcome.

Officials of the Association sponsoring the runion say that many army men who fought with the Hasty-Pees in the long-drawn-out Italian campaign are unable to attend their own regimental reunion as their recruiting centres are in distant parts of the country.

Largely because of this, and also for reasons of hospitality, the Association has invited these other veterans of the Italian campaign to join in the celebration.

Actually Peterborough was not scheduled to be host to the reunion this year, but when the Armouries at Picton burned down plans had to be advanced one year.

While there was no unit of the Hasty Pees that left Peterborough during the recent war, there were many local men who enlisted in that regiment. For this reason, although the wartime Regimental HQ was Picton, the city's ties with that unit remain strong.

Another bond is the respected padre of the Hasty Pees, the Rev. Walter J. Gilling, of St. Luke's Anglican church.

The tentative schedule calls for the vets to register at the Armories on the afternoon of Saturday, October 8. That evening there will be a social affair with ladies invited. A dance will be held at the Canadian Legion Hall.

On Sunday there will be the usual War Memorial Service with Major General H. D. Graham, vice chief of staff, and former CO of the Reg't, placing the wreath in memory of fallen comrades. A parade—the itinerary is yet to be decided—will follow at noon with Major General Graham taking the salute.

Next on the agenda will be a regimental dinner at the Legion Hall with all ranks and civic officials invited. At the conclusion of the banquet the annual meeting of the Association will be held, including the election of officers for 1949.

A substantial representation from the seven clubs in the association, Brockville, Cornwall, Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Picton and Peterborough is expected.

One of the chief guests which members hope to entertain is Lord Tweedsmuir, son of the former Governor-General, who served with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

Educational Scholarship

The Hasty-Pees are particularly proud of their record in looking after the welfare of their less fortunate former comrades. They state their reunion provides another exemplary feature: every year $800 is set aside as a scholarship fund to educate the needy children of comrades who died overseas with the Reg't.

At the moment there are 21 applications on file for the educational scholarship.

The war record of the Hasty-Pees began in 1939 when the Reg't went overseas. They were stationed in the south of England until the spring of 1940, and then made a brief visit to France in a vain effort to stem the German tide, shortly after Dunkirk.

Joined 8th Army

After being evacuated to Britain they remained there until 1943 when they joined Montgomery's 8th Army for the invasion of Sicily. There as part of the 1st Brigade, along with the Royal Canadian Reg't, and the 48th Highlanders, they gained the name of "Red Devils."

Next they joined in the invasion of Italy and fought their way up to the Po Valley, being engaged in every major operation. It was the Hasty-Pees that cracked the Hitler Line in 1944 leading to the outflanking of the German forces in Rome and the ultimate fall of that city.

With the rest of the 1st Canadian Corps they invaded the south of France and raced north for the final struggle. And from Holland they fought their way into Germany.

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment took no part in the occupation but returned to Canada in 1945.

Director Plans Athletic Program At Boys' Town

An ambitious sports program for Boys' Town is planned for the fall and winter months by Walter Bent, director of the boys at Trafalgar House in Nicholls Oval. A midget rugby club is being formed to play exhibitions against local and district teams, and entries later will be made in four divisions (peewee to juvenile) of the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association. The boys will have their own rink this winter in the Oval.

Registration as present in Boys' Town is 120 and several are registering almost daily. Any boy in the city from 10 to 18 years inclusive is welcome here and may register with Mr. Bent through the day or evening. Sports equipment is being purchased through the boys' canteen funds. The Panthers of the ORFU have permitted these boys to operate the canteen at ORFU games this season in Morrow Park. Sweaters now purchased will be seen at the Orillia-Panthers' game tonight. A few days ago, $200 worth of material for craftsmanship was purchased.

Other Activities

Besides athletics, Mr. Bent instructs on choir and concert work and the bugle band. He will begin instructions on general hobby work right after open house is held this Sunday. Visitors are invited to Trafalgar House from three p.m. until 10. The boys run the place with a Mayor and other officials, and some of them will assist Mr. Dent in coaching the various sports teams.

A year ago, the director took 25 boys from Galt to Toronto to see NHL play and another bus load was taken by Mr. Bent to Oshawa for four days where they practised hockey, played minor Oshawa teams and watched the junior "A" Generals in action. He plans similar trips here this coming winter. Also, "Hockey Cavalcade" and another film "Boys in Europe" will be shown Sunday evening.

His Background

Walter Bent for 10 years before the war was an instructor at the St. John Training School for boys. While there he not only played senior Maritimes hockey but coached the St. John junior "B" team and organized some 500 boys for minor baseball and hockey, being in charge of this association until he enlisted and went overseas. Since then, he instructed at the Bowmanville and Galt boys' training schools, emphasizing athletics, and his bugle band last year was second in the Waterloo Tattoo. He was supervisor at Galt. His earlier coaching took two peewee hockey teams and one juvenile ball team to Maritimes championships.

Mr. Bent is single and he came here five weeks ago as director of Boys' Town at the Oval. It is a full-time job with him, and he will work in conjunction with the Peterborough Recreation Commission. He has dedicated his life to working with and for teenage boys, and is quite optimistic of this city's Boys' Town.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

NEW BRICK TAMES INTENSE HEAT!!

Johns-Manville Research Laboratories have done it again! This largest and best equipped insulation laboratory in the world has recently developed JM-3000—the only insulating fire brick made to withstand continuously the intense heat of a full 3000 degrees F.

Back of this latest achievement is Johns-Manville's 90 years of leadership in the development and manufacture of insulations. Today industry relies on J-M Insulations to solve every heat problem ranging from 400 degrees below zero to 3000 above. In every type of industrial service these J-M Insulations speed up manufacturing and save thousands in fuel costs every year.

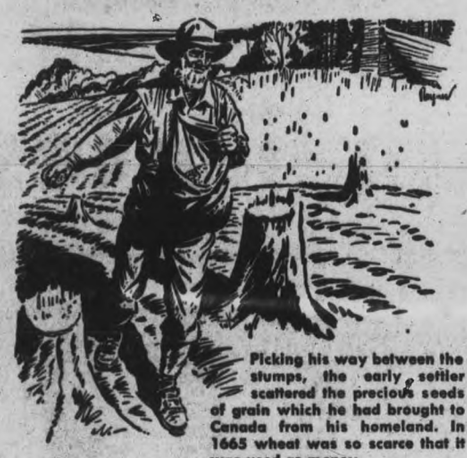
7 Babies Die On Reservation

LITTLE CURRENT, Sept. 16 — (CP)—Seven Indian babies on Manitoulin reservations have died of dysentry in the past six weeks, Dr. Charles Armstrong of the department of health and welfare said Thursday.

Dr. Armstrong and Dr. Derek Richardson arrived here from Ottawa during the week-end to investigate reports of an epidemic. Early reports said between 10 and 20 children had died of the disease in recent weeks.

There is no epidemic and the situation is improving, Dr. Armstrong said.



"I can't say the situation is under control because it may grow worse at any moment," he said. "I would compare it to a smouldering forest fire which is a constant threat."

He said he makes daily visits to between 40 and 50 dysentry patients. The Indians are warned to boil all drinking water.

Some of the Indians had been using ancient "cures" he said.

"Before the situation was actually drawn to our attention many Indian parents whose children were affected relied on the use of herbs and plants and other Indian-cure-alls to try and bring relief."

TURNING THE PAGES OF
"CANADA UNLIMITED"

Picking his way between the stumps, the early settler scattered the precious seeds of grain which he had brought to Canada from his homeland. In 1665 wheat was so scarce that it was used as money.

Because clearing the land was difficult with crude implements, grain farming in early Canada developed slowly. The United Empire Loyalists who settled in Upper Canada in 1784 were the first to grow wheat in any quantity. The deep forests gave way to growing farmlands. By 1802, wheat exports reached a million bushels.

From 1813, settlement in the West grew slowly. By 1876 export of western wheat began. In the next fifty years, industrious pioneers transformed the prairies into a rippling sea of golden grain. From these farms have come world wheat championships—Marquis, Reward and Durum—for our daily bread!

In almost every corner of the globe, you will find wheat from Canada—truly named the granary of the world! In creating new and better strains, in growing and shipping grain, there's opportunity for Canadians. Yes, there's room to grow—in Canada Unlimited.

Roast Chicken Best Value, Leftovers Made Attractive

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 —(CP)— Chicken — a rich man's dish? Nowadays the housewife is finding it a more economical buy than the most ordinary cut of beef or pork.

Once the family has had its fill of roast chicken, appetizing ways can always be found of preparing the leftover meat to do at least another meal.

CHICKEN LOAF WITH MUSHROOM CAUCE—Ingredients: two cups cooked chicken; one cup peas; one-half cup milk; one egg; one teaspoon salt; two teaspoons onion juice; two teaspoons chopped parsley (optional).

Put cold cooked chicken and vegetables through food chopper. Mix with crumbs, milk, beaten egg, salt, onion juice and parsley and pack into greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees Fahrenheit for about 40 minutes. Unmould, slice and serve with mushroom sauce which can be made from condensed mushroom soup if fresh mushrooms are not available. Serves six.

CHICKEN SURPRISE — Ingredients: one-half pound spaghetti (unbroken); one tablespoon fat; one tablespoon flour; three-quarter cup milk; one egg yolk; salt and pepper to taste; two cups finely chopped chicken; one cup mixed vegetables; one tablespoon chopped parsley.

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water being careful not to break strands. Drain and rinse in cold water.

Line a deep, greased mould with the long spaghetti. Make a sauce of the fat, flour, milk, egg yolk and salt and pepper. Add chicken, vegetables and parsley. Fill centre of mould with this mixture and cover with spaghetti. Steam on top of the stove for 45 to 50 minutes if made in one large mould, or for 20 to 25 minutes if made in individual moulds. Unmould and serve with tomato or any desired sauce.

The consumer section, Dominion department of agriculture, tells how to carve the chicken.

1. Place bird on platter with neck to carver's left side and carve nearer side of bird first.

2. Remove leg by making cut through skin between body and thigh and around the hip joint. Disjoint leg at socket with tip of knife. Transfer to small platter and separate thigh and drumstick. Cut up for serving.

3. Remove wing by cutting through shoulder joint. (Discard outer tip of wing.) Divide wing into two sections for serving.

4. Slice white meat, cutting toward the front and downward on the breast. Slice full length of breast.

5. Make a horizontal cut across the abdominal section to remove dressing.

6. Carve other side in similar way. The bird may be reversed on platter so uncut side is directly in front of carver.

YOUNG 'FRY' STEP OUT—At left, high-style snowsuit for the younger generation —navy blue gabardine slacks made in overall style with zipper-up front and grey cloth jacket, blouse backed and fur trimmed hood. Pockets are outlined in navy and whole suit lined with quilted red wool. Right, a duplicate of mother's station wagon coat of water repellant gabardine, sheepskin lining and mouton collar. It buttons on either side so it can be worn by boy or girl—isn't that thrifty, mothers?

Lakefield Public School Pupils Receive Awards

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 16—(ENS)—IODE publis school prize and the Catholic Women's League award were presented to Suzanne Weaver Monday at an open meeting sponsored by the Home and School Association. Neil Wasson also received an IODE paize. Miss Weaver also won first prize offered by the County and Jeanette Staples was awarded second prize. There were 26 entrance certificates presented to students.

The meeting was addressed by J. Howard Moebus, B. Comm., director of career planning at Peterborough Collegiate.

"Smaller schools have many advantages over larger ones," he told the meeting. "Teachers in large schools meet as many as 360 pupils in a day and it is impossible to give personal attention to each one," he said.

Twenty years ago an entrance certificate was all that was required to get a position. Now Junior Matriculation was necessary.

To succeed in High School a pupil should know where he was going. How far he went was determined by his financial status, ability and desire to get ahead.

A child's desire to get ahead was controlled greatly by his associates. Parents should see that their children had desirable companions from the age of five years.

"Homework," said the speaker, "is necessary. The average child in Grade 9 should do one hour's homework, grade 10 one and a half hours, grade 11 two hours, grade 12 two and a half hours and grade 13 three hours.

Each pupil should arrange his own time table and should be sure he was in the right course.

Principal R. E. Sutton of Lakefield District High School staff introduced Mr. Moebus.

President of the Association, Mrs. Clarence Coons, presided.

Present Certificates

Principal E. T. Sloan of the Public School staff presented entrance certificates to 26 pupils.

Honors were brought to the school by Miss Suzanne Weaver, who won first prize offered by the county, and Miss Jeanette Staples, who won second.

Mr. Sloan congratulated the girls and mentioned especially Jeanette Staples who took Grade 7 and 8 together, and also Mary Hudson, who skipped Grade 7 and attained honors.

Mrs. E. H. Nonthey presented IODE prizes to Suzanne Weaver and Neil Wasson. Mrs. Erskine Douglas read the address.

Mrs. Coons presented the Catholic Women's League award to Suzanne Weaver.

Mrs. Harold Deeth was presented with a Past President's pin by Mrs. Coons. Mrs. Clarence Foster read an address.

The prize for having the most parents present was won by Mrs. Black's class.

It was decided that the Home and School Association purchase a small radio for the Public School.

Miss Suzanne Weaver gave the validictory address. Miss Beverley Taylor played a piano solo and Betty Jane and Harry Rath played a piano duet.

Councillor Roy Brown tendered a vote of thanks to the speaker.

WMS Introduces New Study Book

ROSENEATH, Sept. 16 (ENS) —The W.M.S. of the United Church held the September meeting, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Nichol on Tuesday.

The first vice-president, Mrs. Delbert Brisbin, presided, and conducted the opening exercises. Prayers were offered by Mrs. R. C. White, Mrs. L. S. Coyle and Mrs. D. Brisbin.

Mrs. Douglas Coyle was pianist.

Mrs. J. N. Lovelace introduced the new study book "Growing With The Years". She said that 1950 would mark the 25th Anniversary of Church Union in 1925. She was assisted by Mrs. A. Nill, Mrs. A. Halstead and Mrs. D. Brisbin.

An invitation was accepted to attend the WA annual open meeting to be held in the United Church September 21.

The Rev. H. G. Lester of Warkworth will be the speaker.

Mrs. J. N. Lovelace presented a report from the Training School for Ladies at Whitby.

Plan Thank Offering

Plans were made for the WMS annual autumn thankoffering service to be held in a month's time in the United Church.

A letter was read from Mrs. H. J. C. Beatty, Port Hope, supply secretary of the Cobourg Presbytery, assigning the W.M.S. supplies for 1950.

Plans were made for the October meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Waldie on October 11 with Mrs. Douglas Coyle in charge of the study book and Mrs. Delbert Brisbin as program convener. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Local Council of Women Advised of Suggestions

Mrs William Addyman, president of Peterborough Local Council of Women, presided at the regular meeting on Thursday afternoon in the YWCA. Mrs. M. Moncrief, assistant recording secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting held in May. Also those of a sub-executive meeting held at the president's home Monday.

Arising out of the latter was the nomination of Mrs. H. Dunford as a life member, which was ratified by the meeting. Further to discussion at the Provincial Council annual meeting at Chatham in June, it was decided the Local Council would recommend that the Peterborough Police Commission employ a policewoman, who would be a trained social worker and would patrol the streets.

It was decided to send a box of supplies for a Christmas tea to the women of Peterborough, England. Request by the Townswomen's Guild of that city for good used clothing for a rummage sale will be answered and the shipment will include food. Articles and cash donations will be accept for the latter by Council members.

Mrs. J. E. Rycraft, a visitor from the sister city in England, was present at the meeting and spoke briefly. She brought to mind the days of food rationing in Canada with stories of exchanging sugar for eggs, which she gets in good supply from a farmer friend, and similar ways neighbors adopt to make the food situation more bearable. She explained that food is less plentiful now than during the war and the queues are formed at 7:30 a.m. before most grocery stores. In Peterborough the people are able to grow a lot of vegetables and they are allowed a pound of sugar each month for canning their fruit.

Delegate Reports

Mrs. E Wand, delegate to the Provincial Council annual meeting gave a full report. Matters of special interest included the forming of a permanent resolution committee to study resolutions before they are presented to Local Councils; recommendation that children be not allowed in theatres unless accompanied by an adult; also that those under 16 be barred from shows labelled "adult entertainment"; recommendation that the sale of soft drinks and chocolate milk be prohibited in school cafeterias, and that the dairies be urged to provide pasteurized milk in containers that would sell at 5 cents; recommendation to the Dominion Government that Chinese be given the same privileges of immigration as others

Heading of a discussion by the delegates was, "Is not the liquor situation in Canada as dangerous as Communism?" The Provincial Council is now planning a women's mass meeting at which the liquor question will be dealt with by women speakers. Mrs. W. Addyman was sent to Toronto Wednesday to attend a planning committee meeting and she advised the meeting will be held in Massey Hall, Toronto, on Thursday evening, November 3. Members were urged to attend.

Announcement was made of a public meeting in Peterborough Legion Hall on Thursday, September 22, at which Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova will speak and display pictures showing conditions in Europe. A banquet being held in Toronto on Wednesday, October 12, by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews at which there will be prominent speakers, was announced.

Mrs. A. E. Barrie, convener of arts and letters, told of arrangements for an exhibition of paintings by American women artists to be in the Public Library October 17 to 31. Representatives of Local Council will be on hand each day, and plans are under way to serve tea each evening.

The Council executive's annual fall tea is to be held in the YWCA on Thursday afternoon, October 13. Mrs. M. H. Drysdale was appointed general convener.

Mrs. B. W. McClennan read a letter from the North Townswomen's Guild of Peterborough, England, giving a detailed account of the activities of the organization. A request was made for correspondents.

Kawartha Club Golf Winners

Ladies of the Kawartha Golf Club entertained 15 members of Peterborough Club on Monday afternoon. Kawartha players won points on the 18-hole competition and Peterborough ladies won on nine-hole play.

Mrs. Reg. Turner, president of Peterborough Club, was welcomed with much pleasure when she joined the group for the tea hour.

Presiding at the table, centred with a bowl of beautifully colored fall asters, were Mrs. J. Watts and Mrs. Fred Reed. Servers were Mrs. Gordon Hill, Mrs. Art Jones and Mrs. Ward.

In the Thursday field day competition Mrs. Harold Scott won two points for low net and kicker's handicap. Winner in the nine-hole section was Mrs. D. Lamont, who received points for low net and par on holes.

Miss Sybil Hood was winner of a spoon in the business girls' competition and Misses Ruth McKee and Doris Skinner won points.

5 Women Spike Conference Of 9 Countries

BIGWIN INN, Ont., Sept. 16—(CP)—The soft touch and the gentle voice has come to the Commonwealth councils.

Five women are among the nearly 100 delegates to the unofficial Commonwealth relations conference now in session in this swank Ontario resort region.

They come from three of the nine Commonwealth countries represented, two from the United Kingdom, two from South Africa and one from New Zealand. There are no women delegates from Canada, India, Ireland, Pakistan, Ceylon or Australia.

There have been women delegates to past conferences—they are held once every five years—but officials say the representation never has been as strong as it is this year.

One of the most forceful of the women speakers has been Lady Violet Bonham-Carter, vice-chairman of the United Europe movement in the United Kingdom, president of the Liberal party organization in 1944 and 1945 and member of the British government's royal commission on the press.

With her on the British delegation is Miss Lucy Stuart Sutherland, principal of Lady Margaret Hall at Oxford since 1945 and an authority on early United Kingdom history.

One of the South African delegates is a former Canadian, Mrs. E. Schuller. Before she was married to a South African banker she was Mary Craig McGeachy of Sarnia. She was with the old League of Nations before the war and became noted as an expert on European afafirs. She has been a member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs since 1931.

Also from South Africa is Mrs. Bertha Solomon, a barristed and a united party member of the South African parliament.

The New Zealand representative in the women's department is Gwendolen Carter, now associate professor of government at Smith College at Northampton, Mass., largest women's college in the world.

"Miss Canada" Visits Friends In City Thursday

Miss Margaret Lynn Munn of Toronto, present holder of the title "Miss Canada", was an unexpected visitor in Peterborough Thursday, at the home of her friends Mr. and Mrs. Ken McCannan, Clonsilla Ave. She was accompanied by her chaperone, Miss Peggy O'Neill, and the supervisor of her public appearances, Mr. Bill Steer.

While here, Miss Munn's picture was seen on television in a news broadcast from Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. McCannan entertained in her honor last evening.

Wilda Armitage Bride of T. Alton Madill

CAVAN, Sept. 16 (ENS) — A pretty autumn wedding took place in Cavan United Church, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock when Wilda Jessie Roberta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Armitage, Cavan, became the bride of Thomas Alton Madill, son of Mrs. Thomas Madill and the late Mr. Madill, Cavan. The church was decorated with bouquets of gladioli, hydrangea and ferns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was charming in a gown of white satin with slight train. The bodice had a square net yoke outlined in seed pearls and rhinestones. Tiny covered buttons fastened it from the yoke to the low waistline in the back. The sleeves were long and pointed at the wrist and the skirt was made with a bustle. Her long veil was caught to a halo headdress with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of deep red roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Elaine Savigny of Peterborough, dressed in pale green taffeta and wearing a flower headdress and lace mittens. She carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli.

Mr. Russell Madill, St. Catharines, was his brother's groomsman.

The Rev. T. Garnett Housser performed the ceremony and Mrs. A. Kennedy played the wedding music. Mr. Fraser Carr sang "I'll Walk Beside You" before the bride entered and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The ushers were Mr. Lloyd Armitage, brother of the bride, and Mr. John Moore, Peterborough.

A reception for 90 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were beautifully decorated with gladioli and fern and pink and white streamers. Those assisting were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Paul Thompson, Mrs. John Moore, Peterborough, and Miss Marie Armitage and Misses Mary Richards, June Miller and Mazel Carr.

Mothers of the bride and groom received, both wearing dresses of navy crepe with matching hats. Mrs. Armitage wore a corsage of deep pink roses and Mrs. Madill's corsage was of cream roses and fern.

The bride chose for a motor trip to Toronto, Buffalo and other points in the United States a navy printed crepe dress, grey wool coat and navy accessories.

No 'yellow hue' thanks to Blue!

Snowy-white sheets — looking like new! Thanks to Blue. Sheets and all white clothes no longer suffer from 'yellow tinge'—not with Blue to make them white! So quick, so easy . . . just a swish or two of Blue in the final rinsing water does the trick!

P.S.—Seven colours combine to make white, one of these is blue. Blue must be added to make true white.

DOROTHY DIX

Suicide Threats Old Stuff Jilted Woman's Stock Trick

Dorothy Dix

I am a boy of 18 and have been going with a girl of the same age for about a year. I thought I loved this girl, but I have changed my mind since I met another girl. The other night I suggested that we both go with some one else for a while, and told her that I didn't love her any more. Immediately she got her father's gun and was about to shoot herself when I stopped her. I promised I would try to learn to love her again, but it is no use. I can't. Don't tell me to try to reason with her because it is impossible.

PUZZLED LAD.

ANSWER: I trust this unpleasant experience will teach you a lesson that will do much to safeguard your future happiness. That is not to get yourself entangled in love affairs until you are grown and your taste in women is formed.

Every boy in his teens thinks he is in love with every pretty girl with whom he is thrown in contact. That is normal and a good thing; because, before a man picks out a wife with whom to spend the balance of his days, he should have known many women who appealed to him in different ways and he should have thought himself in love and found out that he wasn't often enough to learn to distrust his emotions. Then he won't be so likely to mistake a passing fancy for an eternal passion and get married to a woman of whom he will tire before the honeymoon sets.

My surmise is that this girl's threat of suicide was a gesture intended to keep you from leaving her. It is the stock trick of women who hold unwilling men to them by threat of killing themselves.

However, as you don't want to be involved in any scenes, to say nothing of scandal, the best thing for you to do is to ease yourself gently out of the situation. Don't go to see her often, and go around with other girls. As long as you are not married to her, she has no possible right to supervise your stepping out.

It is hopeless to try to revive a dead love. When you've lost your taste for a girl, you've lost it, and that is all there is to it.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What is bothering me and a lot of other business girls is that we see so many men cheating on their wives and they are wives who are everything that a wife should be, good looking and cheerful and not naggers. Why is this? What makes men who are honest and honorable in other things turn out to be sneaks and liars to their wives? And how are girls, who see this every day and who have to telephone wives that their husbands are in conference or called out of town on business or are meeting country customers, when they are really stepping out with some doll to keep from becoming too disillusioned to consider marrying any man?

JUST A STENOGRAPHER.

ANSWER: Why men who are married to beautiful and charming women can't be satisfied to stay within the fold but must jump the bars now and then nobody can explain. Perhaps it is just the nature of the beast. Perhaps, as Mr. Howell once said, after 2,000 years of Christianity, men are still imperfectly monogamous.

But there seems no remedy for it. Unless a man is born of the domestic type no one woman can hold him, no matter if she is as beautiful as Venus. Always he will see the flutter of a petticoat up the street and start chasing it.

Nor is there any way in which the business girl can retain her illusions about men when she works with them every day. She is like Eve after she ate the apple knowing good and evil and all the tricks and manners of men.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you do with a husband when he simply states that he is tired of married life? We have one child, a little girl 2 years old. He seems to be crazy about her and makes a wonderful father and husband when he isn't drinking or isn't wantinng a drink or isn't wanting to get away from married life. Also he says that at times he is in love me and that at times he isn't. What would you suggest?

BABS.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I should think that the best thing to do would be to let him go, for that uncertain kind of husband would be small loss. The chances are that if he tried single life again he would find out that he had lost his taste for that and be glad to come back home.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Why is it so desperately hard to convince the modern girl that tthere is any such thing as a really righteous young man whose thoughts are pure and noble and whose intentions are honorable?

DONALD.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Probably because she has seen so few of them. It is hard to believe in prehistoric animals even after you have seen their skeletons in the museums.

DOROTHY DIX.

Surf gets clothes SWEETER!
WHITER BRIGHTER
Surf
Not just whiter, not just brighter, but "Fresh-Air-Fresh," even when dried indoors

NEW WAY OF WASHING ENDS DIRTY SOAP SCUM
Soap scum "locks" dirt and grease into fabrics, stiffens fibres so they wear out sooner! It can't all be rinsed out, even in hottest water!
ORDINARY CLEAN
Surf makes no scum, takes out any left from earlier washings! Fabrics stay strong! Washes are whiter, brighter, SWEETER! ... "Surf-clean!"
"SURF-CLEAN"
HIGHLY MAGNIFIED PHOTOS

NOW . . . get your washes whiter, brighter than they've ever been before!
You can—with SURF!
But that's only half the story! You get sweeter washes, too! Washes that have that fresh-air-fresh, blown-in-the-sun sweetness . . . even if you have to dry them indoors!
Here's how! Here's what Surf does:
1. Dissolves clinging, greasy dirt . . . floats it out in a flash!
2. Banishes dirty soap scum.
3. Removes germs. Makes your washes sanitary. Deodorizes them.
Surf does it in any water. Hard, cold. Hard water's like rainwater to quick, long-lasting Surf suds!
Best of all, with Surf you can wash everything—with one product! Your heaviest, greasiest overalls, dirty play clothes. Your fine things . . . stockings, underthings, dresses, and your softest woolens, too.
And they all come out cleaner, sweeter. The cleanest washes you'll see on the line! And—the "savingest!" Ounce for ounce, Surf does three times the work of leading laundry soaps in hardest water.
So try Surf. Find out why it has outstripped every washing product introduced in Canada in years.
Don't use anything else for your washing. Let Surf get it cleaner, make it sweeter, carry you through washday on the crest of the wave.
Look for the attractive blue box at your grocer's.

Chinese Problem Likely Provoke A Long Debate

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Sept. 16 (CP) — The Chinese and Stalin-Tito situations loomed today as the international problems which might provoke the noisiest and longest debates at the United Nations fourth General Assembly.

There were reports that both questions would be brought before the 59-country meeting opening next Tuesday at Flushing, Meadow, N.Y. but no delegation ...fering in the internal affairs of China by aiding the Chinese Communists.

2. The Chinese Communists might seek representation at the United Nations.

UN officials said the question of Chinese representation would have to be faced some time. But they expressed hope the question could be postponed until East-West tension eases.

The rift between Marshal Tito and the Cominform, was viewed as a part of the tender Balkan situation. The Assembly would not be surprised if these events were brought to its attention: Massing of Russian troops on Yugoslavia's border and Greece's implied threat to invade Albania if Greek Communist attacks are renewed.

These were the problems which officials feared might throw a monkey wrench into the Assembly machinery which was scheduled to run for 10 or 11 weeks.

The biggest job definitely scheduled for the session was to wind up old business. Chances of cleaning up some of the problems were believed good.

"Y" Offers Boys 16 Courses

Classes for the Boys' Section of the YMCA start Saturday, October 1, Donald Duncan, Boys' Work Secretary of the YMCA said Thursday. The membership campaign starts this Saturday morning at the YMCA.

As last year, the boys will be divided into four groups, the intermediates (14 to 16 years), juveniles (10 and 11 years), juniors (12 and 13 years), and the pioneers (8 and 9 years).

On the back of the application form this year the YMCA lists 16 items which the boys will check off. The YMCA will then be more easily able to assess the most popular interests. Some of the items are: art, leather work, model building, moulding, photography, public speaking, swimming, table tennis and woodworking.

Mr. Duncan said he would like to see a number of boys interested in the new part of the program, the public speaking. Moulding and photography were popular with the boys last year.

The Boys' Department has taken on the "new look," said Mr. Duncan. During the summer the boys' lobby, situated in the northeast corner of the building was enlarged and redecorated.

Al Clark, YMCA physical director, will head the gym program while Gord Minty will be conducting swimming classes. Mr. Duncan is head of the entire boys' program.

VISITORS TO PETERBOROUGH

Peterborough visitors to Peterborough, England this summer included Mrs. Edythe Addyman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dainton, and Mrs. Groombridge. Information to this effect has been received by Mayor Swanston from Mayor Hall. Another visitor to the town hall was Mr. Marani of Toronto, of the firm of Marani and Morris, architects of Peterborough's city hall. An interesting booklet about Peterborough, with emphasis on its industries, has also come to Mayor Swanston.

Little Olympics Feature Events For Girls

The Little Olympics, the annual track and field meet for pupils of the public and separate schools of Peterborough, will be held Saturday, October 1, at 1 p.m. This athletic meet is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough.

Boys and girls will be divided into three ...ups, senior, inter... to championship winners in each of the boys' groups.

The junior boys have five events. There is the 50-yard dash, the 220-yard run, the running high jump, running broad pump and the standing broad jumps. The intermediates have the same jumps but have a 75-yard dash and a 440-yard run. With the three jumps the seniors also have a 100-yard dash and a 880-yard run.

Last year the 50-yard dash was the only event in each girls' group.

This year two more events have been added, a running broad jump and a running high jump.

Main feature of the Little Olympics will be the relay races. The teams last year led the parade from the drill hall to the grandstand and the same plan is expected this year. Each school may have a relay team in each group of the boys and girls. Last year there were nine relay teams in one race.

Al Clark, chairman of the Olympics, said that over 250 pupils took part in the track and field events last year. He expects about 300 to 350 pupils to participate in October.

Entry forms will be sent to all schools in the city and to last year's competitors. All the forms must be returned to Al Clark, Physical Director at the YMCA.

Many Attend Burial Of Jeremiah Dwyer

Many old-time acquaintances attended the funeral of the late Jeremiah Dwyer, 75-year resident of Douro township, from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alphonsus Condon, Lot 12, Concession 4, Douro, on Wednesday morning. Requiem Mass was said at St. Joseph's church by the Rev. J. J. McCarthy; the Rev. C. J. Carrol of Norwood was in the Sanctuary, and both fathers conducted the graveside services. Pallbearers were Leo Murphy, Richard Heffernan, Leo and Robert Leahy, Adelard Vinette and Charles Condon. Burial was at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Dwyer died in Peterborough on Monday after a short illness. He was born in Douro, son of the late John Dwyer and Elizabeth Hayes, and came to the city three years ago. His wife, the former Margaret Casey, died several years ago.

Child Hit By Car Going Home For Lunch

Hit by a car on her way home for lunch today, a public school girl, Mary Leason, Barnardo Ave., was taken to the Clinic.

Driver of the car Louis O'Coyne, 238 Barnardo Ave., said he was driving north along Barnardo near Queen Elizabeth School. A group of children passed in front of his car. Then Mary Leason doubled back in front of the car and she was hit by the front bumper.

The front wheel of the car ran over her. After treatment she was released and went home. Constable D. S. Mackay investigated.

Two Liquor Charges Result In $65 Fine

Convictions on a second offence under the Liquor Control Act and another intoxication offence added up to a $65 bill for William Hagerman in police court Thursday.

When he appeared Wednesday morning and was remanded a day, he said he had lots of money to pay his fine.

His previous conviction on the charge of being drunk Sept. 13, was being a found-in Aug. 22, for which he served 15 days in jail. Sept. 8 he was picked up on a charge of being drunk. When he failed to appear in answer to the charge Sept. 12, a warrant was ...d for his arrest and he was ...ked up ...

Pleading guilty to leaving the scene of an accident, Lawrence Fontaine, 146 Aylmer St., was fined $25 and costs in police court Thursday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw told the court Fontaine had driven into the rear of another car at the corner of Hunter and Water Sts. the night of Sept. 4. When the drivers had unlocked bumpers, they agreed to pull around the corner out of the way to talk it over.

Instead of following the other car around, Fontaine had shot his car west along Hunter St. If an independent witness had not seen the license plate, he would have got away with it, the crown attorney said.

Grumble About Health Service But Few Britons Would Scrap It

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Sept. 16 (CP) — Britain's "free" health service is like a nasty medicine — people grumble about it, but most of them feel it's for their own good.

In other words, though national health gets more kicks than kisses, only a minority would vote to scrap it.

The general conception of a state service is approved by all of Britain's major political parties. The Labor government introduced it—too quickly, some say—July 5, 1948, but Conservatives and Liberals claim credit ...

...all tales are ... or doctors summoned from sanatoria to treat sunburn cases, ambulances called to deal with harmless drunks, and whole families cluttering up consulting rooms.

Growing Pains

Supporters of state medicine argue that these are just growing pains. They say that while the service isn't perfect yet, it's the biggest boon ordinary people ever had.

Removal of the economic factor from serious illness is considered to have brought psychological as well as financial benefits.

Yet many professional men oppose the service. Their attitudes range from contempt to mild indifference. Some sum up their views in the sentence: "You can't legislate for human suffering."

Perhaps the most general complaint is that the old doctor-patient relationship has been destroyed.

First of all, medical treatment is free in the sense that nobody has to meet doctors' or hospital bills. The state, instead of the individual, pays for everything from advice on infant feeding to specialist service for spinal disorders. But the state, of course, gets its money from the taxpayers.

Everyone is entitled to a range of services including mental care, blood transfusions, iron lungs, artificial limbs, massage, midwifery service, convalescent treatment, home nursing, special foods hearing aids, wigs, spectacles and false teeth.

There are no strings attached—except that sometimes special equipment may not be available, or the patient may have to wait.

Synod Decides To Continue

The ... General Synod of the Church of England voted Thursday to continue talks with the United Church of Canada on reunion of Christian churches.

This recommendation was contained in the report of a Synod committee. The committee was established in 1943 when the Toronto Synod invited "any Christian communions which share its hopes and aspirations" to confer on the question. Favorable replies were received from the Presbyterian, Baptist and United churches but no report on progress in talks with the first two groups was available.

However, the reunion committee report said: "It is obvious that further steps should be taken to arouse a more general interest in this matter among both clergy and laity . . ." The committee declared the Synod should re-affirm its view that "organic union" is the final goal. This view was also supported by the United Church.

"Your committee . . . recommends that the conversations with . . . the United Church of Canada be continued and the various problems . . . be faced as fully and frankly as possible. Some of these such as form of ministry will have to be dealt with, in the main, by the United Church."

Anglicans must decide how far the Bishop's authority could be combined with the United Church system.

180 DEAD ON NORONIC

Panic Reigns As Fire Engulfs Ship

Report Men Push Women Out Of Way In Rush To Safety

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP)—A mad story of confused flight to safety has been pieced together from the stories of survivors of the ill-fated C.S.L. passenger ship Noronic which became a flaming inferno in Toronto harbor early this morning. Latest reports indicate the death toll may reach 180.

Peter Sage of Hull, Que., a deckhand on the Noronic, said he groped his way through the smoke-filled engine room and helped upwards of 100 Noronic passengers to reach the Cayuga, a Toronto - Niagara passenger steamship, moored alongside the Noronic. With her bow ablaze—Sage and Cayuga crew members soon put out that fire with hoselines—the Cayuga moved out into the harbor, where she remained until danger of the fire spreading to other vessels in the area appeared past.

Salma Darkpen from Montreal, said she slid down a rope and injured her right hand. With the hand bandaged by a first-aid worker, Miss Darkpen, clad in brown-and-white checked slacks, a pink sweater and blue jacket, remained for more than an hour in the steamship company offices at the pier to watch the firefighting.

Protect Kingston

Hoselines were played on the passenger ship Kingston, another C.S.L. vessel, at the opposite side of the Noronic's pier. When the Kingston's hull and decks were watersoaked, hose crews turned back to the task of battling the Noronic blaze. However, since the night was calm, the fire never seriously threatened to spread to the Kingston.

SCORES LOST THEIR LIVES when the Canada Steamship Lines Noronic was burned as it was tied up at its pier in Toronto early today. With 690 passengers and crew on board, the boat was on a cruise from Detroit to the Thousand Islands and return and had put into Toronto for overnight. The Noronic is shown above steaming out to open water under the world-famous aerial bridge at Duluth, Michigan.

Strikers Told Plant To Move

GUELPH, Sept. 17— (CP). — Leland Electric (Canada) plans to move out of Guelph, the firm's president, Ernest G. Robertson, said Friday night.

The company closed the gates of its plant Friday, three days after member of the United Electrical Workers (CIO) started a strike over contract demands. The union seeks wage increases and a 40-hour week.

The 300 employees were told Thursday by a company official that if they did not return to work Thursday afternoon, the gates would be closed Friday and would remain closed indefinitely. None returned.

"This seals it off," Mr. Robertson said. "There will be no further negotiations."

Coal Strike Feared Across Entire U.S.A.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP) —The danger of a country-wide coal strike in the United States mounted today but hopes brightened for averting a steel strike.

The 400,000 coal miners are expected to stay away from the pits next Monday because their welfare fund's trustees, headed by Union President John L. Lewis, have voted to suspend pension and other benefit payments.

This action was taken Friday at a stormy five-hour meeting of the fund's three trustees. The reason was that the fund was fast running out of money. Many coal operators, because their contracts with Lewis have lapsed, have refused to continue paying their 20c-a-ton royalty to the fund.

The trustees' meeting was followed by the sudden resignation of the operators' trustee, Ezra Van Horn.

Clubs Daughter Man With Gun Hunted By Police

ALLISTON, Sept. 17 (CP) — A dozen armed police officers are waiting for shotgun-toting Vincent Santoro, 59-year-old railway section foreman, to come out of hiding.

They have been looking for him since early Friday when, police say, he threatened his wife and clubbed an 18-year-old daughter over the head with the butt of his gun.

Terrified residents of this Simcoe County town 42 miles north of Toronto barricaded their doors Friday night, fearing that Santoro, who is said to have defied four police officers to take him to jail, would come out of his hiding place in nearby bush or marshlands.

Police kept an all-night vigil at Santoro's home, the Canadian Pacific Railway station and the railway lines on which Santoro has worked most of his life. They watched other sections of the town as well.

Santoro's wife told police that following an argument, Santoro, carrying his shotgun and a length of rope, entered a bedroom and made threats. A daughter, Grace, 18, said she was struck when she tried to intervene in the quarrel between her parents.

Captain Ignores Flames Helping People To Safety

TORONTO, Sept. 17—(CP)—Huddled in hospital corridors and the lobby of a downtown hotel, burned and hysterical passengers of the Noronic told today of a night of horror and heroism in which they were hauled or scrambled from the burning ship. For a half-hour after flames enveloped his ship, Capt. William Taylor was still standing in the bows, throwing ropes to passengers clambering over the side. As he was being taken ashore on a fireman's ladder the ladder broke and he fell into the icy bay and had to be pulled out.

Passengers said that before the Captain left the ship he burst in cabin doors, hauling women out on deck.

Lucille Roberts of Detroit said she saw a man on an upper deck surrounded by flames.

"As I watched the flames licked around him and you could hear him scream the last time. Then he disappeared."

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Orth of Detroit huddled in a waiting room scanning stretchers as they were brought ashore.

Mrs. Orth rushed suddenly to the door.

"There's one of them," she shouted. On the stretcher was her sister, Irene. After Irene was put in an ambulance Mrs. Orth wait-

1847 Ship Fire Greatest Toll

By The Canadian Press.

Loss of possibly 180 lives in today's fire aboard the steamship Noronic in Toronto Harbor is the biggest death toll from fire on the Great Lakes in more than a century. In 1847, the steamship Phoenix burned in Lake Michigan with the loss of 247 lives

A Canadian Press compilation of other major ship fires on the Great Lakes since 1823 follows:

June 16, 1823—The steamship Washington burned off Dunkirk, NY, Lake Erie, 30 dead.

August 9, 1841—Steamship Erie burned off Silver Creek, NY, Lake Erie, 175 dead.

November 21, 1847—Steamship Phoenix burned in Lake Michigan, 245 dead.

June 18, 1850—Steamship Griffith burned in Lake Erie, 94 dead.

April 29, 1943 — Fishing tug Marjon S burned after gasoline explosion, three dead.

July 27, 1943 — Canadian oil tanker Bruce Hudson exploded at Chicago, Lake Michigan, four dead.

July 17, 1945—Steamship Hamonic, sister ship of Noronic, burned, one dead.

Hunch Leads Canadian To Richest Diamond Strike

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP) — A fabulous Canadian geologist, Dr. John T. Williamson, held the first press conference in his 42 years Friday and told reporters that he came upon the richest diamond strike in the world because "it just occurred to me."

Visibly embarrassed in front of a battery of microphones, relays of newspaper photographers and 40 reporters in a Montreal hotel salon, he said in almost a whisper that he could not "give a figure" on his wealth, estimated between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Born at Montford, near Lachute in Quebec's Laurentians, he studied geology at McGill University in Montreal and prospected for gold in northwestern Quebec. In 1934 he went to South Africa to do the same kind of work.

Usually publicity-shunning, he said he felt "quite pleased" when in 1940 he discovered in Tanganyika the diamond "pipe" which made him one of the world's wealthiest men.

Three weeks ago he came back to Canada "to have a holiday, see relatives, get his teeth fixed and get a new suit." The suit, a grey chalk-stripe flannel he wore at the interview Friday. He wore no diamonds—"I sell 'em! I don't wear 'em."

He told of the operations of his diamond mine where he employs nearly 5,000 and has a policeman watching each of his diamond sorters—"I watch each of the policemen myself."

Italian Plane Overdue Army Begins Search

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP).—On Army search plane took off early today from Westover, Mass. to hunt a small, single-engine plane, four hours overdue on a 2,000-mile non-stop flight from the Azores.

The missing aircraft's radio went dead early Friday night when it was about 500 miles east of New York. It was expected here at 4:30 a.m. EDT.

The light plane, flown by two Italians, took off from the Azores with about 29 hours of fuel on board, sufficient to keep it aloft under normal flying conditions until about 10 a.m.

Woman Dies Police Hold Hockey Star

Tony Demers Admits Striking Companion At Drinking Party

MAGOG, Que., Sept. 17 (CP)—Tony Demers, former National Hockey League player, will appear before a coroner's court inquest here Monday in connection with the death of a 32-year-old married woman.

Provincial police are holding the 32-year-old hockey player as a material witness in the case.

The woman, Mrs. Anita Robert of Coaticook, Que., died in hospital here Friday following what police described as a drinking party with Demers.

Hospital authorities said Mrs. Robert was unconscious when she was brought there by Demers and an unidentified friend. They said she appeared to have suffered a severe beating.

Magog police took Demers into custody shortly after the woman died.

A resident of Sherbrooke, 25 miles from here, Demers was a member of Sherbrooke Saints of the Quebec Senior Hockey League for the last two years. Last season he was awarded the Vimy Trophy given to the player judged the most "gentlemanly" during the regular season.

Strikes Woman

Police said Demers told them this story:

He and Mrs. Robert left Coaticook in his car Wednesday night and drank at several places in the Magog district. An argument arose while they were driving toward Magog and he struck her.

They were outside the car and she refused to get back into it. Demers put her in the back seat, got in the front seat himself and fell asleep.

He awoke at daylight and saw she was unconscious. He drove to a friend's cottage on Lake Magog. He and his friend attempted to revive her and then took her to hospital.

Police said that Demers appeared "shocked" when taken into custody by Magog police chief Telesphore Lavoie. He did not know the woman was dead "until I told him so," said Chief Lavoie. Mrs. Robert died at 2.30 p.m. Friday.

Demers played his first term in the NHL during the 1939-40 season with Montreal Canadiens.

He drew a 10-game suspension applicable this season, for playing under an assumed name just before the end of last season. His identity was discovered during an intermediate Quebec Amateur Hockey Association playoff game at Rigaud, Que.

Play Possum Escape Bear

TISDALE, Sask., Sept. 17 (CP) —Two near-by Brooksby residents, Stephen Syniuk and Michael Klack, are recovering today in hospital here after being mauled and chewed by a bear they estimated weighed about 700 pounds.

They said they were stooking Wednesday when the saw the bear crossing the field toward a pasture where Klack's 8-year-old brother was herding cows.

They raced home in a car, took the only weapons available—pitchfork and a shotgun—and went after the bear.

Coming face to face with the bear, Syniuk discharged the gun, hitting the animal in the face. The bear charged and knocked him down. Syniuk picked up his fallen gun and wounded the bear in the shoulder.

The bear swung on Syniuk, and Klack attacked him with the pitchfork. One of the prongs pierced the animals back and broke off.

The bear then knocked down both men, mauled and chewed them.

Klack said he remembered stories of bears ignoring persons who lie still. He laid still as the bear sprawled over him and finally the bear went away.

Hundreds Leap Into Harbor, Slide Down Ropes From Burning Cruise Vessel

Flash Fire Spreads Through Whole Ship In Seconds As 517 Passengers Asleep In Cabins On Boat Tied Up For Night Beside Toronto Dock

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP)—The worst ship-fire in a century on the Great Lakes gutted the cruise-ship Noronic at its dock in downtown Toronto early today and made its sunken hull the tomb of possibly 180 dead. As he set up an emergency morgue in the horticultural building of the Canadian National Exhibition, Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson estimated dead at 146 in the blaze which started in a C-deck. Canada Steamship Lines officials, checking on a list of passengers and crew not released to the press, said at 10.30 a.m. that 226 passengers, firemen and crew were unaccounted for. But they stated this figure would be reduced as unlisted survivors turned up. C.S.L. officials said their solicitor advised them not to release the lists until all were accounted for and next-of-kin notified. The task of tracing the 682 persons aboard the Noronic on her last cruise of a busy tourist season promised to extend for days.

J. R. Beck, assistant general transport agent for C.S.L. said 512 passengers—mostly from Cleveland, Detroit and other U.S. cities—were aboard with 170 crew.

The flame-driven panic of the blaze first reported at 2:38 a.m. drove passengers into companionways but many burned in their bunks. For four hours after they were able to board the smoking debris-filled hull firemen hauled out burned and broken bodies wrapped them in tarpaulins—sometimes three or four at a time—and sent them by police car to the morgue.

But the deck where the fire started—one below the main deck—was submerged when the 6,900-ton, 36-year-old ship settled by the stern to the bottom of the slip where she had docked at 6 p.m. Friday en route to the Thousand Islands.

MINGLE WITH CROWD

Hundreds aboard escaped by leaping to the dock on the edge of Toronto's downtown, by swarming down guy ropes or by leaping into the slip alongside. Rescued, they mingled in the mob of bystanders gathered in the smoke-filled flame-shot darkness and disappeared to hotels boarding-houses or homes of friends. It was certain that many listed as missing would turn up later.

Reporters accompanied fire officials through the charred ruins of all four decks. Everywhere he said were bodies burned black. Of some only the skulls remain.

"As the search party came aboard on C deck we found the remains of two bodies pressed against the port rail" he said. "These two victims actually had their hands on the rail and were probably preparing to jump when trapped by flames".

The heaviest toll was in A and B deck staterooms On A deck there were at least 30 bodies. They were still lying on the fire-stripped springs of the bunks indicating they died in bed.

SEARCH ONLY BEGINNING

Eight hours after the first alarm at 2:38 a.m. signalled the start of a wild, flame-lashed panic, more than 80 broken and burned bodies had been recovered But the search covered only the main deck and scores more bodies were believed packed in the submerged rotunda of the lower deck.

Fire Chief Hurd said it might be days before the "many bodies" in the ship below the water line could be recovered. It would be necessary to pump out the ship.

Medical attention, food shelter and clothing were provided by the Canadian Red Cross Society to survivors.

National headquarters reported they were being flooded with telephone calls from anxious relatives in the United States and Ontario enquiring about survivors.

A central registry for all personnel aboard the ship was established in a downtown hotel. Headquarters were compiling a list of the survivors a Red Cross official said.

Treated For Injuries

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — There is no complete list of casualties in the Noronic disaster but the following is a partial list of those treated for injuries at hospital.

Officials at St. Michael's Hospital said 14 persons were taken to the operating room. Extent of their injuries was not known. They were identified as:

Herbert and Ethel Connell, Twinsbury, O.; Beatrice Clapperton, Chester, W. Va.; Myrtle Piper, Pittsburgh (no state); Kathleen Rottgen, Cleveland; Harold Anderson, Kayogh Falls, O.; Audrey Myers, Baltimore, O.; Hilda Beck, Detroit; Otto Clein, Detroit; June Black, 639 57th St. W., Philadelphia; Lucy Strain, Tipin, O.; George Harshman (no address); Charles Williamson (no hometown), Ohio; Kathleen Kerr (no address).

Later officials at St. Michael's Hospital listed 49 other persons, treated for less serious injuries. They were:

Gordon Alves, Cleveland; Arthur Alves, Cleveland; Marie Beaulac, 120 North Vital St., Sarnia; Mildrette Briggs, Detroit; Sylvia Carpenter, Detroit; Mrs. George Clapperton, Chester, W. Va.; Laura Ellingham, 430 South Russell Street, Sarnia; Mrs. Ellahike, Hazel Park, Mich.; Myrtle Fifthier, Pittsburgh; Goldeen Esch, Akron; Mrs. N. T. RCAF Moving Day Begins Two Units Racing Time

OTTAWA, Sept. 17—(CP) — RCAF transport squadrons in Edmonton and Montreal buzzed with activity Friday night as the units raced against time and against each other to exchange positions.

It was the first stage of "operation mobility", a surprise exercise demanding that each unit pack up and move headquarters across the country, unpack and be fully operational at the other station by 8 a.m. local time Monday.

No. 426 squadron at Dorval, Que., will have to move its eight North Star aircraft to Edmonton in 68 hours. No. 435, in Edmonton, has the same length of time to get seven Dakotas to Dorval. They'll take no fuel or food supplies, but must cart along enough technical stores and personnel to maintain the aircraft on operations for a fortnight. After the fortnight, they fly back.

The trigger for the operation was pulled at Rockcliffe at noon Friday by 42-year-old Air Commodore A. D. Ross, boss of the RCAF's four transport and two photo squadrons. It was presumably a complete surprise to officers commanding the two stations, although they had been warned to be prepared to be mobile.

Air Commodore Ross, who formerly commanded the RCAF staff college in Toronto, is one of the air force's few George Cross winners. He lost his right arm below the elbow rescuing a tail gunner and pilot from the flaming wreck of a night bomber which crashed into a bomb-laden plane in England. Overseas, he commanded No. 62 bombing base.

He launched the Edmonton-Montreal exercise with simultaneous signals to the heads of the two stations, Wing Cmdr. C. H. Mussels, of Montreal, commander of No. 426 Squadron, and Wing Cmdr. W. F. Parks of Regina, commander at Edmonton.

Hungarian Army Chief Plotted Assassination

BUDAPEST, Sept. 17 (AP) — Gen. Gyorgy Palffy, former chief inspector of the Hungarian army, confessed in court today that he and his co-defendants had plotted to assassinate Hungary's top government officials last May.

He said the planned putsch failed because the government arrested Laszlo Rajk, former Communist Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister of the Interior.

Rajk admitted his guilt on the stand Friday.

Palffy said the plot had Yugoslav help, and after the planned assassinations, the plotters would have seized the country.

The General, No. 2 defendant in the treason trial here, took the stand and, as Rajk did Friday, pleaded guilty and then embarked on a long public confession.

Hundreds Leap

Two women taken to hospital were dead — Mrs. Eunice Deitrich of Cleveland and Blanche Farragher, Youngstown, O.

The usually large list of passengers—virtually all Americans—had boarded the Noronic for her last cruise of the year. She put in to Toronto Friday night from Detroit and Cleveland and was due out this morning for Prescott and the Thousand Islands. Then she was to return to tie up at Sarnia for the winter. Only about 20 Canadian passengers were aboard.

Fifty firemen worked with pike-pole and shovel in the [illegible] industry minum trays. Sometimes the [illegible] parcel contained three or four bodies, sometimes only broken parts of several. The tarpaulined remains were transferred to the dock and loaded into police cars for the morgue.

An hour after the firemen were able to go aboard the ship at 7.40 a.m., in their search for bodies, it was decided that the coroner's office could not accommodate the recovered remains. Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson arranged to set up a morgue at the horticultural building of the Canadian National Exhibition.

The futility of estimating accurately the death toll was reflected in the task of life-guards in rowboats, dragging the waters of the slip and poking poles through shattered portholes into submerged cabins and lounges.

After three hours search through the shambles of the saloon lounge on the main deck, firemen believed they had recovered more than 50 bodies. They pressed their work toward the stern, settled to the bottom of the slip. It would be some time before they would be able to examine the submerged rotunda of the lower deck, where many passengers would have rushed to escape.

SPREADS IN 3 MINUTES

While cause of the blaze was not known, firemen said they had established that it started in stateroom No. 462 on the starboard side of the vessel, two cabins aft of the cocktail bar. The fire swept rapidly from the cocktail bar, aft on C-deck and within three minutes the entire deck was in flames.

First alarm was believed sent in by Dan Harper, security officer on the C.S.L. property. He had been warned by the chief security officer to be particularly vigilant because there was a large party aboard the Noronic. He saw "a glimmer of fire near the stern" and ran to the pier office to phone the fire department and police. Not two minutes later, he reported, the whole ship seemed afire.

Some passengers said they heard no alarm sounded; others said the ship's fire-bell was rung and the whistle gave a short blast, then blew continuously.

Across the Queen's Quay roadway from the ship settled by the stern to the bottom of the slip, police held back a crowd of onlookers, which dwindled at dawn to about 1,000 after having packed the pier during the height of the rescue efforts, increased after daylight. The bow of the fire-scarred hull pointed to the city with the name Noronic ironically almost unblemished and with wreckage and ruin on all sides. The bridge and other parts of the superstructure had vanished but the two masts stood, the forward crowsnest flame-singed.

Inside on the main deck, firemen groped through debris, blackened wreckage which looked like a burning coke-pile with flickering candle-rows of flame. The gentle west wind had blown away almost all the heavy smoke and steam which for hours shrouded the wreck, but a haze hung over the scene.

Alongside, the slip was filled with bobbing life-belts and a couple of duffle-bags fitted nearby. Life-guards dragged from a rowboat for bodies of any who might have drowned as scores jumped overboard or slid down ship's ropes in the darkened confusion when the fire was first discovered.

Can't Explain Outbreak

Fire officials standing on the pier littered with life-belts and debris, were still unable to explain the cause of the outbreak. They concentrated on the task of recovering bodies as ambulances lined up alongside with white-coated attendants beside wheeled stretchers.

The Noronic whose sister ship the Hamonic was wrecked by fire with the loss of one life near Sarnia in 1945, lay in the slip with her main deck almost in the water. The wooden super-structure of the two upper decks was burned away and the ship's skeleton was buckled in at least two places. Steel lifeboats on the starboard side of the upper deck alongside the pier were crumpled like wet paper. While the search for bodies went on, two dozen hoses played on the vessel amidships, where the boilers are located.

Nearly All Americans

All but 20 of the passengers were Americans. The Noronic reached Toronto at 6 p.m. Friday from Cleveland and Detroit. In addition to passengers, the crew numbered 180.

The ship's master, Capt. William Taylor of Sarnia, personally helped awaken many of the passengers. With W. R. Brown of Port Arthur, a special officer for the line, he smashed in cabin doors and carried at least one woman passenger to safety. Crew members said the captain leaped over the bow, as flames and smoke closed over the vessel. Later, he was reported in a state of severe shock and in no condition to talk to reporters.

Hear Flames

Many of the passengers, awakened by the roar of flames, smashed portholes and climbed through them to reach the deck. Dozens of them were cut about the head and shoulders by jagged fragments of glass which clung to the porthole frames. When they reached safety, they were blood-smeared and semi-hysterical.

From the railing of the upper decks, some passengers still in night attire plunged into the harbor. Firemen, police and pier men worked in the smoky flame-ripped darkness to haul them to safety.

Other passengers swarmed down the Noronic's mooring lines to the cement pier. Most of them were treated for rope burns to their hands.

Attracted by fire sirens smoke and flames hundreds of by-standers crowded to the pier from downtown streets. Many drove cars almost to the side of the blazing ship. At 5.30 a.m. police began pushing the crowds back across the wide avenue skirting the harbor. Word spread through the crowd that firemen feared the boilers might explode.

At that time the entire inside of the ship appeared to be still burning.

Twenty-five to 30 hoses were being played on the ship resting on the bottom of the slip. Two hoses were being directed from aerial ladders. Two fire boats turned their hoses on the ship from the west side.

Panic Reigns

The freighter Fernie, also owned by the C.S.L. lay at another nearby pier, close enough for the glow of the flames to light up her decks.

Al Lundgren of Montreal, bar manager aboard, tried to reach the bar to save the cash in his bar receipts. He was forced back by flames and leaped from the bow to the pier.

Leo Carey of Fort Erie, a member of the crew, jumped naked over the rail and said "That was the closest call I want to have."

Jim Williams of Winnipeg, one of the pantry staffs, escaped down a back ladder and said: "I'm told all the deckhands escaped safely. Nobody knows for sure where the fire started but some of the crew say it broke out on the promenade deck."

Passengers who reached the pier uninjured dashed to the four telephone booths in the steamship company offices to let relatives know they were safe. Some were shaking from the effects of shock while they placed their long-distance calls.

Still In Night Clothes

Many, still in pyjamas and dressing gowns or wearing whatever clothing they could put on in their haste, waited on benches in the pier offices until hotel accommodation was found for them. Husbands comforted wives brought to the brink of hysteria by shock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner and Mrs. William Houdley of Youngstown, O., said they heard a cry of "fire" and rushed out of their cabins. "We went to the front of the ship where the Toronto firemen found us and took us off."

Miss Bridge Hayes, a waitress from Newfoundland, said that five minutes before the blaze broke out she walked through the vessel's engine room. "There was no sign of fire there. I went up to my cabin. Then I heard yells. When I came out I saw the fire and leaped into the water. I can't swim and I haven't the least idea how I got out of the water."

By-standers said that Toronto police Constable John Anderson jumped off the dock and saved 12 to 15 persons. They had leaped into the water to escape the flames and were too weak to grasp ropes and lifebuoys tossed to them from the dock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clayton of Cleveland said they awakened suddenly when water from a fire hose came through their open porthole. "People were jumping and shouting as if it were a party," said Mr. Clayton.

Flames Gush Out

Two crew members of the S.S. Kingston, docked beside the Noronic, said they spotted fire at [illegible] from a moonlight cruise aboard the Cayuga shortly before the Noronic fire broke out, said they were among the first to see the vessel burst into flames.

"The fire seemed to shoot through the back part of the Noronic all of a sudden," James said. "Within two minutes, about two-thirds of the ship seemed to be engulfed in flames. We watched people sliding down the ropes and jumping into the water, many of them covered with blood."

The alarm was given by a dock policeman, Don Hamper.

Among the survivors were the following crew members: James Williams, Winnipeg; Bruce Forsythe, Saint John, N.B.; Fred Dunham, Bay's River, N.S.; Lorne Pettit, Port Arthur; Edward Paquette, Hamilton.

Fire In Stateroom?

Earl E. Boettger, of Cleveland, said he thought the fire started in a stateroom only a couple of doors from his own on deck the third deck down from the top. He said after treatment at St. Michael's Hospital: "We smelled smoke. My wife and I went out on the deck and I found a rope ladder. I helped some of the others, especially the women, to get off and then went down myself."

Mildred Briggs, of Detroit, said she thought at first someone was joking when she heard the cries of fire. "I know there was sometimes a little rowdyism on board. But I couldn't figure how anyone could be so stupid." She said this was the 13th year she and a group of friends had made the excursion trip.

Miss Briggs said the flames spread almost as if the ship was a matchbox. 'The fire just welled up along the corridors and spread faster than any fire I've ever seen," she said. She praised heroic work by crew members, notably the ship's officers, in maintaining a semblance of calm and order.

Another Suggestion

J. Donald Church, of Silver Lake, Ohio, described by fellow passengers as one of the heroes, said he thinks the fire started in a laundry cupboard near the bar. He went out in a rowboat to pick up three men struggling in the water and got them close to the dock before the boat capsized.

'I was having a late drink in the bar," Church said. 'Somebody noticed flames coming out of a little laundry cupboard not far away. I called for someone to come from the purser's deck. A crewman came up with a carbon tetrachloride extinguisher.

"Meanwhile another crewman and I dragged a big fire hose about 20 feet to the fire. It was turned on but just a few drops of water trickled out."

Sylvia Carpenter of Detroit saw smoke and flame billowing along the passageways. She screamed and headed for the outside rail.

Men Push Women Aside

"Someone had thrown a rope ladder over the dockside but it was all tangled up," said Sylvia. "A rope was tossed over the rail and I put a hitch knot on it to hold it to a stanchion. As I did so three men pushed in front of me and shoved some screaming women out of the way. They went down the rope."

Alberta Agla of Detroit said there was panic on the deck when she reached it.

There was a mob and men and women surging back and forth." Men were pushing women around and many were knocked to the floor. The screaming filled the air. There was so much panic that I don't know how these people got segregated to find a way to safety. I slid down a rope."

Henry Maurer of Mentor, O., and his wife Elmina, escaped in their night clothes. "We were sound asleep, when someone pounded on the door," said Mr. Maurer.

Reach Dock

'We didn't have time to get anything out of the room. Smoke was pouring in and my wife and I reached the outside rail. I saw Elmina start down a ladder but it became horribly twisted from so many trying to get on it. She got tangled and trapped. I swung down a rope to her side and got her free and we both managed to get to the dock."

Thirty-two persons had joined the cruise from Akron, O. at 5 a.m. today, they assembled in a downtown hotel and found that all were alive and safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sharrock, Galion, O., and Mrs. Amelia Guiney, Mrs. Sharrock's mother, had sailed to Port Arthur on the cruise. Wearing a gabardine jacket which had several large stains of blood, Sharrock told of his escape. "I can't remember just how I got off," he said. "We heard people shouting and we awoke and got out as fast as we could. The blood on my jacket came from a woman I took to the hospital.

One crew member, Robert Bidger of Toronto, was also treated for minor injuries.

Thirty-seven persons were admitted to General Hospital, most of them with minor burns. Most seriously injured was Mrs. Louise Dusten but her condition was not critical. A crew member, George Wylie, suffered minor burns and a slight head injury. Three-year-old Stephen Gasper of Dearborn, Mich., was treated for smoke injuries and burns.

Hospital officials said the following persons were treated:

Mrs. Louise Gasper, Dearborn, Mich.; Leo Carri, Fort William, Ont.; Katherine Johnston, Toronto; Athale Murray, Toronto; Jack Bailey, East Denden, Mich.; Bernice McClelland, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Chalsant, Cleveland; Kenneth and Jane Meiser, Toledo, O.; Dr. Coan, Cleveland; Sydney Butcher, Windsor; Ada Roberts, Detroit.

George Kops, Cleveland; Grace Tuffley, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Dor Klein, Detroit; Edna Hobson, Pittsburgh; Al Lindgen, Montreal; Thomas Young, Thorold, Ont; Ydia Klink, Buffalo, NY; Harry Phifer, Pittsburgh; Matt Hackman, Connington Ky.; Dora Dreso Manitoulin Island, Ont.; Ada Spry, Manitoulin Island; George Smith, Forest, Ont.; Mrs. Howard Kunz, Cleveland.

Two members of the crew were among the injured: Lloyd Martin, St. Eustache, Que., and Jack Braugh, East Corunna, Ont.

Other persons admitted to the General Hospital, but not fully identified, were: Mrs. Salsand, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Orth; Mrs. Elizabeth Butcher; Frank La Rase; Mrs. Mary Macpherson; Frances Friedman.

Hear Shouting

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stover of Sombra, near Sarnia, said they were wakened by the shouting.

"We went hand-over-hand along a hawser from the ship to the shore," Mrs. Stover said.

Some passengers were dazed as they came ashore.

Mrs. Jennie Bell of Cleveland asked for a nickel to call Florida 8980. Told there was no such teleprone exchange in Toronto, she said: "Toronto? Isn't this Cleveland? How did I get here?"

In a downtown hotel lobby Mrs. Joel Bailey of Kalamazoo, Mich., [illegible] her husband, [illegible] happened to [illegible] afraid he didn't get out of the room. I wish I knew."

Worse Than Hamonic

Alfred Peterson, a watchman, said the fire was "a lot worse" than the blaze that destroyed the Noronic's sister ship Hamonic at Point Edward near Sarnia July 17, 1945. Peterson was a survivor of the Hamonic fire in which one man was drowned and $1,000,000 damage caused.

"People were screaming and jumping without thinking," he said. "Bodies were falling all around me on the deck and soon the screams were mingled with the moans of the injured."

Special Officer D. P. R. Brown of Port Arthur was at the captain's side during most of the fire.

"One woman became hysterical and put her fist through the door," he said. "When we got to her she was a mass of blood but we freed her."

A man in a torn blue shirt stood at the dockside moaning, "Oh, no, no, no." As police took him away from the water's edge; he fought and shouted: "I've got seven people on that ship."

Jack Feingold of Cleveland said he ran from his cabin screaming. As he stood safe on the dock minutes later he realized he still held a gin rummy hand.

In a hotel lobby Mrs. John Garfletter of Cleveland watched two hours for her husband. When he came she hugged him and cried: "I prayed God every minute that you were safe."

"We've lost all our money and the jewelry is in my case on the ship. But that doesn't matter."

Passengers told of the heroism of crew members, of Chick Yates of Vancouver who lowered two women over the side and then found himself trapped and had to dive into the bay.

Tried To Save Others

Eighteen-year-old Andre Cinq-Mars, of Montreal, late this morning still stood near the smouldering hull watching for his pal Andre Charron, 22, of Montreal, a workman for the Canadian National Exhibition.

Cinq-Mars said he last saw Charron running up the gangplank onto the burning ship to save women he heard screaming. "It's seven hours since Andre went on there," Cinq-Mars said. "I guess he's had it."

Toll of Elderly People

Fire Chief Sam Hill said most of the dead seemed to be elderly people who had been unable to leave their cabins.

"Everywhere you looked it seemed there was a body," he said.

Two residents of Hamilton, 40 miles southwest of Toronto, were recovering today at home. A. H. Miller said he was taken off the Noronic to a nearby ship on which firemen were playing hoses.

"That fire spread as fast as anything I have seen," he said. "We had to go down in the ship to get to the gangplank and we had great difficulty because of the smoke."

C. W. J. Coleman said he tried to go back into the cabin to find other members of his party but was forced back when sparks started to burn his jacket."

Miller said "there were four of us in our party, and all of us got away, but one member, a Dr. Young of Thorold, had his hand [illegible] and was getting ready for bed, when there were shouts of fire, and someone rapped on the door of the cabin and advised him to leave the ship as quickly as possible. "We didn't wait to get our luggage," he said, "we just got out."

FREE BOOK ON ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Sept. 17.—So successful has a specialized system proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it.

For those who suffer with aches, pains, stiff or sore joints, nervousness, over acidity, systemic toxemia, colitis, or other rheumatic symptoms, this book entitled "Rheumatism", fully explains why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble.

The Ball Clinic, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, has perfected a specialized system of treatment for rheumatism and arthritis combined with the world famous mineral waters and baths. This system of treatment is fully described in the book and tells how it may be possible for you to find freedom from rheumatism.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. For writing promptly, the Clinic will send their newly enlarged book entitled, "Rheumatism". Address your letter to The Ball Clinic, Missouri, but be sure to write Dept. 5236, Excelsior Springs, today.—(Advt.)

Good Hunting AT THE NIPIGON

DIRECTLY north of Lake Superior, 67 miles by highway No. 17 from Port Arthur, is "The Nipigon." Here, amidst some of the loveliest scenery you'll find in Eastern Canada, is one of Ontario's finest sporting districts. In season, this northern holiday area abounds in moose, deer, geese, and smaller game. Lake Nipigon itself is 70 miles long and 35 miles wide — a mighty body of water with some of the best lake trout, pickerel, and pike fishing, in the north. It's a 36-hour rail trip to Nipigon from the Southern Ontario area. Air-taxi service from Port Arthur to Armstrong. For complete camp and resort information, write the Junior Board of Commerce, Nipigon, Ontario.

Monster Freighter To Carry 20,000 Tons

The largest freighter ever to sail the Great Lakes was launched this Summer at Lorain, Ohio, and is now being made ready to begin runs between Duluth and Indiana Harbor, Ohio, when the navigation season opens next Spring.

The monster is 678 feet long and 70 feet across the beam. It will carry a cargo of iron ore of 20,000 long tons in comparison with 10,000 and 12,000 ton loads of the usual freighters.

Not only will it carry a greater load, it will cut a day and a half off the usual six and one-half day round trip. Over the whole season it will transport about 800,000 tons of ore.

Named [illegible] Wilfred Sykes, after Wilfred Sykes, former president and now chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of Inland Steel Company.

Built by the American Ship Building Company, the ship will join the line of the Inland Steel Company when it is completed.

Women Give Church Clean-Up

ROSENEATH, Sept. 17 (ENS) —Planning to clean and decorate the church before the anniversary services to be held on Sept. 25 was the outstanding item of business at the September meeting of the WA of St. James' Anglican church on Wednesday.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Braithwaite. Owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. C. R. Spencer, the first vice-president, Mrs. Earl Braithwaite, presided over the devotional and business period, with Mrs. James Timlin as pianist.

The financial statement presented by the treasurer, Mrs. James Brown, showed a balance of $205.09.

Bus Service Again In Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 17—(CP)—Bus service in this ancient capital was resumed Wednesday although 122 garage employees of the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company continued their strike for higher wages.

Service was not yet operating in full but all parts of the city were being served. Meanwhile officers of the Catholic Syndicate (CCCL) of Garage Employees were expected to come to a definite agreement with the transport company at a meeting this morning.

The transport service, interrupted for six days, was resumed late Thursday after the company called upon all its employees to return to work immediately.

The company said it would welcome all back to work, including strikers. To the garagemen it guaranteed an eight-cent hourly increase as of the day they returned to work and a seven-cent boost for back pay retroactive to Feb. 1.

Although the union said all of its members were still on strike the general superintendent of the Quebec Railway, H. F. Beique, said the transport company had enough men to operate the service.

Cottesloe WMS Holds September Meeting

COTTESLOE, Sept. 17. — The September meeting of the Cottesloe W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Russel Tedford, with the president, Helen Tedford presiding. Mrs. J. S. Kidd acted as secretary and read the minutes of the last meeting.

There were 16 ladies present. A letter was read concerning the W.M.S. rally to be held at Norwood on Sept. 27.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. A. Tedford, and a reading "Who Prayed" was read by Mrs. John Gallaher. The scripture reading from Isaiah was taken by Mrs. Fred Bolton, "Give Of Your Best" was sung by Helen Tedford, and the new study book "Growing With The Years" was introduced by Mrs. Wm. Forsythe and Helen Tedford.

The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer by the president. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Kidd.

Film, Television Found Different

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17 (AP). By JACK QUIGG

—"I took part in a movie said Quizmaster Art Linkletter, "thinking it would be good training for television. And boy, was I wrong!"

The blonde, wisecracking radio M.C. insists the only thing he's learned that might help him in TV is how to memorize lines.

There's a lot more difference between film and video techniques than between radio and TV, Art finds. He thinks TV will be able to borrow little from the movies.

The ad lib artist is rollicking through his first film. He plays a quizmaster, Natch, in "Champagne For Caesar," which lampoons giveaway programs. (One contestant, Ronald Colman, gets up to the $43,000,000 question.)

Week-end Roundup

Charles Laughton starts 52 one-night stands Oct. 1, reading excerpts from the Bible and other great books. His agency wants him to travel by train, but Laughton insists on motoring. Says in all his years here he has seen practically nothing of the United States between New York and Hollywood.

As might be expected, "Champion" and "The Set-Up" started a cycle of prizefight pictures. Bill Williams, Barbara Hale's husband, says he'll make one, "The Doublecross."

Nothing like beating your own drum: Anne Baxter, who picked up two goatskin drums in Jamaica, now has a third, an American Indian war drum which she bought (for $150!) from a Navajo at Durango, Colo., where Anne went on location with "A Ticket To Tomahawk." What does she do with 'em? Well, she says she's learning to play them, "as a nice, quiet hobby."

Spike Jones, touring Michigan, has sent frantic calls to his Hollywood headquarters for a soprano to replace Eileen Gallagher, forced by illness to leave the troupe. Here's the catch: the replacement must have not only a fine voice but heft, too. She must weigh at least 250 pounds, for comedy routine purposes.

Bars Rearing Station

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Construction of a bass rearing station on Big Rideau Lake at Westport, Ont., north of Kingston, is under way. Men working under direction of the Ontario Lands Department are building a dam to keep the lake level constant. Next year a start will be made on breeding ponds.

Principal Honored

Canadian Jets Best

KITCHENER, Sept. 17 (CP)—Air Marshal W. A. Curtis of Ottawa, Canada's chief of air staff, said Friday night that the new Canadian jet engine still being developed appears superior to similar engines produced elsewhere. He added that, within a month, Canada expects to fly from Malton near Toronto a two-seater fighter plane, powered in the normal manner, which is superior to anything in Britain or the United States.

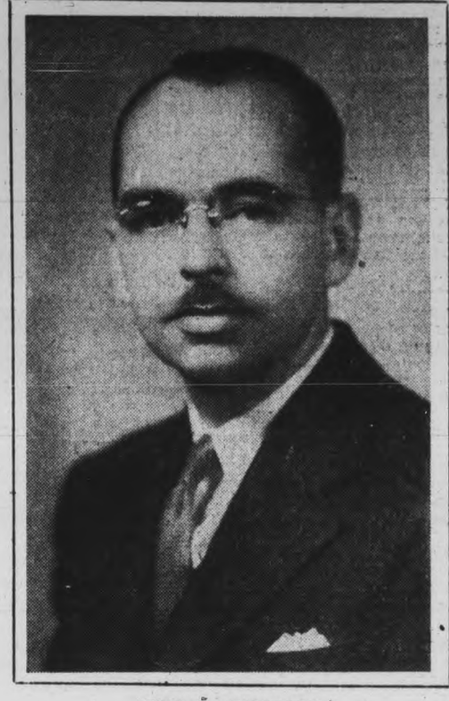
[illegible] To U.N. Children

MARMORA, Sept. 17 (ENS)—Women's Institute decided at its meeting Wednesday to reply to a United Nations appeal on behalf of children by sending a donation. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. Kouri and Mrs. Eugene Brady was in the chair.

The financial report of the branch was presented by Mrs. W. G. Chrysler. The president drew attention to the sound picture "Let There Be Light" which deals with the founding and growth of the Women's Institute. It will be shown in the Town Hall on Sept. 26. The branch then considered the invitation extended by the Marmora District Chamber of Commerce to do the catering at the "Ladies' Night" to be held in the near future.

Final plans were made for the operation of the booth at the fair on Sept. 20.

A paper was given by Mrs. L. R. Green on Agriculture, preceded by a reading by Mrs. E. Belanger in line with the month's motto.



In the program of the evening Miss Grace Warren also gave a paper based on the month's motto "Doors of Opportunity." A duet was sung by Mrs. I. B. Nichol and Mrs. E. Belanger; Mrs. P. Gordon followed with a humorous reading and also conducted a "Carpentering" contest in which honors went to Mrs. P. Gray. The committee in charge served refreshments.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Thomson and will be observed as "Grandmothers' Night."

WILL THERE BE POWER CUTS THIS YEAR?

The demand for Hydro electricity in Ontario is continually on the increase. While power supply conditions may not be as severe as a year ago, a great deal will depend upon the rainfall during the coming months. It is probable that restrictions in the use of power will become necessary on Oct. 1st, 1949. Therefore, it is essential that everyone avoid all unnecessary use of electricity.

The Commission has arranged for certain limited additional sources of power supply which will be of help. It may be pointed out too, that all reductions in the use of electricity now, will save water in our storage basins and help avoid cut-offs. More than that, they will mean savings in your Hydro bills.

Let's play safe! Let us all do our utmost to keep Ontario's production up and pay envelopes full. You can do your part by seeing that no electricity over which you have control is wasted and by using your influence with others to do the same. Now is the time to start.

If wise men never erred, fools would have to despair.

J. W. Von GOETHE

The Honourable [illegible] er of Ontario's Lands and Forests, made a wise move when his Department took Members of the Legislative Assembly on a three thousand miles, two-week tour of Northern Ontario. Only eleven of the ninety members of the Legislature represent constituencies which are in northern and north-western Ontario. The weight of the direct interest and knowledge of the Ontario members is therefore on the South. This tour will have stimulated the M.P.P.'s interest and vastly increased their knowledge of this great area which forms more than eighty per cent. of Ontario's land, and for which they have to legislate.

* * *

It is virtually the unknown land to most southern Ontarioans, and it is high time that more people knew more about it, if not by travel through it, then by publicity, and through the schools. The geographical teaching and textbooks are far behind the times; development in Northern Ontario is so rapid that ten or fifteen years outdate text books and lessons taught. There is Marathon, a new town set down on the shores of Lake Superior, with huge paper sulphate mills, and Terrace Bay with similar mills. Dryden is not merely a stop on the C.P.R.; it is a centre for the manufacture of paper bags. Atikokan is not merely a wayside C.N.R. station in the wilderness; it is the rail outlet for Steep Rock with its great iron mines. Longlac is more than a name; there at Geraldton are important gold mines and pulp industries. At Aguasabon is one of the great Ontario power developments of recent years.

* * *

It is a brave new country with a history of only yesterday. Its proper exploitation and development are important to Canada, to Southern Ontario, and even to Peterborough, many of whose industries supply several of its major needs, as the Examiner's staff reporter who accompanied the M.P.P.'s on their tour shows in an article on our Feature Page.

Bureaucrats In Democracy

Since Carlyle wrote scathingly of the "Continental nuisance called Bureaucracy", bureaucrats have been the whipping-posts for all sorts of political flagellators. For instance, during the last Federal election campaign "the bureaucrats at Ottawa" and "government by bureaucracy" were electioneering shibboleths. The truth is that no government can function without bureaucrats, and they are becoming increasingly important because of the complexity of modern affairs and the increasing range of government.

This country could not have gone through the war years and the recent period of adjustment without such men as Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Minister of Finance, Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, now Vice-Principal of Queen's, Mr. Donald Gordon, Mr. Graham Towers, L. Rasminsky of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, to mention only those concerned with finance. Yet these men were or are bureaucrats. Ordinary voters and ordinary members of parliament cannot be expected to know and interpret adequately the "dollar shortage" in its relation to Canadian and world trade, the Bank of Canada, the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank. They must be guided by experts and the Cabinet Ministers concerned.

There is a danger to the democratic process in this dependency on bureaucrats, for if the complexities are beyond the grasp of Members of Parliament, who are the elected governors of the country, how much more are they beyond the comprehension of the ordinary citizens, who are the voters?

Mr. Wilfrid Eggleston, Ottawa correspondent of Saturday Night returned from holidays in the west to report that not a single person he met in his ten thousand miles of travel throughout the interior of North America had even mentioned the great international dollar crisis. "A gulf of ignorance and misunderstanding yawns between the governors and the governed, or, to use more democratic language, between the people and their servants at the national capital." Even more alarming (for there has always been a gulf of ignorance between the governed and the governing) is the thought that there is an inescapable and growing new "gulf of ignorance" between the governors at Ottawa (the M.P.'s), and their servants, the bureaucrats.

G. M. Young, in the Leslie Stephen lecture at Cambridge last May discussed the increasing obsolescence of the principles of nineteenth century liberalism and the methods of nineteenth century rationalism. These canons and practices . . . .

"rested in turn on the assumption that the operations of government would always be within the comprehension of the sober citi[illegible]

a consequence is, as Mr. Young suggested, that:

"The volume of knowledge possessed by the government puts its actions beyond the control of public opinion as that (nineteenth century) liberalism conceived it; knowledge is power, and . . . both the physical and psychological power of a modern government, wielded perhaps by a compact, resolute minority conscious of it purpose, might go far beyond the power of any despotism yet conceived".

The problem for democracies which liberal thought did not conceive a century ago is how to ensure that the inner Cabinet and the chief civil servants—both being in a wide sense bureaucrats in these times—remain subservient to a less knowledgeable parliament and public.

Busy Parliament

The twenty-first Parliament in the history of the Dominion of Canada opened Thursday. It is a historic Parliament, for it is the first in which the new province of Newfoundland has had representation. It will be a busy Parliament, for there is much unfinished business left over from early summer when its predecessor was dissolved to make way for the General Elections. One important item is the Budget, which has not yet been passed. It will be a significant Parliament in constitutional matters if the dual proposal contained in the Speech from the Throne is accepted. The Government proposes to introduce complementary measures which would bring the Canadian constitution and the right to amend it exclusively within the jurisdiction of Canada, without reference to an outside body, the Imperial Privy Council.

It is an anomaly that a country as mature and independent as Canada should still have constitutional vestiges of colonial days. In practice these ties are now not at all hampering, and are often as convenient to Canada as they are embarrassing to Britain; as historical links, with their own colour and appeal to sentiment, they have value; but logically they are absurd. It would be an admission of national ineptitude if at this stage of their country's development Canadians could not find constitutional phrases to satisfy provincialists and federalists, safeguard provincial rights, and yet give their Parliament, in the words of the Prime Minister, "full and final responsibility for all our national affairs".

Veteran Justice

The longevity of the late Sir William Mulock is seldom equalled by distinguished public men, but his term in office as Chief Justice has been surpassed by Chief Justice Horace Harvey of Alberta who died last week. Sir William was Chief Justice of Ontario from 1923 to 1936, when he resigned at the age of 92. Before that he was Chief Justice of the Exchequer Division of the Ontario High Court, to which office he was appointed in 1905. Chief Justice Harvey became a member of the Supreme Court of the Northwest Territories in 1904, a year before Sir William Mulock was appointed to the High Court of Ontario. The next year Mr. Justice Harvey moved to the Supreme Court of the newly-formed province of Alberta. In 1910 he became Chief Justice of Alberta and held the position continuously until his death last week at the age of 86. He was therefore a judge for 45 years, and a Chief Justice for 39; a very remarkable record. His judicial career was longer than his own province's history.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The American interest in reducing the pound is not new. Well-fed Americans have for years praised the virtues of dieting.

People used to put some faith in the adage "Look after the pennies and the pounds will take care of themselves". The present financial crisis in Britain no doubt is completely due to the welfare-minded, free-spending Labour Government's never having learned the phrase.

The Marchbanks Correspondence

To Humbergeon Hydra, Esq.
Dear Mr. Hydra:

During the brief time that I have been abroad I have been greatly impressed by the excellent design and splendid range of colour shown in British stamps. This moves me to write to you, as a highly placed Civil Servant, to ask if something cannot be done to make our Canadian stamps more comely.

Yours faithfully,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esq.
Dear Sir:

I have received your letter in which you [illegible]

[illegible] it has been my experience that the suggestion for the change will come from within the Civil Service. I cannot recognize suggestions from what I may term "wildcat" sources.

Yours,
Haubergeon Hydra,
Post Office Mucilage Controller.

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esq.
Dear Marchbanks:

While you are in Scotland will you collect and send me a dozen new Scotch stories? I have just been appointed to head the Speaker's Committee of the Rowanis Club for the next year, and good funny stories are scarce. I find that stories about Scotchmen are always popular. Oh, yes, and will you send me a few tips about the Scotch accent? Everybody thinks I tell stories very well, but I have only one funny accent and it has to do for Scotch, Irish, Jewish, Negro, etc. I would like to specialize in Scotch stories. Please hurry about this, as I haven't any time to waste.

Yours eagerly,
Dick Dandiprat.

To Richard Dandiprat, Esq.
My presumptuous Dandiprat:

I have no time to send you Scotch stories, even if I knew any. Nor can I help you with your Scottish dialect. Everyone speaks it here, but it defies analysis. Yesterday a lady of my acquaintance said to me "Hoo lang is it sin' ye pit meat in yer wame?" She was enquiring when I had last eaten. The acquisition of the right accent for such a remark is far beyond your feeble powers so no more from

Yours regretfully,
S. Marchbanks.

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esq.
Dear Mr. Marchbanks:

As you are in Edinburgh I write to you for information on a matter which arouses me to anger. I am told that the British are now eating horseflesh. If this is true it must stop at once. Cruelty to dumb creatures is a thing I will not tolerate. I demand that you get to the bottom of this story at once. And if you yourself have been eating any of our dumb friends, I command you, in the name of Canadian Womanhood, to desist immediately. Cows, yes; pigs, yes; fowl (so long as they are not singing birds), yes. But horses and dear, dear doggies—NO! Please reply immediately this reaches you. The eye of Canada is upon you.

Yours,
(Mrs.) Kedijah Scissorbill.

To Mrs. Kedijah Scissorbill
Dear Mrs. Scissorbill:

Pray compose yourself. I have not seen any horseflesh consumed as yet. I have eaten it, I knew it not. Canada may therefore take its eye off me. I may perhaps quiet your suspicions regarding British Dogdom by telling you that there is a statue to a dog in Edinburgh; it is Greyfriars Scottie, a dear doggie who used to go regularly with his master to a restaurant in Greyfriars; when his master died the doggie kept on going to the restaurant for 20 years, begging for food. Everyone was touched by this act of delity, including the restaurant-keeper, who reckoned that in that time the doggie had sponged 7,300 meals from him which, at sixpence a time, amounted to a little over £180. The statue of Scottie was erected by American admirers of the dog. No other dog in history is known to have been faithful to one restaurant for so long. I am, Madam,

Your servant,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esq.
Dear Mr. Marchbanks:

What a disappointment about the tartan! I was looking forward to having it. I feel certain you could get it if only you would try. As I cannot go to Edinburgh myself I must depend on someone like yourself to do this little task for me. Please try again. And another thing; I am anxious to possess some personal relic of Mary, Queen of Scots. Could you possibly get me something—one of her sweet little shoes, for instance. You must remember, Mr. Marchbanks, that I have been an orphan for the last 45 years. Surely I deserve some consideration from one who, whatever his faults, is a man, and should be glad to assist the weak and helpless.

Yours confidingly,
Minerva Hawser.

To Miss Minerva Hawser
Dear Miss Hawser:

Really I cannot get the 18 yards of the Hawser tartan you ask for. Could you manage with an equal length of something else? I was talking two days ago with Mr. Telfer Dunbar, who is said to know more about tartans than anybody else in Edinburgh, and he says there is no earthly reason why anybody should not wear any tartan that pleases them. As for Mary Queen of Scots' shoe, I have not seen any for sale. What makes you think, by the way, that it would be sweet and little? Are you aware that Mary was six feet tall? With such a physique she may well have had feet like a policeman. I fear that you are a romantic.

Yours unromantically,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Amyas Pilgarlic, Esq.
Dear Pil:

I am having a wonderful time in Edinburgh. There is a kindly spirit here which is beyond the professional kindliness of tourist bureaux; it is entirely genuine and unselfish. The Festival is the great thing at present, of course. There are a good many young people about, as well as the usual congregation of the lame, the halt and the blind that artistic gatherings always attract. There are plenty of Scots wearing the kilt, and last night I saw some of them dance a strathspey most attractively, and then follow it up with a new dance called "Prince Charles of Edinburgh". The Scots nationalists tend to wear beards as a sort of trademark, and from time to time I am mistaken for one of their number. There are all sorts of things here which would engage your scholarly attention: for instance, a learned Scot told me a few days ago that there are great numbers of poems by Burns which have not been collected, as they are of too frank a nature to appear in print. Could you not come to Scotland and reclaim these for posterity? And you would be delighted by the magnificent stone-masonry one sees everywhere, and by the high quality of commercial sign-writing, even on the most ordinary shops. By the way, I saw one yesterday bearing the name of "Madam Doubtfire"; a charming name, don't you think. Apart from these delights I attended a performance of "Faust" last night (Goethe's, not Gounod's) where a Nazi actor was hissed, and I have seen a tram which claimed it went to Joppa. No more now.

Yours, Sam.

Letters To The Editor

AGRICULTURAL NEEDS

Sir: This letter is to let you know what this eastern part of Ontario wants—all kinds of tame fruit. It will produce two crops of St. Regis red raspberries from June until September 30th; tame strawberries the same, and big strain apple trees—Wolf River and St. Lawrence and kinds of crushes limestone to put around the roots to give the tree a chance to thrive, and all kinds of irrigation from near lakes, pumped by a low set windmill, for instance, a dry season like this which comes every few years. Such projects would be good for this 1949 fall job from one end of Ontario to the other and throughout Canada to put these eastern parts on a good footing.

OUT FROM THE CITIES

Sir: Would you grant me a little of your valued space in which to comment briefly in relation to an address by a speaker in your city, whose name I regret to say is not given in my clipping of the paragraph which runs as follows: He admitted that a city like New York was a splendid and beautiful human achievement when seen from a ship in harbor at sundown, but doubted that even New York represented true progress. "Underneath the beauty are great slums and millions of people rushing around doing things of no eternal consequence, for reasons they do not comprehend".

I have long felt that the day of vast numbers of people concentrated into great cities is one of the ideas which has passed its zenith and, as one of the philosophers phrases it, "is falling into the inevitable pit which the creation of new thought brings to all that is old"? To mention but two causes: (1)—Even the metropolitan cities have no longer a copyright, or stranglehold, on electrical energy; (2)—The potential threat of the A-bomb seems, to me, to make industrial decentralization a 'must' in the nation's defence strategy?

Reverting to the thought of the above speaker; I see that we are reminded that "the idea of progress was inspired by the devil, that it came into people's minds when the Industrial Revolution was creating widespread misery, polluted cities and wretched poverty among workmen".

As to this latter viewpoint, frankly I am not wise enough to come to a decision. I suggest, however, that there is a connection, or bridge, as between the above thought-stream and the following extract from an address by Sir Herbert Broadley, Deputy Director-General of the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) at Lake Success the other day, as recorded in your rural contemporary, The Farmer's Advocate: "So far, we have only just begun to realize the dangers of a world population hungry, underfed, ill and discontented; we have only glimpsed the possibilities of increased food production on a vast scale. But we have not yet taken either very seriously. A 'World Food Fund' would enable us to marshal the forces needed to win this terrific battle on which so much depends. If we succeed, it may well be that the 20th century will be the century of the Agricultural Revolution."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength.... Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. (Isa. 26: 4, 8, 9.)

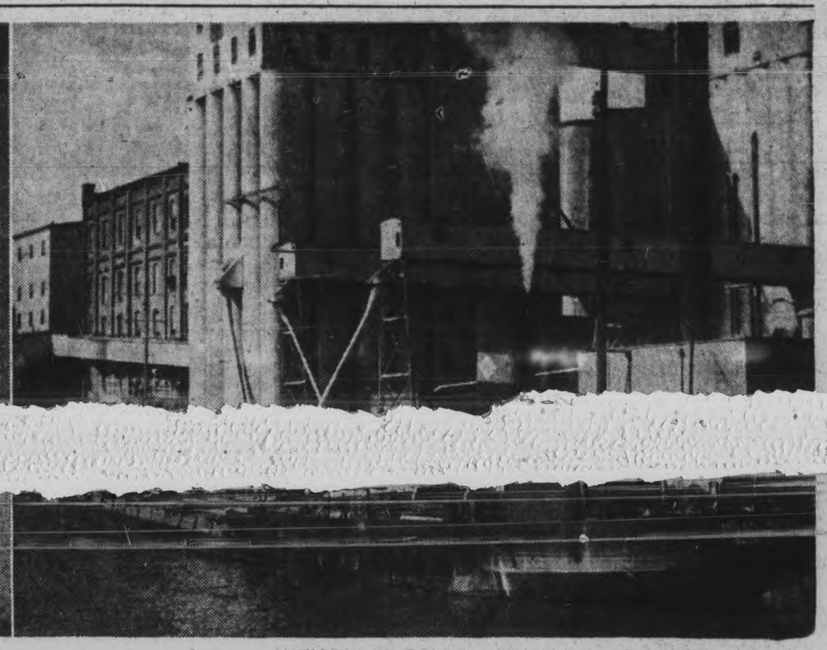
A BRITISH OPINION



World Copyright. By arrangement with Evening Standard.

NINETY PER CENT of the world's nickle ore is mined in Northern Ontario's largest city, Sudbury. The refinery building at RIGHT refines 12 additional minerals from this waste mining enterprise, among them gold, silver and platinum. Three 500-foot smelter stacks dominate the skyline, LEFT background.

WEALTH OF GOLDEN GRAIN from Canada's west is hauled to and stored at Lakehead cities. Block-long grain ships take their loads to lower lakes and Montreal for transhipment to many lands; small ships from foreign countries carry loads all the way. The above shipwill only be in her berth a few hours.

Ontario's North In Photo Story

By NICK NICKELS

There is a common saying in the North country that any person who has an interest in an enterprise "has a stake in it." People look on him with special fondness for they know he has willingly gambled a sum to better his position in life and they root for him to win. Did you know that Peterborough people collectively have a BIG stake in Northern Ontario? They most certainly have. Unknown to most of them, they owe a great part of their industrial output and a good ratio of their earnings to markets in this unknown four-fifths of their Province. They have staked no monies in this huge enterprise but have contributed their various skills. And Northern people are rooting for them.

On a recent 3,000-mile tour along the fringes of Ontario's frontier as guests of the Department of Lands and Forests I wore a lapel badge for identification showing my name and home town. So did forty other people on the same junket. Names meant little to complete strangers but in my case the word PETERBOROUGH, repeated twice with an extra pump of the hand, was the magic word that broke down social barriers at once. "That is where the canoes come from," said at least sixty people. Six others asked me if that was not the place where some Marchbanks fellow lived and wrote and three had vague recollections of some large canal project,—a lock, or something . . . . ?

To date this seems to be the extent of Peterborough's fame in Northern Ontario but they haven't given us full justice, by any means, possibly because they have done little research in the matter.

I WALKED THROUGH A QUARTER-MILE of buildings in a Sudbury smelter which housed 34 immense ore grinding machines, each powered by an electric motor made in Peterborough. A quick survey of other motors in that same building would no doubt have revealed hundreds more. And yet our party guide did not realize this until it was pointed out to him. It got me thinking along these lines as the trip progressed to the point of doing some research of my own when I got back home. The results were amazing.

Fifteen per cent. of all outboard motors, I found, were sold in Northern Ontario area. Carloads of flour, cereals and feed travel each year from the Quaker Oats plant two short blocks from the Examiner office to northern warehouses for distribution. Fresh and cured meats and canned goods are shipped out in the same proportions from Canada Packers. Peterborough snowshoes, canoes, skis and paddles to the tune of at least $150,000 per year are in use in new northern communities and on lonely lakes and streams to Ontario's Hudson Bay boundary.

A like dollar amount in alarm clocks and watches made by Western Clock Company on Armour Hill wake workmen of the North each morning and get them to work on time. Front doors of private homes which were opened in welcome to us in such new communities as Terrace Bay, Marathon and Geraldton were furnished with hardware made by the Peterborough Lock Works on Simcoe St., and on new kitchen shelves were packages of food beverages made by A. Wander Company in the South End of the city. The power that sparks mines and pulp mills and new communities is generated from massive machines manufactured by Canadian General Electric on Park St., harnessing rivers at Aguasabon, Pine Portage and the Chukuni. Car loadings on our two railways that move all these products result in sizeable freight receipts and there are no doubt many other items that have been overlooked. But it gives you the general idea.

IT IS LOGICAL THAT PETERBOROUGH PEOPLE who hold such a sizable stake in Northern Ontario should take more interest in it and its people and try to visit its numerous interesting districts whenever possible.

In the first place they will find it overflowing with friendliness and forthrightness that frontier living breeds. Northerners are not northern born but came originally from the industrial south, and they are anxious to pick up the threads of bygone days. A conductor in a lurching caboose on the Algoma Central Railway told me one night of his boyhood in Campbellford; he had been up north for 30 years. A regional forester in Kenora asked me to look up his sister in Norwood and his counterpart in Hearst asked me to say "hello" to a bank manager friend on Hunter St.

Many of these southern-turned-northern people left their homes during the Depression era; they found jobs in a new land and have not yet grown old with it. They are not interested in your wealth or position. It is what you are up there where visionary men are engaged in the pioneer struggle to wrest their take from rocks of the Precambrian Shield, from its rolling forests, its swift rivers and in the clear invigorating air above it all. There are no drones in the north and where everybody works labour is not looked down upon. When they have time to play they seize upon it with the same zest and they are very proud of their splendid achievements.

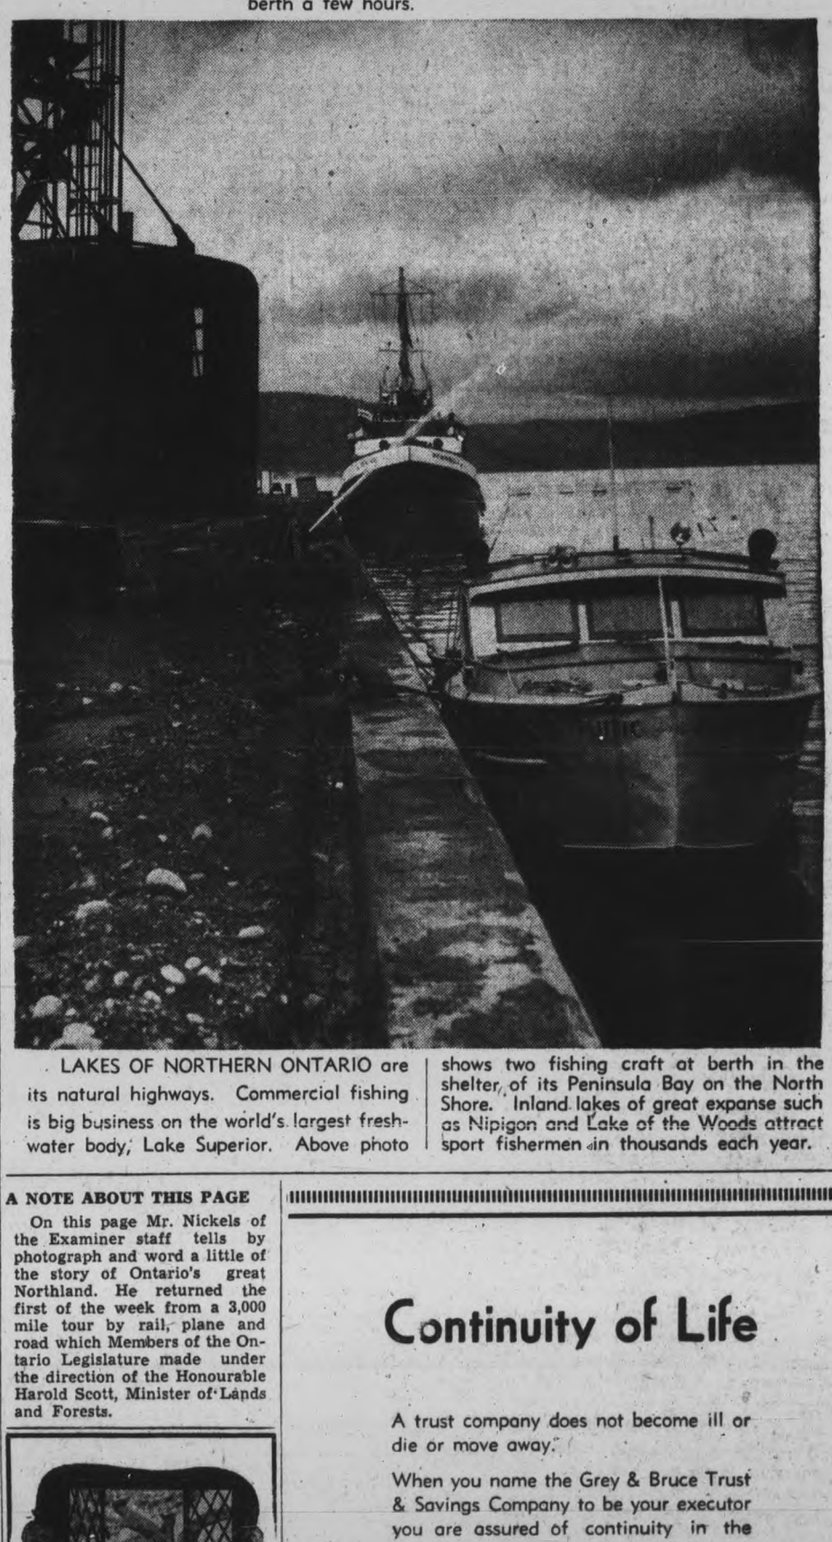
SO, PEOPLE OF PETERBOROUGH, you have been and still are sitting in on a winning game in Northern Ontario that each new development thrown into the "pot" increases your winnings. You can't sit in a game as a greenhorn for long and it pays to know all you can about it. A geography professor wrapped the thought into a neat bundle the other night when he said, "It is not what we did in the past that will make us great but knowing thoroughly what we have at present." We would do well to ponder on those lines in our National Anthem—



". . . . . with glowing hearts we see thee rise, the True North strong and free . . . . , And stand on guard . . . . . "

LARGEST BLAST FURNACE in the British Empire, at Sault Ste. Marie is visited by members of the Ontario Legislative Assembly. Ore from Michipicoten Island, mixed with limestone and coal, produces some of the finest steel in the world, Canadian product.

LAKES OF NORTHERN ONTARIO are its natural highways. Commercial fishing is big business on the world's largest freshwater body, Lake Superior. Above photo shows two fishing craft at berth in the shelter of its Peninsula Bay on the North Shore. Inland lakes of great expanse such as Nipigon and Lake of the Woods attract sport fishermen in thousands each year.

A NOTE ABOUT THIS PAGE

On this page Mr. Nickels of the Examiner staff tells by photograph and word a little of the story of Ontario's great Northland. He returned the first of the week from a 3,000 mile tour by rail, plane and road which Members of the Ontario Legislature made under the direction of the Honourable Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests.

Bombers Beat Panthers 5-0 Before Huge Crowd at Ex.

Orillia Bombers blasted out a 5-0 ORFU senior "B" victory over the local Panthers in Morrow Park last night before more than 3,000 grid fans. It was the Panthers' second loss of the season and Orillia's first triumph. They got a single in the first quarter and a field goal and single in the third of a hard-fought fixture.

FINGERED OFF—Jim Conlin was going great guns for the grid Panthers here last night till he started swapping punches with Newark of Orillia, both being fingered off the rest of the game. Orillia won 5-0.

Mayor Max Swanston and Don McGillis, Sr., officially opened the season and a big crowd saw its first football here under lights in a nifty setup. The game was three quarters of an hour late starting owing to a late arrival by the Bombers. The CGE Pipe Band supplied music, Dick Ouimet announced plays over the P.A., and the Mayor drew the ticket for the car, which [illegible] won by a Port Hope man.

[illegible] proved better opportunists. Several times, the Panthers were in good position for a score but they fumbled. The Matthews' squad had an edge in hoofing but fumbles offset this, and they tried few forward passes till near the finish. They also had a tough break when Jim Conlin—who was shining—went off for the rest of the game in the third quarter along with Newark for fighting. Near the close, Wally Farr was chased for roughing. Mush Bond was outstanding on the attack for the visitors.

Red Street got an early rouge on Plunkett when a Panther kick was blocked on their own 30. Plunkett had a 20-yard run-back and later Conlin skirted end for 15 but Jim Milligan intercepted a pass. A Conlin-Plunkett pass clicked to Orillia's 25 and Jim threw another to Davidson on the 10, but a fumble lost the ball afterward. White opened the second quarter with a boot to Garvey and Conlin got around end for nine, with Hodson then bucking six. Russelle took Jim's pass to Orillia's 20yard strip but a placement try was blocked. Later a penalty hurt the Panthers and each side in turn fumbled. Hodson recovered for Panthers and Plunkett kicked. White bucked 15 to midfield and he and Milligan again made yards, a quarter sneak finishing it. White on a cutback got 12 but Scriver fell on their fumble after Hills hard tackle at the half.

Scored Four

A local fumble started the third and they drove up, Cook, White and Bond carrying the mail to the home 20. Jim Milligan booted a placement to make it 4-0. Bond and Cook later bucked to move the sticks and they got a penalty first down later. Newark and Conlin were chased, and Johnson rouged Scriver on Milligan's kick from the 30. Plunkett had a 10-yard runback and he bucked five more, with Matthews knifing through for another five. A penalty and kick followed, with Bond cutting back to gain 15 at the quarter. It seesawed the last quarter with Thompson going around end once for yards and Milligan and Matthews exchanging long kicks. Bond kept reeling off yardage and Panthers fumbled several when they started to drive. Garvey completed a forward to Crowley and later Orillia were blocked in close on an attempted field oal. Scriver threw a long pass to Davidson as they belatedly opened it up but they were too far back and time ran out, Farr being chased just before the finish.

The teams:

Orillia: Flying wing, D. Ross; halves, White, Bond, Storey; quarter, Milligan; snap, Newark; insides, Boarer, Caldwell; middles, Brown, Middleton; outsides, G. Ross, D. Cook; alternates, Russell, Bredin, McIntyre, Clark, Gentile, Garry, Naismith, Street, H. Johnson, Groves, R. Johnson, J. Cook, Gray, Good.

Panthers: Flying wing, Hodson; halves, Matthews, Plunkett, Conlin; quarter, Garvey; snap, Hill; insides, Masters, Bush, Rush; middles, Farr, Beatty; outsides, Davidson, Burns; alternates, Lynch, Trimm, Bartley, Fraser, Miller, McGillis, R. VanAllen, M VanAllen, Stewart, Wyatt, Moore, Russelle, Crowley, Thompson, Scriver, Curtin, Board.

Referee, C. Hiltz; umpire, L. Deadey; head linesman, K. Maclaren.

Bisons Smash Giants 5-0 In 3rd Triumph

By The Associated Press

Buffalo Bisons seem bent on making a clean sweep of the International League season.

Pennant-starved since 1936, the Bisons ended their 13 lean years by taking the flag rather handily. Now they set their sights on winning the playoffs.

Friday night they moved in the right direction, smashing Jersey City 5-0 for their third straight triumph. One more victory and the Bisons will face the winner of the Rochester-Montreal series in the finals.

Montreal, leading that series 2-0, had its game at home Friday night rained out. The clubs will play tonight, while Jersey City and Buffalo will clash again Sunday afternoon.

Jim Wilson hurled the Buffalo shutout, scattering eight Giant safeties.

Gene Markland and Ray Coleman led Buffalo 11-hit assault with three singles apiece. George Bamberger lasted only two frames and took the loss.

Remember When—

Jack Dempsey picked himself up from the press table and flattened Luis Angel Firpo in one of the most exciting modern-day heavyweight boxing fights at New York 26 years ago today. Knocked down seven times, Firpo sent the champion through the ropes in the first round. Dempsey came back to sprawl Firpo to the canvas twice more before the knockout in the second round.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Billy Southworth will return next season as manager of Boston Braves, and there will be no "head chopping" among the players of that club, he said Friday at Columbus, Ohio.

"Billy the Kid," who left the 1948 National League pennant winners just a month ago without saying goodbye to his players, ended a four-week press pursuit to have his say.

Southworth said he received a diagnosis on his health Wednesday, and that he had been pronounced "physically sound." The 56-year-old skipper, who has three years to go on a $250,000 five-year contract with the Braves said he had lost eight pounds through "hard physical work" the last month, and was down to a near-normal 172.

"Billy" scheduled a press conference to clear up his unexplained departure from the Braves, and some 20 sports writers attended. For more than an hour he was showered with a question barrage.

Johnny Bratton of Chicago will substitute for Kid Gavilan against Beau Jack in Chicago Stadium Sept. 30, James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said at Chicago Friday.

Ty Cobb, baseball's famed Georgia Peach, will be married again in the next few days, it was confirmed Friday night, at Point Abino, Ont.

Miss Geraldine Cass said her mother, Mrs. Frances Cass, and the 2-year-old baseball immortal were planning a quiet wedding Cobb was divorced two years ago Mrs. Cass, married twice before has two children.

Windsor Assumption School made it four in a row over St. Michael's College of Toronto at Windsor Friday night when it kicked its way to a 5-0 victory in an exhibition football game in the team's fifth annual contest.

Led by a charging front wall, the winners pushed the visitors all over the field in the first half but were not able to count a major score. Penalties proved costly to Assumption once they were in playoff territory.

Valleyfield Braves of the Quebec Senior Hockey League announced Friday at Valleyfield, Quebec, they had signed Howie Morenz Jr., a right-winger formerly with the Dallas team of the United States Hockey League.

He is the son of the late Howie Morenz, Sr., who starred with Montreal Canadiens.

Catcher Roy Campanella of Brooklyn suffered a mild concussion when hit on the head by a pitched ball Friday night at Pittsburgh but probably will be back in the lineup by the time the Dodgers get to St. Louis. Campanella was knocked out by a side-arm delivery tossed by Bill Werle in the second inning of the game with Pittsburgh. He was carried unconscious from the field on a stretcher but revived at the clubhouse.

At Winnipeg, sporting goods official said Friday there is a serious shortage of practically every type of hunting gun in Canada. He attributed it to the Dominion government's austerity program which allows importation of only 20 per cent of the supply being imported before the program came into effect. Canada imports guns from Sweden and Denmark to a certain extent. But the Canadian sportsman prefers American makes, he said.

At Sydney, officials of Sydney Millionaires Hockey Club announced Friday night that Murph Chamberlain, hard-rock utility player of Montreal Canadiens, has signed a playing card with the Millionaires. Chamberlain will act as playing coach of the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League entry.

Mark Twain said "everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it." But we at least jump the gun on the stodgy day-to-day guesser on weather probs, and give out almanac forecasts in gobs. Yes, sir, the first half of next week will be clear and warm, but there'll be light frost the last half of the week. And the following week will see Sunday and Monday unsettled, the remainder being clear and cool. First week of October is clear and cold to start with and messed up by rain or snow later. But the second week will be just dandy—warm and clear. You're welcome. Incidentally our almanac said July and August would be mostly clear and very warm, with the odd shower. Pretty accurate, eh?

Toronto scribes are having a fine time getting interviews these days with Jack Dempsey, there to conduct a [illegible] mitt tourney. The peppery ex-[illegible] energy, and he is alwa[illegible] [illegible] happen. But he [illegible] talks] [illegible] of it, not wanting a lawsuit. If one persists in looking for trouble, Jack hits him a playful slap on the back and a "friendly" push in the midriff with his big mitt, saying: "Come on, pal you don't want to fight, do you?" The other guy slowly gets his wind back and decides he and Dempsey should be pals.

New Champ A-Comin'

There'll be a new champion of the Kawartha Golf Club this year. Ned Vitarelli won it last year but lost out lately in club playdowns to Les Reid. The latter meets Stan Whiddon today in a semi-final, the winner to go against Jack Condon in the 36-hole final, possibly this Sunday. Condon got this far by beating Fraser Dunfield, who is city champion and was runner-up for club honors last year. Midland Golf League final tourney is also on today at Kawartha and the Business Girls have a field day Sunday. A few other competitions next week ere the official closing of the club for the season.

New manager of the Civic Arena, Walt Smiley, will report for duty this coming week after cleaning up his affairs in Maxville. It is planned to make the first ice a week from Monday for testing, and good ice should be available early in October. Various leagues and clubs shortly will be making application for use of the arena for the coming season, and the hockey season will be started a lot earlier and run a bit longer this puck semester than ever before in Peterborough. Nearly three months more with the installation of artificial ice. More and more sports overlapping here, and more labor lying ahead for yours truly.

Just Like Old Times

Reminded one of old times—back in the senior ORFU days just before the war—to see the big turnout of grid fans at the Ex. last eve. Well over 3,000 fans there, in fact close to 4,000, as the Orillia Bombers pulled a 5-0 senior "B" win o'er the Panthers. The lights okay, and there were the usual opening-game trimmings, Mayor on deck to kickoff and then draw the winning ducat on the car—always someone out of town wins, eh?—and the band whooping it up nicely. Yeah, everything just dandy except that our team lost. And they can't afford many reverses in a short ORFU schedule. They go again here next Friday and had better win, or else.

* * * * * *

Too many fumbles by the Panthers when on their way toward a score. Though the Bombers looked tougher along the line for more than half the melee. The local linemen—bruised and abused—fought hard but Mush Bond and a few more speedy Bombers found holes. Our kicking and tackling generally were good, but the blocking not a hundred per cent. And more passing earlier might have helped. But, like all fans, we can second-guess like nobody's business. Jim Conlin was going great guns till he and Newark threw a few punches and had to sit the rest of it out. We won't try to select local stars, as they were all in there trying, but they just didn't have quite enough for Orillia this time in a close, hard-fought fray. A good game, but our squad lost it. Management apologized to the fans for the late start, the O's not being here on time.

Scarboro Rubs Out Juvenile OLA Boys

Scarboro defeated the local lacrossers 10-9 at Miller Bowl last night to sweep their OLA juvenile "B" semi-final series in two straight. The husky Scarboro boys had won the first at home and their victory here eliminated Lou Vitarelli's young Petes before a slim crowd.

Play was real fast, close and exciting throughout, the Petes putting up a great fight against heavier opposition. It was rugged enough, with the locals frequently short a man—and they didn't like the cefereeing in this game. Scarboro broke the tie to win it in the last five seconds of the sizzling struggle.

Board shone on the attack for the victors, scoring five of their 10 goals and helping on another one. Batley looked good for the homesters with two goals and three assists, while Red Robson scored three and aided on one. The locals all played good, Robinson standing out on defence, and Nichols turning in a fine effort in goal. The Petes actually outplayed Scarboro but still lost by a single marker.

Can't Wash Cars

LONDON, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—Londoners no longer can water their gardens and wash their cars under new regulations announced Friday to conserve depleted water supplies after summer's drought. Nor can any vehicle—private, trade or public, including railroad cars—be washed down. Sidewalks, forecourts and yards also come under the ban.

149,452,000 In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated Friday that the United States population was 149,452,000 Aug. 1. This was an increase of 237,000 over the July 1 estimate. At that rate of increase, the population will pass the 50,000,000-mark before Jan. 1.

Lewicki Future Undecided By Leaf Chief

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 17 — (CP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs' annual hockey-training school broke up Friday without any clue to the immediate hockey future of flashy young Danny Lewicki.

One of the stars of the school, the 18-year-old Lewicki headed for Stratford where he played last season. He has said he doesn't want to turn pro this season—either with the Leafs in the Na[illegible] league or with [illegible] team sponsored by [illegible] only if the management of the Stratford club says it is advisable.

Conn Smythe, managing director of the Leafs, conferred Friday with Harold Wyatt, head of the Stratford club, on Lewicki's future but there was no immediate announcement.

Lewicki signed an NHL "C" form for the Leafs and Smythe said recently he would have the player suspended under its terms if he did not join the Toronto organization.

Six Players Report

As the school broke up Friday, the Leafs announced that six players would report to the regular Maple Leaf training camp opening Monday. They are: Bob Solinger, AHL star acquired in a deal with Cleveland a few days ago; John Thayler, rightwinger from Glace Bay, N. S.; William Daoust, Glace Bay goalie; Frank Sullivan, Oshawa defenceman; Hugh Bolton, Toronto defenceman and Don Lockhart, Toronto goaltender.

Eight players were assigned to the Pittsburgh Hornet camp: Johnny Arundel, defenceman from Syrney, N. S., Millionaires; Gene Martin, Toronto; Howie Harvey, Montrealer who played in Toronto last season; George Blair, Oshawa centre; Ken Watson, Edmonton junior; Andy Barbe from Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast pro league, Jim Frick, University of Minnesota defenceman; Bill McCracken, rightwinger from Winnipeg Monarchs.

Rule Change Said Insulting

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP) —In a rule change dubbed "most insulting and most invidious" by a British expert, the International Skating Union has thrown into discard the old precept of "one country, one judge," in International figure skating championships.

In future, competitors will be rated only by judges from countries other than their own. The Belgian delegation won approval of the change at the annual congress in Paris of the ISU. The Belgians said it would eliminate "prejudicial markings by national judges of their own competitors."

Britain's Major Kenneth Macdonald Beaumont, chairman of the ISU figure-skating committee, told the Canadian Press:

"It is a disgraceful thing to suggest judges appointed by their national associations are not competent to judge their own nationals."

The change went through over British opposition. Beaumont was in Montreal on business at the time and could not attend the congress but later he won a modification to render the Belgian proposal "sensible and practical."

Pirates Dampen Dodgers In 9-2 Win Over Brooklyn

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Branch Rickey, baseball's careful cashier, must have had a premonition when he offered Pittsburgh $200,000 for Willie Werle the first time he laid eyes on the Pirates' freshman southpaw.

Rickey, famed for his shrewd transactions once again was made to look good Friday night when Werle pitched the Pirates to a 9-2 triumph over Brooklyn that dampened the Dodgers' pennant hopes. That was one time the Dodger president didn't enjoy being correct.

The defeat coupled with St. Louis' triumph over Boston 7-5, [illegible] Only a sudden collapse by the Cards or a sweep of the three-game series in St. Louis next week can alter this dismal Flatbush situation.

There was no change in the American League race as both New York and Boston won. The front-running Yankees maintained their 2½ game bulge, beating Detroit Tigers 4-1. The runnerup Red Sox kept pace, spanking St. Louis Browns 12-4.

Ignored Offer

It was back on May 11 that Rickey, a tight-fisted man with a bankroll, made the $200,000 offer for Werle. He had just watched the 27-year-old hurler turn back the Brooks with a seven-hitter in only his second major league start. The Bucs ignored the offer.

Friday's triumph was only the fifth in 21 engagements with the Dodgers and Werle owns two of them. His season record is 11-11. Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's top pitcher, was the victim. He was [illegible] six runs on as many [illegible] straight victory.

Tommy Byrne, who makes a career out of beating the Tigers tamed his playmates with two hits. The Yankee southpaw now has beaten the Bengals five times this season. Bobby Brown batted in three of the Yankees' four runs with a pair of doubles.

Vern Stephens walloped his 37th and 38th home runs as Lefty Mel Parnell pitched his 23rd victory for the Red Sox. Tom Ferrick was the victim.

Washington all but eliminated Cleveland from flag contention when they nipped the Indians 5-4. Ray Scarborough held the Tribe to seven hits as the Nats battered Mike Garcia and Satchel Paige for 12.

Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Athletics divided a doubleheader. The Sox, behind Bill Wight, won the second game 6-3 after Dick Fowler had pitched the A's to a 5-1 triumph in the opener.

Pinch-hitters Mickey Owen, Herman Reich, and Forrest Burgess came through with hits to give Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory over New York Giants in 10 innings.

Ken Raffensberger won a pitchers' duel from Ken Heintzelman as Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia Phillies 2-1.

British Ryder Team Suddenly Gets Going

CANTON, Yorkshire, England, Sept. 17 (AP)—After weeks of whistling in the dark, the underdog British Ryder Cup team suddenly has found daylight and is predicting its biggest victory margin in the history of the golf matches.

Sporting a surprise 3-1 edge going into today's singles duels, silver-haired Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British team, said confidently that he expects his boys to grab five of the eight remaining points.

Rain didn't seem to bother the British side Friday. Jimmy Adams and Max Faulkner sloshed to a 2 and 1 victory over Johnny Palmer and E. M. (Dutch) Harrison; Dick Burton and Art Lees waded home in front of Snead and Mangrum 1 up in the day's biggest upset, and Fred Daly and Ken Bousfield had comparatively smooth sailing against Bob Hamilton and Skip Alexander, winning 3 and 2.

Christian Hymns Express Feeling Of Ancient Psalms

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Christianity, like the Judaism out of which it came, is a singing religion.

How do its Christian hymns compare with the Psalms, which were the great outpouring of Jewish praise to God?

Many of the Christian hymns are paraphrased versions of the Psalms, or chants of unparaphrased Psalms. Some Christians, notably among some Scotch Presbyterians, have confined their singing to the Psalms. But Christian hymns and songs are almost endless in number, and as varied in their themes, emotions, and expressions as the Psalms themselves.

[illegible] and stately hymns of the church, which like the good news of the Gospel are ever new. Such are, "All Glory, Laud, and Honor to Thee, Redeemer, King," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The Day Is Past and Over," and the Crusaders' Hymn, "Fairest Lord Jesus," to name a few of these ancient hymns.

Some hymns, widely sung, are little more than the rhythmic expression of doctrines very limited, and of doubtful validity in the deep range of Christian truth. At the opposite pole are the hymns and songs of shallow sentiment, with no depth of sincerity, jingles that have no relation to great doctrines and truth.

What value, if any, attaches to those racy and tuneful songs, that too often, and among some groups, almost entirely have displaced the great hymns of the church?

They represent in the field of religion the sort of sentimental songs that in the secular field are typical of the music hall and the radio. They are not to be entirely condemned. They appeal to those who lack the power to appreciate richer and finer things, but for whom they nevertheless express a measure of faith and sincerity.

It is unfortunate, however, when they attain to chief, or exclusive use. The greatest of modern hymns, and many recent hymns do seem to me to be of [illegible] like appreciation of God in the world.

The Psalms were often expressions of personal moods and experiences, significant because these moods and experiences found so deep a response in the souls of others. Greatest of similar Christian hymns is, I think, Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light."

But richest and best of Christian hymns are those which sound the depths of love and grave, such hymns as Charles Wesley's "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," and one that is among the richest and best of all, the hymn of the blind George Matheson, "O Love, That Wilt Not Let Me Go." These sound the note of something higher and deeper than man's love to man, or man's love to God —the Love of God, which is the Source of all love.

Says Greatest Contribution To Human Culture Is Bible

By The Rev. E. R. JAMES.

This is the experience of a Jew more than twenty-five centuries ago. He did not dream that he was writing for the generations till the end of the age. Multitudes have experienced the fact that "Thy word is a lantern unto my feet." You also accept and you would be deeply indignant at any one throwing stones at the Book. But do you read it daily as you do your newspaper? The devil is never so happy at your indignation when it ends in that but you do not read it. Is it a closed book to you.

Sometimes it is uplifting to know what great thinkers say of the Book. Gen. Smuts gives this testimony. "The Bible is the greatest contribution to human culture, thought and religion. It is the Jews' contribution to the uplift of the people of all types and tongues."

The authorized version of the Book is the greatest translation among the books of knowledge. The committee consisted of forty-seven men, none of them of outstanding ability.

The holy spirit guided them so that their work has comforted men and women through the centuries. This is the wonder of the translation that all sorts and conditions of men have accepted this translation.

God Speaks

The Bible is more than great literature. It is the word of God; God speaking to us through His written word. Every emotion and experience of man is found in it. The writers, prophets and saints, did not know they were writing the word of God. They were not conscious that they were inspired. They were moved to write by an inward burden. As you read some scripture you will have the experience of men who cried: "did not our hearts burn within us. In time of trouble the Book had a word of comfort for the heart.

How are you to read the Book? With the eye of faith. Mere reading will not make you a christian The New Testament was written for the strengthening of believers. "That thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed" (St. Luke 1: 4).

The great secret of the Book is that it reveals that Jesus is the Son of God who came to reveal the character of God. "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father." Through His indwelling spirit in you He will reveal himself to you." Do men see God in you?

Injured By Explosion

THREE RIVERS, Que., Sept. 17 (CP)—Four youths were injured, one of them seriously, in the explosion of a gasoline container at the Caron service station in nearby St. Louis de France Friday night. Police said the youths had been given permission to repair their old automobile in the garage. They were said to have emptied the car's gas tank and to have placed the fluid in a container when an explosion rocked the building and set fire to it.

Limited Self-Rule

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP) — Britain Friday gave limited self-rule to Cirenaica, a former Italian colony in North Africa. The colony's eventual disposition is still up to the United Nations. Emir Sayed Idris El Senussia, 61, a hard-bitten Arab prince who raised volunteer battalions to fight the Axis early in the Second World War, was empowered to write a constitution for handling Cirenaica's internal afairs.

Four Injured Car Ditched On Keene Road

Four young people were injured early today when their car ran into the ditch and struck a tree on No. 7 Highway, about five miles east of Peterborough.

Three of them are in St. Joseph's Hospital but their injuries are not believed to be serious.

In hospital are Boyd Cowie, 17, of Hiawatha, driver of the car; and two 'teen-aged girl passengers Marion McElroy and Isabel McColl, both of Keene. The fourth occupant of the car was [illegible] Hospital.

deep lacerations and general bruises. Cowie has an injured knee, Miss McElroy a lacerated forehead and nose, and Miss McColl some undetermined injuries.

They were attended by Dr. Wilson Ford of Keene and Dr. C. F. Cahill.

Details of the accident are lacking but it is believed the four young people were returning home shortly after 4 a.m. today when the car went out of control and plunged into the ditch. Then it smashed into a tree with considerable force.

Provincial Constables R. A. Feeley and E. G. Patterson investigated.

Hospital Discharged 435 Patients In Month

During August a total of 435 patients were discharged from Civic Hospital. And the number of laboratory examinations over the same period increased nearly 50 per cent.

Two hundred and forty-six patients recovered completely, 165 were improved, one was unimproved and four were in for diagnosis.

Five deaths occurred under 48 hours in the hospital and seven over 48 hours. There were two stillbirths. Five patients were transferred.

Laboratory examinations amounted to 2,027 this past August while a year ago the figure was 1,399. Physiotherapy treatments were also up—52 compared with 33 last year. Fewer X-ray examinations were made, however—281 last month compared with 295 in August 1948.

PILGRIMAGE SUNDAY

A Peterborough diocesan pilgrimage to the Canadian Martyrs shrine near Midland will take place Sunday. A special CNR train leaves here at 8.15 a.m. (DST), and, returning in the evening, leaves the shrine at 6.30 p.m. This train sets out from Campbellford. Stops include Hastings, Peterborough and Lindsay.

POW! POOR PIGSKIN. After PCVS quarterback Bryon Young gets through with it, it will either be flat, fumbled or make a touchdown. Although a lightweight, 135 pounds, third-year student Bryon and his buddies are polishing to a fine point for the first exhibition game with Riverdale Collegiate, Toronto, on Sept. 24, under flood lights.

Choral Society Planning Ambitious Year

A local group interested in good music has announced its intention of forming a choral society for mixed voices in Peterborough. This society has secured the services of William Sims, local voice teacher, and Don Landry, supervisor of music for 22 rural schools.

The choir will produce as its first effort the oratorio "Samson" by Handel. This will be followed by that composer's best known work, "The Messiah." It is planned to use local soloists.

Those who prove their ability in these two oratorios will have the opportunity to sing in the operetta "The Mikado," and Edward German's "Merrie England," both planned for this season.

William Sims, who has evinced a great deal of interest in local talent since coming from Montreal, is going to give individual vocal instruction to all who qualify for admission into the choir.

With Mr. Sims' experience, members of the committee are enthusiastic about what they call "their contribution to the cultural life of Peterborough."

Donkey Ball Game Draws Largest Crowd of Season

The largest crowd of the season thronged Riverside Park Friday night to watch the Police and the Lions club members engage in a game of donkey softball. After Lion Bert Sisson connected with pitcher Stew Fife's first pitch, bedlam broke loose on the field. For the next hour and 15 minutes there was so much confusion on the playing field Police were playing for the Lions team and the Lions were playing for the Police. The final score was lost somewhere between the third and fourth innings, but officials said after the game that it was in the vicinity of 4-all.

After ten minutes of play Sisson brought in the first run of the game after his donkey had been led around the bases with a bunch of carrots dangling about a foot in front of him.

Pappy and Maggie caused the most trouble for the teams as these two donkeys thought they were part of a wild west show. Large players and the clowns were given the opportunity of riding these mounts and what an opportunity. As soon as they touched the donkeys' backs they were bounced to the ground either sideways, forwards or backwards. Bucking Bill Fife of the Policemen was the first to succeed in taming the bouncing Pappy but received some hefty bumps on the ground before doing so.

The umpires were fair. Strikes were balls and balls were strikes. By chance some balls and strikes were counted only a half a ball or strike. Four different calls were given by the officials of the game on one call at the plate. After a football huddle at the plate the runner was called out.

Base Umpire Ivan Fletcher was severely reprimanded several times for fielding hit balls. Gord Trennum at the the plate was carried from the game by the irate Lions. He later went in to pinch-hit for the Policemen. George Hildenbrand of the Lions succeeded Trennum at the plate with padding, a mask and a girdle over his green-flowered dress. He later made an appearance at the Panthers-Orillia football game.

An ambulance waited, primed for action, in centre field while doctor Harold Freeman and nurse Bob MacDonald rushed about. The doctor and nurse finally ended as the battery for the last inning for the Lions.

Leaving the police station about 7 p.m. the donkeys, policemen and Lions were led to the park by the Lions' Club Hillbilly band. They paraded up George St. to Hunter St. and east on Hunter St. to the park. The Lions were in ladies' clothing.

The most embarrassing moment throughout the night was when Corkie, the base running donkey, had to be taken from the game and replaced by Pappy. Officials of the game said that Policeman Red Andrews weighed 210 while the donkey, Corkie, only weighed 200.

Why Tax Rates Have Increased

If the government had pegged tax rates during the war, municipalities would have been building up funds for necessary expenditures instead of having to raise all the money now in the annual rates, said Edward Humpage, city auditor.

The experiences of Peterborough is not different from that of most towns and cities, even townships, in the country. Mr. Humpage told the finance committee. The tax rate here dropped from 39.2 mills in the early thirties to 30 mills in 1942-43 and 44

That was not much more than a maintenance rate, Mr. Humpage commented. The thirty mill rate was not providing for capital expenditure necessary to a growing city.

When such expenditure and financing was suspended during the depression years followed by the war period, it meant that for approximately 20 years the people were content to defer capital undertakings until the future.

That future is here and now, Mr. Humpage said. Instead of pegging the rate and putting the extra money aside until it would be needed, the ratepayers took advantage of the increasing rates. Since then the pressure of necessary municipal works has been increasing, councils have had to take action, incurring new borrowings and the final result is that tax rates have been climbing to new peaks.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

CAR WINNER

Chris Mitchell, 44 John Street, Port Hope, won the Peterborough Football Club car Friday night with ticket No. 11259. Officials said to-day that they had been unable to reach Mr. Mitchell, but that he will be contacted this morning.

ENROL NEW STUDENTS

This year the Civic Hospital School of Nursing which began September 1, enrolled 32 new students. Most of these come from the Peterborough district but eight are from the city itself. All [illegible] graduation 13th annual convention of [illegible] District 5 at Hamilton next week is George O'Brien. Those previously named are George Niles, Art Hunter, William Whibbs, George Wallace, Herbert Youngs and Tom Davies.

OVERFLOW CROWD

A crowd reminiscent of the times when Peterborough was represented in the Senior ORFU saw the football game at Exhibition Park Friday evening. Officials estimated the crowd as between 4,000 and 4,500, with the grand stand packed and cars and people crowding the touchline on the south side of the field

COMPLETES COURSE

After completing a course in Nurse Education Miss Roberta Cranfield has returned to the staff of the Civic Hospital, and will be placed on the Instructional Staff for the present. At the first of the year she will continue with her supervision of teaching on the wards.

NO PARKING PETITION

Alex McIlvena, 33 Cricket Place, has asked the council to ban parking on Driscoll Terrace from Hunter St. to Cricket Place. The street is not wide enough for parking and traffic. Chief Thompson is being asked for a recommendation.

CIVIC NURSING CARE

A daily average of 125.2 patients received nursing care at Civic Hospital during August, making the total number of hours of bedside care 15,808. Total nursing hours per patient per day was 4.07. This latter figure compares with 3.3 hours per patient day at Queen Mary.

WATCH FOR FLAG

Members of the Kawartha Conservation Association who are participating in the overland trip to Cedar Lake on Sunday are warned to watch for a stopping flag. This will be erected on Highway 28, four miles north of Burleigh, and meeting time is to be 11 a.m.

ORION APPROACHING

You will meet your frosty friend Orion if you are abroad any of these mornings about the time the C.P.R. train arrives from Ottawa. He is just as brilliant as ever as he prepares to make his winter entry, and stalk his beat across the sky until the days begin to lengthen again in March.

RECEIVE PINS

Stan Gilmore, immediate past president of the Kinsmen, has been awarded an attendance pin for not missing a club meeting in four years. A three-year pin went to Jack Lewis. Harley Weir, Bill Vanstone, Clarence Smith, and Harry Tewsley received two-year pins. Harry Bail and Art Black, a year's perfect attendance pin.

REVENUE AT CIVIC

Excess of revenue over expenditure at the Civic Hospital and Queen Mary amounted to $692.98 during August. Including city and county grants, and revenue from other sources, the total revenue amounted to $37,327.48. Expenditures for salaries was $20,479.72 and other expenses amounted to $16,154.78. At the end of eight months the excess of expenditure over revenue amounted to $2,705.40.

HEAVY CAR DAMAGE

Neither driver was injured but extensive damage was caused to two cars Friday night in a collision in Norland on No. 35 Highway. The drivers were George Henderson, 60, of Huntsville, and James Le Craw, of Norland. Details of the acident are lacking pending further investigations by Provincial Constable L. G. Lyle of Fenelon Falls.

4-Months Stay In Britain Gains 6 Pounds

Whatever is to be said of Britain's food supply in these days of much mentioned austerity, Mr. C. G. Kingan, Peterborough hardware merchant, said today it evidently did not lack in nutrients. In his four months' holiday he took on six pounds that he didn't need.

Probably much of the credit for that gain in weight is due to the [illegible] spent several [illegible] on the island, the native home of his wife, who accompanied him with their daughter, Ruth.

"It is really a wonderful place for a holiday," Mr. Kingan said. "The island is only 12 miles by 35 miles. Their summer tourist invasion is something like 650,000 people. Living costs are low to the visitor. You can get bed and breakfast for 10s. 6d. or 12s. 6d. For $2.50 to $3 up to $4, you can get good accommodation. Nearly all the rooms have hot and cold water, and the people are very friendly and hospitable. The island appeals to people with moderate pensions. They can live comfortably there. Taxes are low and generally it is a most favorable place for people of limited incomes."

Ancient Governmental Custom

Mr. Kingan said he met many of the friends of his previous visit to the island twenty years ago.

"One of them is a Member of the Manx Parliament. We went with him to an interesting event that appeared to be unique. It is an annual affair at which the Manx laws and bylaws are read to the assembled citizens. About 5,000 were present. The program included church services and the reading of government acts and statutes, one of which provided for payment of a contribution to Great Britain for defense purposes. It was a most interesting experience, especially in its essentially democratic aspects."

Mr. Kingan said that before going overseas he had bought a Morris Oxford automobile from Reuben Wilson, taking delivery in England.

"With a month in Scotland, another in England, and the rest of the time on the Isle of Man, we got around to nearly every corner of the country. Tourist guide booklets are full of details. You can easily find your way to old castles, lakes, glens and places generally of historic interest.

"I found the people cheerful and optimistic in spite of all the difficulties through which they have passed in the last ten years. There is scarcity of bacon, butter, cooking fats. Supplies of eggs and milk are generally satisfactory, but they appear to vary somewhat, depending on the volume of production, affected by weather and other conditions."

Resorts All Filled

"We have all read about the shortage of dollars for foreign exchange, but there appears to be ample circulation of pounds sterling. Trains were crowded, summer resorts were filled, and housing is evidently a universal problem. On the Isle of Man they have council houses, built and rented by the government, and at favorable rents.

"We went down to Cornwall and visited Col. and Mrs. N. Wilyms. Mrs. Wilyms was Beatrice Blewett of Peterborough before her marriage. They have a grand home and estate, and they are splendid hosts."

Mr. Kingan said the airplane service between Canada and Britain was a great saving of time.

"I am still marvelling at the fact that we left Prestwick, Scotland, at 11 p.m., and 24 hours later we were at our cottage at Chemong. In that time we had three or four hours in Montreal. We got home at the weekend."

Miss Ruth Kingan took advantage of the trip to Britain to visit the Continent, including France and Italy.

Ask City Continue Daylight Saving

Since the Toronto Board of Control's decision to extend daylight saving into November, Mayor Swanston and members of the council have been receiving information advising the same course for Peterborough.

Business communications with the larger cities would be adversly affected if Peterborough reverts to standard time a week hence. It was said that radio station CHEX is requesting that this city go along with the other large centres in leaving clocks an hour ahead of the sun.

Mayor Max Swanston said he was not surprised by these representations following the Toronto [illegible]

OAC President Visits Blewett Farm

Dr. W. R. Reek, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, was in ePterborough today visiting Harry Blewett's demonstration farm on the Chemong Highway. He was accompanied by Mrs. Reek.

Modern methods of farming were planned for the Blewett place several years ago by members of the staff of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and the OAC. They include a program of land use and soil conservation, contour plowing, planting of trees on soil adapted for reforestation ,renewal of fertility, and the amalgamation of several fields by the removal of a stone fence that had been piled up by the owners of the farm many years ago.

Dr. Reek was greeted by Frank C. Paterson Friday night, and went out to the farm with him today.

Ideal Weather To Grow Corn Curtailed Borer

A lessening of corn borer attacks in farmers' and gardeners' fields this year are believed to be due to the ideal summer weather. The climatic conditions have been so good that the corn grew very rapidly with the result that whatever attacks there were have not been noticed as much as they would have been in a slower growing summer.

Ernest McWilliam, of the Dewart Milling Company, told the Examiner that "the corn crop is excellent this year, mostly due to the hot, dry summer." The crop all over the province is said to be good.

In addition to the fact that there was fast growth, Mr. McWilliam said, it is thought that there was less early corn planted and thus the borer did not get too great a start at an early stage. The late corn, he said, is less susceptible to attack because of the life cycle of the borer.

Damage To Car $75 Collides With Truck

A car came out second best in a collision with a truck backing out of a lane onto Simcoe St., between George and Aylmer Sts. early Friday afternoon.

Police reported R. M. Glover, 361 Park St. was driving west along Simcoe St. about 20 miles an hour. More than half way along the block from George St., he was in a collision with the rear of a truck backing from a lane, driven by Wm. Moody Lindsay.

There was only a little paint scraped off the truck but about $75 worth of damage was done to the right side of the car. Constable S. Keliele reported there were no skid marks on the pavement.

Planning Board Oppose Idea Dublin St. Dairy

A Peterborough town planning bylaw came nearer to reality Friday night when James Dutton, chairman of the Town Planning announced at a board meeting that the Municipal Board of the provincial government okayed the Planning Board's proposal to prepare a synopsis of the proposed bylaw for the public's information.

Once the synopsis has been prepared by city solicitor W. F. [illegible] of the synopsis [illegible] phlet form will be posted in public places such as the library, the city hall and various schools. A map illustrating the proposed plan for the city zones has been prepared by City Engineer A. E. Chalmers for use in conjunction with the pamphlet.

A petition signed by over 80 percent of the landowners of the area bounded by London, Dublin, Division and George Sts. asking that Campbell's Dairy not be allowed to build a dairy on a lot on the south side of Dublin between Division and George Sts., received from the city council was read.

No application had been received from the milk company by city council or the planning board, but the ratepayers of the area had heard that such a plant was planned and were anxious to protest first. The petition was turned over to the Planning Board by the city council for its consideration.

The board's decision was that "the area is a third density residential area and the implied use (in the petition) is not permissible and we recommend no change in the zoning of this area to permit commercial or industrial use."

Three applications for the planning board's okay on a proposed nursing home, guest house, and tourist home were ruled permissible and it was moved that the city council be advised of the board's approval of licenses being issued when required.

A. Sculthorp, 232 Edinburgh, came to the board meeting to seek approval of a plan to start a nursing home at the corner of Edinburgh and Aylmer Sts. The board decided since the location was in a third density residential area, there was no reason why there shouldn't be a nursing home when, boarding houses, residential hotels, professional men's offices were permitted.

F. W. Neal, on behalf of his mother, Mrs. S. D. Neal, 570 Water St., asked the Planning Board's approval to making the house a guest home.

Mr. Neal said few alterations would be made to the house's interior. Hubert Sills, of the board, said, I believe the house is in a third density district and there is no problem here. He said lodging houses, and boarding houses as well as residential houses were permitted in such areas under the zone plan and issuing a license for a guest home would be no contravention of the plan.

In a letter to the city council, Mrs. A. E. Barrie, 635 Water St., applied for a permit to run a tourist home in her house.

Mr. Sills said, the same thing applies here. The city council had passed along the application for the board's ruling because it did not know whether or not it fitted in with the zone plan.

Permission for F. C. Wallwork to build a printing shop behind his house at 822 St. Mary's at the corner of Western Ave. was denied by the board.

I think we should turn it down, said James Craig. He said the house was in a third density district which did not permit light industry which would include printing. He thought the board would be establishing a bad precedent if it ruled against its own zoning regulations.

The Planning Board voted to inform the council the application did not conform to the zoning and it should not issue a license for the plant.

First Sanctioned Child Belongs To All Doukhobors

VILLAGE OF THE ARCHANGEL, HILLIERS, B. C. Sept. 17 (CP)—Gabriel Archangelovich I, first sanctioned child of this 180-member Doukhobor colony, has been hailed as the means to fulfilment of a biblical prophecy.

The seven-weeks-old baby is the communal property of the Vancouver Island colony. He was dedicated by his mother, Florence Barikoff, at an unique ceremony last week. Elders of the community decline to name the father, and say his identity doesn't matter.

The Elders, represented by Joseph Podovinikoff, say the [illegible] 100 years of [illegible] attainment.

Members of the sect, a [illegible] twig on the tree of Cana[illegible] strong Doukhobor minority, [illegible] to purify themselves from all taints of ownership and property. They caused a major furore in religious circles some years ago when it became known that mates were shared.

Belongs To All

The birth of Gabriel Archangelovitch I marks an extension of the same philosophy. He is the "property" of no one, but the responsibility of the entire community. His mother was permitted to conceive the child only after she had been declared "physically and morally fit" by the 24 Elders and the group's leader, Michael (the Archengel) Verigin.

From these leaders will come the child's spiritual guidance.

His mission will be to redeem from their sect—those who renounce property connections and dedicate themselves to each other and collective humanity.

The Elders believe the innocent infant victims of the worried tyrant will form a nucleus of the select kingdom of God. They say the remainder will come

The Hilliers colony is the first to take such actual steps toward an ideal propounded decades ago when the Doukhobors first broke with Czarism in Russia.

The main, or orthodox, body, has to a great extent assimilated Canadian customs and adheres to Canadian laws.

IN HIS FIRST FIVE WEEKS at Optimist Club's Boys' Town, Walter Bent has organized a boys' choir numbering 40. They will perform in the opening of the Town on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. (Left to Right): John Munn, Richard Atkinson, Murray Hynes, James Legros and Murray Mann practise for the Sunday afternoon's two-hour show. They placed second in the Peterborough Exhibition Amateur Show.

Sunday Sport To Be Discussed

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Two referendums which may give Toronto Sunday sport, will be put before City Council when it reconvenes Monday.

Controller Alan Lamport and Alderman Roy Belyea each announced plans to ask for a referendum on the Sunday sport issue at the next municipal election.

Con. Lamport's referendum proposal deals with the previous decision by City Council to prohibit the Parks Department from issuing permits for teams to use the parks on Sundays. The referendum would ask "are you in favor of the city granting permits for the holding of amateur match [illegible] in pub[illegible]

Belyea's proposed referendum deals directly with the Lord's day act itself and asks: "are you in favor of seeking legislation exempting the City of Toronto from the provisions of the Lord's Day Act?"

Metropolitan Police In Two Years—Mayor

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Mayor Hiram E. McCallum predicted Friday that a metropolitan police system for the greater Toronto area will be [illegible] to [illegible] by setting up a metropolitan area or by amalgamation.

The snapping of a safety bar on a second-storey scaffold Friday pitched Morris Wasson, 50, to pavement beside a downtown building. In the 25-foot fall, Wasson, who had been painting the building, suffered a broken arm. His partner scrambled down safely from the scaffold.

Better Pension Plan Offered To Strikers

DAYTON, O., Sept. 17 (AP)—B. F. Goodrich Company Friday offered some 16,000 striking CIO United Rubber Workers an improved pension-insurance plan but refused to grant a fourth wage increase since the end of the war.

The Goodrich strike was called three weeks ago. The union demanded a 25-cent increase above current production-worker averages of $1.65 an hour, and company-financed pensions of $100 a month.

J. W. Keener, Goodrich vice-president said the company is offering a benefit program which would cost 10 cents an hour for each employee.

Jet Planes Used

THE HAGUE, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—Jet-propelled airliners will be flying on the world's commercial air routes within four to five years, Sir William Hildred, director-general of the International Air Transport Association, said Friday.

To Enthrone Bishop

HAMILTON, Sept. 17 (CP) — The new Anglican Bishop of Niagara will be enthroned next Wednesday with colorful pageantry in Christ Church Cathedral here. Led by Archbishop John Lyons of Kingston Metropolitan of Ontario, six bishops from Ontario dioceses will take part in ceremonies during which Dean Walter Bagnall of Hamilton will become the seventh Bishop of Niagara, succeeding Bishop L. W. B. Broughall, who retired recently.

Court Of Appeal Won't Hear Motion

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Ontario Court of Appeal Friday declined to hear a motion involving Woodbine race track. The Ontario Jockey Club owner of the east-end track, sought to quash an appeal by the City of Toronto against an Ontario Municipal Board decision which wiped out the city's $500,000 assessment on buildings at the track.

The Appeal Court ruled that the motion to quash the appeal should not be heard until the city's case is entered. The case is expected to be ready by the end of September.

Abandon Gold Backing

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies Friday passed the government's bill to abandon the gold backing for the Argentine peso. The measure would substitute the "national wealth" of the country as the support for the peso (now valued at about 21 cents). Present law requires that the government maintain gold reserves to cover at least 25 per cent of the money in circulation.

Brother Performs Marriage Of Kathleen A. Quinlan

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a lovely wedding this morning when Kathleen Anne, daughter of Mrs. Quinlan and the late David Quinlan of Marmora, became the bride of Kenneth Richard Crough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crough, Peterborough. The Rev. F. J. Quinlan, of Arnprior, brother of the bride, performed the marriage and said the nuptial mass.

The church was decorated with gladioli and ferns. Mrs. R. C. Aman played the music and accompanied Mrs. Hugh Brady of Marmora when she sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory and "On this day" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Michael Quinlan of Madoc, the bride wore a Victorian style gown of white slipper satin with a low cut neckline set in with fine net which formed a bertha on the shoulders and she wore a finger tip veil which was caught to a coronet of pearls. She carried a cascade of red roses and white gladioli.

Miss Rita Crough, the groom's sister, as bridesmaid was frocked in orchid taffeta, the gown styled with hip interest and a bertha. She wore a matching headdress and carried yellow gladioli. Little Gail Cox of Marmora, niece of the bride, as flower girl was in light blue organdy, wearing a matching poke bonnet and carrying a nosegay of assorted flowers.

The groomsman was Mr. Lorne O'Neill of Oshawa. Ushers were Robert Cox and Dee Sullivan.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Club Aragon. The bride's mother received, wearing a gown of navy flowered crepe with black accessories and corsage of American Beauty roses. The groom's mother assisted in a dress of wine tissue faille with black accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Crough have left on a motor trip to New York City the bride travelling in navy dress and accessories and a powder blue coat. She wore corsage of pink roses. On return they will live at 513 Donegal St.

St. Joseph's Aux. Starting Season's Work

Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital held their first fall meeting Thursday evening at the nurses' residence.

President Mrs. J. V. Gallivan welcomed the members and urged them to co-operate in the full program to be undertaken for 1949-50.

Mrs. F. J. Lynch reported 780 memberships paid with several canvassers yet to be heard from.

The visiting committee, under the convenership of Miss L. Hurley, was asked to resume visits to the hospital. These will commence next week and continue throughout the winter. Members were asked to contribute reading material for patients.

The annual tag day to be held on Saturday, Sept. 24, will be in charge of Mrs. J. V. Gallivan and Mrs. F. J. Lynch,, assisted by committees from each parish.

Plans were made for a bazaar to be held November 16. This event will be under co-convenership of Mrs. G. E. Cauley and Mrs. W. A. Richardson, assisted by Mrs. F. Hickey.

Mrs. R. Paquette and her sewing committee will commence sewing next week with the ladies of St. Peter's parish taking the first week, Sacred Heart parish the second and Immaculate Conception parish the third week.

Mrs. J. J. Crowley reported on the activities of the committee on Nurses-in-training during the past summer. A theatre party was held June 28, a picnic at the summer home of Mrs. J. Meagher on August 1, and a dance at the residence for probationers on September 14.

Price-Wellman

HASTINGS, Sept. 17 (ENS).—A pretty, early fall wedding took place at the Anglican rectory on Friday evening, September 16, at seven o'clock, when Canon C. R Spencer united in marriage Doris, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wellman, and David youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W D Price, all of Hastings.

The bride was charming in a royal blue crepe dress with grey accessories, and wore a c... of pink roses. Attendants were Miss Margaret Baxter of Hastings as bridesmaid, dressed in a blue gabardine suit with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

Mr. Albert Wellman, brother of the bride, of Peterborough, was groomsman.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Hamilton and points west. On return, they will reside in Hastings.

Home and School Association News

GROVE SCHOOL

Mrs. F. Sanders presided for the first meeting of the season of Grove Home and School Association. "Hobby night" was being observed and four guest speakers were present, each introduced by Mrs. W. Higgins.

Mr. Eric McKinstry makes electric trains his hobby, and he displayed two models. Mrs. R. H. Parker showed pieces of her own work in leather and the various kinds and qualities of leather that can be used in this work. Mr. George Robinson had several model steam engines, a steam boat, complete with lights and whistle, and a miniature tractor in his collection. Model boat builder for several years, Mr. Adam Sands displayed his replicas of the Queen Mary, Americana and Bluenose sailing vessel.

The speakers were thanked by Mrs. W. Hargreaves.

Lunch was served by Mrs. S. Whitfield and committee.

French Suits Out Fall Down on Job

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP) — A bathing-suit manufacturer says the skimpy French-type suits fall down on the job.

John O. Gantner, Jr., of San Francisco used a beautifully-filled one-piece conventional bathing suit for a chalk talk to reporters Friday.

Martha Lou Edwards, 21, who was inside the suit, posed as Gantner sketched on her suit the areas covered by French suit. He had a lot of material left over.

Ganener said his company manufactured some of the French type suits last season "and we practically had to give them away."

"A girl just doesn't feel at ease in them," he said authoritatively. "The bras fall down, and the trunks crawl up in front or down in back. What's more, not one woman in 500 looks well in them."

Martha Lou, a model, echoed his sentiments.

"Heavens, I wouldn't put one of those things on," she said.

Melchior Plans To Combine Tour, Holiday

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (CP). — Lauritz Melchoir, tall, broad-shouldered and genial tenor, says he's going to combine business and pleasure on a forthcoming singing tour of Canada.

The singer faces a schedule calling for engagements in 11 cities, starting in Calgary Sept. 29 and ending at Peterborough, Oct. 21. He will be in Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 18.

But it won't all be work, the Danish-born, white-haired viola... after reaching Fort William, where he sings Oct. 12, he will take three days out to shoot partridge and pheasant

"I like to mix business and pleasure when I can," he said, "Things go better that way."

Melchoir, who wore a white shirt, a gayly-patterned tie and tan trousers, said his program won't all be "heavy" music. He will give his audiences a mixture of Scandinavian songs, some Wagner and classical numbers and finish up with a series of popular songs, including some he has sung in his movies.

"The thing is not to make the printed program too long," he continued. "That way, you can give lots of encores when people applaud — and that makes the audience happy, because they think you are doing something extra for them."

Footlight Footnotes

The dramatized script of Gwethalyn Graham's novel, "Earth and High Heaven," has been completed and sent to producers Howard Young and Russell Lewis in California. They are expected to put on the stage version of the Montreal writer's novel on the West Coast, although it may open in Philadelphia. John Patrick did the script. "People Like Us," the Frank Vosper play which has just gone into rehearsal, opens an out-of-town tour in Toronto, Oct. 4. It will come to Manhattan later that month.

Fear Swarm of Jobless

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Fear that Toronto will be swamped with out-of-town truck owners seeking work on the rapid-transit project was expressed Friday by J. R. Sheppard, speaking for the Toronto Cartage Association at a police commission meeting. He said he doubted that more than 40 or 50 dump trucks will be needed on the job and said "if there is any extra work going, they (local operators) are in dire need of it."

Only Three Types Widows Crushed, Grasping Martyr

There are three kinds of widows: Those to whom widowhood comes as the most crushing blow that Fate could deal. Those to whom it comes as the end of a long martyrdom and to whom it is the greatest blessing that Heaven could bestow. And those who achieve widowhood by way of the divorce court and seldom find it satisfactory.

No woman is more to be pitied than the one who loses a good, kind husband who loved her and whom she worshipped. He has protected her, sheltered her, stood between her and every hardship and without him she is forlorn and lonely as a child lost in the dark. He has been the center of her world. When he is gone, all is gone.

Dorothy Dix

Often added to her desolation is the terror that seizes her when she thinks of a future in which she must fend the wolf from her door. The funeral will take all of their meagre savings. Helpless children are clinging to her skirts and she knows nothing but how to be a good wife and mother and housekeeper. She knows no trade by which she can earn a dollar. For the moment, at least, she wishes that she and the babies could have gone with the tender husband and father.

Sometimes the death of her husband comes to a woman as the breaking of his shackles comes to a slave. For her children's sake, for pride's sake, or because she was helpless, she has endured years of grinding tyranny. She has suffered herself to be abused and neglected. She has been humiliated by having to ask like a beggar for money that she has earned ten times over.

At last it is over. She is free. The fault-finding voice is stilled. The miserly hands have loosened their clutch on the check-book. No longer need she go in fear and trembling. Sometimes a widow wears a veil to hide the ravages that grief has made. Sometimes she wears a veil to conceal the relief in her eyes.

Then there is the woman whose widowhood is a racket entered into for the sake of alimony, or because she thinks she can marry more profitably the second time.

There are those pathetic widows who have their widowhood forced upon them by unfaithful husbands who have tired of them and want to swap an old wife for a fairer and younger one. Of all widows, these are the most deserving of sympathy because they have not even the memory of a good husband to comfort them.

But however widowhood comes to a woman, she finds to her amazement that it sets her apart, and brings her strange and disillusioning experiences.

The first is that widows seem to be regarded, not only by professional crooks and thieves, but by all of the overly optimistic ne'er-do-wells among her acquaintance as their legitimate prey. No sooner does one come into possession of her husband's estate than they descend upon her like a horde of locusts.

One might think that some compassion would stir even in the stoniest breast for a woman too grief-stricken to be able to think clearly; dazed and confused, with no knowledge or experience of problems she is called on for the first time to solve. Not so, however. Everybody with a hole in the ground, or a piece of blue sky to sell, everybody with rotten bonds and wildcat stocks, camps on her doorstep and tries to gyp her out of the money on which her yhole life and that of her children depends.

There must be a widow list, as there is a sucker list of easy marks, for every widow with a little insurance has high-powered salesmen try to sell her schemes so palpably fraudulent that they would insult the intelligence of a moron.

Worse still, the widow is regarded as manna from heaven, by all her impecunious friends and relatives.

Uncle John comes to console and ends up by trying to borrow money to pay off the mortgage on his farm, well knowing he has no way of returning it. Cousin Ellen knows dear Maria would just love sending a couple of her children through college, and Aunt Susan elects to come and make her home with her uninvited, because she knows that poor, dear Maria is so lonesome now that John is gone, and widows have to be so careful. People gossip about them so much.

It is perhaps because the widow gets worn out trying to hang on to a few dollars of her property, and because there is no pep in keeping house unless you have a man to eat your good dinners and because there seems to be no place in society where a lone woman fits in and because she feels the need of a companion, even if he gets on her nerves at times, that the widow so often gets married again. Any port in a storm.

Veterans Bring Back British Empire To Ottawa

By MEL SUFFRIN

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP). — Veterans from Australia to Antigua, from Nyasaland to New Zealand and from Scotland to South Africa brought the British Empire back to Ottawa this week.

They were delegates to the British Empire Service League's 10th biennial conference and they came from 23 countries of what is most commonly known today as the Commonwealth. Only they didn't call it the Commonwealth; they called it the British Empire, and they spoke the words as they are not often heard these days.

In recent years the words "British Empire" have apparently [illegible] something that does not exist any more except in the specific cases of the Colonies.

Common Ideals

People in the Dominions have come to feel that Commonwealth more aptly describes the group of countries bound together by common ideals but completely autonomous in handling their own affairs.

Thus, when the Empire is referred to in the present tense nowadays, it is seldom used with the assurance of the men and women who gathered in the Railway Committee Room of the Parliament Buildings.

They deliberated on the problems of the veterans they represent and discussed them with knowledge and understanding that comes only from real experience.

A good example was Lord Cromwell, delegate from the British Legion. When he rose to talk of benefits for ex-prisoners of war he knew what it was all about. It was at Calais, where he won the Distinguished Service Cross shortly after outbreak of the Second World [illegible]

There were other delegates with colorful war records, such as Lt.-Gen. Sir John Brown, chairman of the BESL Empire Council, and Maj.-Gen. Sir James Drew of Scotland. And there were many whose war service just didn't bring the decorations.

But there is one thing that all have in common, as indicated by their speeches at the conference: they believe it's the British Empire still, and they are dedicated to maintaining its solidarity.

Lakefield W.I. Holds Monthly Meeting

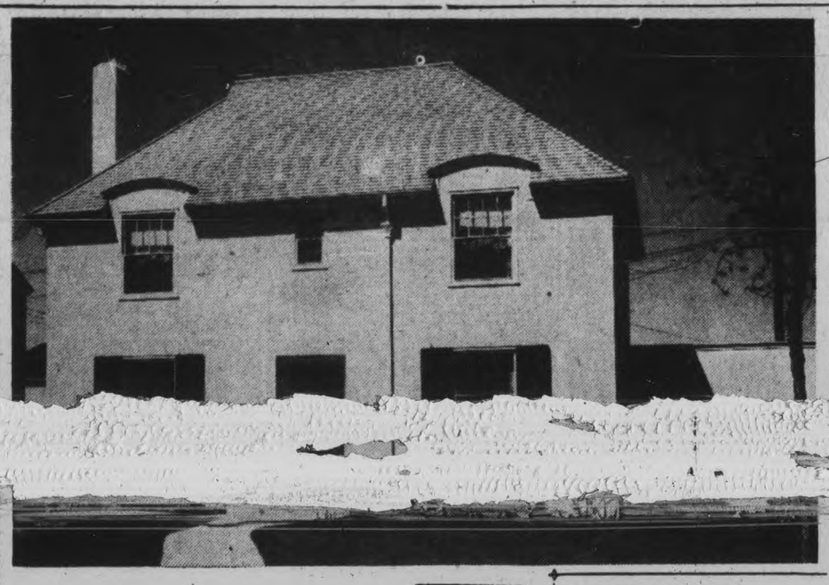
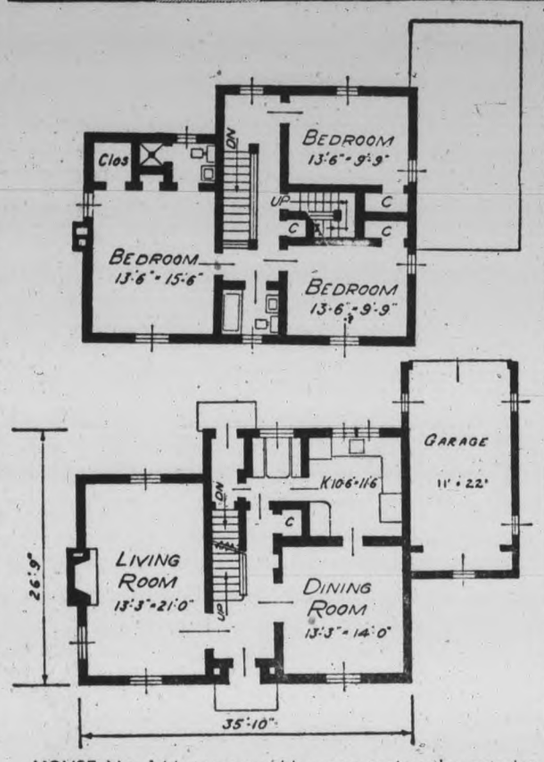
Boy 13, Hit By Car Suffers Scrapes

Thirteen - year - old Donald Boyce, R.R. 4, Peterborough, was hit and knocked down by a car driven by William A. Brown, 47 Benson Ave. early Friday afternoon. The boy had cuts and scrapes on his face, but otherwise was unhurt.

Traffic Officer Clare McGillen reported that Mr. Brown told him he had been driving north on George St. when two boys were crossing in front of him. He blew the horn and put on his brakes but hit young Boyce with the right headlight and front fender of his car, knocking him down. The boys were crossing from the west to the east curb.



Bethany Men Land Big Catch At Pigeon Lake



BETHANY, Sept. 17 (ENS). — Thomas Staples and Ross Carr were lucky fishermen last weekend. They caught a 'lunge weighing 18 pounds, measuring 44 inches long, at A. J. Mackie's, on Pigeon Lake, near Omemee. It was one of the largest fish caught in those waters this season. Staples is a farmer living near eBthany, an ardent fisherman, but this is his best catch of the year. Carr lives in Bethany, and is employed at the Outboard Marine Manufacturing Co. in Peterborough.

Three Men Charged

Three men charged with causing a disturbance appeared in police court Saturday morning and the case was adjourned until Sept. 28.

Harry Goodman 576 George St., Paul Emmings, 315 Bethune and Aubrey Hancock, were the three men. Detective William A. Clarke reported the three had a loud argument on Water St. between Hunter and Brock Sts. about 6 p.m. Friday. One of the men, waving a fistful of money, accused the other of robbing him.

HOUSE No. 144—One would guess, seeing the exterior of his white stucco house, that it is much larger than it really is. There are only six rooms; none very large, yet each one of good proportions. Largest of all, of course, is the living room, which has an open fireplace on the wall opposite the entrance. This room has three exposures.

The kitchen is efficient, bright, and well placed between the dining room and breakfast alcove. Two of the bedrooms upstairs are of identical size, each with cross ventilation and well separated for privacy. The master bedroom, situated directly over the living room, has a private bathroom. It too has cross ventilation. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Helpful Maintenance Hints Eliminate House Troubles

In rainy weather, when it is difficult for the housekeeper to hang her clothes out to dry, or during the long winter months, a clothes dryer may be added in the basement or first-floor laundry room. Much time will be saved by its inclusion in modernization plans.

Screen Guards Gutter

A common maintenance cost which claims a place on almost every home owner's budget is that of cleaning out downspouts and gutters which have become clogged with leaves and debris.

A wire screen, of either galvanized steel or copper, can be fitted over the top of the gutter to keep out leaves and trash, yet interfering in no way with the flow of water. A specially designed screen of reinforced one-quarter-inch wire mesh can be snapped into place. This device eliminates the use of nails, screws, and rivets.

Winter Sun Rooms

Winter brings with it an appreciation of glass-enclosed sunrooms.

With weather conditions making it unsafe for children to play outdoors, a sunroom provides a place for recreational activities and at the same time promotes health.

Decorated with growing flowers, plants, and vines, the sun room provides delightful surroundings for entertaining guests and for the enjoyment of the family.

If immediate plans do not allow for the completion of the sunroom during the construction of a house under the NHA plan, advance planning will save money and insure a more satisfactory job when it is feasible to complete the room.

Painting Screen Frames

To prevent screen frames and storm windows from sticking it is necessary to use a lighter coat of paint when finishing them than is used on the rest of the house. Because the frames, when in place, are not subjected to the same exposure as the rest of the house, they are frequently not allowed as much opportunity to harden, or they are stored in the basement too soon after painting to allow them to dry thoroughly. Reduce the paint considerably with turpentine or other thinner, or use a thin coat of spar varnish, to which just enough coloring matter is added for good coverage.

Attic Stairway

The installation of disappearing stairways in many homes frequently makes possible utilization of waste attic space for small bedrooms, children's play rooms, or dens.

Construction details in many existing homes makes installation of permanent stairs to the attic both inconvenient and impracticable.

Ways and means should be provided so that the attic can be quickly reached in case of fire which may start from a spark on the roof, a defective chimney, or otherwise.

Seal Draft Cracks

Caulking putty is an adequate material for filling up chinks and openings where winter drafts might enter. It will not dry, run in hot weather, nor become plastic in winter.

Caulking putty in wood, masonry, or concrete walls. Be sure also to caulk around all water, sewer and gas pipes where they pass through the walls.

Set Beet Crop Record

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17 (CP) — Manitoba's 1949 sugar beet crop probably will exceed 130,000 tons, constituting an all-time record, provincial agricultural officials said Friday. Previous high was in 1942 when 14,130 acres yielded 128,653 tons. This year officials said, more than 15,000 acres are under cultivation.

Stock Markets Advance Close To Highest Point

By The Canadian Press

Security markets pulled their way steadily upwards this week in the first definite move in some five weeks.

Prices responded to news events in pushing their way within touching distance of the highest point of the year.

Optimism for a settlement in the steel labor dispute [illegible] a special meeting of the international monetary fund gold committee to review the current price of gold spurred buyers in mining issues into action Friday. Recommendation of directors of the International Monetary Fund that countries consider revaluation of currencies also helped activate interest.

At New York, the Associated Press 60-stock index closed the five-day week at 65.5—a gain of a full point over the previous four-day week.

In Toronto, Industrials climbed steadily to mark up an advance of 3.68 on the Exchanges at the highest point since early in January.

Western Oils attracted considerable attention early in the week although tapering off slightly at the close of the five days. They gained 2.30.

Early pressure on golds held the list in check for a gain of .97. News that the federal government planned further extension of aid to gold mines through the emergency gold mining assistance Act helped increase demand late in the week.

Base Metals moved narrowly for a slight advance of .07. Average volume for the five days was 1,235,800 shares, compared with a four-day average of 1,201,250 shares the previous week.

OBITUARIES

WILFRED QUINLAN

The last surviving member of his family, Wilfred Quinlan of 14 Kirk Street, died on Friday at his residence following a lengthy illness. Born in Asphodel, son of the late Patrick Quinlan and Ann McCue before moving to Peterborough six years ago, Mr. Quinlan lived in Asphodel where he farmed until 1943.

He leaves his wife, the former Mary Christie, two daughters, the Misses Geraldine and Bernadette Quinlan, and three sons, Chris, Earl and Ford, all of Peterborough.

Mr. Quinlan was a former member of St. Paul's Church, Norwood, and since coming to Peterborough, of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Funeral will be from his residence on Monday at 8:50 a.m. to St. Peter's Cathedral, where requiem mass will be said at 9 a.m. Burial will be at St. Paul's Cemetery, Norwood.

JOHN JAMES COONES

John James Coones, 83, of 312 Charlotte Street, died today in hospital following a short illness. He was born in Trenton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson Coones, and before coming to Peterborough 25 years ago, lived in Bridgenorth.

He leaves his wife, the former Henrietta Freeburn, and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Gage and Miss Jennie Coones, both of Detroit. There are two brothers, Ernest of Chatham and William Coones of Brantford, and a nephew in Peterborough, John H. Coones.

A retired marine engineer, Mr. Coones was a former member of Bridgenorth United Church and of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Funeral service will be held at the Comstock Funeral Home on Monday at 2 p.m. The Venerable Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church will officiate, and burial will be at Ray's Cemetery, Lakefield.

Hold Funeral Service

GRANBY, Que., Sept. 17 (CP) —Funeral service was held here Friday for Walter R. Legge, former president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and for 17 years publisher of the Granby Weekly Leader-Mail, who died in a Montreal hospital Monday. He was 58.

Accident Victim Still In Hospital

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 17 — (ENS)—Ken. Campbell, who received serious injuries in a car accident on highway 30, 1½ miles south of town Wednesday night, is still in Campbellford hospital.

A report late Friday night night said that his condition was "very good."

Baled Too High

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 17 (ENS)—A truck belonging to the Sawyer Stoll Lumber Co. of Kaladar caused much excitement Friday afternoon when the driver realized his load of baled hay was too hugh to clear the cement weight on the lift bridge.

Backing down to the grist mill he transferred part of the load to Sam Covert's truck. Traffic was held up for a considerable time.

BIG, BUT SHALLOW

Warkworth Plan Own Brass Band

WARKWORTH, Sept. 17 — (ENS)—A representative group of Warkworth village and the surrounding district met in the Community Hall to discuss the formation of a brass band.

A representative of the provincial government was present to explain what support could be obtained from the government. After long discussion is was decided to form a committee to make arrangements for the formation of an association. The following were appointed to the committee: Mrs. Don Thompson, convener, Mrs. Grant Allen, sec.-treas.; Mrs. M. W. Woods, Rev. H. G. Lester; Rev. J. M. Ritchie, Dr. F. B. Brintnell, Allan Buchanan and K. L. Harnden.

The committee hopes to have more members added to help promote this enterprise. The membership fee is $1 and that amount may be left with either Mrs. D. Thompson or Mrs. G. Allen.

Market Unlimited Say CGE Salesmen

COBOURG, Sept. 17 (ENS) — Sales and production experts from Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Cobourg works of the CGE met at Cobourg Friday for a two-day conference. The sessions were held at the CGE plastics plant here and chairman was Tom Carey of the Supply Dept., Toronto. Speakers for the two days' meetings are Harry Gadd, Cobourg Works Manager; Des. Hunter, superintendent; Alf. Byrne, Supply Dept. and Irvin Goddard, Toronto District Office.

Tom Carey said there was no saturation point for plastics in the foreseeable future because no market authority could see any limit to the public absorption of new plastic products. However, there was a need of sales promotion along with increased production from the Cobourg works.

Planning The Top Prize Winter Wheat Crop In The Peterborough 50 Bushels An Acre Club — October Dates Of Black And White Championships Announced — Lindsay Exhibition Next Week.

(By G. A. BRETHEN, Norwood)

As the senior member at Hill-Crest Farm, I have been asked by the Examiner for a story of the winning Hill-Crest entry of L. R. McMillan in the recent 50 Bushel Winter Wheat Club competition in this district.

To begin with, I may say that at Hill-Crest, until quite recently, we never considered the farm good fall wheat land. According to the views of Old Timers, the fields did not lie right, and had no winter protection of woods or windbreaks. However, since coming into [illegible] many people are learning that if your soil has the proper texture and right ingredients, and you are careful of the quality of the seed you sow, winter wheat can be grown successfully on almost any field today.

Since selling Hill-Crest Holsteins in 1937, very little hay has been grown. Continuous cropping of grain year after year for the poultry left little time for after-harvest cultivation, with the inevitable result that, while the grain crop remained fairly good, weeds such as Canada thistle, couch grass and lambs quarter became more and more plentiful. Two years ago we decided to do something about it. We planned to take a field each year in rotation and make it a clean-up year.

The old fashioned practice of a bare fallow, while of value in killing weeds, was discarded because of the serious loss of humus and soil fertility incurred by frequent hot summer cultivation, a custom which turned much of western Canada's fertile prairie soils, growing abundant crops, into barren wastes of blowing sand.

What we had in mind was to practice a plan that would not only clean up the weeds in one season, but at the same time add a lot of humus and fertility to the soil.

To accomplish both these desirable results in one season, the clovers—sweet, red and alfalfa,—while very desirable in an ordinary mixed farming rotation, were dismissed for our purpose as being too slow, too costly and too uncertain. We wanted a crop that would allow for early summer cultivation of the field, that when sown by June 1 would outgrow any ordinary weeds before they would come to seed, and provide a heavy aftermath to plow down in six to eight weeks, leaving the field ready for fall wheat by the middle of September.

We chose buckwheat. Our field in the winter wheat competition whose yield was recently reported at 58.9 bushels to the acre this year, received the treatment outlined above.

In late May 1948 it was double-disked, top-dressed with manure, plowed lightly and sowed to buckwheat, one bushel to the acre by June 1. It developed a very rank growth and was plowed in while in full bloom late in July It lay idle during the hot August days, and little if any weed growth developed. Early in September it was again plowed, doubled disked, harrowed and Cornell 595 wheat was sowed, two bushels to the acre, with 200 pounds 2-12-10 commercial fertilizer, around the middle of September.

[illegible] ter, stooled out well and for a dry season like the past, developed very long heads, which, no doubt, accounted for the heavy yield.

We believed good seed from a nigh yielding variety was an important factor, and it is rather significant that the winning field in this year's competition, with 58.9 bushels to the acre, was grown from seed we bought from Mr. W. W Dawson's highest yielding entry in the 1948 competition (a 52-bus. to the acre crop).

Another very important factor, we believe, in the yield of Hill-Crest field this year was the apparent reservoir of moisture derived from some source, (possibly the plowed-in buckwheat) which enabled this heavy stand of fall wheat to remain green at least one week longer than most other fields in an admittedly abnormally dry year.

The contest judge, Mr. Walter Reynolds, remarked later that it was the greenest field he had judged this year.

In recent weeks in Ontario we have heard, and discussed, much on the subject of Conservation. Conservation of forests, Conservation of fish and game, water supply, tourist attractions, etc., all very important and worth while, but to 90 per cent of the people of southern and central Ontario, deriving their living off the land, the Conservation of vital importance comes from the know-how, the ability, and the willingness to put into practice a Conservation policy on their own farms of growing more abundaht crops each year without depleting the humus or the fertility of their fields.

In other words, putting more into their "soil bank" each year than what they take out. We believe we are doing this at Hillrest. Time will tell. It can be done on any farm. That's Conservation."

TULLY BRED WINNERS

Local Holstein breeders will recognize the identifying word Otonabee in the names of several of the outstanding winners at Black and White Days in Hastings and Lennox- Addington counties. It was adopted by Joseph T. Tully whose herd progeny nave been distributed in near and far places.

At the Napanee fair in Lennox-Addington, John Craven of Bath won the senior and grand championships in the male section with his first prize bull, Otonabee King Colanthus.

At the Belleville Exhibition, the grand champion female and two of her sisters that headed the senior heifer calf and junior heifer calf classes for Allan B. McComb and Sons, Bonarlaw, went on to take the junior get of sire. They are by Otonabee Pabst Posch Billy which was reserve grand and second prize aged bull in the show.

"Billy" was sired by Supreme Pabst Johan, a son of Supreme Grand Slam, and is a half-brother of the good bull of the Ranson Stock Farm at Brooklin.

NEW GROUP'S OFFICERS

Officers of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association which was formed at a meeting of 20 farmers Monday night are:

President—S. Gordon McIntosh, North Monaghan.

Vice-Pres. — Burritt Jopling, Lakefield RR 3.

Secretary—Wellington Sutton, Otonabee.

Membership in groups adopting this policy is restricted "to owners of grade and/or mixed herds. A herd consisting of grades and pure breds shall be considered a mixed herd." A member must own at least 10 cows, maintain a TB tested herd, and own or use a pure bred sire.

Ontario Live Stock Branch will provide a supervisor for each dairy herd improvement association who shall visit each member 12 times during the year. The supervisor weighs the milk of each cow under test on the occasion of each visit. He takes supplies of each for a composite sample for the Babcock test. That is only one of his duties.

The monthly production of milk and fat will be based on the one day test which will apply to the month in which it is done.

The Department will issue to the owner a herd certificate showing the herd average for milk, butter fat and test. Only cows that were in the herd for 305 days or more will be considered in computing herd records. A statement showing production of milk, butter fat and test of each cow, and a summary showing milk production costs will also be given the owner.

DURHAM HOLSTEIN SHOW

J. W. Bowman, Enniskillen, showed the senior and grand champion female at the Durham County Black and White Show at Ororo Fair. She was Cedar Dale Inka Pietje Topsy, who headed the dry aged cow class. Topsy's maternal sister, Cedar Dale Pietje Bessie, owned by Carlos Tamblyn, Orono, stood next to her in class and followed through to the reserve senior and reserve grand championship Both animals are by Montvic Hiemke Pietje Posch, noted son of the famous $21,000 Montvic Bonheur Pietje B. A group by Montvic Hiemke Pietje Posch shown by Carlos Tamblyn also won the senior get-of-sire award and grandson owned by J. W Bowman was first prize senior bull calf, reserve junior and reserve grand champion.

Glenafton Futurity, a son of the noted "Marksman," owned by Central Durham Bull Club, was named junior and grand champion bull after heading the senior yearling class. He will be recalled as All-Canadian bull calf last year and just recently was named Junior and grand champion at Peterborough Exhibition.

Senior champion bull was the winning three-year-old Glenafton Rag Apple Reliance, a grandson of Marksman, owned jointly by James T. Brown & Sons, Newcastle, and E. J. Brown, Orono. A Marksman son, Glenafton Rag Apple Argos, was reserve senior champion for John Cruickshank and H. Bruce Tink, Hampton, after topping the two-year-olds. Neil Malcolm, Burketon had the first prize junior yearling bull and H. Bruce Tink the first prize junior bull calf.

J. H. Jose & Sons, Newcastle, carried off the junior female championship with their winning junior heifer calf, Thames Crest Governor Carol. The reserve junior award went to A. Muir & Sons, Courtice, on Elderslie Rag Apple Noella, the top senior heifer calf. Muir & Sons also showed the first prize senior yearling heifer, first prize junior get-of-sire (by Progressor Kenevelyn Barry), first junior progeny of dam (from Elderslie Hello Sally) and first prize senior herd.

James T. Brown & Sons won both the milking and dry sections of the three-year-old class, while E. J. Brown had the winning milking two-year-old and J. H. Jose & Sons the top dry two-year-old. Neil Malcolm showed the first prize junior yearling heifer. Progeny of Cedar Dale Inka May Stella won the open progeny of dam class for J. W. Bowman, while H. Bruce Tink brought out the winning graded herd.

A total of 180 [illegible] J. M. Fraser, Sherbrooke, Que. [illegible] $765.

FALL COVER CROP

Dr. O. M. McConkey of OAC advises seeding two bushels of fall rye on sloping fields where there is danger of runoff and loss of water and soil. It will furnish some pasture, prevent erosion and add fibre and organic matter to the soil. He recommends Horton and Imperial varieties.

"If your field has been eroded badly, the best plan is to put it back into a hay-pasture mixture. The legumes and grasses are the best soil building crops. They increase organic matter, improve the structure of the soil, and prevent loss of soil and water. Cover crops are now widely used in the USA as a result of the conservation program.

I believe the use of cover crops to prevent erosion will be widely adopted in Ontario within a few years on our general mixed farms."

GOLD TRADERS GO WILD ON EXCHANGE

FIRE SWEEPS NORONIC—In the worst ship disaster on the Great Lakes in a century an early-morning fire on Saturday gutted the 36-year-old Noronic as the passenger liner law at the Canada Steamship Lines dock at the foot of Bay Street in Toronto. At least 121 bodies have been recovered after the blaze. This shot was taken half an hour after the first alarm at 2:38 a.m.

Early Volume Highest In Two Years

Some Restraint Seen In Actual Prices Paid During Day

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — Gold traders, the scent of devaluation in their nostrils, went wild today on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The trading floor was bedlam, floor men shouting and dashing about from post to post.

In the first hour the Exchange's gold index, compiled from representative stocks, made a record gain of 9.56 points to 114.63, the highest level it has reached since 1947. First-hour volume of 1,046,000 shares also was the highest in two years.

It was the sort of day the gold men have been looking for since the dark day, for them, in July, 1946, when Canada put her dollar at par with American currency, raising it from 90 cents.

But for all the tumult and wide advance, some restraint was visible in the actual prices paid.

Sharp opening advances were reduced after a half-hour of trading but the upward trend returned to put most figures at around their best of the day.

Get Most Attention

Producing mines, those which have gold to sell, got most of the attention. McIntyre, the biggest gainer, advanced $3.25 to $66.75, then dropped back for a net gain of $2.50.

The advance spread in more moderate degree to base metals, and most parts of the list were ahead.

The Exchange's noon gold index showed a slight decrease from that at 11 a.m., but still ahead 8.47 points at 113.54, with volume to noon at 2,133,000 shares.

The base metal index was ahead 3.57 and 103.07; industrials 1.15 at 183.40; while neglected Western Oils stood about still, ahead .01 at 48.34.

Traders Calm Down

Traders calmed down a bit around the noon hour—hoarse from the morning's yelling, tired in their shirt sleeves.

Devaluation of the British pound set off today's rise, but what the gold traders actually are thinking about is the possibility that the Canadian dollar may also be devaluated. Finance Minister Abbott is expected to make an announcement of this tonight. If it is devaluation there will be more tumult tomorrow; if it is not devaluation there may be some headaches.

Pound devaluation in itself does not directly affect Canadian mines, because Canada does not sell gold to Britain.

However, she sells it to the United States at $35 an ounce and if the Canadian dollar should be

Officials Hopeful Death Toll Will Remain At 121; 84 Still Reported Missing

Boat Crew Blames Wind For Spreading Wall Of Flames So Rapidly, Special Trains With Relatives Pour In

TORONTO, Sept. 19—(CP)—As the first formal enquiry into the S.S. Noronic fire disaster opened today, an official of the Canada Steamship Lines said he felt sure that the toll of dead would remain at 121. "I feel quite sure 121 is the correct toll and no more bodies will be found," said Robert Ness, secretary of C.S.L.'s operating department. This tallied with figures compiled by The Canadian Press which showed 121 bodies recovered, 479 known survivors and 84 persons unaccounted for from a total of 684 passengers and crew.

"I do not believe there are any bodies left in the ship," Ness said. "We had divers at work in the ship all day yesterday, and it has been thoroughly searched."

Another company official said earlier that he was certain that those unaccounted for to date would turn up safely at their homes in the United States.

28 Identified

At mid-day, an official of the emergency morgue where the 121 burned bodies were taken said that 28 had been identifid and that 28 had been identified and released. Two had been identified but not released by the coroner. Another five had been tentatively identified.

Only three tarpaulin-wrapped charred and blackened forms were taken from the ship Sunday to join the others laid out in the building of death at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Then, one or two of the throng of happy holidayers on the Noronic's last Great Lakes cruise of the season who had been thought dead reported that they were alive. Sunday night, Dr. W. S. Stanbury, National Commissioner of The Canadian Red Cross, voiced his personal opinion that 90 per cent of the number still unaccounted for would be found "safe at home in the United States."

Frank Morgan Veteran Actor Dies Suddenly

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19 (AP)—Frank Morgan, 59, well-known screen character actor, was found dead in bed at his home Sunday.

His wife and a housekeeper said they had been in his room earlier but thought the actor was sleeping late and did not disturb him.

Later Mrs. Morgan said she went back, found that he was not breathing, and called an inhalator squad. However efforts to revive him were unavailing.

Morgan's latest film appearance was in "The Stratton Story" in the role of a baseball scout. He was one of the veterans of the screen and had appeared in such pictures as "The Great Ziegfeld," "Wizard of Oz," "Tortilla Flat," and "White Cargo."

Morgan's real name was Frank Wupperman. He was born in New York City, June 1, 1890, and appeared on the stage in his youth.

The actor started out as a brush salesman, but soon decided to follow in the footsteps of his brother, actor Ralph Morgan.

Friends said the silver-haired actor had not been sick and that his death came unexpectedly. The cause of death was not immediately determined.

He is survived by his widow, Alma, a son, George Morgan, 32, his brother, Ralph, and two sisters.

Brother Shot In Car Row Man Arrested

HAVELOCK, Sept. 19 (ENS)—An argument among three brothers over who should use a family car, Saturday night, ended in one receiving a bullet wound in the head and another being taken into custody by Provincial Police.

All are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Newton whose farm home is located about four miles north of here.

In St. Joseph's Hospital where his condition Sunday night was described as "good" is Morris Newton, age 23, with a scalp wound and an eye injured by flying glass. His brother Howard, 21, is in jail in Peterborough on a charge laid by Provincial Police. The third of the three brothers is Harry, 25. It is understood he was not directly involved in the shooting.

Today in Magistrate's Court Howard pleaded guilty to a charge of pointing a firearm at his brother Morris, and he was remanded for one day.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton had gone into Havelock Saturday afternoon in another car owned by Willard Newton, a son at present in Western Canada. The three brothers remained at home and later became involved in a quarrel as to who should have use of the car to go into the village.

Waiting New Car

Morris is said to have left the house and was standing beside the car preparing to enter. And it is reported that Howard approached from the other side of the vehicle and fired the .44 calibre rifle at his brother.

A bullet creased Morris' skull and he received a quantity of glass in his right eye as a result of the shot smashing through the windshield.

The injured youth was taken by car to Havelock by Dr. W. M. Judd after Harry phoned for aid, and first aid was administered. Later he was placed in St. Joseph's Hospital.

His condition is not considered serious and Sunday night he was reported as good. He is under the care of Dr. R. K. Magee.

Provincial Constable R. Pope is continuing the investigation.

Open Noronic Inquiry Behind Closed Doors

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)—Behind closed doors, first formal enquiry into the Noronic disaster began today. Captain Wilfred N. Morrison of the Department of Transport began a confidential preliminary hearing.

"This is just an examination for discovery," Capt. Morrison said. "A full report will be sent to Ottawa, and the decision regarding a full public enquiry will be made there."

Only members of the crew of the Noronic are to be called as witnesses at today's enquiry. Capt. William Taylor, master of the Noronic will not attend. He is still suffering from severe burns.

Earlier Blaze Quelled On Ship

SARNIA, Sept. 19 (CP)—Crew members Harry Brain, 22, and Marvin Brown, 16, of Sarnia said today that a stateroom fire on B deck preceded by about 24 hours the holocaust which swept the SS Noronic in Toronto harbor last Saturday.

"That was why someone found a fire extinguisher empty when he tried to use it," Brown said. "It had been used to put out the fire on B deck. . ."

Brown said that when he went through the engine room after being roused to find the whole sky was "aglow," some of the crew were standing around unaware of the fire.

Wheelsman Norman Emmons of nearby Point Edward said the crew fought the blaze from the "very start, even though he knew it was useless."

Swimmer Dies Entering Water At Trent River

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 19 (ENS)—A Toronto man who would have been 70 years on Sunday, died Saturday night of a heart attack when he went for a swim in the Trent River. He was Jack Caird, 987 Bloor St., Toronto.

Mr. Caird was staying for the week-end at the cottage of Matthew Sewell, 259 Greenwood Ave., Toronto, located at Trent River. A second guest at the cottage was Arthur Carr of Stanhope St., Toronto.

According to Provincial Police Mr. Caird waded out into the water for a swim, shortly after 7 p.m. Sunday. Suddenly he collapsed and stiffened out on the water about 10 feet from shore.

The two other Toronto men went into the water and brought him to shore unconscious. Dr. D. J. Holdcroft of Havelock pronounced him dead.

Coroner Dr. W. W. Baker of Campbellford, declared that death was due to a heart attack. There will be no inquest. Both Caird and Sewell are employed by the T. Eaton Co., Toronto.

Hold Demers In Custody Still

MONTREAL, Sept. 19 (CP)—Tony Demers, former Montreal Hockey League player held as a material witness in the death Friday of a Coaticook, Que., woman, was in custody in Montreal today and tonight will be taken to Magog for an inquest into the woman's death.

Dr. J. M. Roussel, Montreal medico-legal expert, performed an autopsy Saturday which showed that there was no skull fracture but Mrs. Anita Laberge died from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Union Will Have Women's Auxiliaries

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — Wives and members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) will be organized into women's auxiliaries, it was decided at a week-end meeting here of the union's district 26. Delegates from Ontario and Quebec locals pledged support to the project.

The 75 delegates also voted to refer to a Canadian Congress of Labor convention the recent suspension of five officials of the United Electrical Workers (CIO) by the CCL executive board.

Order Out of Noronic Chaos

By TIM DICKSON

TORONTO, Sept. 19—(CP)—A city stirred by horror and pity, Toronto today busied itself with the grim details of disaster's aftermath. Bands of volunteers and officials toiled in an atmosphere of despair and hope. At an improvised morgue, where efforts to identify victims of Saturday's Noronic ship fire continued, a tremendous task of mercy remained to be done.

In the flower building at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds, two miles west of pier 9 where flaming disaster overtook the ill-starred Queen of the Lakes hushed groups of relatives examined the watches, the cuff links, the rings, the bent spectacle frames, all the other little personal effects they hoped would help them to claim the remains of loved ones.

With them went volunteer workers, sympathetic and quietly efficient, assuring them that no effort would be spared to help complete the identification. Somehow, even those who left with bowed heads after a vain search, managed to carry away the conviction that there still is hope.

Officials Hopeful

Their conviction is shared by the officials in charge. Bodies not immediately identified are to be sealed in metal containers, to be kept at a central mortuary with whatever record concerning them that can be obtained. As the days go by, some means of establishing their identity from the record may come to light and then they will be released to claimants.

There will be no mass funeral for the victims, most of whom came from the United States. A requiem high mass was scheduled

Britain Devalues Pound Now Worth $2.80—Cripps

LONDON, Sept 20 — (CP). — Prices of British goods in North American markets will take a sharp drop as a result of devaluation of the pound. As of Sunday night the pound is worth $2.80, compared with its previous value of $4.03.

The change which had been predicted for months—and denied by official sources up to the last minute—was announced to United Kingdom radio listeners Sunday night by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, just returned from financial consultations in Washington with Treasury Secretary John Snyder of the United States and Finance Minister Abbott of Canada.

Sir Stafford said Britain had been forced into it by the continuing drain on sterling-area holdings of gold and dollars.

It was in hopes of checking this drain that the new rate had been fixed. He said it might be raised "if events prove we have gone down a bit too low."

Must Earn Dollars

Secondly, devaluation was aimed at increasing Britain's power to earn dollars, for "that's the only permanent solution for our difficulties—to earn more dollars."

Britain's money move touched off the biggest world-wide round of financial juggling since the dark days of the depression.

Eleven other countries whose trade is closed linked with Britain immediately followed suit in cheapening their money. Others were expected to join soon in the parade.

Within a few hours after Britain's announcement, similar cuts in the value of their currency were announced by Australia, South Africa, India, Zew Zealand, Republic of Ireland, Israel, Nor-

Abbott To Give Dollar Ruling

OTTAWA, Sept. 19—(CP)—The government's stand on the question of Canadian-dollar devaluation will be made known tonight in the Commons.

Finance Minister Abbott will make a statement of policy resulting from the sudden sharp cuts in value of sterling currencies announced Sunday.

The finance minister of France is expected to announce his government's decision later in the day. Many other countries remained undecided about their future policy and planned early Cabinet meetings.

Stretch Rope Across Road Children Cause Bad Crash

STRATFORD, Sept. 19 (CP)—A rope stretched across a country road by two nine-year-old girls was blamed by police for an accident Saturday involving automobiles from Sault Ste. Marie, and Stratford in which seven persons were injured.

Police said one end of the rope was tied to a mail box, while the twin girls held the other end.

Police said that a car driven by Richard C. Sharpe of Sault Ste. Marie carrying newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hayes of Stratford who had just been married, stopped to avoid striking the rope. None of the occupants of the car, including bridesmaid Jean Murr of Stratford, was injured.

But the car behind, which police said was driven by Archibald McCarnen of Sault Ste. Marie, crashed into the Sharpe car, smashing in the trunk. Seconds later, a third car, said to have been driven by Jack Ewasik of Stratford, crashed into the McCarnen car, wrecking it almost beyond repairs.

McCarnen suffered a shaking up, his wife a badly sprained foot. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Balfour, of Toronto, passengers in the McCarnen car, were slightly injured but did not need hospital treatment.

Also injured were Mr. and Mrs. Ewasik and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Yousie of Stratford. Jessie Coles and William Holdaway, also of Stratford, passengers in the Ewasik car, were unhurt.

Zoot-Suiters Try To Invade Morgue

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — Police arrested Thomas Sharpe, 26, of Toronto, Saturday night when he wrestled with officers trying to force his entrance into the emergency morgue at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds.

Police said a group of zoot-suiter with a macabre sense of humor tried to force their way into the morgue at a time when only one officer was at the door.

They hooted and hollered and jostled with Salvation Army and St. John Ambulance attendants on their mission of mercy, police said.

One other younger man was given a rough exit after he pretended he was a grief-stricken relative and was escorted through the collection of burned corpses. The youth finally broke down and confessed he was only a curiosity seeker.

Find $42,000 In Bogus Bills

GUELPH, Sept. 19 —(CP)—A cache of $42,000 in counterfeit $10 bills was seized early Sunday by R.C.M.P. and city police — the largest find since counterfeit currency started circulating recently across Canada.

Police said they arrested Frank Cipolla, 32, and charged him with possession of counterfeit money.

Cipolla's arrest came shortly after his 25-year-old wife and Edith May Lafreniere, 24, of Brockville, were arrested in Brockville. Brockville police said they found $1,500 spurious money in Miss Lafreniere's room.

Police here said they found 42 bundles of bogus bills in a new cedar chest in Cipolla's bedroom. The bundles were made up in $1,000 lots, each containing 100 $10 bills.

Police said the bills generally were excellent reproductions. Some were slightly darker than the Bank of Canada bill.

Serial numbers on the bills were not in any sequence. Some of the bundles had all the same numbers while others were made up of bills with different numbers, they said.

Must Redouble Efforts To Export Goods—Cripps

LONDON, Sept. 19—(AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps said today Britons must "redouble all our efforts" to export goods now that the pound has been cheapened.

Reviewing the results of the Washington dollar talks, the Chancellor of the Exchequer told a press conference:

"We agreed to create appropriate incentives to export to the dollar areas and make a vigorous attack on production. Well, we have created the incentive, all right."

Sir Stafford chided a reporter who asked his view on possible devaluation of the Canadian dollar, but most of his listeners got the impression he would welcome such a move.

"Now, now, you know what Mr. (Finance Minister) Abbott would say if I answered that," he said with a smile.

When he was asked if Canadian devaluation would be a good thing for Britain, he smiled and said:

"You can do arithmetic as well as I can."

If the Canadian dollar rate were lowered, it would help Britain by reducing the cost to her of Canadian wheat and other raw materials. Sir Stafford may have had this in mind when he said Sunday night that the price of bread would be increased 1½D (2½ cents) a loaf "unless there are changes made in other exchange rates which may make a smaller increase sufficient."

Sir Stafford tossed out what could be interpreted as a hint that the Labor government intends to soften its attitude toward private industry.

"We realize that conditions have changed in the matter of capital investment," he said, "and that we must study the problems of incentive and suitable environment to capital investments.

Three Men Complete English Channel Swim

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 19 (AP)—Maj. Zason A. Ziganos Sunday night completed swimming the English Channel from France to England, and made Channel history by being the third man within 24 hours to swim the turbulent strait.

He stumbled ashore near Dover at 11:45 p.m. after having been in the water five minutes less than 19 hours.

Earlier two Egyptian army men swam the channel in opposite directions one landing here. He was Lieut. Hassan Abdel Rehim, who arrived a few minutes after midnight Sunday.

Sgt. Marie Hassan landed at St. Margaret's Bay, near Dover, at 9:12 p.m. Sunday night.

A fourth swimmer who made the attempt Sunday was Dr. Geo. Brewer, 38-year-old London physician, who failed to make it on his 13th attempt at the feat.

A. A. Anderson Killed By Auto

WOODBRIDGE, Sept. 19—Alex Anderson, 40, of 42nd St., Long Branch and formerly of Peterborough, was instantly killed Saturday night when he was struck by a car as he was walking on No. 27 Highway, about one mile south of here.

Prov. Cons. William Skidmore said Anderson's car was out of gas and Anderson was probably in search of a service station when he was killed. Driver of the car which hit him was Frank McCutcheon of Kleinburg. Cons. Skidmore said a car and truck had swerved and missed Anderson, who was walking on the driving lane prior to the accident. Anderson's widow, Mrs. Julia Anderson, said her husband in a century or tried to locate the 84 unaccounted for passengers. Appeals were made in United States cities—the great majority of the casualties were Americans—for Noronic survivors to come forward and report their safety.

Compilation of a complete list of victims was made impossible by refusal of Canada Steamship Lines operators of one of the largest fleets of freight and passenger vessels on the lakes, to make available routine information. Adding to the difficulties of officials and newspapers and news agencies was the condition of the remains lying in the central morgue at the CNE. Some of the dead never would be identified.

Spread Rapidly

The $5,000,000 36-year-old Nor[illegible] over in Toronto [illegible] Prescott and the Thousand Islands on a cruise from [illegible] and Detroit when the fire [illegible] its origin so far undetermined. Saturday. Within 15 minutes, onlookers said, the sleek steel-hulled ship was an inferno. Many of those who died suffocated in their beds. Some died, screaming, ablaze on upper decks.

Several investigations into the fire—CSL officials said it started in a lower deck cabin—were opened. One, by the Department of Transport, was ordered by Ottawa.

The Noronic, her black hull of steel laid down in Port Arthur in 1913 but her interior fittings largely of wood, was gutted at pier 9 on the Queen's Quay on a quiet night for Toronto's police and fire departments. The sky was clear with the wind blowing steadily from the southwest.

It was the wind, Chief Engineer F. B. Bonnell of Sarnia said later, that caused the lightning flash of flames from stern to stem. A contributing cause, he added, was the draft created by portholes open the length of the ship on a warm mid-September night. Flames raced along ship corridors as though along tunnels.

Flee Blindly

Tales were many of the ensuing horror aboard the ship. Some survivors—who reached safety by jumping into the cold harbor water, by leaping blindly to the pier, or by swinging hand-over-hand down hawsers—told of men and women fleeing blindly in night attire, only to be snatched by the flames on upper decks. There were many stories, too, of heroism by firemen, policemen, and crew members—a detective in shorts saved 15 persons in the water.

No crew members were among the dead. Bonnell said that only a "watch" crew of about 20 men was on duty, a normal procedure when the ship was in port overnight. A number of bellboys, waitresses, and nurses also were aboard to attend to the wants of passengers, some of whom held gay Saturday night parties in their cabins.

No crew list, said to total 173 names, had been issued by the CSL Sunday night, nearly 48 hours after the fire broke out. The reason given was that it had been lost in the fire, and a list, as shown an the manifest, was being obtained from Cleveland. A list of 140 crew members paid off after the fire was issued Sunday afternoon.

Adds to Difficulties

Similar difficulty was encountered by newspapers and the Red Cross in compiling a list of survivors. On advice of counsel, CSL officials said Saturday that the passenger list of 511 would be issued only when all were accounted for and next-of-kin notified. The list finally was given to the press late that afternoon.

City firemen fought the blaze throughout the night, finally extinguishing it before noon. By that time, five explosions had shaken the ship, she had listed sharply to starboard — bumping against the wharf—then righted herself and settled stern first in 28 feet of water, a total loss. The CSL said she would be scrapped.

Throughout the sunny morning, ambulances, hearses, police trucks and patrol wagons moved steadily along Pier 9 with their cargoes of blackened, twisted corpses, bound for the hastily-established morgue two miles distant. Then, with 111 victims lying on the concrete floor of the CNE's Horticultural Building, the flow ceased for several hours. The number reached 118 by late Saturday night. It increased by three Sunday.

Late Sunday, while invesigators moved carefully among the torn and twisted girders, bent steel lifeboats and piles of black ash, that was the Noronic, another fire broke out in the stern. It was minor, and was quickly quenched.

Divers Explore

Two divers Sunday explored the submerged aft section of the ship and found no bodies—the three bodies located during the day were among wreckage above the water line. Five others were to go down today to continue the underwater search. It was expected that the hull then would be sealed and pumped out to permit a closer search.

At the morgue, slow progress was being made in the identification of remains. Grieving relatives who arrived in six special trains from the United States sought throughout the weekend to identify a loved one by a ring or other piece of burned jewelry. By Sunday night, 36 of the still mounds in the building had names. But most of the others still bore the words "male" or "female". Some had none; the sex was unknown.

Noronic Carries Good Insurance

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — Canada Steamship Lines carried "more than adequate insurance" on the S.S. Noronic, destroyed in a fire here early Saturday which brought flaming death to more than 100 persons, it was announced today by Capt. Norman J. Reoch, company general manager.

"There is insurance carried on the hull itself and—as with all our ships—there is more than adequate coverage to look after claims for death, personal injuries or loss of baggage or personal effects, if there is any liability on the part of the company," he said in a formal statement.

He added: "The company disclaims any negligence absolutely. . . . There is liability insurance carried on all our ships."

Britain Devalues

way, Denmark, Egypt, Malaya and Burma.

France, Italy, Sweden, Holland, Greece and Finland suspended dealings in foreign exchange.

Canadian Devaluation

At the same time, the Canadian government ordered suspension in foreign-exchange dealings until Tuesday. There was speculation in Ottawa that the government might devalue the Canadian dollar—officially valued at par with the United States dollar but discontinued from six to 10 cents in day to day trading on the New York free market.

Sir Stafford insisted the internal value of the pound would not be altered; that is, wages, savings and prices should retain present levels and buying power. The price of bread, however, would have to go up, he said, since most of Britain's wheat and flour comes from North America—principally Canada—and food subsidies, now £435,000,000 ($1,800,000,000) yearly, could not be allowed to increase.

"Apart from this increase in the price of bread," the Chancellor said, "there should not be any noticeable increase in other retail prices, at any rate for the time being."

A Few Increases

Over the next few months there may be some justifiable reason for an increase in the price of a few articles which are made mainly from imported dollar raw materials—that is, if dollar prices do not fall. But we must wait and see what happens."

Some listeners to the broadcast thought a key question was: Can dollar imports be maintained even at the reduced level announced last July?

Sir Stafford blamed lack of confidence in sterling, encouraged by "talk" which started last spring, for hastening the run on sterling and forcing the devaluation.

He said the old method of meeting a crisis would have been to lower prices by "breathing unemployment and bankruptcy" which would have resulted in downward revision of wages. Devaluation was the only alternative.

"This step that I have announced is the most serious the government could possibly take and we are taking it because our present sterling-dollar difficulties are, we believe, otherwise insoluble," he said.

The chancellor's voice quivered with emotion as he wound up with this aupeal:

"We thus start upon another stage in the magnificent struggle of our people to overcome the crushing difficulties imposed upon them by their sacrifices in the World War. We have, so far, splendidly succeeded, and it's no time now to falter or hold back."

How Devaluation Works

Here's how the devaluation works—and how Britain and other countries are taking a calculated risk in cheapening their currency:

Until Sunday night it took $4.03 to buy a pound's worth of British goods. Today the same goods can be bought for $2.80. Britons hope Americans and others with dollars will go on a buying spree that will boost their earnings.

But this financial mechanism also works in reverse. The average Briton eating American wheat, smoking American cigarets or buying American machinery will have to spend more pounds to get those goods.

Financial experts explained that if cheaper prices on goods sold for dollars do not bring a sharp rise in sales then the devaluation would not solve Britain's dollar shortage.

Sir Stafford said the British cabinet had agreed on devaluation before the recent Washington monetary talks.

Next Sunday, an interdenominational service will be held in the Coliseum at the Exhibition Grounds under auspices of the Toronto Ministerial Association and led by Dr. Willard Brewing, moderator of the United Church of Canada.

Mayors and clergy of Cleveland and Detroit, hometowns of many of the victims, have been invited to attend. They will likely sit in on conferences to decide the disposition of any unclaimed or unidentified dead.

Ouen Homes

On Toronto's streets and in her homes and offices, the people of Canada's second largest city discussed in quiet words the tragedy on their very doorstep.

Immediately word of the fire spread, citizens opened their hearts and their homes to survivors and to victims' relatives who came here to seek their kin.

There was the firemen's aid group, known as Box 12, which handed out 25 gallons of coffee to rescue workers and survivors at the fire scene. And the taxi drivers who turned off the meters and put their cabs at the disposal of survivors trying to gather scattered members of their parties. Then there were the hotels who fed and sheltered the dazed, pyjama-clad survivors.

Boom Hits London

LONDON, Sept. 19 —(CP)—A devaluation boom hit London's financial district today in wild trading on the streets in the open air.

Shouting jobbers added tens of millions of pounds to the market value of gold mining, industrials and oil shares.

The stock exchange itself was closed to absorb the devaluation shock. Two thousand brokers, jobbers and clerks worked instead on the pavements of Throgmorton Street.

Prices were shouted from one end of the street to the other. The noise was terrific. Fortunes were made in minutes amid the craziest scenes witnessed in the financial hub of the city since before the war.

Gold shares were hoisted as much as 63 per cent compared with pre-devaluation levels. Randfontein, one of the companies expected to benefit most from the higher sterling gold price, soared to 27s 9d from Friday's level of 17s.

Say Coat Hanger Key To Escape From Ship

TORONTO, Sept. 19 — (CP).— A coat hanger was a key to escape from the death ship Noronic for Mr. and Mrs. Dick O'Brien of Fort William.

They were in their cabin on C deck and fortunately not yet in bed, when the fire struck Saturday morning.

"It was impossible to go out through the door into the hallway but there was a window opening on the promenade of C deck," said Mr. O'Brien. "It had a grid on it and with a coat hanger we pried it loose and went out that way, and were able to help some the same.

"We made our way to the stern of the ship. People were jumping off and I tried to stop some of them, because it seemed to me that we were all right there until help could arrive.

"It did, in the form of a ladder and we made our way off—a few cuts, no clothes, but generally okay."

Base Metals Reflect Upswing

TORONTO, Sept. 19 — (CP) — Devaluation of the British pound today spurred traders on the Toronto Stock Exchange into brisk activity as gold mining shares soared. Opening gains were the strongest with prices tending to taper slightly in mid-session.

Base metals also reflected the booming market, climbing strongly and industrials were well ahead led by a strong paper list. Western oils were practically ignored.

The Exchange's 1 p.m. index showed industrials up 1.46 at 183.71, golds up 7.46 at 112.53, base metals up 3.25 at 120.75, western oils up .14 at 48.47. Volume was the heaviest since November 1947. Turnover for the first three hours was 2,887,000 shares.

Gold issues boomed upwards so strongly in the first hour that the Exchange's index recorded the best gain on record. Some selling [illegible] the session progressed [illegible] Senator producers held firm. Juniors showed the slight declines from their opening high points but gains were still well ahead, ranging up to 55 cents.

Many issues sold at new highs for the year or longer. Gains ranged up to $2 in base metals and international paper featured the brisk paper list.

Canada Steamship Lines dipped two points at 13½ following the disastrous fire on the Noronic.

WAIT ON THE CURB FOR YOUR BUS

Canadian cities and towns have more cars and trucks on their streets than ever before. And in order for transportation systems to provide their most efficient service, traffic must be kept moving. Frayed nerves and angry tempers inevitably result when pedestrians edge out on the road for an approaching street car or bus. By waiting on the sidewalk you help to avoid traffic congestion and remove a cause of needless accidents. Any contribution to the common good is proof of your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Rotary Presents $3,000 Cheque For Recreation

COBOURG, Sept. 19—(ENS)—Mayor Joe Smith was presented with a cheque for $3,000 at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Cobourg. He was receiving the contribution of the club to the recreational centre fund. In accepting the cheque, the mayor informed the club that there would be artificial ice for Dec. 15.

The club was paid the official visit of the new district governor, John Gooch of Toronto. Mr. Gooch said that he had no worry concerning the Cobourg club, and brought greetings from the other Rotary Clubs of District 247. Mr. Gooch briefly sketched the progress of Rotary since its founding in 1905 by Paul Harris. Paul Harris originally founded Rotary with the purpose in mind of mutual help among the members of the type of man comprising the first Rotary Club was such that it was realized that a club could not be operated on a selfish basis. The members looked around and got something that they could develop with the idea of service. The first club was in Chicago and visitors to the club liked the idea and took the [illegible] club when they went home and as a result, Rotary Clubs began to spring up throughout the United States, spreading into other countries. Only in nations dominated by a dictatorship type of government was Rotary unable to function, the speaker said.

He went on to explain the work of Rotary in club service, program, international service and the other aspects of Rotary.

Men Laid Off: Work Short Week

COBOURG, Sept. 19—(ENS)—Two factories, the dye works and the Bird Archer are now working on a three-day a week basis. Twelve men have been laid off from the CGE here. Total figures of the unemployed were not released by the local employment office but it is evident that considerably more are out of work than this time last year. Between season slackness plus slump in export trade are held responsible for the increase in the number of men out of work.

Two Trucks Collide On Hill At 4:30 a.m.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 19 (ENS)—Ivan Seton, Chatham, is in hospital at Port Hope with facial lacerations and head injuries which he sustained in a road accident at 4:30 a.m. today. He was driving a truck which went out of control as it reached Roseberry Hill, near Newtonville. Going down hill the truck sideswiped a brewery truck bouncing against it twice before breaking five guide posts and crashing into a tree.

Driver of the brewery truck was Ross Church, Toronto. Provincial Constable Hugh Woolridge investigated the accident.

Druggist's Alarm Saves Baby; Wrong Medicine

COBOURG, Sept. 18—An error by a druggist in preparing a prescription for a 3-months'-old baby, touched off a frantic hunt for a local family during the week-end. Co-operation of police, a neighbor and the telephone company prevented serious consequences.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Malton of Cobourg took their baby to Toronto to consult a physician. The druggist, in making up the prescription, put in four times the prescribed amount of one ingredient. He noted the error after delivering the prescription, and began a frantic search to locate the family.

Meanwhile, the parents gave the child a partial dose of the medicine, but as it was given after a feeding, the infant rejected it.

While the Maltons were on their way back to Cobourg, Constable H. Pearse of Cobourg police and a neighbor, Mrs. Lena Fisher, were notified.

Constable Pearse considered notifying the provincial police radio at Peterborough so that the car could be stopped on its way to Cobourg but unfortunately the license number was not known as the police did not possess a complete list of Cobourg license numbers from the local registrar.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Lena Fisher had been told by the Toronto long distance telephone operator of what had happened and she had gone over to the Malton residence and finding nobody at home, left a note in the door, advising them of the wrong prescription.

Three-Year-Old Falls From Car Onto Road

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 19—(ENS)—A Toronto youngster, three-year-old Richard Jennison, sustained injuries on Saturday from falling through the rear door of a moving car at Morganston, four miles south-west of Warkworth.

Hearing the door open, Richard's uncle, E. Williams, also of Toronto, looked back and saw Richard lying on the side of the road. Mrs. Williams was driving.

Dr. R. F. Jolliffe, of Warkworth, was called and rushed the youngster to Campbellford Hospital where he was treated for head and arm injuries. He was released from hospital later Saturday afternoon.

The New Pound

The pound was devalued before, exactly eighteen years ago this month—with beneficial effects to Britain. Although the circumstances are different now, there is reason to believe that the same good results will follow. When as financially expert men as Mr. Eugene Black, American head of the World Bank and M. Camille Gutt, Belgian head of the International Monetary Fund, recommended, as they did last week, the revaluing of European currencies, there must be financial sense in it.

* * *

It is too early to say—nor do we profess to be expert enough to say—what the full implications of the devaluing of the pound from $4.03 to $2.80 (U.S.) are. Three impacts are apparent. It is, as Sir Stafford Cripps said in his broadcast Sunday, "the most serious [step] the Government could take". It is the most important action the Labour Government has taken since it assumed office. It will have intimate meaning to every Briton at home, not because the value of the pound is fiscally changed for people who work and eat by pounds—it is not—but because Britain imports more from dollar countries than she exports. Therefore the cost of living must rise. One example is bread.

* * *

The British Government is taking a calculated risk; it has had to take it. As Sir Stafford said, "events have moved too fast" for it not to take them. It is meeting the "challenge of the times". On the success or failure of it will depend not only the present Labour Government's chances of being re-elected next year, but the economic health of Britain.

* * *

The second observation we wish to make is this, and it is a point too little realized. British goods on the foreign (dollar) markets (cars, woollens, electrical equipment, etc.) should be cheaper, and therefore there should be more buying of British goods which should bring to Britain more very needed dollars. However, at the new value of the pound, Britain will have to sell on the American market thirty per cent more goods to bring in the same number of dollars. Before the revaluation, Britain could sell a car worth £400 in the United States and get $1,600 for it. Now the same car will bring only $1,120 (U.S.). To bring in the same number of American dollars, Britain will need to sell a car-and-a-third. If Britain is going, through exports, to reduce her dollar shortage, she will have, at the new rate, to sell more than a third as much as she sold before on the American market.

* * *

The third apparent impact of the devaluation is this: Britain is still a great power. She is still the banker for a quarter of the world. When the British pound was devalued, a dozen countries throughout the world took notice and revalued their currencies. Even Canada, though welded to the American dollar, was so affected that trade in foreign currency was suspended today, and our Minister of Finance took the obvious steps which will probably be announced by the time this paper reaches our readers.

* * *

One important political significance of the British move is this: a sterling self-contained bloc is not being built up at the disregard and expense of the North American continent. It gives a new force to the North Atlantic Treaty. At the same time, it should free world trade, in keeping with the Geneva Trade Agreements.

U.S. Has Wildest Long-Shot Players

It has been said, occasionally, that the British are inveterate gamblers. The same thing has been said about the Chinese. We question neither statement. For the utmost in fantastic betting, however, we nominate some unnamed citizens of the United States, whose "investment" was described recently in the columns of The Minneapolis Star.

In the general shaking-down that followed the First World War, the new Communist Government of Russia repudiated Czarist obligations. Among these were two bond issues totalling $75,000,000. The Communists made it clear they had no intention of ever discharging the obligations of the hated autocrats they had thrust from power.

This did not deter a few strange-minded men in the United States from trading in the Czarist bonds. We imagine it was rather desultory trading. At any rate, when Stalin and Hitler were allies, in 1939, the bonds had dropped to their all-time low, a quotation of three-sixteenths of one point. When Russia and the West were closely allied, in 1945, the bonds soared to the preposterous price of twenty-two points. They tumbled down near bottom again as the cold war progressed.

The investors in the Czarist bonds have now managed to whoop up another little bull market—apparently because the United States is not very friendly with Russia. It seems that the United States Government "froze" some Czarist funds back in 1918, and the investors feel that if the Communists have no chance of getting these funds, the U.S. might use them to redeem their bonds.

The Star describes this as "stubborn optimism". "Stubborn" hardly seems the word; "demented" might perhaps be more suitable—always assuming that "points" mean dollars, as they usually do in a bond market. If the investors are merely trading Czarist bonds for Montenegrin or Mexican monarchy bonds, or are paying for the bonds in Confederate or Baltic states currency, of course, the trading becomes a form of the once-popular game of "Monopoly", played with much prettier counters.

Peterborough Traffic Studied

The report of the Toronto police inspector, a specialist in urban traffic conditions, makes suggestions which should commend themselves to Peterborough authorities. His survey was speedy and there must be local factors which he had not time to consider sufficiently. The Police Commission and the Chief of Police will be able to access his recommendations from their special knowledge of local conditions. The suggested prohibitions on parking near intersections are most reasonable. It is quite ridiculous that vehicles be allowed now to park at the very corner of George and Charlotte, thus preventing moving ones from turning right without swinging wide into the centre of the street, and also preventing two-lane traffic movement. Further, drivers are unable to see stop signs (as on Water at the Charlotte Street entry) and traffic lights are obscured by parked cars and trucks. Prohibiting parking within 50-80 feet of main intersections will mean the removal of some parking meters and a consequent reduction of profit from them, but the meters were installed to ease traffic and for the convenience of drivers, not to be sources of revenue.

The suggestion of staggered loading zones for trucks (on Charlotte Street, for instance) is sensible, if it is workable in Peterborough. Would Peterborough car drivers stay out of the loading zones; would the truck drivers use them, or would they continue to double-park and to pull up as near as possible to the delivery door? Our drivers seem stubbornly addicted to parking when, where and how they please; they seem to consider it a God-given right of individual expression. We noticed an incident on Charlotte Street the other morning which makes us wonder if the loading zones would be used. A driver preparing for delivery of some goods to a store manoeuvred his big truck across Charlotte street in heavy traffic. He finally had it in position: the back end facing the store door, the nose of the truck sticking out into the centre of the street, and all traffic on one side completely barred. It happened that the receiving store was a corner one. The driver could have pulled his truck into the quiet side street and unloaded it there; but then he would have had to walk a few steps farther with the goods, for he would have been parked at the side of the store. Five o'clock car drivers who merely want to dash into a store for a loaf of bread or a dozen cakes will park double opposite the store, while they make their five-minute "dash". It is a most convenient way for them, and to the devil with the other fellow. Like the double parkers, the truck driver got away with it.

French Farmers "In Revolt"

By PROFESSOR W. D. BROGAN
(Special to The London Observer and Peterborough Examiner)

THE French farmers in the south announced last week-end that they are in revolt—in revolt against the terrible drought, in revolt against the policy of the Government which hopes by importing foodstuffs to keep down the cost of living and avoid another wave of strikes in the great industrial cities. The miners, the steelworkers, the railwaymen can strike, can play the Communist game consciously or unconsciously; the peasants cannot; such has been the calculation. But the peasants are still half of the population and are politically more important than even their numbers suggest, and, as "People's Democracies" are discovering, they have their own ways of sabotaging a policy of which they disapprove.

The peasants' grievance is simple enough. Because of the drought they have poor crops, of potatoes and beetroot often no crops at all. Because of the drought cattle are hard to feed, so hard to feed that many have to be killed and marketed prematurely. And all this reflects on the prices. On the whole the French peasant has done very well for himself since the war. He has got high prices and is no longer the desperate saver of the French traditional type; he has been spending his money, not putting it away in a sock.

WHAT he would do if France were on gold, or if the stability of the franc were assured, no-one knows. But the franc is now worth a sixth of what it was worth in 1945, and the peasant sees little point in hoarding currency like that. So he buys more and he eats more. He eats much more meat and drinks more wine. But now the fortunes of economic war have turned. True, this drought is not a national disaster, not as terrible as the drought of 1947, which came earlier in the year and ruined the cereal crop. But it is very bad—and it is continuing.

Like farmers everywhere French peasants expect high prices to provide compensation for a poor crop, as they would if it were not for the Government's policy of importation. Hence the violent protest of the farmers' union; hence the indignation of the rural deputy. They remember that the Prime Minister is a rural deputy himself and that as more or less permanent Minister of Agriculture before the war, M. Queuille was a very vigilant defender of the interests of the peasants in general and of the peasants of the Correze in particular. But now he is Prime Minister, awaiting with some trepidation the re-opening of the Assembly and the annual autumn crisis of prices and wages. Large importation of foodstuffs may keep Paris and its "red belt" more or less quiet, at the cost of infuriating the embattled farmers.

BUT behind the present crisis of prices there is a permanent crisis. For centuries it has been the policy of French Governments to keep as many people on the land as possible; they were politically more reliable than townsfolk and they provided the infantry. They are not necessarily more politically stable now. Communism has made a good deal of progress in the countryside, especially where there are big landowners. Even where there are nothing but peasant proprietors, as in M. Queuille's own department, there is a good deal of Communism, and many well-off peasants vote for a party which, if it triumphed, would liquidate them.

The lesson of Russia and Hungary is lost on short-sighted men with grievances. Basically there are too many people on the land; the five million peasant households produce, at a great expense of labour, only as much food as two million could do with more equipment and bigger units of production.

FRANCE is in the happy position of having more fertile land than any European country outside Russia, but it is not all well used. Where there are big capitalist farms, as in Normandy, there is modern machinery and a high level of production. There are also discontent and labour troubles.

But the average peasant has not the capital to buy agricultural machinery (nearly all of it American) nor could he use it profitably if he could buy it. For the enclosure movement never got very far in France and peasant holdings are not only small, they are often widely scattered. The owner of 10 or 12 strips of land cannot use a tractor. True, the Government is trying to coax the peasants to exchange their land to make up unified farms, but it is a slow business.

Jealousy and fears slow up progress. I have just been visiting a badly-hit area. There is one modern farm of 250 acres or so, now equipped with American machinery that has transformed it within the last years. Alongside it is a typical peasant holding of 30 acres, worked desperately by the owner, his wife and his mother-in-law. In a good year they just struggle through; in a bad year they lose and don't get enough to eat. Yet they cling on. This year hundreds of thousands of these uneconomic units are in the red. Small wonder if their owners see red too, threaten the Government, and listen to the siren song of the Communists.

Fantastic, Isn't It?

(Montreal Star)

Once the door is opened to splinter parties in a parliamentary democracy odd things happen. Consider the announcement made a few days ago from Bonn, Germany. Three political parties, the German Right, the German Conservative and the National Democratic parties have announced that they propose to merge into a single party called the National Right.

This looks like a good, sensible move until we learn that these three parties between them won only five seats out of 402 in the new national assembly. Three tin-pot parties thus coming together make a larger tin pot, but it is nothing but a tin pot still.

TODAY'S NEWSNAME

Theodor Heuss

By SEBASTIAN HEFFNER

HE looks vaguely like Bertrand Russell: a slight figure in loose-fitting tweeds, and a fine, intellectual head, high-domed, with an aquiline nose and a mane of white hair. For many years he was the editor of a Liberal weekly, apart from being lecturer at the Deutsche Hochschule Fur Politik in Berlin—the German equivalent to Chatham House (the Royal Institute of International Affairs)—and an occasional member of the Reichstag, where he belonged to the German Democratic Party.

It would hardly be true to say that up to now Dr. Theodor Heuss has been a national figure in Germany. He had a reputation in the literary, academic and political world, and he was respected as a man of firm liberal principles, a good political scholar, and a writer of not inconsiderable power and originality. However, the great mass of the German people knew very little of him, and his eclipse under Hitler was hardly noticed.

His major political career is of recent date. He belonged to the first people who came forward courageously after the German breakdown of 1945 to deal with the hopeless-looking situation of their country. He was for a while Minister of Education in his native Wurttemburg, and he recreated, with a handful of others, the Free Democratic Party which he now leads. This party, which stands for a strong central Government and for economic and cultural liberalism, was meant by its founders to be the heir of the old German Democratic party, the champion of pure Liberalism. It has grown considerably in the last two years and in the process has attracted elements of nationalist big business which have somewhat affected its original character. But Dr. Heuss has personally remained the idealistic and forthright Liberal that he always was.

He played a considerable part in the shaping of the Bonn Constitution, to which he brought both his political scholarship and a knack for reconciling political enemies. Many of the essential compromises between the political parties were prepared in Dr. Heuss's flat over a bottle of wine. Some German politicians have called him the "Father of the Constitution", while others refer to him more informally as "Papa Heuss". But all like and respect him. He has a mellow wisdom and a genial wit which are in strong contrast to the usual grim bitterness of German party politics.

The idea of making Dr. Heuss the first President of the new German Federal Republic originated in those days. Without doubt, he is a politicians' President, not a people's President. But once in office he may well extend his popularity far beyond its present sphere. He certainly does not lack the popular touch. He is informal, easy-going, completely un-selfconscious, a witty speaker, and pleasantly modest. During the talks about his future establishment as Federal President, the question of a police escort was brought up. "A police escort"? he exclaimed. "Heaven forbid! What for? Whoever would want to shoot old Heuss?"

Duke's Study Is Canadian Room

(By NAPIER MOORE IN THE FINANCIAL POST)

MONTHS ago we got a tip that the countryside around Durham, Ontario, was being fine-toothcombed for the hardest, toughest and finest Canadian maple obtainable. We did a spot of sleuthing and discovered that experts from the T. Eaton Company had checked 60,000 feet of lumber for a sufficient quantity of flawless wood required for an extra special job.

We put two and two together.

At the time of the marriage of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, the C.P.R. wished to make a tangible contribution to Canada's expression of goodwill. The gratefully accepted idea was the creation of a Canadian room in the royal couple's own home—Clarence House—using Canadian design, Canadian materials and Canadian workmanship. And the room decided on was the Duke's personal study.

The C.P.R. commissioned Eaton's to do the job.

We tackled Eaton's. They said the facts were as related, and they were extremely proud of the job their craftsmen were doing. But they implored us to hold off until the room was installed and they knew that the Duke and his Princess were happy about the whole thing. Besides, they felt information really ought to be released by the donor. We tackled the C.P.R. They said they'd be infinitely obliged if we'd hold off until the job was installed.

Being by nature obliging, we held off. Just too late for last week's column we received word that both Princess Elizabeth and her husband were delighted with the room and that news of the whole achievement would be released to the press September 1.

People who ought to know tell us the design and workmanship of this Canadian maple chamber is magnficent. Working from blueprints of Clarence House sent from London, William Howard, of Eaton's housefurnishing studio, designed the paneling for the 30 x 21 ft. study. It was turned out in the company's workshops under the supervision of chief cabinetmaker Lawrence Clark. Mr. Clark went to England to examine the original room. Incidentally, the Duke and he worked out the idea of a map table so cunningly contrived that it completely disappears into three inches of space behind the paneling when not in use.

All the woodwork had to be specially treated to withstand the English humidity. Total weight of the sections when shipped was six tons.

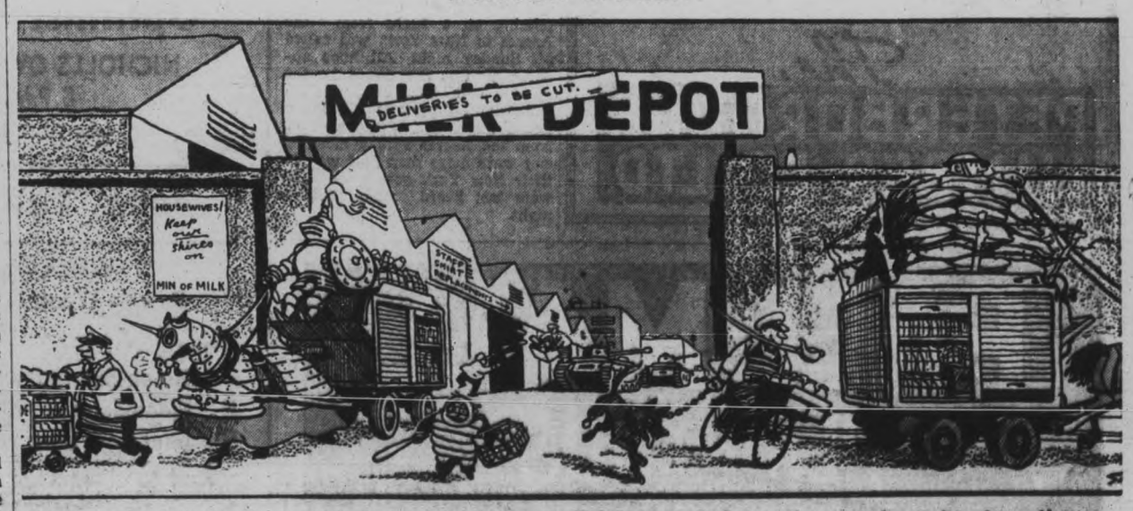
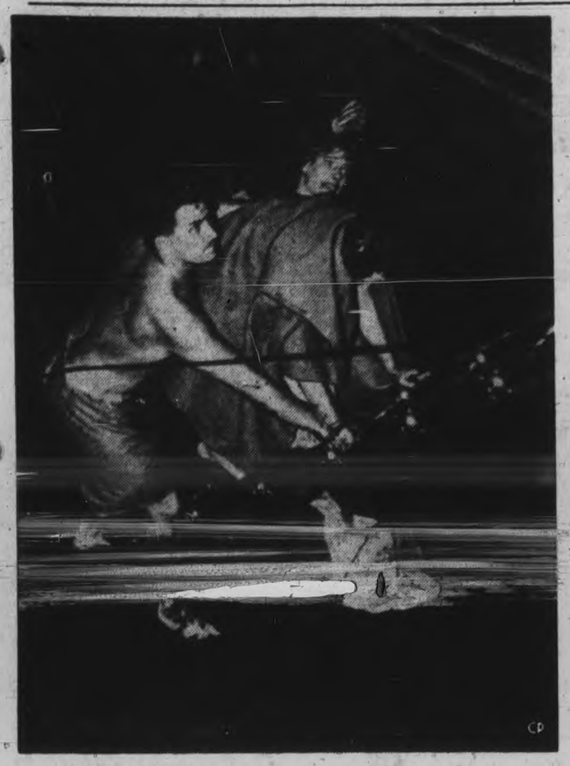
Fag End



(Ottawa Journal)

The severity of the United Kingdom economic squeeze is brought home with the news that Sir Stafford Cripps and Ernest Bevin, cabinet ministers both, came to the United States as non-smokers. For them, as for many another Englishman, tobacco has been as the breath of life, the comfort and consolation in wartime and during the uneasy peace. Cripps, who never eats meat and abhors alcohol, relaxed in the smoke of pipe, cigarette or cigar, whichever came first to hand. Bevin liked to sit with a cigarette almost lost in his massive hand or sunk deep in his rough-hewn face.

No one is going to say that a cabinet minister, even in austere, tobacco-short Britain, needs to go without a smoke. Cripps and Bevin could arrange for others to queue at tobacco kiosks, use their blandishments on heartless clerks with a package under the counter or indeed tap the very source of supply among the manufacturers.



Instead, they have taken the hard way and given a national example by cutting out one of their pleasures, and thus save the expenditure of a few American dollars. A little thing, it can be said of stopping smoking. But it's a sacrifice the individual can make and out of a multitude of such sacrifices is refined the high spirit of a proud nation, fearful of charity.

FLEE BLAZING SHIP — Passengers, roused by crew members or awakened by the crackle of flames, abandoned the steamship Noronic in night clothes as the liner blazed at her Toronto pier. Cool Weather Halts Epidemic On Reserve

ESPANOLA, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP)—Cool weather and quick medical action has checked an epidemic of acute gastro-enteritis among Indian babies on Spanish Indian Reserve, Dr. C. W. Procurier said Sunday.

Dr. Procurier was asked by the Sault Ste. Marie office of the Department of Indian Affairs Saturday to make an investigation.

Dr. Procurier said the epidemic claimed one infant life. Twelve others were in hospital at Blind River but all but three were discharged.

"The Indians have been reluctant to come forward and report cases to medical authorities preferring to treat their babies themselves," he said.

He indicated the epidemic was similar to the recent outbreak of a virulent form of dysentery on Manitoulin Island reserves that claimed seven infant lives and sickened between 50 and 60 others.

No Negligence CSL Head Says

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — K. R. Marshall of Toronto, president of the Canada Steamship Lines, said in a statement Sunday he had ascertained "beyond any reasonable doubt" there was no negligence on the part of the crew or company in the SS Noronic fire.

He said the 6,900-ton cruise ship was well-equipped with every modern fire-fighting device.

While the company's investigation was by no means complete, it appeared the fire started in one of the passenger staterooms.

"Either a lighted cigar or cigarette may have been left in the stateroom which was left unoccupied and as a result, there was no immediate report of the beginning of the fire," he said. "Certainly none of the officers of the crew knew of the fire until it became uncontrollable."

Link With Luciano?

MONTREAL, Sept. 19 (CP) — A Montreal paper said in a newspage story Saturday that an alleged narcotics ring in Montreal may be linked internationally with the former New York gangland king, Lucky Luciano. The paper said it learned from usually well-informed sources that RCMP are checking the possibility the narcotics were smuggled into Canada by an international ring headed by Luciano. The former gang leader was deported to his native Sicily some years ago.

Commonwealth Talks Ended After 10 Days

BIGWIN INN, Sept. 19 (CP) — The fourth unofficial Commonwealth relations conference closed Saturday with a note of general unanimity, ending 10 days of study the problems confronting the Commonwealth both from within and without.

The final day's sessions were confined to considerations of business of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, which sponsored the conference, and considerations of suggestions as to where the next conference should be held.

Conference spokesmen said the delegates, who held all their discussions behind closed doors, generally agreed that they should meet next in one of the southern hemispheric dominions — India Pakistan, Ceylon, South Africa, New Zealand or Australia.

US Officials Welcome Britain's Pound Devaluation

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19—(AP)—The chain reaction of British pound-devaluation—which cheapened 10 other currencies overnight—today was expected to sweep rapidly over Europe, the pound-using areas elsewhere, and into Latin America. There was every sign that the International Monetary Fund, with which 48 countries must clear any currency change, will have heavy work in coming days and weeks.

United States officials welcomed 30½ per cent cut in the pound from $4.03 to $2.80, and the corresponding cuts by Norway, Denmark, Australia, India, Union of South Africa, Egypt, New Zealand, Israel, Republic of Ireland and Burma. The Netherlands, Sweden and others were pondering action.

For Britain—and for others — Washington officials felt that further measures are necessary.

They hinted that, as an early step, Britain must make some agreement on the so-called "sterling balances" — actually war debts held by India, Egypt and others.

Payment on these last year cost Britain $400,000,000 worth of goods, with no goods received in return. Some officials felt this drain should be cut to one-quarter that amount, if possible, while Britain concentrates on selling to the areas which pay in dollars.

Spur Buying

They forecast improvement in British exports to the United States, because Americans can buy in Great Britain for $2.80 what used to cost $4.03. That should spur a buy-British movement.

It should also put some economic forces to work behind Sir Stafford Cripps' don't-buy-American campaign. United States goods will cost more in Britain, many British buyers will cut orders or buy elsewhere, if possible.

Both factors—more exports to the United States and less imports from the United States should help Britain balance her dollar accounts, which are lopsided in the United States' favor and are cutting into Britain's reserve of dollars and gold at a fearful rate

Constructive Step

American officials and some diplomatic ones made these observations, applying especially to Britain but also to the other devaluing countries:

1. Imported British goods won't drop 30½ per cent for Americans at retail. Motor cars may drop sharply in price, as Sir Stafford suggests. But tarriffs, sales costs, importers' mark-ups and other cost factors on this side won't be touched.

British textiles, chinaware and cutlery will come down, it is predicted. But Scotch whiskey may not drop a cent.

2. The price of British imports will rise; every pound will buy fewer American dollars' worth. Sir Stafford told the British Sunday the net increase will be slight.

Treasury Secretary John W Snyder saw the British move as a constructive economic step" he said:

"The immediate effect should be an early rise in their dollar resources. The long range results should be a healthy impetus to world-wide multi-lateral trade."

Petes Beat Toronto, 5 to 1 As Edger Hurls One-Hit Ball

Behind Bill Edger's one-hit hurling chore in Toronto on Saturday, the Petes captured their OBA senior "B" quarter-final opener 5-1 from Toronto Uniques. Only a small crowd saw the contest, first of a best-of-three playdown series, the return joust being in Peterborough next Saturday afternoon. The winner goes into provincial semi-finals against Ottawa. Edger was in great form, the only hit gained off his delivery being a sharp single to left by Davis in the eighth inning. He fanned six and was always in control as his mates hit in timely fashion and fielded in fine style. They had two double-plays, with Estlick and Lowrey pulling off nifty catches in the field. Uniques were sloppy in the infield as Tommy Melady toiled for eight frames, Alf Williams finishing up. Valenti had a good catch in centre. Al Menzies led the winners at bat with two for four, Edwardson safely once in three tries.

ONE-HITTER — Bill Edger threw one-hit ball in Toronto on Saturday as the Petes trimmed Uniques 5-1 to open their OBA senior "B" playdown series. The return game is here Saturday.

Start In Fourth

Menzies slugged ... was sacrificed by Edwardson, took third on Stewart's long fly and raced in on Brown's single They got two in the fifth on three miscues, a steal and hits by Menzies and Edwardson. The other pair came in the eighth for Ed Murphy's men on two errors, a wild pitch, a walk and a timely blow to centre by Joe Lowrey. Uniques got an unearned run in the ninth on two walks and a pair of miscues. Apart from that frame, they got but one man to third and one as far as second in eighth chukkers.

Toronto Takes OBA Tilts Against Locals

By FRED MAYBEE

East City bantams and peewees suffered a double defeat in a twin baseball bill at Eglinton Park, Toronto, Saturday, as ABA playdowns continued. The defeat eliminated the peewees while Ray Pammett's boys meet the Canada Carbons here Wednesday in the second game of their best of three series.

Fred Smith, 15-year-old Canadian amateur junior swimming champ for two miles, twirled fine 7-0 win for Jack Humph boys in the bantam opener, limiting Peterborough to four singl a He fanned 17 and walked three. Jerry Frizzelle pitched well also, despite erratic support and a shaky start in the first. McGillen ... afield, while Pammett, Withers, Burns and McCarthy played well.

One-Sided Tilt

Toronto defeated peewees 22-1 in the nightcap behind the good pitching of Mike Curran. Three walks, three hits and a batch of errors in the second inning proved disastrous as the Queen City boys scored eight runs to take a safe, early lead. Stewart homered for Peterborough's only run in the second and he had two hits. Sherman hit a homer and Brown a triple for Toronto. The game was called in the sixth.

Hastings Triumphs To Force A Third

HASTINGS, Sept. 19 (ENS)— Hastings forced their OASA junior "C" final series into a third and deciding tilt, defeating Port Robinson 11-3 in Hastings Park Saturday night, after dropping the first game 3-2 in Port Robinson.

West on the Hastings mound pitched brilliantly and his fast one set down 21 on strikeouts. His control slipped occasionally and 11 reached base on free tickets but he gave up but five hits. He pitched shutout ball till the eighth when Port Robinson combined two hits, four walks, and an error to get their three runs.

In the seventh Thomas stopped a potential rally with a beautiful double play.

Temak started for Port Robinson, and Hastings pounced on him for three runs to gain a lead they never relinquished. They added one in the third, then put the game on ice in the fifth when Temak's support fell apart and he was relieved by Kilowski. Hits, walks and errors, added five runs to their total and two more in the seventh finished their end of the scoring.

Third and deciding game is slated for Dentonia Park, Toronto, on Saturday, Sept. 24 at three p.m.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Petes travelled a bit light to Toronto on Saturday—Manager Ed Murphy being the only guy on the bench when they were in the field, but they had enough to trounce Toronto Uniques 5-1. First of their best-of-three OBA senior "B" quarter-finals. Next one is here Saturday, the winner likely going against Ottawa in provincial semi-finals. Toronto loop picked Uniques to hit the "B" playdown trail. Not a bad club but they couldn't solve Bill Edger's slants. Bill coming up with a one-hitter in a swell slab showing. He likes Viaduct Park and has pitched some grand games there in playoffs the past several seasons.

* * * * * *

Al Menzies turned in a stalwart receiving chore and had two bingles in four tries. Joe Lowrey and Larry Edwardson hit and fielded well, and Paul Estlick had a nice catch. Petes had a couple of double plays, also, to help their cause. Davis singled for Toronto in the eighth to rob Edger of a no-hitter, and a couple of local slips afield in the ninth ruined his shutout. But Bill didn't mind that a bit — he and his mates just wanted that opening win. Danny Brown motored over from Bradford ... Wilson left St. Louis' puck camp at Midland to help out (he'll play for Ebbie Goodfellow's gang this winter) and Edwardson made the trip himself ... Some of the boys dropped around to visit ... hospital.

Couple OBA Reverses

Couple of our minor ball clubs played Saturday in Toronto, too, but didn't do so well. Our peewees were erased rather roughly from the picture in a one-sided struggle, losing their second straight of the series. Didn't have the experience of their young opposition. Local bantams were blanked 7-0 but they just got off to a shaky start and made it a dogfight most of the way. Toronto got three earned runs, whilst the Pammett pack were held to four hits. Frizzelle pitched pretty fair ball and Scriver came up with an outstanding catch. The Toronto boys take on the locals here at 3.30 Wednesday aft in Riverside in the return OBA contest.

* * * * * *

Dominion Woollens were rubbed out of the PWSU junior playdowns in two straight when they lost 13-2 to Shediacs in Toronto—but one of four clubs in Toronto o'er the weekend was victorious, huh?—and that winds up the local lasses' season. The Woollens were held to seven hits as 10 whiffed, and they were loose afield. However, the girls had the trip out of it to wind up their diamond semester. As mentioned before, Westclox and Lindsay lost out in PWSU playdowns, and then the Clockers took the city title to conclude a rather lively summer in Bill Bennett's circuit of colleens at the Bowl.

Few Lacrosse Notes

A spot in the Show Window for several lacrosse items today. Tigers took Brampton 9-5 to open their OLA senior "A" finals. Gord Armstrong of that lumber company is staging a stag dinner for the senior Petes' gutted-stick guys at seven p.m. next Saturday at South Beach to wind up their season. And Coach Rowan Chute's good peewee Petes won two OLA round-robin playoffs in New Toronto and Mimico on Saturday. They walloped Hespeler 22-0 in the first, but had to go 20 minutes overtime in the other to edge Osweken Indians 10-9 in a grand game. There were 14 squads in the sawoffs, with but three now remaining, and the local lads will likely get a bye into finals.

* * * * * *

A few items on soccer, too, to keep players and fans up to the minute. Kingston won over CGE 4-1 on the former's pitch Saturday to open their Ontario semi-finals, return of the goals-to-count series being here this week-end. School soccer resumes here Wednesday aft. Three senior scraps: Central at King Edward, Prince of Wales at King George, and Queen Mary vs. Queen Alex at the Oval. In the intermediate bracket, Queen Alex is at home to Queen Elizabeth tomorrow, whilst next day sees Queen Mary meeting King George at the Bonnerworth. South zone tomorrow has Confeds at King Edward, with Prince of Wales playing Central next day. Juniors go Thursday, Prince of Wales vs. Queen Mary, and May's vs. Grove.

Cobourg Whips Trenton, 35-0

COBOURG, Sept. 19 (ENS) — Fielding the strongest team in its history, Cobourg Galloping Ghosts trounced Trenton here Saturday by the score of 35-0 in the opening game of the Lakeshore League intermediate "A" ORFU. Trenton had a fair team but was no match for the Ghosts. The passing and kicking of Cooper was the feature of the game with good backfield and line work by Bevan, Connors, Jarvis and Seale. Newmark, Trenton, quarter, fractured a knee in the first half of the game.

In the opening quarter after six minutes of play, Cooper passed to Currelley who took the ball over for a touchdown that was converted by Art Jones. Newmark was rouged by Currelley on Cooper's kick for the seventh point in the quarter.

In the second, Connor went around end for a touchdown from 10 yards out but it was not converted. Douglas received a pass from Cooper for another unconverted touch. Score was 17-0 at half time. In the third quarter Cooper intercepted a pass from Scott and Bevan received it on a combination play to take it over for a touchdown that was converted by Art Jones. Currelley rouged Scott on Cooper's kick for a further point. Currelley recovered a Trenton fumble and on the ensuing play Connors scored a touchdown. In the last quarter Forester scored from the five-yard line, the convert being made on a pass, Cooper to Boyd.

The lineups:

Trenton — Ends, White and Quinn; middles, Barry and Bradden; insides, Burley and Spiege; centre, Longhurst; quarter, Newmark; halves, Foley, Scott, Gange; flying wing, Goldberg; alternates, Purland, Hill, Hall, Runchey, Green, Marcers, Westfall, Streder, Carmichael and Stebbings.

Cobourg—Ends, Douglas and Boyd; middles, Austin and Holman; insides, Jarvis and Seale; centre, Poynton; quarter, Cooper; halves, Hazelton, Bevan and Connor; flying wing, Currelley; alternates, McConvey, Saunders, Miko, Leas, Jones, Irvin, Lewis, Bissett, Newton, Butler, Jamieson and Forester.

Report Engagement

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Romaine Simpson, beautiful New York divorcee, was reported Saturday to be engaged to handsome David Michael, Marquess of Milford Haven a grandson of Queen Victoria. Mrs. Simpson is 27. The Marquis, one of Princess Margaret's favorite dates during the last war, is 30.

Empress Shield Captured By Local Trio

By HERB. MARTIN.

A local threesome captured the Empress Hotel Shield here Saturday in the annual open trebles tournament at the Lawn Bowling Club greens. V. Hill, F. Worsencroft and Skip R. Hopkins took top honors, with another Peterborough rink of R. Cunningham, N. Killingbeck and P. Moore second.

There were entries from Belleville, Cobourg, Port Perry and Peterborough, with keen competition shown and ideal weather prevailing. A number of strong trios competed and some of the new and younger bowlers showed up well. Following are the results:

Winners

First and Empress Hotel Shield —Peterborough: V. Hill, F. Worsencroft, R. Hopkins, skip.

Second — Peterborough: R. Cunningham, V. Killingbeck, P. Moore, skip.

Third—Cobourg: C. Boundey, W. A. Hopkins, M. Booth, skip.

Fourth — Peterborough: A Jones, F. Jones, W. Jones.

Tied for 5th—Belleville: O. Smith, P. Graham, L. McLean, skip.

Tied for 5th—Peterborough: R. Whalen, B. Jeffries, R. Dyer skip.

Down at Belleville on Friday with 24 rinks entered, Mrs. Lakos, Mrs. Bearn and Mrs. Coursey came home with the top prize. They won all three games with the greatest aggregate score. We understand that there were six rinks in all representing our club at this tournament.

The winning skips at the local Friday night tourney were: R. Gamble, S. Wildman, H. Staunton and G. Fee.

The ladies' program for this week is: Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock, the individual score competition. Wednesday, 10 a.m., open trebles tournament (last of the season). We will have more information on this later, but remember to keep Saturday night open. Big masquerade mixed rink tournament. No entry fee and nothing but fun.

Down at Oshawa on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Cullen won all their three games and came third in the prize distribution.

Canada Direct Wins At Oshawa

OSHAWA, Sept. 19 — Canada Direct, one of Canada's outstanding pacers, took all three heats of the free-for-all pace at the fair grounds Saturday. The harness racer is owned by M. Storey, of Peterborough, and was driven by Keith Waples, of Victoria Harbor.

Bauer Yank Man of Hour Leads Team To 7-3 Victory

By RALPH ORDEN,
Associated Press Sport Writer.

The outstanding feature of the New York Yankee drive aside from Joe Page, is the uncanny way that manager Casey Stengel's substitutes have come through for the injured front-liners.

The Yankee man of the hour today is Hank Bauer, strong-armed outfielder.

Joe DiMaggio, who missed the first 65 games of the season, reported at game time Sunday with a high fever. The Clipper, only regular hitting over .300, was scratched from the lineup and Bauer installed.

Bauer powered the Yanks to a 7-3 victory over Cleveland Indians. The triumph preserved the Yanks' 2½ game lead over Boston Red Sox, who mauled Chicago White Sox 11-5.

Bauer drove home three runs ... He doubled Charley Keller home in the third to snap a 3-3 tie and then clinched the game with a two-run ... in the seventh.

The Red Sox ... no resistance from Chicago, led by Ted Williams, the Sox rammed nine runs across the plate in the first two innings.

Williams blasted two homers, his 39th and 40th of the season, and drove home six runs. Ellis Kinder won his 21st game of the season.

Cards Crush Phillies

Solid hitting also sparked the National League's front-running St. Louis Cardinals to a 16-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Home runs by Ron Northey, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter featured a 18-hit onslaught.

The victory protected the Cards' 2½ game edge over Brooklyn Dodgers who tamed the Chicago Cubs 7-1. Carl Furillo clouted his 16th homer for Brooklyn with one on in the second.

Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants, divided a doubleheader, the Giants taking the opener, 13-4, and the Pirates the nightcap, 7-2.

... ton Braves 7-6 in the first game of a bargain bill. The second was called after nine innings because ... score dead-... Stallcup singled home Ted Kluzewski with the winning run in the ninth inning of the opener. Kluzewski homered with the bases loaded in the first.

Philadelphia and Detroit swept both games in the only American League twin bills. The A's dumped St. Louis Browns 7-5 and 7-4, and the Tigers brushed by Washington 3-2 and 5-2.

Alex Kellner posted his 18th victory and seventh straight over the Browns in the first game. Lou Brissie hung up his 15th victory in the nightcap for the A's.

Toronto Girls Rub Out Woollens, 13-2

Toronto Shediacs walloped the local Woollens 13-2 in Toronto Saturday evening to sweep their junior playdown series in two straight games and finish up girls' softball for this year as far as Peterborough teams are concerned. Toronto girls' experience helped them out as they played heads-up ball while the visitors fell down in the clutches, though they made a fair showing for their first time in provincial play.

It was a good game until the fifth frame and after that the homesters rolled ahead. Woollens' errors hurt a lot as their two twirlers threw fairly good ball. N. West, of Toronto, allowed but seven hits and had neat backing. C. Ferguson, R. McInroy, D. Beatty and C. Servant went best in the field. J. Ralph led the winners at bat with four safeties in six tries, one a double. J. Walling got a double in four for Woollens, 10 of whom went down on strikes.

The teams:

Woollens: J. McIlwain, lf; J. Walling, 3b; R. McInroy, 2b; M. Laing, p, 1b; C. Ferguson, ss; E. Humphries, cf; S. Harris, 1b, rf; S. Wakeford, c; S. Johnson, rf; L. Derry, p.

Toronto: J. Remb, ss; C. Mclea, 2b; J. Ralph, cf; J. Tindall, 3b; J. Macklin, c; D. Beatty, 1b; C. Servant, rf; B. Williams, lf; N. West, p.

Little Giants Nip Buffalo Bisons

By The Associated Press.

Jersey City still is kicking in the International League playoffs.

The Little Giants, reeling under three straight beatings, responded gamely Sunday to nip Buffalo 4-3 and extend their series at least one more day. Buffalo leads 3-1 in the best-of-seven series.

Montreal, on top 3-0 in its set with Rochester, had its game at home rained out. Both series will continue tonight, Jersey City entertaining Buffalo and Rochester playing at Montreal.

Fred Gerken supplied the winning punch for Jersey City — an eighth-inning home run that fractured a 3-3 deadlock. The blow gave Roger Bowman the decision over Clem Hausmann.

Ray Noble also homered for the winners, while Coaker Triplett drove in two of Buffalo's runs with a home run and a double.

Hold Seven Men In Montreal Drug Charges

MONTREAL, Sept. 19 (CP).— Jean Claude Lapres, 22, and Frank Perrault, 21, fifth and sixth persons arrested by the RCMP and city police in the current drive against narcotic peddlers, were arraigned before Judge T. A. Fontaine Saturday.

Lapres, who surrendered to the RCMP Friday night was charged with illegal sale of heroin, while Perreault, brother of convicted murderer Douglas Perreault, was charged with illegal possession of drugs. Both were ordered to appear for preliminary hearing on September 22.

A seventh person arrested since the discovery of a $90,000 cache of narcotics in a locker room of [illegible] Saturday.

He was Arthur Favreau, 49, arrested by city police at his home. Detectives said that while they were questioning him, he threw a bottle containing three capsules of heroin out the window. Three other bottles, each containing 25 tablets of morphine, were said by police to have been found in his house.

Favreau pleaded innocent in Recorder's Court. He was ordered to cells on a two-day remand and will be released today on $500 bail pending trial next Friday.

First arrests Wednesday in the drug inquiry were that of Rev. J. Arthur Taillefer, 48, a Roman Catholic priest, of Ste. Madeleine D'Outremont parish, and Michel Sisco, 35, night club operator. Both pleaded innocent.

Peaches Selling Readily In City

Peaches, said to be rotting in the Niagara Peninsula because they can't be sold at 35 cents a basket, remained firm here until 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Friday prices ranged from 49c to 69c a basket, with the higher-priced baskets moving very slowly. Some stores selling them at the lower price were sold out before the Friday five-o'clock rush.

There were none in sight Saturday morning priced at 69c, but several dealers were still selling No. 1's at 59c. Chain stores, whose volume of business would naturally be larger than the smaller stores, were selling them for 49c.

Evidence of uncertainty as to what the going price would be this morning was shown as some stores had no signs revealing the price of the fruit. One retailer had them advertised on his windows in white paint as "No. 1 Peaches ——c a bskt", indicating that he was ready to change the price as need be.

Reports from the Niagara district were that there are thousands of tons of the fruit rotting on the trees due to a shortage of baskets, an over-abundant crop, poor sales and a shortage of labor.

Stores in Peterborough that were selling the No. 2 variety were getting 49c a basket for them, with their No. 1's going at 59c.

Steamship Aground

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—A 2,500-ton Belgian steamship was reported aground off the southern coast of Cuba early today. A rescue tugboat was en route to aid the stricken vessel, the Brabant. Mackay radio here said it picked up an SOS signal from the ship and flashed the message to Havana. No other information was immediately available.

Alice Faye Says Husband Phil Harris Star In Family

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19 (AP). — Alice Faye, as fetchingly blonde as ever and as slim as a model, says Phil Harris will be the movie star in their family from now on.

"I'm happy to be doing just exactly what I've been doing for four years," she said at the Fibber McGee and Molly cocktail party the other night. What she has been doing since the fall of 1945, when she completed "Fallen Angel," is being Mrs. Harris, housewife and mother. She is also Mrs. Harris in a radio show with her husband.

Her identification of the show —"Miss Faye appears through the courtesy of Twentieth Century-Fox, etc."—gives just the impression she wants: That she still is a star on the TCF lists. Technically she is, but actually she is not.

"I owe the studio one picture, but I'm never going to make it—or, I think now, any other picture," she said. "Harris is going to be the family's star. He has just finished 'Wabash Avenue,' and he is wonderful. No, I have not seen it, but I know he is wonderful. It is in color, and, boy, does that wavy hair look good in color!"

Western Bulls

Western movies take a lot of liberties with their props, says Frank Gruber, who bats out the mystery and Western fiction when he isn't busy building screenplays like "The Cariboo Trail." Gruber's hobby is the history of Western United States, and he cites these as some of the most common errors in cinema horse operas:

"Metal cartridges for revolvers in stories of the 1860s or earlier (the most frequent mistake of all). Metal cartridges were not invented until 1874, says Gruber In Civil War days the plains boys still used cap-and-ball.

Ten-gallon hats. These, Gruber reports, came in about 1900—no earlier.

Double armament. Jesse James was the only real two-gun man Gruber knows about.

Hunted Gunman Gives Self Up

ALLISTON, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP) —Vincent Santoro, 59-year-old section foreman, surrendered to police here Sunday night after he was located in a coal yard by John Whiteside and persuaded to return to his home. He had been sought since early Friday when, police said, he threatened his wife and daughters.

Provincial police took Santoro to Barrie, but no charge was laid immediately.

Police took up Santoro's trail when his wife reported he disappeared toting a shotgun after threatening her and their two daughters—Grace, 18, and Teresa, 15. Police said he later kept four officers bottled up in the police station, threatening to shoot whenever the door was opened.

He fled when reinforcements arrived, they said.

Community Has Party For Ottawa Couple

WARKWORTH, Sept. 19 (ENS) —A large number of friends from the village and surrounding district gathered in the Masonic Hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Baker, of Ottawa, a recent bride and groom who were visiting Mr. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Baker.

The Rev. H. G. Lester was chairman for a program which included a vocal duet by Mrs. J. M. Ritchie and Mrs. W. Craighead; reading by Mrs. Oscar Laver; duet by June and Joy Craighead with tap dancing; clarinet solo by Edward Thompson; a stunt conducted by Mrs. Allan Birchman with Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Jim Snooker, Doug. Edgar and W. B. Baker taking a song, folowed by prayers. Mrs. Lilly Anderson welcomed the guests.

An address was given by Mr. Beare after which the following program took place: reading by Mrs. Ray Stewart; Mrs. Beare gave a paper on Western Mission Work and related a story. Readings were given by Miss Favers Lyle, Mrs. Jennie Wellman, Mrs Simpson and Mrs. Baker. Mrs. Don Stewart sang, with Mrs. Clarence hompson accompanist.

A jumbled letter contest was organized by Mrs. E. Rowe. Mr. Beare then closed the meeting with prayer.

The Rylestone Association served tea.

Optimist Club Opens Boys' Teen Town

Optimism reigned Sunday afternoon at the opening of the Optimist Club's Boys' Town at Nicholls Oval. Governor Dr. Donald Twiss of the 15th District of Optimist Club International snipped the ribbons which held a horseshoe of white asters hanging to the main door of Trafalgar House. Boys' Town was officially opened.

Governor Twiss was greeted by Chief of Police for the town, John Cupoli, who took the Governor's name to the mayor and council. Then Mayor Terry Roberts wel-

A demonstration of the coun- performed by the boys ... they passed two ... admitted another boy into the town. Then the special guests and general public made a tour inspecting the rooms

The ceremonial scene then shifted to the bandstand. Here Optimist Stewart Gardiner acted as chairman.

President Leo Edwards thanked the city officials "who have given us such wonderful support." He said that the Optimist Club's Boys' Town is the first project of its kind in Peterborough and that it was the aim to make Boys' Town a credit to the community.

The first time that he saw the Boys' Town, said Dr. Twiss, was in March when he visited the local club. At that time, he continued, the Optimists were busy with saws, hammers and paint brushes preparing the buildings for the boys.

Mayor Terry Roberts of Boys' Town accepted a key from Ald. Patrick Anglesey who represented Mayor M. J. Swanston. Mayor Roberts then introduced the Council and other civic officials of Boys' Town to the public.

Other guests who congratulated the Club on their boys' project were: The Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church and president of the Peterborough Ministerial Association; Gordon K. Fraser, M.P. and the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests.

Before and after the opening ceremonies the Peterborough Citizens Band entertained, playing the following selections: A La Militaire, Chu Chin Chow; Cruising Down the River; Let the Rest of the World Go By; Bower of Beauty.

Just as the entertainment by the boys was about to begin Mother Nature took over. It rained forcing the spectators and boys to the shelter of the house. Here it was decided to run the show Monday night at the bandstand.

DR. W. R. REEK (right), president of Ontario Agricultural College, surveyed Saturday the evidence of progress with the demonstration program instituted several years ago by the College and the Ontario Department of Agriculture on the farm of Harry Blewett (left), Chemong Road. Results of agricultural experiment are not immediately available, Dr. Reek said, and conclusions from the tests in Smith might not be definitely known for ten years. The primary concern of the College was that this work must be practical and thereby applicable to farm methods. Dr. Reek discussed the Blewett program with Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative (centre), and Mr. Blewett. The lower picture indicates the strip and contour planning of one of the fields, illustrating one of the physical changes adopted to prevent soil erosion.—(Examiner Staff Photos.)

Would Not Leave Noronic Deck; Stayed Till Last

"It was terrific, just terrific," said Mel Anthony, of Anthony's Fruit Market, who arrived at the burning of the Noronic shortly after the fire was reported.

Mr. Anthony was with his cousin, Joseph Anthony, at the Toronto Wholesale Fruit Market on Young St. when they saw the reflections of the fire in the sky. Mr. Anthony said they gave little thought to it at first because they had often seen other reflections of burning rubbish fires along the lakeshore.

"We had just finished loading the truck when the whistle from the boat started to blow. Joe said that a veteran working in the market said that signified a large fire at the harbor. We jumped in the truck and went down Young St. Parking the truck on Harbour St. we went across to a grassy lot between Harbour St. and the burning ship. Here were most of the survivors."

Mr. Anthony said there were two hundred survivors and spectators in the lot. They were easily separated as most of the survivors were in sleeping attire.

"I guess from where we were standing there were five fire trucks and four ambulances in sight. Taxi cabs were everywhere. People started to slide down the ropes but being inexperienced most of them dropped into the water. Others just dropped over the rails. I saw at least five people jump from the ship into the water as we were standing there."

A man whom Mr. Anthony believed to be the captain of the Noronic was taken from the bow of the ship. He wouldn't come off the boat, said Mr. Anthony, so an aerial ladder was stretched to the bow and he was taken off.

Mr. Anthony said he thought this was the last person to be taken off the ship.

Talked To Passengers

In the lot where the survivors were gathering Mr. Anthony and his companion talked to sevral passengers of the Noronic. No one seemed to know how the fire started. All this time the whistle of the ship was still blowing.

Mr. Anthony said they stopped to talk to a girl. Her hands were badly blistered and her face, the left side, was either burned or bruised. She was suffering from severe shock and didn't know where she was from. All she knew she had been fished out of the water.

When told she should go to hospital for medical attention, she babbled quickly to her girl friend. Finally she started on her way. She was in night attire with a coat slung over her.

Smelt Smoke, Saw Fire

Another woman told them that she and her husband were just retiring when they smelt smoke. Opening their cabin door, she said they saw the flames and made their way to the dock.

Back at the edge of the burning ship Mr. Anthony said a Toronto detective plunged into the water several times to save people jumping over the rail of the ship. They heard calls for help from several non-swimmers who had jumped over the rail.

"The police told the crowd to move back as they expected an explosion aboard the ship. Yet the firemen and some policemen stayed close to the fire. They deserve a lot of credit."

Mr. Anthony said the boat was aflame from stem to stern when they arrived. Two aerial ladders were stretched out to the ship one from the side and the other to bow. People were clamoring down the bow ladder while firemen were pouring water on the fire from the side ladder.

"No one can realize what it was like there. A person would have to be there to actually believe everything. It was the first time I have ever seen such a disaster."

Three times a week the Anthonys go to Toronto for supplies, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

FALLS FROM TREE

Eleven-year-old Arthur Clark fell from an apple tree Saturday, cutting his left arm and was taken to Civic Hospital for treatment. He is the son of Max Clark, 51 Robinson St.

Fighting and Swearing, 7 Teen-Agers Raid Town

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 19 (ENS)—Campbellford had its first taste of 'teen-aged rowdyism Saturday night when a gang of seven from Peterborough invaded the town fighting and using obscene language.

The upshot of this performance was that three of the youths were arrested by Chief Constable George H. Hardy, and the remainder were allowed to go.

Driver of the car was Joseph Bryan, 17, of 735 Herman St., Peterborough. He was charged with operating a vehicle owned by Leonard Titus of 194 Hunter St. E. without a licence. Titus, a passenger in the car, was arrested for having liquor in a public place. And the third youth taken into custody was Donald Wood, 229 King St., on a charge of drunkenness.

The trio will appear in court a week from Thursday.

A number of Campbellford residents became alarmed after the seven youths went on a spree of running in and out of stores and intimidating people. Later they became involved in a brawl on Front St.

From there they went to the bowling green, and started what residents describe as "a wild party." Chief Hardy made the arrests at the bowling green.

Titus and Wood were locked up until 3 a.m. but the remainder, including Bryan who was charged were not taken into custody although told to get out of town.

Three Car Smashed At City Intersection

Three cars were damaged in an accident at the corner of McDonnel and Aylmer streets Sunday afternoon.

Peter Russell, 483 George St., driving east on Aylmer St., collided with a car driven by Claude Kimble, 201 Romaine St., in the McDonnel St. intersection. The Kimble car skidded around and hit a car driven by Alfred Pink, 124 Dublin St., who was waiting at the stop sign.

Passengers in the Kimble car were slightly injured. The right side of the Kimble car was damaged and the grill, front fender and bumper of the Pink car were smashed.

A DANGEROUS PLACE

Every year about 30,000 people in the United States are killed by accidents in the home.

Five Lives Lost; Two Accidents On One Highway

Five people—two of them from Detroit—are dead as a result of two car accidents on No. 2 Highway early today.

Martin J. Sherwood, 27, of Detroit, and Del Bryan Eggert, 27, of West Lewiston, Mich., died in Belleville Hospital early today after a traffic accident three and a half miles west of Brighton.

Provincial police say that a Canada Bread truck driven by Jack Phillips of Rowe Ave Toronto, broke over the brow of a hill at about 12:30 a.m. and had to pull over to the shoulder of the road to avoid a parked car.

The west-bound American vehicle, driven by Sherwood, was crushed when the truck turned over on it after going out of control when hitting the soft shoulder. Sherwood died shortly after admission to Belleville Hospital. and Eggert died some time later.

The car, pinned under the large break truck, is described as a total wreck.

Provincial Constable A. G. Bonisteel of Brighton investigated.

Three Killed

A trailer-transport swinging down the highway out of control for more than 500 feet finally crashed into an oncoming car and killed three occupants, Sunday midnight.

The accident occurred about half a mile west of Bowmanville

Dead are the driver, Percy Martin, of 7 Runsey Rd., Leaside; his wife, age 49, and Mrs. Alex Lawrence, 58, of Oshawa.

Alex Lawrence, 58, also a passenger in the car, is in Bowmanville Hospital in a serious condition.

The only one of the five occupants to escape uninjured was the Martin's four-year-old granddaughter, Donna.

An inquest has been ordered by Crown Attorney Harry R. Deyman of Cobourg. Dr. Charles J. Austin of Bowmanville is the coroner.

The huge Smith transport after its wild run down the Highway jackknifed and fell on top of the westbound car. Rescuers had difficulty extricating the victims from the smashed vehicle.

According to the police the accident happened when a westbound car pulled part way over onto the shoulder of the road to let out a passenger. The car behind began to nose out into the centre of the road to pass when the oncoming trailer-transport was noticed coming over the hill, about 300 feet away.

Immediately the second car tried to get back into line behind the one with the passenger.

Hit Soft Shoulder

In order to miss it the eastbound truck pulled well over to the south side of the road, and as it did so, hit the soft shoulder. It then veered over to the north side of the highway and continued on a zig-zag course as the driver fought for control.

It struck the Martin car about 500 feet behind the other two after the trailer portion jackknifed.

Provincial Constable A. L. Ketching of Bowmanville investigated.

Great Future For Farming Dr. Reek Says

Time is of the essence of agricultural experiments, said Dr. W. R. Reek, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, in his first survey of the Harry Blewett farm, on the Chemong Road Saturday.

Definite results must be shown, and they must provide a conclusive answer to the general question: are they practical and profitable.

The answer that is slowly taking shape in the demonstration work in progress on the Blewett farm is already clearly affirmative and favorable, but it may be ten years before finality of evidence is available.

The Blewett farm is typical of a large section of southern Ontario ... unvarying quality that has been in use ... a century, some acreage of wood lot, fields that were laid out in suitability to horse power farming, established rotation of crops, and a use of the soil which in most instances took from it more of the mineral constituents and fertility than was put back and maintained.

"It is encouraging to find a young farmer like Mr. Blewett who is so willing to be co-operative," said Dr. Reek. "Farmers generally, and especially the younger generation, have become more conscious about soil and other farm problems than were their fathers. They are asking questions that must be answered, and we are trying to give them the answers. Some of these farmers are going ahead with experiments on their own initiative. They keep themselves informed about agricultural progress, and carry on from there.

"I believe there is a greater future than ever for agriculture in Ontario based on the new ideas and practices that are being proved."

Restoring of Fertility

Dr. Reek said he had no hesitation in making that prediction. The restoring of fertility to the land had not been neglected by many progressive farmers, and its ownership and use were being regarded more than ever today as an essential responsibility. The younger generation was more intelligently soil conscious, and Dr. Reek said that this district was fortunate in having the service of an agricultural representative like Frank Paterson in his experience and knowledge of soils and his concern about the fundamental importance of the maintenance of fertility and healthy condition of the land.

Putting new vitality back into any farm that has been cropped for years without a balanced program of upkeep of fertility could not be accomplished in a short time, Dr. Reek remarked. But, there was deep satisfaction and encouragement in the questioning attitude of so many farmers today. They had come to realize that demonstrated methods of restoration and conservation were adoptable to their own practice, and at moderate cost. That receptiveness to new ideas was a long step forward, and was one of the promises for a greater future in the farming of tomorrow.

Dr. Reek said that possibly some problems might have to be approached by the securing of land specially for that purpose, acreages here and there in the province which could be utilized for investigation that did not involve immediate income.

If some test of that nature recommended itself, it probably should be carried out separately from farms whose owners had to make their living from the products. Experiments and demonstration were a continuing concern in agriculture, and their recognition and acceptance by farmers today was a most encouraging feature.

For research work conducted by the College, it appeared more and more advisable that it be projected into the country on land that might be secured for that purpose. That kind of program would remain linked with the scientific study of agricultural problems, but it might be confined less to the College quarters and more to test farm land.

That was one idea which Dr. Reek apparently considered as a development in study method.

Two little boys, not brothers, who lost parents in the Noronic fire, received the sympathetic attention of guests at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Sunday. Stan Darling, attending a Lions Club executive meeting Saturday night, said the atmosphere of the hotel was deeply depressed by the catastrophe. He had seen the burning ship from the roof garden. One of the rescued passengers, a man, was weeping apparently uncontrollably in the hotel Sunday. Two Americans took him away to their room.

Car Blocks Track Delays CPR Train

Many a driver has cursed many a train because it kept him waiting at a level crossing for what seemed like hours. But at 2.30 a.m. Sunday, Patrick O'Brien, R.R. 11, Peterborough, struck a blow for persecuted car drivers.

At the Maria St. crossing on the C.P.R. track, the east bound passenger train was held up for some time by Pat's car planted squarely in the tracks.

Pat told police he had been driving east along Maria St. When he was crossing the tracks, the rear wheels of his car caught in the tracks and turned it along the rails. The train came along before it could be taken out.

Stan Whiddon Kawartha Club Golf Champion

Stan Whiddon defeated Jack Condon on Sunday two up and one to go for the championship of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club. Ned Vitarelli was the winner last year. Whiddon was runner-up for the city golf championship to Fraser Dunfield this year, and won that title in 1948. His club championship earns him the Durland Trophy.

The golf was not of the highest calibre due to the rain. The finalists teed off at 10:30 in the first 18 holes but played in a heavy downpour, and with no gallery, for the first 14 holes. They went away about three in the afternoon and finished just before six, the weather improving and a fair-sized gallery viewing ... in the morning and carried on ... for the second 18 of the 36-hole playoff.

Condon was in the finals for the first time and made it close until the finish. He had earlier eliminated Bill Moulton in the semi-finals, as Whiddon put out Les Reid. The new champion is noted as a steady golfer who has won a number of trophies in recent years. The club's activities for the season will close in another week.

Collar Bone Broken In Intersection Crash

Three people were hurt when two cars collided at the corner of Aylmer and Sherbrooke streets Saturday afternoon.

James Scott, 299 Townsend St., driver of one car, had a broken collar bone police said.

His wife received a deep cut on her left knee and Mrs. John O'Brien, another passenger in the Scott car, had a severe bump over her right eye.

Scott told police he was driving north on Aylmer St. His car was struck on the right side as he crossed the Sherbrooke St. intersection, by a car driven by Harold Lloyd, Campbellford.

The Scott car was turned over on its right side.

Traffic Officer Clare McGillen reported Lloyd said he didn't see the stop sign. The right side of the Scott car was damaged and windshield was knocked out. The rear left wheel was broken and the right rear wheel was bent.

The front of the Lloyd car was damaged.

Kingston Gains First One Over Electrics

Canadian General Electric soccer eleven travelled to Kingston to play Kingston United in the semi-final of the Ontario cup and lost 4-1, in the first of the home-and-home series, with goals to count. The locals hope to close that gap next Saturday on their home ground. The game was played on a Kingston field with an incline from one end to the other. Kingston club entertained CGE after the game.

CGE lost the toss and had to kick up the field. Chamberlain had to save rocket drives in the early stages, while Attard, accepting a pass from Featherstone, rattled the upright with a terrific drive. Kingston half-backs again took the initiative with Neidbala scoring twice on the right wing, with C. Murduff replacing him. Time and again Featherstone and Cotton broke through the Kingston defense to test the custodian from all angles. Just before the interval, Cantarutti, Kingston, registered the third counter.

Forces Issue

The second half opened up with Pyle, Petes, forcing the issue with driving tactics up the centre where Strong and Steel slipped the ball over to Attard who was brought down inside the penalty area. Featherstone made no mistake. Again Machin, Kingston, concentrated his team-mates to offensive play along with Russell, left, half, to confine the play inside the Petes' goal area. Towards the finish, Machin beat Attard in the act of scoring to slip the ball over to Russell who sent it forward to Neidbala to make the count 4-1 for Kingston.

Kingston—R. Folger, goal; R. Forrest and J. Machin, full backs; J. Poulton, R. Wassell and J. Russell, half-backs; L. Cantarutti, R. Neidbala, W. Grundy, L. Gargaro and P. Dark, forwards. Subs., R. Stafford, J. Berry.

CGE—J. Chamberlain, goal; R. Titshell and S. Murduff, full-backs; S. McGann, H. Pyle and J. Craig, half-backs; R. Strong, H. Steel, F. Attard, A. Featherstone and E. Cotton, forwards. Subs., C. Murduff, J. Goodhew.

Referee, A. Palmer, Kingston.

British Golfers Suffer Setback

GANTON, England, Sept. 19 (AP)—Britain's best professional golfers are wondering today just what they have to do to beat the United States after blowing an early lead in the Ryder Cup matches and suffering a 7-5 setback.

The challenging British squad began play in confident frame of mind. When they won three of the four Scotch foursomes in Friday's opening competition, that merely added to their feeling of security.

Then, in Saturday's eight singles finals, the United States forces came back to capture six of the eight matches and retain possession of the cup.

Dutch Harrison smothered Max Faulkner, 8 and 7; Jimmy Demaret routed Art Lees, 7 and 6; Sammy Snead toyed with Charlie Ward, 6 and 5; Chick Harbert defeated Sam King, 4 and 3; Lloyd Mangrum won by the same score over Fred Daly, and Clayton Heafner had a 3 and 2 margin over Dick Burton.

Johnny Palmer lost a close one to Jimmy Adams, 2 and 1, while the other American loser, Bob Hamilton, bowed to a brilliant Dai Rees, 6 and 4.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Fights in the hockey games "wouldn't amount to anything" if other players "would stay out of it," Cooper Smeaton of Montreal told the hundreds of fans who attended the cheer-the-champs dinner at Toronto to honor the Maple Leafs Saturday night.

"Players don't want to fight—it's just a big act," said the former National League referee and only living trustee of the Stanley Cup, which the Leafs won for the third successive time last spring.

Before young members of the Leafs listened to words of advice from Smeaton, they were presented with numerous gifts, including silver-buckled belts from the Ontario government.

British Columbia All-Stars Western Canada junior lacrosse champions, left Winnipeg Sunday night for Owen Sound, to meet the Ontario all-stars in a five-game series for the Dominion title and the Minto Cup.

The BC aggregation Saturday night swamped Manitoba All-Stars 20-8 for a clean sweep of their best-of-three series for the western Canada crown. They won the first game 15-4.

Gordon Ball of Toronto Summitt, won the Ontario golf amateur tournament at Brantford on Saturday carding a 72 par for the course. Don Varey, Brantford, and Gordon Duncan, Toronto Summitt were tied for second with 73's.

A field of 148 started, including many of Ontario's leading shotsmiths. Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ontario amateur champion, failed to appear.

Coach Tag Millar of the Memorial Cup champion Montreal Royals will be out of hockey this season because of his health, it was learned at Montreal Saturday. Kenny Murray, who coached the B team in the Quebec Junior Association last year, will take over.

Ottawa Crushes Wildcats 19-12 As Montreal Whips Argos 24-11

By The Canadian Press.

Two of the three unbeaten senior football teams extended their win strings during the six-game Canadian football week-end but the third fell from the victory path.

The Canadian champion Calgary Stampeders and Ottawa Rough Riders, opponents in last season's Grey Cup final, both made it four in a row without a loss. The Stamps overwhelmed Winnipeg Blue Bombers 20-1 Saturday while Ottawa defeated the hard-fighting Hamilton Wildcats 19-12.

The upset came at Windsor when the Rockets blanked Sarnia 13-0 the first loss in four games for the Imperials. Art Massucci's Rockets, beaten 13-9 in their first meeting with Red Douglas' Imps [illegible] moved into a tie with them for first place in the Ontario Rugby [illegible] Montreal Alouettes tied Toronto Argonauts for second place by beating the Argos 24-11. With two victories and two losses, both are four points behind Ottawa. The Wildcats are pointless in four starts.

First Triumph

Hamilton Tigers turned in their first Ontario Union victory in three starts by smothering the winless Toronto Balmy Beach 45-2.

Before a sell-out crowd of 6,200 at Winnipeg, the Stampeders were paced by the strong passing of quarterback Keith Spaith and the brilliant running of halfback Normie Kwong.

Before a crowd of 13,000 at Ottawa coach Frank Gnup's spunky Wildcats missed several chances to tie the game during the last half on fumbles or interceptions close to the Riders' goal-line. They Riders scored touchdowns in the first, second and fourth quarters—one by Howie Turner and two by Bill Larochelle. Eric Chipper converted all three and Tony Golab punted a single.

Negro import Tom Casey sparked the Wildcats. A threat as a punter, passer and particularly as a broken field-runner, he scored both Hamilton majors and kicked a single.

Some 18,000 fans at Toronto saw an improved Argo crew hold the Als to a 7-7 tie in the first half and then appear headed for victory after the start of the third quarter when they shot out in front 11-7 on a single and a 22-yard field goal by Joe Krol.

Come Back Strongly

The Alouettes came back strongly and, moving mostly along the ground, went on to score an unconverted touchdown in the third session and two converted majors in the final quarter.

At Hamilton, before a crowd of 2,500, the Tigers were slow starting and the Beaches took a 2-0 first quarter leader on singles by Bill Douglas. Then they struck. They registered six touchdowns, three placements and six singles during the rest of the game.

At Windsor, the Rockets combined a charging line and ever-ready speed on the backfield as they shut out the Imperials before a crowd of 4,500.

It was the efforts of Sylvester Mike, Jack Murphy and Bob Simpson and Skeets Harrison [illegible] Murphy and Simpson scored converted touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters. The last came when Simpson intercepted a pass by George Curtis and raced 45 yards.

St. Edmund's Draw With Cricket Club

By C. H. IRESON

St. Edmunds Club of Toronto had a draw 121-111 (for nine wickets) with the local cricketers Saturday at the Oval to conclude the cricket season here. Peterborough was without A. Pope, H. Pyle and B. Roberts. The local team won nine, lost six and drew one during the season, heading their division in the Toronto Council to earn promotion.

The visitors batted first and had nine wickets down for 92, but then B. Gracie (13) joined W. Gibson and the pair added 29 for the last wicket, leaving Gibson 29 not out. Frank Dyer had a bowling analysis of six wickets for 27 runs.

The P-W innings was mostly a triumph for F. Booth, who went in first and was not out for 73 at the finish. His innings included 13 fours. His best partner was [illegible] added 47 for the fourth wicket, the total being 71. Then a slump followed and six players failed to [illegible] Webb (3), came in and kept up his end and Booth scored runs till the total was 111 when darkness prevented further play, as anything might have happened. G. Ince was the best bowler, taking seven wickets for 33 runs.

T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour, British challenger for the America's Cup, won her second successive heat against Harold S. Vanderbilt's Rainbow at Newport, R.I., 15 years ago today. But the American boat won the next three heats and held the prized trophy.

Local Peewees Take Two In OLA Tourney

The Peterborough peewee lacrossers won their two games Saturday as 14 peewee teams took part in an OLA round-robin playoff at Toronto and Mimico. Three teams remained at the end of play, Peterborough, Fergus and Brampton, with the Petes probably drawing a bye this week into the finals.

It was 22-0 for Rowan Chute's squad over Hespeler. The losers got but three good shots at the Petes' goal throughout as the young winners turned in a swell passing and checking game. The second tilt was much tougher as the Petes drew an Indian team from the Osweken Reserve, a [illegible] John's of Toronto. The game went into overtime periods before the Petes came from behind for the [illegible] time to win 9-8.

[illegible] local boys turned in a fine show in important games. Larry Hunt shone in goal and saved the day many times. Pete Heffernan was one of the outstanding players during the series, but they were all good.

Fray Blacked Out

BETHANY, Sept. 19 (ENS) — Friday night's softball game, Peterborough Quakers vs. Yelverton, played in Bethany Athletic Park was called at the last of the fourth inning on account of darkness, with Yelverton leading by an 8-4 score. Quakers got a run in the first, no count in the second and third, and three runs in the fourth. Yelverton had no score in the first, one in the second, six in the third, with Madeline Kerr having the only home run of the evening totalling up the eighth run in the fourth. The teams:

Quakers—H. Dunford, R. Ducharme, B. Brown, D. Newnham, M. Drum, E. Lynch, S. Bagnall, M. Fontaine, M. Lynch.

Yelverton—M. Shea, H. Heaslip, M. Kerr, A. Kerr, A. VanDam, P. Stewart, B. Kerr, R. Malcolm, G. Kerr.

Umpires—G. T. McPherson and T. Skitch of Millbrook.

The deciding game of this series will be played in Bethany on Monday night.

Sopwith protested the fourth race, alleging two fouls, but his complaints were rejected.

Gracious Living— BEGINS IN THE KITCHEN

Says Children Should Help Family's Needs

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 19 — (ENS)—"Children should learn to be considerate and generous," said Mrs. Harry Johnson, M.A., of the Institute of Child's Study, University of Toronto, to a class of 15 women in the Parish Hall on Friday. "When their quarrels disturb the peace, they should be separated," she stated.

"Sharing is forcing a child to give up something," she said. "Working together is co-operation. Co-operation is preferred at all times."

"When a child begins to earn he should contribute to the family's needs. If he does not pay bor his board, he will know little about running his own home. Children should not be allowed to spend money as they like," she stressed.

"In some families all money is [illegible] and then it is [illegible]ing to the need [illegible] member of the family. All the members of the family must be old enough to understand this system," she added.

Mrs. Johnson said that parents should agree on methods of discipline. A mother should never say to her daughter, "Report to me in my bedroom when you come home from the party." Such a demand was unwise and should be avoided.

Much discussion took place during the question and answer period. "Should I teach my child two languages? was the first question.

"It is not a matter of teaching," answered Mrs. Johnson, "when two languages are spoken in the home.

Children who hear a language spoken can absorb it without difficulty. The ability to converse in different languages is cultural and useful," she said.

Approves Thumb Sucking

The question of thumb-sucking was discussed at length. 'Let the child suck its thumb and get what satisfaction he can," advised Mrs. Johnson. 'It has never been proven," she said, "that thumb sucking caused malformation of the teeth or lower jaw.

"What should be done with a child who is very slow," was another question discussed.

"Some children have slow and other quick reactions," said Mrs. Johnson. "Children with slow reactions should be given more time to complete an assignment. Certain privileges may have to be withdrawn if they persist in being slow," she added.

"Should mother or father be the head of the house?" was another poser. Some thought that father should be king while other contended that he should be kept in his place. Mrs. Johnson stated that father should be head of the house but not in a dictatorial manner.

"He should not go against mother's decision openly," she remarked. "Mother has greater knowledge of the children on account of being with them more. I believe," she said, "fathers are taking a more active part in looking after the children than they did before the war.

"There should be mutual agreement between parents on disciplinary methods," she stated. "If they disagree on certain methods, they should compromise."

The ladies voted unanimously for the negative side of the question "Should children disturb the parents' rest in the morning?"

Mrs. Johnson pointed out that children should be considerate and realize that parents need need rest. She said that busy work should be placed by the side of the bed to keep the children amused after they waken in the morning. Older children should be taught to take part in various forms of activity without making unnecessary noise.

"Build up self-confidence in the child who stammers," Mrs. Johnson advised. "Do not draw the child's attention to his stammering but rather encourage him to overcome his handicaps. Stammering is emotional and if he persists after he starts school consult a qualified speech therapgutist. At all times treat him as a normal child," she added.

Santa Claus received his share of criticism. Some thought he should be considered a beautiful fairy. Mrs. Johnson pointed out the harm that can be done if you perpetuate the fairy tale after children have reached the questionable stage. "When children enquire, 'How can Santa's reindeer descend a small chimney?' they should be told the truth," she said.

Rubber Plant Reports Sales Of $21,000,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 19—(CP) — Canada's $50,000,000 synthetic rubber plant is in a bouncing battle with the world's crude rubber supply. So far, with the aid of scientific research, the fight has gone in Canada's favor.

Shooting out its cheaply-produced artificial rubber and by-products to the United States and Western Europe, Polymer Corporation has driven up its sales to more than $21,000,000 for the year ending March, 1949.

It is about $5,000,000 more than the war-born crown-owned rubber company sold the previous year, when world demand for rubber appeared greater and competition from crude rubber was not as stiff.

"There seems little doubt that [illegible] come increasingly aggressive competitors with crude rubber, the directors said in the annual report tabled in the Commons.

But they were going to meet the future confident that the synthetic rubber plant, located at Sarnia, would play an important part in the Canadian economy.

It sold more than 40,000,000 pounds of rubber during the year when crude rubber once more began to take over the automobile inner-tube market.

Budge-Shantz Wedding

The wedding of Miss Naomi Isabelle Shantz to Mr. Norman Gibson Budge took place Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the McDonnel Street Gospel Hall, with Mr. Samuel Taylor officiating. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Shantz, 236 Burnham St., Peterborough. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs Norman Budge, missionaries in N. Rhodesia, Africa.

Mrs. V. Millen played the wedding march and Mrs. J. McConnel sang "The Voice That Breather O'er Eden" during the signing of the register.

French lace over slipper satin fashioned the bride's gown and she wore a fingertip veil caught to a tiera of pearls and carried red roses. She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister Miss Phyllis Shantz who was frocked in pink taffeta and more a headdress of pink net. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

The groomsman was Mr. Eric Hartshorn and usheds were William Harvey and Herbert Stacey.

At the reception following the bride's mother received, gowned in wine crepe, and wearing black accessories and a corsage of cream gladioli. In absence of the groom's mother, Mrs. George Reader received wearing a dark green crepe dress, black accessories and corsage of Picardy gladioli.

For going-away the bride chose a grey suit and navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Budge will live in Peterborough.

Packing Lunches Requires Care and Much Thought

By MARY MOORE

Every morning between 7:15 and 7:40 I am packing lunches for three people and I wonder how it can take me so long, for at that time of morning I am most efficient.

Lunches are important meals and I never skimp on them nor do I depend on the eternal hunger of my family to help them to pass for good, when they might be mediocre.

Four times out of five our lunches are made of 100% whole wheat bread, half of it spread with thick homemade mayonaise and half with butter (or margarine). Once a week we have white bread or rye bread for a change.

If it is early in the week we have sliced roast meat in them. As the roast peters out we have hard-cooked egg sandwiches. I mix the chopped eggs with plenty of butter and mayonnaise and chopped chives and salt and pepper, and never spread the bread for egg sandwiches.

We like lettuce in all of our sandwiches (but I notice some of the girls in the office wrap their lettuce in waxed paper and put it in their sandwiches when they eat their lunches to prevent it becoming soggy). Baumert chcese sandwiches are good if there are plenty of peanuts or chopped almonds to put in them. We like this combination best on rye.

When everything else runs out we turn to bacon—which makes the best sandwiches of all.

Besides my 2 slices of whole wheat bread made into a sandwich I want a tomato and an orange or a pear, and I get one-half pint of milk at the office.

Peter wants a banana and an apple and buys milk at school.

Marianne wants tomato and a peach and can get milk at school too.

Fur surprises I tuck in stuffed dates and little paper twists of nuts—and nut and fruit filled cookies.

It is the recipe for these cookies that I want to give you today.

This is a triple-sized recipe that makes 18 dozen cookies of three different varieties from one batch of dough. For those of you who are proud of your efficient methods it is a "natural" for you can make the whole batch from start to finish in 2 hours.

Variety Cookies (18 dozen of 3 different kinds)

Six cups sifted flour, 8 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon salt, 6 tablespoons powdered milk (every grocery store has this), ¾ cup powdered whole eggs, 1½ cups best quality shortening, 4 cups brown sugar, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 1 pint water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon allspice, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup raisins, 4 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup shredded cocoanut.

(Note: I would urge you to use the powdered milk and eggs suggested but if you do not care to, omit the water and substitute it and the powdered milk with 1½ cups whole milk, and substitute the powdered eggs with 6 whole fresh eggs.)

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, dry milk solids and powdered whole egg. Cream together shortening and brown sugar until fluffy. Add the vanilla to the water and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the dry ingredients, mixing well after each addition. Divide batter into three equal parts. To one part add the cinnamon, allspice, nutmeg and raisins and mix well. To second part add melted chocolate and cocoanut. Leave third portion as is—plain. Drop each batter by spoonfuls on greased baking sheets. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for from 12 to 15 minutes.

Do not leave the kitchen when doing this baking—for if you keep the oven hot and keep changing the position of the pans, you can keep working all during the baking period, emptying and cleaning off and refilling pans, and this speeds the process. I hope you like these as well as we do.

Menus For Special Purposes

By MARY MOORE

Low-Calorie Dinner

Clear Tomato Bouillon (28 Cal.)
Broiled Minute Steaks (4 oz. 250 cal.) Watercress (5 stecs 5 cal.)
Baked Acorn Squash Halves (Minimum of butter 3 cal.)
Nectarine (32 cal.) or Bunch of Grapes (72 cal.)

High-Calorie Dinner (Guests)

Corn and Tomato Gumbo (see notes)
Baked Stuffed Spareribs
Sweet Potato and Apple Casserole
Broccoli with Hollandaise
Deep Peach—Apple Pie Coffee

One-Burner Dinner

Main Course Oxtail Soup (see notes)
Rye Bread
Cantaloupes filled with Ice Cream covered with Sliced Peaches
Coffee

Directions:

For the Corn and Tomato Gumbo (which is really a chowder, for okra, which is supposed to be indispensable to a "gumbo" is so hard to grow in Ontario) fry 2 tablespoons finely chopped salt pork with 3 slices onion for 5 minutes. Add 2 cups hot water, 1½ cup potato dice, 1 cup tomatoes peeled and chopped, and cook until potatoes are soft. Melt 2 tablespoons butter, stir in 2 tablespoons flour and when smooth stir in 2 cups hot milk until thick. Add to the cooked vegetables and add 1 cup corn kernels cut from the cob raw. Stir until sauce boils—when corn will be cooked. Add salt and pepper to taste and serve on split crockers.

I have suggested the Oxtail soup because I bought an oxtail for 30 Cents this week and it served 2 meals for 3 of us.

Wash 1 large oxtail and cut apart at joints with sharp knife. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour until well coated and saute in 2 tablespoons fat 10 minutes. Add 4 cups boiling water and cook until meat will almost fall from bones. Remove meat from bones and discard bones and return meat to cooking liquid. Add ½ cup each diced carrots, turnip, tomato celery, onion, potato and if desired finely chopped green beans and a little green pepper. Simmer until vegetables are tender. Flavour to taste with salt and pepper and Worcestershire sauce and, if desired, with a little cooking sherry or sherry flavouring—which is characteristic of oxtail soup. Garnish each dish with a slice of hard cooked egg.

3 Sisters Attend Alice Kay Bride of Everett Morris

All Saints' Anglican Church was setting on Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Alice Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kay, 536 Chamberlain St., to Mr. William Everett Morris, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris of Westwood. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite performed the ceremony.

Bouquets of gladioli were banked with fern to form a lovely background. Miss Margaret Flowers played the wedding music and Mrs. Karl Dorrington was soloist.

The bride's gown was of white satin with full skirt draped at the sides and finished with a large bow at the back. The bodice was fitted and had a drop-shoulder effect with silk net to the high round neckline, and long fitted sleeves. Her fingertip veil was caught to her head with orange [illegible] quet of red roses.

Mr. Kay gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by three sisters. Miss Anna Kay as maid of honor was in a low neckline bouffant frock of blue taffeta. Misses Beatrice and Patricia Kay as bridesmaids were in similar frocks of orchid and pale yellow taffeta. Rosettes of the material of their dresses made becoming headbands and they had matching mittens. Each carried a ring bouquet of vari-colored small flowers.

The groomsman was Mr. Al Mason and James Kay and Roy Renwick ushered.

The reception was held in the Green Room of the YWCA. Mrs. Kay and Mrs. Morris, mothers of the bride and groom, assisted to receive, similarly attired in navy ensembles and wearing corsages of pink carnations.

For going-away the bride chose a two piece dress of grey mix wool jersey, a pearl grey shortie [illegible]

On return from a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Morris will live at 660 Reid St.

Bride's Brother Officiates Bathe-Fitzpatrick Union

St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Norwood, was decorated with multi-coloured gladioli fo the wedding on Saturday of Margaret Marie Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzpatrick, Hastings, to John Francis Bathe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bathe, Oshawa.

The Rev. Francis Fitzpatrick, brother of the bride performed the marriage. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Chas. Coughlin and the choir sang wedding hymns.

The bride was gowned in white satin with basque bodice, and portrait neckline outlined with bias folds of satin, filled in with fine net yoke. The pannier folds at back of the skirt formed a bustle, and swept into a full court train. Tiny buttons were down the back of the bodice and the long tight sleeves were finished with lily points over the hands. Her fingertip veil was held in place with seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of dark red roses.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attended by Miss Marguerite Lamey whose dress was of romance pink taffeta with bertha collar draped in front and caught with two large flowers of self material. The same large padded flowers outlined the hips giving a hooped effect to the very full skirt. Long fingerless mittens and pleated half-hat were of matching taffeta. Her bouquet was white roses, gladioli and 'mums.

Mr. Alan Bathe was his brother's groomsman. Ushers were Jack Sage, Oshawa and James Fitzpatrick.

A wedding dinner was served at the bride's home. Her mother received in black crepe dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white and pink carnations. The groom's mother wore grey crepe with navy accessories and a similar corsage.

For her travelling the bride chose a brown crepe dress and matching accessories. She carried a melon - shade topcoat. The couple left on a motor trip to Montreal, St. Anne's, and points in United States. On return they will live in Oshawa.

SMILING HAPPILY, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Gardiner, Jr., leave the Park Avenue Methodist Church, New York, after their wedding. The beautiful bride is skating star Sonja Henie. Her husband is a socialite aviation executive.

McConkey-Gelling Rites

In Wesley United Church on Saturday afternoon the marriage was solemnized of Barbara Joan Gelling, and Glenn Austin McConkey, with the Rev. E. W. Rowland officiating, assisted by Mr. Kenneth Stewart. The bride is daughter of Mrs. A. Helwig of Guelph and the late Mr. Harry Gelling. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. McConkey of Selwyn.

The church was decorated with fall flowers and fern. Miss Esther Meiklejohn played the wedding music and Mr. Charles Pavey sang "O Perfect Love" at the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Alvin Helwig, the bride was gowned in traditional white slipper satin. The dress had a moulded bodice with the neckline featuring a lace insert trimmed with pearls, and the skirt extended in a long train. Her veil of embroidered French net was caught to a wreath of pearls and she was carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Isabel Northey as maid of honour was wearing a dress of blue silk net, trimmed with pink daisies, and accessories in the same shade. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli. Bridesmaids Miss Melba Pavey and Miss Velma Garbutt were frocked in pink and green taffeta, each wearing a matching headdress with shoulder veil and elbow length mittens. They carried muffs of the same material topped with a corsage of mixed flowers.

The groom was attended by Mr. John Dunford and the ushers were Ivan Bullock and Harold Pearson.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Davies, Lakefield. The bride's mother assisted to receive wearing a gown of navy crepe with matching accessories, also the groom's mother who wore a black ensemble, and each had a corsage of red roses.

The bride and groom left later on a wedding trip to the United States and on return will live on the groom's farm near Selwyn. For travelling the bride wore a suit of vine gabardine with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Roseneath News

Among those attending the funeral service of the late Mrs. Malcolm Sloan at Norwood on Saturday were the Rev. R. C. White, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Carew, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Nichol, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broadworth, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Linton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. John Coyle, the Misses Aureen and Nelda Brown, Mrs. Kenneth Dowler, and Mr. Mervin Smith.

Mr. Nicholas Doidge spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard O'Connell, Hastings.

Miss Mary Hugh, Cobourg, was a week-end guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jack Pacey.

The Rev. Ernest Spencer, Rochester, New York, occupied the pulpit of St. James' Anglican Church on Sunday morning. Mr. Spencer is a brother of Canon C. R. Spencer, rector of the church.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

All Women Not Mercenary Some Marry For Love, Too

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man, 23 years old, and have the instinct of any normal person to marry, but am not economically independent, nor do I have any prospect of being such for years to come. Is a man supposed to stay single just because he can't support a wife? Women only marry when men have money, and I fail to see where that makes them any better than women of the [illegible] What is your opinion?

Dorothy Dix

J. A. C.

ANSWER: I think there is no such bunk as the charges that men make that women marry only for money. Perhaps there may have been some grain of truth in it in the old days when there were no avocations open to women but teaching and housework, and a woman had to marry in order to get somebody to support her.

But certainly in these days, when any intelligent, able-bodied girl can support herself quite as likely as a husband will be able to do it, women do not marry for a meal ticket. They go out and earn their own bread and butter, and nine times out of ten when they get married it is because they love some man well enough to give up a good job for him. And mighty often it is a poor trade, and the girl knows it when she is making it.

Proof

For the proof of this statement look around among your own acquaintances. How many girls do you know whom you even suspect of having married for money? How many men do you know who have the price to buy a wife, even if the girls were willing to sell themselves? The value of a wife runs into real money and only rich men can afford to buy gold-digging ladies.

On the contrary, don't you know dozens of girls who have married poor boys, knowing that they would have to give up a mahogany desk for a cookstove, that they would have to pinch and economize as they have not had to do [illegible] money at living at home, and knowing that [illegible] to go shabby and push their own perambulators and undergo all the hardships of a poor man's wife, but doing it gladly because some man was more to them than good clothes and their own pay envelopes and running around to parties?

So don't talk any more nonsense about girls only marrying for money. It doesn't make sense in these times when women pull their share in the boat instead of being clinging vines.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: You say that for a man and wife to have the same tastes, habits, etc., is the best guarantee against their going on the rocks in matrimony. But haven't you noticed couples who are so much alike they can't get along together? I know a couple, for instance, who both resent criticism but both like to criticize, and they are in a perpetual row. How about it?

CURIOUS

ANSWER: Congeniality implies that people are interested in and like the same things, not that they have the same temperament. People who have the same temperament can rarely get along together. That is why families fly apart as soon as they can, and why people seek somebody as different as possible from the members of their family to marry.

If Jones, who is irritable and high-tempered, marries a red-headed, nervous woman, they are as good for a stormy life as a nickel is for a ginger cake. But if Jones marries a placid, amiable, good-natured wife he will be as happy as the day is long, and his counterpart will also get along beautifully if she gets a jolly, amiable husband.

A man and woman may have the same tastes and yet have different temperaments. They may have a mutual fondness for books or the theatre or golf or good cooking and yet one be optimistic and the other able to laugh off any criticism.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young maried woman. My health is poor and I am quite disagreeable at times and I guess I don't make life any too pleasant for my husband and he is so sweet and good to me, never says a harsh word. How can I stop being so hateful?

MRS. T.C.T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Just snap out of it. Shut your teeth on the hateful thing you are about to say. Bite off your tongue rather than make would hurt your husband's feelthe disagreeable speech that ings. It is just a matter of self-control and you can do it if you wish.

YOU WOMEN WHO ARE GOING THROUGH 'CHANGE of LIFE'

Here's Good News!

Are you going through trying 'change of life'? Does this functional disturbance make you suffer from hot flashes, nervous and clammy feelings, weakness and a sense of being irritable and high-strung? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms.

Many wise women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress. Pinkham's Compound acts on one of woman's most important organs and has such a grand soothing effect.

In addition, this great medicine is a fine stomachic tonic. A real blessing for women who suffer this way.

Girl Guide Assoc. Protest Sale Sexy Literature

SUDBURY, Sept. 19.—(CP).—Deploring the flood of salacious literature on sale at newsstands throughout Ontario, the provincial executive of the Canadian Girl Guide Association went on record here Friday as protesting the sale of such reading material.

Members moved a report be sent to the provincial offices of home and school clubs, provincial Council of Women, IODE and CWL, of the Girl Guide Council's attempt to check the flood of what was described as obscene, lustful and sexy literature on sale throughout the province.

Mrs. Gordon Conant, of Oshawa, provincial Girl Guide commissioner, presided at Friday's sessions, which were closed to the public.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

DEAR MARY MOORE: Reading of your Chinese Wun Tun. It is very like the Indian Chupatti where curried meat is used. The edges of pastry wet to turn over and dipped in well beaten egg, then fried.

Did you know that the Chinese of Northern Australia, and these I knew, put chopped apple in any stew, really making tough meat quite tender, and that they made a most delicious flaky pastry of finely chopped suet, using the chopped suet as we use butter—that the shrimp (uncooked) put in salted water about 1 hour, then shell them draining well; put in seasoned flour, then in beaten egg and flour again; French fry and serve with peach jam. Very delicious.

Also a Friday dish or a lunch dish: Spanish eggs: Cut Spanish onions in rings, fry light brown, season. Fry as many slices of bread as needed, also seasoned. Poach an egg a portion and put on top of the onion; bread, onions and egg—a very delicious dish.

I hope you will try these recipes—my friends vote them delicious. (Name withheld by request).

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It is very thoughtful of you to send us these hints. I have heard of putting apple in stew and will try it next time I make one. I like the idea of dipping the wun-tun-like pastry into beaten egg before trying. I am going to try that too, on my next batch of Crisp Wun Tun. Thank you.

QUESTION: We have a tree of Damson plums, and while I have never canned these before I know they are greatly prized by English people. Could you print recipes for making relish to serve with meat and a conserve using these? I will be watching.—Mona.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: For one of these recipes you have to remove the Damson plum stones while plums are raw—I hope you have the patience—I have not.

Plum Relish

One-half peck Damson plums, 1 orange, 1 pound English walnuts, sugar. Wash plums very well and discard any that are not perfect. Barely cover with water and cool enough that you can remove the stones with your fingers. Grate the yellow part of the orange and mix with the orange juice. Chop the nuts and add. Add about 2-3 cup sugar to each cup stoned plums (do not oversweeten this—I add only ½ cup sugar to each cup plums—but our family does not have "a sweet tooth"). Boil until when tried on cold plate it will jell a little. Pour into sterile jam jars and seal with 2 separate coats boiling hot paraffin. This is good with meats.

Plum Conserve

Four pounds blue plums seeded and cut in pieces, 1 cup seeded raisins, juice of 2 oranges, ¾ cup sugar to each of fruit juices and fruit, juice of 1 lemon, ½ pound walnuts or pecans. Cook fruit and sugar slowly for 45 minutes then add lemon juice and nuts—cook for 5 minutes and pour into sterile jam pars and seal with double coating of paraffin.

Damson Jam

Make with same proportions of sugar and plums as Conserve above—but do not remove stones. To every 4 pounds washed plums add 2 cups water; simmer, stirring, until plums form plenty of juice, then simmer until very tender, stirring frequently. Put through colander to remove stones. To each cup puree add ¾ cup sugar. Boil slowly till it will jelly a little when tested on cold plate. Pour into sterile jam jars and seal with double coating paraffin.

University Club Tea Guests Represent Score Colleges

More than 90 women graduates representing a score of Canadian and European Universities, met Saturday afternoon at the home of Dr. Agnes K. Moffat, Weller St., when the University Women's Club of Peterborough held its annual fall tea. Invitations had been extended to executive members of sister clubs in eastern Ontario and to graduates in nearby towns. Students who leave to enter various universities this fall were also guests.

Receiving with Dr. Moffat was the president, Miss Earla MacVannel.

Artistic and gay abstractions from leaf shapes, designed in fall tints by PCVS art students, bore the name and university of each guest. These were presented by Miss Marie Hicks and Mrs. W. J. Hickey, membership conveners.

Asters in shades of white, pink and burgundy, flanked by tapers, graced the team room where Mrs. C. Hurst and Mrs. F. Montgomery were in charge. Members pouring tea were Miss Ila Giles, Miss Verna Burgess, Miss Margaret White, Mis Gladys Moore, Mrs. C A. Sollitt, Mrs. W. R. Thompson. Those assisting withthe serving were Mrs. C. Gonnet, Mrs. F. Rankin, Mrs F. A. Hicks, Mrs. R. McIlmoyle, Mrs. R. Thomoson, Mrs. R. Matthews, Miss Lenora Park, Miss Margaret McCulloch. The living room hostesses were Mrs. R. H. McClellan, Mrs. J Watters, Mrs. C. G. Boyd, Mrs. D. R. McGregor.

Mrs. Salter, president of the University Women's Club of Toronto was accompanied by other executive members including Dr. Martha Law, Mrs. C. D. Cruckshank, Mrs. Gillies, Dr. White and Dr. Lillian Chase. Mrs. A. Murray represented the Ottawa University Women's Club. Mrs. Lamonte, Mrs. Broughton and Mrs. Humble were Port Hope guests. Mrs. Lockle, president, Miss Sylvester, and Mrs. Patton represented the Belleville Club, Dr. Blair, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Shantz attended from Oshawa Club.

Metcalfe-Thomas Vows Pledged In Hastings Church

Bouquets of gladioli and snapdragon, banked with ferns, formed the setting in Trinity United Church, Hastings, Saturday afternoon when marriage vows were pledged by Joyce Opal Thomas and Leonard McConnell Metcalfe before the Rev. N. Cole. The bride is thet hird daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas, Hastings, and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs Alfred Metcalfe, Norwood.

The music was played by the bride's sister, Mrs. B. Smith, and the soloist was her sister-in-law Mrs. Murray Thomas, both of Peterborough. Selections chosen by the latter were the "Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

The bridal gown was of frosted white organdy made with a bertha collar outlining the net yoke, and she wore a Mary Queen of Scots cap and finger tip veil, held in place with orange blossoms, and she carried red roses. Mr. Thomas gave his daughter in marriage.

Her sister Miss Jean Thomas wore a bridesmaid's frock of pale green frosted nylon with half-hat in white and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Paulette Shadgett, piece of Peterborough, was dressed in pale yellow taffeta and wore a yellow headband with matching rosettes and carried a nosegay of pink roses.

Mr. Albert Thistlewaite was groomsman. Lavern Thomas, brother of the bride, and Ronald Warner ushered.

The reception following was in the Sunday school hall. Mrs. Thomas, the bride's mother, receiving was dressed in leaf green crepe and wore a black hat and corsage of yellow roses. The groom's farm in Elgin. The bride ured crepe, a grey hat and corsage of pink roses.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe will live on the yroom's farm in Elgin. The bride went away wearing a wine suit and grey accessories.

Too Early To Tell Liquor Prices

TORONTO, Sept. 19 — (CP).— Officials of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario said today it is too early to determine whether the price of imported Scotch whisky—Britain's biggest recent dollar-maker—will decrease as a result of devaluation of the pound sterling.

Until the present paid-up stock is depleted the price per bottle will remain the same, they said.

One official said there may be no drop in price if United Kingdom liquor distilleries decide to raise the price per bottle—thus dispensing with any monetary advantages dollar countries have over sterling areas.

Only a small amount of the Canadian retail sales price is accounted for by the British producers' selling prices, some observers said.

If the British allow their prices to reflect the full force of the 30 per cent devaluation—and if all other costs such as shipping and taxes and Canadian profits remain unchanged — then Scotch whisky might come down as much as 8 per cent in price.

Say British Tools Double In Number

TORONTO, Sept. 19 — (CP).— Devaluation of the pound could double the number of British small machine tools and similar equipment competitive in the Canadian market, one importer said today. He added that the same is true to a lesser extent in scientific and electronic devices.

He is Edward L. Harris, head of Gaumont-Kalee, which, in addition to representing the manufacturing firms of its parent company, the J. Arthur Rank organization, acts for 23 other British makers in these fields.

Mr. Harris said that, despite a reputation for quality, many British lines have not hitherto sold here because of price. He estimated that the range of items competitive in price with similar United States imports may be increased to hundreds and may extend to such consumer goods as binoculars and cameras.

As far as the Canadian motion picture industry is concerned, he thought the chief effect will be to lower prices for theatre equipment, particularly British-made projectors.

Report Vishinsky Optimistic About UN

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP).— Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky of Russia arrived today by plane with optimistic words about the United Nations— but with a big if. The UN General Assembly opens tomorrow.

He told reporters:

"The Soviet delegation is fully confident that the United Nations is, as the head of the Soviet government Stalin, said, a serious instrument for the maintenance of peace and international security."

He added:

"There can be no doubt that the General Assembly would be able to solve the important problems before it, providing the nations of the United Nations show a sincere desire to co-operate with each other; and in accordance with the principles of the United Nations Charter."

Asks Parliament Meet

LONDON, Sept. 19 (Reuters)— Winston Churchill, Conservative Party Leader, today asked for parliament to be called together not later than next week to consider the new situation created by devaluation of the pound. Parliament is not due to meet again until Oct. 18.

16 Fatalities Reported Across Ontario

By The Canadian Press.

Three deaths in an automobile crash were among the 16 violent deaths in Ontario during the week-end in addition to the large number of lives lost in the Noronic ship fire at Toronto.

Apart from ship fire deaths altogether 22 fatalities were reported in Eastern Canada, a Canadian Press compilation early today showed. Besides the 16 fatalities in Ontario, there were four in Quebec and two in Nova Scotia.

The triple fatality in Ontario occurred at Bowmanville, just east of Oshawa, in an accident involving an automobile and a transport truck. Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Percy Martin of Leaside, and Mrs. Alexander Lawrence of Oshawa. Injured were Mr. Lawrence, husband of the dead woman, and Donna Martin, 3, daughter of the dead couple.

In other Ontario traffic accidents, Jimmy Emp, 18 months, was crushed by an automobile while he wandered unnoticed into a lane beside his home in Brantford.

Crashes Guard Rail

Wilfred Rock, 51, of RR 3, Wheatley, was killed when his automobile crashed through a guard rail near Tilbury.

Herbert Fritz, 49, of St. Agatha, died shortly after his automobile went out of control and crashed near Waterloo.

Mrs. Mildred Coles, of Barton township, was killed when she was struck by a truck while walking along the highway.

Kenneth Miller, 29, died after his truck hurtled off a curve on the highway two miles south of Arnprior.

Struck by a car as he was walking along the highway near Woodbridge, Alex Anderson, 42, of Long Branch was killed.

Jacqueline Mayer, 3, was crushed under the wheels of her uncle's truck as he backed out of a field where he had been collecting soil. His son, Joseph Pilon, was seriously injured.

William Newman, 32, of Wingham was killed when his delivery truck went out of control near Simcoe. His two children were found with minor injuries, crouching under the overturned truck.

John B. Caird, 69, of Toronto, was drowned in the Trent River near Hastings after suffering a heart seizure.

Dies Of Burns

Harry Eady, 67, of Renfrew, died from burns received when a can of lacquer exploded in a pile of burning refuse.

Karol Janoska, 28, of West Lorne, died in hospital from injuries received when he fell from a tractor.

John Dobson, 48, of Toronto, died from injuries suffered when he fell down a flight of stairs.

Harold B. Hamilton, Port Arthur taxi driver, was found stabbed to death in his taxi on the outskirts of this city. Police said he was murdered.

In a double fatality in Quebec Mrs. Honore Tadoucher of St. Justin and Mrs. Alfred Lefebre were killed in an automobile collision which injured 10 other persons near Bertheir, 30 miles northeast of Montreal.

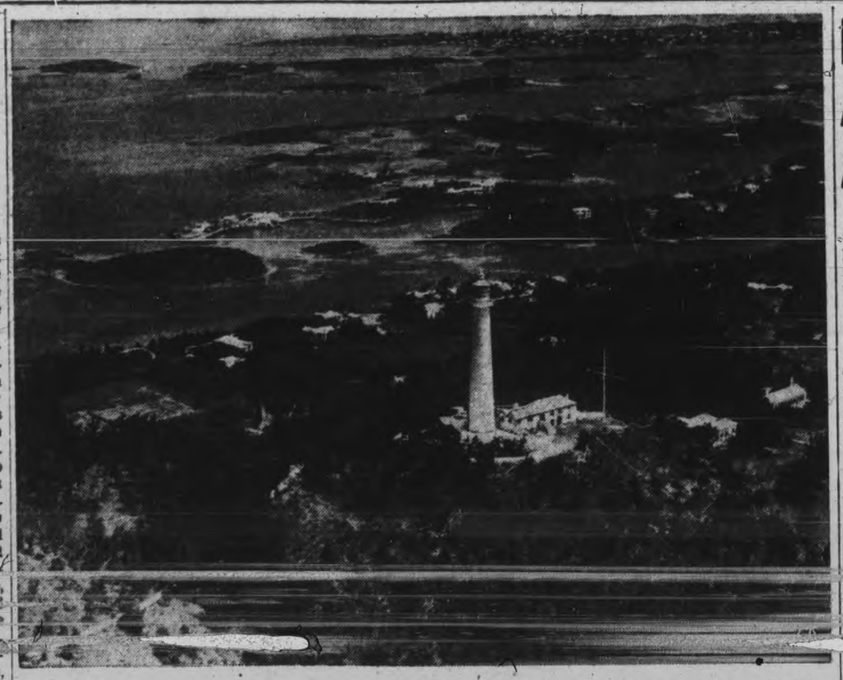
Four Men Charged With Being Drunk

Four men appeared in police court this morning on charges of being drunk.

Kenneth Robinson, Fraserville, pleaded not guilty to being drunk Saturday on George St., and asked for a week's adjournment. The adjournment was granted by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

Elmer Tripp, 739 Monaghan Road, also received a week's adjournment after pleading not guilty of being drunk.

Michael Smith, 850 St. Mary's St., pleaded guilty to being drunk Sept. 10 and was fined $10 and costs. Robert Calvert, Bridgenorth, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated Sunday on the Chemong Road and was fined $10 and costs.



Percy Hill, 356 Armstrong Drive, failed to appear in answer to a charge of being drunk and the case was adjourned one week.

Diabetes Detector

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 19 (AP)—Invention of a suitcase-size gadget that tips doctors off to the presence of diabetes in their patients in three minutes flat was announced Saturday. The scientists who developed it said it can screen as many as 120 blood amples an hour, quickly and surely indicating if there is an abnormal amount of sugar present—the hallmark of diabetes.

Titular Bishop

MONTREAL, Sept. 19 (CP) — Msgr. Jean de Capistran Cayer, Provincial Superior of the Franciscan Fathers of Canada, was consecrated here Saturday as titular Roman Catholic Bishop of Cissi and apostolic vicar of Egypt. The 49-year-old native of Capelton in Quebec's eastern townships was the first non-Italian to be named to on of the oldest sees in Christendom.

CORAL STRAND—Bermuda, British Colony in the warm waters of the Gulf Stream, is made up of hundreds of islands, some tiny, some large, some populated and some uninhabited. In the foreground of this Bermuda News Bureau photo is Gibb's Hill lighthouse on the heights of Southampton which overlooks the entire western end of the colony. In the centre of the photo is the Riddell's Bay golf course and in the distance, the Spanish Point section.

Too Pleasant In Bermuda To Worry About Future

By JACK BRAYLEY

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Sept. 19 (CP)—Possibly only the air tourist whose hair is still dank at Dorval from a dip in the surf at Elbow Beach will appreciate the geographic sense of confederation with Canada of this mid-ocean playland.

The same tourist, however, would be the first to remark that the Americans seem to have already taken over. And he would be first to acknowledge that there is the small but firm voice of Bermuda whose indefinite views on the subject give no immediate hint of anything but continued more-or-less self-governing colonialism.

In the first place these beautiful islands, in pastel shades of coral and flowering, are 720 miles from Halifax. And after all Jasper is 2,000 miles away from the same point.

You can board a slick Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star at Dorval, Que., and be digging your bare toes in the pink coral sand beaches of Paget in less than five hours.

Confederation, incidentally, is purely a hypothetical question on the islands. But Bermuda is faced with some tough monetary problems which bedevil all sterling bloc countries at this time. And it is largely because of this that all avenues—including political ones—are being explored in informal discussions.

Bermuda needs dollars to pay for goods and services which can only be readily supplied by dollar countries like Canada and the United States. She is more fortunately situated than her West Indies neighbors who also depend on dollar countries to market a good part of their products.

The only important thing Bermuda has to sell is her unique and supremely attractive tourist resources. And these, of course, attract United States dollars in fairly substantial quantities. The currency of the island is pounds, shillings and pence but dollars and cents seem to dominate the cash registers.

Some shops have bi-currency price tags, all the nimble-minded clerks can translate like lightning from shillings to dollars and some shops even have their price tags in dollars only.

Wartime Recalled

But you first run into American influence when you land at Kindley Field—the big United States air base developed in the wartime emergency trade for over-age destroyers. United States army and navy bases are also on the island and they completely overshadow the small British and colonial naval and military detachments.

The only thing British at the airport is the customs officer in starched white shorts. His Lancashire accent and the beautiful Bermudian drawl of the shop clerks, chauffeurs and waiters is about the only British contact the average tourist makes. Because the accent at the airport, behind the hotel desk and at the bar is strictly American—with a broad m-u-r.

American capital is moving into the tourist industry, and thus into the colony's chief source of revenue, in ever-expanding proportions.

There is a Canadian colony, too—and a not unimportant one. There are Canadian nurses in the hospitals, a small group of Canadians on the two daily newspapers, a sprinkling of Canadians and Bermudians with Canadian family ties in the business field.

What about joining Canada, the United States, a West Indies confederacy or remaining a colony? The average Bermudian needs to be prodded to discuss this matter because his island's soft warmth and beauty is hardly conducive to such talk.

"Well," he will say reflectively and with some effort, "we only got the automobile here three years ago. I frankly liked it better when everybody travelled by horse and carriage. I don't think our political development should progress at horse and carriage speed though. In fact I think we might study the possibility of further political progress, especially toward fuller self-government. I can see union with Canada as more of a possibility than union with the United States, chiefly because I can't see us being anything but British. But I personally don't think either one of these courses is desirable or realizable—in the next 100 years anyhow, unless some unforeseen develpoment like a war decides the issue. A West Indies confederacy might find more popular favor because we have so many common-to-all problems."

And 10 chances to one he'll shift into the shade of a big, bright beach umbrella, sip his planters' punch and turn the conversation to more live and close-at-hand topics such as the direction of the current hurricane, brewing in the south.

Cabbie Murdered

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 19 (CP)—The body of taxi-driver Harold B. Hamilton, 39, was found behind a clump of bushes near the city limits Sunday with a bullet hole in the neck. Police Chief James Hutcheon said it was murder. The taxi which Hamilton operated was parked about 100 feet away with the motor still running. Fellow workers said Hamilton picked up a fare shortly after 11 a.m.

300 At Conference

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 19—(CP)—More than 300 delegates, representing 33 Junior Chamber of Commerce clubs, met here during the weekend for the quarterly meeting of region five of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The next quarterly meeting will be held in November in Welland and the annual convention in Windsor in May, 1950.

Will Be Hanged

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19 (CP)—Walter Prestyko, 34, will be hanged Dec. 7 for the June 5 strangulation murder of 66-year-old Michael Geluch in his suburban home. There was no definite indication, following the verdict, the co-accused William John Worobec, 33, would answer to a second charge of murder in Geluch's death.

Car Totally Wrecked On Chemong Highway

Injured when the car in which he was a passenger overturned Sunday morning, William Fox, of Gardenville, N.Y., was taken to Civic Hospital. He received a strained back and a severe shaking up.

The car was driven by Ralph Larkin, of the same Gardenville address. It was travelling south on the Chemong Rd., when it skidded as the brakes were applied at the junction with Highway No. 7. It overturned and ended up in the east ditch on its right side, a complete wreck.

Larkin was uninjured but Fox was taken to Civic Hospital where he was attended to by Dr. J. A. McNeill.

Provincial Constables A. F. Grayling and G. R. Henderson investigated.

A sideswipe collision Sunday morning between the cars of Donald Woodcock, R.R. 2 Hastings, and Elmer J. Duffy, Gough Ave., Toronto, resulted in total damage of about $400.

The accident occurred on the county road between Hastings and Campbellford, four miles west of Campbellford.

Woodcock was going west at the time of the collision and Duffy was driving east.

Provincial Constable A. A. Kellogg, of Hastings, investigated.

MARK OF NOBILITY

In medieval times, shoes with long, pointed toes were worn by the highborn.

Five Injured As Cars Collide At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 19—(ENS)—Five people were slightly injured early Sunday morning in a head-on collision between two cars at Mill and Front Sts.

Flying glass caused most of the injuries.

Gordon Jacobs together with Ray Tanner and Morris Hay, all of Campbellford, were going north on Mill St. when Jacobs' car collided head on with the southbound car of Bernard M. Hoey of Seymour. Hoey was accompanied by his sister, Ann Hoey, at the time.

A curve in the road at Mill and Front St., opposite the Chinese laundry, is believed to have been a contributary cause of the accident.

Jacobs received a bruised arm, Tanner a cut in the forehead, and Hay had to have several stitches to close a wound in his head.

Hoey and Miss Hoey's head went through the windshield. She also received cuts on the nose and forehead.

Both Hay and Miss Hoey required medical treatment from Dr. J. R. Anderson for their injuries.

Damage to the two cars has been tentatively set at $1,000. Jacobs' car had the grill and bumper badly bent, most of the glass broken in the doors and windshield, and the left fender and headlight torn off.

Both fenders and headlights of Hoey's car were torn off and the grill and radiator were badly damaged.

Chief Constable George H. Hardy investigated.

JAMES H. WELSH

Sales And Ad Club To Hear James Welsh

James H. Welsh, General Sales Manager of Electrolux (Canada) Limited, will be the guest speaker at the Sales and Ad Club Tuesday night at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

In 1940 Mr. Welsh started a sales school in Toronto — a non-profit idea, giving free selling tuition to several hundreds of men who had the desire to sell.

Mr. Welsh entered the electrical contracting business in 1918 and later started as a salesman for a nationally known electrical concern. He advanced to manager-sales organizer and then to divisional mangement. In this capacity he employed and trained many salesmen. In 1938 he moved to Canada with his family and took over divisional duties in Ontario for the Electrolux (Canada) Limited.

Driver Takes To Ditch In Order To Miss Girl

H. M. Campbell, Gordon Ave., damaged his car on Monaghan Rd. south of Patterson St. early Sunday afternoon.

Police reported the car went 124 feet along a ditch on the west side of Monaghan, jumped a two-foot high culvert and hit a hydro pole.

Police said Campbell told them he was forced into the ditch in order to miss a girl on a bicycle coming out of Wolfe St.

Constable S. Keliele and Reg. McMillan investigated.

Junior Chamber Officers Attend Prescott Meet

Peterborough's Junior Chamber of Commerce will start their fall activities tonight when they hold their first regular meeting since early summer. They are actually beating the gun by attending a Region 6 Coaching Congress at Prescott today.

About 80 delegates from the eight clubs in the region are gathering at the Coaching Congress to exchange information on various projects, pool their ideas, and discuss Jaycee work generally.

Peterborough is being represented by three delegates—President Doug Vaisey, William Edworth, 1st vice president, and Charles McCabe, director.

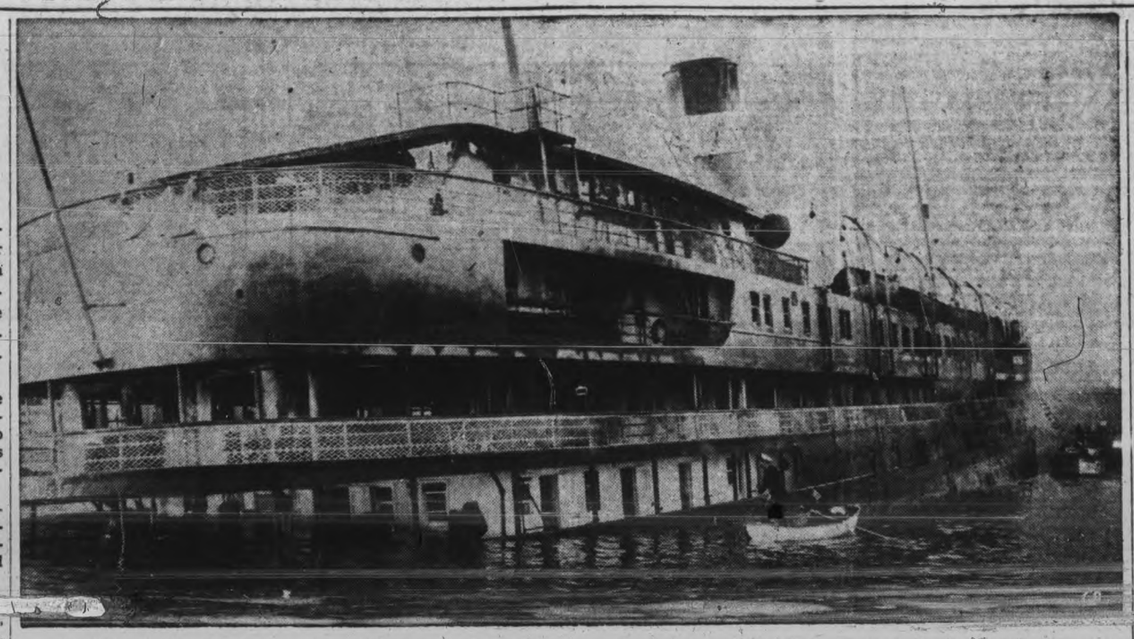
erborough, Prescott, Ottawa, Montreal, Cornwall, Pembroke, Renfrew and Knowlton.

The day has been broken up into several periods — community projects, study groups, discussions on money raising, organization, membership campaigns and other phases of Jaycee activity.

Monday Meeting

Tonight the local Jaycees will meet at the Empress Hotel at 6:30 o'clock. The year's activities will be outlined including the College of Knowledge during October and November, March and April. This includes courses on public speaking, personnel management, and radio scripting and announcing in the promotion line.

The annual Get Out The Vote campaign is scheduled for December; Clean Up—Paint Up follows in the spring; and in early summer there is the tourist promotion project.



Five WA Groups Meet For Tea At Rylestone

BONARLAW, Sept. 19 (ENS)—Rylestone W.A. held an afternoon tea at Rylestone Church on Thursday. A large representation from Stanwood, Zion, St. Mark's and Springbrook Women's Associations was present. The Rev. Beare, pastor of Rylestone Church, opened the meeting with part. The address to the young couple was read by Mr. Howard Evans and the presentation was made on behalf of the Community of a chest of silverware with complete service for eight in the Lady Hamilton pattern.

Dancing concluded the evening's entertainment with the Potter Orchestra supplying the music.

Lose $8,000,000

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19—(CP)—Canadian restaurants lost more than $8,000,000 through carelessness last year, says George F. Heckman of Montreal, president of the Canadian Restaurant Association. He tabulated the loss as follows: $3,000,000 because of diners who mooch extra rolls, coffee or other food items; $3,000,000 from pilfered silver; $2,000,000 from excess breakage.

GHASTLY HULK—As a night of death turned day, the fire-gutted steamship Noronic listed sharply, then righted herself as her stern filled with water and her keel settled to the bottom of the slip in Toronto harbor. This shot was taken as firemen brought the blaze under control and began the grim task of recovering bodies.

Sewer Pipe Case Bail Continues

COBOURG, Sept. 19—(ENS)—Charged with theft of sewer pipe in August from Dr. W. E. Wilkins of Cobourg, a further remand was given Glen Spraggett and Bernard Bisonette when they appeared in police court yesterday. They are each on $1,000 bail.

Edward Hawkes of Grafton was remanded without plea or election when he appeared in court Friday charged with retaining goods stolen from Lazier's hardware store in Cobourg. He will appear on Oct. 14.

Ernest Hearst of Grafton pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $10 and costs. M. C. Moore of Montreal failed to appear when his name was called to answer to a careless driving charge. He was fined $18 and $2 costs, being the amount of the bail which Moore put up when he was charged after an accident which took place at Gore's Landing on August 14. The case of Charles Prux of Toronto, charged with dangerous driving and drunk driving was adjourned until Oct. 14.

Joseph Smith of Hastings pleaded not guilty to a charge of attempting to commit suicide. Last week Smith pleaded guilty to the charge but Friday he told the court that he thought at the time that he was pleading guilty to a drunk charge. He was accordingly remanded until Friday.

A juvenile pleaded guilty to breaking into Lazier's hardware store here where over $100 worth of goods were stolen. The break-in occurred last April. The court was informed that restitution was being made and the case was adjourned until Monday.

Work Out Details For Missionary Rally

BETHANY, Sept. 19—(ENS)—Evening Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church held the September meeting at the home of Mrs. Mansell Wright. The scripture was read by Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Mervyn Porteous led in prayer. Christmas cards were distributed among the members to be sold.

Announcement was made of the Peterborough Presbyterial missionary sectional rally to be held in Bethany United Church, October 4 with Miss Olive Sparling as guest speaker. Dinner will be served and committees were appointed to look after the details. Watch Tower Heralds reported from Trinidad and Korea.

The new study book "Growing With the Years" was introduced and a discussion led by Mrs. Jackson, with Mrs. Mansell Wright, Mrs. Herb. Coppins and Mrs. G. Waddell each giving interesting facts learned from the charts and maps included in the book. The hostess served refreshments.

Fewer Patient Days In Civic Hospital

The daily average number of patients in Civic Hospital during August was slightly lower than a year ago. This trend has continued since July. Figures for the patient days' stay are also lower.

Daily average number of patients in August was 125.2, compared with 118.4 in July, and 130.8 in August 1948. There were 13.5 less patient days.

Both major and minor operations, 71 and 203 respectively, were more numerous than for the same month a year ago which recorded 61 major and 163 minor. Corresponding July figures were 51 and 184.

Fifty-four people were refused admission; the same as August 1948.

Thirty-three were treated at Queen Mary; four of them were for communicable diseases and the remainder for other conditions. The daily average number of patients was 8.08 compared with 7.7 for the same month a year ago.

Hockey Star Charged With Murder

Doctor Says One Fall Couldn't Have Killed Demers' Companion

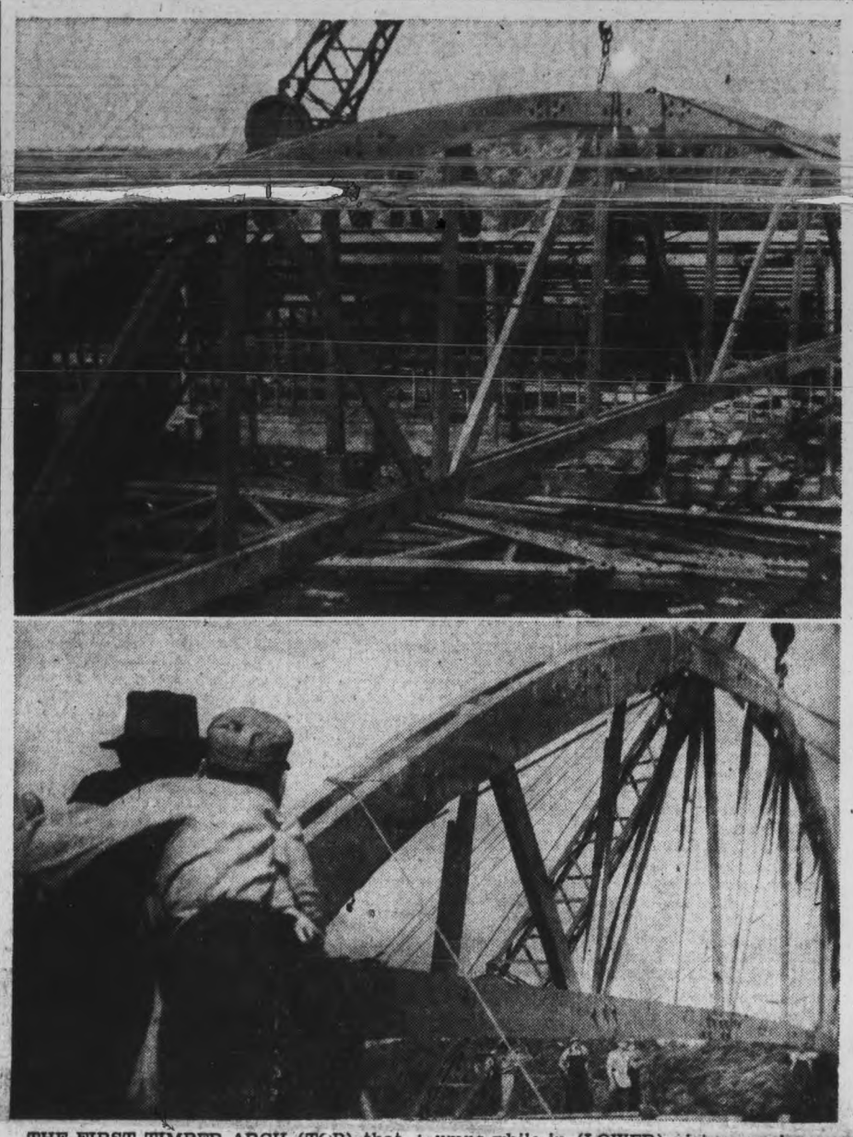
SHERBROOKE, Que. Sept. 20 (CP)—Cigar-smoking 32-year-old Tony Demers, former bullet-shot player in the National Hockey League, was charged today with the murder of Mrs. Anita Robert of Coaticook, Que.

Demers, a former member of the NHL Montreal Canadiens and member of the amateur Sherbrooke Saints these last two years Monday night was held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury at Magog, Que., for the death of his 31-year-old girl friend.

Crown prosecutor Roland Dugre asked a postponement of the case to Sept. 27 and the judge agreed.

At an inquest Monday night, police told the jury that Mrs. Robert died in hospital here Friday shortly after she was brought there by Demers. Battered and bleeding, she appeared to have received a "severe beating."

Demers testified he picked up Mrs. Robert Thursday at the Coaticook home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Laberge. They stopped for several drinks, he said, before going to Sherbrooke where they consumed more liquor.



Head For Magog

Early in the evening they returned to the Laberge home where Mrs. Laberge objected to her daughter keeping company with Demers, and then they headed for Magog, stopping at several resorts in the district.

While returning from Magog, the car had left the road and both got out. An argument ensued and Demers admitted striking Mrs. Robert in the eye and forcing her to re-enter the car against her will. She jumped from the car shortly after, Demers testified, and he found her unconscious on the road. Unable to revive her, he placed her in the back seat and went to sleep in the front until daybreak.

Finding Mrs. Robert still unconscious hours later, he took her to the summer camp of Robert Pruneau at Little Lake and then to the hospital.

Dr. Jean Marie Roussell, Montreal medico-legal expert, testified that Mrs. Robert, estranged from her husband, could not have died from injuries in a fall unless "she had fallen many times and rolled over many times."

THE FIRST TIMBER ARCH (TOP) that will form the curved roof of the new Keene Memorial Rink was hoisted Monday afternoon into position atop heavy timber columns while in (LOWER) picture workmen guide the 130 foot timber arch into place before bolting it to the column.
(Examiner Staff Photo)

Volunteer Labor Building Rink At Keene

Erection of the eight large arches to form the roof of the Otonabee Memorial rink at Keene began Monday. The first heavy timber arch was set in place by a Corning crane at 4:45 p.m. exactly six minutes after it left the ground. The arches are pre-fabricated from Douglas fir grown in Oregon and were shipped to Keene for placement on the heavy timber piers that stand on a concrete foundation. With the exception of the arch work and installation, all the construction has been done by volunteer workmen.

The planking and timbers were hewn from trees taken from the roadway allowance throughout the township while several farmers donated trees from their woodlots. Three mills, Hope's, Wood's and Godfrey's located in the district, sawed the trees into desired sizes for the big job.

The roof boards will be B. C. cedar the weather side sheet aluminum and the walls steel. The finished building will be approximately 200 feet long and 110 feet wide with an ice surface of 170

Lay Off Thousands of Men As 480,000 Miners Out

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20—(CP)—Coal-mining in 19 States was at a virtual standstill today as nearly all 480,000 members of John L. Lewis's United Mineworkers Union stayed away from the pits for the second day in their "no welfare fund, no work" dispute. Coal-hauling railroads began laying off thousands of employees to boost unemployment as a result of the mining stoppage to more than 500,000.

And there were reports of violence from two of the major coal-mining states although no one was badly hurt.

Some 20 shots were reported fired at a strip mine truck in Kentucky, and in West Virginia two tipple workers and a truck driver were beaten at a strip-mine operation. Thirteen truckloads of coal were dumped.

The rail layoffs followed announcement Monday by five railroads that they would send home a total of 26,000 employees. The biggest was the Pennsylvania which said it would lay off 15,000 workers including the complete shutdown of the Altoona, Pa., works where 8,000 are employed.

Won't Halt Walkout

In Washington, a source close to President Truman said the President has no intention of trying to halt the walkout for 30 to 60 days.

There are about 60,000,000 tons of coal above ground, enough to keep industry going anywhere from 40 to 60 days.

There was no indication from U.M.W. headquarters at Washington whether Lewis would show up today for the scheduled resumption of contract negotiations with the Southern Coal Producers Association at Bluefield, Va.

The southern operators are the thorns in Lewis' side. Operators from the south have refused to continue paying a 20-cent-a-ton royalty into the U.M.W.'s welfare and retirement fund.

Report Split In TLC Ranks

CALGARY, Sept. 20 (CP)—Labor observers were puzzled today at a seeming split in the ranks of Canadian left-wingers.

The division came in a vote at the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention, in which the convention overwhelmingly upheld an executive-ordered suspension of the Red-influenced Canadian Seamen's Union.

On the vote, left-wing factions of the Congress, which usually travel along on a cohered pattern, split decisively.

Chief spokesmen for two labor unions regarded as leftist-inclined made a right-about-face and plumped for action against the C.S.U.

Some others held to their previous stand of backing up the Seamen's Union, which had been suspended by the T.L.C. executive last June on charges that its officers failed to live up to union responsibilities.

Meanwhile, rightist forces had won a major first-round victory in getting endorsation of the C.S.U. suspension. At last year's convention, the Congress refused to take action against and instead disciplined some of the rightists for moving against them.

Czech Government Jails Dozens of Priests, Nuns

PRAGUE, Sept. 20.—(AP). — The Czechoslovak Government has jailed dozens of Roman Catholic priests and nuns in a big new wave of arrests aimed at breaking spreading resistance to state control schemes, a statement from church sources said today.

The report, given to correspondents here and enumerating at least 30 arrests, was termed only a partial list. It said more arrests were expected as the long state-church fight neared a showdown stage.

In some cases the reasons for arrests were not known. But, according to church sources, the campaign was apparently a widespread crackdown instituted after offers of salary increases and other blandishments had failed to win the priests over to the government's side in the state-church controversy.

The government's drive apparently also was designed to break up a communications network by which priests maintain contact with Archbishop Joseph Beran and the other bishops and to frighten priests from carrying out the Vatican's excommunication decree Beran has remained inside his police-guarded palace since June 19.

Meanwhile reports reached Prague that a local Communist official had been killed by angry peasants in Moravia following the arrest of a Catholic priest.

The news stirred speculation whether fresh peasant uprisings are brewing.

Circuit Failure Cuts Off Power

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — Failure of an Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission high tension circuit between Toronto and Chats Falls, Ont., cut off power here for 20 minutes this morning.

Hydro oficials said they did not know the cause of the break. "A good part" of the commission's Southern Ontario system was affected, the Hydro said. Crews were working to restore service and expected to complete the job early this afternoon.

The power break stalled streetcars and trolley buses here and cut off regular power to hospitals and other commercial and domestic users.

The Canadian Press teletype circuits feeding Canadian and world news to member newspapers across the country were also interrupted. The Bell Telephone Company reported the break tied up its long distance service throughout the province.

U.S. Imports Will Be More Costly

Coal Cost To Jump $1 - $1.50 Ton Toronto Official Says

By MEL SUFRIN

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP)—The average Canadian is a little uncertain today just what the dollar devaluation will mean to him. But it seems certain that his pocket book will suffer some in the big currency shake-up.

For one thing, if Mr. average Canadian takes a look across the border he can see the approach of higher prices for United States-made goods. He won't like that.

On the other hand, he can take a look across the Atlantic to the United Kingdom. Stuff coming from there should be cheaper. Even at that, it's not cheaper to the extent it would have been if Canada hadn't devalued her dollar. That would have meant she could take advantage of the full 30 per cent slash in the value of the pound, announced Sunday.

Higher Prices

The balance appears on the side of increased prices, mainly because Canada buys more from the United States than she does from the United Kingdom.

Take gasoline oil and coal, for instance. A lot of those products come to Canada from the United States. Before devaluation $1 worth of coal in U. S. dollars cost $1 in Canadian money. Now it will cost $1.10.

That's the same with juicy citrus fruits that come from California and Florida. It's the same for those high-priced automobiles—the ones that are made wholly in the United States.

An almost immediate increase in the price of coal—perhaps somewhere between $1 and $1.50 a ton—was forecast Monday night by E. R. Lockyer, Secretary of the Toronto Coal Exchange.

In addition, if John L. Lewis, head of the United Mineworkers, succeeds in obtaining higher pay rates for United States miners, it will bring about another increase in Canadian coal prices, Mr. Lockyer said.

That's not the end of the unhappy looking list, but it serves to show that a lot of things are going to cost more — something about 10 per cent more.

Turning back to the UK market there is consolation in the fact that English-made cars ought to be slightly cheaper.

This probably all brings to mind the question of what currency devaluation will do to the cost of living.

Pass Bogus Bills As Noronic Victims

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — Two men alleged to have passed five counterfeit United States $20 bills in Toronto stores Saturday night posed as survivors of the Noronic fire.

Police said one man claimed to have lost all his clothing in the Saturday morning ship fire and wanted to buy some underwear. The men, who said they were Americans, were given change for the bogus bills they tendered for small purchases.

Investigators said they believe the men are members of a group which last month flooded Toronto and other parts of Ontario with counterfeit $10 bills.

THE CANADIAN DOLLAR has been cut by 10% Finance Minister Douglas Abbott announced to Parliament Monday night. Nineteen countries have joined the devaluation parade.

19 Countries Devaluate Their Currency

By The Canadian Press

Canada and France are the latest to join in the world-wide scramble to devalue their money. They brought the total today to 19 countries that have juggled their currency to woo United States dollars since Britain cheapened her money Sunday night.

In occupied Japan, Gen. MacArthur authorized the Japanese to buy cheaper British pounds but turned down growing Nipponese clamor for devaluation of the yen.

Many countries today opened their banks and stock markets, ordered closed Monday to curb speculation, and waited cautiously for repercussions on the money slash. Financial experts predicted several other countries will have to cheapen their currency to meet British competition.

The Canadian dollar's value was slashed 10 per cent Monday night. That means tourists and buyers carrying United States dollars to Canada can get 110 Canadian cents for each U.S. dollar—a bargain that Canada hopes will boost her export sales and tourist business.

France Cut 10%

France cut her money loose from all franc-dollar controls with the idea of letting the free enterprise system determine how many francs the U.S. dollar will bring. Government officials expected the franc to slide about six per cent to a level of 350 to $1. The recent rate has been 330 francs to $1.

Neither Canada nor France slashed their currency as drastically as Britain. Dollar-short Britain cut the pound 30½ per cent—from $4.03 to $2.80—in a drastic effort to start a buying boom by Americans who now can get British-made goods at cheaper prices.

Paul G. Hoffman, chief of the Marshall plan for aid to Europe, declared in Washington Britain's leadership in cracking the currency barriers "opens the way for Europe as a whole to earn its way in the world."

Here is the list of countries that have devalued their currencies:

Britain, Canada, South Africa, Republic of Ireland, New Zealand, France, Australia, Egypt, Israel, India, Burma, Ceylon, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Finland, Malaya, and the Netherlands.

The Dutch cabinet set a new rate for the guilder but held off announcement of the new figure until later today.

Abbott Slashes Dollar Back To 90 Cents Following Sterling Drop

Hope To Boost U.S. Buying And Tourists With Lure of $1.10, Think Foreign Investors May Be Attracted

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(CP)—Battered by foreign-trade dislocations and world-currency crises, the Canadian dollar today dropped between the high-priced United States dollar and the lower-priced British pound. In the new position—10 per cent lower than the United States dollar—it is expected to provide a bulwark against any otherwise unbeatable trade competition which may be caused by sterling devaluation.

Finance Minister Abbott Monday night shot back the dollar to where it was in 1939 in a 2,000-word statement delivered before a crowded Commons and packed galleries.

Dollar devaluation came approximately 30 hours after Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the United Kingdom Exchequer, reduced the value of the British pound by about 30 per cent, touching off devaluation of currency in many other countries.

It means that today—for the first time in three years—Canadians will pay more for the United States dollar.

Exchange Rates

The exact rates of exchange, effective today after a one-day ban on foreign-exchange trading, have been fixed thus:

Persons holding Canadian dollars and wishing to convert them into United States funds will pay $1.10½ for every American dollar. In selling American funds they will receive $1.10 in Canadian currency. The Canadian dollar previously was fixed at par.

Those same people will pay $3.08¾ to buy a British pound. Previously they paid $4.04. They will dispose of the pound at $3.07¼. Previously they got $4.02.

Mr. Abbott later told a press conference that the government will accept gold at $38.50 an ounce compared with the old price of $35.

Early reaction of the devaluation came from wholesale producers who indicated that if the U. S. exporters don't lower their prices it will mean that the Canadian consumer likely will pay higher prices for U. S. fruits and vegetables, cars and other commodities allowed across the border under Canadian import controls.

Other Results

Other likelihoods of dollar devaluation:

1. The British consumer will enjoy lower prices for essential Canadian products. A government official said the UK will save 10

Stock Shortage At Belleville Brings 6 Arrests

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 20 (CP)—Investigation of an alleged stock shortage at the Belleville office of the York Trading Company, wholesaler of grocery products, amounting to several thousands of dollars, has resulted in the arrest of five employees and another man.

Police said other arrests were expected.

Arrested are five truck drivers of the firm—Elmer Dafoe, Kenneth Robinson, Elvin Robinson, Reginald Adams, and Garth Andrews. All have been released on bail.

Harry Sharpe, also of Belleville, was arrested for receiving stolen goods and was also released on bail.

Police did not disclose the value of the goods stolen but it was intimated to amount to "several thousands of dollars."

Local manager of the York Trading Company is Kenneth W. Huntley, who notified police when an inventory revealed there was a stock shortage.

Has Best Clue Forgets To Talk

BURLINGTON, Ont., Sept. 20—(CP) — Three-year-old Michael Ryan trailed innocently along with almost the entire population of this Halton County town in a six-hour search yesterday for two playmates he had locked in a closet. Michael never gave the searchers a clue.

Douglas Smith, three, his four-year-old pal, Ellery Ryan, and Michael had wandered into a newly-built house next door to the Ryan home. Douglas and Ellery walked into a closet. Michael banged the door shut, and ran home to play in his own back yard.

When his playmates failed to return home at noon for lunch, an alarm was sounded in Burlington. Police, students, neighbors and shopkeepers dropped everything and answered the call. So did Michael.

The hunt came to an end when a woman searching through the vacant house, probing behind every closed door, came to the closet. Inside were Douglas and Ellery, both dazed from a lack of oxygen.

Won't Rent Apartment Unless Have Children

KINGSTON, Sept. 20 (CP). — Ronald L. Parratt, builder and landlord of this city, builds his apartment houses with plenty of room for children. He won't rent an apartment to a couple without children.

Mr. Parratt, sometimes styled "The Children's Godfather," has rented his first apartment to three veterans' families and the second unit is nearing completion with a third scheduled to be ready in 1950.

His ambition is to build as many apartment blocks as he can and he emphasizes they will rent at below-average rental to people with children.

"It is the best investment a man can make in human happiness. If I can counteract a little of the uncharitable attitude shown by some who lack humanity, I will be satisfied."

Open Talks On Exchanging Atom Secrets

U.S. Scientists Have Hands Tied Until Congress Consulted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) —The United States, Britain and Canada today opened negotiations for a new agreement on exchanging atomic secrets and sharing the uranium from which the A-bomb is made. Their war-born A-bomb partnership is at stake.

The negotiations at this stage are wholly "exploratory" because President Truman has promised that he will not make any commitments until after consulting Congress.

In an atmosphere that was only slightly less than completely secret, representatives of the three governments were called together at the state department.

United States officials are closely restricted as to what they can do or say about atomic energy information—even within the conference with the Britons and Canadians. They are reported anxious to try to bring some three-way understanding as to the progress each country has arrived at in atomic energy and atomic research and development in the last two years or so.

Yet their own hands are not free for such an exchange and presumably they will be unable to tell Britain and Canada, for example, the size of the United States atomic bomb stockpile or the power and effectiveness of the latest weapons.

Know Very Little

According to the best available information, the Britons, Canadians and Americans know comparatively little about the progress which the other has made since the war.

One speculation which has come up in public discussion is the United States might agree to stockpile some atomic bombs in Britain. This could be argued for as a strategic move in line with the unified defence of the west under the Atlantic treaty. Should it come to pass Britain might agree that it would be unnecessary for her to try to build an A-bomb stockpile of her own as she has said she will.

Another Body Recovered From Noronic

Ottawa Plans Inquiry Into Ship Disaster, Ontario Will Wait

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — A diver today found the body of a fully-clothed young woman near the keel of the fire-scarred Noronic.

Lifesavers said the woman was drowned, apparently as she leapt from an upper deck of the burning ship. She had not been burn-

The body, found in [illegible] by diver Pete Montour, brings to 120 the number of known dead. Eighty-three passengers are still missing as a result of the flash fire early Saturday aboard the Great Lakes cruise ship, docked at her Toronto berth.

Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada will head a commission to hold public hearings into cause of the fire.

A preliminary investigation already has started.

Announcing the investigation, Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier, said Monday in the Commons:

". . . . All the facts will be fully disclosed. If there is any blame or negligence on the part of anyone it will be brought to light."

At the same time, Attorney-General Dana Porter of Ontario said that if the Federal inquiry does not bring out all the facts of the Saturday morning fire, the Ontario government will launch its own investigation. He said a judge of the Ontario Supreme Court and two coroners would preside.

No More Bodies

Further search of the ship's decks and staterooms below the water Monday revealed no other bodies. A crew of divers probed for hours through the murky interior and also searched the harbor floor in the area of the wreckage.

While searchers continued, Capt. Wilfred N. Morrison, supervising examiner of captains and mates, started to question, behind closed doors, members of the crew on duty when the fire broke out on a lower deck of the 36-year-old cruise ship. This investigation was terminated, however, with the Ottawa announcement that a judicial inquiry will be held to which United States coast guard officials will be invited and at which U.S. counsel can be present.

It was announced that Loren G. Farrell of Detroit, considered one of the top U.S. fire investigators, will take part in the investigation. His services were requested by the Toronto law firm representing Canada Steamship Lines, owners of the Noronic.

To Trace Cause

Farrell was called to trace the cause of the blaze aboard the Noronic's sister ship, the Hamonic, when it burned near Sarnia in 1945. He also investigated the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus fire at Hartford, Conn., in which 412 persons died.

Meanwhile, at the improvised morgue at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds, the toll of identified Noronic dead slowly mounted.

But the refusal of Canada Steamship Lines to make available routine information made it impossible to compile a list of victims. Newspapers, news agencies and the Red Cross compiled their lists as best they could from hotel, hospital and other reports while awaiting the complete CSL information.

UK Pension Value Slashed In Canada

LONDON, Sept. 30 (CP)—Several hundred Imperial war veterans, receiving pensions from the British Government, will have their allowances cut by approximately one-quarter as a result of sterling devaluation, D. H. Griffiths, director of the British Empire Service League in Wales, said here Monday.

Mr. Griffiths has been in Canada since August reviewing the position of United Kingdom veterans.

Veterans and war widows of UK forces continue to receive British rates of pension when they come to Canada. This must be converted into Canadian currency for use here.

A 100 per cent disabled veteran or a war widow, receives 45 shillings a month, Mr. Griffiths said. This was equal to approximately $9.06. Next time these pensioners cash their cheques, they will receive only $6.83.

"The British pensions are absolutely inadequate for people living in this country," Mr. Griffith said.

Obituary

MRS. EDMUND DAWSON

A lifetime resident of the Bailieboro district, Mrs. Edmund Dawson of Bailieboro died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Eagleson, also a resident of the village. She was in her 77th year.

Mrs. Dawson was born in Hamilton Twp., daughter of the late Alexander Ferguson and Marion Brown. She was the former Jessie Ferguson.

Mrs. Dawson was a member of Bailieboro United Church and was active in church work.

She leaves a son Herbert of South Monaghan; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mrs. Edwin Eagleson, both of Bailieboro; a sister, Mrs. Sidney Rutherford of Regina; and a brother, Duncan Ferguson of Camborne, Ont. Her husband, Edmund Dawson, died previously.

The body is at her residence in [illegible] from there Wednesday at [illegible] p.m., the Rev. D. Haywood of Bailieboro United Church officiating. Burial will be in Bailieboro Union Cemetery.

Gold Mines Get Boost In Price

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP)—Canadian gold mines will get $38.50 an ounce for gold under the new exchange rates announced Monday night by Finance Minister Abbott.

Mr. Abbott disclosed the new price at a press conference after making his announcement in the Commons.

He said Canada still will sell the bulk of its gold to the United States for $35 an ounce in U. S. funds but the new value of the Canadian dollar means a premium of $3.50 an ounce on all sales to the U. S. This is to be passed along to the mines in Canadian funds.

Mr. Abbott declined to comment on whether the government will continue the gold-mines assistance program it started in 1947. He said an announcement concerning it will be made in a few days.

A low pressure area over Quebec is bringing cool air into Ontario from Hudson Bay. Over southern regions the air is moist, and scattered showers are occurring. Further north the air is becoming drier and the patches of cloud which still persist will disappear under the afternoon sun.

With clearing skies and light winds frost will occur tonight in most sections from Georgian Bay northward. In southern regions there is some risk in those localities which are subject to early frost damage.

Forecasts:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions: Cloudy with occasional showers today clearing this evening. Clear tonight and Wednesday. Cool today, a little warmer Wednesday. Winds northwest 15 today, light tonight and Wednesday. Low tonight and high Wednesday at St. Catharines, 45, 65, St. Thomas, Wingham and Trenton 40, 65.

Summary for Wednesday: Clear and a little warmer.

Georgian Bay, Haliburton, Eastern Kirkland Lake and Eastern James Bay regions: Cloudy clearing late this afternoon. Clear tonight and Wednesday. Frost in most sections tonight. A little warmer Wednesday. Winds northwest 15 today, light tonight and Wednesday. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Muskoka and Killaloe 35, 60; Moosonee 35, 55.

Summary for Wednesday: Clear and a little warmer.

Hamilton Group First Exhibit In Peterborough

Modern Canadian art is distinctly, even monotonously, Canadian, whether it be grouped from Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver or Hamilton. It is unfair to expect a new group to be breaking new ground which is already chopped up, nevertheless this reviewer had a small feeling of disappointment that "The Contemporary Artists of Hamilton," whose first annual exhibition is now hanging in the gallery of the Public Library, have no new idiom or give no re-interpretation, either individually or as a group.

The 38 canvases and the two pieces in stone by the sculptress Elizabeth Bradford Holbrook do reveal a high level of artistry and —despite the strictures stated above— a wide variety. [illegible] be expected from Hamilton than from Peterborough, but the exhibition is an indication of what Peterborough might do in a limited way. It is a remarkably select and stylish show.

Many Portraits

The most varied and controversial trio of paintings (all but two of the fourteen artists show three pieces) is by Charles Playfair: Nun on An Errand, Arrangement with Three Dancers, Study of an Improvised Shape. Highly interesting in treatment, they will rouse critical technical discussion. The surest abstraction is by the accomplished painter Hortense M. Gordon.

There is an unusual number of good portraits and figure compositions. Attractively fresh and human is Aline Myles Banting's Molto Adagio—two boys at piano duet. The most interesting stylized grouping is Rae Hendershot's Three Graces.

Outstanding Landscape

Henry Smith's Apple Orchard is an outstanding landscape, a very fine and verdant water-colour. Vincent Francis' Le Magasin du Comte du Manoir is a striking individual work. At the other side of the palette and interesting for its contrast with other works as for its reversal to a quieter century, is Arthur Chrystal's Des Remparts.

It is indicative of Hamilton's growing stature in the arts that this group of fourteen Hamiltonians, which include Maitland Banting, Medeline Stephen Francis, Alice Cooper Reiser, Ray Mead, Philip Sharp and Marie Smith, can present such a uniformly good exhibition. It will be up until the end of the month, which gives only ten more days to view it.

Children's Art

In the anteroom to the gallery is a highly interesting exhibit from the children's art classes of the London Public Library and Art Museum. Painting classes for children, free from the atmosphere of schools, have taken firm hold in Toronto, Hamilton, London and Windsor. There is hope that similar classes will be held in the Peterborough Library. A room is available, capable instructors are at hand, and all that is needed is a very little financial and moral support from various art groups in the city, who should have a special interest in such a project.

Suspended Sentence Given Belmont Youth

A one-year suspended sentence was handed out to Howard Newton, 21, who wounded his brother with a .44 calibre rifle and was charged with pointing a firearm. He appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court on Tuesday morning.

The shooting resulted from an argument among three brothers, all sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Newton, whose farm home is located about four miles north of Havelock. They were arguing about who should have the family car. The parents were away.

Morris Newton, 23, who was shot at, received a scalp wound and several pieces of flying glass flew into his right eye. He was reported today as resting comfortably in St. Joseph's hospital.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw recommended a suspended sentence.

"While this is a very serious offence, I think perhaps a suspended sentence would be in order," he said. He said the accused had been drinking and that he was "ordinarily a very sensible fellow."

3. It may provide an incentive to United States tourists to visit Canada where they will obtain more for their money.

4. The $5,000,000,000 the United States has invested in Canada may be boosted Foreign investors may be attracted by the lower value of Canadian securities in comparison to their own.

5. It may prove tough on Canada since they will pay more Canadian dollars to meet U.S. dividends on Canadian investments.

6. Similarly, it may go hard on Canadian importers meeting [illegible] bills. Previously, they could pay for those bills at par or thereabouts. Now it means a little more than 10 per cent. added cost.

7. The Canadian consumer and importer of U.K.-made goods will benefit. Goods will come into Canada at a varying lower rate. In some cases china, cars and textiles may be 10 or 20 per cent. lower.

The dollar devaluation has a great number of other ramifications. These may come to light as trading progresses and currency exchanges become more settled.

Fixed By Ottawa.

The dollar, although devalued, still is fixed arbitrarily by the Canadian Government. An unofficial world market for the Canadian dollar still may exist and have an effect on the official market. What the unofficial rate may be is not known. Before the dollar was devalued it hovered at about 10 per cent. discount in relation to U.S. funds.

Mr. Abbott said in his announcement that the Canadian dollar devaluation may have been greater, but for the fact that Canada still is in a comparatively-strong trading position.

While Canada was strong she was not strong enough to go through an era of deficit international trading. It would have tremendous affects on dollar reserves which still are continuing to decline.

At one point during the last six months the reserves touched $1,000,000,000. The total reserves now were lower.

It now appeared, said Mr. Abbott, that Canadian dollar devaluation, coupled with Canada's production capabilities, would be sufficient to fight the trading dislocations which may be caused by sterling devaluation.

Dollar devaluation does not affect the farmer's or exporter's pocketbook on Anglo-Canadian food and other commodity agreements. The farmer still gets $2 in Canadian funds for a bushel of wheat and $36 a hundredweight for No. 1 Wiltshire bacon.

Use Meter Money For Parking Lots

The advice of the city planning board that the council acquire land east of Aylmer St. between Dalhousie and King Streets was passed on to the board of works Monday night.

It is probably remembered that public parking space has been considered broadly by the board since it was set up. One of those specially interested has been Mr. Hubert Sills. A board survey of interior lots in the down town area was one of the first offerings to the council with intention of trying to find convenient parking areas. Nothing came of that effort.

The board has now moved away from the civic core. In the meantime, the rows of parking meters have collected close to $62,000.

The city made its last payments on the meters several weeks ago. Their tolls are now going into the treasury without deductions. Opinion of the planning board has been to the effect that some of the meter money should be invested in parking lots.

Gold Stocks Slip Market Uncertain

TORONTO, Sept. 20—(CP)—Devaluation of the Canadian dollar created an air of uncertainty on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials and gold stocks slipped at the opening and then levelled off in mid-session. Base metals were about balanced while western oils tended slightly higher.

The Exchange's 1 p.m. index showed Industrials down 2.94 at 180.69, golds down 2.90 at 110.88, base metals down .06 at 102.57, western oils up .17 at 48.95.

The strong upwards surge Monday in golds in expectation of devaluation of the Canadian dollar petered out. Monday the gold list climbed to the highest point in two years in heavy trading.

Traders were uncertain today. They wondered whether the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act would be continued in view of the 10 per cent drop in the dollar. If the government decides to discontinue gold-aid the gain which producers will make through devaluation would be about nullified.

Ontario Farmers Helped By Dollar Cuts

TORONTO, Sept. 20 — (CP).—Ontario farmers shipping cattle to the United States stand to benefit as a result of dollar devaluation, providing the present prices are maintained, W. P. Watson, Ontario Livestock Commissioner, said Monday night.

More than 100,000 head of dairy cattle went to the United States last year and the flow of beef cattle has been heavy since the embargo was lifted last August.

Exports should be stimulated, because the farmers will be paid in United States currency which will bring a premium in this country, Mr. Watson added.

Dollar devaluation was greeted with a "wait and see" attitude by [illegible] of the farm implement industry.

Union Warned To Settle Soon

GUELPH, Sept. 20. — Mayor Gordon Rife Monday night told a delegation representing United Electrical Workers, Local 508, to send their men back to work at the Leland Electric Co., "before it is too late."

The delegation asked council to intervene in the dispute between the union and the company. The mayor warned the delegation that if it failed to act quickly to settle the wage and hours of work issues, the company would make good its threat to close the local plant and go elsewhere.

"We have lost one plant this week, and we can't afford to lose another one," the mayor told the delegation. He was referring to the Page-Hersey branch which is transferring to the main plant.

Council granted the request of the union for use of city hall Thursday for a meeting. But the mayor again told the delegation the union should act before Thursday to settle the disagreement.

"I am prepared to do all I can, but I will not involve council in this matter," the mayor said. "We will not take sides."

Ford Attempts New Settlement

DETROIT, Sept. 20 (AP) — Faced with a strike deadline, the Ford Motor Company was reported today attempting to reach a settlement with the United Automobile Workers Union (CIO) with a tentative offer of a company-financed pension plan.

The union served notice on the motor company Monday a strike would become effective Sept. 29 if its pension, health and welfare and wage demands were not met.

The union manoeuvre dampened but failed to dispell hopes of a peaceful settlement without a strike by Ford's 115,000 production workers.

Top negotiators of the company and the union called for renewal of bargaining talks today. Both John S. Bugas, Ford vice-president and Walter Reuther, UAW chief, acknowledged some progress had been made since negotiations began June 2.

Union sources said Ford had made a tentative offer of company-financed pensions equivalent to eight cents an hour. The proposal, these sources said, would provide pensions of about $50 a month for workers reaching the age of 68, exclusive of Social Security benefits.

feet by 70 feet. Two curling ices will be housed on either side of the structure. There will be no seats in the building this year but they are included in later plans of the building. This year hockey and curling fans will have to be content with using the catwalk five feet wide constructed around the rinks. The building will have two heated lobbies, two dressing rooms and toilet facilities. The site is on the old fair grounds donated by the township for the building. The building committee and those responsible for the recruiting of volunteer labor are David McNiven, Charles Nelson, James McCarthy and Robert Keitel.

On completion of the building this committee will turn the rink over to the management committee comprised of Dr. W. H. Ford, Charles Nelson, Jack Thirnbeck and Jack Gall who will be responsible for the allocation of various activities in the building. Two members from the council the also included on the committee, David McIntyre and Harry Reid, Reeve. The first task to be undertaken by this committee will be arrangements for the official opening. This will likely be in the form of a dance or chicken supper, or both. The date is set for November 1st.

HASTINGS, Sept. 20—(ENS)—Fire brigade was called to the home of Joseph Lynch at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday to extinguish a chimney fire. No damage was done.

Jaycees Urged To Complete Job

The Junior Chamber of Commerce held its first meeting of the 1949-50 season Monday night. President Doug Valsey announced that the Chamber would institute a College of Knowledge for Jaycees which is expected to attract new members.

[illegible] of the executive were elected. Ronald A. Balaam, a former member who just returned from two years in Montreal, was elected executive secretary by acclamation. Jack Moore was elected treasurer.

The College of Knowledge, as outlined by President Valsey will have a two-month semester in the fall and a similar term in the spring.

The October and November session beginning Oct. 11 in the Public Library will be concerned with the theory of four subjects, public speaking, sales, radio and personnel. The March-April term will deal with the practical application of what was learned in the fall. The classes will meet weekly and the Chamber's business will be dealt with at the same time..

Grenville Lathangue, chairman of the Civics Committee, said that he wanted the Jaycees to finish the job of clearing out Jackson's Park Creek they had begun early in the summer. He commented Peterborough's citizens had thought the project well worth while and he told the members it had received flattering attention from outside the city.

First Vice President Bill Edworthy told the meeting, that although the turnout was not good, there was a high turnover rate in all Chambers of Commerce and he thought there was every reason to think they could build up the club's strength and revitalize its sagging finances.

544 Plumbing Jobs Still Await Doing

Apparently there is not much change on Peterborough's plumbing front.

A. G. Metheral, inspector, reported to the welfare committee that 30 jobs were completed during August, leaving 544 "still unfinished."

Part of the report provides the following facts of building: 69 plumbing permits were issued in August for the installation of 66 baths, 125 basins, 81 sinks, 115 water closets, four drinking fountains, and so on. Thirty-five houses were connected to the sewer. Other sewer connections were: one new wing of hospital; one new bowling alley; 13 old houses; one old house doing away with a septic tank; three old houses doing away with cesspools.

Frequency Changer Gets Out Of Line

Peterborough's electric power blacked out for four minutes about 11:20 this morning.

The reason said Utilities Manager Ross Robbin was the resetting of a frequency changer in a power station at Chat's Falls, on a tributary of the Ottawa river.

The frequency changer, which converts 25 cycle electric current into 60 cycle had got out of order and had to be switched off to be reset.

Instead of pumping out electricity at a 60 cycle frequency, it had wandered off a little, thereby cutting down the normal 60,000 kilowatt power output. The only remedy was to switch it off and readjust it.

Seek To Speed Help For Fires

Too simplified altogether was the city council's opinion of a North Monaghan proposal to speed fire department runs on telephone calls from the township.

A Monaghan council motion requested that the department respond to a call from any township ratepayer without the delay of obtaining authority from the Mayor or chairman of the fire and light committee.

To save time in the incipient stage of a fire was the purpose of the letter.

City Clerk Outram referred to agreements with Douro and Smith townships providing for payment of city fire department service, particularly in suburban sections where houses are more numerous than in the rural areas. The councils accepted responsibility for calls from such ratepayers, and Fire Chief Smith was permitted to send help from his staff without consulting the Mayor or fire and light committee chairman. The Department was not bound to respond if, for example, the firemen were fighting a fire in the city.

Replying to Ald. Grant Miller; Mr. Outram said the city's insurance now applied to trips into Douro and Smith. Previously to an amendment of statute, a fire truck heading for Smith was damaged on a street in the city, and it was found then that the insurance policy did not cover that variation of service.

Discussion stressed the lack of agreement as to payment for aid in the letter from North Monaghan. Ald. Doug Miller, chairman of the fire and light committee, said it often happened that adequate supply of water was not available when fighting apparatus reached a rural fire.

The council fell in with Ald. Dick Raine's suggestion that the letter be turned over to the Miller committee for consideration of details with representatives of the township council.

If Moderate Rainfall Blackouts Unlikely

OSHAWA, Sept. 20 — (CP).—W. R. Strike, Ontario Hydro Commissioner, Monday said that given moderate rainfall and no equipment breakdowns residents of Ontario might expect no blackouts during the coming winter.

In his address to an Oshawa service club, he said the reasons for this were a decline in industrial demand for power and the development and installation of new sources of power.

Rotary Bids Farewell To Rev. B. Lennox

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 20—(ENS)—Tribute to Rotarian the Rev. Bill Lennox, who will be leaving Campbellford shortly, was paid Monday by fellow Rotarians. Rotarian Harold Carr said that Mr. Lennox had an average attendance since joining the club of 88.87. As a director and member of the visiting committee, the members would greatly miss him. "The best wishes of the club go with you in your new work," he stated.

Al Lynch, Campbellford, addressed the meeting on the work of a public accountant. "He is a liaison officer between his clients and the income office," he said.

He said that when the course was finished the accountant had to prepare statements that would satisfy both his employers and [illegible].

"The primary purpose," he stated, "in making a complete audit is to satisfy shareholders of a company. To do a good job the company must have a complete book-keeping system," he added.

The balance sheet type of auditing," he said, "is to examine the transactions of the company with the purpose of eventually preparing a statement of assets and liabilities."

Mr. Lynch said that test auditing consisted of carefully examining the transactions of a business for any one month during the year. "A complete audit is the careful examination of every transaction during a specified period," he declared.

Some large companies had internal auditors who travelled around to the various branches making complete audits. Usually their annual statements were prepared by two auditors from recognized outside firms.

President Charles Calver introduced the speaker and Rotarian A. J. Meyers moved the vote of thanks.

Ottawa Anxious To Drop Ajax

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — Counsel for the Crown-owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation said today the Federal government wants to "get out" of Ajax, the emergency housing area near Pickering, 21 miles east of here.

The counsel, W. L. A. Pope, told the Ontario Municipal Board the Federal government "does not want to be operating a village and that's what we are doing today."

Mr. Pope spoke during the board's hearing of the corporation's application to have the former wartime explosive plant site declared an improvement area as the first step towards becoming a full-fledged municipality.

The hearing was adjourned until Oct. 17 when it will reconvene at Brougham, Ont., near Pickering. Scene of the hearing was chosen for the convenience of local residents, some of whom object to the definition of the area which covers some 12 square miles.

Business Men Rally Against Parking Meters

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 20 — (ENS)—The smouldering embers of the parking meter question burst into flames on Monday when about 30 business men met in the Hollywood Theatre to protest against what they described as the council's tardiness in having the meters removed.

Parking meters are detrimental to business, was the premise on which they based their deliberations. Some drastic measures were advocated to force the council's hand but they were dropped for saner methods of approach.

Frank De Carroll read a communication from the clerk of Hanover regarding meters there.

"The Mi-Co Meter Company," the letter said, "installed meters in Hanover in May, 1948.

[illegible] appeared before council and asked for the removal of the meters, claiming they were driving business to other towns. After considerable discussion, the final decision was to have meters removed.

"We would like to point out," the letter continued, "that the meters did serve a purpose and that the Mi-co Meter Co. was very fair in their dealings with us."

Some business men pointed out that the council's stalling for time had dampened the ardor that was prevalent amongst the business men some weeks ago. Something had to be done to bring about a renewed interest in the demand that the meters should be removed.

Write Open Letter

After much discussion of a protest parade, an open meeting and other ways of stirring up enthusiasm, it was decided to address an open letter, bearing the signatures of 120 business men, to the ratepayers of Campbellford and to place the grievances before the council at the next meeting.

The letter said: "The business men of Campbellford wish to make this report to you of the results of their fight against the parking meters.

Since the town council has installed parking meters on our main streets we have suffered a loss in business. We wish to point out to the people that we have approached the council and offered them financial assistance if necessary for the removal of the meters.

"To date," the letter continued, "we have had no reply from the council. We are listing below the business men who have signed a petition for their removal. This petition has been before the members of the council and they are fully aware of our objections.

"It has been estimated that the gross earnings from the meters would not exceed $4,000 for the year. The amount of $750 will be deducted for their installation, leaving a balance of $3,250. The town receives 25 per cent or approximately $812.25. Most of this net balance will be used up for maintenance of the meters.

"It is understood that the town will not make any money and should the meters stay for another year, it will cost the town $3 per meter until the total amount of the contract is paid."

Ask For Support

The letter continued: "We ask the ratepayers of Campbellford for their support in combating the injustice done to the people in impairing their livelihood. We feel that instead of a toll we should offer inducements for people to come to our town to shop.

"We are confident that if the council would co-operate we would see that no cost would be incurred by the ratepayers therefore we feel justified to demand the parking meters removed.

"It was also suggested to the council," the letter said, "that a bylaw be enforced for Tuesday and Saturday parking only. This would help our traffic problem and could be easily enforced.

"We ask you for your wholehearted support in this fight for justice."

THEY FEAR WORST — Relatives and friends of passengers, listed as missing following Saturday's disastrous blazing fire [illegible] flocked to Toronto in an effort to identify [illegible] the bodies in the temporary morgue at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds as [illegible] unteer workers help relatives check lists of survivors and view [illegible] the morgue. Telephone Films Shown Lions

Two films, Telephone Courtesy and The Telephone Hour, were shown to the Lions Club at its bi-monthly meeting Monday night at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

Telephone Courtesy told about an employer who was amazed at the courtesy of a telephone operator in the office of a friend. His friend then explained how he helped educate the staff in the proper use of the telephone.

In the second film, The Telephone Hour, the announcer explained the two methods of forming a television network. The Bell Telephone Orchestra and the guest musicians performed throughout the movie.

Bruce McClure operated the movie projector. He was introduced to the club by Lion Stanley Darling and was thanked by Fred Jennings.

Five members of the club, Bud LaBranche, J. K. Gledhill, Norman Hughes, Clarence Harloff, and Ray Clark, all who recently became fathers, were presented with silver spoons for their sons and daughters. Vice-president Bert Sisson made the presentation on behalf of the club.

President James Marshall presented J. K. Gledhill with his past president's certificate, while Lion Stanley Darling presented a ten-year chevron to President James Marshall.

Drank 20 Pints, Court Rules No Suicide Try

COBOURG, Sept. 20 (ENS) — Joseph Smith of Hastings, who startled police court when he said he consumed 20 pints of beer in the afternoon and evening of one day, was found not guilty Monday on a charge of attempted suicide.

Provincial Constable A. Kellogg of Hastings said that on Sept. 2 he was notified that a man had tried to commit suicide on the farm of Leo Cleary in Percy Township and when he arrived he found Joseph Smith's brother had successfully restrained him from going into the hay mow and hanging himself with a rope strung from the mow poles. The [illegible] and had tried to get out of the constable's car when he was bringing him into Cobourg.

"I was doing between 58 and 60 miles an hour when I heard the car door open and I reached out and prevented him from getting out," the constable testified. "He didn't stagger around or seem affected to any great extent physically from drinking but his mental processes seemed to lag and he acted stupid," he added.

"I had seven pints or so of beer at Hastings that afternoon," Smith related. "Then I went to Cleary's to help milk the cows but the power went off and we had to quit. I guess I drank about 12 pints more that evening. I don't remember anything about trying to commit suicide. I certainly don't know anything about a rope in the barn," he stated.

"How many times have you drunk 20 pints of beer?" asked Magistrate [illegible] he replied.

"I should hope not," commented the magistrate.

"I don't know how a man of his build could consume so much beer," observed defence counsel Alan Field. Accused is of very slight build.

"I'm inclined to think he drank less than he says but is trying to achieve a build-up to show that he didn't know what he was doing," said the magistrate.

The wife of the accused said that her husband was a good provider and was well behaved except when he drank too much. He would go on more or less of a bender once a month or less frequently. It was correct that once he said he would drown himself, but this statement was made while he was drunk, she told the court.

"It is a question of [illegible] preparation for an attempted suicide," the Crown Attorney said.

"The charge is dismissed and I will recommend that the accused is put on the list in regard to purchases of beer or liquor," ruled the magistrate.

Underwriters Picnic At South Beach

The September meeting of the Peterborough Life Underwriters took the form of a picnic, and was held at South Beach Hotel on Friday. After an afternoon of contests and games a turkey dinner was served. A short business meeting was held following the dinner.

Craig Weaver, CLU, of Toronto, the regional vice-president installed the new officers after which Jack Allan, the past-president handed the meeting over to the new president, Roy K. Irwin, CLU.

Mr. Allan outlined the plans for the Congress to be held at Orillia on Oct. 1st, and Mr. Henwood gave an outline of the speakers which had been secured for the current year.

Gunmen Kill Policeman

CHICAGO, Sept. 20—(AP) — A policeman was shot and killed on a south side street early today by two young Negro gunmen who pumped nine bullets into his body without saying a word. Policeman David F. Weating, 34, father of four small children, was slain after he stopped to question the youths about a package one of them was carrying.

The Noronic

The appalling fire on Canada Steamship Lines Noronic in Toronto harbour, and the dreadful loss of life, are reminders that "fireproof" is a word and not a fact. No hotel, home, factory or ship is fire-proof, for no matter how resistant to flames walls or ship's girders are, the human frame is not. One's ears have become accustomed to the words tragedy and disaster, but most sorrowfully it must be said of the burning of the Noronic that here was both disaster and tragedy.

"We Don't Care What They Call It"

When so many speeches are being made, the mind may wander, and wonder who said what—Togliatti, Communist leader in Italy, Premier Gottwald of Czechoslovakia, Tito of Yugoslavia, or some crack-pot American Communist. Here are excerpts from a Labour Day speech:

The selfish interests have always been working against the common good, since the beginning of our history. Our fathers and our grandfathers had to fight against them every step of the way to make progress. They had to fight for a free public school system. They had to fight for the right of homesteaders to settle on the public lands. They had to fight for laws to protect the health and safety of industrial workers. They had to fight for labour's right to organize.

We face the same situation today. We still have a fight on our hands.

The special interests always fail to see that the way of progress, the way of greater prosperity for themselves, as well as others, lies in the direction of a fuller and happier life for all. . . .

Too many who are making money out of rents from slums are not in favour of expanding public housing to provide decent shelter for low-income families. Too many with big incomes are not interested in raising minimum wages. Too many who can freely organize themselves in business associations or employers' groups are not anxious to protect the same right to organize among industrial workers.

. . . . The selfish interests retired to a back room with their high-priced advertising experts and thought things over. They decided that the old set of scare words had become a little mildewed. Maybe it was time for a change.

So they came up with a new set of scare words. Now they're talking about "collectivism," and "statism," and "the welfare state."

Let's see how the selfish interests are using these scare words.

The people want public housing for low-income families. The selfish interests are opposed to this because they think it will cut down their own incomes; so they call it "collectivism."

Well, we don't care what they call it . . .

People want fair laws for labor. The selfish interests are against these laws because they mistakenly fear that their profits will be reduced; so they call that "statism."

Well, we don't care what they call it.

The people want a fair program for the farmers. The selfish interests fight against this because it keeps them from profiteering at the farmers' expense; so they call this "socialism."

We don't care what they call it.

The people want a better social security system, improved education, and a national health program. The selfish interests are trying to sabotage these programs because they have no concern about helping the little fellow, and so they call this the "welfare state."

Well, we don't care what they call it.

We know that the little fellow is the backbone of the country, and we are predicated to the principle that the Government should promote the welfare of all the people.

The spokesman for these special interests say that these programs makes the Government too powerful and cause the people to lose their freedom. Well, now, that is just not so. Programs like these make the people more independent—independent of the Government, independent of big business and corporate power.

This speech was delivered not in Czechoslovakia by Gottwald, not in Italy by Togliatti, but in Pittsburgh by the President of the United States of America. What is President Truman up to? Is he electioneering so soon after his election? Is he preparing for 1954? Is he taking a demagogic turn, appealing to the crowd for personal support and bypassing Congress? Is he seeing Red? Is it too much to say that he is a good American seeking the best path to the best American way of life? Communists may pretend it, but they have no monopoly of good intentions, and, as economic and material results show, democratic Americans are better at making good their intentions.

Our own rather extensive reading of daily newspapers revealed that President Truman's address went almost unreported in the Canadian and American press, excepting in the New York Times which printed it in full and had also a full column leading article on it.

Fair Gambling

Last week we published on this page a letter from a parent whose son had lost his summer's savings at the Peterborough Exhibition's games of chance. These wheels of fortune booths come to Fall Fairs along with the Ferris wheel and there is no doubt that a lot of crooked dealing goes on. The public is considered by many of these operators [illegible] perhaps the public is, if it allows itself to get sucked into such games. People ought to have had sufficient knowledge of the trick methods used not to gamble their money, unless the fun is worth losing it. An inexperienced youth is not fair game for shysters.

It is more easily said than done to banish games of chance from midways, or to ensure that they are not crooked, or to allow only local service clubs to operate bingo and the like, so that the profits go into public welfare work and not out of town, and the men running the games are completely honest. Owners of midways demand concessions for booths and wheel games before they will bring their ferris wheels and merry-go-rounds to town. They also pay ground rent for the space. Further, the public seem to demand the colour these booths give an Exhibition.

Fair boards, government inspectors and the police cannot protect the public from their own foolishness, but they must make every effort to protect them from downright crookedness.

It is curious that the Exhibition Board will have nothing to do with pari-mutuel betting on the horses (a suggestion put to it last year) because it is gambling, yet seems to be forced to countenance gambling of an almost uncontrollable kind along the midway. Pari-mutuel machines at least do not cheat. The only real winners at wheel games of the kind professionals operate are the operators.

Jamaican Kinship

In our Third Column today we carry a report on Jamaica written by an informed journalist who has been making a study of conditions there. Although the island colony is far away from Canada, it has close connections with this country. It is a colony in the process of achieving full Dominion status; like Canada it is historically and politically linked with Britain, though geographically and economically it is North American. While American influence is strong, and the island is financially quite dependent on the U.S., Jamaicans, like Canadians have withstood American social pressure, and, nationally-minded, are achieving a Jamaican society, as Canada is a Canadian. Jamaicans do not want to be incorporated into the United States, and there has been recent talk of a closer federation with Canada. Many Jamaicans come up to this country for secondary school training and to attend our universities. Trade connections are indications of the strength of relations between two countries. In the decade since 1938 Jamaican imports from Canada quadrupled in value, to $18,214,000. From the Canadian point of view it is a favourable trade—perhaps too heavily so—for Canadian imports from Jamaica have almost stood still in the decade, being only about six million dollars annually. Jamaica is a country on which Canadians ought to be better informed.

Commonwealth Counsel

The fourth unofficial Commonwealth Relations Conference ended Sunday. This year it was held in Canada, at Lake of Bays, and the Canadian Institute of International Affairs was the host. Such conferences in which private people of the Commonwealth—there were some forty from seven overseas Commonwealth countries in attendance—discuss widely and freely and from scholarly knowledge or practical experience the state of this great group of nations, do promote its common weal. Government officials and political leaders cannot carry on their work to the best interest of country or Commonwealth in a vacuum. There must be an informed body of public opinion to support, jog and even guide them. The Canadian Institute of International Affairs, its counterparts elsewhere in the Commonwealth and this Conference excellently focus and form public opinion on the matters within their purview.

Jamaica Is A Nation

By J. HALCRO FERGUSON
(Special to The London Observer and Peterborough Examiner)

ON the small mountainous island of Jamaica live over a million people, half of the entire population of the British West Indies. Predominantly they are of West African descent, and Jamaica has indeed many African characteristics. But it is not only African. Centuries of British rule have left an English stamp on the island, while the proximity of Cuba and the tendency of Jamaicans to leave their overcrowded island to work temporarily in Panama and Central America have added a Latin influence as well.

Yet it would be untrue to regard Jamaica as a mere ethnic melting pot. Jamaica is Jamaican. Where Barbadians, Trinidadians and Antiguans are liable to describe themselves when abroad as simply West Indians, a man from Kingston or Montego Bay will describe himself as a Jamaican. At the last conference held to discuss a closer West Indian union, it was Jamaica who proved the least willing to merge her [illegible] into a common whole. Partly this was because her Prime Minister, the flamboyant Mr. Alexander Bustamante, probably prefers to remain a big fish in a small Jamaican pond rather than become a smaller fish in a West Indian ocean; but partly too it was due to Jamaica's very definite national consciousness.

THIS consciousness springs from the country's history. When the British invaded the island in 1655, the Spanish — slaves, known as Maroons, escaped into the interior and carried on a fierce guerilla warfare, and it was not until 1842 (four years after the abolition of slavery) that they were finally granted the full rights of British subjects. While the British imported Negroes were not so intransigent, they were certainly affected by the tough Maroons, and proved considerably less docile than the slaves in the other colonies.

Apart from anything else, Jamaicans had learned the hard way (as, for instance, in the bloody rebellion of 1865), a new sense of community, for both white and coloured Jamaicans had found themselves willy-nilly on the same side. Jamaica today has less prejudice on grounds of colour than almost any other colony. Last month, when the Miami Women's Club arrived in Kingston as guests of the Jamaica Women's Club, they were startled and a little horrified to discover that many of their hostesses were black. They soon fell into Jamaican ways, however, and when they left invited the Kingston ladies to make a return visit to Florida.

JAMAICAN politics, too, cut right across colour lines. Both the leader of the majority party, Mr. Bustamante, and the leader of the People's National Party (the Socialist opposition), Mr. Norman Manley, K.C., are coloured. In fact, they are cousins. The political atmosphere, indeed, is more reminiscent of Latin America than of any of the other British colonies, and "Busta," as he is generally known, has certainly taken a few leaves out of the book of President Trujillo, the Dictator of the near-by Dominican Republic, though so far he has not followed the latter's example of renaming the country's capital city after himself.

"Busta's" party, called (again on the Latin American model) simply the Bustamante Party, came to office under the new Constitution granted in 1944, which gave the island what amounts to representative Government for a trial period of five years. Bustamante, whose original name was less romantically Clarke, rose to power on the shoulders of the trade union he himself created, the first in Jamaica's history. Originally he and Manley, an earnest, soft-spoken lawyer, worked together, but Bustamante wants followers rather than collaborators. The two separated, Manley accusing the champagne-drinking "Busta" of unbridled personal ambition, and the Bustamantites claiming that Manley was a Communist.

TODAY for all its proletarian background and trade union trappings (Bustamante is President of his own union for life), the Bustamante Party has definitely moved to the right. Its warmest supporters are the island's big sugar interests, who think they can control the shock-haired leader. Among the working classes "Busta's" personal power is still strong, but the coloured middle class and the intelligentsia have no time for him, and are almost all Manleyites.

New elections are due before the end of this year, and Jamaicans await them with a certain trepidation. Recent local elections have brought forth charges and counter-charges of fraud and violence, and the atmosphere is heated. Manley, with whom I had a long conversation, is confident of winning the elections by a small margin. If his party does in fact come into office, it will probably smooth the path of Jamaica into closer union with her neighbours, for Manley is a warm supporter of federation and eventual Dominion status. Internally, unlike the Bustamante Party, whose professed platform is limited to rather vague and airy promises, the People's National Party has recently published a detailed programme on Socialist lines, which looks very good on paper but also very expensive.

Jamaica is, indeed, in an unhappy position economically, though Bustamantists claim she will benefit by the recent sugar agreement. One of her chief problems is lack of dollars, and everything is being done to attract them—U.S. tourists may enter the country with neither passport nor visa. Like the other West Indian islands, Jamaica complains that she is a dollar-earner but that Britain will not permit her to spend the dollars she earns. She wants to attract American capital, but at the same time is afraid of being drawn too much into the American orbit. For racial reasons, apart from anything else, Jamaica wants to remain British.

These politico-economic problems weigh on every thinking Jamaican, as do the ever-present poverty and over-population which result from them, but the mood of the island is somehow a hopeful one. Partly this is due to the natural optimism which manages to persist in the African race, partly it is because, wherever Jamaica may be going, she is not standing still. True to their tenacious ancestry, Jamaicans today are perhaps the most active and interesting people in the West Indian islands.

Letters To The Editor

HUMAN LIFE IS CHEAP

Sir: If the driver of an automobile does not stop for a red light, or drives his car at a speed of more than thirty miles an hour, he is liable to a fine. Why? Because he is endangering human life. But a show has been put on in this city in which there was a probability that man would be killed or maimed. One would think that, after the sad tragedy which took place at this Dare-Devil performance, people would be so shocked that there would not be a second exhibition. But no, the show must go on. People like it and there is money in it.

Recently three pilots and a mother and a child in their home lost their lives due to an exhibition of stunt flying. Now a man is justified in exposing himself to probable danger of death to save the life of another human being. In fact such a one is a hero. But a man is not justified in risking his own life or the lives of others to amuse a crowd. We have a Humane Society whose duty it is to prevent cruelty to animals. Have we any society to prevent cruelty to human beings?

Of course none of those who attended the above mentioned performance wished to see anyone hurt, much less killed. They were attracted by the expected spills, thrills and chills of the show. But in this our day when in so many countries there is little respect for the human person, made to the image and likeness of God, and human life is held so cheap, we in a Christian community should frown upon anything that endangers the morals or the lives of our fellow citizens.

When one reads of the crowds that attend cruel and almost sadistic shows which are staged at prize fights and wrestling matches, he is tempted to ask himself are we reverting to the days of the pagan amphitheatre, when thumbs were turned down at the gladiatorial contests. Must men, women or even children be maimed or killed to make a civic holiday?

The Life and Death of Nukashook

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

BY the standards of the white man, the life of Nukashook had little significance and her neighbours in the Arctic must wonder why they are so concerned about the manner of her death. Nukashook knew nothing of the Criminal Code. She lived the 45 winters of her life with other members of her tribe in Boothia Peninsula in the central Arctic. Her teeth were worn to the gums from chewing sealskins in the primitive Eskimo style of preparing them for clothes for her husband and, in time, for strong son, Eeriykoot. She became a widow. Old age comes early in Eskimo society and Nukashook was weak with tuberculosis. She was racked with pain. The time was near when, in the manner of her ancestors, she would die alone on a barren hillside and her bones would whiten under the snow while the tribe followed the seal along the coast. She asked her son to help her die.

Eeriykoot asked his friend Ishakak to aid him. They looped a sealskin rope over the tent pole, helped the woman to dress and placed her head through the loop. Nukashook's last words to her son were to scold him for being slow. Eeriykoot embraced his mother and added his weight to hers, until her neck snapped. The other day Eeriykoot was found guilty, after trial at Cambridge Bay, of aiding the suicide of his mother. Ishakak was acquitted. Their neighbours testified that custom, stretching back into the dim memory of old Eskimos, allowed a person to help an aged one to die. In the old days, no white men came to question the right of the Eskimo to follow the customs of his ancestors, which were suited to the improvident and stagnant society of the Canadian Arctic. The story of Nukashook will be remembered, and it will make some change in Eskimo thinking. Eeriykoot will serve one year's imprisonment, and that means he will be attached to the Cambridge Bay post, with food and clothing provided. Strange people, these white men, with their ideas of civilization!

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts. . . . They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness. . . .

The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. (Ps. 145: 3, 4, 7, 17.)

◇ ◇ ◇

I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right. (Isa. 45: 19.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure. . . .

I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory. (Isa. 46: 9, 10, 13.)

Meaningless Jargon

(Ottawa Journal)

One of the afflictions of our time is the propensity of people who, scholars by the baptism of desire, imagine that they will appear to be what they are not by use of outlandish words. They write and speak about "genocide", about "geopolitics", about "autarchy", and so on and so forth, no doubt saying to themselves, "this will sound scholarly".

Actually it sounds gibberish. If words like "genocide" and "geopolitics" and "autarchy" have precise meanings, why on earth not say or define what they mean? Or if they are not related to any Canadian condition or problem—and most of them are not so related—why use them at all? After all, clarity, is the main merit of speech, whether written or spoken.

Professor Claims Baby Says A Lot In Only One Word

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—"Baby talk makes sense" is the contention of Werner F. Leopold, Professor of German and Linguistics at Northwestern University. The conclusion is based on his recent studies in the speech development of children.

An infant between eight months and two years of age expresses a complete thought or feeling with just one word, which in his mind covers the subject thoroughly, according to Professor Leopold. It usually does, he says, and it is only the more wordy adult who has trouble understanding.

"Words selected by the infant aren't really nouns, verbs, adjectives or adverbs specifically," he said this week. "He selects any [illegible] purpose of communications. The [illegible] that he thinks most [illegible] a sentence, the one most stressed. This word, with the help of the particular situation where it is used, is good enough for the baby to satisfy his needs of communication, at least for the first several months of speech."

Word Has Various Meanings

The child does use one word however, for many different meanings. It depends on his tone of voice. A simple word like "there" can mean joy or interest, or it can be a request, a question or a statement of fact by the infant. Professor Leopold explained how one word could represent a wish in the form of a question. With a certain intonation, a baby may merely say, "apple?" and mean "may I have an apple?"

Professor Leopold's study also indicates that it is a rare child who doesn't coin some words of his own. He studied [illegible] the time she was an infant until she was 15 years old, and found her to be adept at combining words. She called an airplane a "peep-peep-auto," forming a compound noun from the conventional sounds of a bird, which she already knew, and the familiar word for car.

Another child combined "caterpillar" and "butterfly" to "butterpillar" in an effort to explain the emergence of a butterfly from a caterpillar.

"Arbitrary Practices" Hurt

Professor Leopold holds that the child is often hampered in his speech development by the "arbitrary and accidental practices of the standard language." That is shown in the way a baby learns a word through similar situations repeated several times. For example, a child becomes acquainted with different kinds of brushes and notices that they are all called "brush."

Then when he sees a paint brush, its shape and function seem to be similar, and he calls it "brush" again. In English he is right, but a German baby would be wrong for the two kinds of brushes are entirely different words in the German tongue, the professor pointed out.

The reverse is true, he said, in the case of such similar things as a towel, a handkerchief and a napkin. In English, the baby is wrong calling them all by the same name, but the German baby can be almost correct with the same basic word for all three. Professor Leopold contended that the baby naturally was confused by the fact that he should use entirely different words for things that looked so much alike and were used for nearly the same purposes. The baby has a point there.

Alberta Grants Honorary Degree

EDMONTON, Sept. 20 (CP) — Leading figures in the fields of newspaper work, education and agriculture will receive honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws at the convocation of the University of Alberta, it was announced Monday.

To be honored Oct. 22 are A. Balmer Watt of Edmonton, retired editor of the Edmonton Journal; James Fowler of Calgary, Principal of the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art in that city; and L. B. Thomson of Regina, director of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Organization.

The degrees will be conferred by Dr. G. F. McNally, University Chancellor. Mr. Watt will give the convocation address.

A native of Brantford, Mr. Watt worked for the Brantford Expositor, the St. Thomas Journal and as editor of the Woodstock Sentinel-Review before coming to Edmonton in 1905. He established and published in turn the Edmonton Saturday News, the Edmonton Daily Capital and the Alberta Homestead before joining the Journal in 1912. He is a past president of the Alberta and Eastern B. C. Press Association.

Social Policies Big Issue Australia's Election

By ANTHONY WHITLOCK
Canadian Press Correspondent

CANBERRA—(CP)—Electioneering is warming up in Australia for the Commonwealth's second post-war general election later this fall.

And though the date has not been set, the main issues are already fairly well defined: sacialism, industrial relations and the Communist Party.

The Labor government, now under Prime Minister Benedict Chifley, has been in power since October, 1941, when the late John Curtin led it to victory over Robert G. Menzies, leader of the United Australia party.

With 43 seats of the 75 in the House of Representatives, the Laborites will go to the polls against Mr. Menzies' Liberal party successor to the United Australia party—and the Country party. And political observers here give the Laborites a good chance of ruling back into power if Liberals and the Country party do not put an end to three-cornered [illegible] especially in the country where Labor support is often surprisingly strong.

The Liberals gained 17 seats in the last general election in 1946 after five years in opposition. As the United Australia party it held office from 1931 to 1941 on a private enterprise policy.

The Country party, third party of consequence in federal politics, gained 12 seats in 1946. Representing mainly bigger farming interests, it has often held the balance of power in Canberra. It is primarily anti-Labor. But its great weakness is that it is a third party.

Signs Of Differences

In its 32 years' existence it has mostly worked with the Liberals and its leaders have at times been prime ministers. Though at present the Country party and Liberals speak with much the same voice, there are signs that differences may creep in before election time.

With no general campaign begun as yet, this is the outline of what the two major groups are likely to put before the electors:

Labor: Prime Minister Chifley will appeal to electors to look at Labor's record; he will propose minor tax cuts "if possible"; he will describe government, semi-government and industrial plans for spending £1,000,000,000 in public works and industrial expansion plans, and he may warn that there might be a minor depression coming [illegible] government be returned to meet it.

Following the Privy Council's ruling that bank nationalization plans were invalid, Mr. Chifley is not likely to call for increased nationalization.

Liberal and Country parties: Will probably tell electors they would ban the Communist party and institute secret ballots in union elections and strike decisions; will promise tax cuts; may propose compulsory military service in peacetime, and will promise greater encouragement for private enterprise and new industries.

The two parties will warn electors that Labor's official policy of socializing the means of production, distribution and exchange might mean complete socialism for Australia.

Rev. R. J. Robertson Dies In Crookston

MADOC, Sept. 20—The Rev. Robert John Robertson died at his home in Crookston on Friday after an illness of two years' duration.

Born at Beachburg, Ontario, late Mr. Robertson was in his 60th year and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson. Before moving to Crookston fifteen months ago he resided at Bloomfield. He was a minister of the Standard Church and served also as an elder in the congregation.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Mae Harper; three sisters, Mrs. James Stewart, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Herbert Burton, Swan River, Manitoba, and Mrs. Alex. McLean, Beachburg, Ontario, and one brother, Benjamin Robertson, Beachburg.

Priest Takes New Charge At Perth

MARMORA, Sept. 20 (ENS) — The Very Rev. H. J. Farrell of Sacred Heart Church leaves on Thursday to take charge of the Deanery of Perth. The new Marmora priest will be the Rev Father J. A. O'Neill, who comes from St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston.

At the conclusion of mass on Sunday morning, eight men representing the parishioners, approached the altar rail and presented Father Farrell, with an address and a purse of money. The address was read by James L. Shannon and the presentation was made by E. D. O'Connor.

Father Farrell expressed his regret at leaving Sacred Heart Church after his many years of association with the people of Marmora. He thanked the parishioners for their loyalty and co-operation and said he would take with him fond memories of his stay here. He asked to be remembered in their prayers as he would always remember them in his.

Protest Suspension

EDGEWATER, N.Y., Sept. 20 (AP) — Some 1,000 production workers at the Ford Motor Company here left their jobs Monday in what the company described as a protest against suspension of a union employee. The company said in a statement the walkout was "in direct violation" of the present contract between Local 906, United Auto Workers (CIO) and the company. The union termed the walkout unauthorized.

Alarm Sounded In Noronic Fire

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — J. R. Naudie, divisional superintendent of Canada Steamship Lines, said Monday the Noronic's fire alarm system was sounded "very soon" after start of the fire which destroyed the cruise ship with heavy loss of life Saturday.

He said this had been reported to the company by First Mate Jerry Wood.

Some passengers had asserted no alarm was sounded.

Mr. Naudie said the alarm system consisted of a siren, a system of electric bells and the main boat whistle. "When an alarm is given by smashing a glass at any of the fire stations, spread around the boat at various places, it sets off all alarm warnings and registers on an indicator board near the purser's office on D-deck." Mr. Naudie said. "First Mate Wood reported to us that the siren and bells sounded very soon after the fire started."

He said all fire-fighting and life-saving equipment had been inspected and "found in good condition" by U.S. coastguard officials at Duluth, Minn., just before post-season cruises started.

Noronic Survivors Urged To Report

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — A further appeal to survivors of the Noronic ship fire to report their safety was made Monday night by police and Red Cross officials.

It is believed that many survivors, both Americans and Canadians, have returned to their home without reporting themselves safe.

Persons still unreported were urged Monday night to get in touch with the American Red Cross or to register directly with the Canadian Red Cross, 95 Wellesley Street, Toronto.

Business Man Dies In Emergency Landing

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 20 (AP)—A Toronto business man died Monday minutes after the plane he was riding made an emergency landing here to care for him.

The victim was George R. Ego, 58, chief engineer of Massey-Harris Company Ltd. Dr. Paul W. Bloxom, Kent County coroner, attributed his death to "coronary thrombosis."

Ego and five other officials of the firm were en route to Delavan, Wis., on a business trip when Ego was stricken. James S. Duncan, firm president, ordered the plane to the ground but Ego died quickly.

After making arrangements for the return of Ego's body to his home in Brantford, the group continued toward its destination.

New Naval Division

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP)—Canada is establishing a new naval division at St. John's, Newfoundland, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton announced Monday night. The division will be commissioned Sept. 20 as HMCS "Cabot" in honor of John Cabot, mariner and explorer, who landed on the island during his voyage of discovery in 1497.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

From the Ontario Church Basketball Association comes a letter announcing a general meeting in the St. Catharines YMCA at two p.m. Sept. 25, which is next Sunday aft. Predicting a big cage season in the province, Prexy M. J. Hart invites anyone interested from here to attend the session. One subject to be discussed will be the forming of an over-all executive (not chaps wearing overalls, y'understand) to head the sport in Ontario, made up of members of the LOBA, the OABA and the OCBA. This platter of alphabet soup will be readily digested by basketball officials. And they'll discuss the Secondary Schools cage setup as well.

* * * * * *

Other items on the hoop meeting agenda are (a) a year book in which each centre has a section, (b) amendments to the OABA constitution, (c) zone system playoffs, and (d) uniform refereeing throughout Ontario. As September shows signs of blending into October's autumnal colors, the cage game will be getting more and more attention. Won't be long [illegible] basketball activity of an organizational [illegible] Collegiate and PCVS loops. The Collegiate did right well for itself last season in COSSA and OABA play, as well as in Canadian playdowns. Yeah, another winter sport is not afar off.

Cracking That Whip

Balmy Beaches of the ORFU senior "A" setup will play the Panthers here tomorrow night at 8.15 in Morrow Park. Last-minute arrangements were concluded yesterday afternoon, and the Beaches —with Don Lech in the lineup—will be on deck for the Panthers since they dropped their opener before a crowd of about 4,000 fans here last Friday night, and they're really ripping in there now in preparation for their game at the Ex. this Friday eve with Oshawa's Red Raiders. They've just about got to take that one as three losses in their short schedule would be a fatal sort of thing, huh? Meantime, this tilt tomorrow should be real interesting for football fans.

We sat down with officials of the City Softball League last eve in the "Y" as they voted for the most valuable player, to win the Peller Trophy for 1949. The vote came up for Bob Greenlaw, Uniteds' classy twirler, a trifle ahead of Howie Dalton of Cosmos—last year's winner and the runner-up in 1947. Reg Leether of Knights, George Hunter of Outlaws and Homer Pagett of Jewellers were the other choices. Each club votes for the player felt most valuable and then the officials of the loop vote on the names submitted. They made a good choice in Greenlaw, who won a flock of games the past season for Uniteds. The trophy will be presented probably Oct. 9 at a "do" the officials are arranging.

Petes' Puckists Set?

Prexy Ed Riley of the Peterborough Hockey Club has called the annual open meeting for this Thursday night at 7.30 in the YMCA. It will be to decide on whether the club will enter the OHA again and, if so, to elect officers, appoint the coach and manager, and deal with general business. All players and prospective ones—including newcomers to town of intermediate "A" or senior "B" calibre—are invited. We hear Red Creighton may do the managing this season and someone else do the coaching. 'Tis also rumored that the Petes will be back for sure as they have a much stronger squad than last season. If so, we're glad to hear they'll be back. Two strong local teams in the group would be fine for the fans.

Men's City Five-Pin Bowling League opens its 30-week schedule this Thursday at nine p.m. in Duffus'. Last year's officers, President Jack Wade, Vice-prexy Fred Martin, and Sec.-Treas. Frank Wood, are back heading the 16 teams. Shockey's, last season's winners—Bud Goodson, Gene Reynolds, Phil Pryde, Bill Harris and Doug Abhaham—are standing pat. Fred Martin with Eric, Jack, Tom and Bill Martin, go under the new name of Tem. The Riley squad of '48 rolls under the McGillis banner, while Dunn's Tailors are captained by Stan Murduff, as Tony Vitarelli has a Campbell & Best entry. Fashion-Craft, Charlotte Cr. Jewellers, Sunocos, Esquire, De Daval and Clapper's are back with some new faces. Jim Herron's Cavanagh crew has Jack Playford, Ray Clifford, Bert McCarrell and Turk Walton. Bill Stanbury's team is now Babe's Place, George Gimblett and Walt Firth will have teams, and Tom Curvin has the Old Timers.

Dutchmen Use Guelph Arena For Practices

KITCHENER, Sept. 20 (CP) — Because the Waterloo Arena is undergoing an expansion job costing $35,000, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen of the Senior OHA will start hockey practices in Guelph Arena tonight. Dutchmen hope to get on their home ice by Sept. 27.

President Walter Weber said Monday night the club had been assured the alterations in Waterloo would be completed in time for the league opening Oct. 12.

Dutchmen have managed to keep together most of the players of last year's finalists, with a few notable exceptions. They are hopeful that a release from professional [illegible] give them Pat Boehmer, former St. Michael's and Pittsburgh goalie, for the net position.

Also trying out will be Bob Bindernagel, Kitchener goalie who played with Stratford for the last two years. He came back to the Dutchmen when they purchased rights to all Stratford players last spring.

Marcel Pelletier, K-W goalie last year, has gone to play in England.

On the defence Dutchmen are counting on Jack Shewchuck, Harvey Jacklin, Dick Behling, all of last year's team and Bill Walsh and Hans Messmer of Stratford.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler testified Monday at New York that the Mexican League "jumpers" of 1946 were "fellows who joined a group that said they were going to destroy" American baseball.

"It became a fight between Mexican baseball and American baseball," he said in a deposition taken preparatory to trial of Danny Gardella's $300,000 suit against organized baseball.

"Yet I never tried to hammer people, I tried to save them," said Chandler.

He was the only witness in the Federal court proceedings before a notary. Gardella, a former New York Giant who jumped to Mexico without signing a 1946 contract, is one of the few rebels who have not returned to the baseball fold. He played this season in the Quebec Provincial League.

Ottawa Rough Riders probably will be without the services of two of their star halfbacks when they invade Hamilton next Saturday for a Big Four football engagement with Frank Gnup's Wildcats, club officials said at Ottawa Monday night.

The club physician prevented Howie Turner from taking part in a practice scrimmage Monday night and said the backfield ace will have to give his back injury a week or two of rest. Also on the injured list is Ray Skerrett, fast-stepping Negro half, who aggravated an old ankle injury in the game against Wildcats at Ottawa last Saturday. He too may miss the Hamilton game.

About 40 candidates for berths on the 1949-50 Black Hawks, Galt entry in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, reported at Galt today. Eight Hawk regulars—Clark Sommerville Toronto goalie; Bronco Horvath, Port Colborne; Jack Lumley, Owen Sound; George Ford, Ken Green, Joe Kilby and Jack MacArthur, all of Toronto and Jack Price, Goderich — are back with the team.

Coach Alfie Moore said that Tiny Thompson and Johnny Gottselig, Chicago Black Hawks scouts will arrive here Monday with six boys from Chicago's North Bay camp and all told, he expects about 75 to be out bidding for places on the team.

The $25,000 President's Cup regatta trophy will be awarded to Bill Cantrell of Louisville, Ky., and H. E. Dodge of Detroit, although bad weather curtailed the competition.

Doug Hepburn, 22-year-old Vancouver weightlifter, set a British Empire record and a Canadian record Sunday in the heavyweight division of the Empire Games zone trials at Vancouver. Hepburn set a mark of 299¼ pounds, easily passing the old Empire mark of 291.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

At 7 o'clock this evening we begin the semi-finals in the club championship playoffs. The draw: R. Hopkins vs. F. Dearborn; R. Knox vs. W. Perks. At 9 o'clock the finals will be played.

In the group playoffs last night F. Dearborn won from R. Hutchinson 22-8 and W Perks defeated J. Adams 17-15.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the ladies are holding their annual open trebles tournament. It is likely one game will be played before the noon hour and two games played during the afternoon.

From what we hear, the masquerade tournament for next Saturday night is going over big. We were talking to two high ranking bowlers Monday evening, and they said that they were importing their costumes.

There will be all kinds of prizes, refreshments, fun galore. All you need is to be in costume.

Zastre KO's Jack Herman

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — They call him Eddie Dis-Zastre and with reason.

Slim, 175-pound Eddie Zastre of Winnipeg gave away a tremendous 29-pound weight advantage to solidly-built Jack Herman, 204, of Montreal here Monday night and went on to register a knockout in the third round of the final of the Jack Dempsey-Frank Tunney heavyweight elimination boxing tournament. All bouts were three rounds.

The 24-year-old Zastre, who failed in his bid for a berth on Canada's last Olympic boxing team, punched his way through four bouts and 10 rounds to take first prize of $500 in the tournament sponsored by the former world's heavyweight champion and the Toronto fight promoter. Herman collected $250 for his role as a finalist.

Close to 10,000 fans gave the smaller-built Winnipegger their whole-hearted support in his David and Goliath performance. Zastre ended the bout with two well-timed rights at the 2:45 mark of the third and final round.

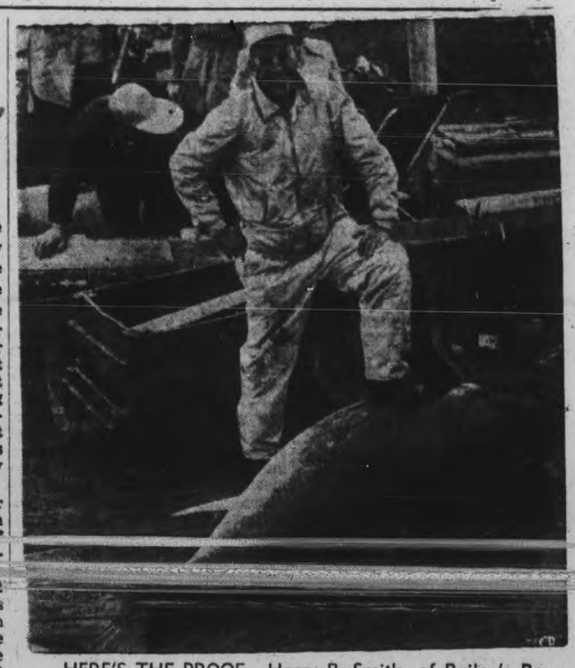
Batting—Ed Sanicki, rookie outfielder of Philadelphia Phillies, hit a home run with one on base and accounted for three runs in the Phillies' 4-3 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Pitching—Rex Barney, Brooklyn Dodgers, pitched a one-hitter in shutting out Chicago Cubs 4-0.



Bob Greenlaw Selected For Peller Cup

Bob Greenlaw was voted the most valuable player in the City Softball League at an executive meeting held last evening in the YMCA. This ace pitcher for the Uniteds won on a close vote over Howie Dalton, playing manager of Cosmos, and the holder last year of the Peller Trophy as most valuable league player. Reg Leether of Knights, George Hunter of Outlaws and Homer Pagett of Jewellers were the others whose names were submitted by their clubs.

It was decided to have a dinner for league officials, at their own [illegible] Oct. 9 set, with wives of the officials of the Peller Trophy will be made at this time. There was some informal discussion on league business and possible rule changes for next season. The financial business of the circuit had been settled a few weeks ago at an executive meeting.

Dodgers Blank Cubs 4-0 As Cards Bow To Phillies

By WILL GRIMSLEY,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Brooklyn's Ralph Branca and Rex Barney have hit their old stride again and the Dodgers' pitching staff appears at peak strength for the stretch run in the tight National League pennant race.

This is discomforting news for St. Louis Cardinals, who saw their lead chopped to 1½ games Monday night and who have a three-game series with the pursuing Dodgers coming up tomorrow.

Branca and Barney fashioned notable conquests the last couple of days over Chicago Cubs.

Barney turned in one of the best pitched games of the season Monday in shutting out the Cubs on one hit, 4-0. He faced only 28 [illegible] eight defeats but a vital one for the Dodgers.

Cards Downed

A few hours later the Cardinals ran afoul of Philadelphia rookies and lost to the Phillies 4-3.

This adds new pressure to the Dodger-Cardinals series opening with a day-night doubleheader in St. Louis tomorrow.

Shotton announced big Don Newcombe will pitch the first one, he said, followed by Preacher Rowe and Branca or Barney as starters in the other two.

Branca, who pitched only 20 innings since Aug. 1, showed top form, in setting down the Cubs Sunday 7-1.

In the American League the New York Yankees increased their lead to three full games over the idle Boston Red Sox by trimming Cleveland, 6-0.

Lefty Ed Lopat pitched a five-hitter in shutting out the Indians recording his 15th victory of the season. Bob Feller was Cleveland's losing hurler.

Jolt St. Louis

Rookies Jocko Thompson and Ed Sanicki, both recently called up from Toronto, were the Phillies who jolted the Cardinals. Thompson, a 27-year-old left-hander, held the Cards scoreless for six innings and went all the way while giving up 11 safeties. Sanicki, a 22-year-old outfielder batted in three runs for the Phils, two of them on a homer.

In the other National League games, the New York Giants won a 10-inning affair from Pittsburgh 6-4, and Boston Braves whipped Cincinnati 6-2.

Ralph Kiner hit his 50th home run of the season for the Pirates to become the first player in the National League to hit that mark twice. Kiner poled 51 in 1947.

The only other game in the American League saw the Philadelphia Athletics push over three runs in the eighth to subdue St. Louis Browns 7-4. Toronto-born Dick Fowler won his 14th game of the season.

Bisons Eliminate Jersey City In Semi-Final

By The Associated Press.

Buffalo Bisons are in the finals of the International League playoffs, but the pennant winners must wait to see whom they face next in their bid for a sweep of the year's honors.

The Bisons eliminated Jersey City's fourth-place Giants Monday night 10-1, taking four of the five games in the series. The other semi-final between Montreal and Rochester was postponed for the second straight night because of rain.

Montreal, having taken the first three games of the best-of-seven set, now needs only one more victory to clinch. If weather permits, they get the chance tonight at Montreal.

Saul Rogovin was the hero of Buffalo's quick conquest of Jersey City. He won two of the four games, taking the clincher last night on a well-executed five-hitter.

The Bisons, meanwhile, blasted Ford Smith from the box in the sixth inning with a five-run outburst and were little less gentle with Smith's successors—Sam Webb, Andy Tomasic and Vinny Dilorenzo.

Rogovin helped his own cause by clearing loaded bases with a double in the sixth. Gene Markland poled a two-run homer in the eighth.

Oshawa, PCVS Senior Groups

Opposition for the COSSA champions, PCVS senior footballers, in the Lakeshore league is scarce this year. Oshawa Collegiate and Vocational School's senior team is the only challenger to the Petes' trophy.

Belleville Collegiate and Albert College of Belleville have refused to enter. The Belleville teams will operate in the Bay of Quinte League.

Bev. Goulding, coach of the senior PCVS squad, said that he hopes to have Oshawa here Oct. 7 to form a double-header under the lights at the Exhibition grounds. The juniors will be playing hosts to Lindsay that night. The PCI's will return to Oshawa on October 29. If a third game is necessary to decide the winner, it will be played November 5.

If Oshawa agrees to the dates Mr. Goulding has suggested, Trinity College School of Port Hope will be playing an exhibition game against the seniors October 15. Another Toronto game will fill the November 5 date if a third game with Oshawa is not necessary.

The PCVS seniors have been invited to attend the Ontario Federation of School Athletics Association Tournament over the weekend of October 21-22. Other teams in the tournament will be either Sault Ste. Marie or Sudbury; an Ottawa team; two Toronto teams, one from the city league and one from the district; Assumption College High School of Windsor; a Hamilton team and possibly a team from the Little Big Four.

Eitner OCVI or PCVS will meet the winners of the Bay of Quinte group on November 12 in the COSSA semi-finals. On November 19 the COSSA finals will be held in Peterborough.

PLAN CIVIC RECEPTION

A civic welcome is planned at Owen Sound for the British Columbia all-stars who arrive today for their Canadian junior lacrosse final series with the Ontario all-stars. The best-of-five final for the Minto Cup will start Thursday night. The west coast club defeated the Manitoba all-stars in two straight games for the chance at the Ontario club.

Tigers Trounce Brampton 9-5 For Second Time

BRAMPTON, Sept. 20 (CP) — Hamilton Tigers trounced Brampton Excelsiors 9-5 Monday night for their second consecutive victory in the Ontario Lacrosse Association best-of-five senior finals. The third game will be played in Hamilton tonight.

The winner of the series is scheduled to play in the opening game of the Mann Cup Canadian final series in Vancouver Sept. 26.

If a fourth game is necessary in the Hamilton-Brampton series, it will be played in Brampton Thursday. A fifth game, if necessary, will be played Friday night in Mimico.

Brampton took a 1-0 lead over Hamilton, last year's Mann Cup winners, in the first period. But after that, Brampton lost its advantage. Excelsiors halfway through the final quarter pulled to within one game of the visitors but never headed the Tigers.

McDonald and Love scored twice for Hamilton, with McKenzie, Dorney, Isaacs, Gair and Davidson adding singles. Hilson tallied twice for Brampton and H. Madgett, Crawford and Steele each scored once.

Hornet Goalie Loses An Eye

WELLAND, Sept. 20 (CP) — Goalkeeper Baz Bastien of Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League, Monday night had his right eye removed shortly after he was injured during the first practice of the pre-season training here.

The 29-year-old Maple Leaf farm club netminder was operated on in hospital here. Dr. Harold Morea, eye specialist from Toronto and Doctors T. E. Briant and M. A. Renaud, both of Welland performed the operation.

Bastien, voted the American League's all-star goalie for the last two seasons, suffered the injury a few minutes after the ice session started.

He was hit by a puck on a long screened shot from the blueline. The puck was shot by Don Clark, formerly of St. Louis and Springfield who was working out with the Hornets while seeking a berth with Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association senior loop.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

One of baseball's greatest right-handed hitters, Jimmy Foxx, announced his retirement four years ago today after 19 years in the major leagues. Foxx, who played for Philadelphia Athletics, Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies, twice led the American League in hitting and in 1931 set a right-handed batter's record of 58 home runs, two short of Babe Ruth's 60 in 1927.

PCVS Nominees Line Up For Annual Election

PCVS election parties, Spic and Span, started to work on Monday. Candidates for Student Council presidency presented their platforms.

Sam Murphy, last year's treasurer of the Boys Athletic Association, and this year the Spic party's candidate for president, promised the students everything from a radio in the school library to hear the World Series baseball games to a fireman's pole from the third to the first floor for a quick escape from school at noon and 4 p.m.

Harold Graftstein, presidency [illegible] that if the Spans were elected they would equip the students with special gadgets which would squirt ink into the teachers' glasses when they were inspecting the homework. If the teacher did not have glasses another gadget would provide a smoke screen to allow the students to finish their homework. He also promised to instal a trouble machine in a soundproof room where the students could tell the machine their troubles in private. The answer would immediately be printed on ticket tape.

Suggest School Fund

Both candidates had other amusing election "promises" but both were agreed on the major point. They suggested that the school fund again be used this year to help school organizations in need of financial backing. Candidate Murphy suggested the buying of uniforms for the concert band as well as the backing of a field day. Candidate Graftstein suggested financial aid to organizations in England and on the Continent.

Other members of the parties are: Spic Party—Betty Merrett, for vice-president; Peter Turner, for secretary; Helen Dinsdale, for treasurer. Span Party—"Larry" Langley, for vice - president; Richard Shram for secretary; Irene Nichols for treasurer.

The vice-presidents will speak Wednesday; the secretaries on Thursday, and the treasurers next Monday. Following the treasurer's speeches the presidency candidates will complete their election campaigns with short addresses.

During that afternoon the students from Grade 10 and up will file to the school library where they will vote. The four defeated candidates will act as heads of standings committees in the school such as the Social Functions and the At Home committees.

COOKING WITH GAS—When John Gregory of Edmonton's suburban Beverly had his water well deepened to 330 feet, the drill pipe gave natural gas instead of water. Here Gregory whips up ham and eggs over the gas flames while his wife and child look on. Gregory will investigate the possibility of using the gas to heat his home.

1,500 Attend Mass

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — Nearly 1,500 persons attended solemn high mass Monday for the victims of the Noronic disaster at St. Michael's Cathedral. James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, said all of Toronto's Roman Catholics offered their profound sympathy to the relatives of victims.

Canadian Army No Longer Frowns On Soldiers Getting Married

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—The Canadian Army no longer frowns on its soldiers getting married. Before the war, permanent force officers and men had to get permission to get "hitched." They had to have a certain amount of service and the married strength of Canada's 3,000 soldiers was strictly limited to a given percentage of the overall strength.

In permanent army camps, officers and soldiers were provided with apartment building type of married quarters or permitted to live outside of barracks wherever they could find to accommodate their families.

Today 58 per cent of the army's 17,000 other ranks are married and about 84 per cent of the 2,000 [illegible] gives a figure of approximately 80 per cent of the 19,522 active force personnel who are married.

More Attractive

At Petawawa Military Camp, 110 miles north of Ottawa, the army has tried to make soldiering a little more attractive for married personnel by providing as many as possible with a modern house with all up-to-date facilities. These include free coal, water and electric light included in the rental which varies according to rank, often as low as $40 a month.

More than 75 of a block of 220 new houses there are already occupied and the remainder will be ready about Nov. 1. Work has begun on a further 250 houses for married soldiers at Petawawa and these new homes should be completed within 13 to 15 months, with the first group ready for occupancy some time in January. Eight different designs will be used in constructing the new group of soldiers' homes at Petawawa. Two of these designs are bungalows with external variations; three are storey-and-a-half homes, similar to the type erected in the first group. The remainder are semi-detached houses, similar to a style of married quarters at Camp Borden.

Houses Vary

The houses vary from two bedrooms through to four, are well equipped with cupboards, electric ranges and refrigerators; hot water suplied by thermostatically controlled electric hot water heaters. The new homes are being built on lots ranging in size from 50 by 110 feet for a single house to 90 by 110 for the semi-detached dwellings.

Construction of concrete sidewalks, and provision of street lights and hard surface roads will tie in with landscaping of the housing area. Similar houses built by the same contractor may be seen in Manor Park near the RCMP Barracks, east of Rockcliffe Park, Ottawa.

Two famous regiments, the Royal Canadian Dragoons and The Royal Canadian Regiment, are stationed at Petawawa Military Camp, along with RCOC and RCEME and RCASC detachments required to maintain these units. Each outfit has its share of married personnel who share in camp life.

The camp also has its own store known as the "PMCA Groceteria." The Petawawa Military Camp Association groceteria opened just over a year ago in a building which once housed the Bank of Montreal during wartime camp days. Not the least of the camp's community achievements, the store is well stocked, well equipped and staffed with courteous clerks. Prices in cases compare favorably with those many many miles away.

Camp School

More than 150 children trooped off to the camp school on Tuesday, September 6. A school bus service is necessary at present because so many children live in points scattered all over the rambling camp. The teaching staff comprises six teachers with B. A. Boy as principal.

Conduct Services

Services are conducted by chaplains for both Protestant and Roman Catholic families with Sunday School, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies being looked after by volunteers from among the parents. Sports activities loom large the year round and there are excellent swimming and fishing facilities.

One important medium that keeps everyone in camp informed on what is going on in camp is The Petawawa Camp Post, a weekly eight-page newspaper. News of exercises and military activities at Petawawa are well written for page one, while social, church, mess and sports items are carried on other pages.

The Petawawa Camp Post is issued under authority of Lt.-Col. G. J. Wattsford, senior officer at [illegible] Tuesday by [illegible] Ltd. at Pembroke. Staff on this excellently produced newspaper are Capt. C. H. A. Spencer, editor-in-chief; OC G. F. Coles, editor; Cpl. C. R. Carpenter, sports editor; Mrs. A. H. Lewis, social editor; with their respective assistants. Circulation manager is WO 2 L. G. James; advertising manager is WO 2 Thomas Fettes, and the business manager is Capt. O. B. Sheldick.

FACES DRUG CHARGES—Rev. Arthur Taillefer, 38-year-old Roman Catholic priest, enters a Montreal police station following his arrest Thursday on charges of illegal sale of narcotics. Four others were held following discovery of a cache of heroin valued at $80,000 in Montreal's Windsor Station.

Roseneath News

The Misses Adeline Mouncey, Mavis Thackeray and Betty McMillan, Cobourg, spent the weekend at their respective homes.

Mrs. George Mouncey, Mrs. Frank Down and Miss Audrey Down attended anniversary services at Bethesda (Harwood) Church on Sunday.

Mrs. Joan Grigg entered Queen's University, Kingston, on Monday as a first year student.

Miss Helen Arnold spent the weekend with her parents at Petherick Corners.

Miss Audrey Down, a student of Peterborough Normal School, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Down.

A presentation and dance was held in the L.O.L. hall on Friday for Mr. and Mrs. Don Kemp, Burlington (nee Jean Braithwaite). Music was supplied by dancing by Potters' Orchestra, Warkworth.

Anniversary services will be held at St. James' Anglican Church, Roseneath, next Sunday, with Canon C. R. Spencer in charge of the service at 9 a.m.

The Rev. Bedford-Jones, of Cobourg, will be the guest speaker at the service at 7.30 p.m. Both services will be Daylight Saving time.

Mrs. Willis Stuart, Tyrone, is a guest at the home of her son, Mr. James L. Timlin.

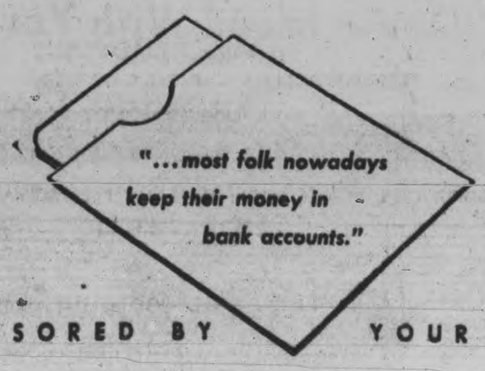
KELLOGG'S ASTHMA RELIEF FOR ASTHMA & HAY FEVER



...well practically unanimous

YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks"... who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.

But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts. In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.

The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how.

Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.

Work Stoppage For 130 At CGE Plant

About 130 workers in the machine shop and assembly sections of the CGE Refrigerator Unit Department downed tools Monday morning for two hours.

The workers in the two sections refused to operate their machines at about 10 a.m. and stood about in the aisles while their stewards negotiated with company officials until noon. Then about 85 of them went to the union office on George St. and filed grievances.

Phil Knibbs, UE representative, told the Examiner there were two underlying issues causing the work stoppage: "One—the workers are disturbed over long-service employees being laid off from the plant while at the same time new workers are coming in to the department, and two—attempts of the company to worsen conditions by speeding up operations and cutting established piece-work rates."

(The Refrigerator Department is being moved to Montreal and recently a company spokesman said that 185 employees of that department would be either laid off or transferred to other jobs by the beginning of October.)

60 Said Laid Off

It is understood that already 60 have been laid off. Slightly more than 200 are still in the department of which the majority are in the two sections affected in Monday's action.

According to the union representative the dissatisfaction of the machine shop and assembly workers came to a head when the company refused to permit Alex Seppala, Chief Steward of the Peterborough Works, to confer with the employees.

The calling of the Chief Steward would be against company policy, Mr. Knibbs quoted them as saying.

Another meeting of the employees from the two sections was held Monday night at the union hall, but any decision reached there have not been made public.

METEORITE EXPLODES

Zooming through the sky in a southerly direction Tuesday at 10 a.m., an object suddenly exploded like a large sky rocket. It was first seen by bus driver William Holland, 633 Beverley St., just as he was leaving his house for the midday runs. He first thought the object was a jet airplane until it exploded.

INTERNATIONAL AMITY is more than a catch phrase with Rotary International. Fred Roy, first president of the Peterborough Club, is shown handing District Governor John W. Gooch of Toronto a cheque for $850. The money will be used to send graduate students to other countries to continue their studies. Rotary International since 1947 has awarded 111 Fellowships with grants totalling $250,000.

English Cars Cut In Price

As expected after the English pound devaluation, the price of English cars has tumbled

Car dealers who handle English cars have advertised cuts in prices. A car which sold for $2,095 last week can now be bought for $1,795. Similarly a car which was $1,650 is now $1,430. Farther down the scale a $1,595 car now will sell for $1,375.

These savings represent cuts of about 14 per cent of the former prices. The value in Canadian dollars of the English pound tumbled from $4.03 to $3.08¾, or roughly 25 per cent.

GIVEN TWO YEARS

William Nicolson, 24, of Peterborough, was sentenced Monday in Montreal to two years in penitentiary for car theft. Nicolson was arrested in Cote De Liesse district of Quebec last week after the car, stolen from Hart Motor Co., turned over in a ditch.

Rotary Contributes $850 For Foreign Scholarships

Peterborough's Rotary Club Monday noon handed John W. Gooch, district governor, a cheque for $850. This sum will be spent on the Rotary Foundation Fellowships which will enable outstanding graduate students to study abroad for one year.

The Fellowships are considered by the local Rotarians as a substantial contribution to international understanding.

District Governor Gooch of Toronto was paying the annual visit of his office to the Peterborough Club. Following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairman in the morning he addressed the Club at the weekly noon luncheon.

Theme of his address was that Rotary clubs in 81 countries are united in an endeavour to promote international understanding, good will and peace and that was the principal reason for establishing the student Fellowships.

During the next three years Rotary International will spend $750,000 principally to foster this feeling, he said.

Since 1947, when the plan of sending graduate students abroad was adopted, 111 Fellowships have been awarded to students in 27 countries, with grants totalling more than $250,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 330,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the District Governor stated.

He said there is a striking parallel between the program of Rotary and the United Nations Charter; and since the organization of the UN in 1945 Rotary clubs throughout the world have been active in the development of an informed public opinion on its objectives.

President Harley Keefer introduced the speaker and he was thanked by T. J. Carley, KC, a past president.

Heavy Payments Pass Council

Some of the 124 items listed for payment in the report of the finance committee, read by Ald. Hugh Waddell, at the council meeting Monday night, were:

Warren Bituminous Paving Co., $83,000 progress payment for street paving.

Canadian Ice Machine Co., $10,158; a Civic Arena account.

Davis-Thompson Co., $3,617.21, for public liability insurance. The company has been telling the council that the insurance bill is going to be higher.

Marani and Morris, $7,378.81; architects of new city hall.

National Sewer Pipe, $1,558.50; that bill explains itself.

Kerr, McElderry, Howell and Bradshaw, $8,094.89. This money was for the purchase of property acquired by the city for housing. One bill was for lots bought from Claude H. Rogers in Ashburnham and another from Montgomery Brothers.

Ronald Winter, Hamilton, $1,000. Mr. Winter is a retired engineer who worked for years with the Federal Department of Public Works. His association with the council began in days when plans for the customs-postal buildings, Charlotte St., were being drawn. Since his retirement the council sought his assistance as an adviser on the planning of the new city hall, and several other matters.

Cities Service Oil Co., $936.90; West Disinfecting Co., $13.39.

Dafoe Metallicrete Floor Co., $4,463.20. Another Civic Arena bill.

R. A. Blyth Co., $240.

City's Agreement With Firemen's Union To Be Reviewed By Council's Committee

Review of the city's agreement with its firemen may be undertaken and completed before the end of the year, according to the wish of the fire and light committee whose report was adopted by the council last night.

The pertinent clause is: "That the city clerk inform the Firemen's Union that this committee would like to see the present agreement reviewed before the end of 1949."

The verb in the report was "renewed," but Ald. Waddell said it comprehended agreement on wages, and the council had no authority to determine financial matters payable by the council of 1950.

Ald. Doug. Miller said the change of word was entirely acceptable. "When we finally settled the agreement last year with the firemen, the time of discussions extended into the new year, and there were some misunderstandings. We decided to try to get a settlement before the end of this year, if we could, and to start at the work a month or two before the end of the year. That was the feeling of the committee."

Ald. Miller said any contentious matters in sessions with the firemen were generally not wages but working conditions and concessions. "I think we could get things generally ironed out before the end of the year. We know the wage matter has to be left for the new council."

Ald. Waddell suggested that agreements should end at Feb. 1 instead of the end of the calendar year. "I think it would be more practical," he said.

Requests for lights on St. Luke's Ave., Chesterfield Ave. and Wilson St. was referred to the Utilities Commission for their recommendation of what lights were needed.

Fourth Victim Of Car Crash Oshawa Man

The fourth occupant of a car which was crushed by a Smith trailer-transport Sunday night on No. 2 Highway, a mile west of Bowmanville, died today in Bowmanville General Hospital.

He is Alexander Lawrence of Centre St., Oshawa, whose wife, together with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Martin of Leaside died in the wreck. The only survivor of the five occupants in the car crushed under the transport is the three-year-old granddaughter of the Martins, Donna Martin.

Leonard Fordham of Atlas Ave., Toronto, was the driver of the transport. He was taken to Oshawa Hospital with cuts about the forehead but was later released.

The accident is believed to [illegible] port pulling over to the side of the highway to avoid a car in its path. It hit the soft shoulder of the road and went out of control, zig-zagging down the highway, and finally it crashed into the oncoming car driven by Mr. Martin.

The transport was carrying 15 tons of freight at the time. All five in the car had spent the week-end at a Coe Hill summer cottage and were going home when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Lawrence leaves, among others, a brother, Charles Dunkley of Campbellford.

Hospital Cost $1,440,328

Mr. John Hornal, superintendent of the Civic Hospital reported total expenditure on the new hospital $1,440,328.78 at the end of August. The contracts comprise: main building; power house and laundry; east wing addition; nurses' residence. The amount previously reported was $1,360,181.23, showing $80,147.55 paid in August.

The largest items in the monthly accounting were to Eastwood Construction Co., $40,135.49 on the main building contract, and $15,270.70. Another contract payment was $11,418 to Robertson Construction & Engineering Co., building the nurses'-residence.

Payments to W. & W. R. L. Blackwell and Craig totalled $5,671.48, including $917.94, salary of the clerk of the works.

Move Tot Lot At Inverlea

The Parks Department started early last week to move the tot-lot at Inverlea Park from the southwest corner of the park to the north-west corner.

During May and June the totlot was the cause of a battle between the City Council and the Recreation Commission. A motorist lit the fuse which set this minor bomb off when he wrote to the City Council telling them about a near accident when a child dashed out of the park into Parkhill Road.

The Recreation Commission wished the totlot to be left in its original position and passed a written report on to the Council explaining why the totlot was placed there. The report included minor changes in the totlot.

The City Council finally decided that a committee of three should be sent up to the park to select a new site for the totlot. The new site where work is beginning this week is at the north-west end of the park, just at the foot of Inverlea St. The Kinsmen Club placed the totlot in its original position.

PUT IN SEWER

A sewer will be put in from Lock St. to the cattle barns, it was decided Monday night at a meeting of the Peterborough Exhibition Board. Another improvement in the barns will be the installation of a couple of electric plugs at each end so stock can be clipped.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

TO JOIN VON STAFF

The nursing staff of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Peterborough will be increased to five when Miss Enid Apps, who recently graduated from Western Hospital, Toronto, joins the Order October 1.

FALSE ALARM

Firemen made a run to the Peterborough Co-Op on George St. shortly after 11 p.m. Monday but there was no fire. A defective sprinkle had set off the automatic alarm.

NO FIRE LOSS

Fire Chief George Smith reported 42 fire alarms in August. The damage score was: buildings nil; contents nil. He also mentioned that Fireman Frank K. McColl resigned during the month.

FAIR CLEARS $2,000

G. A. Gillespie, manager of the [illegible] members Monday night that a profit of approximately $2,000 had been made at the recent agricultural exhibition. Exact figure was not yet known, he said, and the books still had to be audited.

DIES IN TORONTO

William Harry Lloyd, 60, First World War veteran, died Monday at Sunnybrook Military Hospital, Toronto. He was born at Peterborough, and worked for the Canadian General Electric Company here. Surviving is his widow.

REPAIR HOUSE

The Peterborough Exhibition Board decided Monday night that the caretaker's house on the grounds (west of the grand stand) was badly in need of repairs. New roofing and siding will be put on and the carrying out of the work has been left in the hands of G. A. Gillespie, manager.

ATTEND NATIONAL CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gilmore will attend the Kinsmen Club's National Convention in Quebec City, September 21-24 as official delegates for the local Kinsmen and Kinettes. Other delegates will be Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Selkirk and Mr. Jack Lewis.

HORTICULTURAL MEETINGS

First meeting of the Horticultural Society this fall will be Monday, Sept. 26 at the YWCA at 8 p.m. John A. Weall, assistant professor in horticulture at the Ontario Agricultural College will be the speaker. His subject will be "perennials". The public is invited to bring any of their perennial border problems to this meeting.

FINALLY GET ONE

A 16-pound muskie was pulled from the waters of the Otonabee River by Inverlea bridge Monday night to climax the fishing season for Al Revoy and Cec Cockerill. These fishermen have been trolling this stretch of water since early in the season when they lost a 20-minute battle with a muskie just north of the bathing beach. The fish they caught Monday night measured 43 inches.

VISIT KAWARTHA AREA

Thirty members of the Quarter Century Club of the Turnball Elevator Company of Toronto will visit Peterborough and district Saturday. They were coming especially to see the Lift Lock but James Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce has planned a tour of the lakes. Thomas J Ryan, superintendent engineer of the Trent Waterways, has arranged a special operation for the members.

Daylight Saving Extended Indefinitely By Council Aldermen Are Divided 6 to 4

As a continuing facility for Peterborough's industries and mercantile business, city council Monday night decided to extend daylight saving time indefinitely. A terminating date was not mentioned in the motion by Ald. J. A. Gillespie, seconded by Ald. Grant Miller, which carried on a division of 6-4. "Leave it open," said Ald. Gillespie, suggesting that the council could set Peterborough's clocks back an hour at any time that might be considered desirable.

Mayor Swanston said he was introducing the subject in response to telephone calls at the week end advising him that it would be an advantage to industry and business if Peterborough followed the extension action of Toronto.

"We have industrial plants working with connections and communications with Toronto," [illegible] and I know that some of the [illegible] come from them. However, we have nothing in writing before us, and if no action is taken by the council, we automatically return to standard time next Sunday at 2 a.m. I don't know whether the council would prefer to make it known what they might intend to do, and we would probably get a sufficient number of replies to warrant extending daylight saving."

No Word From Utilities

Ald. Dick Raine: "What do the Utilities Commission think about it?"

Mayor Swanston: "We have had no word from them. Some of the people who called us were told to consult the Commission.'

Ald. Gillespie: "Have there been any objections to extending the time?"

Mayor Swanston: "No; nothing at any rate that could be called official."

Ald. A. B. Burrows: "Is there any way we would get an expression of the wishes of the people?"

Mayor Swanston: "We may have to call a special meeting of the council Wednesday night to pass a bylaw. If you decide to wait for information from the public you could change the daylight saving bylaw then."

Ald. Gillespie: "If we have had no objections up to now, I don't think there are likely to be any."

Advises Aganist Haste

Ald. Burrows commenting on the Gillespie motion, immediately preceding his remark, said there should not be a hasty motion on this question.

"I dont consider it a hasty motion," said Ald. Gillespie.

Ald. P. J. Anglesey said he was inclined to agree with Ald. Burrows. "There might be objections to extension if we had an opportunity of knowing them."

Ald. Doug Miller said the council's course would be clearer if the Utilities Commission was asked for their position.

"Let's make up our own minds," said Ald. Gillespie. "We didn't ask the Utilities Commission when we passed the daylight saving bylaw in the first place."

Ald. Hurrell Dodds: "I think we should consider the fact that our industries have many close connections with Toronto. There are matters of orders and transportation, and so on. No matter what we may feel personally about extending daylight saving, we should think of the business of the city.'

Ald. Grant Miller: "Peterborough can't afford to be out of step with Toronto in the important matter of time. It might affect a lot of business."

Ald. Herbert Young: "We could leave it open for awhile. We could make the change at any time."

Mayor Swanston finally called for decision. The ayes and nays were not called, but apparently from the show of hands, those supporting the motion were: Aldermen Waddell, Gillespie, Raine, Grant Miller, Dodds and Young; and those against: Aldermen Burrows, Anglesey, Sands and Doug Miller.

Port Hope Man 102 Years Old

PORT HOPE, Sept. 20.—William F. Walker is celebrating today at his home on Armour St., where he has resided for the past 73 years, his 102nd birthday.

Born September 20, 1847, in Cobourg and moving to Port Hope at an early age, Mr. Walker has seen more of the development and growth of the town than any living person. He is still greatly interested in the progress of the building, now current, and takes a great deal of pleasure in an occasional drive around Port Hope and the surrounding countryside.

This Port Hope centenarian spends a good deal of time in the garden, where he can be found nearly every day. Mr. Walker is father of Mrs. F. S. A. Morris, 694 Aylmer St., Peterborough.

Ask City To Reduce Sherbrooke St. Grade

North Monaghan council is asking the city to reduce the grade on Sherbrooke St. west, immediately beyond No. 28 highway. A member of the township council was fined for not stopping at that highway intersection. His explanation was that this short stretch of road is part of the slope of the Sherbrooke St. hill; that he had stopped there usually, but in wet weather his car slipped back from the highway.

This road condition is an inheritance from the township. It requires grading, a job which the city may some day overtake.

Gold Men's Day To Howl As Devaluation Introduced

By FORBES RHUDE

TORONTO, Sept. 20—(CP) — For gold men, this is their day to howl.

It is the day they have looked forward to for three years, since the July of 1946 when the Canadian dollar went to par and knocked $3.50 an ounce off the worth of their product.

Actually, it is not clear yet just how much there is to whoop about. But there was enough of it Monday to send the prices of Canadian gold shares to two-year highs.

This was in anticipation that the Canadian dollar would be devalued; and sure enough, Monday night, it was—sent back to where it was three years ago. The lost $3.50 is restored and the mines will get $38.50 an ounce instead of $35. This is because the gold is bought by the United States which pays for it in American currency, which again is worth 10 per cent. more than Canadian.

If any one is coldly analytical today he will get out pencil and paper and try to figure out how much the rise of recent weeks and Monday's sensational advance have already taken into consideration Monday night's devaluation news; indeed, whether or not it may have more than taken it into account.

May Halt Assistance

He will wonder whether the government may withdraw its present assistance scheme which pays some $10,000,000 to Canadian gold mines. He will consult statistics to see which mines benefit from this assistance and which ones will be helped more by devaluation.

There will even be canny characters who will do all this figuring and the action of the Stock Exchange in the next few weeks may give the best thought-out answer to the net benefits which are in store.

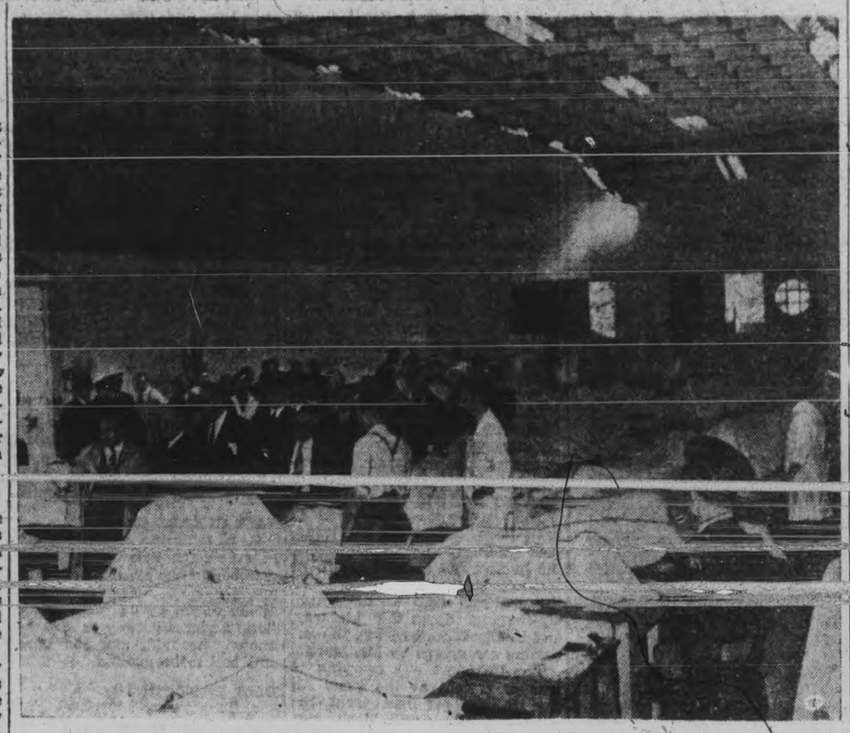
It will be difficult, however, to reach an answer until the government makes its statement on gold in a few days. If it says that the assistance program continues, along with the benefits of devaluation, that will be another sunny day.

There are some gold men who say the devaluation isn't worth a hoot unless the assistance program is continued.

Over-Enthusiastic

Whatever gold stocks do today, it is bound to be another hectic session in Toronto, biggest bold mart on the continent. Some traders in yesterday's wild session counted on a 15-per-cent devaluation, which would, of course, have been much more helpful than the 10 per cent. announced. These may have been over-enthusiastic in their yesterday buying.

But against them were others who were cautious, just in case the government didn't devalue after all.



On the whole, the gold market has advanced quite a piece if one considers devaluation alone.

There are, however, psychological factors, and perhaps the effects of the devaluation can't be assessed on immediate figures only.

The last three years were full of discouragements, relieved only in the last 12-month or so by the government assistance program and betterment in the labor supply.

Golds were in almost constant gloom, the price of their product fixed and the cost of everything they used going up. Just once in a while devaluation rumor would blow in and they would perk up for a day or two. But for the most part they sold at prices which seemed undervalued, although making some advance in recent months.

The actual devaluation may chirp them up a lot. Anyway, there is considerable optimistic comment from mine managers and diamond drilling men in Northern Ontario and Quebec; that Americans, with their dollar at a premium, will put money into exploration; that drilling will pick up the 20 per cent. it dropped in 1946; that new life will come into the north.

Western Feudists Bury Hatchet Now Both Are Liberal MP's

OTTAWA, Sept. 20. — Hard-fighting Agriculture Minister Gardiner and hard-fighting Carl Stewart from Yorkton, Sask., once spectacular political foes, sit in the House of Commons today, Liberals both.

But their positions in the House were familiar. They faced each other, because the overflow of Liberal benches means party backbenchers occupy seats usually reserved for the Opposition.

Politics makes strange bedfellows, and to Western eyes nothing will ever be stranger than Mr. Gardiner and Mr. Stewart backing the same party and policies.

In politically - conscious Saskatchewan, where roadbuilding always has been a controversial issue, the battles between Opposition Leader Gardiner and Highways Minister Stewart in the early '30s, were of the kind to send voters home babbling with excitement.

Mr. Stewart, an Independent, became a member of the 1929 Saskatchewan Government which ousted Premier Gardiner from office and under the leadership of Premier J. T. M. Anderson, a Conservative, held office until 1934 during trying years when Saskatchewan felt the full brunt of depression and crop failure.

Roads were needed and they gave relief work. The majority report of a highways inquiry gave the Anderson Government a clean bill of health, but a minority report condemned some practices, including the methods of letting contracts. The minority group thought friends of the Government had used their influence to obtain contracts without tenders being properly called.

The Gardiner-Stewart debates were filled with clenched fists waved in threat across the floor of the Legislature, with words that brought the troubled Speaker to his feet to call for order, with dark hints of wrongdoing and political pressure on the far Prairie.

Everyone enjoyed it, not least the chief actors.

Stewart went down to defeat with other members of the Anderson Government in a Liberal sweep in 1934, but he was back in the Legislature in 1938 again an Independent, and the goad of the Government then headed by the Liberal W. J. Patterson, who took office when Mr. Gardiner was named Federal Minister of Agriculture.

In 1949, the Saskatchewan provincial battlefield had clearly been divided between the Liberals and CCF, the latter having been elected in 1944 and returned again in 1948.

The indomitable Stewart was available for a nomination and the Liberals gladly took him in Yorkton, doubtless with the blessing of the senior Western Cabinet minister, Mr. Gardiner. He was elected.

Punch, British Institution Appearing For 118 Years

By MICHAEL O'MARA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Punch is a British institution, as English as warm beer and —some unamused North Americans insist—about as much fun. But this magazine has been appearing for 118 years and still can raise a belly laugh among its regular readers every Wednesday morning.

Punch has two characteristics which in the main distinguish it from other "national" humor magazines such as the United States' New Yorker or France's Le Rire. It bars jokes about sex or alcohol. And sometimes it takes itself deadly serious.

The main showpiece every week still is the political cartoon. In the editorial office they call it "the cut" to distinguish it from "the socials," comic cartoons designed only for laughs.

The full-page political commentary isn't always free from sentimental flag-waving, but it's surprising how often Punch artists hit the topical nail on the head and how well much of their work stands up, years after publication, in the light of later history.

Outside "The Cut," however, everything is fair game and Punch thinks nothing is funnier than that which is typically English. Foibles, quirks and failings in British national characteristics are the main sources of Punch humor.

The manner in which this type of humor is purveyed is changing with the times. Two or three decades back, Punch cartoons nearly always sported long cutlines concerning conversation among such stock characters as "Outraged Citizen," "Nervous Clergyman," "Helpful Stranger" and "Fussy Old Lady."

Brief Cutlines

Nowadays they have the briefest of cutlines; sometimes there is no text at all, with the pictures telling the whole story. Much of this change has come about during the last 12 years under Cyril Kenneth Bird, now editor after a long sojourn in the art editor's chair.

Bird, himself a master of economic line-drawing, is best known to Canadians as "Fougasse," who drew the "Careless Talk Costs Lives" series of topical warnings during the Second World War.

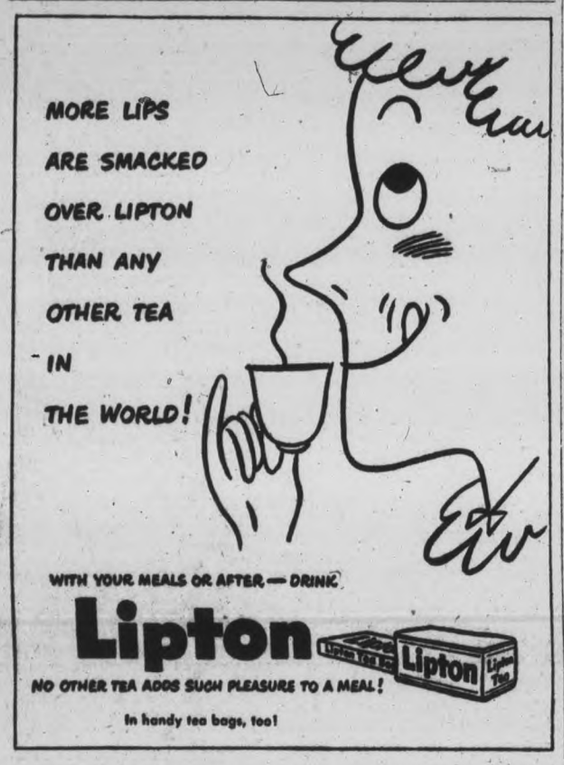
Since he took over the editorship six months ago, he has expanded Punch coverage. The magazine now pays more attention to sports, theatre, books and London at large than heretofore. There is also a bold, bright-red border around the weekly's traditional cover which always shows grotesque Mr. Punch with his dog Toby, a canine with a faraway look in his eyes.

But whatever you do to Mr. Punch, he doesn't change much: He's still suave, soft-spoken, smiling wryly at himself — and always a perfect gentleman.

Jailed One Month On Two Theft Charges

COBOURG, Sept. 20 (ENS). — Glen Spraggett, of Cobourg, who pleaded guilty to theft of sewer pipe from Dr. W. E. Wilkins and an electric fence from Fisher's Dairy, was sentenced to one month concurrent on each charge when he appeared in Police Court Monday. Magistrate R. B. Baxter took into consideration the fact that he was a married man with two children and was buying a home. He had a previous theft conviction five years ago.

Accept Resignation



Anglican Church authorities Sunday accepted the resignation of Rt. Rev. A. L. Fleming as Bishop of the Diocese of the Arctic. He headed the diocese—largest in the world—for 16 years and resigned because of ill-health. Often referred to as "the flying bishop", he plans to live at Goderich.

252 People Perished As Atlantic Rammed

PORT COLBORNE, Sept. 20—(CP).— The Noronic fire disaster has recalled to George H. Smith, local historian, the ill-fated sailing of the lake passenger steamer Atlantic which sank with the loss of 252 lives in Lake Erie 93 years ago.

The Atlantic operated between Buffalo and Chicago and was rammed by another steamer which kept on its way, leaving the crippled Atlantic with a gaping hole in its side, said Mr. Smith. The rush of pasesngers to one side of the ship caused her to capsize.

Expect Lower Dollar Prices In World After Devaluation

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(AP)—Lower dollar prices around the world are looked for today as an early major result of the weekend devaluation of foreign currencies.

Still more countries may have to follow the devaluation parade which began Sunday night with Britain's cut in the pound from $4.03 to $2.80, a slash amounting to a surprise 30½ per cent.

The devaluation means the dollar prices of gold produced in these countries could fall a maximum of 30½ per cent if the reduction is caused solely by devaluation. But prices probably will not fall that far. Some may come down only a few cents.

How long these lower prices may prevail is unpredictable.

American business men in their first reaction agreed prices will be lower on foreign goods priced in devalued currencies and sold in the [illegible]

No one knows yet, however, how far prices will go down on individual commodities or manufactured goods over the next few weeks or months.

Important Effect

An important secondary effect is the impact of devaluation on the prices of goods produced in the United States for sale abroad.

The announced purposes of British devaluation is to lower prices on British goods sold in the United States. Britain hopes to get more dollars through increased sales at cut rates. Other countries cutting their currencies in Britain's train hope for the same result.

Historically, lower prices have followed devaluation. The British devalued their pound in September, 1931, by cutting it loose from gold and letting it drift lower in foreign exchange markets.

Rubber immediately went down and continued its fall. Wool broke sharply but recovered a good portion of its loss. American cotton was hard hit initially but a year later had climbed back to an even higher price than before devaluation. American wheat shot up but fell back later.

[illegible] now? American business men are inclined to think it [illegible] because things are different today than they were 18 years ago.

We don't depend entirely on natural rubber today. Synthetic rubber is a major factor in determining the price of natural rubber through straight competition for the American market.

British woollens sold in the United States and American woollen goods made from foreign wool are expected to come down. One importer estimated the drop somewhere between 10 and 20 per cent.

Watch Step In This Professor's House—Here Comes Flying Squirrel

EDMONTON (CP)—When it comes to house pets those of Dr. William Rowan of Edmonton fall into an unusual category. They glide around inside the home of the University of Alberta's zoology professor and their favorite stunt is to glide into coat pockets.

The pets are six young flying squirrels that were adopted by the professor after their nest was uncovered recently during dismantling of an Edmonton bridge.

Weighing only 1½ ounces each when they were found, the flying squirrels now tip the scales at a hefty 3¼ ounces. Dr. Rowan has them on a rigid diet of condensed milk with feeding time set at every two hours. Like most other house pets, the squirrels also are dunked in soap baths. They don't like baths.

"Flying squirrels are common to Alberta," says Dr. Rowan. "But they are seldom seen because they sleep in hollow trees all day and come out at night to play and gather food. Alberta trappers consider them a nuisance because they fly into traps in an attempt to steal bait. Like their cousins, the black and grey squirrels, they are collectors of nuts.

A domesticated flying squirrel is intelligent and affectionate. Some time ago Dr. Rowan had one he called "Jerry." The pet was like a "one-man" dog, distinguishing Dr. Rowan in a crowd of persons and gliding to him. While indoors "Jerry" set up house in one of Dr. Rowan's coat pockets, being able to glide unerringly to his favorite spot in complete darkness.

Planned Fire Moves Then Forgot Rules

VINELAND STATION, Ont., Sept. 20 — (CP) — Barbara Robb, 22, of Vineland Station, clerk in the gift shop of the ill-fated SS Noronic, said Sunday that only a week ago members of the ship's crew had discussed what they would do in the event of a fire aboard the vessel.

The discussion was an informal one around the dinner table, she said. "We talked about what we would do first if there ever was a fire," she said. "Then it happened and I did not grab a thing."

Miss Robb escaped from the burning Noronic clad in a housecoat.

Margaret Preston Weds Elliott Creelman of B.C.

Trinity United Church was setting on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Margaret Isabel, daughter of Mr. Allen Johnston Preston and the late Mrs. Preston, to Mr. Elliott Arthur Creelman of New Westminster, B.C., son of Mrs. Creelman and the late Mr. Arthur Henry Creelman of Alberni, B.C.

The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon performed the ceremony. Mr. Harry Northrop was at the organ and Mrs. H. A. Mitchell was soloist.

The bride wore a graceful gown of "blue tint" tissue faille, designed on princess lines with long sleeves and full skirt extending in a slight train. A short veil of pale blue tulle was caught to her small cap, made of the material of her dress and trimmed with blue ostrich tips, and her flowers were a cascade of American Beauty roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Bridal attendants were her sister, Miss Doris Preston, and Mrs. Hugh Fallis. They wore effective gowns of "caprice" crepe, styled identically with wide neckline finished with a deep bertha which was studded with rhinestones around the scalloped edge, and the skirt fullness was gathered to the scalloped waistline. The same material fashioned their long mittens and small halo hats which were trimmed with pale pink ostrich plumes, and they were carrying cascades of pale pink carnations.

The groomsman was Mr. Douglas Allison of Toronto and the ushers were Mr. A. R. T. Hailey of Peterborough, and Mr. A. S. MacRae of Toronto.

Following a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ian F. McRae, Hunter St. W., the couple motored to Toronto and went by plane to Banff, Alta. The bride was wearing a suit of light blue twill with bead embroidery, matching hat with coq feather trim, light brown accessories and a jacket of brown squirrel.

Mr. and Mrs. Creelman will live at 1413 Seventh Ave., New Westminster, B.C.

Tea in Honour Saturday Bride

Mrs. I. F. McRae, Hunter St. W., gave a tea at her home recently, honoring Miss Margaret Preston, who was married Saturday to Mr. Elliott A. Creelman of New Westminster, B.C.

Those who poured tea were Mrs. David Chambers, Mrs. H. G. McKenzie, Miss Mabel Clarry and Miss Mary McRae.

Assisting were Mrs. Hugh Fallis, Mrs. J. M. King, Mrs. Ken Gibson, Mrs. R. M. Elliot, Mrs. Clark Muir, Mrs. H. A. Mitchell, Mrs. L. F. Dyer, Mrs. George Barns, Mrs. Haig Kelly, Mrs. W. M. Fitzgerald, Miss Catherine Millard, Miss Doris Preston, Miss Eva Fife, Miss Joyce Alexander and Miss Maralin Munro.

S. G. Southward Of Havelock Wed in Vernon, BC

HAVELOCK, Sept. 20 (ENS)—The First Baptist Church at Vernon, B.C., was the scene of a quiet wedding of interest here when Doris Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLean of Vernon, B.C. became the bride of Samuel Gordon Southward, R.C.A.F., Calgary, Alberta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Southward of Havelock.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a grey taffeta ensemble with green accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Miss Sheila McLean was bridesmaid for her sister wearing a pink taffeta ensemble, with white carnations. William Massingbird, R.C.A.F., of Toronto, who is stationed at Calgary, Alta., was groomsman. Ushers were Arnold McLean of Vernon, B.C., brother of the bride and Carl Marks, R.C.A.F., Ottawa.

A reception for 50 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will reside in Calgary, Alberta.

Among the guests were Randal Toms and Victor Newton of Havelock.

For five months prior to his marriage the groom was stationed in the Norman Wells district, North West Territory.

Lady Mayor Pleased With Her Job

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 20 (CP)—Mayor Nora Arnold of Prince Rupert, B.C., named Canada's Woman of the Year for 1948, is enthusiastic about her post as head of a city of 10,000 population.

Here to attend the annual meeting of British Columbia Union of Municipalities, of which she is the only woman executive member, the tall, motherly woman said in an interview that she had never encountered any prejudice against a woman mayor.

"I have never heard any kind of objection," she said. "People come to the mayor's office with every kind of problem from domestic troubles to the state of the city."

When she took office she cut her salary from $2,000 to $1,200 a year. She has familiarized herself with every facet of municipal life and has at her finger-tips the history of the financial ups and downs of Prince Rupert.

Incorporated in 1910, the city increased in population from 6,500 before the war to its present 10,000.

"There was no mayor or aldermen for nearly 10 years after the city went bankrupt in 1933," she said. She served for four years as alderman and entered municipal life to "try to help put Prince Rupert back on its civic feet."

A teacher and then a businesswoman after her husband died in 1936, she operated the real estate business which he established in addition to carrying on her mayoralty duties.

Getting along with an [illegible] council of eight men proved no problem to Her Worship.

She points to the fact that 800 men are building a big celanese plant seven miles out of Prince Rupert which wil provide the city with an all-year-round industry.

"We are happy to see it come, for the fishing industry is seasonal. Practically we've lived on fish. Mind you, none of us belittles it. It's the biggest halibut fishing port in the world.'

TOPS IN WOOL

Bradford, a large English industrial city, is the centre of Britain's wool-weaving industry.

HAPPY ABOUT IT ALL—Black and white check wool dress made in newest silhouette with jet button accent seemingly pleases Montreal modelovely "Bert" Duggan. Note small rounded collar with pointed lapels accented by scarf — her own idea. Topping it is small turned up brim hat in matching check with tiny black quill at side.

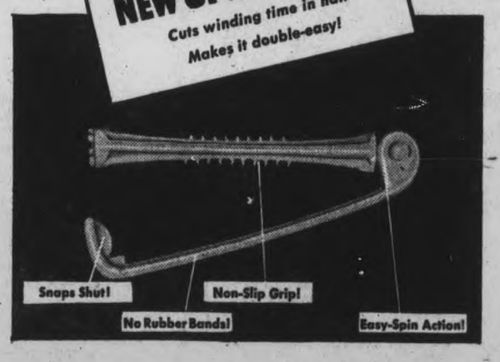
New Toni Home Permanent Kit



TWICE as EASY-TWICE as FAST

TWICE as EASY!

NEW SPIN CURLER

Cuts winding time in half

Makes it double-easy!

TWICE as FAST!

NEW FASTER PROCESS

Gives you the most natural-looking wave ever!

Which Twin has the Toni? (See below)

New Exclusive Toni SPIN Curler grips . . . spins . . . locks with a flick of the finger! That easy! It's the most exciting development since Toni was introduced. The new Toni SPIN Curlers are so marvelously simple . . . so amazingly fast everyone who has tried them finds they make winding twice as easy!

No rubber bands! New Toni SPIN Curler is all plastic, all-in-one! Nothing to come apart—nothing to tangle up when you start to wind. You've never seen anything like it before in any home permanent kit anywhere!

Easy Spin Action—built right in, rolls each curl up in one quick motion. Two fingers twirl the revolving end of the curler and up goes your hair in a smooth, perfect curl . . . faster than you ever dreamed possible.

Non-Slip Grip holds the tip ends of your hair secure and evenly spaced! They don't slip and slither away. The shortest ends, even wispy neckline strands, become easy to manage, begin to roll smoothly on new Toni SPIN Curlers!

Snaps shut! Click! It's finished! After your curl is wound just snap this all-plastic curler shut. A better curl than ever before because Toni SPIN Curler winds closer to the head. Winds more hair on each curler, too! Cuts winding time in half!

Today you can give yourself the most beautiful wave you've ever had—in less time! New Toni Photo Method Directions show how Toni waves many types of hair in as little as 30 minutes!

No other home permanent can wave hair faster yet leave it so soft and lustrous, so easy to set and style. For Toni Waving Lotion is the same gentle creme lotion that has given more than a million Canadian Women lovely, successful permanents. Try this remarkable new Toni Kit and see how quickly you give yourself the most natural-looking wave you've ever had!

• • •

Toni Creme Rinse is an exciting new beauty treatment that gives hair new gleaming beauty. Makes your hair easier to comb and set . . . keeps the scalp and hair sweet and fresh.

• • •

"Now we're both Toni Twins," says Katherine Ring. "When I saw how easy it was for Kathleene to give herself a Toni with the new SPIN Curlers, I decided on a Toni, too!"

SCARF SCOOP

SCARF-COLLARS and cuffs that reverse from a black velvet side to one of plaid woollen make two other bids besides reversibility for the approval of today's penny-wise woman. Scarves stay put without a stitch, thanks to a tuck-in collar design. Cuffs turn out from elastic bands. Both collar and cuffs can be reversed and interchanged to look like a whole drawerful of accessories. Typical switch is from the plaid woollen side (left) to the black velvet side, which makes collar and cuffs look like an entirely different set of accessories (upper right). The switch (lower right), to half-plaid half-velvet that comes from the trick of folding collar and cuffs is another proof of the versatility of these accessories.

DOROTHY DIX

Man Can Defy Convention Woman Must Be Careful

DEAR MISS DIX: Among my acquaintances is a couple whose history is that of the usual well-to-do American family. The husband is a fine man, devoted to his family, a good provider, fond of his wife. He would go every day from his business to his home where his wife had always arranged something pleasant to do for the evenings. That kept the man interested and amused. But all of that was changed when the oldest daughter got married and had a baby. Then the wife became nothing but a grandmother. She neglected her husband. Had no time for him. Never considered his taste or pleasure in anything. He couldn't even run the radio of an evening if the baby was around, for it would wake it up. But the consoler, of course, was hanging around A pretty girl in his office who was willing to exchange kisses or silk stockings.

Dorothy Dix

When grandma finds out about this she will blow up and wreck the home. But who is to blame?

A DISTRESSED FRIEND

ANSWER: Grandma, of course. I have said over and over again in this column that the wrecking of a home is always an inside job. It is the husband or the wife or both who put the TNT under the doorstep and leave it handy for a careless or a malicious outsider to explode.

Husband First

There is no woman in the world so stupid that she does not know that her husband wants to be first with her, that he likes for her to make the gesture of considering him before any one else. It makes him feel big and important for her to cater to him, yet thousands of women never even see their husbands again after their first baby is born.

And every woman knows that her husband wants to be amused and talked to and to have somebody to step out with him and be gay, but after the baby comes only too often the wife is too busy and too absorbed in the youngster to do it. And that is why so many married men get int affairs with the girls in their offices.

With many women motherhood is an obsession, but with men fatherhood is merely a pleasant incident A woman can do without her husband if she has children, but a man wants his wife as well as his children, and if women could only be wise enough to be more wife than they are mother we wouldn't hear so much of roving husbands.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am tired of hearing people say about young men: "Oh, don't worry, he is just sowing his wild oats," while they admonish girls to watch their steps. It seems to me that girls have a right to sow wild oats too—not to extremes, but just to the brink without going over—and I decided to try it, but my companion for the evening promptly misunderstood it. It calmed me down, but it has not changed my opinion. Must I give up my theory and sid around repulsing caresses and marry a man who has kissed every girl who would let him?

DISGUSTED MAIDEN

ANSWER: I am afraid you must, if you marry at all, for the unkissed man is one of those rare phenomena of nature of which we hear occasionally, but which most of us never see. For a few kisses, for a love affair, for the indulgence of the passion of the moment, a man often pays not only with disease that wrecks him in mind and body, but by making himself the prey of the blackmailer and of some predatory creature who fastens herself like an old woman of the sea on his shoulders and of whom he can never rid himself

As we sow we reap. That is one law that never fails for man or woman. But the woman who sows a wild oat crop invariably finds that her harvest is heavier than the man's, because added to all the tears and thistles in his, hers has all the disabilities that belong to her sex, and the violation of all the conventions which civilization has built up about womanhood.

Theoretically, a girl may have the same right to live a loose life as a boy has, but practically it degrades her more than it does him. He may defy convenetions and get away with it, and so I advise you to stick to the decencies which may cramp your style, but which will keep you safe.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife and I have been happily married for twenty-five years, yet recently in spite of this I am actually experiencing the delightful thrill of falling very much in love with her again. Can you account for this?

HUSBAND.

ANSWER: Many men at middle life have a recrudescence of youth and romance. That is what makes them have affairs with girls young enough to be their daughters and to think that they are too young for their wives. You are lucky that your romantic fancies have turned toward your wife instead of a bobby soxere.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You have accepted an invitation to a party, but are not feeling in a very sociable mood on the evening of the party.

WRONG WAY: Sit off by yourself in a corner, making no particular effort.

RIGHT WAY: Since you are a guest feel that it is your duty to do your part to make the party successful.

HOLDS NO RADIO BAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(AP)—Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind Monday blocked Federal Communications Commission from banning radio giveaway shows for the time being. He signed a temporary restraining order. It held up the ban on the jackpot programs until the FCC ban can be tested in court.

DAVIDSON—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, John Davidson, who was killed, one year ago today.
One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
Within our hearts he liveth still.
—Ever remembered by Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

DAVIDSON—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John Davidson, who was killed one year ago today, Sept. 20; also son and brother Stanley who was killed six years ago, July 27.
Many a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear,
Always a faithful memory
For him no longer near.
God gave us strength to bear it,
Courage to fight the blow,
But what it meant to lose him,
None will ever know.
—Remembered by wife and family.

EVANS—In loving memory of Llewellyn Evans, AB, RCN, who lost his life in the sinking of the St. Croix, September 20, 1942

Senator Quits Hospital Board

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 20 (CP) —Senator A. G. Hardy of Brockville Monday resigned as a member of the Brockville General Hospital Board because of what he termed "violent hostility" on the part of some board members against the hospital's medical staff.

Senator Hardy said in a letter of resignation sent to the board Monday that "discipline amongst the nurses has reached an impossible stage when they take, or refuse to take, orders from members of the medical staff, who after all are ultimately responsible for each particular case.

"There is and has been entirely too much interference by paid employees of the hospital with the medical staff in treatment of their patients."

The letter charged there was "violent hostility on the part of several members of the board against the medical staff in general and a considerable number in particular."

Achievement Awards Given To Kiwanians

HALIFAX, Sept. 20 (CP) — Awards to clubs for achievements during the year were made Monday as the 32nd annual district convention of Kiwanis International met. The district includes the Maritimes, Ontario and Quebec.

Clubs were classified on a membership basis for the presentations. Winners included Montreal, West Toronto, South Porcupine, Ont., Truro, and Oxford.

West Toronto Club won an award for the highest achievement report. Shields for other accomplishments were presented to East York, St. Catharines and Montreal.

Deckhand Crushed

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 (CP) — Patrick Reilly of suburban Rosemount, 17-year-old deckhand aboard the Sarnia Steamship Company vessel Ralph S. Misener, was crushed to death Monday when he fell between the ship and the wall of a pier in the Soulanges Canal near Cedars, 25 miles west of here. Police said he was carrying a mooring rope across a plank which broke under his weight.

Ex-Ambassador Slain In Hong Kong Home

HONG KONG, Sept. 20 (AP)— Gen. Yang Chieh, 59, former Chinese ambassador to Moscow, was assassinated Monday night. It was believed the first post-war political killing in Hong Kong.

Yang was shot, authorities said, by two men who gained entry to his flat on the pretence of delivering a letter. An opponent of the Nationalist-Communist war, he was awaiting ship passage to Red China to attend the political consultative conference in Peiping.

The conference will meet soon in plenary session to set up a formal Communist national government for China.

New Theatrical Group Starts Up In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept 20 — (CP). — A new theatrical group has been organized in Ottawa to promote legitimate theatre in the Capital and offer training to would-be actors and actresses.

Malcolm Morley, who directed plays this summer for a Montreal theatrical group, has been named producer-director of the new Ottawa company, to be known as the Canadian Repertory Theatre Society.

Besides staging British, American and Canadian plays, the society hopes to open a dramatic school.

"I would like to emphasize that a great deal of our work will be around the dramatic school," said Mr. Morley. "I have seen young actors and actresses coming up through the little theatre groups and our organization believes they should have a chance to continue their stage activity."

Fined For Being Drunk

Three men appeared in police court Tuesday morning, pleaded guilty to being drunk and were fined $10 and costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

The men were Norman Flannard, Niagara Falls; Cecil Laravie, R.R. 6, Peterborough; and Robert Little, Monaghan Rd.

Natural Gas Used As Fuel For 2,000 Years

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Demand for natural gas, found to be the most convenient and cheapest of fuels, is increasing at such a rate that builders of pipelines, it is said, can scarcely keep up with it.

In spite of the fact, however, that natural gas is only now gaining great popularity in this country, its use is by no means new. The Chinese burned it 2,000 years ago to evaporate brine for the production of salt.

Other ancient peoples discovered gas issuing from fissures in the earth and sometimes worshipped the resulting flames. Such gas wells, lighted naturally or by man, were spectacles of awe to [illegible] American Indians and local curiosities to the early white settlers. Outside of China, however, no one harnessed this great source of energy.

Modern Industry Began in 1824.

The modern natural gas industry was started as recently as 1824, when residents of Fredonia, a village in western New York State, got an idea. They drilled holes through logs to make a pipeline and connected a gas reservoir outside the village with a few of the business buildings of the village.

In 1920 the consumption of natural gas amounted to 798 billion cubic feet, and it was used almost entirely on a regional basis. Then came the discovery of fields containing gas in unheard of quantities, and with it an improvement in steel pipe. After that, pipelines began to snake out in all directions and by 1930 the consumption had risen to 1.9 trillion cubic feet; in 1940 it was 2.8 trillion and by 1947 it had soared to 4.4 trillion, according to The Lamp, publication of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey).

Most of the nation's reserves of the gas are in six states: Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. The three greatest reserves are the Hugoton field of 2,000,000 acres in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas; the Panhandle field of 1,500,000 acres in North Texas, and the Carthage field of 215,000 acres in East Texas. The nation's total proved reserves — that is, the gas already discovered and awaiting production — rose from 15 trillion cubic feet in 1919 to almost 166 trillion in 1947. This increase has been at a rate of more than five trillion cubic feet a year.

Networks Cover Large Area

Pipeline networks have increased tremendously. In 1947 they amounted to 243,000 miles, and it is estimated that by the end of 1952 the network will be 261,000 miles long and will be capable of delivering nine trillion cubic feet a year.

The great pipelines stretch out like a giant's fingers from the six major gas states. From the Texas Gulf Coast to West Virginia, 1,265 miles away, is a line that can deliver 381 million cubic feet a day.

The Big Inch and the Little Inch lines, built during the war to transport oil, are delivering Texas gas to New Jersey and Pennsylvania and recently natural gas from Louisiana and Texas was made available to New York City residents in Staten Island.

Before long the lines will be able to handle 508 million cubic feet a day. From East Texas to New York, from the Southwest to Michigan, to Wisconsin and to California—these are among the lines creeping out, mile by mile, to carry natural gas from where it is to where it is wanted.

AIRBORNE SOLDIER—The army's swing to airborne training as a prelude to establishment of an airborne brigade has been one of the features of post-war defence activities. Army Has Web of Schools To Build Combat Strength

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series in which a Canadian Press military writer sums up the defence situation in Canada. In today's story he deals with the Army combat strength. Tomorrow: The RCAF.)

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 — (CP).—The Army is gradually building a combat strength, but its crux and core now is a web of schools.

There are some 14 scattered across Canada. They are called Corps School because they produce instructors and trained men for all the Army's Corps, from infantry to provost, from signals to medical.

They prepare the men for the Arctic and winter conditions and for airborne fighting, round off future officers, turn out tradesmen.

In any wartime expansion, their importance would be tremendous. In the meantime, they play an important part in construction of the airborne brigade group that is earmarked to be the standing force to meet any enemy raid in the foreseeable future

The brigade is slowly taking shape. No commander has been named, but the first steps have been taken towards formation of a headquarters. The first land exercises on what might be called a brigade level are being held this fall at Wainwright, Alta., and Petawawa.

Being Trained

Of its three infantry battalions, one has finished airborne—parachute, glider, transport by air — training at the Rivers, Man., joint-training centre. Another is in the midst of this training and should be finished by spring.

The third will follow. Then come such support units as artillery medicals and signals. Some of the component parts, two armored regiments, for instance, will not take airborne training.

Most of the regular units are below strength but this is improving as the army's manpower moves towards the 20,000 mark. Just when the brigade will be fully trained and ready for action has not been announced but it will probably take another two years.

The training schools include the big air-land co-operation base at Rivers, really a cluster of schools under one roof, and the winter experimental establishments at Churchill, Man. The latter is really a tri-service and two-nation base inhabited by hundreds of Canadians and Americans.

Give Seven Courses

The signals school at Kingston can give seven courses simultaneously. The infantry school, with headquarters at Camp Borden can handle 450 men at a time.

The army is directed from 13 headquarters—national headquarters in Ottawa, five regional commands and seven subordinate area headquarters within the commands. The commands are organized as divisional headquarters and all have done divisional exercises without troops.

The army has six components, the regular and reserve forces, the inactive supplementary reserve, the officers' training corps in the universities, 50,000 schoolage cadets, and the Rangers, an organization of guides, trappers and the like in the north.

Plan Drastic Change In Bobby's Uniform

LONDON, Sept. 20 (Reuters)—The British Home Office is considering a plan to issue special summer uniforms to Britain's police force. The first step toward more rational police dress was made in London this summer when a number of officers were issued with special tunics and collars and ties.

Now it is probable that they will be issued with drill trousers.

Another change which may be considered is the substitution of peak caps for the old-fashioned helmets.

It is expected that on traffic duty the police will be able to work in their shirt sleeves in the same way as policemen in the United States and Canada.

Sinks Trawler

BOSTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—The 7,600-ton freighter Mormacfir Monday night rammed and sank the wooden fishing trawler Corinthian of Gloucester, Mass., in dense fog 60 miles southeast of Halifax. Five of the 11 crew members of the fishing trawler, including the captain, were rescued by the Mormacfir. The freighter, the coastguard said, was still seeking the six other crew members.

Admits His Guilt

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 20 (CP) —Frank G. Hilton, 36, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of conducting a sweepstake, described by police as a Canada-wide lottery chain. He will be sentenced Thursday. Evidence showed the thousands of stubs and fresh tickets seized included numerous accounts and index boxes containing names of almost every city and town in Canada.

Arabs Seeking United Front At UN Session

By CLARE HOLLINGWORTH

Special to London Observer and The Examiner.

CAIRO, Sept. 20.—Agitation by various member States for a speedy meeting of the Arab League's Political Committee is being redoubled. During the last two days Azzam Pasha, the league's secretary-general, has received urgent messages from the Premiers of Lebanon and Iraq strongly urging him to convene a meeting as soon as possible to allow the Arab States at least to discuss jointly the stand they will take when the U.N. General Assembly meets later this month.

The main — indeed only — [illegible] originally fixed for August 20 and then postponed until the 30th has now been put off indefinitely is Egypt's understandable reluctance to recognize the new and somewhat insecure regime in Syria. The Egyptian Government holds that the presence of Syrian representatives at a league meeting would be tantamount to general recognition of the present Syrian Government by all the other members of the league.

On the other hand, no one appreciates more fully than Egyptians the necessity for Arab solidarity at the United Nations, and for that reason it appears likely that the league meeting will be held "as soon as the Arab Governments have had time to study the U.N. agenda."

Italian Colonies

Outstanding problems on which the Arab States obviously wish to present a united front are the future of the Italian colonies in Libya, Arab refugees, and the Arab States' relations with Israel. With a strong possibility that both Tripolitania and Cyrenaica will obtain what amounts to limited and conditional independence, the Italian colonies are unlikely to present any grave difficulty, anyway so far as the Arab League is concerned. But the other two problems are assuming an ever-increasing importance.

No headway has been made in dealing with the problem of Arab refugees from Palestine, and the setting up of the new United Nations Middle East Survey Mission, while it might eventually provide useful data, and possibly lead to some tentative proposals, is not calculated to expedite matters. The chance of anything concrete emerging before the refugees have to face another winter in their present lamentable condition is pretty slim.

Fear Individual Action

Further available funds are rapidly running out. I understand the Arab States intend to bring the matter up most strongly at the General Assembly and will tie it up with relations with Israel —which remains basically the problem of the hour throughout the Middle East and has worldwide repercussions. The danger from the Arab viewpoint is that their own economic plight combined with extremely strong representations being made by Britain, America and other Western Powers, might persuade some of them to take individual action which would clearly sadly weaken the general Arab position. Thus consultation, preferably around the Council Table, seems imperative and makes a league meeting all the more necessary. The most immediate facet of this problem is oil. Pressure upon Iraq to allow oil to flow once more to Haifa through the IPC pipeline appears so far to have failed, but it is significant that some Bagdad newspapers recently have been taking the line that Iraq is being forced by her richer Arab neighbors to forego badly needed revenue to no good purpose.

Very great interest is being taken in the progress of two allegedly British tankers which are approaching Suez carrying oil for Haifa. If these are allowed transit through the Suez Canal, where the Egyptian Government until recently has been intercepting all ships suspected of carrying good to Israel, then the entire matter of Arab-Israeli relations would take a new turn.

Barbara Hutton III

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—A pale and ailing Barbara Hutton, her wasted figure gowned in black, came home Monday to the land of her birth for the first time in three years. The 36-year-old Woolworth heiress, now Princess Barbara Hutton Troubetzkoy, said "I have come here for a medical check-up." She expects to remain for a few months. She said her fourth husband, Prince Igor Troubetzkoy, will follow her to the United States.

Under Gun Fire

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Agents for the Norwegian motorship Helgoy reported Monday that North (Communist) Korean shore batteries last week shot away the ship's anchor and the captain's papers. The vessel was under lease to Russia. There were no casualties. The captain said a shell hit his cabin, demolishing a desk containing his papers, then passed through the side of the ship, carrying away the anchor.

Trial Under Way For Szendrey

WELLAND, Sept. 20 (CP) — The trial of George Szendrey, 28-year-old resident of Humberstone, Ont., charged with the [illegible] shooting of Harold Sneztsky, 18, last May 15, opened here Monday.

Sneztsky, a Buffalo, N. Y. high [illegible] shot through the head during an early morning beach party. A companion, Richard Joseph, also of Buffalo, was wounded. Sneztsky died a few hours later.

In court Monday, Charles Simon, manager of the Pleasant Beach Lodge and Szendrey's employer, said the accused was "intoxicated and not himself" on the day of the crime.

It was Szendrey's job to get the lodge and cabins—near where Snetzsky was killed—in shape for the opening of the summer season Simon said.

He said Szendrey had a gun with him the day Sneztsky was shot.

To Attend Conference

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 (CP) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and Economic Co-operation Administration Director Paul G. Hoffman will be among delegates at the 20th annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce here Oct. 25-27, it was announced Monday. Business men from all Canadian provinces representing 625 member Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce will attend along with a delegation from the United States.

Cast Several Votes

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 (CP) — Joseph Cartier and R. Dubois admitted in Superior Court Monday that they voted several times for city councillor Romeo Desormiers, when the latter was elected in December, 1947. The hearing is taking place in connection with the contestation of Councillor Desormiers election by Edouard Gosselin. Cartier said he voted 15 or 16 times. Dubois admitted voting 16 times.

Reggie Pollock Keens Best Garden At School

HAVELOCK, Sept. 20 (ENS)—Prize winners for the best plots in the Public School garden this year were announced by Principal R. D. Buchanan at a recent meeting of the Board of Education. They are: First, Reggie Pollock, second, Clare McKay; third, James Smith; honorable mention, Ella Menzies.

Mr. Buchanan gave the Public School enrolment as 170 including a pupil from out of the school area. The attendance in each room was as follows: Room 1, Beginners 21, Grade I 6, total 27; Room 2, Grade II 19, Grade III [illegible], total 32; Room 3, Grade III 12, Grade IV 24, total 36; Room 4, Grade V 25, Grade VI 17, total 42; Room 5, Grade VII 20, Grade VIII 13, total 33.

Last term there were 18 pupils in the entrance class. Nine passed on their year's work and eight wrote the examinations, four being successful. The Field Day for the Public School was set for Wednesday, October 5. Mr. Buchanan said the morning recess had been changed from 10:30 a.m. to 10.45 a.m. and that he supervised the afternoon recess and H. Hunter the forenoon period. The manual training class commenced studies on September 12, and Mr Hazel, the music teacher, started his work on September 7.

J. Diaper, truant officer, gave his report for June as follows: Enrolment 173, school open 21 days, average attendance 161.9, actual aggregate 3,238, perfect aggregate 3,460, percentage 93.58, unlawful days 43½.

Principal Buchanan was given a grant of $25.00 to purchase library books and $10.00 for Field Day prizes.

The following accounts were passed: July, teachers', caretaker's and secretary's salaries, $256.38; Carr & Henderson, repairs, $36.03; Treasurer's bond, $8.00; S. Cologne Major Rhineland City Attracts Influx Of Industries

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 20 (Reuters)—Cologne, for many centuries the chief city of the Rhineland, is regaining the importance it lost as a result of the devastating air raids that laid two-thirds of the town in ruins.

Situated between Dusseldorf, the capital of North Rhine-Westphalia, and Bonn, the new Federal capital, [illegible] and having the best communications in Germany after Berlin, the famous and much-tried Rhineland city is attracting many businesses and factories, as well as large numbers of former citizens who lost their homes through the bombardment and many refugees from the Soviet zone and Berlin.

Cologne is, however, hardly in a position to receive large additions to its population.

Before the war, the city had a population of 770,000. After dropping to about one-half of that figure, it now has risen to 550,000.

On the advance, the housing situation is so bad that there is only one room for every two persons. Four hundred apartments are being built or repaired every month, but the congestion still grows steadily worse.

Restoration Proves Costly

The restoration of Cologne as a great communications center has been a long and costly business. All five bridges across the Rhine lay in ruins when the war ended. Now, four years later, Cologne has four bridges in use, including the most modern road bridge in Europe, capable of carrying several lines of traffic and situated just above the ruins of the great Hohenzollern Bridge. Although half of the old steelwork is still lying in the river, the Hohenzollern Bridge has been so far reconstructed that it can take rail and foot traffic.

The third bridge in use today is the Patton bridge which handles two lines of traffic, with separate tracks for cyclists and pedestrians. It was built by British army engineers and named after the famous United States General. It was the first of the new bridges to be built over the Rhine at Cologne, and still carries a great volume of traffic. A second railroad bridge makes up the fourth span across the Rhine.

Gateway to Foreign Lands

Cologne today is again Germany's main gateway to foreign countries. Trains pass at the rate of nearly one a minute over the Hohenzollern Bridge, leaving Cologne for Paris and Warsaw, the Hook of Holland, Basle, Ostende, Vienna and Copennagen.

Thirteen railroad links with foreign countries pass through Cologne and some 260 passenger trains leave the central station there every day.

Cologne also is a great river port that can be reached even by light draught ocean-going vessels. After Duisburg-Ruhrort, Cologne has the biggest harbor in the Middle and Lower Rhine, from which brown coal and grain are the principal cargoes shipped.

Although before the war, Cologne was also the most important civil aircraft center in Western Germany, all efforts by the city fathers to revive this trade at the airport, at Rutzweilerhof, have hitherto proved unsuccessful.

High Total Output

With Bonn installed as the Federal capital, it is expected that the facilities, offered by Cologne, only a few miles away, will be much in demand.

The total output of Cologne's manifold industries is estimated at about $1,000,000,000 marks (nearly $320,000,000.

The electrical industry, producing apparatus of all sorts from radios, ice boxes and hair driers to the most complicated industrial equipment is the most important, followed closely by the chemical industry. Its products include the famous Eau de Cologne 4711.

Engineering also contributes a large quota while there are many other industries including automobiles, textiles, rubber, asbestos and clothing.

In all, about 200,000 persons are employed in Cologne. Fewer than 10,000 are unemployed.

Courts May Be Given Job Overhauling Constitution

By MEL SUFRIN

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(CP)—The courts—solemnly aloof from the every-day enbroilments of party politics—may be loaded with a major share of the ticklish work of overhauling Canada's constitution. Aware that the Dominion is dotted with groups zealously watching any proposed changes in the British North America Act, the government indicated in the Commons Monday that it will tread carefully along the path to constitutional maturity.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said the government, in seeking to further Canada's constitutional development, will not use legislation to solve any matters which more properly should be decided in the courts.

"It all boils down to ... [illegible] ... used to lead the way in any constitutional change, they will certainly be there for anyone who wants to take issue with any such change.

Mr. St. Laurent was the second speaker in the throne-speech debate which reached a crest when the commons, in the first division of the 21st parliament, voted 136 to 50 against a CCF amendment.

The CCF received support from the Progressive Conservatives, Social Crediters and P. E. Cagnon (Ind.-Chicoutimi).

Pension Omission

The amendment, to the address in reply to the speech from the throne and technically a test of government confidence, expressed "regret that His Excellency's Government has failed to provide legislation to remove the means test from old-age pensions."

The vote immediately preceded the dramatic announcement by Finance Minister Abbottt that Canada's dollar is being devalued 10 per cent.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader and third of the nine speakers Monday in the throne speech debate, moved the amendment.

Before the House dived into the debate, however, Justice Minister Garson introduced a bill to abolish appeals to the Privy Council, thus making the Supreme Court of Canada the final court of appeal.

The bill contains various amendments to the Supreme Court Act, one of which provides an increase in the number of judges from seven to nine.

Of housing, Mr. Coldwell said Canada still needs a subsidized low-rental plan. Living costs now were at a record high and many persons were forced to pay as much as one-third of their income for sub-standard accommodation.

Surprise Move

As lead-off man in the throne-speech debate, Mr. Drew pulled something of a surprise when he informed the Commons he would not move an amendment.

It would "serve no useful purpose" in the light of the fact that "the government had just had a decisive vote of confidence from the people."

Mr. Drew reached the sharpest pitch of his address when he took issue with the government's procedure on constitutional amendments.

He criticized the government's intention of asking the United Kingdom to clear the way for Canada to amend her constitution in federal matters; while at the same time consulting the provinces on ways of amending it on provincial matters.

The constitution is "indivisible" contended Mr. Drew.

Mr. Coldwell told the government its "overwhelming" mandate from the people had removed any reason for "delay" in implementing its social security program, including the revised old-age pension and a health-insurance scheme.

Dollar Cuts Lure Tourists

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP)—Devaluation of the Canadian dollar provides a new attraction for American tourists planning Canadian vacations—their money will go farther.

Government tourist officials [illegible] they dont know how much new tourist business the new dollar rates will bring the Dominion. But they said it gives Americans "one more good reason for coming to Canada."

On the other hand, it makes things that much tougher for Canadians travelling to the United States which is just the way the government wants it.

U.S. tourists last year spent approximately $270,000,000 in Canada and this year it is estimated they'll spend $300,000,000. The extra dime on the dollar may persuade a lot more of them to come here next year.

For Canadians taking their vacations in the United Kingdom, the new exchange rates mean cheaper vacations. Now they can buy sterling at $3.08¾ for the pound. It used to cost $4.04.

Tourist officials said some Americans have complained that merchandise in Canadian stores has been more expensive than similar goods in the U.S. The new rates may even this out and encourage more shopping by tourists.

Judgment Reserved On Bus Line Issue

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — The Ontario Municipal Board Monday reserved judgment following a hearing on the bus line issue on the London-St. Thomas run. Board officials did not say when the judgment would be announced.

Representatives of the Blue Bird Bus Line and of the London-Port Stanley Railway appeared before the board. They had failed to complete negotiations regarding operations over the route.

The certificate granted by the board provided that the two companies were to negotiate regarding the bus runs between London and St. Thomas. However, these negotiations were not completed and the parties involved returned to the board for a decision.

Millbrook YPG Wants Teen-Town

MILLBROOK, Sept. 20—(ENS)—Advisory council and executive of the interdenominational young people's group met Friday at the home of the Y. P.'s president, Don Spicer, to plan activities for the fall season. The Rev. T. G. Husser opened the meeting with prayer.

Although their ministers were unable to be present, St. Thomas' Church was represented by Jean Smith, vice-president and Grace Church by Mrs. G. MacKay, Mrs. J. Thompson, and Don Thompson, treasurer. Other representatives from St. Andrew's were Miss Jean Burnham Mr. W. Elson and Mrs. B. E. Ingham.

After reports on last year's work had been read by the secretary, Edith Elson and the treasurer, it was decided to have the opening meeting this fall take the form of a banquet with films and games to follow. October 4 was the date suggested.

It was decided also that the minister and one representative of the advisory council from each church, along with two members of the Y. P. should form a nominating committee to introduce a slate of officers.

Another plan made by the group was that it should be suggested to the YP that they set up an organization similar to that of "Teen Town" with their own Mayor, councillors police force, and judge and court.

The election of officers is to take place at the second meeting of the year.

At the close Mrs. . A. Spicer, the hostess, served refreshments.

UK Railwaymen Plan Slowdown, Ignoring Cripps

London rail workers voted Mon-Lonodon rail workers voted Monday night to "go slow" from midnight Wednesday to press a demand by their union—the 450,000-strong National Union of Railwaymen—for a general 10-shilling ($1.40) weekly wage increase.

The decision, taken at a m[illegible]ing of delega[illegible] represen[illegible] 50,000 London a[illegible] suburban rail men, is the first workers' reactions to the "work harder for the same pay" appeal by the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps.

Their action could bring chaos [illegible] transport system on which Greater London's 10,000,000 people depend.

The decision will be before the general council of the 8,000,000-strong British Trade Unions Congress when it meets here tomorrow to consider the economic situation in the light of the revaluation of the pound.

The TUC must decide what lead it is to give and how best it can hold in check the unrest which has swept through a number of vital industries in recent months.

Since a conciliation tribunal rejected outright the rail wage claim, workers in several key rail centres have begun unofficial "go slow" tactics.

Movie Column

Skelton Wants More Action In Comedies

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (AP) —Today's film comedies, said Red Skelton, in a rare reflective mood, could take a lesson from the silents.

Movies would be funnier, he thinks, if they used a lot less gab and a lot more action.

"Ever since sound came along, people have felt that pictures had to talk," the comic complained on "the Yellow Cab Man" set.

I found Skelton flat on his [illegible] unlit cigar. It is fashionable [illegible] year to find fault with the films, and Red, who is chronically unhappy with his roles, was not reluctant to air his views on why the flickers aren't so funny.

"For 20 years people have been trained to depend on clever lines for a laugh," he said. "They've forgotten how uproarious visual comedy can be. That's why Harold Lloyd's 'Movie Crazy' (a recently exhumed oldie) is such a smash—it's a change."

Red said Charles Chaplin once asked him: "How can they say I' the greatest pantomimist? No one else has tried it since the silents."

Pantomime Plan

Skelton plans to remedy that. His ex-wife and manager, Edna Skelton Borzage, has prepared a pantomime movie for him.

"We plan to use a narrator occasionally," Skelton said, "but none of the actors will talk. We'll act out the whole story."

This and Red's other pet projects will have to wait until his MGM contract expires in 1951. Then he plans a series of movies in the old style.

Congregation Gives Couple Wedding Gift

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 20 (ENS) —Mr. and Mrs. Clair Sisson of Lakefield, who were married recently were guests of honor Friday when the Springville congregation presented them with a large plate glass mirror and an end table.

The presentations were made by Harley Cathcart and Elwood Johnston and Mrs. Bert Visee read and presented the address.

Mrs. Sisson was formerly Viola Neals and prior to her marriage, was a valued member of the Springville choir, and congregation.

Mr. Melville Johnston was chairman for a short program. After the hymn "Blest be the tie that binds", Dr. Reddick led in prayer.

The Misses Doreen and Betty [illegible] and Mamie Cathcart, Hazel McIntosh and Mrs. C. S. Reddick gave humorous readings.

Congratulations of the congregation were voiced by Messrs. Gordon McIntosh, Frank Stevens Dr. C. S. Reddick, and Manson Cathcart.

The women served refreshments in the basement.

Armstrong's Asphalt Tile, unlike most other home improvements, is easier to obtain—and easier to pay for—than it was 10 years ago. It actually costs less today than it did in 1939!

A new floor of Armstrong's Asphalt Tile can be installed right over the concrete subfloor in a basement room or in a home without a basement. It is one type of resilient flooring that is not harmed by moisture or alkalis seeping up through concrete that is in direct contact with the ground.

It can be installed quickly, with little or no inconvenience. And, because it is laid tile by tile, you can enjoy the thrill of designing your own colourful new floor.

Flooring contractors everywhere in Canada are installing attractive, durable floors of Armstrong's Asphalt Tile. Ask any Armstrong contractor or dealer in your locality to show you colours and sample floor designs, or to give you an accurate, free estimate.

Britain Faces Union Crisis As Fear Of Price Rise Touches Off New Revolt

T. U. C. Refuses To Endorse Cripps Policy After Split In Own Ranks, Leaders Find Themselves Put On Spot

LONDON, Sept. 21—(AP)—Britain's labor government faced a political crisis in its own ranks today. Trades unions threatened to revolt against higher prices resulting from money devaluation. Outside Britain, repercussions of the drastic slash in the British pound's value continued to jolt the world's markets. Belgium became the 24th country to cheapen its money by slicing the Belgian franc's value by 12 per cent.

France proposed to Italy, Holland and Belgium that the four countries work together to ease trade barriers and make their currencies freely interchangeable.

The threat of a British political crisis was raised by the general council on the Trades Union Congress, whose 8,000,000 members are the backbone of the ruling labor party.

The T.U.C. Council—instead of endorsing government policy as it has in the past—decided Tuesday night it "could not pass on the necessity of devaluation." It called for assurances from economic chief Sir Stafford Cripps that the government would make every effort to limit price rises which will be sure to come from cheaper money.

Split In Ranks

Observers regarded the T.U.C. reluctance to take a positive stand on devaluation as evidence of a split in labor's own ranks.

T.U.C. leaders so far have backed the government's wage-freeze policy against heavy pressure from their rank-and-file members who have been demanding higher wages. Trades unionists expect the cheaper money to result in a rise in the cost of living of at least five per cent in the next six or eight months.

Now the T.U.C. leaders are on the spot. Will they support the government in denying wage boosts and run the risk of being tossed out of office by their own union members? Or will they finally go along for higher wages?

Sir Stafford has warned that wage boosts will largely nullify the benefits of devaluation which is aimed at selling goods at cheaper prices in the United States.

Many observers felt it was doubtful the T.U.C. leader could hold out against rank-and-file pressure much longer.

To Discuss Crisis

Prime Minister Attlee summoned his cabinet ministers to a meeting tomorrow to discuss the crisis.

Concrete evidence of union dissatisfaction was a "go slow" movement scheduled to begin at midnight tonight by the 50,000 workers on the nationalized railways. The move was in protest against government denial of a 10-shilling ($1.55) weekly wage boost demand.

Dissatisfaction with British devaluation also came from another quarter. French Finance Minister Maurice Petsche complained that Britain's action is slicing her pound value from $4.03 to $2.80 was "commercial war."

Noronic Toll Believed 149 Maximum

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP).— The Noronic fire death toll was placed today at a probable maximum of 149, with efforts still being pressed to find and identify victims of the disastrous ship fire. It was thought following the flash fire, which roared through the 36-year-old cruise ship at a Toronto dock early Saturday and trapped many sleeping passengers in their bunks, that the dead might number 200.

The Canadian Press list, compiled from independent sources, showed a total of 140 dead and missing—61 identified in the morgue. Three of the identified dead and one of the missing were not on the original passenger list. Officials of Canada Steamship Lines, owners of the Noronic, disclosed Tuesday night that 13 additional passengers were aboard but withheld their names. A total of 130 bodies have been recovered.

The CP summary this morning:
Identified dead, 61;
Unidentified dead, 69;
Known missing, 10;
X-Unaccounted for, 9;
Confirmed survivors, 546;
Total stated aboard, 695.
X-out of 13 added Tuesday to passenger list of by C.S.L.

Canadian government investigation into the fire may start early next week. Mr. Justice Roy L. Kellock, of the Supreme Court of Canada, appointed to head the federal inquiry, announced that J. W. Pickup and John M. Godfrey, both of Toronto, will be counsel for the inquiry.

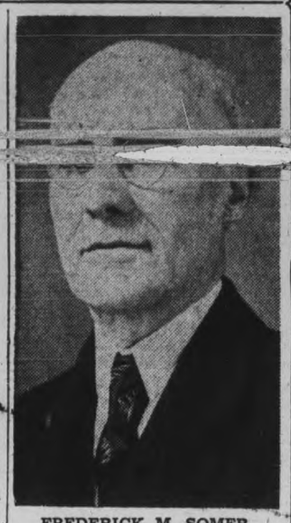
At the same time, Attorney-General Dana Porter, of Ontario, said Coroner S. R. Gerber, of Cleveland, has been retained to take statements from survivors who have returned to their homes in the United States. Said Mr. Porter:

Truman Asks Six-Day Truce

By The Associated Press.

President Truman today asked for a new six-day truce in the dispute which has threatened to tie up the steel industry of the United States.

He also asked that the steel concerns and the Steel Workers Union (CIO) resume collective bargaining on their own.



Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediator chief, who announced the new strike request in Washington, said no reply has yet been received from either union or companies.

The present truce runs out Saturday midnight and the union is poised for a walkout by its 1,000,000 members at that time. The president asked that the truce be extended until 12.01 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 1.

Premier Frost Opens 84th Lindsay Fair

LINDSAY, Sept. 21 — (CP).— Premier Leslie M. Frost will return to his home town here to officially open the 84th annual Lindsay Central Exhibition which starts today and runs four days.

The exhibition, which claims the title as "Canada's No. 1 county and agricultural fair," expects to break attendance records of 100,000 established when it was boosted to Class-A last year. Farmer President W. E. Stewart states that entries in all classes are heavy and prize money has been increased to $15,000.

FREDERICK M. SOMERVILLE, 70, who died Tuesday in his car on his way to work at the CGE where he had been an accountant for 45 years. Mr. Somerville had been driving alone and was not discovered until 2:30 when G. C. Rightmyer saw him in his car parked on Water St. and suspected something wrong.

F. M. Somerville Dies Suddenly On Way To Work

Frederick Morton Somerville, 70 of 16 Inverlea St., died suddenly on his way to work at the CGE at noon Tuesday. He was discovered at 2.30 p.m. by G. C. Rightmyer, 569 Sherbrooke St.

Mr. Rightmyer said he drove past Mr. Somerville's car parked on Water St. at the corner of King St. and noticed him sitting behind the wheel with his head back. He thought nothing of it until he got home when he decided something was wrong. He returned and then telephoned the police. Dr. Herbert N. Young was called immediately and pronounced him dead. There will be no inquest.

Resident 45 years

Peterborough resident for 45 years. He was born in Norton, New Brunswick, and attended the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton.

He came to Peterborough in 1904 and immediately went to work for the CGE in the brass department. After a year he switched to the account department under R. E. Layfield. During all those years he was closely associated with the cost and accounting department.

In December, 1948, he was appointed supervisor of the cost section of the Motor and Generator Division, the position he held until his death.

When the suggestion system was inaugurated in 1926, Mr. Somerville was made chairman of the Suggestion Committee, a post he continued to hold.

First Secretary

Mr. Somerville was the first secretary of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club and first secretary treasurer of the Foreman's Association. He was also a member of the Quarter Century Club.

Mr. Somerville was a member of Murray St. Baptist Church and its treasurer for 31 years. He was also a deacon of the church for some years. For many years he was an active curler with the Peterborough Curling Club and

Chief's Son, Five Others Indicted In Robeson Riot

WHITE PLAINS, NY, Sept 21 (AP). — A police chief's son and five other young men were under indictments today in connection with violence which followed a Paul Robeson concert September 4.

They allegedly were among roadside hecklers who stoned the concert crowd leaving the left-wing negro singer's performance. Three of them are teen-agers.

One of those named is Joseph A. Lillis, Jr., 25, son of the police chief at Peekskill, NY, near where the outdoor concert was held.

In the indictments handed down Tuesday by a grand jury, Lillis was charged with hurling a stone through a car window. The technical count is malicious mischief, a misdemeanor.

Four others, charged with overturning a parked car, were accused of felonious malicious mischief.

They are William B. Williams 20, and David F. Miller 16, both of Peekskill, and Vincent F. Doherty 18, and Samuel J. Biordi 17, of nearby Croton-on-Hudson.

The sixth man, Robert Lent, 29-year-old Peekskill war veteran, was charged with carrying concealed weapons, also a felony. He allegedly had two knives, one strapped under each pantleg.

Lillis was continued in custody of his father, and the others remained free on bail, ranging from $250 to $500.

More than 100 persons were injured in the barrage of stones and sticks that met the departing concertgoers, following an anti-Communist veterans' parade outside the concert grounds. A half-dozen cars were overturned.

Winters Says Little Change In Loan Level

Provinces Not Asked To Help Finance This New Scheme

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Winters today outlined in the Commons a Dominion-Provincial housing program aimed at cutting approximately in half the down payment required of prospective home owners and providing more low-rental housing units.

Mr. Winters said there will be little change in the present level of loans to home builders. A maximum of $8,500 now is loaned under the terms of the National Housing Act. However, the Act will be amended to allow the Crown-owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to loan the prospective home-owner one-sixth of the amount advanced to the home builder.

"This would have the effect of providing financing for the home owner to the extent of approximately half of his present down payment requirements," said Mr. Winters in a 2,500 word statement.

"We are not asking the provinces to participate financially in these measures to encourage home ownership by reduction of down payments."

To Enter Agreements

Other legislation will be introduced to enable the Federal government to enter into agreements with the provinces for "publicly-assisted housing projects."

Mr. Winters, who said that the bulk of home construction will be left to private enterprise, stated that the publicly-assisted projects may take the form of the assembly of land and services to enable an increased volume of housing by private builders.

"They may take the form of the Dominion and the Province proceeding with moderate priced houses for sale to home owners," he added. "They also may take the form of rental projects, in which even the Dominion and the Province would seek local management for completed projects."

No Slum Clearance

He indicated there will be no attempt to undertake slum clearance on a large scale at this time. Then he added:

"I would point out, however, that the terms of the enabling legislation would be broad and flexible enough to enable arrangements with the provinces which would include rental projects either on an economic or a subsidized basis."

He mentioned the difficulty of finding additional land for new housing construction in some municipalities and the high cost.

Popular Star Richard Dix Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21 (AP) —Richard Dix, 54, star of silent and sound pictures, died Tuesday of a heart ailment.

A frequent victim of heart attacks, he suffered his fatal attack in Chicago August 10, while en route here from New York by train.

He later was flown here, but had been sinking constantly during the last few days.

For more than 25 years Dix personified the male type dear to the hearts of screen fans — the virile (and virtuous) outdoorsman. He was the hero of scores of daring exploits in silent films, and survived the transition to sound to reach even greater popularity.

Though his fame rests primarily on his Western roles, Dix often pointed out that of his 218 features, only seven were of the horse opera type. More often he was cast as a historical or pioneer figure; a hardy man equal to the task of taming and building the West. His 6 feet and 190 pounds of well-shaped brawn and ruggedly handsome face were made to order for his heroic roles.

He also starred in many conventional leading man roles.

4 Stowaways Live Week On 7 Cocoanuts

Two Other Negroes Spend 17 Days In Lifeboat of Second Ship

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP). [illegible] today they lived for seven days in the hold of the Cargill with only seven cocoanuts for food, and two others claimed to have spent 17 days in a lifeboat of another ship, the Pendeen.

Herman Trott and Leslie Fleming, Bermuda youths, escaped from the Pendeen undetected after it docked here on Tuesday from Swansea.

A few hours later they gave themselves up but were given their freedom until an inspection was made of the Pendeen's lifeboats today to find out whether they actually came out in the ship.

They stowed away successfully on three other ships before coming to Montreal. Their travels took them from Bermuda, to New York, to England, and finally Canada.

Trott and Fleming told authorities they hid out in the lifeboat in Swansea and during the long voyage to Montreal existed on the hard biscuits stored in the lifeboats. While their case is being looked into they are being looked after by Salvation Army officials

The four who arrived aboard the Cargill which docked on Tuesday night from the African Gold Coast, [illegible]kar, admitted after sampling the chilly wind along the waterfront they wished they had landed in a warmer country

They wore no shoes or socks Three of them told the shipping officials they had never worn shoes. They claimed they were married, had worked as miners for 60 cents a day, and could not get enough employment to keep their wives alive. All four will be deported.

Sure East-West Can Settle Riffs-Acheson

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (CP) — State Secretary Dean Acheson today reaffirmed his belief that east-west differences can be ended peacefully, but he warned that a solution will not be quick or easy. In an American-policy speech before the United Nations Assembly, Acheson promised the delegates of 59 countries that the United States is ready to do her part. Acheson said there is no hope for a basis of agreement on international control of atomic energy unless Russia is willing to "co-operate in the world community."

In the only other direct reference to the Soviet Union in his 2,500-word address, he called on Russia to help solve the war between the Greek government and Communist guerillas.

He said some of the world's problems are of a "terrible seriousness," but "it has not been proven they will not eventually yield to the effects of time and patience and hard work."

Outlines Policy

Human rights — The United States favors submitting to the International Court of Justice the question whether Hungary, Romania, and Bulgaria have violated the peace treaties by refusing to help set up a commission to investigate charges that they have violated human rights.

Italian colonies — The United States supports plan for a united and independent Libya within three or four years; the splitting of Eritrea between Ethiopia and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan; and trusteeship for Italian Somaliland.

Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is expected to make the general Soviet policy statement in the assembly — probably late this week or early next week—after hearing the western powers.

Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain said Tuesday night that the western powers are determined to see that atomic weapons are not used in destroying mankind. He spoke at a dinner given UN delegates by New York City officials.

Bevin said the old League of Nations broke down because one or two countries thought their war weapons were so advanced that they could conquer the world. He added:

"We shall take care now that no nations shall be under the delusion that they can get so advanced that they can use their advanced position to destroy the world. On the other hand, we shall never use our advances to destroy them."

Outside the hotel anti-British demonstrators were met by a barrage of tomatoes from windows of the fashionable hotel. Bevin is staying there. It was not known who threw the tomatoes.

Call From Chicago Delays Empress Ship

LIVERPOOL, England, Sept. 21 (AP) — A telephone call from Chicago delayed the departure of the 20,000-ton liner Empress of Canada for Montreal Tuesday night.

Minutes before sailing time, Elaine Friedman, 24, of Chicago, got a transatlantic call from her mother reporting her fiance was desperately ill.

"Get off the ship and fly home," she was told. "Never mind the expense."

The girl and her sister, Harriet, 22, who were ending an overseas holiday, disembarked while sailing preparations were suspended. They reached London airport today in time to catch a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane for Montreal.

2 Killed Near Richmond Hill As Car Hits Tractor Third Man Slightly Hurt

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP)—Two persons were killed and a third seriously injured when an automobile sideswiped a tractor trailer on the highway near Richmond Hill, about 15 miles north of Toronto early today. Dead are Miss Jean Gregory, 22, of Toronto and Earl Ronald Thomas, 21, of Toronto. Thomas was identified as the son of Earl A. Thomas of Niagara Falls, Ont., president of the T. G. Bright and Company.

Admitted to hospital with serious injuries was driver John K. L. Crawford, 22, of Toronto.

Crawford suffered cuts and shock.

Provincial Police said that Crawford will be charged with manslaughter. They said he will be arraigned as soon as he is discharged from hospital.

Police said Crawford's car sideswiped the transport trailer-truck and hurtled end over end along the highway, ending up in a ditch. Crawford, who was thrown clear of the vehicle, was found on the highway about 50 feet away from the wrecked car.

Hears Crash

Frank Walters of Collingwood, 34-year-old driver of the transport truck, told police he heard a crash as the car tried to pass him on the highway. Both vehicles were travelling north.

Walters said he believed the auto struck the truck's left rear wheel. As the Crawford car went "hurtling past" it left the road and turned over three times," he said.

The truck driver said he stopped and raced over to the car which was lying upside down in the ditch. He said that Miss Gregory and Thomas were wedged inside.

"The top of the car was peeled right off," he said.

Police said the car bounced more than 100 yards from the point of impact before coming to a stop, overturned.

The wrecked car had to be lifted by a tow truck crane before the bodies could be recovered.

Relatives of Miss Gregory, a pianist who during the last eight years had performed over the CBC, said the fatal drive started from an exclusive restaurant in Toronto where she played.

Identify $6000 Brooch Found In Ship Fire

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP).— A $6,000 brooch found aboard the steamer Noronic has been identified, police said to-day. Harry Jewell definitely identified the brooch as owned by his sister-in-law, Mrs Helen Jewell of Grosse Island, Mich., who died with her husband Frank, aboard the ship.

He insisted the police keep it, on the off-change someone else on board may have had a similar brooch and relatives may claim it.

2 Bears Stage Terrible Battle

SAULT, STE. MARIE, Sept. 21 (CP)—Two woodworkers, Sid Gail and Eugene Riel, said today they witnessed two black bears locked in mortal combat in a secluded logging camp 30 miles north of here. The battle ended approximately 10 minutes after it started with the death of the youngest bear.

They said a full grown female bear and a male, approximately one-year-old, ripped and wrestled each other with bared claws in one of the most terrifying battles they had ever seen.

After the fight was over and the female and her two cubs sauntered off, Riel and Gail inspected the dead bear and found it badly torn up. They kept it as proof of the incident.

Algoma Indians say that they have never seen nor heard of such a bush battle.

Ask Death Penalty For Ex-Communist

BUDAPEST, Sept. 21 (AP) — The state today demanded the death penalty for Laszlo Rajk, Hungary's former Communist police chief, and his seven co-defendants on trial for treason.

Chief prosecutor Gyula Alapi also denounced the United States.

Alapi accused the eight defendants of serving as spies for the United States as well as for Premier Tito.

Since seven of the defendants have pleaded guilty—and the eighth said he was "partly guilty" —the defence is not expected to call any witnesses.

Rajk, former foreign minister and former minister of the interior, was once regarded as Hungary's No. 2 Communist.

Unorthodox Celebration

KITCHENER, Sept. 21 (CP)— A Kitchener husband and wife spent their eighth wedding anniversary in rather unorthodox fashion Tuesday. They appeared on opposing sides in domestic court where the husband faced a charge of deserting his spouse and family of five. Magistrate H. R. Polson awarded custody of the children to the wife and ordered the husband to pay $50 arrears in their board and contribute $12 weekly to the family or go to jail for two months.

Hold Resignations Back In Hospital Board Row

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 21 (CP) —Board of Governors of Brockville General Hospital announced Tuesday night that any resignations from the board would be "held in abeyance."

The announcement was made in a statement issued following a board meeting behind closed doors Tuesday night.

The statement made no mention of a letter of resignation submitted to the board Monday by Senator A. C. Hardy, of Brockville, because of what he termed "violent hostility" on the part of some board members against the hospital's medical staff.

In his letter Senator Hardy said discipline of the nurses had reached "an impossible stage when they take, or refuse to take, orders from members of the medical staff."

One unidentified member of the board was reported to have said earlier today some consideration was being given to possibility of having a Royal Commission appointed to enquire into the hospital situation here.

Board Chairman G. Elmer Johnston and his brother, G. R. Johnston, chairman of the hospital finance committee, also were reported to have submitted resignations. Neither attended Tuesday night's meeting.

Strong CGE Union Only Canadian UE At International Meet

Jack Morton, president of Local 524 UE-CIO of the Canadian General Electric Co., Peterborough, and the three other delegates from the union elected to attend the UE International Convention in Cleveland this week, crossed the United States border without incident, the Examiner has been informed.

Last year two Peterborough delegates were turned back by U.S. immigration authorities on what was believed to be the advice of the State Department.

The four who got through successfully this year did so against the recommendation of the UE District Council. Peterborough's Local 524 is the only Canadian UE Local to attend this year's international convention.

With President Morton were Cyril O'Donnell, Keith Chiles, and G. Hodgson, an alternate delegate for the late Phil Doherty.

Refusal of the Peterborough executive to follow the recommendation of the District Council whose head is District President C. S. Jackson, was responsible for a strong attack being launched against it by the latest edition of the UE News.

Delegation Under Attack

Under the heading "These We Choose," the UE News states: "It need be no secret that the four delegates who will be in Cleveland representing Local 524 will be there only because they admittedly support the disruptive gang within the International Union known as the ACTU-Carey group—and are therefore considered acceptable by the union-busting, Taft-Hartley, Wall Street dominated American government in Washington."

As an alternative to going to Cleveland the District Council proposed that each Local send the number of delegates to which it was entitled at Cleveland to the District Five annual convention now being held in Hamilton. Delegates, the District Council said, would be empowered to register their positions on matters before the International Conven-

Military Rule Ends In Germany

BONN, Germany, Sept. 21 — (AP). — Military government rule in Western Germany ended today and was replaced by a High Commission of Britain, the United States and France.

The ceremony opened with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenaur informing the three Allied High Commissioners that he had formed a German Federal Government.

Andre Francois-Poncet, speaking for the Commissioners, said in reply that an occupation statute—a form of peace treaty—went into effect "at this very moment."

The occupation statute gives the Germans far greater rights of self-government than they have possessed since the war. Under the statute, the Allies retain controls only over such key affairs as foreign trade and relations, demilitarization, decartelization and dispplaced persons.

20,000 Moslem Troops Revolt Against Chiang

CANTON, Sept. 21—(AP) — Trustworthy Chinese reports today said 20,000 Moslem troops have revolted against the Nationalists in arid, north-western Ningsia Province, and gone over to the Reds.

The Moslems belonged to the command of Gen. Ma Hung-kwei who is estimated to have 80,000 men under his command in Ningsia. Ma has been in Chungking trying to get Chiang Kai-shek to allot arms to his troops.

The Ningsia revolt report followed word both in Nationalist China and Communist Shanghai, that 100,000 Nationalist troops in Suiyuan Province, also in the north-west, have gone over to the Reds with their arms.

TLC Wallops Canadian Labor Reds

C. S. U. Thrown Out By 702 - 77 Vote, Reject Resolutions

CALGARY, Sept. 21—(CP) — Canadian Labor Communists have taken two wallopings.

Both spankings were administered by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada which Tuesday:

1. Threw out the Canadian Seamen's Union by a vote of 702 to 77.

2. Rejected a series of trade resolutions branded by the TLC convention's resolutions committee as Communist-inspired.

In both cases, the congress was delivering a reversal of form from its stand of a year ago, when it was taking a conciliatory attitude on the question of Communists in its organization.

Tuesday it hit out strongly against Communists in its ranks, putting some on the run and sending others to cover.

Many of the known Reds in the congress voted with the right-wing faction of the TLC for the eviction of the Canadian Seamen's Union. Others did not vote at all.

Result was a victory for the right-wing section of the TLC.

Beaten Down

Later, leftist support developed for resolutions urging more trade resolutions between Canada and Russia, but this was quickly beaten down on a voice vote.

On the Seamen's Union vote, left wing strength in the congress seemed to be pulling in its horns.

The only sector that registered any consistent power in favor of the CSU was the British Columbia area. Several local unions from that section, and the B.C. Fishermen and Allied Workers, sided with the seamen's group.

While booting out the CSU the congress decided not to admit immediately the Seafarers' International Union, which is battling with the CSU for supremacy on the Great Lakes and coasts.

However, TLC president Percy R. Bengough indicated to the delegates that the SIU might come in later.

Giant Puffball

Mrs Joseph Hamilton of Stony Lake brought into the Examiner an edible puffball which she found growing in her orchard. It weighs 2½ pounds, measures almost two feet across. The flesh inside the patent-leathery skin is pure white and looks like very good eating. The contour of the puffball is ridged by roots on top of which it obviously grew very rapidly. Mrs. Hamilton reports that it has been an unusually prolific season for puffballs and fairy-ringed mushrooms.

Sackville INSURANCE AGENCY

Ontario Reduces Taxes On Estate Life Interests

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Premier Frost announced Tuesday the Ontario Government is reducing from five to four per cent the rate of interest for valuing life interests in estates subject to succession duties. The change is effective Jan. 1, 1950.

At the same time, the province will employ a system of values uniform with that under the Federal act in determining the values of annuities and insurance. The government has also decided to use tables of mortality now used by life insurance companies.

Officials of the treasury department gave this explanation [illegible] in the levy on life interests:

"Under the present schedule of interest and life expectancy, the life interest of a 65-year-old widow, with children in her husband's $60,000 estate is roughly $30,000. On this amount, the widow is taxed $1,000, payable over 10 years. With a reduction of one per cent in the interest rate, her life interest will be valued at $24,000 and the taxes will be $800, a decrease of $200.

Premier's Ideas

The Premier's statement:

"Since 1934 the Ontario succession duty branch has been using an intherest rate of 5% for For example the amount of expectancies for succession duty purposes. This government has recognized that this rate is too high as compared to present day trend of interest levels, the majority of whom, in the natural course of events, are widows and often dependent children.

"Already, this government has, at the recent session of the Legislature, brought down amendments to the Succession Duty Act designed to alleviate the tax burden on those who feel it most For example the amounut of exemption for preferred beneficiaries, including widows and children has been increased from $25,000 to $50,000.

"Another amendment designed to afford relief is that which spreads the payment of duty on life interests and annuities over the life expectancy of the annuitant or recipient of income or for 10 years—instead of over only four years as in the past.

"Generally speaking, a lower interest rate used in valuing such interests results in a much lesser amount of duty imposed, thus mitigating the impact or taxation where it is most felt. With these objectives in view, the government has given careful study and consideration to the adoption not only of a lower interest rate, but also the use of a more modern table of life expectancy."

Obituary

MRS. DAVID JONES.

Mrs. David R. Jones, 67, died suddenly after a heart attack in her home at 893 High St. shortly after five p.m. Tuesday.

When Mr. Jones returned from work about 5:15 p.m., he found his wife lying at the bottom of a flight of stairs in the kitchen. A son Adolphus was lying asleep on a couch in the living room.

Mrs. Jones had been under a doctor's care four years with a heart condition. Dr. L. Zacks was called, but Mrs. Jones died almost immediately after he arrived.

Mrs. Jones is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Edward Wood (Ada), Mrs. Harry Phelan (Marion); and four sons, Wilbert, Edward, Leo and Adolphus, all of Peterborough.

Mrs. Jones came to Canada from Cardin, Wales, as Mary Jones, a six-year-old immigrant. She lived in Peterborough the rest of her life.

The funeral will be held from the Duffus Funeral Home at 8:40 a.m. Friday to St. Adolphus Church for Requiem Mass conducted by Rev. Vincent J. Corkery CSSR at nine a.m. Interment will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Prairie Farmers May Be Helped By Government

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—Farmers living on some 3,000 square miles of dusty, sun-baked land in the middle of the prairies may receive government help in licking the problem of getting feed for their livestock.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner told the Commons Tuesday night that the government will shortly consider a request for freight assistance to facilitate movement of feed grains to the Alberta-Saskatchewan drought area.

John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) raised the problem during committee discussion of agricultural estimates. Large areas in southwestern Saskatchewan and [illegible] Alberta had suffered had no feed for hogs and cattle and it must come from other districts.

The Commons devoted most of Tuesday's session to agriculture department estimates after Justice Minister Garson moved second reading of the bill to abolish appeals to the Privy Council.

Monopolize Discussions

Western members virtually monopolized the agricultural discussions, tossing dozens of questions and requests at Mr. Gardiner who sat flanked by two departmental advisers.

When the Commons rose for the night it had passed 14 of the 48 sections in the long list of agricultural estimates.

During discussion of the drought problem, Mr. Diefenbaker asked whether anything has been decided on location of the proposed dam in the South Saskatchewan River irrigation project.

Mr. Gardiner said the government has spent $2,000,000 to discover whether the dam will be feasible. The report was not yet complete.

Earlier during discussion of the $49,500,000 in estimates, Mr. Gardiner said it was hoped that in coming years thousands of Canadian families could be moved to productive farm land from drought-ridden areas.

This was being done under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, a 1935 statute under which some 1,400 families had been moved before the war.

Asks Individual Basis

Arthur Ross (PC-Souris) a Manitoba farmer, suggested that payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act—money paid to farmers in low-yield crop years—should be placed on an individual basis. At present it was paid on a township basis.

Mr. Gardiner said this could not be done. The Act had been brought in only as a carry-over measure until many people living on sub-marginal drought lands could be moved to more productive areas.

At the night session, O. L. Jones (CCF-Yale) urged the government to take steps to protect Canada's United Kingdom markets for agriculture before other Commonwealth countries take over. At the same time, he said, it should assure that domestic markets for Canadian products are protected against low-priced surpluses from other countries, particularly the United States.

Carl Stewart (L-Yorkton), making his maiden speech, called on the government to guard against any move in the United States to have wheat declared surplus.

Such action would cut off Marshall-plan dollars from being used by the United Kingdom to pay for Canadian wheat and would constitute a setback to Canadian wheat farmers.

Can't Compare Prices

A. J. Bater (L-The Battlefords) also making his first speech in the Commons, said it isn't fair to compare prices received by farmers in Canada with those in the U. S.

For example the U. S. probably consumed 80 per cent of her wheat output while Canada had the problem of exporting 80 per cent of the wheat grown in this country. This should be considered in sizing up any difference in prices.

Mr. Gardiner said there is little difference at present between farm prices in the two countries.

He made his remarks after Julian Ferguson (PC - Simcoe North) urged establishment of a committee to investigate the "exorbitant prices" being charged for meat in Canada..

Cleveland Survivors To Attend Hearing

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21 (AP) — Survivors of the Noronic disaster who live in Cleveland and nearby Ohio towns today were asked to a hearing at Cleveland city hall tomorrow.

County coroner Samuel R. Gerber said:

The statements will be purely voluntary but victims of the fire may bring an attorney with them to bring out information they might otherwise overlook.

"Our report will be made as an advisory one for the Canadian authorities investigating the cause of the fire."

Dana Porter, Ontario Attorney-General, delegated Dr. Gerber to take statements on the Toronto ship fire which cost more than 100 lives. The list of victims included 28 from the greater Cleveland area.

Jail Editor 2 Years

TOKYO, Sept. 21 — (CP). — Shichiro Morioka, Japanese editor, was sentenced Tuesday to two years at hard labor for printing foreign news stories "destructively critical" of the occupation. Morioka, editor-in-chief of the Leftist Rengo News Agency, was held responsible for stories in which various persons were quoted as attacking "British Imperialism" in Malaya, the trial of leading American Communists in New York, and the "conversion of Japan into an invasion base."

Police Say $175 Taken At Party

CANTON, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP) —A Canadian who allegedly stole $175 during a party at an Ogdensburg club has been indicted on a charge of first-degree grand larceny.

The indictment against Gordon A. Walzer, 39, of Brockville, was among 37 handed down Tuesday by a St. Lawrence county grand jury.

Walzer is accused of taking $175 from a jacket owned by John Donovan of Canton, during a party Aug. 13 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club.

Lieut. Leo Lebeau of the Ogdensburg police said Walzer has signed a statement admitting the theft. He quoted Walzer as saying he threw the money away before police arrested him as he boarded the Ogdensburg-Morrisville ferry of construction that now prevails. He mentioned as well the difficulty of rehousing families in the sub-standard accommodation that might be replaced by low-rental units.

Some Difficulties

These are "very real difficulties," he said, but subject to them the "Dominion is prepared to proceed with rental housing projects in co-operation with the provinces."

The publicly-assisted projects would be undertaken in municipalities where suitable arrangements can be made with the help and co-operation of the municipalities.

Funds for the financing of each project would come 75 per cent from the Dominion and 25 per cent from the province. The annual profit or loss resulting from each project, whether land assembly, home ownership or rental units, would be shared 75 per cent by the Dominion and 25 per cent by the province.

The municipalities would receive as a payment in lieu of taxes an amount equivalent to taxes received by them under normal assessments and normal rates for comparable property.

Nurse Gives Talk On European Trip Elect 2 Officers

The Alumnae Association of Peterborough Civic Hospital began the fall meetings with a pot luck supper at the nurses residence, Argyle St., Tuesday evening. Miss Mary Pickens of the Hospital staff was the guest speaker and gave a most interesting account of the highlights from her trip abroad this summer, during which she attended the International Congress of Nurses in Sweden.

President Mrs. M. Pringle was in the chair for the business meeting following supper. She welcomed Miss F. Dixon, oldest living member and former president of the Association for 25 years. Miss Dixon voiced appreciation at being present and challenged the nurses for the work of the coming month.

Due to resignations of the first and second [illegible] following were elected to office: first vice-president, Mrs. R. Taylor; second vice-president, Miss Elsie Crawford. Mrs. W. E. Conway was appointed convener of the telephone committee and Mrs D. Hill representative to Local Council of Women.

Mrs. Earl Wellman, bazaar convener, reported on work done during the summer months and invited members to her home for October meeting, requesting that all finished work be brought in at that time to be marked for the Purple and Gold bazaar and tea which is being held on November 12.

Mrs. E. Brackenridge, Mrs. Pringle and Miss A. L. Thomson reported on the work of the Community Nursing Registry since its formation nearly a year ago. A substantial donation was made by the Alumnae.

Mrs. J. Thornton thanked the speaker; and Miss Thomson for use of the nurses' residence.

Golds Firmed Oils Stronger

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — A steadier tendency appeared on the Toronto Stock Exchange today following two sessions of swinging prices. Golds firmed slightly from Tuesday's sharp declines and industrials about balanced gains and losses. Base metals showed a slightly weaker tone while western oils climbed into spotlight on some strong advances.

Traders termed today's market as normal. Previous sessions were influenced by devaluation in sterling and the Canadian dollar.

Gold stocks settled into steadier and narrow movements awaiting the government's decision in handling the Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Opening prices were considerably stronger, especially in junior [illegible] mid-session cut into the early gains.

Industrials firmed as the session progressed. Papers were mixed following Tuesday's declines. Sherritt Gordon highlighted a narrow base metals list. The stock climbed strongly for a 13-cent advance in brisk dealings.

Royalite featured western oils, advancing 25 cents at $7.65.

Labor Party Worried About Voters

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—The Labor party is wondering how it is going to convince the British voter that devaluation of the pound is all for the best.

With the general election bound to take place within the coming 11 months the matter has considerable urgency.

Labor electioneers will have had a chance for soul-searching at the party's first national rally which is being held this week at a holiday camp in Filey, Yorkshire.

The 4,000 Socialists attending are anxiously to their leaders for an explanation of devaluation that will soothe the doubts of voters, who are certain to view with alarm the impending rise in price of bread, if nothing else.

They got a partial answer from the minister of national insurance, James Griffiths, who in an address to a meeting coined what may become the Labor party's slogan—the Labor government preferred to devalue the pound rather than the man.

In other words Labor thought devaluation was a better way of lowering costs of export goods than by economic adjustments that might cut social services and result in unemployment.

"We shall work for the solution of all our economic problems on the basis of full employment," Griffiths said.

Appeal Court Saves Quesnel From Gallows

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP)—An appeal court ruling that he had an unfair trial has saved Alfred Quesnel, 39, from the gallows.

The Espanola, Ont., man had been sentenced to be hanged at Sudbury Sept. 30. He was convicted last June of murder in the strangle-slaying in March of 72-year-old Mrs. Jessie Cleland of Espanola, but the appeal court decided Tuesday that the conviction could not be supported by the evidence.

Officials said Tuesday night that Quesnel would be freed from Burwash Industrial Farm near Sudbury, [illegible] awaiting result of the appeal, as soon as official word reached Sheriff A. J. Manley of Sudbury, probably some time today.

In a brief oral judgment, Chief Justice R. S. Robertson expressed the unanimous decision of the appeal court, which included Mr. Justice R. E. Laidlaw, Mr. Justice F. D. Hogg, Mr. Justice W. D. Roach and Mrs. Justice J. B. Aylesworth.

Said the Chief Justice:

"The conviction cannot be supported. The trial was unfair to the appellant (Quesnel)."

Criticize Evidence

"Evidence admitted should not have been admitted and the charge to the jury at the trial was not admissible. The Crown did not have enough evidence."

W. B. Common, senior counsel for the Ontario Attorney-General's department, argued earlier that there was sufficient circumstantial evidence to convict Quesnel. Mr. Common said a strand of hair found on Quesnel's coat resembled the victim's hair and pieces of fibre from the victim's coat were said to have been found on Quesnel's coat.

Leo Landreville, Quesnel's counsel, maintained throughout the two-day appeal hearing that on the night of the slaying, Quesnel went directly home from a bingo game at the Espanola Community Hall. Mrs. Cleland, who with her 74-year-old husband shared a house with Quesnel and his wife, also attended the bingo game and was attacked on her way home.

Town Council Within Budget

COBOURG, Sept. 21 (ENS) — Issued every year at this time by the finance committee of town council, an interim report for the first eight months reveals that all are keeping within their budgets. Reeve Roy Dodge, chairman of the committee, predicted that the 1949 budget would be balanced if committees considered carefully expenditures during the remainder of the year.

In the two years that the parking meters have been in use, a total of $10,500 has been collected of which 50 per cent is retained by the town. Thirty-three more were installed to make a total of 144 and of these 75 meters have now been paid for.

Tax levy for 1949 is $191,081.85 and of this $152,200 has been raised. Tax arrears at the start of the year were $14,000 and this has been reduced by $3,000. Estimated harbor tolls for the year were $7,000 and to date, $4,700 is the amount collected.

Expenditures of the various committees are as follows, with the estimated amount and amount expended, in sequence:

Highways and streets, $49,943—$40,000; public buildings, $5,600—$2,729; printing, $1,400—$903.58; police, $11,923—$7,532.50; fire, water and light, $16,563.88—$10,364.41; market, $2,100—$1,445.92; finance and harbor, $21,500—$13,296.81; direct relief, $3,500—$1,874.87; health and sanitation, $7,400—$4,331.86; grants, $3,500 — $2,551.64; hospitalization, $1,000—$775.67.

Buying Public Suspicious Of High Pressure Salesmen

The day of the high pressure salesman is gone, James H. Welsh, General Sales Manager of a large firm with Canadian headquarters in Toronto, told members of the Peterborough Sales and Advertising Club at its first meeting of the new season Tuesday night at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

He said he thought radio, magazines and newspapers had so educated the public that they were suspicious of the high pressure method. He explained that he advocated a personal approach to the public with the salesman selling not a product but a service.

"I want my salesmen to be as well known in a neighbourhood as the milkman or the postman I want them to know the dogs and the kids," he commented.

Three Steps

He felt that there was no automatic way of making a sale. He said there were three steps in selling: creating a need, making a person want a product and from that there was a natural desire to buy it. Then closing a sale was automatic.

He had found in his experience a salesman should reason out the sale with a prospective buyer to show him why he should own the product "right now."

One way of presenting a purchase to a prospective buyer was to show that he was buying a service. He said a shirt which originally cost $5 to $7 costs about $45 or $50 to keep clean for a year. Why then should a housewife hesitate to pay no more to keep her house clean with a vacuum cleaner.

He related that new salesmen are given aptitude tests, and balanced judgment tests before being taken on in a large organization. After being hired, they are given a training period.

To sell, a salesman has to meet the public. This applied as much to a butcher as to a brush salesman.

How many of you who are selling products which are used in the homes, later go into the homes to find out how the product is performing its function, he asked.

As well as the ability of the individual salesman, the success of the product depends on the company having a "fair and honorable" policy of dealing with the public, he pointed out.

Regional Conference Of Children's Aid

The Rev. Ivan Morgan, minister of Muray Street Baptist Church, has been invited to address the regional conference of Children's Aid Societies which will be held in Peterborough November 18. One hundred delegates from the Children's Aid Societies in Eastern Ontario are expected to visit Peterborough for the conference.

Members of the committee to prepare for the conference are: Fred Ash, convener, Mesdames Lynch, Pilon, Wharry, Messrs. Faryon, McKerchar, Sargent and Sharp.

John Twigg, a member of the Peterborough Society's staff, will attend a three-day Ontario Conference of Social Workers in Toronto this week. Miss R. Young, superintendent of Peterborough Society, has been invited to take part in a panel discussion at the conference on Friday.

Home and School Plans Program

HASTINGS, Sept. 21.—(ENS).—At the first meeting Tuesday of the Home and School Association since the summer holiday, it was decided to hold fortnightly meetings for entertainment at the Town Hall on Friday evenings.

The meeting was held in the senior room of the Public School with the president, Mrs. F. Crate, in the chair; Mrs. J. G. Thompson, piano accompanist; Mrs. Baker, secretary, and Mr. W. A. Thomas, treasurer.

The following committees were appointed: Program, Mrs. A. Thompson; publications, Mrs. E. M. Hess; social, Mrs. W. A. Thomas, Mrs. L. Switzer, Mrs. Robt. Glass; membership, Mrs. Clifford Scriver; visual aid and theatre, F. S. Crate, L. Switzer, L. W. Humphries, D. Thurston and C. M. Baker.

The Rev N. Cole installed the officers.

The president welcomed the old and new members, also the principal, Mr. Hurston, and the new school nurse, Miss O'Leary.

Roll call showed grade 4 in the lead. It was moved by Canon Spencer and Mrs. J. G. Thompson that a book for grade 3, the winner for roll call for last term, be purchased. It was moved by Mrs. S. Fisher and Mrs. F. C. Foster that the graduates be presented with school pins.

Mrs. J. G. Thompson played for a sing song. Two films were shown.

Coffee and doughnuts were served.

What about Winter Driving with the HILLMAN?

READ WHAT A HAPPY COMMUTER HAS TO SAY ABOUT HIS HILLMAN'S PERFORMANCE

Edmund Hockridge, well-known CBC artist, whose letter praising the Hillman is one of many received from happy Hillman owners.

"I live on a farm 30 miles outside Toronto," writes Mr. Hockridge, "and it is essential for me to have completely reliable, year-'round transportation to and from the city. I made the trip in my Hillman almost every day last winter—and didn't miss a single engagement! Half-a-mile of rutted country lane (which drifts at the slightest whisp of wind) separates my farm from the nearest gravelled road. Yet this grand car took everything in its stride—snow, mud and freezing rain! Thanks to its great-hearted engine and extra-low gear, my Hillman carried me in perfect safety and comfort over drifts and ruts that would be a challenge to any car. For many reasons, but especially for its downright dependability—I'm glad I bought a Hillman!"

Thousands—yes, thousands—of motorists in Canada and the U.S.A. are enjoying the comfort, economy and world-famous driving qualities of the Hillman. For their convenience, a permanent network of dealers provides parts and service from coast to coast in both countries. Arrange now for a Hillman demonstration ride—you'll be glad you did!

Fine Vacation IN FRONTENAC COUNTY

Midway between Toronto and Montreal, where Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River merge, Frontenac County takes in some fine vacation land. If you're historically inclined, you'll enjoy visiting old Fort Henry at Kingston—said to be the greatest colonial restoration on the continent. Then, too, you may like to visit Queen's University and see the Royal Military College—one of Canada's two great service colleges. You can—and should—take the 1,000 Islands cruise from Gananoque; you may fish for muskies, trout and walleyes in the nearby lakes—play golf, swim or just enjoy the scenery. The Devalued Dollar

When Britain devalued the pound Canada could not resist the downward pressure. The dollar had to go down. The effect will be approximately the same in Canada as in Britain in relation to commerce with the United States, though much less pronounced, and with some important exceptions. The reduction of the Canadian dollar will also ease a little the price shock to British tables, which are largely supplied by Canadian wheat, since the pound buys ten per cent. more Canadian dollars than it does American.

* * *

American goods will cost Canada ten per cent. more, and while this country does not import from the United States the vast quantities in excess of exports which Britain does, nevertheless Canada has an unfavourable American trade balance and many household and industrial needs are partially supplied by the United States. These will cost Canadians more, but not to such an extent that the cost of living will be seriously increased.

* * *

The increases should be more than compensated for by a fillip given to industry; by a substantial increase in our export of gold (the trading on the mining stock market Monday and Tuesday indicated how profitable this may be); by more American buying of Canadian goods, since they will be ten per cent cheaper; by an increased American tourist trade, and more spending by them when they are in Canada, their dollar bill now being worth $1.10; and by some re-direction of commerce. If Canada produces the same article as the U.S. it may be able to undersell the U.S. in the British market; reciprocally, if Britain produces articles which formerly Canada bought in the United States, it should be financially advantageous for Canada to buy the British article at the cheap pound value.

* * *

Canada's dollar shortage should be appreciably lessened by these positive factors. A negative one is this. Despite regulations and restrictions against Canadian spending in the United States, Canadians have still managed to splurge many million dollars of precious American currency on junkets across the border. They will be more careful of their spending now that every U.S. dollar they use actually costs them $1.10.

* * *

Internationally these financial manoeuvres seem to work out disadvantageously for the American manufacturers and farmers. They do, insofar as the U.S. depend on exports, but the American domestic market is so vast that some reduction in exports will not be crippling. Nevertheless, a word of praise must go to the Americans for taking these devaluations without whimpering, and for praising them. It does not seem that the American government is going to take tariff action against imports. Mr. Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps had some assurance on that score when they were in Washington. In the long run, the American taxpayer should benefit, for it is hoped that the devaluations will make further E.R.P. millions unnecessary after 1952. The American taxpayers have had to provide the cash for this Marshall Plan aid.

* * *

Nineteen countries devalued their currencies in 36 hours. Such a basic readjustment of monetary values is certainly accompanied by glancing blows which will make economies reel. But it should not be long before they recover and find a new and easier equilibrium than they have had in the last several years.

Monday Fortunes

Now that the plop of the drop of the pound and Canadian dollar is only an echo, and financial rippies have spent themselves, we look around to see which of our friends made his pile on Monday. The stories are variations of a theme: "Now if only I had bought so-and-so on Friday or Saturday! Wasn't I a dunderhead not to realize what was coming? Everybody knew that Cripps was going to make an important speech. What could it be but announcement of devaluation? And if the pound went down, why of course, our dollar would have to be devalued."

Everybody talks about how much the other fellow made, but the other fellow does not turn up with his Monday fortune. And he in turn knows a fellow who did make a killing.

We probably do not move in the proper circles; if we did, we would have done our buying of mining stock a week or a month ago, or hoarded (illegally) a million American dollar bills in an old sock in the coal bin. Or we would have found a diamond mine in Dummer and high-hatted all the smaller-visioned people who fondly dream of making a killing of a few tens of thousands of dollars on a chimerical stock market.

Dear Mr. Editor

We have received in the last week half a dozen letters [illegible] which have not and will not appear in our Letters To The Editor space. The reason is entirely that they were not signed. We do upon request publish letters under pen-names, such as "Indignant", "Interested Reader", and the like, but in each case we must have the proper name and address of the writer, even though we do not publish his name. We like, of course, to print the writer's own name, for then the letter carries more weight and gives greater validity to the theme.

* * *

Among the fondest dreams of Canadian editors must be a correspondence as rich, varied, informative and argumentative as the London Times carries from day to day. Britons, and people all over the world, use the Times Letters To The Editor space as a public forum to discuss matters ranging from the first snowfall and unusual birds to the state of the nation and world. We were enviously reading last night a fifty-page pamphlet put out by the Times on "The Dollar Gap". It included six editorials and special articles on the subject, and letters to the editor from more than forty correspondents. It is as brilliant an array of arguments as of writers. They include professors, business men, industrialists, Conservatives and Communists: Lord Balfour, director of gold mining companies; Sir Geoffrey Bracken, joint editor of Economic Digest, "Exile", Viscount Elibank, director of South African companies, Mr. William Gallacher, the Communist M.P. and two score more.

We do not expect in the Examiner's modest sphere to attract such distinguished correspondents to our ink-pot, but there are many local voices which we would be delighted to hear, and who could serve the city and district by airing their views through the correspondence columns instead of keeping them for the armchair club group, the barbershop or the pantry.

The new city hall is being planned. Not a voice has been raised in the last six months about its style of architecture, the time to build or the financing. Peterborough's traffic system is being studied. We have not had a peep from anyone about it, yet surely many motorists have valuable neighbourhood suggestions which would not occur to the police and the Council. Lists of expenditures and probable tax rates during the next five years have been published in news accounts; if there is any grumbling, praise or constructive criticism, it is being whispered in empty lanes and not brought to general notice.

The Canadian dollar has been devalued. Has no one anything to say about it in this entire district? A Trans-Canada highway route and construction is being considered. Is no one here interested?

A large edible puffball was brought to our office—2½ pounds, and two feet in diameter. Omniscient as we may pretend to be about some matters, we did not know that this has been a good season for puffballs and mushrooms until we saw this proof. Surely some country-wise people must have noticed the prodigality of the puffball and fairy-ringed mushroom season; we regret that it was not brought to our and other unknowing people's knowledge earlier. And, pray, which are the poisonous types, which not?

Our readers are more alert to affairs, we are sure, than their public silence (in print) indicates. (Surely all our hard-wrought editorials have not fallen unheeded into ash cans!) People in smaller cities are reticent about bursting into print, for they know and are known by their neighbours, and have not the anonymity of a metropolis. Yet we believe that their reticence is misplaced. Even if we cannot have a correspondence like the Time's, may we not hope for such a pleasant series of letters as has recently enlivened the pages of the Montreal Star? That correspondence had its starting point in a remark about the last words of William Pitt, and thence it went on to other famous last words. Did Pitt, after saying "My country! How I leave my country!" express an ignoble dying wish for beefsteak pie? Did Nelson say "Kiss me, Hardy", or "Kismet, Hardy"?

A London Letter

From CONRAD FROST

THIS week, whilst the politicians are wondering: "Shall we get an election?", the housewives have the problem: "Is there going to be any milk today?", and at the various Water Boards all over the country the experts are looking at the sky and asking: "When's it going to rain?"

Those three questions give the accurate picture of a Britain whose Indian Summer, political and meteorological, cannot last much longer. And the big talking point is the milk shortage.

In a quiet suburban road at Sale, Cheshire, roundsman Horace Eddisford, a 32-year-old bachelor, had his shirt torn open by housewives who besieged his cart and tried to help themselves to milk for the children's breakfasts. "I can't really blame them," says Horace, who will probably stay a bachelor now.

But the milkmen are between the devil and the deep blue eyes of the housewives. Yesterday a number of them took the law into their own hands and refused to deliver milk to schools and gave it to their domestic customers instead. The Bourne and Hillier's Creameries, Ltd., which supplies Medway Towns, stopped school supplies so that invalids and priority customers could be served.

Forty-three million gallons of milk a year are being delivered to British schools, but the statistics do not say how much of this is poured down drains by conscientious teachers who got rapped over the knuckles when they used to take the undrunk surplus away.

IN the heat of 1949, the fuel crisis of the winter 1947 is suddenly remembered. In the appositely named city of Bath the appeal is "One bath a week, and no more than five inches of water." In '47, though, the order referred to hot water only.

In the North East house building comes to a halt because there is no water to mix the cement. In Maidstone it is useless to turn on the house taps after 9 p.m. or before 6 a.m. A complete ban on washing cars may follow one already enforced in most places on watering flowers. The flow of the Thames is the lowest ever recorded since records were first made in 1883.

A deluge and a cold snap would be welcome.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE snap we seem most likely to get may be political. When Cripps and Bevin get back from America, the first thing they will see when they step ashore at Southampton will be the caution that has stared millions of amused Americans in the eye on arrival—the words "Mind the Gap". The warning refers to a linear gap between ship and shore, but the Socialists will get a pleased chuckle out of an association of ideas.

For they are busy dressing up the results of the Washington talks as a major victory. The dollar gap is closed, they cry. The beggar, with a cadged coin in his pocket, dances with joy feeling himself a millionaire for the moment. In this mood, with this interpretation of events on their lips, the Socialists may try for a November election some quarters predict.

ONCE in a while railway detectives pick up for fraud one of the two million passengers who travel daily on London Transport railways. Fraud is easy. By way of test, I flourished all last week an out of date season ticket and remained unchallenged. The week before I travelled on daily return tickets, none of which was ever scrutinized.

Soon it may be different. The railwaymen are threatening to "work to rule" as a protest against pay conditions. They will examine carefully each passenger's ticket before allowing him or her to proceed to trains—that is one of the 253 rules issued by London Transport Executive, most of which it is equally impracticable to observe.

Ten thousand passengers swirl down Piccadilly Tube station escalators alone between 4.30 and 7 p.m. If the ticket punchers work to rule the Circus area would see the greatest chaos since VJ night!

◇ ◇ ◇

A GREY cardboard box on the 8.30 a.m. Oxford-London train excited no attention, though it held the top fashion secret 20 million women are agog to know. Inside: Miss Marion Stein's wedding dress . . . Today for the first time a child at school in this country spelt "colour" as "color", and got full marks. No educational revolution, the boy was one of 170 "G.I. Juniors" at the U.S. Army Air Force's new school at Burtonwood, Lancashire . . . . Author-playwright J. B. Priestly this week celebrates production of his 23rd play (critic slated), publication of his 40th book (verdict unannounced) and his 55th birthday!

Even thousand vases of chrysanthemums at the National Chrysanthemum Society's show in Westminster say it is autumn today, though spectators wore summery frocks, or limp collars. Experts blame drought for poor, faded colours. . . . An insurance company is sending out birthday cards to clients with Life Policies, wishing them amongst other appropriate things, "good health" . . . . For the first time M.P.'s will have their own Christmas card, costing 1/1d. each with envelope. If orders are good, the price comes down to 11d. Prince Charles, having his first tumble at Balmoral, now boasts a vocabulary, though a limited one. "Dad . . dad . . dad" and an occasional "Mum", however, are reported as recognizable.

LONDON'S first Civil Defence class since the war ended is being given in the City of Westminster C.D. Headquarters near the houses of Parliament.

Recruiting for a new Defence Corps for London begins this winter. First pupils now are nominees of big firms in Westminster who would be in charge of staffs if ever it fell.

Four kinds of monitors will be used to detect radio activity, the pupils are being told. One for buildings, one like a fountain pen for individual human beings, portable models for areas, and 'body monitors' for skin and clothing.

The classes seem a little premature. Not even specimens of the equipment are available for demonstration.

Still—we did train our Home Guard with pikes!

This columnist, before getting into the comparative safety of a uniform, drilled on a London office rooftop, with an invisible rifle, in the earliest days when they called us Local Defence Volunteers.

"BETTER FIND PERMANENT SHELTER, JOHN, BUT QUICK!"

Even The Irish Were There

(By I. NORMAN SMITH)

(Editor's Note: Mr. I. Norman Smith, Associate Editor of the Ottawa Journal, was a delegate to the Commonwealth Relations Conference at Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays. This is the first of two articles on the conference, written for C.P. The second will appear tomorrow on this page.)

THE days of formal and official Imperial Conferences are apparently gone. The last one was in London in 1937 — and that's 12 years ago, not merely yesterday.

What then, are these Commonwealth Relations Conferences, the fourth of which concluded last Saturday at Bigwin Inn?

They are unofficial and unrecognized by governments, but that is not to say they don't exist. The agenda of morning and afternoon debates was broad and formidable; the dark-skinned delegate from Ceylon diving into Muskoka's cold waters was no apparition; Mrs. Lloyd-George will testify the snake she encountered in a woodland path was no myth; the barman knows these weren't American tourists for they insisted on no ice in their drinks.

If therefore it is granted there was some kind of a conference, the fair questions we must then answer are: who was here, how did we work and what did we do? (For once the editorial "we" is slightly justified for I have been on the Canadian delegation but for this piece I'll try to see ourselves as others see us.)

It is true a listener might have concluded it was an Irish gathering of some sort for we were all infected with the thick and insidious brogue of Dublin's Senator Hayes and now can't speak the English at all at all. But it was actually a Commonwealth Conference and if you ask what Ireland was doing here the answer is simply that she was asked and wanted to come. Being "unofficial" has marked advantages, as I hope to show.

The conferences are organized by the Royal Institute of International Affairs and the institutes in each Dominion—for example the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. The first was held in Toronto in 1933, the second in Lapstone, Australia, in 1938 and the third in London in 1945.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE aim of this conference was "to survey the position of the member nations of the Commonwealth in the post-war world, including the relations between them, and to examine what changes may be required in their policies in the interests of world order and progress."

To accomplish this objective, and similar objectives in the previous conferences, it was thought that delegations should be as strong and representative as possible but wholly free of official government spokesmen. The aim was to have the talk frank and, if need be, even rude.

The delegation included people who have had or may have direct influence in their countries' policies. Past conferences have included these men who have since assumed high office: New Zealand's Deputy Prime Minister, Walter Nash; Pakistan's Foreign Minister, Zafrulla Khan; Ernest Bevin; Philip Noel-Baker, now Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations; Brooke Claxton; and James Dillon, Ireland's Minister of Agriculture.

This year's conference included the leader of the Irish Senate, R. A. Butler, former Undersecretary of State for Foreign Affairs and No. 3 man in the British Conservative Party today; several leading Labour Party international experts and economists—and so on and so on. To list the principal delegates would take too long. In short there were politicians past, present and future; there were many professors who help to shape future thinking, there were bankers and financiers, trade experts and business men, there were philosophers and scientists and a couple of newspaper men.

So much for the first question of who was there.

◇ ◇ ◇

TO say how we worked is easier: from 7.30 a.m. until midnight, in the smoke-filled conference hall, along the golf course's narrow fairway, over tea-cups at the Englishman's tea-hour for of course we had to make that much of a bow to the Mother Country; we poured over data papers on sterling devaluation and racial discrimination, we had maps on the walls and tariff charts and written "appreciations" of the future of the atom bomb.

One thing is certain: work was virtually continuous, though I won't contend there's anything tedious about exchanging views on the symbol of the crown over a whisky and water, nor in relaxing in a sunny spot to follow the sweep of empire in provocative argument from Chamberlain at Munich to the problems of Kashmir and the price of freedom in South Africa.

Yet I over-stress the extra-curricular work. Actually the conference met around the table every morning and afternoon with nearly 100-per-cent. attendance and the hours were long. Each meal-time and evening brought its quota of committee meetings and there were special gatherings to gang up some recalcitrant Joe or bring the right to some place that seemed to the majority to be over-dark.

Mark this though: there was not one banquet, not one toast, no purple passages about the glory of empire and how we're all boys together. No one alluded to the fact that the sun never sets and if anyone had a dinner-jacket or evening dress of any kind he kept it at the bottom of the trunk.

The meal-time arrangement was "easy." No head tables, no sitting in groups. Anyone sat anywhere and the 10 days brought most of us to a first-name basis. Horizons were raised all round.

Likewise the procedure of meetings was "easy." A Canadian, R. M. Fowler (formerly of Peterborough, now of Montreal) was conference chairman but the chairman's chair was just another in the circle of co-equal chairs and Mr. Fowler passed around his duties with an almost mischievous delight.

There were few set speeches. Discussion was the aim and to that end participants were confronted with a red light after five minutes —but it glowed in warning less than half-a-dozen times. Our friend from Ulster once had it trained upon him but he arranged his chair so that he was looking the other way!

◇ ◇ ◇

WHAT a boon, incidentally, is the common language! None of those tedious U.N. translation waits. We all mutilated the Oxford vowel in our respective ways but it was English nonetheless.

Britain's major-General Sir Ian Jacob was the conference's military expert and his remarks followed always the shortest and clearest line between two points. He played a five-iron to the small greens with an equally immaculate touch. In the realm of economics Austin Robinson, one of England's foremost economists, seemed a high priest privy to all the inner mysteries—but a twinkle played about his eyes and we were all amused but not surprised when he got the talented though youthful Dr. Rao in the ribs. The Indian had thrown six successive questions at Robinson about Britain's economic policy and rather pressingly called for answers. The Cambridge professor grinned and said he would be delighted to answer (he was once a test pilot, of all things, and his shy manner is entirely misleading) but before doing so he'd like to observe that he remembered being one of Dr. Rao's examiners at Cambridge and if he had asked Dr. Rao as tough questions as Dr. Rao had just asked him Dr. Rao would not today be holding a doctorate degree.

This is getting away from answering my own second question of how we worked—though perhaps not altogether, for the principal thing is that the work was informal, keen, frank and quick-moving.

I have not the room nor would it be proper for me to single out Canadians who played a nice game in this exchange of wit and wisdom, though having mentioned the Cambridge economist I think I might add that several of our own economists stood up to him in robust fashion and J. Douglas Gibson, in particular, won careful attention and respect whenever he went to bat. He had the singular knack, moreover, of talking economics so that almost I felt he was referring to something that might concern me and even be in my language.

Conclusion to this first piece on the conference and how it worked must mention F. H. Soward, University of B.C. professor and external affairs department officer at Ottawa in the summer months. Mr. Soward was conference recorder. His lucid and astonishingly comprehensive summaries of discussion amazed the delegates repeatedly and their plaudits must have eased what apprehensions he may have had of following in the steps of Arnold Toynbee who recorded the 1933 conference.

In a second article I shall try to relate what the conference decided the Commonwealth was and should be—and where it fitted into the world. Come to think of it, I'm not sure the conference came to any very definite answers; but we'll have a look at it anyway.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. . . .

And it was on the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. . . Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.

They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet. (John 9: 1-7, 14, 16, 17.)

He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward (Matt. 10: 41.)

Manitoba's Coalition

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The news that Manitoba's Liberal representatives in the House of Commons, or at least some of them, would welcome a break-up of the provincial coalition is really not news at all. Federal politicians have always liked the idea of a brother administration in the province which they represent. But it should not be necessary to stress that Federal and provincial politics are two entirely different animals.

There need be no friction because an administration, governing a province with definitely limited responsibilities, is not of similar complexion to the senior body operating for the whole nation. Nor does a tie-up between the two necessarily add anything to the efficiency of either.

The only concern here in Manitoba is what is best for Manitoba? Has the coalition administration succeeded or has it not? Is there any reason to assume that this province would prefer an alternative?

The place to find this out is not among the Federal members of Parliament in Ottawa. They have their own reasons for wanting a change. The information is available right here in Manitoba from the men whose business, as members of the Legislature, it is to know the feeling of the province.

Only a few months ago an attempt, strongly backed by some Federal members of Parliament, was made to destroy the British Columbia coalition. At that time, Premier Byron Johnson stood firm and proved his point by an overwhelming endorsation at the polls.

There is no cause to believe that the situation would be any different in this province, which has a far longer experience of independent politics than British Columbia.

It is good to know what Manitoba's federal members think, but a glance at the same issue of this newspaper shows that there is going to be plenty for these same Federal members to do in Ottawa during the next few months without having them interfering in provincial politics.

Each to his last will add to the efficiency of both.

RICHARD ARMOUR

Orangeman Of 80 At Service For Black Knights

HAVELOCK, Sept. 21—(ENS)—A parade of the Royal Black Preceptory of Orange Lodge No. 946 was led from the lodge rooms to Havelock United Church by the Havelock Pipe Band. At the head of the procession was Sir Knight Richard Sanderson of Havelock, Grand Deputy Preceptor. Also attending were J. Kidd of Peterborough, County Master for Peterborough West and German Ellis of Havelock, County Master for Peterborough East.

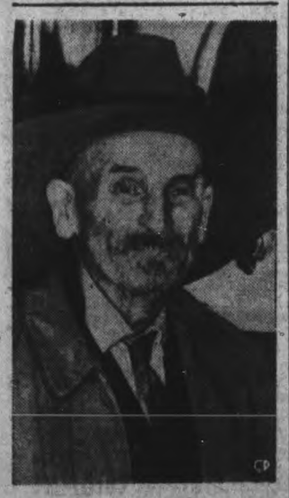
The oldest orangeman in attendance was David Sanderson, 80, of Belmont Township, who has been an orangeman for 61 years. He joined the Havelock L. O. L. No. 326 at the age of 19 years and has missed only one Orange celebration of the Royal Black Preceptory since taking that degree.

Visitors were present from Peterborough, Campbellford, Hastings, Marmora and Norwood.

The Preceptory was addressed by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, who based his sermon on the text "Am I my brother's keeper?" Mr. Vanderburgh said that the only brotherhood the Bible taught was founded on the Fatherhood of God and the redemption which is in Jesus. He described man's responsibility to his brother and named freedom, fellowship and service as the three principles which should embody social life.

Decorate Lavishly For Harvest Service

MARMORA, Sept. 21—(ENS)—The joy of harvest was manifest in the annual harvest thanksgiving service of St. Paul's Church on Sunday morning. Taking the form of a choral celebration of Holy Communion, at which the rector, Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie L.Th., S.Th., officiated, it was attended by a large congregation despite the heavy rain.



The building was lavishly decorated with autumn flowers and foliage and an assortment of vegetables and fruit. Predominant in the floral decoration were mammoth dahlias of varied colors, which were the gift of Dr. G. Hammond, who has a Government entomological laboratory at Crowe Lake.

The service was marked with the singing of harvest hymns. The anthem was "Thou Visitest the Earth" by Caleb Simper with Mrs. Percy Gray as soloist.

The rector based his sermon on the 147th Psalm and appealed for a deeper appreciation of the mystic in life and God's providential care which was not seen so clearly by many in this modern age. A special thank offering was taken on behalf of parochial funds.

Immigrant Killed

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 21 (CP)—Marinus K. Van Vliet, 39-year-old immigrant from Holland, was electrocuted Tuesday at Heathcote when a ladder he was moving touched a Hydro wire. The ladder had a metal reinforcing trip along the side and the current is believed to have travelled down it. Surviving are his widow and five children.

OFF FOR ENGLAND — Edward Hodgson, 86-year-old veteran miner from Victoria, sailed from Montreal for England aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France. A veteran of life in the west, Mr. Hodgson began his career as a cowboy in the United States and took part in the Yukon gold rush of 1837. He plans to study coal mine construction in England.

FIT AS A FIDDLE THANKS TO INNER CLEANLINESS

WORKING is actually fun when you're feeling fit! So keep clean inside. Try the ANDREWS way to "inner cleanliness". You'll find a new spring in your step . . . a brighter twinkle in your eye. Here's how sparkling, bubbling ANDREWS LIVER SALT does its healthful work:

Knox Quartet Captures Bowling Title

By HERB. MARTIN.

By the close score of 14-12, R. Knox' rink won the club championship from R. Hopkins' rink, on the local greens Tuesday evening. Play began for the season's schedule back on May 30 and since then it has been continual. These boys won their way through two schedules, came through extra series, won the group honors and then finally won the club championship. The game was witnessed by only a few, though it was the finals. It was a nip and tuck affair all the way through with the Knox quartet coming out four on the last end to win out by two shots.

W. Jones, C. Holmes, W. Ashley, R. Knox, skip. 14.

R. Willshaw, S. Cummings, F. Worsencroft, R Hopkins, skip, 12.

In the semi-finals R. Knox won from W. Perks and R. Hopkins defeated F. Dearborn.

On Friday night at 7:15 o'clock another one of those ever popular men's doubles tournaments. Choose your own partner.

Get your costume ready and be out on Saturday night for the big masquerade.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Col. George Machum, president of the British Empire Games Association of Canada, surveyed the Canadian sports scene Tuesday and, with an eye on the B. E. games in Auckland next February, said at Montreal: "we will have a smart team."

In the main, his action was a call to arms for Canadians to support their Empire Games representatives with dollars.

"It is up to Canadians as a whole to see that the whole team gets there and is well-equipped and ready to give the best it has," said the Games Association president.

"This is a national project and does not just concern the people chosen for the trip. The future of amateur sport in Canada depends on Canada doing its best to put up a good showing."

Col. Machum said the Canadian team is rounding into shape with the track and field and the swimming and diving groups already picked for consideration.

As now planned the Canadian team will consist of 62 athletes and nine officials—if the necessary funds are raised.

At St. Andrews Scotland, the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, Bellwether of the world's linksmen, Tuesday night adopted a new code of rules.

Cyril Tolley, club captain, said golf governing bodies in all the dominions have approved the code, which will go into effect next Jan. 1.

The rules will hold good for a probationary period of two years, he added, and experience may be gained to make a possible agreement with the United States Golf Association on a single code for both Britain and the United States.

The major change will be in the penalty for a lost ball, ball out of bounds and an unplayable ball. At present the player loses both one stroke and the distance. Under the new rules only the distance will be lost.

The new code retains the stymie which does not obtain in the United States.

Big Jim Mitchener and quarterback Harry Irwin, both members of last year's dominion champion Calgary Stampeders, will be on the first-string lineups of McGill University tonight for an exhibition football fixture with Ottawa University at Montreal.

The game, originally scheduled for Tuesday night, was postponed because of inclement weather.

Three other players with the Stampeders last year were ruled ineligible to play with the intercollegiate squad because of the standard freshmen rule which forbids first-year men to enter the league. The trio—Fred Wilmot, Dave Tomlinson and Bill Pullar—will see action with McGill's intermediate team this year. Mitchener and Irvin are not freshmen.

Thirty-six veterans and rookie aspirants took to the ice at Lake Placid, N. Y., as New York Rangers held their initial practice session Tuesday.

Later in the day another seven candidates arrived and joined their mates in Olympic Arena.

Manager Frank Boucher said all members of last year's team, with the exception of right wing Clint Albright, will be on hand for today's practice.

Albright, 25-year-old native of Winnipeg, is remaining home this year to complete his education, Boucher revealed.

Baz Bastien, who lost his right eye in a pre-season practice at Welland with Pittsburgh Hornets Monday night, also suffered a fractured cheekbone. X-rays showed the bone was in its normal position and needed no setting.

The 29-year-old Maple Leaf farm club goalie, native of Timmins, was hit by a screened shot from the blue line a few minutes after the practice started and the eye was removed Monday night.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Lots of football locally this week under the lights in Morrow Park. At 8.15 there this eve, Toronto Balmy Beaches play an exhibition with the Panthers. A test betwixt squads of ORFU senior "A" and senior "B" calibre. A local husky, Don Lech, is with the Balmies this season. Then, at 8.30 Friday p.m. on this gridiron, Oshawa Red Raiders tackle our Panthers in a group game, and the locals have to get in there and take this one. Coach Spike Matthews has informed his players that he will stand for no more mistakes on the field in league competition. The bungler will be benched. Down there Saturday night, commencing at 6.30, Riverdale CI juniors and seniors of Toronto have exhibitions with our PCVS squads.

Closing day at the Kawartha Golf Club is Saturday. A field day starting at 11 a.m., including nine-hole play, [illegible] competitions. Prizes in each event. Dinner at 6.30 p.m. sharp and tickets for such must be obtained by Sept. 23—no dinners sold at the door. Presentation of club [illegible] dinner, with a big dance following. Loose ends are being cleaned up at the course this week before the annual closing day. The Peterborough Golf Club holds its closing day on Oct. 1. After that, the golfers are on their own if they wish to continue playing.

Hockey Hovers Nigh

OHA squads here are on the hop now in organizational work as artificial ice will be an early reality in Civic Arena. The Legion bunch are pretty well set and just awaiting practice time. The Petes have their open annual meeting tomorrow p.m. at 7.30 in the "Y", with all players and prospects invited. Election of officers, appointments, reports and general plans at this huddle. The junior "B" Oddfellows have an open players' meeting at eight tonight in their hall, all prospective junior puckists being urged to attend. Work proceeds apace at Civic Arena, and drills on ice will be in effect within a few more weeks. Where the heck did summer go?

An early dispatch on hand from the American Hockey League. Jim Ellery is publicity director for the AHL and does a great job advertising it. Loop opens Oct. 11. There are 10 teams aboard and they play a 70-game schedule. Washington and Philadelphia dropped out, but Cincinnati makes its debut in a classy new arena. Other clubs include: Indianapolis, Hershey, Springfield, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Buffalo, New Haven, Providence and Cleveland. Five clubs in the east and five in the west, working out an interlocking schedule. Pay is good as these clubs draw well, and the calibre isn't too far below that of the NHL. Look how well those Leafian rookies did last spring.

Tigers OLA Champs

Hamilton Tigers swept their OLA senior "A" final playoff series with Brampton Excelsiors in three straight, winning at home before 2,500 fans last eve by a 14-4 count. They now meet Vancouver Burrards in Mann Cup playdowns, flying to Vancouver on Sunday to open the series on the West Coast the following night. Since winding up their lengthy OLA schedule, the Tigers lost but one of 10 playoff games. They took the Petes in four straight, won two of three over Owen Sound, and dumped Brampton three in a row. A smart squad and local lacrossers and their followers will wish the 1948 Mann Cup champs well in their coming Dominion series.

An OASA bulletin to hand, stating that 335 games have now been played in the 1949 playdowns, with another 110 necessary by Oct. 10 to decide the provincial champions. Of 209 league winners on Aug. 15, but 70 squads remain in the running. The sheet also gives a breakdown on the CNE softball tourney. It shows where Peterborough Merchants opened with a 5-4 win o'er Brantford, and followed up with a 3-2 decision against North York Lions. But, alas, they fell out in the semi-finals 6-1 to Toronto Crothers, who went on to take the title over St. Catharines. A creditable showing, though. All proceeds of this tourney go to aid minor softball. Next OASA convention will be held in Owen Sound.

SUGARFOOT—An opponent hasn't much chance of snaring a forward pass when ham-handed Ezzard (Sugarfoot) Anderson goes for the ball. The six-foot, four inch Negro end teams up with Woody Strode to give the Dominion champion Calgary Stampeders one of the most potent pass - receiving combinations in Canadian football. Anderson came to the Stampeders this season from the professional Los Angeles Dons. CP

Yelverton Beats Quaker Girls 10-5

BETHANY, Sept. 21 (ENS) — Yelverton vs. Peterborough Quakers drew a good crowd on Monday night in spite of the cool weather. There has been much local interest in the East Durham League finals, which have all been played in Bethany. Yelverton girls took a winning score of 10-5. They got their lead in the first inning with four runs, adding two more in the second, three in the fourth and one in the fifth. Helen Heaeslip pitched steady ball, with Margaret Shea catching. Eileen Kerr hit the only home run of the evening.

The Quakers scored two in the second, one in the third and two in the seventh. H. Dunford pitched the first half, B. Ayotte the second; R. Ducharme catching.

There is one more game to decide the battle between these teams.

Quakers won the first game of the play off series with a 7-5 score.

The final game which will be played here on Wednesday night at 6.30 between these two teams will declare the winners of the East Durham Softball League.

Royals Crush Red Wings 8-6 In Fourth Tilt

By The Associated Press.

Montreal Royals and Buffalo Bisons will start battling tomorrow night for the right to represent the International League in the Little World Series against the American Association.

Montreal joined Buffalo in the final round of the circuit's playoff series Tuesday night by downing Rochester Red Wings 8-6. The victory was the fourth straight for the defending champion Royals over the Wings in the best-of-seven semi-final set.

The pennant winning Bisons advanced to the finals by taking a best-of-seven series from Jersey City Giants, four games to one.

Buffalo will be host for the first two games of the final series with Montreal. Following Friday's night game, the teams will enjoy an off day and then resume the series in Montreal Sunday.

The Royals waged an uphill battle before eliminating the Wings from contention. Rochester piled up a 5-1 lead in four innings against Clyde King and Clarence Podbielan.

Montreal cut the advantage to 5-3 with two runs in the fifth and took a 6-5 lead in the seventh when George Schmees blasted a three-run homer off reliever Jackie Collum.

Steve Bilko doubled home a run off Ronnie Lee to tie the score in the eighth but the Royals came back with two in their half to win when Chuck Connors singled with the bases loaded.

King Edward Victors

King Edward juniors opened their soccer schedule with a 2-0 victory over Confederation at King Edward Park on Tuesday. The game was fast and even all the way, with the outcome always in doubt. There was no score during the first half. MacArthur scored King Edward's first goal midway through the second half on a shot that bounced over the head of the Confederation goaler. Dugan was credited with the second goal when the Confederation custodian backed into his own goal with the ball.

Confederation — Goal, Jones; full backs, Kimball, Lustic; half backs, Goldie, Drury, McArthur; forwards, Floyd, Parnell, Walling, Rose, Scharf; subs, Chesney, Smith and Blackwood.

King Edward—Goal, Halcrow; full backs, Keeting, W. Rowe; half backs, Hunt, R. Rowe, Mills; forwards, Curtis, Dugan, Sutherland, MacArthur, Lauchlan; subs, Ball, Beggs.

Referee—Mr. Lawless.

Only Undefeated Team

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 21 (AP)—Toronto's Tip Top Tailors are the only undefeated team in the world's series of softball after defeating Mercedes, Tex., Watsons 4-0 here Tuesday night. The triumph put the Canadians in the finals, to be played Thursday night.

THE RATTLER—One of the main reasons why Calgary Stampeders are ahead of the Western Interprovincial Football Union opposition this season is Riley (Rattler) Matheson, a 220-pound tackle who played professionally in San Francisco last season. Riley bolsters the mighty wingline that carried the Stampeders to a Dominion title last year.

Bell Telephone Wins Final Of Civic Loop

Bell Telephone triumphed 32-11 over Grant & Loucks in their final Civic League playoff last evening at the East City Bowl. Few fans braved the chill air to see the loose and one-sided struggle, with a bundle of bingles and a raft of errors. The victors started right off with two runs in the first frame, six next time up, then one, with three in the fourth, six more next time at bat, five in the sixth, eight in a wild seventh stanza, and another in the eighth. The losers scored two each in the fourth and sixth, with five in the seventh and one apiece in the eighth and ninth. Teams:

Bell—Greatrix, James, Ackford, Harrison, Gillespie, Conway, Boyce, Wood, Tushingham.

Grant & Loucks — Dracup, Craig, Riches, Byers, Chenier, Doucette, Gauthier, Birchenau, Little.

Tigers Capture Lacrosse Title Head For B.C.

HAMILTON, Sept. 21 (CP) — Hamilton Tigers Tuesday night won the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior title and the right to defend the Mann Cup in Canadian finals starting in Vancouver Sept. 26.

The Tigers swept the OLA best-of-five final series, beating Brampton Excelsiors 17-4 Tuesday night in the third game of the round.

Hamilton stopped Brampton 9-5 in the opener in Hamilton Saturday night, won again by the same score Monday night.

Tigers go up against Vancouver Burrards in Vancouver [illegible] night.

Tiger marksmen Tuesday were Lee, Masters, Love, McDonald, McKenzie and Black, who each tallied twice, and Jack Dorney and Jack Gair who scored singles.

Brampton goals were scored by Caruso, H. Madgett, Steele and Graham.

The Excelsiors failed to display any of the form that carried them to first place in the final league standings. They appeared helpless as the Hamilton club roared through their defence repeatedly with little opposition. The heavy checking of the Tigers kept the visitors at bay most of the night and they had comparatively few scoring chances.

Hastings' Puckist Gets Tryout With Barrie

HASTINGS, Sept. 21 (ENS) — Jimmy Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrow, Hastings, left Sunday for Barrie, where he will attend the two-week hockey school, under coach Happy Emms.

Jimmy was Captain of the Hastings Midgets last years O.M.H.A. Champions.

He is also third baseman of the Hastings Junior softballers, and Coach Emms has promised to have him on hand at Blampyre Park, Toronto, for Saturday's tilt against Port Robinson, in the final game for the O.A.S.A. junior 'C' crown.

Cards Knock Off Phillies As Dodgers Smack Cubs

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The knock-down-and-drag-out battle being waged by St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant comes to a head today when the arch rivals open a three-game series in St. Louis.

Both combatants turned up Tuesday for their climatic series with victories. The Cards knocked off Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 and the Dodgers sacked Chicago Cubs 5-0 to remain 1½ games behind the Redbirds.

The two pennant-hungry opponents will clash again today, once in the afternoon and again at night. The third game will be played under the lights tomorrow.

The Dodgers, in order to take over the lead, must sweep the series. Should they accomplish this feat they will head home with a 4½-game lead.

If the Cards win all three games they will boast a 4½-game advantage and Dodger fans once again would be saying "wait until next year."

A day after the Cards and Dodgers concluded their scrap a vital series between the first-place New York Yankees and the runner-up Boston Red Sox begins in the American League.

Both Score Win

The Yanks, three games up on the Sox, invade Boston for two games beginning Saturday and then play off a postponed game in the stadium Monday. Both the Yanks and Sox won Monday. New York beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and Boston eliminated Cleveland Indians from contention, 5-2.

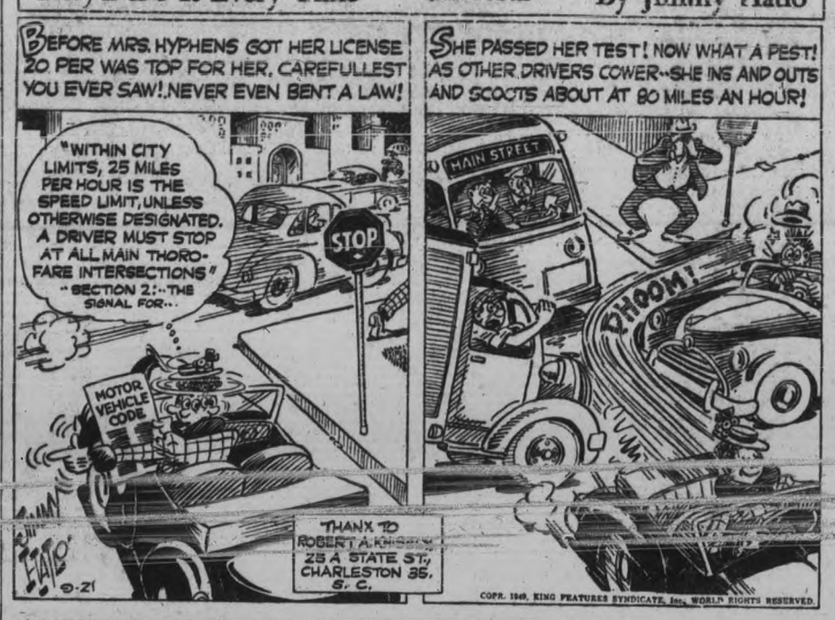
Lean Jack Banta pitched the Dodgers to victory over Chicago. Banta blanked the Cubs on five hits. Brooklyn broke a scoreless tie with two out in the sixth on singles by Ed Miksis, Carl Furillo, walks to Jackie Robinson and Gil Hodges and a two-run single by Luis Olmo.

Philadelphia gave the Cards a scare before submitting. The Cards ran up a 6-1 lead in five innings against Ken Heintzelman but the Phils roared back and cut the deficit to 6-5 in the seventh. The Cards picked up their final run in the bottom of the seventh.

Allie Reynolds and Joe Page teamed up to pitch the Yanks to victory over the White Sox. Reynolds, who left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh, gained his 17th victory.

24th Victory

Lefty Mel Parnell turned in his 24th victory for Boston in besting Bob Lemon, Cleveland's 20-game winner. Lemon held the Red Sox hitless until the sixth when Parnell tripled and scored on a wild pitch. Boston added another run in the seventh on a walk, a sacrifice and a single.



Philadelphia Athletics turned back Detroit Tigers, 6-6. Reliefer Lou Brissie was the winner. Fred Hutchinson lost.

Rookie Roy Sievers led St. Louis Browns to a 15-6 night game triumph over Washington. Sievers drove home six runs on his 15th homer, two doubles and a single.

Boston Braves downed Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 in the National's only night game.

Willie Pep KO's Eddie Compo

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 21 (AP) — Offers poured in on featherweight champion Willie Pep today after his easy seven-round knockout triumph over Eddie Compo.

Unlike the savage scrap in which he recaptured the title from Sandy Saddler last February Wily Willie emerged unmarked Tuesday night. He didn't even work up a sweat.

Willie and his manager, Lou Viscusi, no sooner returned to their dressing rooms when they were swamped with bids for Pep's services in the near future.

For his victory over Compo, a former sparring partner of Pep's, Willie collected $3,500. Pep polished off in 41 seconds of the seventh round, Willie scored financially, too. The uneven match drew a surprisingly large crowd of 8,112 who paid a gross of $31,931

Compo, who weighed 124½ to 126 for the champion, just wasn't in Willie's league. The champ's bullet - like punches nearly blinded Eddie early. Willie was in charge from the first punch, and by the end of the fifth round, both he and the crowd were urging referee Billy Conway to halt the one-sided battle to save the challenger from further punishment.

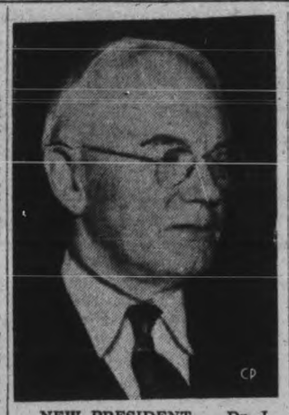
Swimming Club Starts Season

Twentytwo boys attended the first meeting of the YMCA's Boys' Swimming Club Monday night. Of the 22 boys 17 were members last year. Meetings will be held each Monday and Thursday from 6.15 to 7.30 until May. Gordon Minty is the instructor.



Donald Wood chopped three seconds off his old time for the 100 yards when he cut through the water in one minute and 12 seconds. Jack Prest made the greatest improvement in his time for the 100 yards swimming it in one minute and 41 seconds, 26 seconds faster than his previous time.

Boys who are members of the YMCA and are between the ages of 10 and 17 are eligible to join if they can swim a quarter mile in ten minutes.

The old members who attended last night are: Kenneth Johnston, Lorne Kale, Wilson Trainer, Jack Prest, Terry Northrop, Ralph Wood, Douglas Baptie, Frank Furphy, Alec Baptie, Donald Martin, Donald Stewart, Ross Dobbin, John Boorman, Donald Wood, James Starr, James Heffernan, David Cuffe. The new members are: Harvey and Ray McFadyen, Ronald McIlwain, Fred Griffin and Dennis Hale.

LEADS SCORING

Vern Graham, Calgary Stampeder's place-kicking backfielder booted six more points last week to take over first place in western interprovincial football union scoring. Lions Get $275 At Sports Day

MILLBROOK, Sept. 21. —(ENS).—The Lions Club and the Lady Lions both held meetings Monday night, the men meeting in the town visiting room, wtih the president G. A. Spicer, presiding, and the women at the home of their president, Mrs. J. W. Wright.

At the men's meeting a report was read which showed that the club had cleared $275 at the sports day, carnival and street dance held September 1. The money is to go for community betterment. It was decided to hold a dance every two weeks in the Cavan hall again this year, the dances to begin October 7.

The Lady Lions elected a new vice-president, Mrs. Harry Freemantle. They decided that they would again serve refreshments at the Cavan dances as requested by the Lions Club. The north and east groups under Mrs. S. Snelgrove, the west group under Mrs. J. T. Crowley and the south group under Mrs. Laurence Winslow, agreed to take turns month about to provide these refreshments.

They accepted the invitation of Mrs. Gordon Powell, past president of the club, to hold their next meeting at her home in Peterborough on October 17.

After the brief business period they joined the Lions Club at the waiting room to see two films shown by the Rev. C. M. McLean; the first in colors showed the making of plastics, the second the Leslie Bell singers.

Refreshments were then served to both clubs at the home of Dr. J. W. Wright and Mrs. Wrightby Mrs. Wright, and by Mrs. G. H. Lancashire, secretary

Presbytery YPS Holds Rally At Norwood

NORWOOD, Sept. 21.—(ENS).—A rally conference of the Presbytery Young People's Societies was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Norwood. There was a large representation present.

The rally opened with hymn singing, led by the Rev. R. D. Duncanson. The chair was occupied by Mrs. Grills, Campbellford, president of the Presbytery YPS. The Rev. J. M. Ritchie of Warkworth Presbytery, convener of Young People's work, spoke briefly of the field work planned by the executive.

The guest speaker was Miss Edna McIntyre of Toronto, president of the provincial executive YPS. She spoke, first, on this year's theme, "Jesus Christ Is Our Lord," and presented a challenge to all young people to make such confession as the theme demands. Miss McIntyre then introduced and gave an outline of this year's study book.

The rally day of Norwood Presbyterian Sunday School was held Sunday with a large attendance. The call to worship and prayer of invocation was taken by Bob Duncanson. Gordon Kavanagh and Neil Telford read the scripture lessons and the prayer of thanksgiving was given by Leslie Gordon.

A chorus of junior girls sang the anthem. The Rev. Mr. Duncanson spoke briefly on the theme for the day, "God Gives The Increase."

Good Showing of Horses Few Cattle At Marmora Fair

MARMORA, Sept. 21 (ENS)—With an attendance about 200 less than last year, approximately 1,600 patronized Marmora's annual fair on Tuesday. The cool wind prevailing throughout the day and the absence of horse racing on the program were given as two factors for the reduced attendance. Exhibits were good in some classes and low in others. There was a good showing of horses with Carmen Downey of Crookston, Harold Kanesh, Enterprise; Leslie Sweet, Bonarlaw; Ralph Heath, Campbellford, and Dr. R. F. Neal, Marmora, carrying off brief honors.

There were few exhibitors of cattle. Allan McComb, Bonarlaw, led in the Holstein class. Elmer Wood, Crookston, with his Ayrshires and Garnet Kerr, Campbellford, with [illegible] were unopposed. Harry Neal, [illegible] got [illegible] in the grade class.

Sheep entries were limited. Erwin McGuire, Crookston, had five firsts and a second for his exhibit. Don Heath, Stirling, came first in his showing of swine with Elmer Wood, Crookston, running him close in the Yorkshire class.

The poultry exhibit was good. Meighen Rodgers, Stirling, was top scorer in the fowl section, Carl Lynch, Marmora, running a close second and Ervin McGuire, Crookston, coming next in number of prizes.

Meighen Rodgers, Stirling, led in the geese and duck section.

Entries in the Agricultural class were limited. Clem Ketcheson, Belleville, was top scorer in the vegetable competition with Irwin McCoy coming next.

Best Grain And Seeds

All honors were taken in Grains and Seeds by Clem Ketcheson, Belleville, who also led in the fruit section with Patricia Lynch, Marmora, securing other prizes in this section. Archie [illegible], Marmora, and Joseph Gavell, Marmora, received the prizes for butter exhibits.

Archie Pitt also got three firsts for [illegible] from Finnegan, Marmora, the same number of seconds and Murray Heath, Campbellford, three third prizes.

Mrs. L. E. Bryant, Wooler, was successful in the honey class.

The Domestic Science provided close competition for fruit awards between Mrs. Hugh Jones, Stirling, and Mrs. Rev. D. Young, Marmora.

Mrs. Jones also did well in the baking section in which Mrs. Eugene Brady, Marmora, took greatest number of prizes.

Mrs. L. E. Bryant and Mrs. Roy Putnam were principal winners in ladies' work. Entries were lower this year than in 1948.

The floral exhibit was of fine quality. E. C. Prentice, Marmora, took 15 prizes. Children's exhibits compared most favorably with the best of past year.

The midway was featured with a glider and other amusements operated by a Toronto amusement company and in addition to refreshment booths by travelling operators, three local organizations, the CWL, Women's Institute and IODE sold refreshments.

Children Race

A program of children's races was run off under direction of L. Begley, BA, with the following results:

Boys 14-15: James Dikun, John Shannon, Douglas Bedore. Boys 12-13: Jack Clemenger, Graeme Leonard, Kenneth McInroy. Boys 9-11: Bob Prentice, Gerald Belanger, Ronald Wells. Boys 8 and under: J. Minnie, Breen Mackenzie, Dan Bateman.

Girls 14-15: Isabel Matthews, Helen Matthews, Stella McComb. Girls 12-13: Joan Belanger, Marjorie Wells, Muriel Cook. Girls 9-11: Carol Fraser, Pauline Leonard, Jean Clemens. Girls 8 and under: Nora Reynolds, Dawn McTaggart, Priscilla Ball.

At the grandstand Bernard Hughes was MC for two programs.

In the pie eating contest, honors went to Doug. McFarlane. A ladies' nail driving contest resulted as follows: 1 Mrs. Charles Leonard, Marmora township; 2 Mrs. Arthur Herrington, Springbrook; 3 Mrs. Douglas Jones, Marmora township.

Vic Cuppen Wins

The old time fiddlers' contest was won by Vic Cuppen, Cordova with second prize going to Josh Whitney, 81, also of Cordova, and William Rylott of Belleville came third.

Step dancing honors, as last year went to Orval McGarvey, Marmora; second and third prizes were won by Joseph Jackson, Springbrook and Josh Whitney, Cordova, respectively.

The prize for most recent married couple on the grounds was awarded Mr. and Mrs. James Auger, Marmora.

Don Ellis, 92, Cordova, received the prize for the oldest man present, as did Mrs. Frank Cooney, 84, Cordova, for oldest lady.

Later in the afternoon, Mrs. [illegible] led to the microphone to receive an ovation.

A log sawing contest resulted as follows: 1 Jack Edwards and Everett Barrons, 2 Harold Carman and John Wilkes, 3 Joseph and Frederick Lajoie.

A.P. Writer Dies

SANTA MONIACA Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—Robbin Coons, Hollywood correspondent for the Associated Press from 1928 to 1945, died Tuesday from a heart attack. He was 44. After the end of the war Coons resigned from the AP to devote himself to free-lance magazine and novel writing.

Lowest Death Rate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today the passenger death rate on United States railroads last year was the lowest in a decade. Deaths of travellers in train accidents during 1948 totalled 55—a rate of 1.33 deaths for each 1,000,000,000 passenger miles of operations. This compares with 75 passenger fatalities in 1947 and 118 in 1946.

Gets Short Sentence

MUNICH, Sept. 21 (AP)—Albert Bormann, once personal adjutant of Hitler, was convicted on Tuesday by a denazification court as a second-class Nazi offender and ordered to serve one month in a labor camp. The court imposed a six-month sentence on Bormann, but counted the five months he had spent in jail awaiting trial. Bormann is a brother of Martin Bormann, boss of the Nazi party chancellory, who vanished during the battle of Berlin in 1945.

Believe Man Tortured

GATLINBURG Tenn., Sept. 21 (AP)—Police said today they believe a wealthy tourist court operator was tied to a chair and tortured before he and his housekeeper were murdered at their home near here. Charles Perry, 70, was found in the kitchen of his home Tuesday, his throat slashed and a woman's slip knotted around his neck. The housekeeper, 43-year-old Miss Josie Law, was stabbed to death.

Buffalo Youth Identifies Gunman At Trial

WELLAND, Sept. 21 (CP) — George Szendrey, 28, Tuesday was identified by Harry Goldblatt, 20, of Buffalo, as the man who fired a revolver at Goldblatt and a girl companion at nearby Pleasant Beach about 11 p.m. May 14.

Szendrey, a Humberstone village laborer, is on trial for the murder of Harold Snetzsky, 18-year-old Buffalo high school student, following a moonlight weiner roast. On the party were several Buffalo boys and girls.

[illegible] was Richard Joseph, 18, of Buffalo. He was [illegible]

Goldblatt, member of the party which left the beach before Joseph and Snetzsky, who was a stranger to him, approached him and his friends on the beach and fired a revolver at him and Phyllis Umansky, 17.

Goldblatt said he pushed Phyllis to the sand and then fell himself. Szendrey, he said, came closer and ordered him "to call the girls back."

Szendrey ordered the party to accompany him at gunpoint, saying he was a good shot and "if we made a false move he would kill us," Goldblatt said.

As they walked along a group from another weiner roast approached and talked Szendrey into going with them, Goldblatt added. "He walked back to the fire and was like one of the crowd."

Back On Job

EDGEWATER, NJ, Sept. 21 — (AP) — More than 2,200 Ford Motor Company workers went back to their jobs Tuesday after a brief walkout. Angus Harris, manager of the plant here, indicated that a formal protest would be registered with Local 906, United Automobile Workers (CIO), charging that the half-day stoppage Monday was a violation of the contract with the union. The company said the walkout, unauthorized by the union, was touched off by the disciplinary suspension of a union employee.

Lands 30-Lb. Muskie

MARMORA, Sept. 21—(ENS)—Latest reports on fishing at Crowe Lake during the week-end are that the largest muskie landed there for many years was caught by Harold Russell, garage operator on Highway No 7 Saturday.

In Blairton Bay Mr. Russell landed a muskie weighing 30 pounds and measuring 46 inches in length, which he plans to have mounted. He was using a silver flash bait.

After a battle of two hours and 40 minutes on Crowe Lake Saturday, Stan Towes of Belmont Lake, accompanied by Charles Fair and Lloyd Wannamaker RR 2, Belleville, was successful in landing a 25 pounder measuring 44 inches in length and [illegible] girth. Towes was using a broken back plug which he had had nine years.

In Crowe Bay, Trent River, D. D. Bennett, Campbellford, caught a 29 pound muskie Sunday afternoon which measured 48½ inches in length.

Search Abandoned For Six Off Trawler

HALIFAX Sept. 21 (CP) — Search for six men missing after the sinking of the United States trawler Corinthian was abandoned Tuesday night.

The United States coast guard cutter Coos Bay, standing by the scene on Monday night's collision 60 miles off Halifax, reported that both the rescued skipper of the trawler and the captain of the freighter Mormacfir which rammed her had agreed further search was futile.

The cutter was reported taking aboard the captain and four other crew members rescued by the Mormacfir and plans to land them at Portland, Me.

Gasoline Explodes

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 21—(AP)—A train plowed into a gasoline-loaded truck Tuesday, killing one man and injuring four others. The truck was split in two. The 4,500 gallons of gasoline exploded, searing three cars of the 10-car Reading railroad train and setting ablaze buildings and automobiles in the vicinity.

MRS. ROMAINE SIMPSON, above, 27, New York divorcee, and the 30-year-old Marquess of Milford Haven were reported engaged in London. The Marquess is a great grandson of Queen Victoria. Mrs. Simpson is the daughter of the late Vinton Dalhgren Pierce of Washington, DC. She was divorced from William Simpson of Locust Valley, NY, in 1948.

Actress Feels No Ill Wind Toward Vicar

By HOWARD C. HEYN.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21 (AP). —Angela Lansbury says she feels no ill-will toward the Church of England vicar who blocked her marriage in the church of her childhood.

Angela returned to London for the first time in eight years, to be wed in Bow Street Church. She was denied the privilege, as a divorcee.

"It was a disappointment, of course," admitted the baby-faced Angela. "But I don't blame him (Rev. C. F. J. Ansell). He was only observing church policy."

"It had not occurred to us that we might be turned down," she said.

Angela and interior decorator Peter Shaw took more than two weeks to decide upon another church. They were finally married by a Church of Scotland minister.

"Everyone was sympathetic," she related. "People would walk up to me on the street and say, 'I hope everything works out for you.' Several newspapers expressed the opinion that Church of England policy on marrying divorced persons should be liberalized."

Angela is the former wife of actor Richard Cromwell.

Endurance Record

Helen Constantine, 17-year-old Melbourne, Australia, fan, told Larry Parks in a letter that she had seen him 210 times in four pictures. She wanted to know when "Jolson Sings Again" will reach Melbourne.

"My girl friend and I are looking forward to it very much," wrote Helen, who works at a department store. "We saw 'The Jolson Story' 73 times, 'Renegade' 40 times, 'Down to Earth' 47, and 'The Swordsman' 50."

A A thirteenth of the earth's crust is aluminum. It is found in mountains and gems, in vegetables and clay, in meat and water — practically everywhere.

L Long ago the Romans knew it as a salt. They called it "alumen" and used it as a medicine or for dyeing cloth.

U Until the middle 1800's, the metal aluminum was rarer and more costly than gold. Napoleon III had his own personal tableware made of it.

M Modern science found a way to make it cheaper. That is why, today, everybody can buy useful and lasting articles made of aluminum.

I In Canada we have none of the high-grade aluminum ore called "bauxite". Canadians bring it in by shipload from British Guiana — a voyage of 3000 miles.

N Northeastern Canada has the world's largest aluminum smelter. Alcan built it there, at Arvida. This site was chosen because it is close to both a port for ocean ships bringing bauxite and an abundant source of hydro-electric power.

U Until Alcan harnessed this water power, it ran to waste. Smelting aluminum needs vast supplies of power. The electricity required to produce one ton of aluminum would light your house for fifteen years.

M More than 15,000 people operate this Canadian industry. They earn more than thirty-five million dollars a year. These earnings flow across Canada.

Alcan (Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd.) makes aluminum ingots. More than 1000 independent manufacturers across Canada shape aluminum into light, strong, non-rusting articles for your use. The variety grows daily.

In addition to supplying these firms, Alcan sells about 85% of its ingots to other countries. This aluminum is now Canada's sixth largest export, a source of much needed money from abroad.

Because Alcan does market so much abroad, it is able to make aluminum in such large quantities that, in ingot form, it can be purchased more cheaply in Canada than anywhere else in the world.

Says Devaluation Doesn't Change Any Essentials

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Business Press Editor

With a score of countries changing the official values of their monies, it is well to remember basic factors.

No essentials have been changed from last week, and what has occurred is simply an effort to recognize them.

The happening is described in terms of currencies, devaluation, and so on. But these are symbols for what people are actually doing; how much and how efficiently they are producing; how much buying and selling they are doing with one another. With this exception:

[illegible] in such a way that they cease to [illegible] is happening.

That, many felt, was what was taking place So an effort is being made to bring the symbols into line, and governments are making the best estimates they can.

Basic Factors

To get back to basic factors:

Demand in the world is as great as it was last week; populations have increased, and peoples, at least in North America, have become accustomed to higher standards of living and will continue to demand it; Western peoples are conscious of their inter-dependence; the cold war and defense measures go on.

To return to devaluation:

It won't, by itself, cure anything. If artificial barriers were preventing a cure, then this handicap is removed. But if the situations continue which threw currencies out of balance in the first place, then they will be thrown out of balance again, and at a lower level.

If one had to turn to one place to find the answer to whether current devaluations will work, he would turn to the British people.

They are faced with one more big task: To establish firmly, even at its present level, the pound sterling, through their efforts and, for the present, self-denial.

If they can't do it we shall probably have to change much of our economic and political thinking.

Whatever happens, Canadians still have a half-continent and its resources with which to support themselves, which is more than any other 13,000,000 people have.

2 Gunmen Surrender

CHICAGO, Sept. 21 — (AP).— A policeman was shot and killed Tuesday and a few hours later two negro youths surrendered and said they had killed the officer Policeman David F. Keating, 34, was slain by two negro gunmen who pumped nine bullets into him without saying a word. The officer had stopped to question the youths about a package one was carrying.

Released From Jail

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 21—(AP)—William Hugh Morris, director of the Federated Ku Klux Klan, Inc., was released from jail Tuesday by Judge Robert J. Wheeler. Morris spent 67 days in jail on a contempt charge for refusing to produce Klan membership lists before a grand jury. The grand jury later indicted 18 men as members of robed and hooded bands that had engaged in acts of terorrism.

CASTLE IN THE AIR—Scottish immigrant Robert Fairweather left rents, taxes and housing worries behind him when he took to the trees to find a home. His nine-by-nine cabin was built two years ago on the forks of three trees on the north shore of Vancouver Harbor. Unemployed and unable to get government assistance, Fairweather took to the woods with his axe. His motto: Climb a tree and reduce your overhead.

Privy Council Given New Nudge Along Road To Disappearance

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—The solemn and renowned judicial committee of the Privy Council—a court that stands high in the estimation of the world—has been given another nudge along its road to disappearance from the Canadian legal scene.

The first half of a two-part government program aimed at making Canada really self-governing, the bill to abolish appeal to the Privy Council was brought into the debate stage in the Commons Tuesday by Justice Minister Garson.

He moved second reading of the bill which is to make the Supreme Court of Canada the final court to which Canadians can take their legal problems.

The other half of the government plan will come later in the session when legislation is introduced to ask the United Kingdom government to clear the way for Canada to in future alter her own constitution.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, rose at conclusion of a 2,000-word address by Mr. Garson to adjourn debate on the Supreme Court bill until all members have a copy of it. That means that when the matter comes up again, Mr. Drew will be the first speaker.

Mr. Garson offered a number of reasons why he thought Canada should not rely on appeals to the Privy Council.

At present the task of taking appeals to the Privy Council was costly and beyond the means of most Canadians. It thus meant that Canadians did not have an equal opportunity for justice.

The Privy Council at present was responsible for determining the legality of Canadian laws, a situation which was not in keeping with the maturity of Canada in every other way.

In addition the council had no adequate Canadian representation which denied Canada a right to direct control over her legal decisions.

Mr. Garson said there is no doubt that Canada has the right to abolish appeals to the Privy Council. The Privy Council itself had admitted existence of this right.

"From now on the only impediment to our governing ourselves fully and completely, is our own inability to agree amongst ourselves first, whether we should do so and if so, how we shall do so."

Company Accepts Mediation Proposal

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Bell Aircraft Corporation on Tuesday night announced it has accepted a proposal by mediators for settlement of a bitter, 14-week-old strike by the United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO).

However, Local 501 of the union did not comment and mediators said negotiations would be resumed today.

Details of the settlement proposal, worked out by representatives of the New York State Mediation Board and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, were not revealed.

Julius Domonkos, Bell vice-president, said the firm was accepting the mediators' plan although it was not satisfied with it.

His announcement followed a six-hour negotiation session.

To Record Take-off

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP) — The Canada goose—or rather, thousands of Canada geese—are going on the air. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation announced Tuesday that radio men of its international service in Montreal now are enroute to James Bay where hundreds of thousands of geese are assembling before migrating. There they will record the honking of taking-off geese for later broadcast.

Council Moves To Get City Hall Site

The Examiner
VOL. XCIX, No. 68
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1949

Ban Hucksters Increase Tolls On Farm Market

Exclusion of hucksters and the market, and increase of tolls that have long lagged behind present day values, were proposed at a meeting today of the property and market committee of the council with Ald. Grant Miller in the chair.

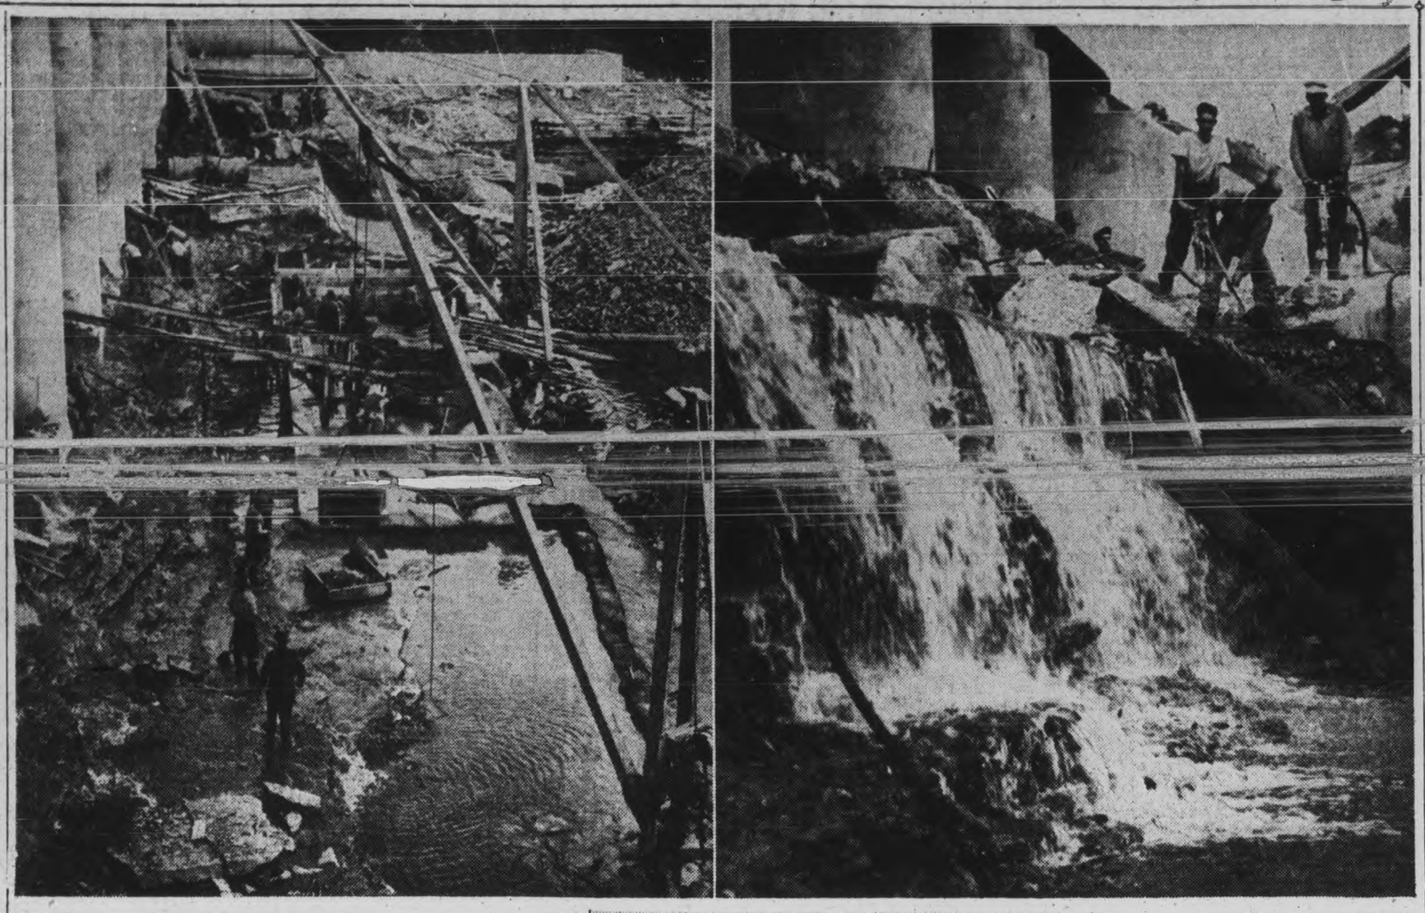
City Solicitor Huycke was asked to prepare amendments which will restore the market to producers only.

Opinion of the committee was that "it is ridiculous" to maintain at the best corner of the city a place of business for any middlemen, in competition with established ratepaying merchants. That applies to hucksters.

For producers, it is proposed that they should be charged fees on a level with present prices and other values.

Both producers and hucksters, it was said, are getting the benefit of a central place of business, ideally located. This market does not pay its way. Deficits are charged against the city treasury, a state of inconsistency which was described as absurd.

Tolls Fixed Years Ago



City Clerk Outram who had been giving the market some attention for the benefit of the committee said: "The present tolls don't pay the expense of the market. I believe they were fixed in the days when Peterborough was a town."

As to the middlemen hucksters and their long assumed privileges, Mr. Outram said: "They are breaking the bylaw every week. A lot of the stuff is picked up in Toronto or elsewhere some of it on the Toronto market Friday nights, and is then sold in competition here with local producers, and especially with our taxpaying merchants.

"One of them said to me recently 'If you're going to change the by-law I wish you'd let me know because I've got a lot of potatoes bought up.' And those potatoes are destined for the Peterborough market, to be sold on the best down town retail property, which is owned by the people, and which they as ratepayers are subsidizing.' "

Mr. Outram also said he doubted whether any price advantages were available to the buying public. "I think anybody who goes on the market for a saving or economy is crazy."

The committee asked him to get market toll figures from Kitchener, Kingston, St. Catharines and other cities for committee information. Attending with Ald. Miller were Aldermen Dodds, Burrows and Mayor Swanston

Only Certified Surgeons Perform Major Operations

With but one exception, in future only certified surgeons or those found acceptable to the Medical and Surgical Advisory Committee will be qualified to perform major operations, if the recommendations of a fact-finding committee are acceptable to the Civic Hospital Board of Governors.

Surgeons not certified may be allowed to operate on patients if a practitioner with full operating privileges is assisting.

These are the most important provisions in Civic Hospital by-law 59, previously passed by the Board but never enforced. The delay was due to the objection of some members of the medical staff who thought the surgical qualifications too severe.

The special fact-finding committee set up by the Board decided against repeal or amendment of the existing by-law and recommended the Board to enforce it beginning Oct. 1.

A meeting of the complete board has been called for Thursday night to consider the recommendation.

Under the terms of bylaw 59 practitioners will have "full' or 'partial" operating room privileges.

While it states that major operations many only be performed by a certified surgeon or with one attending, it was made clear by committee members that 'full' operating room privileges would be available to surgeons found acceptable by the Medical and Surgical Advisory Committee.

Those with 'partial' privileges will be allowed to perform minor operations. And under certain conditions non-resident surgeons will be granted 'full' privileges. Motion Carried.

Following is the motion: "Resolved that in view of the fact that responsibility for the quality and standard of medical and surgical practice within the hospital rests inescapably upon the Board of Governors, and as it is therefore basic that it is the primary duty of the Board of Governors to do all that can be done to improve the standard and that the board in fulfilling its obligations is not trying to hurt any doctor or group of doctors but is merely protecting patients who have a right to protection, therefore the Fact to the Board of Governors that the Superintendent be instructed to enforce all the by-laws of the hospital as they now stand as of October 1."

If the motion carries the Peterborough Civic Hospital will be one of the first in the Province to have such a by-law.

The by-law was passed originally on the recommendation of the hospital's Medical and Surgical Advisory Committee, and has been approved by the executive of the Section of General Practice of the Ontario Medical Association.

In a letter received from the Ontario Medical Association which met last Sunday, the by-law was described as "a forward step and one that will pay dividends."

Concern was expressed in the letter for doctors who have done surgery for some years and who are not certified surgeons. One part of the letter touched on this aspect of the by-law. It conceded that ".... hospitals and all groups engaged in the healing art are there for the benefit of the people and to ensure that they function most efficiently we know that there must be regulations." But it added: "We passed a resolution recommending that as much consideration be given these men as possible."

Members of the Board, particularly chairman, John A. Marshall and treasurer T. T. Rodger, both on the fact finding committee, stated the board had acted on the advice of its own medical authority and had received the congratulations of the OMA. That, they said, was a good indication that the move to raise the standard of surgical practice was a good one.

Dr. Don Aitken, one of the six members of the Medical and Surgical Advisory Board present, said: "The problem is where to draw the line. As far as the medical people are concerned unless you throw the by-law out completely there will always be somebody who thinks he is being discriminated against. The by-law is a means of aiding and protecting the general public. There is no attempt to discriminate against anyone. In order to draw up a by-law a standard must be set."

Dr. H. M. Yelland, chairman, of the Surgical Committee, said: "The staff feel it is a forward step in raising the standard of medical practice in this community and laying the basis for similar by-laws and regulations in other hospitals in this Province."

While such by-laws are good, stated Dr. A. R. Atkinson, chief of the Service of General Practice, they would not hold in a smaller community. He also asked the Hospital Board to give as much consideration as possible to non-certified surgeons who had previously been performing major operations.

One suggestion he made was that an intermediate group be set up for classifying surgeons.

Mr. Marshall opposed any amending of the by-law. "It does not restrict any man from doing anything he always did," he said ..... "The Medical and Surgical Advisory Committee recommended it. We can't set up our own opinion as laymen against the medical opinion of our experts."

Dr. Raymore Scott said some of the younger practitioners, many of them veterans, did not have the required qualifications and it would work a hardship on them.

Mr. Rodger said the board's chief responsibility was to the public, and as the by-law had been recommended by the Medical and Surgery Advisory Committee, and approved by the OMA, that was sufficient proof of the by-law's soundness.

OPERATION "OTONABEE", LONDON ST. DAM, has been stepped up to employ 45 men to strengthen and reface the structure. Renew Exterior Of Dam At Foot Of London Street

Resurfacing the dam of Hydraulic Power Company at the foot of London St. has gradually broadened into a more extensive renovation than was contemplated when the contract was let to Gunite and Waterproofing Ltd., Toronto.

The work has been in progress during the summer and may not be completed until the colder weather arrives.

This is a facial job. Even concrete yields to the wear and tear of time and use, and the day comes when vigilant management decides that repairs are advisable.

For the first time since the dam was constructed, its entire exterior has been renewed.

The concrete surface was chipped to remove the outer layer which had deteriorated in places from the eroding effect of changing seasons of frost and heat for years. Cracks were filled, and the structure was sheathed in new protecting armor of concrete.

As a job of rehabilitation, it had become bigger than was anticipated. One phase of restoration and improvement led to another, and although no structural alterations have been made, there has been a great deal of work done at each side of the dam, along its wings, and also in the river bed immediately below it.

Hydraulic Power Company is a subsidiary of the Quaker Oats Company.

RECEIVE TWO BEQUESTS

Peterborough Children's Aid Society is to receive $2,000 as the result of two bequests. At a meeting of the Board Tuesday it was announced that the Society will receive $1,000 from the estate of the late Mary Payne, of Lakefield, and $1,000 was left to the Society by the late Emma Jane Stenson. The Society was sent notice of the bequests from the Public Trustee.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

EXTENSION AT ST. CATHARINES

St. Catharines city council voted Monday to extend daylight saving time tentatively to Nov. 27. Their majority was influenced by the wish to assist in conserving electric power.

HORSE RAN AWAY

An 82-year-old farmer, Frederick Gudrie, R.R. 6, Peterborough, fractured his left leg at the thigh in an accident Tuesday when the horses he was driving were startled and ran away.

SHORT COURT SESSION

Police court lasted [illegible] three minutes Wednesday morning when principals in two of the three cases scheduled failed to appear. Henry Larking, Toronto, pleaded not guilty to having liquor other than in his residence and asked for an adjournment until Monday.

SHOW MOVIES

Two films, "Newfoundland" and "The Feeling of Over-Dependency," will be shown at the opening meeting of the Film Council Friday at 8 p.m. in the Public Library auditorium. During a short business session before the movies the members will discuss the coming year's activities.

INJURES ANKLE

As a result of a collision with a car at the Keene Rd. and Highway No. 7, Tuesday afternoon, Gordon Miles, of Havelock, was knocked from his bicycle and taken to Peterborough Clinic with an injured ankle. After receiving medical treatment for the damaged left ankle he was allowed to go home. Driver of the car was R. W. Melbourne, of R.R. 7 Peterborough.

REPORTS HIT AND RUN

C. Byers, of Lakefield, reported to Provincial Police Tuesday night that his car had been struck by a hit-and-run driver on Highway 28, south of Lakefield and near McCaw's Service Station. The left front fender was struck by the other car. Provincial Constables R. A. Feeley and Joseph Hanson searched the district for several hours but did not locate the other driver.

VOTED FOR D.S.T.

Ald. Doug Miller telephoned the Examiner today that he had voted for the extension of daylight saving at the council meeting Monday night. The division was 6-4, and the report placed Ald. Miller with the opposition. The vote was taken by a show of hands, entailing a risk of correctly listing the aldermen in two groups at a glance. The correction is the least the Examiner can do in justice to Ald. Miller. Incidentally, there hasn't been a recorded vote in a long time.

February 1 Set As Date To Obtain Land

W. H. Bosley, Toronto realtor, was instructed to proceed with the acquiring of properties for the site of the new city hall by the committee of the whole council Monday night. Transfers are to be completed by Feb. 1 next, and it is expected that erection of the municipal building will be under way in 1950. Plans and specifications are being prepared by Marani and Morris, Toronto architects.

Mr. Bosley, [illegible] representative of the Peterborough Realty Board Monday afternoon, and arranged for any co-operation that may be required.

Committee of Three

On the authority of the committee Mayor Swanston appointed three members of the council a committee to confer with Mr. Bosley in the progress of negotiations with property owners. They are: Ald. Hugh Waddell, chairman of finance; Ald. Adam Sands, chairman of legal committee and Ald. Grant Miller, chairman of the property committee.

The proposed site of the city hall is in the block bounded by George, McDonnel, Water and Murray streets. Funds for the construction of the building, apart from property and furnishings, were a bequest from the late W. G. Morrow, who served the city as alderman and mayor years ago.

The council's bylaw for expropriation was passed last December, thereby giving the private owners of the properties comprising the block virtually thirteen months' notice of the city's plans and intentions. Proposed expropriation was a formal action signifying that the land is required. However, it is expected that agreements of sale by the owners will be obtained by negotiations to be carried on by the realty agents.

City Clerk Outram was directed to write the owners informing them of the council's desire to get possession by next February.

The architects have advised that demolition of the houses be carried on as an extended operation instead of waiting until all the houses have been vacated.

In its advancement of the preliminaries of the city hall project, the council has kept in touch with the National Trust Company, executors of the estate of Mr. Morrow. They have intimated that the city should begin the necessary steps towards complying with the terms of the will, whereby the

Preparing Air Defence Group To Operate In The Field

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Sept 21 — (CP). — The RCAF is preparing to establish an air defence group in the field with headquarters at Montreal. It will eventually have the ability to strike at any attacking force with both short-range and long-range fighter aircraft.

This radar-equipped mobile striking force is to be the sharp edge of the long-range plan the Air Force has been unfolding since the war. It will be the air component of the standing forces the government says it will have ready to meet any enemy attack in the fairly-near future.

Planning for the group has been proceeding on a hush-hush basis at RCAF headquarters for month[illegible] R. MacBrien. One of the regular [illegible] command is already in existence and another will be set up shortly, an event which might well coincide with field establishment of the group itself.

In addition, the group will boss the five auxiliary or reserve fighter squadrons in the East which are earmarked as frontline reinforcements in emergency.

To Fly Sabres

RCAF sources say the first two regular squadrons will fly British Vampire and, later, Canadian-built, US-designed F86 Sabres.

Current plans call for establishment of another squadron or squadrons when Canada's own long-range, all-weather Interceptor is ready, but this will depend on how much money is available. The plane, being developed at Malton, will be test-flown this year.

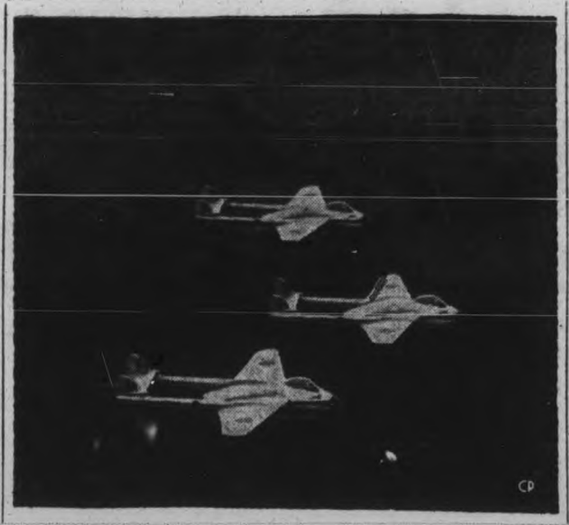
Airfields at Bagotville and at Mont Joli, Que., and at Chatham, NB, have been reopened to accommodate the new development. The beginnings of a radar screen have started to take shape around Montreal and Toronto and will later envelop other strategic targets.

Maritime Squadron

The RCAF is establishing a Maritime squadron at Greenwood, NS, to do anti-submarine, coastal reconnaissance and general Navy co-operation work It fill fly four-engined Lancasters There also are two reserve tactical bomber squadrons.

But Canada makes no pretence of trying to maintain a strategic bombing force That will be left to the British and Americans

In the meantime, in the background of this, officials describe the force as "approaching the final stages of building its trained manpower, aircraft and equipment up to the organization planned as a peacetime force." Its regular strength is roughly 15,500 and its authorized total is [illegible] planes are being [illegible] completed.



[illegible] ally by its headquarters here and has two regional commands with headquarters at Trenton and Edmonton, and another three group headquarters under the commands. There are two functional commands, maintenance and transport.

Racing Driver Killed

FOXBORO, Mass., Sept. 21—(AP)—Lloyd O'Brien, of Charlton, N.S., well known harness horse racing driver, Tuesday was killed in an auto crash at the entrance to the Foxboro track. O'Brien, 37, was thrown from the car head first into a signpost. He died two hours later.

Irish Author Dies

BELFAST, Sept. 21—(AP) — George Shiels, an author whose plays kept Irish audiences chuckling for years, died Tuesday at Ballynaught, County Antrim. He was 63. He wrote "Bedmates," "Paul Twyning," "The Retrievers," "Cartney and Kevney," "Professor Tim," "Mountain Dew," "The New Gossoon," "The Passing Day," "The Jailbird," "Quin's Secret" and "Neal Maquade."

AIR WEAPONS.—Here are three of the British Vampire [illegible] the RCAF uses. There are some 70 of them in Canada but they will not be replaced when they deteriorate. Their place will be taken by Canadian-built, U.S.-designed, F-86 Sabres.

Marybelle McFayden Has Birthday Party

HASTINGS, Sept. 21—(ENS)—Marybelle McFayden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McFayden, entertained her friends at a birthday party on Saturday. The afternoon was spent playing games and contests. Mrs. McFayden assisted by Doreen Dunlay, served lunch. Guests were Leona and Diane McGee, Phyllis Bolton, Margaret Lamey, Doreen Smith, Lillian Little, Bernard Dunlap and Elizabeth Orr.

Gas Prices Will Rise

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP) — Oil company officials said Tuesday night that, as a result of devaluation of the Canadian dollar, price increases for gasoline, fuel oil and oil products are "inevitable." They said, however, that it was too early yet to predict the extent of the increases or how soon they will come.

Find Body At Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 21—(CP)—The watchman at the landing slip of the steamer Maid of the Mist Tuesday night found the body of an unidentified man in the Niagara River under the falls. Police said the man, a Negro, probably was one reported Friday by a tourist to have plunged over the falls.

To Confer Degrees

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws will be conferred Oct. 3 on the Marquess of Salisbury, opposition leader in Britain's House of Lords, and Baron Webb-Johnson, president of the Royal College of Surgeons, Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, announced Tuesday night. Lord Salisbury will deliver a convocation address.

Not Much Difference

OTTAWA, Sept. 21—(CP) — Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Tuesday night there is not much difference between farm prices in Canada and the United States. Some Canadian prices were higher and the government thought they were justifiable, he said. When price controls were removed in the United States prices for farm products rose rapidly. Canadian prices were never allowed to go so high. The government felt that in view of that it was justifiable for Canadian prices to remain for a time higher than those in the United States.

Mrs. Rusaw served lunch.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Stanley Johnson's home on October 12 in the afternoon.

ENTIRELY NEW - - - - PRE-COOKED MINUTE RICE FOR "Quick-Quick" MEALS

Miracle-Quick Meals Possible with Minute Rice

By Frances Barton

Home at 6—dinner at 6.30! That's the miracle made possible in the homes of busy housewives and clever career girls, by new Minute Rice.

A big bowl of fluffy, snowy-white rice to accompany stew made the previous night . . . rice to go with broiled steak or fish or meat patties—this new, modern way, it can be ready in little longer than it takes to set the table! (Compare the time needed for potato-fixing—all that tiresome scrubbing or peeling and slicing!)

With Minute Rice, you just empty the package into water, bring to the boil—then cover and keep warm for 10 minutes.

But you'll probably enjoy your most spectacular quick-meal triumphs when you use Minute Rice in a brand-new kind of quick cookery. For instance, with no dessert ready, and dinner practically upon you—you might try the delicious Apple Rice for which I give the recipe here. Or for unexpected company, you could make a delightful supper with Pink Rice and scrambled eggs. You'll think of many other such ideas yourself.

Pink Rice

Prepare Minute Rice according to package directions, substituting 2 cups well-seasoned tomato juice for the 1¾ cups water called for on package.

Apple Rice

¾ cup (one-half 5½-ounce package) Minute Rice
1½ cups apple juice
3 tablespoons brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash of salt
1 tablespoon butter

Combine Minute Rice and apple juice in saucepan. Bring to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat, cover, and let stand 10 minutes. Stir in other ingredients. Serve warm with plain or whipped cream. Makes 4 servings.

Chicken-Rice Supreme

1½ cups (5½-ounce package) Minute Rice
¼ cup dried currants
¾ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups water
2 tablespoons butter
1 can (10-ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
½ to 1 teaspoon curry powder (may be omitted)
½ cup milk
1 cup diced cooked chicken

Combine Minute Rice, currants, salt, and water in saucepan. Bring to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat, cover, and let stand 10 minutes. Add butter.

Meanwhile, combine soup, curry powder, and milk in another saucepan and mix well. Add the chicken, and salt and pepper to taste. Place over low heat until thoroughly heated, stirring occasionally. Arrange in one half of large serving dish, filling other half with currant rice. Garnish with parsley. The currant rice is equally delicious with creamed veal. Makes 4 servings.

MIRACLE-WORKING NEW RICE MAKES QUICKER, MORE SATISFYING FAMILY MEALS

Here's wonderful news for all women who appreciate meal-making shortcuts. Minute Rice—a completely new and revolutionary rice that's pre-cooked for time and fuel saving—is now on the market.

Women who have always considered rice dishes tempting enough, and popular enough with the family, to be worth the frankly long and troublesome business of cooking the regular kind, will find Minute Rice a revelation. For it is different from all other kinds of rice. Tastes more delicious than old-fashioned rice—yet it is prepared with a fraction of the work, in a fraction of the time. Minute Rice is not cooked like ordinary rice.

Sure to Keep her Young Husband well and properly fed, is the bride who discovers the speed and simplicity of new, delicious pre-cooked Minute Rice. A boon to the career girl turned homemaker, because it makes absolutely failure-proof main-course dishes and desserts . . . and helps expensive foods go farther!

Far Quicker to Fix Than Potatoes

Not only is fluffy, snow-white rice a delightful change from the usual dinnertime potatoes, but with Minute Rice it's so much quicker and easier to serve.

Minute Rice takes much less time to prepare than even plain boiled potatoes. You just add Minute Rice to water and bring to the boil. No more cooking is needed. And it can't go wrong. You get perfect, fluffy, delicious rice, every time.

No Washing, No Rinsing No Steaming, No Draining

There's no trick to cooking with Minute Rice. For plain cooked rice, you simply empty the contents of the red-white-and-blue Minute Rice package into water, bring to a boil, keep warm 10 minutes—and Presto! You have fluffy, snowy-white rice—each grain tender, separate and delicious—ready for serving with your favorite stew or curry or creamed dish . . . with broiled steak or fish . . . with scrambled eggs or fried chicken. Only 10 minutes' preparation time, compared to the old way which takes 35 to 40 minutes. Only one saucepan required—no sticky pot or sieve to wash.

Then there's a whole host of quick main-course dishes and desserts that can be made with Minute Rice—in a fraction of the usual time, with a fraction of the work. And results are so much more satisfying—sure to be outstanding every time.

New Quick-Meal Cookery

Minute Rice makes possible a brand-new kind of menu-planning. It is prepared with far less work, and ready for serving in far shorter time, than potatoes or macaroni or noodles. It can be the basis of endless easy-to-fix, appealing, thrifty luncheon and supper and dinner dishes . . . a quick, nourishing addition to consommé or vegetable soup . . . the "quick-quick" ingredient of many delicious, satisfying, economical desserts.

99 New Cases Come To Notice Children's Aid

Staff members of the Children's Aid Society made 1291 visits to families during June, July and August and had 360 office interviews. The visits and interviews concerned 471 cases of family circumstances unsatisfactory to a happy home life for children. Of the 471 cases, 99 had come to the notice of the Society for the first time during the three month period. These statistics were presented to a meeting of the Board in the City Building Tuesday by Miss R. Young, supervisor of the Society.

Eighteen children were admitted to the care of the Society and 15 unmarried parent cases came to the attention of the Society. Problems were ill treatment, delinquency of children, desertion, divorce, drunkenness, illness, imprisonment, marital discord, non-support and separation.

Lack of an adult approach to the problems of parents is largely responsible for much of the trouble, Miss Young told the Board. Trivialities assume undue proportions an doften result in serious marital discord and separations, she said.

Of the 18 children taken into the Society's care, one was a case of illness in the home, two were found without supervision, in one case the parents failed to provide a home for the child. Three born out of wedlock could not be placed for adoption and were made wards, two children were transferred from other societies when they came to live in the Peterborough community, five children were placed for adoption and adoption was completed for four others for whom applications had been made.

Four children returned to their own parents, who had established a home for them.

Six children, wards of the Society, who had been in pay care, were transferred to free care on an adoption probation basis, all but one remaining in the homes in which they had previously been living. The children's ages ranged from one year to 12.

With the absence of a number of Peterborough residents during the summer, the Society has had difficulty in finding sufficient homes for babies. Some foster mothers took a second baby during that difficult period.

Assistance Sought

Of the 15 unmarried parents, five requested assistance in planning for their children, three wished assistance in getting maintenance from the fathers, two were cases where inadequate provision was being made for the children and five mothers wished no assistance. It is difficult to give adequate assistance to these girls unless they contact the Society a considerable length of time before confinement, Miss Young said.

Thirty-eight children under the care of the Society had dental care during the summer, Miss Young reported.

The Kiwanis Club donated $300 to send children to the "Y" camps. One girl was sent to camp by the Business and Professional Women's Club, two by the Agnes Neill I.O.D.E. and one boy by a private donor. A total of 25 children went to the "Y" camps.

Probation officers of the Society attended 46 court hearings during the three months period. Three were in the juvenile division and 43 in Family Court.

In presenting the Shelter report to the Board covering activities during the three months, Mrs. D. T. Diplock announced various types of donations including clothes, food etc. from the following:

Mrs. D. A. Loucks, King Edward Home and School Association, Knox Sunday School, Mark Street Women's Association, Westclox, Miss Fairburn, SS 2, Smith, Max Archer, Feed Department Quaker Oats, Stewart Hall Red Cross, Salvation Army, Mrs. Lillian Hall, Mrs. E. C. Williams, Park Street Alliance Tabernacle, Outboard Marine Social and Athletic Club, Mr. Goodall, Canadian Legion, Mrs. L. Yeotes, Leon Fedman and Harry Doall, both of Long Beach, NY, who donated muskies, Peterborough Minor Lacrosse Association, Cummings Home Bakery, Buckhorn, Quaker Oats Fellowship Association, Order of Eastern Star, Fish and Game Wardens Trotter and Windsor, St. James' Church, Mrs. Joseph Finnie, Mrs. K. Lech, Allied Labor Council, Major Bennett Chapter IODE, Junior Welfare League, Oddfellows, Mrs. W. Fanning and Mrs. C. H. Crowe. There was also an anonymous gift of clothing.

Mrs. R. P. Best, R. S. Wood, Mrs. O. Laderach, Mrs. Lorne Foster, A. J. Poolman, Mrs. S. Northrop, Mrs. Tobin, Mrs Cole, Mrs. Herbert Young, Mrs. Earl Ephgrave, George Street Women's Association, and Peterborough Exhibition Board.

RED THREAT?—Residents of Piedmont, Calif., were startled to see floating lazily overhead a giant balloon bearing a bright red hammer-and-sickle insignia. Closer investigation by local police revealed the balloon was of a type that takes a limited ride on a liberal shot of hot air. Police also noted that the airborne mystery came from the direction of the University of California campus.

Murder and Suicide

YORKTON, Sask., Sept. 21 (CP)—A coroner's jury Tuesday found that farmer George Darichuk shot his 29-year-old wife, Polly, to death and then committed suicide. Their bodies were found on Aug. 19 at Fitzmaurice, 40 miles northwest of here.

Grandmothers Meet At Belmont

HAVELOCK, Sept. 21 (ENS)—Belmont Women's Institute observed the annual Grandmothers Day recently, when 10 grandmothers met in Belmont Township Hall. Mrs. George Smith was awarded a prize for being the oldest grandmother present, and the prize for the youngest grandmother with the most grandchildren went to Mrs. William Ketchen.

An address was presented by Mrs Harry Scott on the motto: "Youth is a garden of roses and age a crown of success." A chorus was sung by the grandmothers, "What a Friend we have in Jesus" and the others in attendance sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

A reading was given by Mrs. G. Hartin and a solo was sung by Mrs. W. Gadsby. Mrs. H. Scott was the accompanist for the program which included community singing.

During the business session an old-time tea meeting was planned for October 21. It was decided to donate one dollar toward the third prize for the oratorical contest open to the public schools of the district. The members answered the roll call by giving the maiden name of their paternal grandmothers. The president, Mrs. Charles Ellis, presided, and lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Convicted Of Poisoning

WATERBORO, S. C., Sept. 21. (AP) — Wyman Hiott, 60-year-convicted of poisoning his 80-year-old invalid sister and burying her under a pig pen. A jury found Hiott guilty of murdering Mrs. Carrie Hiott Carter last April 6. The jury recommended mercy and Judge J. R. Moss said he will pass the mandatory sentence of life imprisonment today.

Saved By Mattress

NEW KENSINGTON, Pt., Sept. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Harry Kovich, 47, says a mattress saved her life on Tuesday. She was asleep in a first-floor room when a parked garbage truck got away, coasted 100 feet downgrade, hopped the curb and crashed into her room Mrs. Kovich was pinned in her bed against a wall. The mattress had wrapped itself around her and protected her. She suffered injuries of the left knee, right elbow and back.

Health, Farming Grants Urged By Government

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP) — Greater Federal assistance in health, education, agriculture and commercial fishing was urged Tuesday as the throne-speech debate was inaugurated in the Senate.

Senator Adelard Dodbout, former Liberal leader in Quebec and a one-time Premier of that province, asked that the Federal government give the provinces more "material assistance" to help them improve education and health. He moved the motion calling for adoption of an address in reply to the speech from the throne.

He was seconded by Senator Ray Petten (L-Newfoundland), who mentioned particularly the need for greater improvements in the fishing industry, basis of the economic of his province which joined confederation last March 31.

Senator Godbout, Premier of Quebec from 1939 to 1944, said the best defence against war was the establishment of strong armed forces. The Atlantic Pact appeared to guarantee security for the time being.

Paternal Assistance

He said he was not a Socialist but there were instances where a certain amount of state paternalism was necessary. Every one had a right to an education and to earn a living. For that reason he would like to see the Federal government give the provinces more assistance in the education and health field without touching the autonomous rights of the provinces.

He said agriculture should receive more help. While farmers were receiving higher prices for their products they also were paying more for the things they needed. There was little encouragement to greater production although on an over-all basis the world was short of food.

Senator Petten said union with Canada was won by a small margin in a referendum in Newfoundland last year. In a similar referendum now "there would be a vote of 90-odd per cent in favor of the union."

Senator Petten said it was with an "intense interest" that the people of Newfoundland hear of government plans to assist in the construction of a trans-Canada highway. The "dream of a decade" would be fulfilled with its completion as Newfoundland now has no trans-insular highway.

"WOT A BLINKIN' MIDGET!"—Young Ian Cooks—motoring around Taunton, Eng., in his Austin "Pathfinder"—gets street directions from the amused driver of a double-decker bus. Ian's roadster, though dwarfed by the big bus, is a real auto made in a South Wales factory.

Social Worker Joins Children's Aid Staff

Mrs. Margaret McGuire, who recently joined the staff of the Children's Aid Society as a social worker, comes from the Hamilton Society, where she did social work for two years. Mrs. C. C. Pilon, secretary to the Board, told members Tuesday that Mrs. McGuire had a medical degree from Sheffield University in England Born in Nova Scotia, she was educated in England and returned to this country in 1941.

The Board approved the appointment of Mrs. McGuire, Mrs. Henderson and Miss E. Patterson all social workers, as probation officers.

May Narrow Gap

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP).—Devaluation of the Canadian dollar in relationship to the United States dollar "could be an important step in narrowing the gap between the sterling and dollar areas," Henry G Birks, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce said Tuesday. Mr Birks said that a major economic task for the Western democracies is to "uproot the picket fence which separates the two great currency areas and to work towards freer multilateral trade."

Wilfrid Quinlan Buried

Funeral services for Wilfrid Quinlan, 14 Kirk St., who died Friday, were held Monday morning. A large number of relatives and friends were present.

Requieme mass was said by Rev. Raymond Garvey in St. Peter's Cathedral with Rev. P. P. Butler in the Sanctuary.

Interment was in St. Paul's Cemetery, Norwood, Rev. C. J. Carroll officiating.

Pallbearers were Charles Quinlan, James and Harold Conroy, Edward Barritt, Leo English and Frank Cavanaugh.

Feared Ax Blow So Used Knife

SARNIA, Sept. 21 (CP)—Everett Armstrong, on trial here for the murder of Edward Birmingham May 20, said Tuesday that he struck out at Birmingham with a knife when the latter came at him with an ax.

On the witness stand Armstrong said that he lost $120 from his shoe. When he accused Birmingham's partner, Bert McGill, of stealing the money he was ordered out of the shack, he said.

In the ensuing struggle, he said McGill picked up the ax. Armstrong forced him to the floor and McGill was cut on the head with the weapon.

Birmingham then entered, Armstrong said, and asked: "What the hell are you doing with that ax?"

Birmingham then picked up the ax and went for Armstrong with it, he testified.

Birmingham made a pass at me with the ax and I struck at him. It all happened so quickly I dont know just how."

Provincial Constable Cecil Everard testified that he found Birmingham sitting on a stump in front of the shack when he arrived to investigate. He also identified a knife and an ax produced in court as being those he found in the shack after the killing.

WA Completes Quilt Votes $50 For Church

FRASERVILLE, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — Mrs. S. Cheshire opened her home for the September meeting of the WA group of the Fraserville United Church when eight members were present and one visitor. A quilt belonging to Mrs. Frank Lackey was completed, after which the vice-president Mrs. W. G. Waterman, presided for the business session. The sum of $50 was voted to the church treasury. Mrs. Waterman read an announcement concerning the WMS meeting to be held at Bethany in October, at which the Fraserville association will be asked to aid in the worship period. Mrs C. Hall invited the WA to her home for the October meeting. It was also decided that the WA group would hold a supper at the end of October or early in November. Supper was served at the close of the meeting.

Change Rules For Plane Travel Dept. Announces

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP) — Indians, Eskimos and miners have achieved a new kind of freedom in air travel.

They are among those granted the privilege of flying without safety belts.

The privilege was extended by the Transport Department a few months ago by a mere scribbling of an amendment to the safety regulations governing flights in bush freighters operating in out-of-the-way areas, mostly in the north.

The amendment was sent to air line operators, but the department made no public announcement.

It means that unlike the urban traveller who, safety regulations prescribe, must climb into the aircraft, seat himself and secure a safety belt or harness about him, the bush-freighter traveller may jump into the plane and sit out the journey on top of his baggage.

That dispenses with a regulation enforced for the last 30 years making it awkward for bush freighters to carry passengers. They either had to install seats and supply the belts or carry no passengers.

British Find Fur Price High

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP) — Canadian fur prices soared —in sterling—at the Hudson's Bay Company's autumn fur sales on Tuesday as the new sterling-dollar relationship began to take hold on Britain's economy.

British buyers held back in brisk buying sessions which saw 80 per cent of business transacted by United States firms and the remainder by Belgians and Italians.

Beaver pelts jumped from January's level of £11 10s. to £15 In January £11 10s. was equal to just over $46 in Canadian currency. Today's £15 figure, under the new devaluation rates set by Britain and Canada, is equal to about $46.50.

Muskrat jumped from the January price of 9s 6d. to 14 shillings.

A British buyer commented: "How can we buy with prices at this level? Add the purchase tax and the resulting prices are fantastic."

Westminster City Revives Civil Defence Organization

By DON GILBERT

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—The city of Westminster, centre of government and home of the Royal Family, is quietly reviving its civil defence organization.

In a building across the street from Westminster Abbey, key personnel are being taught protective technique against the atom bomb and new war gases. In November mass recruiting of civil defence workers will begin.

The Royal borough, whose No. 1 citizen is King George, seeks to give a lead to the country in civil defence. Officials believ in the maxim, the better prepared for defence, the less chance of war.

Clifford Ratcliffe, who trained [illegible] on the job. He has just completed [illegible] Home Office Training Centre in Gloucestershire.

Atom Defence Training

There, a model of devastated Hiroshima has been devised to provide a realistic setting for training in atom warfare defence.

Westminster's setup is less spectacular. Besides a classroom, it includes fire-fighting demonstration facilities, a gas chamber, and a gas compound. In the gas compound the new war gases and their behavior are studied.

"One of these is nerve gas," said Ratcliffe. "It is more dangerous than any we've known. It causes convulsions and paralyzes the nerves."

Much of the new training concerns the atomic dust which fills the air when an atom bomb explodes. To detect this, Westminster civil defence officers hope soon to be equipped with "fountain pen" size Geiger counters.

"The Geiger counter is used in a cleansing station," Ratcliffe explained. "It registers when people have radioactive fission products on them.

"Shower-bath washing removes the tiny radioactive particles. The washing continues until the Geiger counter registers they are clear."

The gas mask, familiar but seldom used in the last war, is expected to be of vital defence importance in any future conflict. It will afford protection [illegible] and mass produced germs which may be used to spread epidemics.

'Middle Century' Silhouettes Star in Fall Fashion Shows

PARIS — (NEA) — Leading Paris creators launch what is now called the "middle of the century" look of fashions for fall and winter.

The main points of the new silhouette are widened shoulders, bulk at the top of the figure, a normal waistline and slender skirts which for daytime wear hover between 13 and 15 inches from the floor.

Buttons which reign supreme are often lined up at the back of a dress. Huge collars make news. The most ultra-formal evening dress is the billowing gown or the snakelike sheath.

Christian Dior, still the czar of designers, tops slender skirts with bulky jackets and concentrates fullness at the top of the figure by placing pockets over the bustline, by building voluminous sleeves out from armholes. Typical expression of this mode is the town tailleur which combines a bulky belted-in jacket of gray men's suiting with a slender skirt of darker gray wool.

Jacques Fath favors buttons and often lines these up at the back of a dress which is kept severely simple in front. Case in point is a frock of gray and white checked wool which owes its interest to impressive files of black buttons lined up at the back from hemline to neckline to accent pleats and to draw the eye to a climbing collar. The tall collar of this dress is typical of the new neckline look of fashions.

The redingote with bulk massed at the top of its slender silhouette is new this fall. An enormous collar of skunk and flounced fur-trimmed cuffs, for example, trim a redingote of deep red broadcloth, which makes news in Jeanne Lanvin's collection. The coat is bordered at hemline and closings with bands of matching skunk.

The slender evening sheath ensembled with coats or capes of extravagant sweep is also typical of the new "middle of the centry look." One ensemble which pits slim gown against the extreme fullness of a companion wrap is seen in a spectacular creation of Jacques Griffe's design. The gown is a draped sheath of mauve wool embroidered with cross motifs of diamantes. The voluminous wrap of white fox, for which 18 skins are banded together in tier-like rows, is lined with mauve crepe that matches the gown.

Fairmount News

Anniversary services were held at the United Church Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. The Rev. E. W. Rowland was the special speaker in the morning and the Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon of Trinity Church, Peterborough, conducted the evening service. A thank offering of more than $200 was received. Sunday, September 25, Rally Day will be observed when a special program will be presented at the combined church and Sunday School service at 2.30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall and family motored to Hamilton on Sunday and were guests of Mrs. Hall's sister.

Cranford—Stewart

The marriage took place on Saturday at Chatham of Mr. John Harold Cranford of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Cranford of Peterborough, and Miss Margery Ross Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Helen Cowan Stewart, Chatham.

Tall standards of bronze and yellow 'mums and fern formed the setting in Glen Gordon Manor for the ceremony, solemnized by the Rev. J. Morley Colling, and the music was provided by Miss Nancy Gordon.

The bride's gown was of midnight blue with all-over Chantilly lace and she wore a small cloche of the same. Her cascade bouquet was of white gardenias and white roses. Mr. Robert H. Cowan of Cleveland gave his niece in marriage and she was attended by her only sister, Miss Janet Stewart. The bridesmaid's gown was of copper taffeta and she wore a gable bonnet of matching material and carried pale yellow 'mums and gladioli.

R. William Cranford of Hawkesbury was his brother's groomsman.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stewart wore a gown of sandal wood crepe and Chantilly lace and a wide-brimmed brown velvet hat. Mrs. Cranford, mother of the groom, chose a hat and gown in aquamarine shade.

When leaving by motor on a trip to northern Ontario the bride was wearing a suit dress in cocoa shade with brown velvet trim and a brown velvet cloche.

The bride and groom will live on Eglinton Ave., Toronto. Mr. Cranford, a graduate in Journalism from the University of Western Ontario, is on the staff of The Telegram. His bride is a graduate in secretarial science of the same unuiversity.

IS BETTER TWO WAYS

1. Smoother-Spreading
2. Better-Tasting

The only margarine made the exclusive FLAVOR-SWEET way

Different! Better! You'll never know how truly delicious margarine can be until you try Good Luck.

Made by Lever—a name known the world over for top quality margarine. Made the FLAVOR-SWEET way, developed and perfected for Good Luck from Lever's many years of world-wide margarine experience.

Churned fresh daily and foil-wrapped to reach you at its freshest and finest. Contains Vitamins A and D. Delicious on hot toast, rolls, biscuits, pancakes. Makes vegetables taste better. Perfect for cakes, pies, sauces, frying. Try Good Luck Margarine today. Look for the green package with the big four-leaf clover.

Make these two simple tests today

Packed in handy ½ lb. bars, two to a package. Foil wrapped for extra freshness.

1. SPREAD a slice of bread with Good Luck. Notice how smoothly, evenly and easily it spreads without "lumping" or tearing the bread. Now do this with ordinary margarine—see the difference!

2. TASTE Good Luck. Put a small piece in your mouth. Notice how quickly it melts away, leaving a clean, cool taste in the mouth. Now do this with ordinary margarine and taste the difference!

GOOD LUCK saves you money—use this saving to buy more milk, eggs and other healthful foods

DOROTHY DIX

Apron Strings Hard To Snap Day Comes When It Occurs

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a man of 28. My father has been out of work and I have gladly kept up the home because I feel that it is my duty. But here is my trouble: My mother absolutely enslaves me and tries to take away from me every vestige of personal liberty. Why do mothers feel that it is their God-given right to boss their children [illegible] telling them where to go, what to do, what to eat, what to wear, whom to associate with and when to blow their noses? Isn't there some way of making mothers mind their own business after their children are grown-up men and women and perfectly able to run their own affairs?

Dorothy Dix

ROBERT.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: I'm afraid not, Robbert, because you see mothers never find out that their children grow up and get to be intelligent men and women, capable of shaping their own lives. To mother her sons and daughters are always toddling infants who have to be held by the hand and told to eat their spinach, and not to sit up later than 8 o'clock.

Won't Give up

And because mother knew best when her children were 3 year old she continues to think she knows best for them as long as they live. That is why she meddles in all of their affairs and thrusts unsought advice upon them and tries to impose her own opinions and habits upon them. It never [illegible] her children have any minds or personality of their own or that their tastes and inclinations and talents may be different from hers, and that she can no more steer them along the course they must travel than a landsman could furnish a chart to a pilot to cross the ocean.

One of the wisest women I know says that her tongue is two inches shorter than it used to be, because she has chewed off that much of it keeping from asking her children where they were going and when they were coming back and telling them not to stay out too long. And that woman's children adore her and go to her continually for advice because she never tries to make them do her way. Would that more women would imitate her example.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR MISS DIX: Before my marriage I was a successful business woman with money to spend on myself, so I was well dressed [illegible] looking. I married a man I was much in love with and we have several small children, all fine, and their father is devoted to them, but he has grown very careless of me. If I buy for myself a new dress or a pair of new shoes or a hat, he will say: "Now you could have done without that," and I buy as little as any woman can get along with. Have never had an allowance or any luxuries since I have been married. I have done a man't work to keep my husband's business going when otherwise it would have failed, but now he is be[illegible]ning to think himself a martyr in having me for a wife while he is in daily contact with women who have the money to dress well and look attractive. My husband's one fault is his gross selfishness. I don't doubt another woman could make my husband a model, but is it worth while for me to try to change him?

C. B.

ANSWER: After a wife spoils her husband, it is about as difficult a matter to unspoil him as it is to unscramble eggs. Also, selfishness is an incurable fault because no one ever recognizes it in himself.

However, anything is worth trying once and your best plan is to stage a revolution. Begin it by going out and getting yourself some good clothes and having a session at the beauty parlor. This will probably cause husband to throw a fit, but when he comes out of it and regains consciousness, tell him that you consider that you are worth more to your family as a Lady Love than you are as a domestic slave, and that henceforth you are going to demand a marriage that is run on a fifty-fifty basis instead of one in which he gets all the percentage. Husbands can be reformed, but it takes a woman with the nerve of a lion-tamer to do it.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two girls who are engaged to be married and we want our husbands to change their names to ours, instead of our changing our names to theirs. Our reason for this is that our names are more widely known than those of our future husbands are. Would you advise us to do this?

M. AND B.

ANSWER: It depends upon what the young men think of this. It is up to them to decide the matter. Probably they are as much attached to their names as you are to yours.

In Japan it is very common for a man who marries into a more aristocratic family to take his wife's name and I have often thought myself that when the wife had a euphonious name and the man an ugly, often ridiculous name, it was a pity for the sake of future generation for the girl's name not to be perpetuated instead of the man's.

Trinity WMS Plans Collect Clothing

Afternoon Auxiliary of Trinity Women's Missionary Society met in the ladies' parlour Tuesday, Mrs. A. Legon presiding. Mrs. N. Moncrief assisted as pianist, and Mrs. H. A. Mitchell was soloist.

Further plans were made for a Thanksgiving tea on Friday afternoon, October 14. Members were reminded of a sectional rally to be held in St. Andrew's Church on October 6. Reporting for community friendship Mrs. W. Edmondson said 58 house and three hospital calls had been made during the summer months. Mrs. N. Moncrief, supply secretary, stressed the need for more clothing abroad and it was decided to bring clothing to the October meeting for a bale. Miss Helen Hodgen asked for renewal subscriptions to the Missionary Monthly to be by next meeting.

A donation of $5 from the Auxiliary and a gift of $5 from a member was given to the Girls' Work Committee to aid in finances for the CGIT and Explorer groups.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. J. E. Middleton and scripture read by Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy. The study book was introduced in dialogue form by Mrs. H. A. Mitchell, Mrs. A. Wade, Mrs. N. E. Elliott and Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy.

A social half hour was enjoyed at close of the meeting.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are identifying yourself over the telephone to your husband's secretary.

WRONG WAY: Say, "This is Mary Jones . May I speak to my husband?"

RIGHT WAY:Say, "This is Mrs. Jones, May I speak to Mr. Jones, please?"

Appoint Bazaar Conveners

The Church Women's Association of St. John's Anglican Church held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Parish Hall, president, Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald presiding. Archdeacon W. B. Robertson opened the meeting. Discussion of the fall bazaar took place and convenors were named as follows:

C.W.A. group, Mrs. J. D. Collins; Aprons and novelties, Mrs. J. A. Johnson and Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell; cutting aprons, Mrs. R. J. Ward; home baking, Mrs. D. A. Loucks; candy, Miss Maud Rush.

Harvest Thanksgiving Festival being on Sunday, the 25th, the Church is to be decorated by this organization on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. R. J. Arnold was welcomed as a new member.

Tea was served at the close by Mrs. J. Blake Bell and Mrs. J. A. Johnson.

Students on Graduation Honored at Bridgenorth

Though need for a larger building is great, the "little red school house at Bridgenorth was scene on Tuesday evening of the second graduation ceremony, arranged by the Home and School Association. Graduates Florence McKay, Sally Hartman, Terry Heard, Don Bell and Don Lilow made up this year's entrance class. Each received a gift from the Association, presented by the Rev. J. P. Morris.

Import of the address given by the Rev. Dr. P. B. Gordon of Trinity Church, Peterborough, will serve the graduates throughout their lives, and aid many of the 90 assembled friends. He stressed the fact that for success in school and in life, there must be a definite goal. "High scholastic marks and great achievement are recorded by those who are continually striving for something higher and better," he pointed out.

Dr. Gordon said he believed the factor that will cause communism to fail is that the goal of its followers is so small that it can be achieved. With the dividing of all assets equally, no one will be able to gain by concentration or extra work, and the resulting lack of interest will cause the entire system to fail.

"Make the most of tomorrow, as well as now, by always having an aim so far ahead that you can go on and on," Dr. Gordon told the students. "It is a good thing to know what walk of life you wish to follow when you enter collegiate and be able to continue straight toward that objective," he said. "Those who are unable to make up their minds early may waste considerable time but education will help to show them the niche they are fitted for."

The speaker was thanked by chairman Mr. George Ball, who had been the teacher in this school for 15 years and had guided the earlier studies of the graduates.

Mr. Ball spoke of the asset to the pupils and the school that the Home and School Association is. A piano, new window blinds, an electric clock, and a side door in the room, were noted improvements since its formation.

Miss Alice McKay made a welcoming address to the students and friends. The valedictory address was given by Sally Ann Hartman. Two choruses were sung by the school choir, with Mrs. L. Telford at the piano.

Mrs. Jeff Hardill entertained with two excellent readings, "How Do You Tackle Your Work?" and "It Couldn't Be Done."

Presentation of Canadian Red Cross swimming certificates and awards was included in this program. Mrs. W. A. Hinds, swimming convener of Peterborough branch, made the presentation of cards and pins to juniors and badges, cards and pins to intermediate and senior winners.

Juniors were Sylvia Nichols, Gary Payne, Janet McKay, Lenore Westwood, Jane Kelly, Donna Leonard, Gail Fry, Linda Touchburn, Annabel Morley. Intermediates—Scott Morley, Margaret Westwood, Marilyn Wright Seniors — Sally Hartman, Betty Roseborough, May Blewett, Margaret Parnell.

A social time followed the ceremonies. Mrs. Cliff Hartman, president of the Home and School Association, and Mrs. Karl Blewett, social convener, served a delicious lunch.

6—In Memoriams

GUTHERIE — In loving memory of John Gutherie, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Gutherie, who died September 21, 1947.
A little lamb too sweet and pure
Upon this earth to roam,
An Angel came
And took our dear child home.
—Lovingly remembered by mommie and daddie.

PAUDASH—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Flt. Sargeant Elmer Paudash, reported missing Sept. 21, 1942, later presumed killed.
However long our lives may last.
Whatever lands we view,
Whatever joy or grief be ours,
We will always think of you.
—Ever remembered by Mom, Dad, Sister and Brothers.

Kawartha Fish 'Order' Gets U.S.A. Notoriety

The Kawartha lakes resort area is receiving a great deal of publicity due to the announcements in the American newspapers of American tourists having received the Order of the Kawartha Muskie. The Order is given tourists who catch muskie weighing 15 pounds or more in one of the Kawartha Lakes or rivers.

James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said on Tuesday morning that the Massillon Independent has carried six stories about Ohio residents who have the local award. The newspaper has also used two pictures. In the stories Rice Lake has been mentioned 13 times, Peterborough four times and the Kawartha area nine times.

Twenty-nine newspapers from American cities as far south as West Virginia have received news releases from the local Chamber of Commerce office telling of Americans who have caught muskies in this area.

Place New Lights On Water Street

The Water St. block between Simcoe and Brock Streets emerged from penumbal gloom last night as the Utilities Commission turned on new lamps of comparatively high candle power.

This extension of the line of lights previously set up south of Simcoe St. will be carried through to Murray St. at St. Paul's Church corner.

Ross Dobbin, Utilities manager, said today that Harry Beatty's wire men are concentrating for the next two weeks on the lighting of new streets.

Leave Of Absence For Repair Job

Property committee of the council today was willing to give the job of strengthening the west wall of the fire hall to Fireman Thomas Nice "if he gets leave of absence from Chief Smith".

Ald. Grant Miller, chairman, said he had reports that the west wall foundation showed some evidence of sinking, and should be repaired. He said he had spoken to two bricklayers about an estimate of what was required and also the cost, but they were two busy with other work.

The chairman said Mr. Nice had a lot of experience in brick work.

Mayor Swanston remarked that the firemen themselves had agreed not to undertake any work in competition with builders, painters and other citizens. If Mr. Nice took the fire hall job, that action would be contrary to the understanding with the body of firemen.

"I have no objection to Mr. Nice, but I think he should be on leave of absence, if he is going to do this repair job," Mayor Swanston said.

The proposal was left with Ald. Miller who said he would discuss it with Mr. Nice.

Diana Burnley Wins IODE Prize

Diana Burnley, Grade VIII student at Queen Mary school last year, captured first prize in the annual essay contest sponsored by the 57th Regiment Chapter I.O.D.E. The Chapter sponsors the contest for Grade VIII pupils of the city schools. Barbara Ephgrave, of Queen Alexandria school, won second. First prize is $10.00 and second $5.00.

The subject for the contest was Newfoundland, Canada's Newest Province.

Patsy Weston, of Confederation school, Betty MacDonald, of King George school, and Peter Newman, of Central school, received honorable mention for their essays.

62 Women Join Missionary Rally

MILLBROOK, Sept. 21.—(ENS). — WMS rally of Peterborough Presbyterial Society was held in Grace Presbyterian Church recently, attended by 62 women.

Mrs. Robert N. McCulloch, Presbyterial president, presided at both morning and afternoon sessions. Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. James Dutton, Peterborough, and Mrs. Wesley Stephens, Campbellford. Miss Agnes Johnston welcomed the delegates. Mrs. G. G. Stephens gave the report of the synodical meeting held in Peterborough in April. Greetings were brought from St. Andrew's United Church and St. John's Anglican Church, Millbrook, and from Presbytery.

The roll call was answered with auxiliary plans for 1949-50. [illegible] aries represented with well organized programs of study and social activities.

The treasurer, Mrs. William Purves, Port Hope, reported the society in a healthy financial position with receipts well in advance of last year.

After the morning session the ladies of Grace Church served dinner.

Mrs. McLaughlin of Bowmanville introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. G. C. Boyd of Peterborough, who with her husband, the Rev. G. C. Boyd, has just returned from a trip to Scotland.

Mrs. McLeod of Peterborough entertained with a song. Mrs. McCulloch closed the meeting with a short address and prayer, after which the ladies of Grace Church served cookies and tea.

Church Delegates Inspect New Rink

KEENE, Sept. 21 (ENS)—Peterborough Presbytery held the Fall meeting at the United Church with the Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon as chairman. Ministers and laymen from 22 charges attended.

The Rev. J. E. Anderson of Brighton, president of Bay of Quinte Conference addressed the meeting. The Rev. H. G. Tuttle of Toronto spoke about the 25th anniversary of the United Church of Canada which will be observed next year.

The Women's Association of the Keene church provided dinner. Members of Presbytery visited the curling and skating rink which is being constructed at Keene.

At Keene United Church Sunday Royal Moulton of Toronto will be guest speaker.

Rally Day service was held last Sunday in the Sunday School when the speaker was Miss Olga Metcalfe. Reading was given by Margaret Lang. Next Sunday will be Promotion Day. The Rev. George Murray spoke on the value of making Christ's name and power known through the organized Christian church.

Bethel United Church had a successful anniversary last Sunday. The Rev. N. Cole was the preacher. The choir of Hastings United Church sang two anthems and there was also a quartette. The church was decorated with autumn flowers.

Handkerchief Shower

FAIRVIEW, Sept. 21.—(ENS). —Miss Mary Milburn, who leaves to enter Macdonald Institute, Guelph, to take a four-year course in home economics on Thursday, was honored when Mrs. Harold Lewis entertained a number of friends at afternoon tea. Games of court whist were enjoyed, after which the guest of honor was given a handkerchief shower.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Argue were visitors to Lakehurst and Buckhorn on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Syer attended a wedding in Toronto on Saturday. They also went on to Milton to visit Dr. George Syer and Mrs. Syer. They returned home on Tuesday.

Veterans Resold Lots At Premium

On any lots the city still has for sale, the council will continue to extend a reduced price to war veterans, but with a slight change in method.

This consideration will henceforth take the form of refund, payable only if the ex-service man purchaser has built a house on the property. If he takes to the city treasurer a certificate from the city engineer showing that a house has been finished, he will be repaid one-third of the cost of the lot.

That was the recommendation of the property committee of the council today, in a motion by Ald. A. B. Burrows, seconded by Mayor Swanston.

The offer was made in the first [illegible] veterans. It was a cut in the price of the lot at the time of buying. There have been instances in which some lots were simply sold by the purchaser at a gain to him, according to information before the committee.

OBITUARIES

BERNARD McMANUS

Bernard (Buff) McManus died this morning at his home on the Chemong Road.

He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Leslie (Mary) Burton, Eleanor, Loretta, Jane, Anne; and a son Joseph all at home; two sisters, Mrs. Edward Hickey, Peterborough; Mrs. Peter Ryan, Toronto; and three brothers John of Smith township; James, Lakefield; and Sanfield, Bridgenorth.

Funeral services will be held from the Anglesey Funeral Home, Saturday at 8.45 p.m. to St. Peter's Cathedral for Requiem Mass at nine a.m. Interment will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

SAMUEL J. McELWAIN

OMEMEE, Sept. 21 —(ENS)— Samuel J. McElwain, a lifelong resident of Emily Twp. died Tuesday at his farm home on Concession 7. His death was sudden and came in his 77th year.

Son of the late Robert McElwain and Sarah Rusk, he was born and educated in Emily and farmed in that township.

Mr. McElwain leaves his wife, the former Annie Lang; a son Russell, at home; a brother Harry, and two sisters—Olive and Martha, the latter Mrs. Herbert Jackson. All live in Emily.

Mr. McElwain was a member of Trinity United Church and he belonged to the Orange Lodge (LOL 3140).

The funeral will be from his home at 2.30 p.m. Thursday. Burial will be in Emily Cemetery.

MRS. MARY MULCAHEY

After a long illness, Mrs. Mary Mulcahey, 384 Mark St., died Tuesday at the age of 68. She was the widow of the late Michael Mulcahey and mother of Mrs. Madeline Nicholls, Orillia and the late Frank J. Kelly, Peterborough. Her brother is Samuel Duval, Peterborough.

Born in Rochester, N.Y., Mrs. Mulcahey spent most of her life in Peterborough district. She was educated at Young's Point.

Requiem mass Friday at 9 a.m. at the Immaculate Conception Church will be followed by burial in Little Lake Cemetery.

Baptists Hold Anniversary Day

NORWOOD, Sept. 21 (ENS) — Norwood Baptist Church anniversary was celebrated on Sunday when a large congregation attended both services. The guest preacher was the Rev. G. E. Downing, a former pastor.

The choir was under the leadership of Mrs. Roy Nevins. Several from the Presbyterian and United churches, who had cancelled their evening service, were present.

The offering for the anniversary day was $202.

A supper on Monday night which concluded the anniversary celebrations was well attended and the young people' assisted by the ladies served supper, followed by a brief service at which the Rev. G. E. Downing gave an address.

Smith Pioneer Aids At Silo Filling

The many friends of Mr. Thomas T. Milburn of Smith township, who has moved with the years into the small group of patriarchs of Peterborough county, will be interested in knowing that he was helping Tuesday in silo filling.

Mr. Milburn is 95 years old, and likes to have some little part in the farm work near the house. This summer he has had to resort to crutches to aid him in getting about. He was helping yesterday in guiding the corn stalks through the cutting machine, as they came from the field and were blown to the top of the silo as finely cut ensilage.

It was not a necessary chore for Mr. Milburn, but quite apparently it was a wish to prove to himself that he could still have a hand in the forage harvest. There must be very few farmers of his age who could have had any active part in the season's final work.

Members Contribute To $1,000 Scholarship

The Association of Children's Aid Societies of Ontario is planning to award a five year scholarship of $1,000 for a course at the Toronto School of Social Science. The scholarship will be known as the Nora Frances Henderson scholarship, in memory of the former executive of the Association.

When the Board of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society decided that the Society's funds could not be used to contribute to the scholarship fund, Board members made individual contributions.

February 1

funds exceeding $500,000 will become available to the city.

During the war years, the National Trust approved the policy of postponement and marking time, but since then there have been suggestion that the city should place itself in the position of becoming actual beneficiaries of the large sum, the use of which Mr. Morrow recommended for a municipal building and city hall. The executors, the council and advisory committee have been in complete agreement through the careful stages preliminary to acquisition of a site.

One of the properties in the block is owned by Murray Street Baptist Church as manse, and now occupied by Rev. Ivan Morgan.

Marmora News

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Degeer and daughter Lois, of Bancroft, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Aunger and family on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McIlroy quietly celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

Mrs. Hector King, of Kingston, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Philip Flynn, and Mr. Flynn.

Mrs. William Flynn, of Peterborough, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Webster Oldest Grandmother At Party

FAIRVIEW, Sept. 21—(ENS)— Mrs. Harold Lewis was hostess to Fairview Women's Association at the annual grandmothers party.

There were 30 women present. Mrs. Robert Fowler, [illegible] was in charge of the worship.

Mrs. Albert Bulmer read the scripture and the lesson thoughts were given by Mrs. Cephas Heard, who also led in prayer.

The oldest grandmother, Mrs. A. Webster, read the 31st Psalm. A poem on grandmothers was read by Mrs. Fred Bell. Mrs. W. D. Wilson gave a paper on grandmothers.

The president, Mrs. Wilson, led the business discussion when the ladies decided to hold a bazaar, which is to be in charge of group three.

Prizes wre presented by the president to the oldest grandmother, Mrs. A. Webster; the grandmother with the most grandchildren, Mrs. E. Bulmer, who has 32 grandchildren; the youngest grandmother, Mrs. Robert Fowler, and the grandmother with the youngest grandchild, Mrs. Austin Poast.

Mrs. Wesley Bell moved a vote of thanks to the hostess. The Rev. Morris closed the meeting with prayer. Lunch was served.

Happy For 32 Years Husband Attacks Wife

TORONTO, Sept. 21 —(CP)— Earl Sidney Amacher went on trial Tuesday on a charge of attempted murder arising from what police said was an ax attack on his wife as she slept last July 3. They have been married 32 years.

Defence counsel R. H. Frith asked Amacher's wife:

"Do you love your husband?"

"Yes, and he loves me," the woman said, bursting into tears. In the prisoner's box, her husband cried openly and tried to stem his tears with a big colored handkerchief.

"I love him," Mrs. Amacher insisted. "I miss him. He's all my life."

The case is expected to go to an Assize Court jury late today.

Duplessis Plans To Run Lottery

CHICOUTIMI, Que., Sept. 21 (CP)—Premier Duplessis Tuesday night announced plans for establishment of a provincial lottery in Quebec and today legal experts in Ottawa were pondering the legality of such a step.

Mr. Duplessis made his lottery announcement during a speech here to the annual meeting of the Union of Proprietors' Leagues of Quebec Province. He said his Union Nationale government would introduce legislation at the next session of the Quebec Legislature to institute a provincial lottery.

In Ottawa, legal authorities were non-commital on the question. A high [illegible] of the justice department said "most Criminal Code of Canada. He added, however, that enforcement of laws applying to lotteries comes under provincial jurisdiction, and said that he could not recall off-hand conditions under which a lottery might be legal.

Mr. Duplessis said in his speech that his government favored a state lottery, controlled by the province for "legitimate purposes such as education and public health."

Buckhorn Institute Plans Muskoka Trip

The regular meeting of the Buckhorn W.I. was held in the hall on Tuesday evening with a very good attendance. This branch is having a two day class in "stuffed toys" the first week of October and all plans for it were completed at the meeting.

As it is now 20 years since this branch of the Institute was organized it was thought fitting to make this event in some way.

After some discussion it was decided to charter a bus and take a trip to Lake of Bays and Huntsville the latter part of the month.

Mrs. W. Shearer was appointed delegate to the W.I. convention in Toronto in November.

Mrs. H. A. Shearer read part of the handbook and Mrs. W. Pearson gave a very enjoyable demonstration of flower arrangement.

The meeting closed by repeating the W.I. Creed.

ONE-ARMED MAN LEAPS TO RESCUE OF DROWNING BOY

Fred Mills, of Bobcaygeon, Ont., pulls boy from canal at Lindsay.

Hearing screams coming from the bank of the Trent Canal at Lindsay, Ontario, Fred Mills rushed to the scene and saw a 5-year-old boy struggling in the deep canal water. The youngster was on the verge of drowning. According to witnesses, Mills did not even pause to remove his shoes. Fully clothed, he dove into the canal and managed to grasp the little victim. Then, unaided and in spite of his handicap, Mills brought the almost unconscious boy to shore and revived him.

We are proud to recognize the bravery and quick presence of mind of Fred Mills through the presentation of THE DOW AWARD.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

Freight Rates Decided Soon

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 — (CP) — Canada will know Thursday the results of the big freight rates fight that has been going on since 1947.

There really are two separate fights, but they are both about the same thing—whether Canadian railways will be permitted by the Board of Transport Commissioners to charge more for carrying freight

Both cases will be decided by the Board in a judgment to be handed down at 10 am Thursday. They are:

1—An appeal by the provinces from a Board order in 1948 granting the railways a 21-per-cent boost.

2—A later application by the railways for an additional 20 per

The second application was made when railway employees, on the heels of the first order, won wage increases of 17½ cents an hour, estimated to add some $76,000,000 to railways payrolls. The second application, if granted, would give them some $70,000,000 a year in added revenue.

The Board reviewed its first decision on the orders of the Cabinet after seven provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec — had asked the Cabinet to intervene.

Refinery Explosion

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 21 (AP)—A terrific explosion rocked Magnolia Refinery No. 1 at about 8:55 a.m. Tuesday, setting off a raging fire, killing at least two men and injuring at least eight others. Observers said there was danger of another explosion. City firemen were atop refinery super-structure battling flames.

Gave Doris Wellman Wedding Shower

HASTINGS, Sept. 21—(ENS)—Mrs. L. W. Humphries was hostess at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Doris Wellman, whose marriage to Mr. David Price of Hastings, took place on Friday.

The living and dining rooms were decorated with pink and white streamers and vases of fall flowers. Several games and contests were enjoyed, the winners being the guest of honor and Mrs. Stafford McKenty.

Miss Margaret Baxter sang two solos and Mrs. Stafford McKenty played the piano. The bride-to-be was asked to sit under a watering can decorated in pink and white. Then a wee bride and groom, Miss Jane Condon and Master Joe Sullivan entered drawing a wagon decorated in pink and white, heavily laden with gifts. Miss Joan Marrin assisted the bride-to-be to open the lovely gifts.

The hostess served lunch assisted by the Misses Joan Marrin and Catherine Condon, Mrs. F. C. Chennell and Mrs. J. A. Sullivan.

The guests were: Mrs. Robert Glass, Mrs. F. C. Chennell, Mrs. W. D. Price, Mrs. Donald Bell-Smith, Mrs. J. A. Sullivan, Mrs. Stafford McKenty, Mrs. William Wellman, Mrs. Guy Wellman, Mrs. C. Lockhart, the Misses Catherine Condon, Audrey O'Shea, Joan Marin, Andree Crate, Pauline Leblanc, Pauline Killingbeck, Bonnie Chennell, Margaret Baxter and Alethan Scriver. Those unable to attend who sent gifts were: Madge Jones, Shirley Peck, Mrs. H. Chennell, Mrs. F. Crate, Mrs. F. Parker.

Approve Referendum

BRUSSELS, Sept. 21 (Reuters)—A bill providing for a referendum of the Belgian people on the question of the return of provisionally-exiled King Leopold to the throne, was approved at a joint meeting of the Commissions for Justice and the Interior of the Belgian Senate Tuesday.

Failed To Obtain Building Permit

Putting insul bric siding on his house, Lot 1, Concession 9, North Monaghan, without taking out a building permit, cost Harold Kellar $10 and $2.50 costs in police court Tuesday morning.

Clerk of North Monaghan, Bruce Johnston, testified he called at the Kellar home twice to tell Kellar a building permit would be needed for the job Kellar was starting. He was not present each time and has not taken out a building permit to this date.

Kellar told the court he had taken out a permit last year for some work he planned to do. The siding was not one of the jobs he proposed to do last year, but he had not accomplished all he intended to do, and said he did not know the permit had expired. He said weather had obliterated all

He said he had asked the man he had hired to put on the siding about a building permit and was told none was needed.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw asked whether Mr. Johnston's coming two or three times to his house didn't make him think that perhaps he should have a permit.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, said Kellar and anybne else building was obliged to go to the township clerk for a permit and should not expect the clerk to chase around after them to make sure they had a permit.

Wheat Price Jumps

WINNIPEG, Sept. 21—(CP)—The Canadian Wheat Board announced Tuesday 18-cent-a-bushel boost in the price of wheat for export to countries other than the United Kingdom. The boost put the folowing prices in effect: No. 1 Northern $2.30; No. 2 $2.27; No. 3 $2.25; No. 4 $2.22; No. 1 Durum $2.30; No. 2 $2.27; No. 3 $2.25.

Mrs. Alec Lockhart Leads WMS Meeting

DARTFORD, Sept. 21—(ENS)—September meeting of the United Church WMS was held on Wednesday at the home of the president, Mrs. Archie McCracken. The vice-president, Mrs. Alec Lockhart, had charge of the meeting.

There were responsive reading of verses from Psalm 145. Mrs. Stuart Atkinson invited the members to her home for the October meeting. Mrs. John Coggins read the scripture and Mrs. Lockhart led in prayer.

Miss Muriel Darling took charge of a program of readings by Mesdames H. G. Lester, Earl Nelson, Charles Honey, Percy Honey and Miss Clarice Atkinson, who also rendered a solo.

Mrs. Charles Honey conducted a Biblical contest, which was won by Mrs. Lester. Lunch was served by the hostess and the lunch committee.

Couple Receives Silver At Shower

DARTFORD, Sept. 21—(ENS)—Friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ward on Friday evening to honor the former's brother, George and his bride, the former Phoebe Reynolds who were recently married.

The Rev. H. G. Lester, Warkworth, extended best wishes to the bride and groom and was chairman for a program of entertainment. There was an organ solo by Evelyn Atkinson; recitation, Anne Pollock; reading, Willis McCracken; solo, Ruth Hardy; reading, Isobel McCracken; accordion solo, Mrs. Bruce Cole; reading, Mrs. Percy Honey; duet, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cole; trio, Jack, Ambrose and Carman Atkinson.

Community singing was enjoyed with Miss Clarice Atkinson led in the singing of favorite hymns.

Lilen McCracken read an address and Mr. John McCleary presented Mr. and Mrs. Ward with a chest of silverware and money after which lunch was served. The address to the couple was as follows:

Dear Phoebe and George—Again it is our privilege to gather together as friends and neighbors to honor a newlywed couple of our acquaintance and to enjoy a social time with one another. It is always a pleasure to recall happy memories of past associations with you both, and now we all bring to you our heartiest congratulations on your partnership which has now launched upon the sea of matrimony.

In this life we wish you every success, hoping that always you may love, cherish and respect one another, and be as happy as on your wedding day.

Our advice to you, George, to make your marriage a success and to keep your Phoebe always a "love-bird" is to let her have her own way and do 75 per cent of the talking at all times. And to you, Phoebe, we would say—keep George's socks darned, keep him well-fed and let him think he's boss even though you know differently.

Now we ask you to accept these gifts as an expression of our wish for your every happiness.

Signed on behalf of the community by Eileen McCracken, Mae Nelson, Marion Honey and John McCleary.

Hold Arson Inquiry For Noronic

Say Crew Members Believe Blaze Began In Linen Closet

TORONTO, Sept. 22 — (CP)— A Toronto paper today said a secret inquiry at the Ontario Fire Marshal's office was investigating the possibility of arson in connection with last Saturday's fire aboard the cruise steamer Noronic in which at least 132 persons lost their lives.

The paper said at least two crew members of the Canada Steamship Lines had not been located by investigators.

The investigation has not yet revealed the cause of the fire, the paper said, but crew members already interrogated are said to be of the belief that it started in the ship's linen closet. Passengers in the cabin next to the closet are listed as missing and no remains were found in the cabin.

The paper added that investigators were trying to determine what had been stored in the linen closet that might have started the blaze. The linen itself was not considered combustible.

Blind Woman Tries Rescue

FORT SMITH, Ark., Sept. 22—(AP).— A blind woman grappled with blazing clothes and intense pain in a frantic attempt to save the life of a nurse here Wednesday. But Miss Mary Yowell's effort failed.

The nurse, Mrs Hazel Hardway, 41, died of third-degree burns several hours after she collapsed and fell across a lighted heating stove.

The blind woman suffered burns on her hands in an attempt to snuff a flaming house coat worn by Mrs Hardway. Miss Yowell was also burned when she dragged the nurse from her house to the front yard.

Londoners Relax Railmen On The Job

LONDON, Sept. 22 (Reuters)— Millions of Londoners breathed a sigh of relief today when they found that a threatened "go slow" movement by 50,000 railmen and subway workers did not materialize.

The "go slow," which would have brought chaos to London transport, was due to start at midnight Wednesday night as a protest against the rejection of the men's claim for higher wages.

It was an unofficial decision taken Monday at a mass meeting of the London district of the National Union of Railwaymen against union advice.

But this morning most of the men ignored the go-slow call.

New Betty Homesick For Fenelon Falls

Cured Of Raffles, Teacher Wants To Live A Useful Life Now

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. — (Special). — Brown-eyed Betty [illegible] teacher who loved an international Raffles, today is picking up the pieces left by her smash-up here.

She is enthusiastic—you might even say happy—as a $32.50 a week shopgirl.

She is waiting for the road home, to Fenelon Falls, to be opened by U.S. immigration officials. She hopes it will be in time for Christmas.

The slight wrenlike Betty, who abandoned a schoolroom and went to peaks of emotion with the dazzling Canadian turned gem thief, Gerard Dennis, was 25 last Saturday.

She observed the birthday alone.

She has this to say:

"It might sound like in the books, but I'm cured. I guess I got into trouble because I loved [illegible] I still love him. It [illegible] kept me [illegible] is nothing like the episode with Gerry will ever happen to me again. It was all my fault. I was so naive."

The New Betty

That's the new Betty. No more sobs. No handtwisting.

Shopgirl Betty Ritchie is different from the bewildered little school teacher who found herself in a jail in Beverly Hills a few months ago.

The affair crashed with Dennis behind bars in Cleveland and Betty surrounded by $120,000 in loot. A policeman yanked open a locked closet door and the stuff tumbled out.

Betty never even peeked through the keyhole of that closed door. A court believed her story and freed [illegible] charges of grand theft [illegible]

Repentant Betty doesn't [illegible] pity. She doesn't want [illegible] ance. She has consigned [illegible] self to exile in a sense.

Wounds Need Healing

She thinks maybe the wounds will never heal, but a rest at home with "my wonderful family" will help a lot.

She thinks of the duck hunting and fishing at home on Sturgeon lake, and she fears she'll be too late for all that.

Betty Ritchie is a lonesome girl. Just as lonesome as when she left Toronto two years ago come January. Just as lonesome as when she came to Los Angeles and almost the first night, met suave Gerald Dennis.

Steel Strike Delayed Week

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22—(AP)—Philip Murray's C.I.O. United Steelworkers today put off for another week the country-wide steel strike set for midnight next Saturday. The 1,000,000-member union's policy-making committee joined industry in accepting President Truman's plea for extension of the strike truce until 12.01 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 1 to permit renewed contract talks.

The action came as wildcat walkouts shut down two Pittsburgh steel plants and made 2,400 workers idle. Pickets carried signs demanding "strike—no more extention," and "strike—free pensions."

Murray and the industry deadlocked on acceptance of a presidential board's peace recommendations that the steelworkers get company-financed insurance and pensions. The union accepted. Industry objected to footing the bill and refused to be bound by the report without bargaining. They've been feuding since.

Murray announced approval by the union wage-policy committee of the extension, after the committee had met for 2½ hours. The action was taken in a resolution unanimously adopted by the committee.

The President stepped into the dispute for the third time Wednesday. He not only asked that the strike deadline be set back to 12:01 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, but also that industry and union officials resume bargaining immediately.

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel, lost little time in accepting the President's proposal. He said big steel would give the "greatest weight and earnest consideration" in bargaining sessions to recommendations of the President's fact-finding board.

The main stumbling block to resumption of negotiations has been Murray's insistence the industry accept the board's recommendation as a basis for settlement before the union would open bargaining sessions. This the industry has steadfastly refused to do.

$50,000 Auto-Fraud Ring Uncovered Near Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 22—(CP)—A Montreal paper said today that Provincial Police have uncovered a $50,000 auto-fraud ring which operated in Quebec and Ontario and have made two arrests. The newspaper said official confirmation of the investigation was unavailable but it was known definitely that the Quebec division of the provincial police had assigned its ace investigator to it. Those under arrest were not identified but one was described as an attractive young woman. The two were said to be held by police in the eastern townships while police sought three other suspects.

Police were said to have traced at least 29 cars on which the ring had defrauded dealers in the eastern townships, Quebec city, Three Rivers and many parts of Ontario.

The newspaper said the ring would purchase a car legitimately from a dealer with a down payment and the remainder of the purchase price would be financed. The car would then be driven to another part of the country and sold for cash, thus defrauding the dealer of the balance of the purchase price.

Quebec Inquiry

QUEBEC, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Quebec Division of Provincial Police are investigating car thefts here last week-end that appeared to be the work of a gang, it was learned today.

Three automobiles disappeared from one area within five minutes. Provincial Police who recovered one of the machines within a few hours undertook an investigation into the case.

2 German POW's Touch Off Row

BONN, Germany, Sept. 22 — (AP)—Two German prisoners-of-war released by the Russians made a surprise appearance on the floor of the west German parliament today and touched off a tumultuous anti-Communist demonstration.

They interrupted Communist Max Reimann, who had already thrown the house into an uproar by defending the Oder-Neisse line as Germany's eastern frontier. Conservative deputies objected, banged their desks and some started to leave the Chamber.

One former prisoner in tattered uniform ascended the rostrum, and protested Reimann's justification of leaving former German territory under Russian and Polish control. He and another former prisoner were escorted from the chamber and order was restored.

Veteran Politician Will Retire From Ring

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22 (CP). — Manitoba will lose a colorful political gladiator when the term of the present government expires.

Lewis St. George Stubbs, 72-year-old Independent member for Winnipeg since 1936 and biggest thorn in the side of Manitoba's Coalition Government, announced last week he will not run in the next provincial election, expected this fall. He plans to devote his full time to his Winnipeg law practice.

His retirement will climax a long career in law and politics, during which his pungent utterances in battling for the "underdog" have often gained national prominence and more than once have landed the forthright Winnipegger in hot water.

He has never hesitated to strike a blow for what he believed a just cause, even though it once resulted in his dismissal from the Bench.

Drives Old Wreck Oshawa Boy Charged

OSHAWA, Sept. 22—(CP) — Police Tuesday arrested a juvenile motorist who lacked: an operator's permit, a beginner's permit and an ownership permit.

The automobile, police testified in court, lacked: workable headlights or tail-lights; a fan; ignition lock; emergency brake; rear vision mirror and bumpers.

Stephen Eveden was fined $10 and costs for not reporting sale of the car. The juvenile who bought it was remanded for sentence.

8% Increase Allowed Temporarily

Railways Will Get $30,000,000 More In Annual Revenue

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP). — The Board of Transport Commissioners, in a majority report, today granted an 8 per cent increase in freight rates.

The new rate increase is in addition to the 21 per cent awarded the railways in March, 1948.

The board said an increase of 15 per cent—rather than the 21 per cent awarded the railways in a judgment in March, 1948—would have been necessary to meet financial needs.

In effect, however, the 21 per cent increase will remain in the rate structure.

Today's boost was 8 per cent on the increase granted in March, 1948, making the effective increase 30.68 per cent over the rates prior to 1948 award.

The new rates will go into effect 10 days after the Board issues its formal order based on today's decision. The order is expected early next week.

Expected to net the railways about $30,000,000 in additional annual revenue, the new freight-rate boost is a temporary measure on the railway's application for a general freight-rate increase of 20 per cent.

To Review Application

The Board said it would deal with the application again after the Royal Commission on transportation and other governmental surveys on railway business complete their findings. This is expected to take place some time next spring.

In a minority judgment, Hugh Wardope, assistant chief commissioner, recommended an increase of 15 per cent. Mr. Wardrope, who had recommended a boost of 24 per cent in a minority report in March 1948 on the original application for a 30-per-cent boost, said he felt the award last year should not be altered.

With the new eight-per-cent hoist, the board ordered an increase in the rates of coal and coke by eight cents a ton, on top of the 25 cents a ton allowed the railways in the 21-per-cent judgment.

8% INCREASE

Howe Conducts Atom Conference

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP) — Another in a series of Anglo-American-Canadian atomic talks was announced today as Trade Minister Howe conducted a high-level conference in Washington on atomic policy.

Leading radiologists and health physicists of the three countries will attend a conference on the health and safety aspects of atomic energy—the officials call it radiation tolerance—at Canada's Chalk River, Ont., plant Sept. 29 and 30, the External Affairs Dpeartment announced today.

The conference will be held under the technical co-operation program of the three countries, established early in 1946, and is under the general direction of the combined policy committee created in August, 1943.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 22—(AP)—Weak from illness, Sweden's aging King Gustaf had to be carried from [illegible] arrived in Stockholm today. Returning from his summer residence on the Island of Oeland in the Baltic, the 91-year-old Monarch was helped from his coach by his 66-year-old son, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf.

Advise Catholics To Keep Away From 4 Children

QUEBEC, Sept. 22 (CP) — Msgr. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec City issued a communique advising Roman Catholics to "abstain" from pilgrimages to the farmhouse of Amedee Belanger at Ste. Sylvestre, in Lotbiniere county.

The communique, which did not mention by name the St. Sylvestre farmer, four of whose children have acquired reputations as healers, termed the pilgrimages from all parts of the province and eastern United States "superstitious practices."

"We ask particularly that priests and members of religious orders do nothing that would seem to encourage this so-called devotion," said the formal statement.

"For some months," the communique said, "children belonging to an honest St. Sylvestre family, believe they see at all times their little sisters, one who died at the age of three and the other even younger.

"They also claim to know illnesses that may afflict those who present themselves and promise to obtain cures by the intercession of the little 'saints.'

Superstitious Character

On this question we undertook an enquiry, involving examination of the children by specialists. No miraculous event was verified; on the contrary, the superstitious character of this devotion is evident.

"Furthermore, the numerous visitors prevent the children from their studies and keep them in a state of excitement that favors illusion and which might lead to serious nervous troubles.

"In conformity with the code of Canon Law (Canon 1261), we remind all faithful they must abstain from such superstitious practices. We ask particularly that priests and members of religious orders do nothing that would seem to encourage this so-called devotion."

Recall Parliament For Devaluation Talk

LONDON, Sept. 22—(Reuters) —The cabinet at its meeting today is understood to have decided to recall parliament to debate devaluation of the pound next Tuesday and Wednesday. No official announcement is likely until the speaker of the House of Commons has given his formal consent.

The cabinet heard from Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, a full report of the Washington tripartite dollar-sterling talks and the meetings of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

Authoratative quarters here denied London newspaper reports implying that the decision to devalue the pound was taken by Prime Minister Attlee without consultation with Sir Stafford when the latter was ill this summer in a Swiss nursing home.

Propose $5 Billion Agency To Move Farm Surpluses To Needy Areas In World

Federation of Agriculture Supports Plan Introduced By U.N. Official; Will Help Overcome Currency Difficulties

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—A new $5,000,000,000 world food agency for moving farm surpluses to needy areas was proposed Wednesday by N. E. Dodd, director-general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. The plan is designed to help get around the dollar shortage which is keeping many countries from buying food they need in the United States and other countries in the dollar area.

Such countries could buy surpluses with their own currencies. Or if they paid for them with dollars or currencies of the exporting countries, the buying countries would get the surpluses at cut-rate prices.

Deals would be handled by an International commodity clearing house under guidance of the FAO. It would have a $5,000,000,000 capital contributed by member countries in their own currencies.

Supported By Hannam

The proposal was supported by H. H. Hannam of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers.

He said at a press conference here that he would commend the FAO report to the board of directors of the CEA in the confident hope that the federation would endorse it and make prompt representations to that effect to the Canadian Government.

Hannam noted that a procedure quite similar to this was recommended by the IFAP at its meeting last June in Guelph.

"In fact the plan now suggested by RAO's committee of experts goes even farther than ours notably by including with it a method of meeting currency difficulties."

The plan was drawn by a committee of trade experts chosen by the FAO from all parts of the world. It is being submitted to PROPOSES $5 BILLION

Chinese Reds Have Formed New Goverment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—The formation of a Communist government in China brought a bit closer today the time when the United States must decide whether to recognize such a regime.

At the moment, however, United States officials say that the issue of recognition is not raised by the announcement of the new government made in Peiping yesterday by Communist leader Mao Tze-tung.

What is expected is that when the Communists have completed their government's organization they will make a bid to establish formal diplomatic relations and Russia or one of its satellite countries will be the first to accept and agree to open embassies at the Communist capital.

The recognition issue is understood to have been discussed here last week by State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Schuman of France during their review of the whole far eastern situation.

They agreed then that they would discuss the possibility of taking parallel actions when the Chinese Communists assert their claim to be recognized. They agreed further not to act hastily in the matter.

Basic American policy on recognition makes three requirements of a government seeking formal relations with the United States. It must be a regular operating government, must have effective control of its territory and must agree to assume its country's international obligations.

Plead Not Guilty

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) —Harold Hogan and his wife Gladys, today were remanded to Sept. 29 when they pleaded not guilty to a charge of fraud involving $730. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan were taken off the liner Ascania Sept. 14 by Montreal police at the request of Toronto police who received a complaint from George Crayten that the couple had borrowed money from him and given him for security a lien on furniture. Crayten said he later learned there were mortgages on the furniture.

Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP)—Nineteen-year-old Ralph Edward Barrows, of Grand Rapids, Mich., Wednesday pleaded innocent to first-degree murder in the death of Colin Cameron Mackellar, 56, of Montreal. Mackellar, a textile executive, was beaten to death in his room at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel last Nov. 5. Barrows originally was charged with manslaughter, but was later indicted on the murder charge.

They Don't Mind Bullets

But Russians Go Crazy At Sight of Any Camera

By TOM REEDY.

BERLIN, Sept. 22— (AP). — gun may make a Russian freeze or bolt. But a camera makes him frantic.

For four years, American photographers have bumped into this curious phenomenon in Berlin.

No one knows exactly why a Russian is camera-shy. There are scores of theories. Stroll into the Soviet sector with a camera and your chances are about even to wind up in the secret police prison. Without the camera, you will not be bothered.

A dozen photographers have been held by the Russians and released later only after intervention by high Allied authorities. Reporters are never bothered as long as they keep the peace.

The Russians surprised the Allies recently when they said amateur photographers could bring their cameras on periodic guided tours in their sector. However, as soon as anyone ambled away from the guides, he was rounded up and brought back to focus on some museum, stone arch, or bomb ruin.

Only one incident seemed to throw real light on the answer. This was in the winter of 1945-1946.

At that time, the Russians enjoyed coming to a British sector club known as the Femina. It was crowded nightly with soldiers of all four powers. There was a huge likeness of Stalin pasted behind the dance floor.

One night, the story goes, a photographer made a shot of a cooch dancer with Stalin in the background. It came out in a blended form highly unflattering to the Soviet generalissimo.

The picture was printed in only one publication, but that was enough. The next day, rumor has it, the order came down from the Kremlin itself that the next Red Army man who got entangled in foreign photographs would be sorry.

Accommodate 9,000 At Memorial Service

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—(CP).— Plans for an inter-faith memorial service for victims of the cruise-ship Noronic fire disaster call for the accommodation of more than 9,000, it was announced today.

Intended to be the formal and official expression of the mourning of a city and nation, the service is scheduled for next Sunday afternoon in the Colosseum, which has a seating capactiy of 6,000.

The Rev. E. M. Howse of the United Church of Canada, chairman of the memorial service committee said today it will be broadcast by the CBC, and plans are under way to have the program relayed to the people of the United States by one of the major American networks.

Canada Land Of Milk And Honey To Many 43 Stowaways Land At Montreal Since Jan.

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP)— Four Italians found hiding aboard the freighter Italcielo were landed here today, bringing to 10 the number of stowaways brought to Montreal in the last 24 hours. Shipping men said the number set record for a single day in any North American port.

The four, who hid in an unused ammunition locker aboard the Italian freighter before it left Genoa, said they stowed away to seek work in Canada. They gave themselves up after six days at sea.

Immigration authorities, who said they would be deported, identified them as Matteo Randazzo, 33, farmer, Salomoni Salvadore, 19, farmer, Rosario Fama, 19, machinist, and Salvadore Faula, 19, baker.

They were placed in cells at immigration detention quarters where six ither stowaways were locked up Wednesday. So far this year 43 stowaways have reached Montreal.

Four of Wednesday's stowaways were African Negroes who hid in the black manganese cargo of the British freighter Cargill. They lived on water and seven coconuts until hunger forced them to give themselves up to ship's officers.

Senate Heads Worried About Economy Drive

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP) —Senate leaders showed concern today at a fast-gaining economy drive which threatened to make a $500,000,000 cut in the foreign arms program.

Democratic leader Scott Lucas of Illinois conceded the vote would be close on amendments by Senator Walter George (Dem. Ga.) to cut to half the $1,000,000,000 earmarked in the program for North Atlantic Pact countries.

By agreement, the Senate was to begin voting tonight on the $1,314,010,000 plan to rearm friendly countries in the fight against Communism.

Glaciers On The Move

Climate Been Misbehaving Canadian Ice Fields Show

CALGARY, Sept. 22 (CP)—One of the world's slowest-action "thermometers" has indicated that our climate, in western Canada at least, has been milder than normal.

The thermometer is a number of glaciers in the Canadian Rockies. The "readings" have been taken by survey parties, armed with transits, of the Federal government's water and power bureau.

W. T. McFarlane, Calgary civil engineer who recently led a party into Alberta glacier regions for the government survey, reports the glaciers are shrinking.

Measurement of the movement of glaciers was begun by the government in 1945 but Federal engineers also use markings made by the Alpine Club of Canada before the turn of the century.

Mr. McFarlane said the rate of recession of five Alberta glaciers since 1945 has averaged 100 feet a year.

"About 80 per cent of our water supply on this continent can be traced to glaciers and melting ice," he said. "Our task is to lay the groundwork for future conservation."

Glaciers occur where the rate of precipitation is greater than the rate of melting snow. They originate in basin-shaped areas in snow-sovered mountains and are formed when the lower layers of snow are pressured into ice.

The pressure of the accumulated snow then drives the ice forward and it descends in a slow-river movement.

The glacier or ice-river gradually melts or evaporates. The distance it descends depends on its size and the temperature of the district it enters.

Apparently the slightly warmer average temperatures western Canada has been experiencing the last few years has had a two-fold action. The glaciers — melted more snow and thus prevented glaciers from maintaining their usual extent, and also melted more of the "toes" of the glacier.

Hint Subsidy For Rental Housing Now

Ottawa Seeks To Aid Severe Shortage Across Dominion

OTTAWA, Sept. 22—(CP) — The dominion and the provinces may resort to subsidized rental housing in an effort to relieve Canada's housing shortage.

In a plan outlined in the Commons Wednesday by Reconstruction Minister Winters, provision of subsidized rentals was mentioned as one of a series of steps which might be taken to provide more homes for Canadians. But probably would be used only as a last resort.

As a start, he announced that the government plans to amend the National Housing Act so as to cut approximately by half the down payment now required of prospective home owners. The move is aimed at encouraging home ownership among persons of limited means.

The program also proposes a dominion-provincial partnership on a 75-25 per cent. financial basis to undertake a program of land assembly, construction of low-cost houses for sale and construction of both low and subsidized rental units.

Co-operative Basis

A survey now is being made on the possibility of the dominion and the provinces joining in plans where houses are built on a co-operative basis. There are already co-operative housing enterprises in Nova Scotia, Quebec and Saskatchewan.

Mr. Winters told the Commons he did not know how many of the provinces would find the dominion proposals acceptable. But during his recent discussions with the premiers of all provinces the proposals and alternative ones were discussed "in a most friendly way with a determination to improve housing conditions."

He could not forecast how many homes the new proposals might produce. The record 100,000 being built this year would barely meet current needs and would make no important inroads into the housing backlog.

He made no mention in his statement of domestic rent controls, due to expire next March 31, but he told a press conference the controls do not come under the jurisdiction of his department.

In the Senate, Senator John T. Haig, opposition leader, said Federal and Provincial governments would have to assist in providing housing the homeless could afford or enact legislation bringing minimum wages to the level demanded by housing costs.

Under the present National Housing Act, a builder of a home for sale can obtain a maximum loan of $8,500. The government proposes to amend the Act so the purchaser of the home can obtain one-sixth of the loan to the builder. Using the maximum figure that would amount to approximately $1,400.

Half Down Payment

"This would have the effect of providing financing for the home owner to the extent of approximately half of his present down payment requirements," said Mr Winters.

The assistance will be limited to reasonably-priced homes. No change will be made in present interest rates or in the amortization period. Loans under NHA are limited to 80 per cent of the value of the house. The loans carry an interest rate of 4½ per cent and are repayable over 20, 25 and 30-year periods, depending on the amount.

To Change Policy

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — Premier Frost said Wednesday Ontario probably will drop its policy of advancing down payments for new homes when the Federal government puts into practice new housing legislation, announced at Ottawa Wednesday by Reconstruction Minister Winters.

Mr. Frost said that since the Provincial government entered the housing field in 1948 through Housing Corporation, Ltd., of Ontario, it had advanced approximately $10,000,000. Another $5,000,000 has been appropriated for the purpose.

"In discussions with the Federal government it was agreed that these second mortgages had met a very important need but that it might be well to eliminate them, the Federal and Provincial governments being in first and second priority positions. . ."

Ontario adopted the practice of second mortgages when it appeared that down payment provisions on new homes were too high, Mr. Frost said. Under amendments to the National Housing Act "very" modest down payments will be required.

Hit By Train, Dies

CORNWALL, Sept. 22 (CP) — Leaping from his truck while it hurtled towards a train at a level crossing, Solly Pinkus was killed Wednesday when thrown into the path of the locomotive by the momentum of the skidding vehicle. The truck swerved from the tracks and was not damaged.

2 More Arrests Made In Grocery Co. Thefts

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 22—(CP)—Two more arrests, bringing the total number up to eight, have been made in connection with the York Trading Company grocery thefts, police announced Wednesday.

Earlier in the week it was revealed there was a stock shortage at the York Trading Company warehouse amounting to several thousands of dollars. To date six employees of the firm have been arrested for theft and two others arrested for receiving stolen property. All have been allowed bail.

Arrests made Tuesday include Reginald Bulpit, warehouse employee, and Arthur Kleinsteuber, grocery.

Store operator at the village of Sulphide, near Tweed, Bulpit was charged with theft, while Kleinsteuber is charged with receiving.

member countries of the FAO and will be laid before that organization's annual conference to open here Nov. 15.

The new agency would work through normal channels of trade or through appropriate government agencies, for its buying, selling and storage operations.

Dodd, a former United States undersecretary of agriculture, said the plan would enable exporting countries to put their surpluses to constructive use. The cost to them would be far less than if they chose the painful alternative of restricted production with all its depressing consequences.

The plan was advanced at a time when the United States Government either holds or faces the prospects of acquiring surpluses of wheat, corn, oilseeds, cotton, lard, dried eggs, dried milk, and butter.

Taking wheat as an example, surpluses would be removed by either of the following procedures:

By the first procedure an exporting country would sell surplus grain to the international commodity clearing house. In the beginning this grain could be the country's contribution to the clearing house's capital.

The clearing house then would sell quantities of wheat to importing countries in addition to —but not supplanting—its usual purchases. It would take in payment the currency of the importing country, even though such currency is at the time not convertible into the currency of the exporting country. The importing country would guarantee against loss by currency devaluation.

The clearing house would hold this currency to the credit of the exporting country until enlarged world trade or restored currency convertibility permitted clearing the account.

Agree To Hear Alternative Pipe Line Plan

OTTAWA, Sept. 22—(CP)—On the heels of its first rejection of an application for a gas or oil pipe line out of Alberta, the Board of Transport Commissioners today prepared to consider an alternative proposition.

The Board has granted two applications involved in a crude-oil line from Alberta to Superior, Wis., but Wednesday rejected application by the Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd. to construct a natural gas line from Athabaska, in Northern Alberta, to Vancouver and nearby United States cities.

Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chief commissioner, announced the rejection [illegible] ground the company had not given [illegible] the job.

Paticularly, he said, it was not clear that sufficient oil reserves to support such a line existed, and there was no indication the Alberta government would grant a licence to export the gas.

He turned down the application with the proviso that the company might ask instead for adjournment until Dec. 12, when it would have to have a clearer case.

However, Senator J. W. de B. Farris, of Vancouver, counsel for the company of which he is a director, urged the board to consider an alternative before resuming study of the case this afternoon.

Asks Reconsideration

He sought to have the Board immediately consider the application "in part" as it affected British Columbia—in other words, to consider granting permission to build a line from just inside the British Columbia boundary to Vancouver and points south. This would eliminate any objection raised by Alberta's disinclination to grant an immediate license.

The chief commissioner at the outset refused to hear witnesses brought by Senator Farris regarding the company's ability to build the line. The hearing mainly was taken up with argument as to whether or not such evidence should be heard.

Mr. Justice Archibald said the Board could not hear such evidence when there was no assurance of proven reserves of gas or that the necessary export licences would be granted, but finally consented to hear Senator Farris' own arguments.

Norwood Fair Board Continues Armory Use

Norwood armoury will continue to be an adjunct of the Norwood Fair as a result of the interview of Reeve Rork Ferguson and G. A. Brethen, president, with Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence in Ottawa Wednesday.

"It was chiefly a matter of insurance," Reeve Ferguson said today. "There was a fire in the Kingston armouries. I think in some public use, and that was causing some trouble here. We came away with the feeling of assurance from the Minister that we could carry on as usual. Our fair is on Thanksgiving Day."

Reeve Ferguson remarked that the Department evidently had no intention of letting the property pass out of its hands. There seemed to be an opinion that it might be used even more than in the past.

8% Increase

Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chief commissioner, who announced the board's decision, said it was the opinion of the majority of the board that the former 21-per-cent boost should have been only 15 per cent.

This "opinion" which does not change the previous freight-rate structure had a bearing, Mr. Justice Archbiald said, in granting only the eight-per-cent temporary increase.

Grain Unaffected

Rates on grain shipments are not affected. They are governed by the Crow's Nest Pass rate agreement. Neither is the "mountain differential"—a surcharge on hauls across the Rocky Mountains. It was removed by the board earlier this year.

Three commissioners heard the [illegible] rates case—one of the most complicated in Canadian history—provinces — except Ontario and Quebec—appealed against the 21-per-cent boost.

After Newfoundland joined confederation it linked itself with the provinces in the battle against any new increases in carrying charges.

Commissioner H. B. Chase concurred with Mr. Justice Archibald in the majority decision. Mr. Wardrope, the third commissioner, said in his opinion the original 21-per-cent hoist should not be changed and that the roads should have been granted an additional 15-per-cent on the new 20-per-cent application, together with an increase in coal and coke charges of 15 cents a ton.

Establish Case

The 15,000-word report said the Board was convinced the railways had established a case for a rate increase in view of "a substantial increase" in operating costs since the 21-per-cent boost was granted.

One of these operating-cost increases had to do with the 17-cent-an-hour wage hoist granted the railway workers in July, 1948, to forestall a threatened general strike. The railways argued that the wage increase—amounting to some $70,000,000 — eliminated revenue advantages they might have obtained from the 21-per-cent award.

The Board said it did not believe in "fair" that the railways maintain "a high rate of efficiency" without providing them with additional sources of revenue, pending investigations of the Royal Commission and other governmental inquiries.

Mr. Justice Archibald, former Exchequer Court and Nova Scotia Supreme Court Justice, noted in the judgment that "further proof and revision of much of the evidence and many of the exhibits will be required before a final determination can be made with respect to this application."

Entitled To Relief

"In the meantime, however, I am of the opinion that the railways are entitled to some relief."

He continued:

"After taking into consideration the revision of the decision in the 21 per cent. case . . . and after consideration of the actual estimated and probable results of railway operations for 1948 and 1949, I think it reasonable and proper to authorize a general interim increase in the freight rates in effect on July 27, 1948, of eight per cent.; and to increase the rates on coal and coke by eight cents. per ton."

Sympathy With Provinces

Some of the reasons Mr. Justice Archibald gave for the Board granting only a temporary increase in rates was because of "great sympathy" with the arguments of the provinces.

One of these arguments dealt with the question of whether the two major roads in Canada—the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways — would achieve any degree of co-operation which would lead to great savings in operations.

The Chief Commissioner said the Board had no jurisdiction to inquire into the question. That point will be taken up by the Royal Commission.

"It must be understood that this Board will not automatically direct an increase in freight rates by reason of increased labor costs unless the propriety and necessity of those increases have been demonstrated.

Carefully Scrutinized

"Just as increased material costs will be carefully scrutinized by the Board to determine their reasonableness and propriety, so also will increased wages costs be subject to the same careful scrutiny."

Mr. Wardrope's minority report said that it was possible to arrive at a conclusion in the first application with "reasonable exactitude." But in the second case, it became "more a matter of judgment just what the increase should be."

And it should only be a temporary increase, he said, "which, as results became more clearly defined, can be adjusted up or down."

He recommended an increase of 15 per cent. with specific increases of 15 cents per ton on coal and coke.

But he could see no reason for alteration of the original award of 21 per cent.

Polio Epidemic In Arctic Under Control

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22—(CP) —The first poliomyelitis epidemic to strike Canada's northland, believed spread by the Eskimo custom of [illegible] together naked in groups, Wednesday was reported under control.

The epidemic struck with such swiftness last February that 13 Eskimos died before medical aid could be rushed to assist the lone doctor in the area on Hudson's Bay west shore. No other deaths followed.

Dr. J. P. Moody, Department of Indian Affairs officer in the Chesterfield Inlet region, said: "We are over the hump now. Every one has been flown out who needs further treatment."

[illegible] 20 Eskimos in hospital [illegible] was set up recently at Chesterfield Inlet to assist in rehabilitation of polio victims.

The report Dr. Moody brought back with him probably will mean that there will be no extension of the quarantine of 40,000 square miles of the Eastern Arctic which was invoked last February. The quarantine is scheduled to end Oct. 15.

The epidemic brought about a miniature air lift which worked between the stricken area and Winnipeg. The Eskimos were given treatment here.

Kindly Flowers

A kind action costs little or nothing and often creates great happiness. M. J. McCarthy, 690 Charlotte St., probably had this in mind when he asked the Victorian Order of Nurses if there were any patients who would like to have some of the flowers he had grown in his garden. Mr. McCarthy had more flowers than he needed.

One day when he was listening to the radio he heard an announcement advertising the nursing services of the VON and the idea flashed across his mind. Why not ask the VON which of its patients would enjoy the flowers most? Miss Mary Ross, VON superintendent told Mr. McCarthy [illegible] some of the people the nurses were visiting and he took them flowers.

Many of the sick people were delighted with Mr. McCarthy's flowers. Miss Ross told the Board of Governors Wednesday, brightness into their lives.

Leg Fractured By Kick At School Football

Kicked by another boy during a noon hour football game at Confederation School, nine-year-old Raymond Davidson had his leg badly fractured Wednesday and was taken to Civic Hospital for treatment. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Davidson, 759 Hurley St.

An Omemee construction worker, Russell Hicks, 34, had his toe fractured when a heavy steel beam he was helping to carry slipped and fell as the gang was laying it down. The men were working on a new addition to the CGE factory.

An elderly woman, Mrs. Wm. A. Wood, 24 Stewart St., fractured her leg when she lost her balance and fell in her home Wednesday. She also was taken to Civic Hospital.

Mission Band Meets

NORWOOD, Sept. 22 (ENS) — The Mission Band meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held in the Sunday School room on Monday. Jean Waldon read the scripture lesson, Elaand Katheryn Duncanson took up the collection.

The topic, "Dikes Against the Sea" was presented by Mrs. R. D. Duncanson. There were 21 members in attendance.

Charged With Fraud

A young woman charged in police court Thursday morning with fraud was remanded for trial Friday by James J. Fleming, J.P. She is Grace Ephgrave, 26, Young's Point.

The charge is that she gave a check for $50 to a local grocer, Stanley Easton, drawn on a bank where she did not have an account. Bail was set at $500.

Loyalty Oath For TLC Officers

CALGARY, Sept. 22—(CP) — The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was still belting away at union Communism today as it entered the eighth day of its annual convention.

Already, it had taken several decisive steps against its Red fringe. There were indications it may go further and order affiliated unions not to elect Com- [illegible] a resolution to this effect, it was expected, would be submitted to the convention's powerful resolutions committee. Its adoption was looked for.

Wednesday, the convention moved against Reds by taking these decisions:

1. That T.L.C. officers and candidates for office must take an oath of loyalty to the Crown.
2. That the Congress voting system is to be changed.

While the loyalty-oath proposal was challenged by some delegates it went through on an overwhelming vote.

There was no right-left division on that issue—some conservative members of the Congress objected to it on the ground that the oath would be useless—but it was indicative of a hardening of the Congress attiutde towards Reds in Labor.

Arrested Near Warsaw For The York Police

A man wanted by York Township police was arrested early today near Warsaw by Peterborough Provincial Police, following a tip-off on his whereabouts. He is Harry Smith, 24, of a Scarborough address.

The York police have a warrant for his arrest on what is believed to be a charge of non-support.

When apprehended by Provincial Constable D. W. Coffey, Smith was on the Warsaw Road, near Warsaw, and was trying to hitchhike to Montreal. Constable Coffey obligingly gave him a ride into Peterborough and then arrested him pending the arrival of the York police.

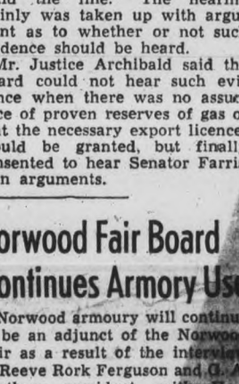
Youths Accused Of Car Theft

Two young men appearing in Police Court on charges of attempting to steal a car, were remanded this morning by Justice of the Peace James J. Fleming, acting in the absence of W. R. Philp, KC. They were remanded for trial Friday. Bail was set at $500.

The two, Roy Ellis 18, RR 10, Peterborough, and Jack Billingsley, 555 Douglas Avenue, were reported to have been seen in a car belonging to Karl Thomson, 306 Louis Street.

Mrs. A. Bye, 310 Louis Street, told police she looked out of her front window about 11:30 Wednesday night and saw two men and two girls in the Thomson car. She went out of the house and told them to get out of the car. The two young men got out and Mrs. Bye recognized them [illegible] night in a downtown restaurant. Billingsley was found Thursday morning.

Thomson said the youths had broken the starter of his car.



Find Window Broken Into Dance Pavilion

Earl Tully, proprietor of the Brookside Dance Pavilion, reported to Provincial Police today that the rear cellar window of the premises had been smashed. The hole was big enough for a person to enter but whether or not anybody did so is still a mystery.

The pavilion is on No. 7 Highway, just east of the Keene Rd.

Provincial Constable R. Pope reported after investigating that nothing was missing.

Just when the window-smashing episode took place is unknown to Mr. Tully. The dance hall only operates on Thursday and Saturdays so the damage might have been done previous to last night.

Salesman Faces $2,638 Charge

COBOURG, Sept. 22 (ENS) — Another adjournment was made, at the request of defence counsel, when the preliminary hearing of conversion charges against Eugene Bolster, resumed Wednesday. Bolster is charged with converting to his own use, $2,638.61, while employed as a salesman for Claude Fowler, tobacco wholesaler.

Another salesman, Jack Kewin, is charged with converting $450 to his own use. The alleged offenses occurred from July 1, 1948 to May 21, 1949.

Due to several adjournments in order to procure more particulars in connection with the various accounts involved, the hearing has been hanging fire for more than two months.

Defence counsel T. F. Hall, KC, told the court Wednesday that he [illegible] voices of as many of the accounts as possible in order to defend his [illegible] properly.

"I'd like a ledger statement of all the accounts as of June 30, 1948 and then we can proceed better in our defence," Mr. Hall said.

Crown Attorney Harry Deyman said that if the accused had withheld part of an account and covered it in a subsequent one, within a period of time any shortage would have been paid in full. It was a cumulatice affect, that was involved, he declared.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter observed that it might be wondered just when the offense occurred and Mr. Deyman replied that in his opinion, the time of the alleged offenses would occur within the period specified in the information.

Continuing, the Crown Attorney pointed out that Mr. Hall now was asking for two statements, one when Bolster took Magistrate Baxter commented that he had hoped that by now defence counsel would have confided in him by Bolster whether he took the money or not. If Bolster had done something wrong, he should be frank about it. It might be dificult to call as Mr. Fowler's customers went into court to testify as to the condition of their accounts and no doubt the customers might be inclined to look with disfavor at being involved as witnesses and be tempted to withdraw their trade from Fowler.

"We'll be satisfied if the invoices are produced without supoenaing the witnesses," Mr. Hall said.

"Suppose we get the invoices, what then? Mr. Hall has not cross-examined on the ones that we have produced already,' said Mr. Deyman.

However, the matter was laid over for four weeks in order to give Mr. Fowler time to get the invoices.

Officials Escape

MARKTREDWITZ, Germany Sept. 22 (AP)—German border police said two men who described themselves as former Czechoslovak diplomats and a woman crossed the border Wednesday into the United States occupation zone seeking political refuge. Police said they identified themselves as Dr. George Kasparek, former Czech Ambassador to Moscow, and his wife, Zdena; Dr. Zdenek Ehler, former Consul-General in Palestine.

Dr. J. Morgan Made Archbishop Of Wales

CARIFF, Sept. 22 (CP) — Dr. John Morgan Wednesday was installed as the new Archbishop of Wales at a ceremony in the roofless, bomb-scarred Llandaff Cathedral.

Morgan succeeded Dr. David Prosser, who resigned because of ill health but still retains the Bishopric of St. Davids.

Llandaff, which next to Coventry is the most bomb-damaged cathedral in Britain, was blasted by a land mine in 1941 and on Wednesday the nave remained open to the sky.

It was the new Archbishop's wish that the service should be held in the nave. A temporary sanctuary was erected and a green awning replaced the roof.

Shepherd Burned

FRANKFURT, Sept. 22 (Reuters)—Villages of Boehringen near Stuttgart saw the village shepherd burn to death when lightning struck the metal top of his crook, a Frankfurter paper reported today.

EYE TOPICS

SIGHT RENEWED AFTER 40

Do you know why most men and women past middle life wear glasses for reading but not always for distant seeing?

The answer is in the lens of the eye. The eye changes its focus by changing the curvature of its lens when it looks from a book to an object across the street. With advancing age, the lens hardens a little, loses some of its flexibility, and can no longer focus on both far and near objects with the ease of youth.

But nature is wise. She carefully considered whether farsightedness or nearsightedness would be preferable to the aging eye. And she decided that farsightedness would be more protection for the middle-aged and elderly, so that obstacles and danger could be seen at a distance and avoided. However, nature was thinking of man in the savage state. The civilized man of forty or more reads, keeps books, makes and repairs watches and fine machinery, does countless near-the-eye tasks. He needs his eyes as much for close work as to avoid an automobile that is rushing towards him from a block away. Science answered the problem with eyeglasses.

Indefinite Assumption of D.S.T.

Peterborough is in the thick of daylight time-savers. Toronto is to have D.S.T. until the end of November. Hamilton has it, Kingston has just extended its period to November 26th. Peterborough was due to return to the other artificial system, Standard Time, Saturday midnight. The Council deliberated and decided to extend Daylight Saving Time "indefinitely". We presume that will be until Toronto and other points with which Peterborough as an industrial city is closely connected, abandon D.S.T.

* * *

It was a sensible decision. Our offices and factories are in hourly communication with Toronto; the railways cater to Peterborough on their way to and from Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal. There would be all sorts of annoying confusion if Peterborough were stubborn and did not fall in line. The Council was wise in not putting another date to the end of D.S.T. Perfidious Toronto might change its mind about November 26th. It should be made known that if Torontonians merely want the late daylight hour for playing around in it, Peterborough folk may show their spunk and take up and drop D.S.T. when they feel like it.

* * *

The worst feature of D.S.T. is that it shortens the nights. Short nights are inescapable in summer anyway, so it does not much matter if another hour of darkness is taken away. But in late autumn and winter, we should not deprive ourselves of the joys of long evenings without good cause. One of the reasons half-heartedly put forward is that it will "save power". The Hydro, even in Toronto, has kept mum about it. It is time that the Hydro said flatly that power would or would not be saved. If D.S.T. is going to help us ride through the coming shortage of power, then by all means let us have it, all winter if necessary.

* * *

Two questions were in the minds of the aldermen when they discussed what should be done about D.S.T. One of them was: "What do the Utilities Commission think about it?" No one knew, and the Utilities Commission probably does not know what to think about it until it hears authoritatively from the Hydro Commission. When the issue was discussed in Toronto Council, the same question was asked and no answer given. Let the Hydro speak out. The second aldermanic question was: "What do the people think of it?" The Council had to pass its ruling in the dark; there had been no expression of the wishes of the people. The only letter the Examiner has had was one which mumbled about 'God's Time' and was unsigned, and therefore went unpublished.

Cripps' National Appeal

There was an urgent seriousness in Sir Stafford Cripps' radio address Sunday to the British people, when he announced the devaluing of the pound. In peace time it is difficult to dramatize a national crisis. A "dollar gap" is an intangible sort of thing which, since it cannot be seen with the eye or photographically by the imagination, does not strike to the heart. It is not a gap in a thin red line when soldiers are crumbling and a nation suspends its breathing. But if any man in Britain today could appeal to the national sentiment on a theme such as the economic crisis, it is Sir Stafford Cripps. A man of great knowledge, high integrity and profound devotion to his countrymen, his plain words on a complex situation must have convinced the people of their greet need and duty even if his phrases did not stir them to emotional patriotism.

He could offer no immediate devaluation benefits to Britons themselves except the prideful hope of national economic independence in the future and a goal of happiness and prosperity, if "the most serious [step] that the government could take" succeeds.

Devaluation is a banker's device; it is not a cure-all for basic ailments. Sir Stafford had to tell them that the cost of living would rise, and that the people would have to bear it. He asked that production be increased, that manufacturers and exporters take full advantage of the opportunity the cheaper pound offered to increase exports and that inflation at home be resisted. "The stark fact is this, that we cannot avoid large-scale unemployment unless we put a stop on any wage, salary or other personal income increase until we see how things are turning out, and we have been able to realize the full benefit of this new exchange rate".

He said that Britain would have to "moderate the rate of our capital development"— which will be a bitter pill to ardent supporters of nationalization. He warned that there is "no reason for increasing any personal income, whether from wages, salaries, profits or other source". To try for such increases would endanger the future.

Will the British heed the appeal fully? There was a disturbingly large amount of trading on the curb market Monday when the stock exchange was closed and prices of industrials soared. This could only have been in anticipation of a great increase in company profits. If British companies enlarge their profits to such an extent as the stock market prices indicated, will the workers who now have to pay sixpence for bread be content not to ask for wage increases?

A difficulty with which the British Government has to cope is that there is neither complete control of industry nor complete freedom. A partly-controlled economy is not a controlled economy. Unless it controls industrial profits it cannot control industrial wages. Has the flame of inflation in Britain already been kindled?

Not Enough Pomp

Canada is not a republic. It is a monarchy. Why then should it meekly flatten itself before republican pretensions of plainness in its ceremonious affairs of state? One of the advantages of a monarchy is that a display of royal pomp is natural to it, and the lack is inexcusable in ordinary times. The opening of the new Parliament was, we hear, as drab as a church tea. Prime Minister St. Laurent was properly turned out in silk hat and morning coat; the heads of the three services attended in uniform (serge, not dress); ladies wore hats; there was a guard of honour. But there was little of the pomp which should attend such a monarchical circumstance.

There is a place and a time for austerity but in these prosperous post-war years Parliament and capital salons are not the place, nor are the vice-regal opening of Parliament and the receptions afterwards the time. In more golden days the men were resplendent in breeches, medals and full dress, the ladies stately in evening gowns—even at an afternoon Parliamentry opening and reception. We often think that the decline of manners and the decay of morals go hand in glove. That is not to impugn the morality of Ottawa society, but to suggest that the manners there do set a moral tone which echoes beyond the purlieus of Parliament.

Canadian Oil And Iron

The Canadian dollar now being worth only ninety cents in U.S. funds, all goods which Canada imports from the United States will cost ten per cent more at wholesale levels. By the time they reach the consumer, there may be as much as a fifteen per cent. increase. Two of our chief imports are iron and petroleum. Eastern Canadians will therefore view with satisfaction the plans to pipe oil from the Alberta fields (though they must regret that conditions make it necessary for the pipe-line to traverse American territory). Albertan producers (even the American owners of them) will likewise feel satisfaction. Albertan oil should become cheaper in Ontario and more plentiful. Canadians look forward, too, to the time when the great iron deposits in Quebec and Labrador are exploited, and the mines in operation. Not only will they supply Canada's needs; they will also be a major export to the United States. As with the oil developments in Alberta, so with the iron developments in Quebec: they are largely American. Much as Canadians may regret that Canadian capital was not forthcoming for them, the produce is Canadian.

Generous Folk

Nine years ago the Toronto Telegram sponsored a British War Victim's Fund at the suggestion of Controller Innes of Toronto, whose sister contributed the first dollar. The Fund has now been closed and the monies collected have been disbursed for the relief of British victims of the war. When the books were closed Wednesday they showed that $2,938,921 had been subscribed. Three million dollars, voluntarily given, are generous proof of many kindly, warm hearts in Toronto and outside points from which the contributions came

New Poor Of Europe

By SEBASTIAN HAFFNER

BRITISH tourists in Europe during this holiday season had two universal and permanent topics of conversation; food and money. With their allotted £50 in their pocket, they found that they had condemned themselves to the torments of Tantalus.

The great holiday attraction for the British tourist was the prospect of three good meals a day. A breakfast consisting of two real eggs with a decent sized piece of ham; and a lunch and dinner with hors d'oeuvres, not consisting chiefly of potatoes in various disguises, and with a choice of meats, including pork, in quantities formerly considered normal for an adult appetite.

All this is now obtainable throughout Continental Western Europe. But outside Britain there is no five-shilling limit, and the universal experience of British tourists has been that their £50 purses were shrinking alarmingly after the first few days. It has been [illegible] for them, rich during their four, eight or three weeks, to watch them increasingly economize on tips, shun taxis, furtively count their small change, and dismally sit on hotel terraces behind a long-drawn-out cup of coffee, interminably discussing food and money among themselves; the new poor of Europe.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is not only British tourists who are now stricken with poverty. You remember the row between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Morrison in the lobby of the Strasbourg Assembly. What may have shocked you was that two prominent British statesmen were quarrelling in front of foreigners, but what impressed the foreigners was that the subject of this quarrel was a sum of some £20 or £30 which the British Government might or might not allow Mr. Churchill's deputy to spend. They realized, with real pity, that when Mr. Churchill told Mr. Morrison to keep his money in his pocket, he condemned his deputy to the frightful lot of an ordinary British tourist.

◇ ◇ ◇

BUT the most punished victims of British austerity abroad are the British officials in Occupied Germany. In Britain things have, after all, improved slightly since the war. These improvements are unnoticeable among the men and women who, sustaining themselves on C.C.G. rations, eked out by the austere benefits of N.A.A.F.I., must represent the power and dignity of Britain to her vanquished foe.

In Britain, you can still slake your craving for cigarettes if you are on good terms with your tobacconist: In Germany you get your 15 cigarettes counted out to you, and that is that. Coffee, which was never rationed in Britain, is as strictly rationed among British officials in Germany today as it was in 1946.

Their misery is proudly worn, often in a setting of formal grandeur. It reminds one of some fantasia of noblemen in their castles starving among ceremonial. In that luxurious requisitioned hotel in Berlin, where every bulb but one in my opulently furnished room had been removed for economy reasons, the mahogany bed was covered with an Army blanket, there was no towel, and a whole battalion of German waiters served me with a kipper, margarine and a half teaspoonful of marmalade for breakfast. Later, the one cup of thin coffee allowed per day was served by other waiters in a superb lounge brightened with dozens of chrysanthemums.

◇ ◇ ◇

BRITONS abroad, whether tourists, delegates, or officials, who are thus obliged to carry around them an inescapable aura of austerity wherever they go, are inclined to grow somewhat bitter. But when they start to give vent to their feelings they fall into two sharply divided groups.

One group directs its animosity against the present British Government, or against the proletarian half of the British public, or even, in some cases, against their country as such.

The British middle-class witnesses the continental middle-class everywhere—even in Germany—back, or nearly back, to the old standards, while it alone is kept in a depressed state, exposed to constant humiliations.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE other group of Britons abroad directs its bitterness entirely against the gobbling and guzzling foreigners. This school of thought insists on the moral depravity of all countries but Britain; its members see a "typical black marketeer" in every virtuous French bourgeois, who, his day's work done, and his napkin tucked into his collar, settles down to his well-earned plate of veal and fried potatoes; and everywhere this group franctically searches for the "hidden misery" under the sumptuous surface.

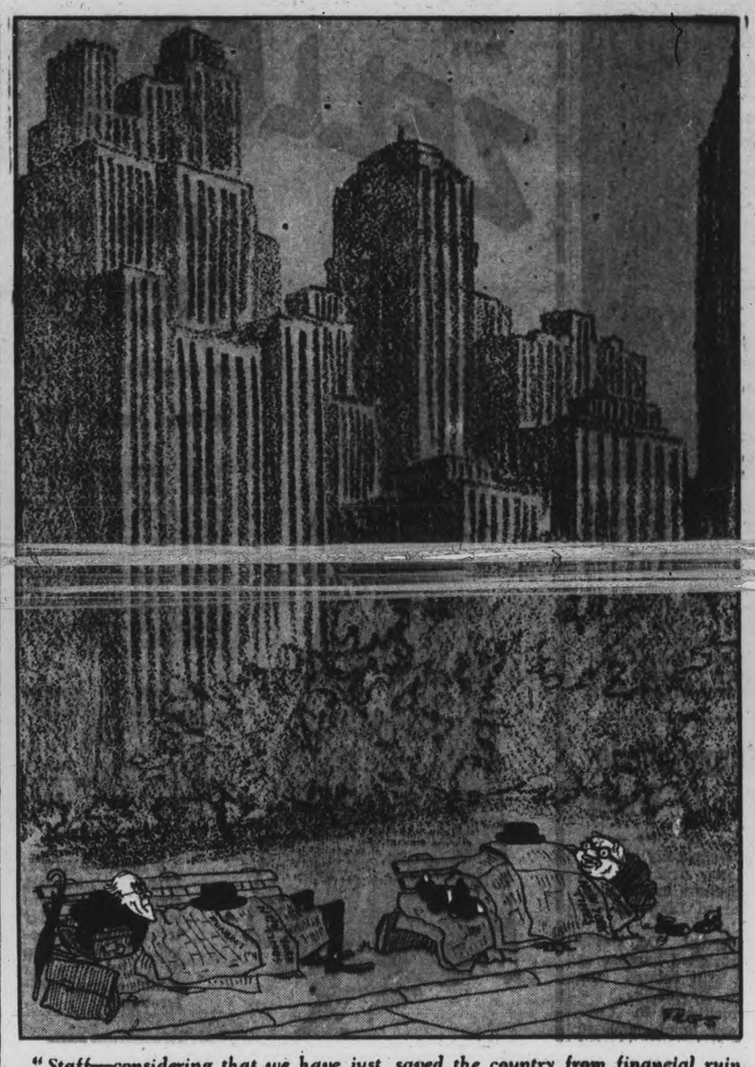
This search is no longer as rewarding as it used to be. In France, for instance, you can now get in any working-class bistro meals of a quality and quantity that no money or influence could obtain in any eating place known to the British proletariat. All around you typical French workers in blue overalls eat similar meals, using their bread as forks and reading "L'Humanite." This was not the case in France as recently as a year ago, and it is not yet the case in Germany at all. But even the meals of German workers, though often coarse and poor in quality, are today something like double the quantity of those provided for the British occupiers in their messes.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE reaction of foreigners to the now generally acknowledged British poverty is less clear-cut. Emotions are mingled. Prevalent among them is pity. In France, this pity sometimes takes a highly tactful and even tender form.

In one French restaurant I saw a British family which, after long and anxious consultation of the menu, made a very modest order, being served with demonstrative politeness by the maitre d'hotel in person; and such was the general attitude.

Sometimes, however, even in France, pity is tinged with condescension; and in Germany, where Britain is not particularly popular at the moment on account of our dismantling of their industries, the British poverty is noticed with a certain satisfaction.



But underneath these mixed emotions one can notice everywhere something more serious, which it is difficult to define. Perhaps the best word for it is estrangement — or should one even call it misgiving?

It does not help much to explain that they see only one side of the picture, and that proletarian standards in Britain have risen almost as much as middle-class standards have fallen. They continue to shake their heads.

For during the last four years Britain has drifted further and further away from the Continent of Europe, which is experiencing a robust economic renaissance of the conventional bourgeois type. Already she has become almost a different world. Can the two worlds now merge? Some clever Europeans think they see a connection between the poverty of their British visitors and the obstruction of the British Labour delegates at Strasbourg to any economic union with Europe. Certainly, the relations of individual British to individual Continental Europeans are at present in a sulky muddle.

What The Conference Discussed

(By I. NORMAN SMITH)

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles on the Bigwin Inn Conference which closed Sunday. It was written for Canadian Press by the Associate Editor of the Ottawa Journal.)

I TRIED in yesterday's article to tell what the Commonwealth Relations Conference looked like, who attended it and how it worked.

This piece aims to tell a little of what the conference did or decided. The air will perhaps be cleared if a list is made of the things the conference did not do:

It did not amend any constitutions, it did not tamper with the symbol or person of the King, it neither raised tariff walls nor broke them down, it made no passes towards a common foreign policy and it proposed neither marriage to the United States nor warfare with the Soviet Union.

These things were not attempted, (a) because the conference was unofficial and (b) because no one wanted to anyway. Not a vote was taken, not a resolution moved. The conference was rather a chatted chat. If that is a contradiction in terms so is much else about the Commonwealth.

The conference set out to exchange views and facts about the elaborate texture of relations that the Commonwealth is today. It sought no blatant absolutes, but on the other hand it didn't run away from some good tough arguments.

Quite early in the proceedings someone suggested that perhaps India's complaints about treatment of Indians in South Africa should not be aired at such a conference. The suggestion was trampled on. Everyone agreed that if Commonwealth troubles were not to be discussed here the meeting would be a joke.

From that time onward charges and counter-charges flew back and forth propelled by artful tongues from smiling mouths. And the sharper the charges the more friendly everyone seemed to become.

◇ ◇ ◇

AS the conference was all held behind closed doors—to assure the frank discussion that was desired—I cannot deal item by item with the agenda nor reveal specifically who said what and why. But out of our ten days of meetings, around table and during leisure, the following generalizations may safely be made:

1. Unlike previous conferences the question of sovereignty and independent status didn't come up;

2. Now that sovereignty and independent status are assured to each Commonwealth member country there is a tendency for the pendulum to swing back the other way and many members indicated a willingness to explore possibilities of greater co-operation and consultation;

3. Possibly that pendulum swing towards closer Commonwealth association is born of the Communist menace which all states recognized as very real, and born, too, of the admitted frustration of U.N.;

4. Despite U.N.'s frustration all members felt that support should not be withdrawn from U.N.;

5. The likelihood of a Pacific Pact on the lines of the Atlantic Pact did not appear immediate, such a pact being dependent upon United States sponsorship and that was unlikely until the Russian menace became more specific or the Chinese Communist movement took on outwardly aggressive characteristics;

6. A common foreign policy for the Commonwealth was discussed for only the moment or two it took all members to indicate they wouldn't stand for one; ditto for a common military policy or binding military commitments;

7. There was some, though limited, recognition that while England was joined by Commonwealth countries during wartime she was left to play a lone hand in peacetime efforts to maintain peace. The Berlin airlift, occupation of Germany and Japan, efforts in Hong Kong and elsewhere were specifically mentioned;

8. The United Kingdom served repeated notice that it was not abdicating its major role in world affairs but it admitted that it felt it could maintain its traditional role only with the real and friendly co-operation of the Commonwealth;

9. Ireland was asked to join the conference though she is not a member of the Commonwealth. Her delegates campaigned with characteristic charm and passion for abolition of partition and assured that end of partition would bring them into the North Atlantic Treaty and into closer co-operation with the Commonwealth;

10. Ireland was told in equally frank though less artful terms that her refusal to enter the pact didn't make sense and that she might better serve the democratic principles she avows by joining the treaty at once and thereafter working out her own domestic problems with Northern Ireland. It was repeatedly suggested to her that she ought not to ask the United Kingdom to order Ulster into Ireland. The Irish of North and South should make their own peace;

11. To this suggestion Senator Hayes, government leader in the Irish Senate, replied with a quick thrust that for Britain to define Ulster's borders and then tell Ireland to work out her future was as for a giant to truss up a midget and then tell it to work out its own freedom. "And that," said the Senator with a twinkle, "is not cricket, shall we say."

12. In the matter of Western Europe it was seen that the United Kingdom was on the horns of a dilemma. Without a peaceful and productive Western Europe Britain's future was unsafe; but to obtain a peaceful and productive Western Europe Britain must commit herself in trade, economics and military security pacts to chores which may not altogether delight her Commonwealth colleagues;

13. In the above paragraph began a tricky, if not vicious, circles; to restore France and Belgium and the Netherlands would mean reviving their colonial empires; to revive those colonial empires would annoy, vex and greatly chagrin the new Asian members of the Commonwealth — India, Pakistan and Ceylon—and possibly the United States;

14. The new Asian members stressed over and over again that Communism thrives on conditions of hardship; the Western democracies should therefore and at once send economic aid of all kinds to help those backward countries get on their feet. Communism, they said, could not be met merely with a handful of guns and troops;

15. There was no disposition to dispute Asia's needs for Western economic aid but it wasn't clear where the aid would come from. The United Kingdom hadn't the money and anyway was faced with more urgent demands closer to home;

16. The Asian members replied that they weren't sure how long they could wait; they loathed Communism, wanted no part of it; but people liked to eat and have work and the East no less than Europe was subject to Communist propaganda, as witness the triumph in China. Ceylon already has 23 of 100 of its members of parliament Communist and the margin of safety may today be less than that;

17. In the matter of Commonwealth affairs the new Asian members showed probably more willingness to participate in closer Commonwealth co-operation than did the older members; they weren't seeking common policies or binding commitments but they were less wary than Canada, for example, about creating permanent bodies for consultation in matters of trade, education, health, secretariat and the like;

18. This Asian enthusiasm was an invigorating influence to the whole conference, and probably a surprise. India, Pakistan and Ceylon repeatedly pointed out that having voluntarily come into the Commonwealth they now wanted to find out what it meant to them and what they meant to it. The more useful and active the Commonwealth the more eagerly would their peoples support it.

19. The new Asian members also brought along some fireworks in the privacy of the family. India and Pakistan pitched hard at each other over Kashmir and then joined forces against South Africa's treatment of Indians. Their memories of British rule are not all peaches and cream and they made this amply clear; but no less clear was their expressed willingness to forget past conflicts and join forces in the family;

20. A novel twist came when India and Pakistan were asked to use their influence in the establishment of peaceful and democratic conditions in Malaya and Burma. The dark countries to take a share in the white man's burden, so to speak.

21. The United States was not present and yet in almost every field of discussion it was recognized that the Commonwealth's broad aims are linked with and even dependent upon the United States. Canada in particular drew insistent attention to the U.S. and defended American policies when they came under fire. (Incidentally, more than a third of the conference's cost was cared for by a Carnegie grant.)

22. The economic discussions were broad and inconclusive, and precise statements of views were secret.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In Gideon the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night: and God said, Ask what I shall give thee. And Solomon said, Thou hast shewed unto thy servant David my father great mercy, according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee; and thou hast kept for him this great kindness, that thou hast given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day. And now, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy servant king instead of David my father: and I am but a little child: I know not how to go out or come in.... Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this thy so great a people?....

And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; but has asked for thyself understanding to discern judgement; behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart.... And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches, and honour; so that there shall not be any among the kings like unto thee all thy days. (I Kings 3; 5-7, 11, 12, 13.)

Players For Sale

(Sudbury Star)

It would be silly to suggest that professional promoters are interested in the welfare of Canadian youth. All they ask for is a strong pair of skating legs and the ability to play hockey.

When the legs begin to weaken and the hockey "know-how" doesn't keep pace with the promoter's demands, the players are traded like any ordinary item of merchandise and finally wind up in oblivion.

There are powerful interests linked up with professional sports promotion today and public opinion is the only force left to end the exploitation protested by churches and schools alike.

The present practice of signing up young schoolboys is little short of cradle-robbing.

Mission Circle Displays Prize

MILLBROOK, Sept. 22 (ENS) —The Golden Links Mission Circle held its opening fall meeting at the home of Miss Jean Burnham, vice-president, on Tuesday evening, with 24 members present. Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, president, was in the chair. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. David Lunn. After the responsive reading, prayers were offered by the Misses Betty and Jessie Lunn; Miss E. Hetherington was at the piano for the hymns.

The study book "Growing With The Years" was introduced by Miss Hetherington, who called attention to the fact that its author, Dr. Kenneth J. Beaton, had himself served as a missionary in West China and had visited many other mission fields.

After the minutes read by Betty Lunn, secretary, Mrs. E. Powell, stewardship secretary gave her report.

Mrs. Irwin Hatherly offered her home for the next meeting which is to be held on October 18.

Plans were made to attend the rally at Peterborough, Oct. 5.

Mrs. Hobbs displayed the nine books of the New Anniversary Book Shelf presented to the Millbrook Circle for sharing honors with George St., Peterborough for being the best read circles in the presbytery.

Letters were read from Miss Olive Smith of Victoria and Miss Connie Wagar by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. E. Ingham, who was instructed to send the regrets of the circle to the St. James' group for not being able to repeat the play "Straight Furrows" for them, as requested.

Miss Margaret Smith gave a report of her summer spent with the Youth Caravan touring southern Ontario, conducting vacation schools at Burlington, London and Belleville and doing survey work in the new housing areas. She passed around pictures taken of the group at work.

Refreshments were served by the supper hostesses, Mrs. Arnold Fallis, Mrs. Johnston Rowland and Miss Jessie Lunn.

Murder Over Starch

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., Sept 22 (AP)—Alva Trotter, who thought his shirts didn't have enough starch in them, was convicted Wednesday of killing his laundress' husband. Sentence was deferred. Witness testified that Trotter criticized the laundress about the starch last May, then got into a fight with her husband, Floyd Ellyson. Ellyson died from 20 stab wounds in the body.

J. Robson Chosen Teen Town Head

NORWOOD, Sept. 22 (ENS). —'Teen Town reassembled for the fall season at a meeting in the Legion Hall on Wednesday evening. Officers for the year were chosen as follows: Jack Robson, president Ruth Baskin, vice-president; Gordon Fennell, secretary-treasurer; Marion Hubble, Allan Fairfield, reporters; Doris Moore, Ernie Spencer, G. B. LaBrash, and Jacquelyn Rogers, committee; Marion Jones, Toni Edmunds, Jean Baskin, lunch conveners; Betty Baker, pianist. Dancing followed the business meeting and Art Jones was at the piano. Chaperones were Miss Turnbull, Miss Gibson, and Miss Mercer, all members of Norwood High School staff.

Battered By Storm

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 22 (CP)—The tug McNamara reached this Georgian Bay port under tow Wednesday night after being battered for 11 hours by a severe storm on Lake Huron. The scow she was towing is still adrift and was last seen off nearby Sauble Beach. Capt. Little, skipper of the McNamara, said the tow line to the scow became entangled in the tug's propeller during the storm and stopped the motors.

Arrives In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP)—Paul Bastid, deputy for Paris and former minister of commerce in the French government, will arrive in Ottawa tomorrow en route to Japan. While in Ottawa he will be in touch with Canadian members of parliament.

Blame Safety Light For 2 Traffic Deaths

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—For the second time in as many days, a Coroner's Jury was told that a street car advertising safety light caused the death of a pedestrian. Evidence introduced into the Aug. 29 death of Margaret Martin, 82, was identical to that brought forward into an inquest Wednesday into the Aug. 6 death of Mrs. Catharine Faibish. Both women were struck when they walked from behind a street car into the path of another.

Police recently suggested that rubber guards be placed over the protruding guard on the light fixture.

Riverdale Boys Play PCVS Saturday Night

The Collegiate football season opens Saturday night at the Exhibition Park as the PCVS seniors and juniors, last year's COSSA champions in both divisions, meet the Toronto Riverdale Collegiate teams.

Riverdale have for the past three years played the local Collegiate teams in the first game of the season. The exhibition junior game begins at 6:30 and the senior at 8:30, both under the new floodlights.

Three years ago the Riverdale squads carried home two victories while the Peterborough teams came back the next year to take both ends of the doubleheader. Last year Riverdale again took the Collegiate boys in both games.

Five of 1948 Squad

Although the PCI seniors still have five of last year's first line, they will miss the playing of halfbacks Blair Thomson and Wally Graham. Johnny Green, this year at Varsity, will not be seen flipping long passes and dropkicking from the quarterback position. Jim Swanston, Howard Hempstead, Al Beavis and Gordon Buck, all linesmen, are absent from this year's lineup.

Coach Bev Goulding is hoping that the other five of last year's first team will hold the team together until the remainder get their grounding. Grainger, Lowes, Northcott, Coon and Killingbeck, all good footballers, have the spirit to do just that.

The junior squad, coached by Alex Londry, is big and fast. During scrimmages Wednesday night they tore at each other as though a title was at stake.

At Quarter For Juniors

Bryon Young, a fourth-year junior, is at quarter for the juniors. He is a triple-threat man and capable of leading his team cleverly to victory. R. Fowler at the half position went well during the Wednesday practice for a first-year man. Langhorne and McIlraith, a half and an end, both last year's players, will help steady the green players who were taken in to replace Armstrong, Evans and others who moved up to the seniors.

Little is known of the opposition for Saturday. The Riverdale juniors were blanked recently by the Lakeview crew 11 to 0. Don Hughes, manager of the Toronto junior team said in ending a letter to Coach Goulding, 'I remain yours sincerely a very harrassed manager." It remains to be seen how harrassed he will be after Saturday's game.

NEW BLOOD — Making sure, the Yankees brought in, left to right: Pitcher Hank Gr[illegible] played by the Pirates; First Baseman Fenton Mole, from Newark; Outfielder Jim Delsing and First Baseman Joe Collins, from Kansas City; First Baseman Johnny Mize from the Giants, and Pitcher Wally Hood and Catcher Ralph Houk, from Kansas City.

Kiner Smacks His 52nd Homer

PITTSBURG, Sept. 22 (AP). — Home run No. 52 is in the record book—with nine games still to go—but Ralph Kiner says he does not have a batboy's chance to tying Babe Ruth's mighty 60.

"I simply have too much catching up to do," grinned the big Pittsburg Pirate left fielder.

He did not seem too unhappy about it. In fact, he had been in a jovial mood ever since the third inning of the Boston Braves game Wednesday night when he hoisted one of Bill Voiselle's curves over the left field score-board That tied his own personal record at 51, the same as he got in 1947.

Then he repeated the trick, same place and same pitcher, in the sixth inning to set a new mark for himself.

The three runs batted in gave Kiner 122 for the season and put him three ahead of Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson for the league leadership

Asked about his chances of cracking Hack Wilson's National League record of 56, Kiner said:

"I'm just going to try to hit the ball I'm not worrying about any records."

Queen Mary Wins

Queen Mary Seniors blanked Queen Alex 5-0 in a Public School Soccer League encounter yesterday at Confederation School. Finn Nisbett and McIlwain scored in the first half, while Merritt and Dunn counted in the last part, the latter scoring on a penalty kick. The teams:

Queen Mary—MacIlwain, Merrett, D. Nisbett, Stewart, Cullen, Roberts, Dunn, Deck, P. Nisbett, Watson, Houghton, Finn, White, Jackson, Franks.

Queen Alex—Macklin, Nichols, Weir, Gordon, Stewart, Lang, McKinney, Kemp, Harrison, Wood, Brown, Turnbull, Whitton, Kingdon.

Referee—A. Olmstead.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Jack Dane, recreation director, informs us there'll be a meeting of the boxing committee on Sept. 30—a week from this Friday—at eight p.m. in the Ashburnham Hall. That's at the corner of Hunter and Mark Streets upstairs. On the program will be a boxing card arranged by Ron Menzies, who is secretary of the local administrative boxing council, and there'll be instruction films on the manly art. Following the show, a meeting will discuss the future of amateur boxing in Peterborough. The show is free and 'tis hoped this will provide a little impetus in reviving the mitt sport locally. Those interested should attend.

Baseball playdowns are expensive, especially as they occur in the cooler fall weather when rugby seems more appropriate. That's why Waterloo Tigers, runners-up in the strong Inter-County League, have decided to pass up the OBA senior "B" playdowns against Niagara Falls. Nor is Stratford interested, several of the Nats' USA imports having packed up and left. As far as we know now, there are but four clubs around for senior "B" play, Niagara Falls of that area, Ottawa of the valley setup, Toronto from the metropolitan zone, and Petes of the COBL. So we may be in semi-finals now. The Petes play Toronto Uniques here Saturday aft in their second scrap of the two-in-three series, the men o' Murphy winning the opener.

About Folding Money

Devaluation of the English pound and the Canadian dollar will definitely affect the international sports picture. Our Canuck hockeyists going to the Old Country will be paid less than before whilst Canadians going to the States will receive a nice raise on the currency exchange. By the same token, USA baseballers and gridders performing in Canada this year and next will take a cut in pay. The custom has always been to pay athletes—no matter where they came from—in the currency of the country where they perform. Thus a so-called amateur Canadian puckist in the States will now draw about $110 a week in our money if paid $100 in American folding stuff.

Three more grid games on tap under the arcs at Morrow Park this week-end. Oshawa Red Raiders oppose the local Panthers at 8.30 tomorrow night in an ORFU scheduled fixture, second last one to be seen here during the regular schedule. And one the Panthers want desperately to take after dropping two tough ones to open their season. Saturday night sees Coach Bev Goulding's and Coach Alex Londry's good PCVS seniors and juniors open their rugby semester against Toronto Riverdale Collegiate squads in exhibitions. Junior joust goes at 6.30 and the senior struggle at 8.30. Given decent weather, these football frays should draw big crowds.

Balmies Beach Panthers

Balmy Beaches of Toronto hadn't too much trouble here last night in defeating the Panthers 22-4, the senior "A" squad finishing stronger. Some 500 fans on deck after a rainy day—and we don't think the Panthers were wise in staging an exhibish when three other grid games were listed for Morrow Park this week. At that, the local club (with Coach Spike Matthews sitting this one out) made a good show against the Beaches till halfway through. And the Balmies didn't look like the old gang when Ab Box was their powerhouse. A fairly open game, with not too many fumbles, and the kicking just so-so.

This city loses one of its outstanding girl athletes with Nona Whetung moving to Toronto. She has excelled here for a number of years in softball, basketball, bowling and paddling, to mention a few of the games in which Nona participated. A former secretary of the Girls' Bowling League, she supplied us weekly with accounts of that circuit. And this popular first-sacker of Westclox has helped that club to many city titles, as well as a provincial crown some five years ago. Playing at that time, if we recall rightly, with "Tommy" Bullock, Joyce Withers, Barb Rome, Marj Hawthorne, Rita O'Heron, Verna Patterson, Marg Watson, Bea Morrow, Olive Hanwell, Toots McLean and a few more. Lots of luck, Nona.

Tows Crippled Ship

HALIFAX, Sept. 22 (CP) — The Navy said here Wednesday the Frigate Swansea will reach Goose Bay, Labrador, Sunday night with the crippled air force supply ship Malahat in tow. The Swansea, preparing to sail for Halifax last week on the last leg of a 4,500-mile cruise, was diverted to the Malahat's assistance. The Malahat developed engine trouble on a far northern supply mission to Coral Harbor.

Umpire Tosses Robinson Out In Crucial Game

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22—(AP)—Jackie Robinson and Umpire Bill Stewart, who thumbed him out of the first game of Wednesday's doubleheader between Brooklyn and St. Louis, still weren't seeing eye to eye today.

Stewart, a former referee in the National Hockey League, contends he evicted the Dodger second baseman because "he (Robinson) kept belly-aching and saying things to me."

Stewart, still livid with rage in between games, said:

"He accused me of choking up. I won't take that from any man. I wouldn't have minded it so much had he called me a so-and-so, but not that. He kept putting his hand to his throat [illegible] things at me."

Robinson denied that he had said anything to Stewart.

"Until he had thrown me out of the game, I did not say a word to Stewart," said Jackie. "I gestured at my throat. I spoke to Newk (Don Newcombe, Brooklyn pitcher) and called to Camp (Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher) but I never said a word to Stewart. If he says I did he's a damned liar."

Robinson's banishment forced Manager Burt Shotton to shift Eddie Miksis from third to second. Since Joe Garagiola's game-winning single went through the second base sector occupied by Miksis the incident later was compared to the Cleveland Indians' disputed pick-off play at second base in the world series last year when Stewart also was involved.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Two American Ryder Cup players fell before inspired British play Wednesday in extra-hole matches in the British Professional Golfers' Association championship at Tadworth, England.

Jimmy Demaret bowed to Johnny Fallon, a British Ryder Cup nominee who was not chosen for the team, and in the final match of the day big Dutch Harrison, the Canadian open winner, wilted before the crushing finish of defending champion Fred Daly of Ireland.

Lloyd Mangrum defeated Max Faulker, British Ryder Cup player, 4 and 3; Skip Alexander scored a decisive 5 and 3 victory over Fred Healing, a former Welsh champion; Clayton Heafner beat John Patton of England, 2 up; Sam Snead eliminated Neil Denny of England, 1 up; Johnny Palmer ousted Tom Haliburton of England, 2 and 1, and Bob Hamilton went 20 holes to turn back Norman Sutton of England.

All were second round matches in the five-day tournament.

At Lake Placid, a pair of hard-hitting defencemen — Norman Gustaven of Timmins, and Gus Kyle of Dysart, Sask.—stole the spotlight Wednesday in the opening scrimmage at New York Rangers' training camp.

Gustaven, a 195-pounder, played with Streatham in the British Hockey League last year, and concluded the season with New York Rovers in the Quebec Senior League. Kyle, at 210 pounds, was a defensive star with Regina Caps, Allan Cup finalists in 1949.

The work of this pair may help solve the Rangers' defensive problem for the National League campaign which starts Oct. 12.

Coach Tommy Finch's Hamilton Tigers Wednesday night continued in convincing manner when they bulldozed to a 50-1 victory over Woodstock in an Ontario Rugby Football Union game at Hamilton. Half-back Bill Manoian collected two majors and converted seven.

Hamilton Wildcats, defending Canadian grid champions, Wednesday night swamped Toronto Notre Dame 54-0 in a Junior Big Four football game at Hamilton. Floyd Cooper sparked the winners as he plunged through the line for big gains, rang up two touchdowns—one a spectacular 86 yard gallop.

Howie Harvey of Toronto, scheduled to play goal this year for Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League, quit hockey Wednesday.

"I was bothered with a skin ailment last winter," he said at Welland. "I don't think I can stand another season of it." Last year the young goalie played for Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association's senior league.

"I'm going back to Toronto. I'm going to enrol at the University of Toronto for an engineering course."

Harvey was to replace Baz Bastien in the nets for Hornets. Bastien lost an eye in hockey practice at Welland Monday.

The British Columbia all-stars representing the west in the Canadian Junior Lacrosse final for the Minto Cup, are being royally treated in Owen Sound where the series against the Ontario team opens tonight.

On their arrival Tuesday, the western champions were tendered a civic welcome by Mayor E. C. Sargent and city officials, and took part in a parade to the city hall where they signed the guest book. They were banquet guests of the city Wednesday night.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings, said Wednesday he was pleased by the condition and spirit of the 80-odd players working out at the National Hockey League training camp.

He said when the group here joins a group now working out in Saskatoon, Sask., he would have plenty of strength to make up the 1949-50 version of the Red Wings.

"We have been lucky in connection with injuries so far. . . With such fine spirit and condition we are going to be hard to beat for the championship," he added.

Panthers Lose To Beaches By 22-4 Score In Grid Tilt

Balmy Beaches of Toronto took a 22-4 exhibition grid win over the Panthers before 500 fans in Morrow Park last night. They gained a 6-0 edge in the first quarter, led 11-4 at the half and were in front 16-4 going into the windup chapter. It was a fair game with the local squad looking good the first half in open play but being pushed back steadily the last two quarters by their senior "A" opponents.

Play was up and down for a space the first quarter before Leuty threw a 15-yard forward pass to Dunlop who shook loose to race nearly 40 for a try, with Monaghan kicking the convert. A Conlin-toMcGillis pass netted 20 more for Panthers but the homesters finally had to kick. West got around end for 30 yards late to the Panthers' 40-yard chalk and Monaghan bucked five more. Bark passed to West to move the sticks as the frame ended.

Went Ahead

Plunkett ran out the kick in the second and Scriver got rolling around end for 25 and then threw a pass for 20 to Plunkett. This pair repeated for 15 more and Scriver kicked a placement from about 20 yards out. Morley got off on a nice run, but Bartley hopped on a Beach fumble. A Thompson-Plunkett lateral gained 12 and the latter skirted end for 12. Garvey's missed placement effort went for the last Panther point. McLaughlin, Leuty, West and Cassidy rushed up but Rush got a fumble. West had a big run-back and he bucked for yards later. Dunlop tore through for an unconverted try at the half.

Davidson got a Beach fumble in the third, but Beaches moved up with Morley, Leuty, West, Monaghan and Dunlop carrying the mail on bucks, passes and end runs. A Bark-to-Douglas pass of 15 yards went for an unconverted try. In the fourth, Douglas kicked a point after gains by Morley and Fleming. Morley got around end later for 12, Leuty passed 25 yards to Monaghan and then he threw a touchdown pass to Bayley, not converted, to finish the scoring.

The teams:

Beaches: Flying wing, Dunlop; halves, Monaghan, Baylis, Fleming; quarter, Leuty; snap, Pruski; insides, Burdick, McKim; middles, Sullivan, Lech; outsides, Cassidy, Richardson; alternates, Bark, Morley, Douglas, Sheridan, Jarvis, Bayley, West, Fowler, McNally, Levantis, Weinstein, MacKenzie, George, Beatty, McGarry, McLaughlin, Jackson, Andrecka.

Panthers: Flying wing, Hodson; halves, Plunkett, Conlin, Russelle; quarter, Garvey; snap, Hill; insides, Trimm, Masters; middles, Farr, Beatty; outsides, McGillis, Davidson; alternates, Board, Scriver, Thompson, Moore, Rush, Stewart, R. VanAllen, Miller, Fraser, Bartley, Lynch, Burns.

Referee, Doc Worton; umpire, Gord Young; head linesman, Don Duncan.

Borthwick Takes Professional Golfers Crown

SEIGNIORY CLUB, MONTEBELLO, Que., Sept. 22 (CP) — Dick Borthwick, who beat rain and darkness and almost walloped par under the terrific weather handicap, carried off to Hamilton Ancaster Wednesday the 1949 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship.

It turned out to be a shoo-in for the regular Ancaster pro on Wednesday and his brand-new title was a present for his two young children whom he had promised he would do his best.

His best was a sparkling 286—two over par for the 72-hole journey and seven strokes better than big Bob Gray of Toronto Scarboro whose game was wrecked after two successive lipouts penalties on the third round.

Borthwick's victory was worth $400 as CPGA winner and a far greater undeterminate amount from the advertising revenue he can collect.

Gray won $250, and from there on the money award was scaled down to long-drive taxifares of $5.

The field of 52 starters trailed far behind Borthwick and a half-dozen or so dropped out.

Gordie Brydson of Toronto Mississauga, trying grimly to defend his 1948 title, had to settle for a 297, 17 strokes back of the leader.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The ladies' open trebles tournament scheduled for yesterday morning and afternoon had to be withdrawn after one game had been completed and about half of the second game. The showers put the greens in such a condition that it was impossible to continue.

To the credit of the tournament committee they did all they could to carry on the games, particularly so when they had bowlers from Port Hope and Cobourg.

They postponed the opening game from 10 a.m. until 1.30 p.m., cut short the games to 10 ends, hoping that they might at least get in two games, sufficient to call it a tournament, but it was no dice and they had to call everything off.

Now, just as a last reminder, don't forget:

First—Men's doubles Friday night at 7:15 o'clock. Choose your parties.

Second—The masquerade tournament on Saturday night. This is going to be a real treat. We could let you in on some of the stunts that will take place, but that would spoil the fun. Come out and see for yourself, and remember this, it is free.

Down at Oshawa on the half holiday P. Moore, C. Lawrence and Ray Bacon came in second for three wins, just a point below the cup winners.

Roe Saves Day For Brooks Blanks Cards In 5-0 Win

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Brooklyn Dodgers still are in the thick of the National League pennant fight today thanks to Preacher Roe, a skinny lefthander with plenty of heart and pitching savvy.

Roe kept the Dodgers' finger in the pie Wednesday night when he pitched his mates to a 5-0 triumph over the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals in the night portion of a day-night doubleheader.

The victory was a "must" as the Cards had scored a thrilling 1-0 victory behind lefty Max Lanier in the afternoon to boost their lead to 2½ games over the Dodgers.

While the spotlight centred on the Cards-Dodger doubleheader, the New York Yankees' American League lead was cut to two games over Boston Red Sox. The Yanks were upset, 10-9, by Chicago White Sox while the Red Sox downed Cleveland Indians 9-6.

Saved The Bacon

Roe's excellent job reduced Brooklyn's deficit to 1½ games again and evened the pressure for tonight's third and final game of the series. If Roe had failed, the Dodger goose would have been cooked for a defeat would have dropped them 3½ games off the pace, an almost impossible deficit to overcome.

Roe limited the Cards to two singles and faced only 28 men in besting Harry Brecheen, Ted Wilks and Al Brazle.

The Cards won the nerve-tingling day game in the ninth inning when Joe Garagiola singled with the bases loaded and none out off Don Newcombe. Enos Slaughter started things with a double. Ron Northey was intentionally walked and rookie Bill Howerton beat out a bunt.

The Yanks blew an 8-1 lead in losing to Chicago. Gus Zernial climaxed an uphill battle with a game-winning three-run, pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning off Joe Page.

Boston was forced to come from behind to beat the Indians. Ellis Kinder, fourth Boston pitcher, blanked the Indians on two hits over the last three innings to pick up his 22nd victory.

Kiner Gets 52nd Homer

Outside the pannant races, the chief excitement was provided by Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. Kiner belted his 51st and 52nd home runs of the season as the Pirates bowed 9-7 to Boston Braves.

In other National League games Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phips divided a doubleheader as did New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds.

The Phils beat the Cubs 3-1 in the opener but lost the nightcap, 9-6. The Reds shaded the Giants 5-4 in 10 innings but the Giants won the windup, 5-2, in seven frames.

Art Houtteman pitched Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 victory over Philadelphia and Dick Weik hurled Washington to a three-hit, 7-0, triumph over St. Louis in the remaining American League activity.

Wilson Pitches For Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP) Buffalo Bisons, seeking to add the Governor's Cup to their International League pennant laurels, have named Jim Wilson to pitch the opening game of the playoff final against Montreal Royals here tonight.

Wilson will be opposed on the mound by Dan Bankhead, who has a sparkling record of 20 victories against six defeats in the regular campaign. Both are righthanders.

Since the Bisons acquired him from Baltimore last August, Wilson has won three out of six, including an abbreviated no-hitter against Jersey City. He will be gunning for his second playoff triumph.

The Royals whipped Rochester Red Wings Tuesday night at Montreal winning the semi-final in four straight games. The Bisons took their best-of-seven semi-final from Jersey City Giants 4-1.

Serves 25 Years With U.S. Firm

NORWOOD, Sept. 22 (ENS).—Erle B. Laing, assistant secretary of Lincoln Rochester Trust Co., celebrated his 25th anniversary with the bank early this month. A native of Norwood, Mr. Laing was employed by the Bank of Toronto from 1913 to 1923 before joining the Lincoln Alliance Bank on September 9, 1924. He has served as certification and block clerk, head bookkeeper, and now is supervisor of centralized bookkeeping operations at the bank's main office. He was elected assistant secretary in 1941. From 1926 to 1930 Mr. Laing attended the classes of the American Institute of Banking. He is a member of the board of directors of Rochester Chapter, National Management Association. During World War 1 he served in England with the Canadi[illegible] from [illegible]. He is the son of Mrs. Laing and the late E. J. Laing.

KENORA, Ont., Sept. 22 (CP)—John Archibald McKenna, 69, former chief of the Ontario Forestry Service, died Tuesday in Kenora Hospital.

WINS LONG FIGHT—Shirley Holden, 14-year-old Windsor youngster, who wasn't expected to live after she was burned in a gasoline explosion, is back home after three years and eight months in hospital. Shown holding her four-months-old sister Lena, Shirley is making plans to go back to school.

New Bond Issue

TORONTO, Sept. 22 — (CP) — A new issue of $60,000,000 Province of Ontario bonds was announced Wednesday. The bonds, to be dated Nov. 1, 1949, will consist of $15,000,000 2½ per cent debentures due Nov. 1, 1954 and three per cent debentures to mature Nov. 1, 1965. Proceeds will be used to refund debentures of the province.

Cobourg Protests Conversion Bill

COBOURG, Sept. 22 — (ENS) —Cobourg Public Utilities Commissioner, Maurice Booth has urged the Commission to register its disapproval of the fact that this district is being required to pay a share of the cost of converting the 25 cycle communities to 60 cycle. At the regular meeting of the Commission, Mr. Booth said that opposition to the spread of the cost should be made at the meeting next month of the Eastern Ontario Municipal Electrical Association.

Cobourg will be represented at this meeting, Mr. Booth pointed out, and should voice its opposition to the cost being thus apportioned because the Cobourg division, already on 60 cycle, should not have to participate in the cost of converting [illegible] to 60 cycle, he said.

KG And KE Victors In Soccer Contests

Bad weather did not deter soccer play Wednesday afternoon at King Edward Park when Central met King Edward in a senior school tilt. Right from the kick-off King Edward forced the play into Central area where Hunt scored twice in the first half with long shots on goal. On resuming Central, through Delahey, carried the play into their opponents' goal to reduce the count by two goals through the efforts of Rowley and Delahey. King Edward got the finning counter in the last few minutes to win 3-2, thereby gaining their first two league points.

Central—D. Bye, goal; R. Rowe and S. Brooks full backs; D. Noble, N. Bannon and C. Bertram half backs; J. Rowley, L. Mongraw, B. Delahey, D. Patterson and B. Gardner, forwards. Subs.: J. Heffernan, R. Gibbs, C. Craymer.

King Edward—J. Haggart, goal; C. Chalmers and E. Tackington, full backs; J. Hobart, N. Johnson and J. Sutherland, half backs; B. Hobart, J. Fritz, L. Ball, V. Smyth and D. Hunt, forwards. No subs. Referee—Stroyan Leith.

King George Wins

In a heavy rain King George and Prince of Wales soccer teams battled in a senior game at King George grounds with the East City boys winning 5-0. Prince of Wales trotted out a new line-up only to find that Crowder was the lone marksman in the first period. In the second half, Crowder gained two goals on individual efforts. Evans and Chamberlain tried hard to score but they wilted near the finish to allow Withers to make the count 5-0.

Prince of Wales—D. Brockwell, goal; G. Spiers and J. Brien, full backs; D. Chamberlain, G. Marchen and R. Robbins, half backs; F. Boyce, R. McEwen, N. Clarke, D. Spiers and W. Browne, forwards. Subs.: L. Barrie, E. Browne, P. Evans, W. Downer.

King George—P. McImoyle, goal; D. Barclay and P. Johnson, full backs; R. McKenzie, L. McKenzie and R. Foote, half backs; A. Barker, B. Simpson, R. Withers, B. Fairs, D. Crowder and R. Fuller, forwards. Subs.: P. Johnson, C. Butcher, R. McKenzie, D. Well.

Referee: Mr. Paterson.

Of course the $1,000 prize which goes with it is not to be disdained either.

Fire Fighting Expert Suggests Diligence

NORWOOD, Sept. 22—(ENS)—The Fire Brigade and Commission Monday heard E. O. McNealy, chairman of the membership committee of the Foremen's Association of Ontario, who gave a demonstration and talk on the way to roll hose for easier and more efficient handling, the way to hook up to hydrants, handle hose and ladders, use of ropes to lower and raise quipment, hose and injured persons.

He also outlined his own experiences from days of hand reels to model T Fords and present-day equipment. He illustrated how a volunteer department can grow and expand through years of hard work and diligent practice. He also described the functions and constitution of the Firemen's Association of Ontario.

The meeting was closed by Reeve Rork S. Ferguson, who moved a vote of thanks to Mr. McNealy, seconded by Fire Commissioner William Garden.

Evening Auxiliary Wants More Members

NORWOOD, Sept. 22 (ENS).—September meeting of the Evening Auxiliary was held at the home of Miss Clara Jenkins on Wednesday, with Miss Pauline Weir, president, in the chair Mrs. John McConnell and her group had charge of the program. Mrs. McConnell read from the study book. Mrs. F. Patterson read the Scripture and Mrs. R. H. Gardner sang.

Dr. Beaton's book was introduced by means of a series of questions and answers. Those taking part were Mrs. McConnell, Miss Ina McConnell, Mrs. Kenneth Pakenham, and Mrs. J. J. Stewart. Miss Weir made an appeal for more members, more money, more missionaries, and more readers. Lunch was served.

Bert McLean Spark Plug Of Lindsay's Annual Fair

By PETE McGILLEN

LINDSAY, Sept. 22. — Canadian National Exhibition has its Elwood Hughes, but Lindsay Exhibition has its Bert McLean, and that's one of the main reasons why the fair in the home town of Premier Leslie Frost is one of the biggest little fairs in Canada.

It is a Class A fair, with $15,000 in prizes, and last year they packed in 100,000 people in four days. Mr. McLean modestly forecast he was looking for a repetition of this turnout when the turnstiles started to click yesterday for the four-day program.

Back in 1937, the fair was $20,000 in the red, and in 1940 the Fair Board named Bert McLean manager. That was a good move. McLean is a great showman, an extrovert, an Elwood Hughes in his own sphere. He knows everybody and could give [illegible] professors lessons in practical psychology. He is genial, effervescent, a booster and a builder on the side of those who scoff at obstacles and figures things can be done. He is willing to carry a major portion of the load, too, even though he has an able board of directors which, by the way, includes Premier Frost.

Wartime Boom

Since 1940, without any opposition within 50 miles, opportunity thrust big gates and big crowds on the fair, forcing enlargement and improvement of facilities. In fact this wartime boom, aided perhaps by the fact that this September fair came at a time when farmers were weary. They wanted to relax, to meet their friends, they had money to spend, so they flocked to Lindsay. In fact they supported the fair along with the urban customers to the tune of $140,000 profit in those eight years. The Board wiped out the $20,000 debt, spent $100,000 on the grounds, and have $20,000 salted away in Victory Bonds as a start toward a new main building and grand stand.

One big problem facing the Fair Board was the fact that motor traffic had to cross the racetrack. Hold-ups due to races caused traffic congestion on Colborne St. It was a major irritation. So, Bert McLean decided they should build a two-way car subway under the track. That presented some unusual problems. Engineers said it couldn't be done. Bert McLean had other ideas, and today the subway is finished and ready for the exhibition traffic. No more hazards, no more traffic congestion but orderly speedy handling of car traffic and more satisfied customers.

Built Subways

The Board already had built a pedestrian underpass some years ago, and there was also a stock subway at the south end of the race-track, but this new project completes the lay-out.

Bert McLean would be the first to admit that success was forced upon him, that he lives in a good fall fair district, and that his associates do all the work, and are entitled to the credit.

The reports of attendances and income are unbelievable in some circles, but Lindsay people know differently. They know too, that Mr. McLean must be on good terms with the weatherman, and they chuckle when they recall that one day he told people over the radio to stay home because the grandstand was jammed, but they turned out in even greater numbers to set a record.

Other fair officials regard Mr. McLean as an expert, and he has been called to many centres to help solve problems. In fact when the Peterborough Fair Board was hesitating to have another exhibition after the army relinquished the grounds, Mr. McLean came down and begged them to get going. They took his advice.

He snorted when someone told him that Peterborough had been reported in a newspaper story as being the fourth largest fair in Ontario. "Pshaw, they have 36,000 population and the four-day attendance was 45,000. We have 10,000 people and we pack in ten times that number. No, sir, we're fourth, but maybe when Peterborough directors hit their stride we'll have opposition. I hope they do, we're neighbors, and I'd like to see them get cracking."

Tibet Helped By Troubles Hitting China

China's plight is always Tibet's opportunity, observes The Economist. When the original Chinese Revolution broke out in 1911 the Tibetans took their chance of rising in revolt against the loosely organized Chinese rule and expelling the Chinese garrison from Lhasa. Since then Tibet proper—though by no means all of the territory which is ethnically Tibetan—has been free from direct Chinese control, but the last few years have seen a certain restoration of Chinese influence due to the repercussions of events elsewhere.

British Policy

From 1911 to about 1940 British Indian policy in the Himalayan borderlands was to support Tibetan independence without denial of Chinese suzerainty, the basic reason for this was that China was incapable of organizing an effective authority in this wild country.

But during the Pacific war the British government's desire not to embarrass China in any way caused a tendency to yield to China's pretensions to complete sovereignty over Tibet, and this withdrawal from support for Tibetan independence was intensified as the time drew near for the "quitting" of India and remote frontier problems lost their interest for the caretakers in Delhi.

The new government of independent India started out with too many urgent tasks nearer home to have time for looking beyond the Himalayas. So the Lhasa regime was isolated and began to slip gradually more and more under the influence of its relatively powerful eastern neighbor.

Situation Changed

But recently the situation has radically changed. In the first place the Chinese Nationalist government has been too much weakened by its defeats, at the hands of the Communists to be able any longer to intimidate the Tibetans. Secondly, the Chinese Communists, who aspire to take over all the territorial claims of Kuomintang China, are anathema to the archaic regime of priests and nobles who govern Tibet and are well aware of what happened to their kind in Outer Mongolia. Thirdly, interest in what goes on in Tibet is reawakening in Delhi and there is no enthusiasm there for the idea of Chinese Communism (or of Russian Communism) infiltrating south through Sinkiang) established on the Himalayan passes.

Tibet by itself is the most harmless and inoffensive of neighbors, and India's interests require its maintenance as a friendly, independent buffer state on India's northern frontier.

Tibet Asserts Itself

Taking advantage of these political trends, the Dalai Lama's government has expelled from Tibet the Chinese mission which performed the functions of a Residency in a territory over which China claims to be paramount. The pretext was that certain members of the mission had been carrying on Communist propaganda. The Nationalist Government, vigorously asserting China's sovereign rights even while it is fleeing from capital to capital, has rejected this charge, saying that its representatives were very carefully selected and could not have been Communists. But in view of the large number of Kuomintang soldiers and officials who have recently passed over to the Communist camp it would not be surprising if one of two of the younger members of the mission had been indulging in some "anti-feudal" talk in old-world Lhasa. In any case, the Tibetans have sent them out of the country.

SEATED ON DECK CHAIRS aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth, Princess Barbara Hutton Troubetzkoy (left) chats with the Maharani of Baroda upon their arrival in New York this week. The ailing Princess, American-born heiress to the Woolworth millions, delared: "I am feeling very badly." Here for the first time in three years she told newsmen that the purpose of her trip is for further medical checkup.

Love-Story Business Booms Dime Comic Books Show

By FRED KERNER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(CP).—The love-story business is booming—on dime comic books.

The day of the thick ad-filled pulp magazine with six to 10 gooey romances a month is past. Now thin periodicals, with sexy covers, offer four or five comic-strip-style love yarns that prove justice and virtue always triumph in the end.

The market seemed to be ripe for just such an innovation. In no time more than 100 different magazines were on the news stands and now—a few months after they first appeared—there are almost 200 published. The number increases weekly, about as fast as publishers can dream up new names for their comic books.

And the gals—from 9 to 90—are buying them in greater volume than any pulp magazine ever sold. News dealers report that their love-story magazine has increased more than ten-fold in some cases. The kiddies' comic books have all but been pushed off the news stands.

Formula Unchanged

The story formula has not changed a bit. The heroes are all handsome and kind, the villains are all handsome and wicked and the heroines are all beautiful and being led astray. At the end of each story, virtue triumphs—the heroine spouting a brief message to all other girls to benefit by the lesson she has learned the hard way.

Sexily - dressed secretaries learn about mink coats and 'teen-agers gone astray discover the facts about "wolves." Dialogue is brief and written with A-B-C simplicity and the multi-colored covers display lush specimens of feminine pulchritude.

Every story discourages lying, cheating and promiscuity. The popularity of the new books has cut deeply into the love story field, even trimming the huge circulation of the older-established slick-paper confession magazines.

Sea Scouts Succeed In Drive At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 22—(ENS)—Sea Scouts' drive for papers and baskets is progressing well, Patrol Leaders reported Tuesday at a meeting in the basement of the United Church.

During the evening Scout Bill Down took his lashes and hitches test.

Skipper Ken Jakins gave the first in a series of talks on boats and navigation. The troop welcomed Jerry Doubt as a new recruit.

Skinny men, women gain 5, 10, 15 lbs.

4 OUT OF 5 PREFER Libby's "Gentle Press" TOMATO JUICE

Recently 390 grocers made a consumer preference test in 390 grocery stores across Canada. In 81 stores Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice and the next most popular brand were offered at the same price. *In four out of five instances, the shopper selected Libby's.

The reason for this outstanding preference is easy to understand. Libby's Tomato Juice is processed by Libby's patented "Gentle Press" method which extracts only the purest, sweetest juice from fancy, field-ripened tomatoes—tomatoes which are thin-skinned and heavy with juice, the result of 37 years of seed selection by Libby experts. It takes more tomatoes to fill a tin the "Gentle Press" Libby way, and you can taste the delectable difference.

Libby's has that smell-of-the-garden freshness because the juice is packed the same day the tomatoes are picked, and nothing is added except a little salt. If you've ever walked into a garden and enjoyed the sun-ripened goodness of the reddest, juiciest tomato on the vine, you know the unsurpassed flavour of Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice.

Your grocer has just received the 1949 pack of Libby's, fresh from the garden. Order your supply, and serve it regularly. Libby's is Canada's favourite health drink—economical, and as good as it is good for you.

*In 309 stores where distress merchandise—tomato juice reduced in price to clear—was displayed in competition with Libby's, 3 out of 5 shoppers preferred Libby's.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK if you don't agree that Libby's "Gentle-Press" Tomato Products — Juice, Catchup, Chili Sauce and Soup — are the best you've ever tasted.

British House of Commons Finished In Six Months

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Sept. 21—(CP)—Britain's new House of Commons is rising on the ashes of the old, and builders hope another six months will see the job completed. Half hidden from public view by Westminster Hall, the shell of the new chamber is taking shape in steel and stone. If present schedules are maintained, it will be ready for members by March 31, 1950.

Except for air-conditioning and loud-speakers, it won't be much different from the House that German bombs reduced to rubble May 10, 1941, one of Britain's worst blitz nights.

Because "Winnie wanted it that way," the old graceful Gothic style of architecture is being preserved.

Some members suggested an up-to-date, streamlined building outside London. But Winston Churchill [illegible] traditional, oblong chamber fashioned by Sir Charles Barry when the present houses of parliament were built 100 years ago. The Conservative party leader won his point.

The roof and panelling will be in oak, grey this time instead of the old dark varnish. Set pieces of furniture are being supplied by Commonwealth countries as symbolic contributions. Canada's gift is to be the Speaker's table, made of white oak.

Jig-Saw Puzzles

As the new House nears completion—members now sit in the House of Lords Chamber—renovation continues on the 360-foot tower of the Houses of Parliament. The job of restoring the 11-storey tower, expected to last several years, was started after deep cracks were found in the outside face.

The tower is used for storing official general election records, and has one of the longest spiral staircases in the world linking its 11 floors.

Every time the Speaker takes the chair in the Commons, a government employee climbs 504 steps to hoist the Union Jack atop the tower's 30-foot flagpole.

Catch Slugger

BRANTFORD, Sept. 22 (CP)—Sought by police here since a factory watchman was slugged August 11, David Macdonald, 19, was brought from Sault Ste. Marie Tuesday. He is charged with assaulting Elwood Clarkson, watchman at the Ruddy-Freeborn Company Ltd., plant. The watchman received a bad scalp cut when he [illegible] the assailant.

KinsmenSponsor Stunt Car Show

A stunt car show, sponsored by the Kinsmen's Club Monday and Tuesday, in Exhibition Park, will be put on by a squad of drivers using 1949 cars.

Called the Congress of Hollywood Dare Devils, it is headed by Frankie "Superman" Mathews, of Dallas, Texas, Ellis "Buttercup" Pearce, Jacksonville, Florida, and a Canadian, Roy Reynolds from Halifax

As many as four cars will take part in the various stunts which are sure to raise the hair of all but the most hard-bitten spectator.

Teams of cars travelling hub to hub will plunge over ramps, execute criss-cross formations, and a variety of other stunts. The climax to the show will be provided by Superman Mathews driving a 1949 stock car up a set of high ramps while Buttercup Pearce drives underneath the soaring Mathews.

Any spectator not left limp, they say, is fit to qualify as one of the drivers for the show.

Jury Decides Paper Not Liable

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22 (CP) — A civil court jury Wednesday found the Southam Press and Wesley McCurdy, former publisher of the Winnipeg Tribune, not liable in a defamation action brought by Donald F. Tedlie, Canadian National Railways telegraph operator. The six-man jury took ten minutes to reach its verdict.

Tedlie, operator at Dugald, Man., at the time of the 1947 Labor Day train wreck which took 31 lives, alleged he was defamed and brought into public contempt and ridicule as a result of headlines published in the Winnipeg Tribune.

L. St. George Stubbs, counsel for Tedlie, contended the headline and story imputed and was intended to impute that Tedlie had displayed a wrong signal and was negligent.

Hugh Phillips, counsel for the defendants, contended that the report had been fair and accurate.

Fewer Accidents In 7-Day Class

TORONTO, Sept. 22—It was announced at this week's meeting of Industrial Accident Prevention Associations that the accident record prepared by the I.A.P.A. showed a slight decrease in accidents in 1949 involving seven days lost time or more in the 17 classes of industry under workmen's compensation in Ontario being 15,112 in the first eight months of this year against 15,719 in the same months in 1948.

Mr. Kercher reported that the next annual convention of the I.A.P.A. would be held in Toronto on April 24 and 25. L. H. Ingram, of Peterborough, was named chairman of the program committee; E. O. Morgan, of Toronto, chairman of the reception committee; S. C. Jones, of Toronto, chairman of the committee on safety exhibit, and K. C. B. Corbett, of Toronto, chairman of the committee on hotel and meeting arrangements. E. Keith Davidson, of Ottawa, and A. D. Baillie, Hamilton, had previously been named chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the convention committee.

Stars Blame Careers For Many Film Divorces

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2[illegible] —Why is there so much divorce in Hollywood?

If anyone knows the answer, it should be the film famous themselves. So the AP Hollywood Forum put the query to them with these results:

Ronald Colman: "Careers and marriage don't mix. One career in the family is enough."

Robert Mitchum: "I don't think there are any more divorces in Hollywood than anywhere else. I have been all over the country and I have found just as much or more shady stuff going on. It is just that here in Hollywood, everything that happens gets published."

Gale Storm: "The motion picture industry is a self-centred business. In order to succeed, many feel they have to be selfish, and no one can live with people like that. However, I think those individuals are in the minority; and Hollywood, as a whole, has no more divorces than any other place."

Soap Opera Slant

Vincent Price: "American women don't make good wives. A home is a man's haven. The wife should know something about keeping a home. American women have the soap opera conception of marriage."

Art Linkletter: "There is too much separation of husband and wife in the movie industry. They are either off on tours or making movies on location. I don't think husbands and wives should be separated for long periods of time."

Dan Duryea: "I have been married 18 years. Look at Jean Hersholt, Irene Dunn, Harold Lloyd, and others. How can you say there is so much divorce with so many long-range marriages like that?"

Elsa Lanchester: "Selfishness is the reason for most divorces in Hollywood or anywhere. The will to make a marriage succeed is the surest formula for a successful marriage."

Edmond O'Brien: "They go into marriage too lightly, knowing they can always get a divorce if [illegible]"

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Sept. 22nd—Just imagine how long it would take you to assemble and clean the eighteen choice ingredients that go into SHIRRIFF'S FRUIT PUDDING! And they're such carefully selected ingredients of top quality! Dates and raisins and currants and mixed peel — combined with a rich spicy batter — steam cooked 'til the pudding is golden-brown and even textured! But wait 'til you TASTE Shirriff's Fruit Pudding! It has that old-time Fruit Pudding flavour that tantalizes and satisfies hearty Fall appetites. Let this delicious fragrance greet your home-from-work husband at the door . . . often. You'll find Shirriff's Fruit Pudding at your grocer's.

Small In Amount . . . but with a mighty important role . . . that's the part baking powder plays. So when I bake I use a baking powder that does a complete and efficient job. That's why I always use Double-Acting CALUMET BAKING POWDER. Calumet's first action begins in the mixing bowl when the liquid is added to the dry ingredients. Its second action is released by the heat of the oven. By these two scientifically-balanced and perfectly-timed actions, Calumet protects your baking from the start to the finish — means lighter, more tender, better results.

September means, among other things, rosy-cheeked apples at their tasty best . . . and how we love them! Good apples deserve the best of treatment—so why not serve them in an Applesauce Upside Down Cake — made with FIVE ROSES FLOUR. Famous "Five Roses", the wonderful flour "for all-purpose baking", makes this recipe a certain success! . . .

¼ cup butter	3 tspns. baking powder
1 cup brown sugar	1/3 cup shortening
2 large baking apples	1/3 cup granulated sugar
½ cup seedless raisins	2 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups Five Roses Flour	½ tspn. vanilla
½ tspn. salt	2/3 cup water

Melt butter in baking dish, add sugar and stir until melted. Cool. Peel, core and slice apples; place on sugar and sprinkle with raisins. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Cream shortening until fluffy, add sugar, gradually beating until light. Add eggs and vanilla and beat thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients and water alternately, beating well with each addition. Pour over apples and bake in moderate oven 350 deg. F. for 40-50 minutes.

And, for up-to-date news on baking write to Pauline Harvey, Director, The Five Roses Kitchen, P.O. Box 6400, Montreal, P.Q.

Here's A Bargain! . . . too good to miss! Yours, for just 50c is a $1.50 carving knife with a razor-sharp blade (ideal for carving meats — slicing bread — chopping vegetables) and a geranium-red plastic handle that will last the lifetime of the knife! For your knife, simply print your name and address and send, together with 50c in coin or postage stamps and 2 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.! That's all you do! . . . And just wait 'til you taste the deliciousness of LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK! So economical — yet so good — in tea or coffee — for whipping — and for any recipe that calls for milk or cream!

I Confess . . . one big secret of this recipe's success is daisy-fresh, delicious HARVEST MARGARINE! . . . Meat Sauce for Meat Shortcakes:—

Yield: 6 servings

2 tbspns. Harvest Margarine	1 cup boiling water
½ lb. ground beef	½ tspn. chili powder
2 tbsps. chopped onion	1 tspn. salt
½ cup minced celery	½ tspn. Worcestershire sauce
2 tbspns. flour	2 cups cooked tomatoes
	1 tbspn. chopped green pepper

Brown the meat, onion and celery in Harvest Margarine. Stir in flour. Add water to make a sauce. Add seasonings, tomatoes and green pepper. Cook slowly 1 hour.

Split six biscuits and pour meat sauce between and over top of each one.

Now's The Time To Bring Out Your Fall Outfit and here's a wonderful way to make it look as good as new — and just as smart as the day you bought it — without big cleaner's bills! Get it clean with ENERGINE! Such a "magical" cleaning fluid — makes grease spots of all kinds disappear in a jiffy. Just follow simple directions and it cleans the most delicate fabrics — nylons and rayons, too — without leaving tell-tale rings. Be sure to check your family's sweaters, scarves, gloves, overcoats and suits for spots and stains. You can make all their fall and winter clothing spot-free and new-looking with this sensational cleaning fluid. Energine is at your drug or department store for as little as 25c.

The Finishing Touch to Fall housecleaning . . . fresh curtains to hang at your just-washed windows! And they'll stay cleaner longer when you launder them with LINIT Laundry Starch! You see, Linit gently penetrates and protects the fibres of the cloth. It covers and holds down tiny surface hairs that catch the dust. And . . . important item at housecleaning time . . . "Linit" will save you many minutes . . . for it makes ironing so much easier — with such satisfying results!

Keep That Husband Of Yours Proud Of You . . . keep your complexion satin-smooth with daily "Woodbury Facial Cocktails"! Regular use of WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP is truly a boon 'n blessing to tired complexions. You'll never have "skin-burn" with this kitten mild soap, nor will it leave you with the taut, dry feeling of a skin robbed of its softening oils! Woodbury Soap actually contains a skin-smoothing, complexion-soothing ingredient of fine face creams. All you do for year-'round skin loveliness . . . Work up a creamy-rich Woodbury lather. Massage thoroughly over face to cleanse and soften. Follow with two rinses — a warm and a cold. Pat dry. That's all — and such wonderful results! — try it tomorrow!

Beginning To Think About Fall Housecleaning? Well — here's something to lighten 'n brighten your housecleaning days! It's VEL . . . that wonderful household "helper" that's a "must" in so many homes! Just try it on woodwork! . . . see how easy and how effective it is to use! . . . see how sparkling bright it makes your windows and mirrors . . . and do this with your Summer slipcovers (providing they're guaranteed washable) — soak them in "Vel" and lukewarm water. Then you'll discover there's much less rubbing and scrubbing to be done! Particularly stubborn dirt can be removed by sprinkling a little dry "Vel" on the soiled spot, then rubbing gently.

Yours For The Asking—knitting instructions for the very latest in sweaters! Designed in New York, "Golden Hours" is a delightfully different sweater for all occasions. (Yes, it's the same sweater you saw illustrated in full colour in the Star Weekly Rotogravure Section last Saturday.) And the knitting instructions are available to YOU! Knit from NEWLANDS yarns, "Golden Hours" is the very latest in stylish, practical sweaters — with patterned front and plain back. Here's lasting loveliness in knitted wear, for — as you know — NEWLANDS nylon re-enforced *kroy yarn is guaranteed shrink-proof and has remarkably long wearing qualities. You'll find "Golden Hours" easy to knit, in sizes 12 to 18. For YOUR knitting instructions, write in today to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. (And please include 15 cents in coin or postage stamps to cover cost of handling and mailing.)

"B-R-R, It's Cold This Morning, looks like snow." It won't be so long now, and you'll be glad you filled your coal-bin in good time, especially if there's a shortage this year. You'll be glad you and your husband fixed up that Coal Loan with your BANK OF MONTREAL Manager. It's mighty comforting to know that the winter warmth of your family is assured, and a B of M Coal Loan can be paid back in easy monthly instalments. So, if you haven't yet arranged your winter fuel supply, do something about it today . . . before that cold-snap-rush to Mr. Coal Dealer. And, if you find it a mite difficult to raise all the cash, have a word with your friendly B of M Manager.

Looking For Something to add zest and sparkle to your meals the year 'round? Then I'd suggest you ask your grocer for HEINZ TOMATO PRODUCTS! Every year at this time, at Leamington and Wallaceburg, Ontario, thousands of pickers gather the rosy harvest of tomatoes grown specially for Heinz. Then this harvest is transformed by the famous Heinz chefs into four family "flavourites"... Heinz Tomato Juice — Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup — Heinz Ketchup and Heinz Chili Sauce! Tickles your appetite just to read those famous names, doesn't it? Stock up now on Heinz Tomato Products! . . . you'll have a rich supply of the "pick of the crop" the year 'round! You'll always be sure of just the right touch of zestful flavour for your meals!

So Much Better To KNOW than to guess . . . and such a good thing for your peace of mind! The facts about feminine hygiene are important to you — as to every woman! And thousands of fastidious women have happily discovered ZONITORS . . . dainty, convenient and effective vaginal suppositories that are powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues! Ask your druggist for Zonitors . . . and, for further facts about feminine hygiene — write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — for this free booklet. I'll send it to you in a plain wrapper.

Plums, Pears, Grapes . . . all the autumn fruits are at their best now —full of wonderful, sun-ripened flavour. Enhance their flavour in a sparkling JELL-O mould, such as this: Dissolve 1 package of Lemon Jell-O in 2 cups hot water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in 1 cup diced pears and 1 cup diced plums. Turn into mould; chill until firm. Unmould at serving time; garnish with whipped cream. Fresh-fruit tanginess, gay colour, perfect consistency make Jell-O combine beautifully with a variety of fruits . . . make it delicious served plain, too. There are seven grand "locked-in" flavours of Jell-O Jelly Powders.

Make A Date With Junior and join him for a breakfast you'll both enjoy! Smo-o-o-th delicious "CREAM OF WHEAT" "dressed up" with raisins and topped with a sprinkle of brown sugar. Yes, 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" is good for babies and grown-ups, too! You see, it contains Iron — and Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. It's so very easy to prepare . . . just five minutes of boiling make it completely, deliciously digestible. So why not make a "family habit" of scrumptious "Cream of Wheat"? It's so good . . . and so good for you!

GOLD FEVER IN LONDON — Outside London's Stock Exchange, closed after the pound-devaluation announcement, brokers gather in Throgmorton Street in a financial maelstrom trading for gold shares. Prices rocketed as much as 25 per cent in one of the most hectic "auctions" in history.

Home And School Chooses Conveners

OMEMEE, Sept. 22—(ENS)—Home and School Association Convenors announced at the first fall meeting Monday are: Program, Mrs. J. B. Hough; membership, Mrs. F. W. Pooley; publicity, Mr. L. M. Curtis; social, Mrs. R. E. Brooks; press, Mrs. S. D. Vaughan; radio, music and art, Mrs. W. Earle; current events, Mrs. A. Stephenson; health, Mrs. H. Bent.

Teachers chosen to act on the executive as representatives of the staff are: Miss M. Dunn, from the High School, and Miss L. Shea from the Public School.

Mrs. Hough introduced Miss M. Baird, who has been newly appointed to the High School staff and Miss Shea, the new Public School teacher, was introduced by Mr. Curtis.

Mrs. A. Stephenson spoke of her visit to the Peterborough Home and School Council and the association decided to qualify for membership and be represented at the meetings by the five executive members.

The shield for parents' attendance went this month to the High School.

"Current Events" was presented by Mrs. A. Stephenson; Mrs. Pooley dealt with an article on "The Curse of Comic Books"; Mrs. Hough read an inspiring paper on the appreciation of autumn; and Miss Dorothy Connell sang.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will take the form of a pot-luck supper.

Set of two Heart-Shaped Layer Pans

Gleaming, Long-Wearing Aluminum Only 75¢ and the top from a package of

SWIFTNING!* —the new kind of shortening!

To get your set, just send your name and address, with seventy-five cents, and one Swift'ning box top to: Dept. O 21, Swift Canadian Co. Limited, P.O. Box 371, Terminal A, Toronto. You'll receive your pans without delay! And in addition, Swift's will send you a folder with recipes for eight delightful "Special Occasion Cakes."

*Swift'ning is the trade-mark for Swift Canadian Co. Limited's new, improved shortening

SWEETHEART CAKE

½ cup Swift'ning
2½ cups sifted cake flour
5¼ tsp. single acting or 4 tsp. double acting baking powder
4 egg whites
1 tsp. salt
1½ cups sugar
1 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla

Preparation: Have all ingredients at room temperature. Preheat oven at 375°F. Line bottoms of two heart-shaped pans (equivalent to two 9" round pans) with waxed paper.

Step 1: Put Swift'ning in bowl. Sift in flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add ⅔ cup of the milk, and vanilla. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed electric mixer, or by hand at 150 strokes per minute. Keep batter from sides and bottom of bowl. Scrape bowl and beaters.

Step 2: Add unbeaten egg whites and remaining ⅓ cup milk. Beat 2 more minutes. Scrape bowl and beaters. Pour equal amounts of batter in pans. Bake about 28 minutes, or till done. Cool. Fill and frost with 7-minute icing. Decorate with tinted coconut, and add a gay touch with Fall flowers.

WITH Swift'ning, the shortening that gives you quicker, easier—better—baking, you'll find all your cakes are lighter and fluffier than ever before! Swift'ning is digestible, nutritious, and so easy to cream! There's no difference in the way you use it—but what a difference in the results!

Good Cooks Switch to SWIFTNING!

Customers' Corner

Many of our stores now have express checkout stands reserved for the use of customers with only one or two small purchases.

Is there such a stand in your A&P? Do you ever use it? Does it speed up your shopping? If there is no express checkout in your store would you like to see one installed?

We want to make your shopping as quick and easy as possible and your advice will help us make your A&P store a better place to shop.

Two Transports Crash Near Newcastle

Two loaded Beatty Bros. transports of Peterborough crashed on the west side of the subway near Newcastle on Highway No. 2 Wednesday night about eight o'clock. One driver, Elwood Nicholls, 25, 508 Elm St., was slightly injured.

Nicholls was driving his transport behind another driven by Stan Parrett, 388 Armstrong Drive, Peterborough.

As Parrett approached the narrow cement subway, he saw a car coming through in the opposite direction. He swerved [illegible] and Nicholls ran into the back of his truck.

The tractor part of the transport Nicholls was driving was smashed beyond repair. The trailer of both transports were not damaged seriously. The front transport hit the inside wall of the tunnel but only slight damage to the trailer resulted.

The car which had been coming through in the opposite direction escaped untouched.

Nicholls was taken to a Bowmanville hospital for treatment. He left the hospital today. Hospital officials wouldn't report the extent of his injuries.

Motorist Opens Door Bicyclist Is Injured

A bicyclist, Ronald Strickland, 431 King George St., was knocked from his bicycle and injured when the door of a parked car he was passing opened unexpectedly Wednesday.

Strickland told police he was riding south on George St. South of Charlotte St., a man in a parked car opened the car door suddenly, striking Strickland in the face.

Strickland said he didn't know the car or the driver's name nor did he get the car license number. His injuries were a cut on the cheek and a bruise on the collar bone.

BURNER FLOODS

A flooded oil burner at the residence of George Chamberlain, 635 Gilchrist St., brought firemen to that address early today. A few shots with a hand pump extinguished the small blaze.

W.A. Richardson New Head Of Kiwanis District

The new lieutenant-governor elect of Division 6 of Kiwanis International is W. A. Richardson of Peterborough. He was elected at the District Convention just ended in Halifax.

He succeeds Albert Wickett of the Riverdale Club, Toronto.

Mr. Richardson was nominated for the post by the unanimous vote of District 6 delegates who met recently in Cobourg for the annual caucus. Only other Peterborough man to attain this office in Kiwanis was the late John Troke in 1943.

WM. A. RICHARDSON

An active member of Kiwanis for 18 years, Mr. Richardson was president of the Peterborough Club in 1939, succeeding L. J. Pettit.

His other activities include the Library Board and Community Chest work. In addition he is a former president of the YMCA board of directors, and for six years he served on the Board of Education.

The governor elect is Ken B. Loheed of Toronto.

Other lieutenant governors elect for Ontario Divisions are George Burt, North Bay; Carl Manore, Sarnia; Don Calvert, Niagara Falls, and Lloyd Boody, Orillia.

Lindsay Water Supply Becomes Problem

LINDSAY, Sept. 22—(CP)—The day when Lindsay is liable to lose its water supply is fast approaching, water board superintendent Bob Reynolds says of this Victoria County town of 10,000 people.

The water level at Scugog Lake, source of Lindsay's supply is at its lowest in 35 years and has caused considerable controversy. Residents in the lake area have protested and asked Ottawa that the dam here be raised. Superintendent Reynolds recommends a combination of all-round dredging and cleaning in Scugog River and Scugog Lake.

All but one of the District 5 officers of the UE-CIO were re-elected at the 13th annual district convention held for the first three days of this week in Hamilton. Jean Pare, of Montreal, replaces Merv Chambers, of Peterborough, as vice-president. Re-elected are C. S. Jackson, president; George Harris, secretary treasurer; and Ross Russell, organizing director.

MULCAHEY FUNERAL

The funeral for Mrs. Mary Mulcahey, 384 Mark St., who died Tuesday, will be from the Anglesey funeral home Friday to Immaculate Conception Church for requiem mass at 9 a.m.

NAMED TO FILM COUNCIL

Dr. F. M. Grant and Ald. Dick Raine were elected Wednesday to represent the Peterborough Board of [illegible] on the Film Council.

READ FOR TROPHY

A silver cup will be the prize won by the class which takes home the most books from the class visits to the Public Library, Boys and Girls Department, Lillian Wesley said Thursday. Classes from five public schools and four separate schools attend the main library once in every six weeks for instruction. Children from the other schools in the city attend classes at the Branch Library on Park St.

DAIRY PRODUCE GRADER

W. E. Brennan of the dairy producers' office, Kemptville, has been named dairy produce grader with supervision over all dairy produce stations in Ontario. He was born at Stoco, near Tweed. Cheesemaking has been a family occupation since his grandfather started in the business in central Ontario back in 1867. In the First World War he spent four years overseas.

CAR IS DITCHED

H. B. Woolott, of Toronto, found out that you don't have to speed by a police officer's car to get into trouble. He was driving slowly along the treacherous Donald Road curve in Haliburton county when he attempted to pass a car driven by Constable William Dovell of Haliburton. The Woollott car slipped over the soft shoulder, sliding to the steep ditch and overturned. No one was injured and no charges were laid. The car was extensively damaged.

DROP IN ATTENDANCE

Oshawa Fair attendance was 2,800 less than last year, and fewer grandstand tickets were sold. One of the officials commented that the townspeople were apparently not much interested in the horse show that clutters up a lot of space and time in front of the stand. A tractor sprint for a furlong or more might stir up more interest among people who like horses well enough but are not keen about watching exhibitionist drivers.

54 TB's, 454 Other Cases 2 Misplaced Hearts Found

The community chest X-ray survey conducted in Peterborough city and county early this summer served a dual purpose. In addition to revealing 54 cases of tuberculosis, only ten of which were active, it brought to light 454 cases of other diseases or abnormalities. Although the survey was sponsored by the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of checking T.B. cases, all those with other symptoms have been notified of the result of the X-ray.

Among the cases of abnormalties were two instances of dextracardia, the medical term to describe a person's condition when the heart is on the right, instead of the left hand side.

Among the section of the community X-rayed at industrial plants 224 had abnormal conditions and among those X-rayed at other centres in the city there were 186 cases. In the rural areas 44 case of abnormalties were discovered.

One case of silicosis was discovered but many of the conditions revealed were instances of abnormal shadows, evidence of previous pleurisy scarring, dust inhalation, accentuated lung markings, abnormalties of diaphram, enlarged glands, etc.

SOUNDS LIKE MARROW

To most people a cucumber looks little more than a swollen green banana with warts. But the same could not be said for the one owned by Alex Turner of 641 Park St. This mammoth specimen weighs three-and-a-half pounds, is 13 inches long and is 12 inches in circumference. Mr. Turner who has been a market gardener and has therefore seen his share of cucumbers, claims this is the biggest he has ever seen. It was grown in his garden from seed purchased at Hamilton's grocery store, Simcoe St., and did not receive any special attention in the way of cultivation or fertilizer.—D.W.

OBITUARIES

MRS. LEWIS WEESE

A lifelong resident of Chandos, Mrs. Lewis Weese of the 11th Concession, died Wednesday at her home. She was in her 74th year.

Mrs. Weese was the former Artincia Cameron, daughter of the late William Cameron and Mary Jane Newberry. Born in Chandos she resided there all her life.

Mrs. Weese leaves two sons—Albert of Smith Twp., and Clarence at home. She also has a number of grandchildren. Her husband, Lewis Weese, predeceased her.

She was a member of Clysdale United Church.

The body is resting at her residence and the funeral will be from Lasswade United Church on Saturday at 2.30 p.m., the Rev. G. C. Robb officiating. Burial will be in Lasswade United Church Cemetery.

BERNARD (BUFF) McMANUS

After ailing for some time Bernard (Buff) McManus of RR 1, Peterborough (Ennismore) died Wednesday at his residence. He lived in the Peterborough district all his life.

Mr. McManus was born and educated in Smith Twp., son of the late James McManus and Bridget Ratchford. Later he moved to Ennismore, where he farmed.

He leaves five daughters, Mrs. Leslie Burton (Mary), Eleanor, Loretta, Janes, and Ann, all at home, and a son Joseph who lives at home also; two grandchildren, Joan and Marilyn Burton; two sisters Mrs. Edward Hickey, Peterborugh, and Mrs. Peter Ryan, Toronto; and three brothers, John of Smtih, James of Lakefield, and Sanfield of Bridgenorth.

His wife, the former Lillian O'Connor died previously.

Mr. McManus was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral.

The funeral will be from the Anglesey Funeral Home Saturday to St. Peter's Cathedral for Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

YMCA Seniors To Campaign For Members

Plans for the senior YMCA membership campaign were completed at a meeting of the majors and team captains Wednesday night. The campaign for members for the senior division starts on Monday, September 26.

Last year the membership drive took in 700 members, and the final membership of the YMCA was 826. Mr. G. H. Roper, General Secretary of the YMCA and secretary of the campaign said that they hope to have a membership of 700 again this year. S. G. Payne is chairman.

The membership drive has been divided into two groups led by David A. Kerr and Howard David.

Team captains in Mr. Kerr's division are: Rod Reed, Ron Watson, Newton Hamilton, William Moorhead Kenneth Kingston, Arthur Lewis assisting; George C. Scott, David Wilson, Donald Doughty. The captains under Mr. David are: Edward Smith, Lloyd Grose, Jack Ferguson, Thomas Cook Gordon Armstrong, Erroi Hanbidge, Frank Hambly, William Prest.

VON Reducing 1948 Deficit

Peterborough branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses will have reduced its deficit by $280 at the end of 1949 Wilson M. Gemmell forecast at a meeting of the Board of Governors Wednesday. "At our present rate we shall probably have a deficit of $640," Mr. Gemmell said. At the end of 1948 the Board had a deficit of $920 deficit.

Mr. Gemmell reported a decrease in income during the first eight months of this year. Fewer nursing visits to patients able to pay for the service, a reduction of $200 in income from the Community Chest and increased costs were the main factors, Mr. Gemmell told the Board.

250 Fewer Visits

Miss Mary Ross, supervisor, said that 250 fewer visits to paying patients had been paid by the nursing staff during the first eight months of this year than last, while overhead costs had remained the same.

When Board members sought a reason for this decrease in nursing activities Miss Ross said that penicillin, sulphur and similar treatments had shortened illnesses; patients who might previously have required a nurse when returning home from hospital, are now better by the time they arrive home. There was a drop in the number of surgical and medical cases handled by the Order.

Mr. Gemmell read a letter from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company asking for a reduction in the price charged for visits to its policy holders. It was decided that there could be no reduction of $1.99 a visit.

During the three months from June to September 152 patients were admitted for service by the VON, Miss Ross reported. These included 54 medical and surgical, 21 prenatals and 77 mothers and babies. Visits during the three months totalled 1,403.

Plans In Six Months For Federal Building

OTTAWA, Sept. 22—(CP)—Works Minister Fournier Wednesday said in the Commons that plans for the construction of a Federal post office in Peterborough, are expected to be completed in the next six months. He was replying to Gordon Fraser (PC—Peterborough West).

Give Students Field Trips Teacher Urges

When a geographer takes a ride in the country, he doesn't just notice green fields and rolling hills. He casts a critical eye over glacial deposits, land use, forest depletion and a host of other characteristics. While others might simply enjoy the scenery, one of the greatest thrills for him is a piece of pre-Cambrian rock.

Forty-two students from the geography department of the University of Toronto have just returned from a field trip in the Peterborough area. They spent a week exploring the country, by [illegible] notes on land forms, grading, forestry and town planning.

"University training isn't all book learning," said Dr. D. F. Putnam, leader of the expedition. "Geography is the study of the world about you, and you can't learn that in a classroom.'

Swim At 6.30 a.m.

The grey-haired professor, who takes a busman's holiday each summer doing field work, rose each morning at 6:30 for a swim. Most students were not energetic enough for that, he boasted, but they did make excursions into the swamp at dawn, to pick up information. That was just a minor reconnaissance before the nine-car contingent set off on the 125-mile daily cruise.

"The Peterborough area," said Dr. Putnam, "is ideally situated on the margin of the Canadian Shield, mostly forest land, and the agricultural area farther south, in the Paleozoac rock zone We could study the effect of the glaciers, the lime deposits and the interesting land formations. We took particular note of the settlement pattern, and the frequent misuse of land, where forests had been depleted."

Peterborough, the students found, had the same problems of traffic, housing, and services as Toronto, on a smaller scale. With 70 grade crossings and two stations in the heart of the city, the railway lines clutter the city, congesting traffic. The young men and women also studied industries, and how they affected such towns as Lindsay and Lakefield, which they carefully mapped.

"It's a pity the schools don't take a tip from us and give their pupils some small field trips in the city," said Dr. Putnam. "Trouble is geography is taught so badly in the schools because the teachers are not specialists as they are in other subjects."

Charles Libman Struck By Toronto Street Car

TORONTO, Sept. 22 — (CP) — Charles Libman, 56, of the YMCA, Peterborough, suffered facial cuts bruises and slight shock when he was struck Wednesday by a street car. He is the manager of Darling Ladies' Wear. Police say Libman ran from behind a stationary trolley into the path of another travelling in the opposite direction. Hospital officials report his condition is good.

Canadian Support Thrown Behind Attempt To Upset Pro-Communist Leadership

By BERNARD K. JOHNPOLL

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 22—Peterborough's four delegates to the United Electrical Workers Union (CCL-CIO) international convention cast the votes for the local's 3,200 members to oust the UE's pro-Communist leadership here Wednesday. But leftist officers were swept back into power. By a margin of three to two the Union's three top officers defeated efforts of a right-wing faction to oust them from control of the labor body which has a membership of some 600,000 workers.

The victorious candidates are Albert J. Fitzgerald, 42, of Lynn, Mass., president since 1941; Julius [illegible] Secretary-treasurer since inception of the union in 1936; and James J. Matles, Brooklyn, N.Y., organization director since 1937.

Fitzgerald defeated his opponent, Fred M. Kelley, business agent of Fitzgerald's own Local 201 in Lynn, by a vote of 2,335 to 1,500. Emspak polled 2,301 votes to 1,529 for Michael Fitzpatrick, Pittsburgh, and Matles defeated John Dillon, New York City, 2,340 to 1,519.

Canada's delegation broke precedents by voting overwhelmingly for right-wing candidates. In the past the Canadian union was considered strongly left wing.

Of the 3,200 Canadian votes represented at the convention, all went against the left wing, and although leftist candidates still won the election, their majority was cut from a usual 2,000 votes to some 800.

The four Canadian delegates are Jack Morton, president of Local 524, Peterborough; Cyril O'Donnell, recording secretary; Keith Childs, financial secretary; and George Hodgson, steward.

Jack Morton, president of Local 524, has assumed a position of leadership in the right wing of the UE. He is slated to be candidate for trustee of the union at today's session.

Cyril O'Donnell recording secretary of 524 and a member of the convention resolution committee lead off the Canadian attack on the left wing. Amid shouts of "Hurrah for Canada" he told the convention:

"It is not sufficient to rely on past achievements, but rather to look ahead. I do not consider that the present leadership takes the constructive and positive position that present conditions requires."

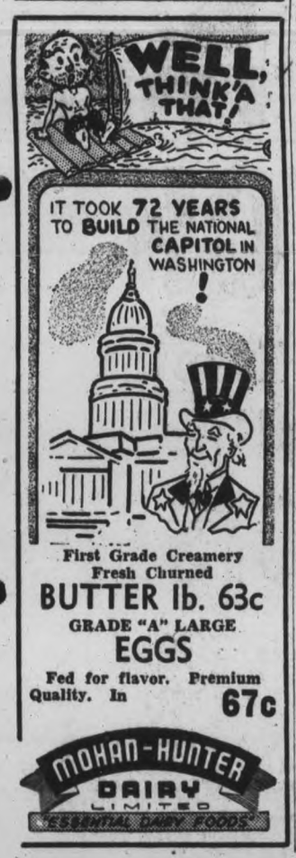
Morton in a speech said:

"International officers of the UE stand before this convention charged with sabotaging a Canadian wage fight by the fact that their paid organizers revealed before the press that strike sentiments were expressed at secret conference session."

Local 524, the only Canadian local represented, encountered no trouble at the border when crossing into the States.

The convention voted Tuesday, after more than two years of defiance, to comply with provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. Delegates adopted a resolution directing general and local officers to file non-Communist affadavits as required by the law.

Halpin Was Too Sick To Permit Drunkenness



Two men were freed on charges of being found in a house which the tenant, Grover Halpin, permitted [illegible]

Magistrate R. B. Baxter, who heard the case Sept. 6, had reserved judgment to consider the argument of defence counsel, John Corkery. The two charged were John Whaley, 416 Park St., and Russell Bowers, 159 Aylmer St.

Mr. Corkery argued that Grover Halpin could not be said to have permitted drunkenness because he was too sick to have known anything about it or to have curbed it had he known.

In his finding in police court Thursday morning, Magistrate R. B. Baxter agreed.

"The word 'permit' denotes a certain knowledge on the part of Halpin," the magistrate said and on the evidence he couldn't find that Halpin had permitted the drunkenness. He dismissed the charges.

Ill And Crippled Beat Path To Quebec Home

ST. SYLVESTRE, Que., Sept. 22 (CP)—A winding dirt road that leads to the farm of Amedee Belanger, three miles from this Lotbiniere county village, can scarcely bear its traffic since four of the nine living Belanger children acquired reputations as healers.

A man in a taxi-driver's uniform stands at the gate of the hill-top farmyard handing out numbered tickets for car parking space and a place in a queue of praying people waiting to explain their ailments to the children.

Incurables, cripples and people with chronic illnesses come from all parts of the province and from the eastern United States to visit [illegible].

The fame of Andre, Real, Ro[illegible] is great enough now to attract 500 automobile loads of visitors on a Sunday.

Leave Money

Visitors leave money offerings in the plain, square house where they se the children. Some send the Belanger family gifts of clothing.

The crowds, which now line up at a side door of the house reciting the Rosary aloud while they wait their turn to see the children, have grown gradually in a year and a half.

What started it all was a story that Real, 10, and Robert, nine, told their parents early in 1948 about having seen in a vision their three-year-old sister, Lisette a few days after her death.

Neighbors, hearing about it, came to look at the children.

A tuberculosis sufferer in St. Sylvestre, a picture-postcard village of 1,400 people, went away from the Belangers' home announcing that he was better, though he has since had a relapse.

Most visitors to the house where the children take turns receiving get a typewritten form advising them to recite the Rosary. Twelve-year-old Andre Belanger and Jeanne D'Arc, seven, help Real and Robert.

FACES MURDER CHARGE—Tony Demers, voted the most gentlemanly hockey player in the Quebec Senior League, has been charged with the murder of 31-year-old Mrs. Anita Robert, his Coaticook, Que., girl friend. Demers is shown in this R.C. Studio photo as he was led into the coroner's inquest where he was found criminally responsible for the girl's death.

Buckmaster Wins Presidency

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—L. S. Buckmaster has won—perhaps temporarily—his fight for the presidency of the United Rubber Workers of America (CIO). Today's elections at the union's 14th annual convention here will tell the story.

The former teacher from Akron, O., was returned as the chief of the union Wednesday night by a vote of 840 to 740 after being ousted four months ago on charges of malfeasance.

The vote climaxed a full-dress seven-hour debate and brought to a head differences among union members which split the 40,000-member union down the middle.

Buckmaster's return to the $6,700 post signalized a double victory in the "Pottstown affair"—so-called because charges of "conspiracy and malfeasance" in the discharge of his duties were laid by Robert E. Garber, president and former secretary of Local 330 at Pottstown, Pa.

On Tuesday, Buckmaster forced the red-hot issue on to the convention floor despite the efforts of his opponents to keep it within committee rooms. His victory also threw out a decision by the union's executive board to depose him.

The vote forced a reshuffle of the executive board. H. R. Lloyd, who succeeded him, moved back down to the vice-presidency, which in turn was vacated by F. M. Dickenson.

Garber charged last May that Buckmaster had abused his power as president. This brought about his trial and expulsion. Garber charged also that Buckmaster accused him wrongly of converting the union's funds to his own use.

Whiskey Price Same

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — The price of Scotch whiskey sold in Ontario will remain the same despite devaluation. British distillers Wednesday advised the Liquor Control Board that they are increasing their prices to offset any reduction that may have resulted from the devaluation of the British pound.

To Attend Ceremony

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP)—Sir Arthur Henderson, United Kingdom air secretary, will arrive here Sept. 27 to take part in the dedication of memorial gates at the big RCAF station at Trenton. The gates, to be presented by the governments of the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand, are to commemorate the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan during the Second World War.

Building Program

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — A $16,000,000 building program for the University of Toronto was announced Wednesday by President Sidney E. Smith. An addition to the mechanical engineering building has already cost more than $5,000,000 he said. A new building for the Ontario College of Education and an archives building totalling another $1,000,000 have been started. Other projects include a new building for the school of nursing, men's residence, medical research building and a new arts building.

INSTANT HEAT AT THE TOUCH OF A SWITCH!

ESSOTANE GIVES YOU MAXIMUM HEAT the moment the burner is turned on. No fussing with slow heating elements—no shaking and poking up fires—no troublesome priming or refueling. It gives more heat faster than any other kind of fuel.

AT THE TOUCH OF A SWITCH your stove is ready—either for top-of-stove cooking or oven baking—ready to give you perfect results. You can choose your stove from many different makes and types.

You can have it with Essotane ... and it's Economical!

GET THE FACTS!

Be free forever from all the drudgery of cooking the old-fashioned way.

Begin right now to enjoy the pleasure and convenience of switching on a gleaming white gas range and getting instant heat the moment you need it—and the exact amount you need.

No more smoke and fumes to soil walls and ceilings and blacken your pots and pans.

Never again the problems of fuel supplies and a fire that is never 'just right' when you want to bake a cake or cook a roast.

The convenience of Essotane is only half the story. You'd never believe how economically you can enjoy the advantages of gas cooking.

Instead of a fire that wastes heat most of the day, you switch on a clean, smokeless, odorless flame only when it is actually needed.

Expensive supplies of kindling and coal or wood are no longer required for the kitchen. You need never spoil a cake through having too hot or too cool an oven. With Essotane you select the right oven temperature you require.

Essotane gas is safe and is stored outside your home in steel cylinders. It travels into your kitchen through a thin copper tube.

Imperial Oil men change the cylinders at intervals to make sure you always have an adequate supply of gas.

The ranges themselves cost as little as $99.50 and can be installed for as low as $9.95 down with the balance in small monthly payments.

Mail the coupon below and get the facts and figures on Essotane cooking for your kitchen. Send it now because every day you wait is another day you might have enjoyed more fully with quick, clean Essotane cooking.

Ship Disaster Claims Total Of 134 Lives To Date

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — The fiery furnace of the Great Lakes cruise ship Noronic claimed 132 lives.

A final compilation of dead and missing by the Canadian Press placed the death total at that number last night. Official estimates had ranged as high as 200.

Based on a revised Canada Steamship Lines passenger list issued Wednesday and a check of independent sources, the compilation showed:

Identified dead, 72; unidentified bodies, 58; others known missing, 2; confirmed survivors, 567; total known aboard, 699.

Eleven more of the 130 bodies recovered from last Saturday's fire were identified Wednesday and identification of charred remains is continuing. But many bodies will still be unidentified when Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada opens his formal inquiry next Wednesday.

The ship's crew of 171 all have been confirmed as safe by the CSL. Its passenger list issued on Wedneday contained 522 names compared with the 511 on the first list issued on the day of the fire. Six others known to be aboard included two identified dead and four survivors.

The second CSL passenger list showed that 12 persons on its first list did not board ship.

Hearing of statements of Noronic survivors is scheduled today at an open hearing in the city hall at Cleveland, O. Many of the ship's passengers came from there and from Detroit, where a similar hearing will be conducted next Monday or Tuesday.

Members Let Off Steam In Throne Speech Debate

By MEL SUFRIN.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP).— The Throne-Speech debate continues to be the safety valve of Canada's House of Commons.

As it has been ever since Confederation, the debate provides a perfect opportunity for any member to let off steam on any subject close to the hearts or the pocket books of his constituents.

The latitude of discussion in this debate was demonstrated at Wednesday's abbreviated session when members ran the gamut of comment on matters ranging from radio licence fees and dam sites to prayers and the difficulty of hearing what is said in the Commons Chamber.

Rev. Dan McIvor, lusty-voiced Liberal from Fort William, provided the bulk of the diversification.

He wondered aloud, first of all, why the Commons' Visitors' Galleries could not be open to the public during the traditional opening prayers each day.

Then he jumped into the acoustics of the Commons, asking when the long-awaited amplifying system would be available. He wound up on radio licence fees, urging careful consideration before they are increased from $2.50 to $5.

Place for Gripes

The Speaker seldom rules anyone out of order in the Throne Speech debate because over the years it has become the traditional airing place for gripes and suggestions of every color.

It apparently all stems from the fact that the original Throne Speech—formal voice of government policy read at the opening of each session—is equally diverse in the subjects it touches upon.

Two matters of government policy preceded resumption of the Throne Speech debate yesterday.

Mines Minister Gibson led off by announcing the government will continue its program of assistance to gold mining until the end of this year despite benefits those mines gain from dollar devaluation.

Next year the assistance would, in each case, be reduced by the $3.50 an ounce which gold mines have gained as a result of the 10 per cent dollar cut.

Reconstruction Minister Winters then came on with a 2,500-word address on housing. He disclosed the government would assist in a program of reducing the down payments on reasonably-priced homes by half.

Charges Buck-passing

Housing was also the substance of a Throne-Speech address by Ross Thatcher, outspoken hardware merchant who is CCF member for Moose Jaw.

He charged the government with buck-passing by trying to shove the housing problem into the constitutional realm of provincial jurisdiction There is nothing in the constitution, he said, which should prevent the government from giving real financial assistance to the provinces and municipalities to carry out a comprehensive subsidized housing plan.

Take Dim View

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — Ontario officials Wednesday night took a dim view of Premier Duplessis' plans to introduce legislation legalizing a Quebec lottery. While awaiting word on how the lottery would operate, one official, who preferred to be unidentified, said anyone peddling Quebec lottery tickets in Ontario will risk prosecution under the criminal code.

Stick To Old Hat

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP — Canadian Boy Scouts will "definitely stick to the old hat," Jackson Dodds, Canadian Commissioner for the Scouting movement, said Wednesday. He was commenting on a report from London saying that British Boy Scouts would change from the familiar broad-brimmed hat to maroon or green berets. Wearing of trousers for adult scout leaders also will be allowed.

Further Drop In Exports Hits Cars

DETROIT, Sept. 22 (AP)—Further shrinking of an already fast-dwindling American automobile export market probably will be an immediate effect of widespread currency devaluation.

Auto makers in the United States generally don't want to be quoted on their views of the currency devaluation program, particularly its long-range possibilities. But they have watched exports shrink steadily throughout their formal overseas markets during the last eight months or more.

Most recent export figures cover the period from Jan. 1 through July of this year. They show that 98,431 passenger cars and 86,682 trucks were shipped to foreign markets during those seven months. In the same period last year 137,039 cars and 121,786 trucks were exported.

The drop becomes more important when coupled with the [illegible] to the American [illegible] from January through July of this year topped that of the same period last year by more than 700,000 vehicles.

Big Reduction

In July 1948 when the American car industry built 474,556 cars and trucks it sold 40,624 in foreign markets; in July this year it produced 579,048 cars and trucks but shipped only 21,470 of them abroad.

There is no present indication the currency devaluation will have any effect on prices in the domestic auto market.

Most American car makers do not believe the foreign cars can compete successfully in the American market. To support this they say quite a few of the limited number of such vehicles brought into the United States still remain unsold.

Across the Detroit river in Windsor, where auto production is a major industry, the situation with respect to car production and distribution still remained to be determined.

Douglas B. Greig, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited, said the effect of the devaluation program "may [illegible] Export trade is an important [illegible] try's business. It should be affected to some degree by a reduced demand for Canadian-built cars in the foreign areas affected by the devaluation of the British pound.

Mine, Mill Union Signs Agreement

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Sept 22 (CP)—Local 637, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) Wednesday signed a new collective bargaining agreement with International Nickey Company, Ltd., for the company's Port Colborne employees. It provides a pay increase of 6½ cents an hour.

The increase is retroactive, as is the agreement, to last June 1, when the previous contract expired, and will mean approximately $50 for each hourly rated employee in back pay.

Other terms include the addition of Good Friday and Thanksgiving Day as statutory holidays with double time when worked, bringing to six the number of statutory holidays.

The company and union agreed on a $2.50 voluntary non-revocable monthly check-off for union dues. In the previous contract there was a modified rand formula clause wherein each employee paid dues through check-off as a condition of employment.

County Appeal For Blind Launched Today

The annual appeal conducted in Peterborough County to raise funds for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind starts today and will continue until Oct. 1 The canvass will cover all parts of the county except Peterborough city, where the blind already benefit from the Community Chest. Contributions are being directed to T. T. Rodger, manager of the Dominion Bank, Peterborough.

The services of the Canadian National Instiute for the Blind are made available to more than 15,000 people in Canada, who take advantage of home teaching, employment assistance, library service and a number of other services.

[illegible] and comes to the Institute's attention, he is contacted by one of its representatives. If he wishes to receive home teaching, arrangements are made for one of the organization's home teachers to call at his home to give instruction in Braille, handicrafts or typing. If the person is young and has no other handicap he may wish to secure employment.

Through its placement department the Institute has secured jobs for more than 1,500 blind people, placing them in industry, in its own canteens and shelter shops. In addition blind people are encouraged to carry out enterprises in their own homes.

Find Braille Difficult

Many who have gone blind find that one of the most serious losses is the ability to read. To fill this gap the Institute maintains a circulating library of Braille and talking books. Some find difficulty in learning Braille and prefer to use talking books. These are books which have been recorded and are played on specially designed phonographs available through the C.N.I.B.

In addition the Institute provides many other services ranging from the provision of special concessions such as reduced travelling costs, free radio licences, etc., and also make available special appliances such as Braille watches, Braille cards, tape measures with raised markings, etc.

The services of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are extended free of charge to blind people. They must, however, be paid for. To meet the costs the organization conducts an annual appeal for funds.

Mental Examination

HULL, Que., Sept. 22 (CP)—A mental examination was ordered Wednesday for Nicolas Perrier, 50-year-old farmer, who allegedly terrorized the tiny village of Point Comfort for 24 hours with a shotgun. Perrier is said to have run amok Sept. 6 in Point Comfort, 45 miles north of here, and to have chopped down telephone poles to prevent neighbors from calling police. He was committed for trial at the fall assizes.

Cancel Subsidies To Mines In '50

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP) — Canadian gold mines will get the benefit of both dollar devaluation and Federal subsidies until the end of this year.

Next year, Resources Minister Gibson told the Commons Wednesday, the amount of the subsidy will be reduced by $3.50 an ounce —the amount gold increased in price as a result of devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

Mr. Gibson said the government believed it would be "unfair" to the mines to stop the subsidies immediately. Many mines had based production plans on the subsidy—an average of $3 20 an ounce—which began June 1, 1948

The subsidies were put on to help the industry, badly-hit by mounting production costs.

Almost all of Canada's gold has been sold to the United States for $35 an ounce. The premium of 10 per cent on U. S. funds, announced Monday by Finance Minister Abbott, means gold mines now will receive $38.50 an ounce.

No subsidies will be paid after 1950.

Re-instate Surcharge On Freight Rates

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP) — A six per cent surcharge on freight rates between Canadian and United States points, suspended during the period parity between the Canadian and U. S. dollars, has been re-instated, railway officials said Wednesday.

A surcharge on express and passenger rates also was reinstated.

The surcharge was in effect during the previous period when the Canadian dollar was at a discount but was suspended when parity returned in 1946. It was reinstated by the railways filing new tariffs with the Transport Board effective Tuesday, when the Canadian dollar was devalued.

The surcharge is based on an average haul over a Canadian line to a U. S. point to enable Canadian railways to pay U. S. lines their proportion of haulage between the two countries.

D.P. Killed By Car

RODNEY, Sept. 22—(CP)—Petro Zobiak, about 40, a displaced person who arrived in Canada on June 17 of this year, was killed on the seventh concession of Aldborough Township Wednesday night when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car driven by Gordon R. Blue of Port Alma, Ont. Zobiak was employed in Rodney. The accident was investigated by the Wallacetown detachment of the provincial police.

Court Adjourns

HAMBURG, Sept. 22 (AP) — The British court trying Erich von Manstein, former German field marshal, adjourned Wednesday until Oct. 5 after the prosecution rested its case. Von Manstein is charged on 17 war-crimes counts. He has pleaded innocent.

MADE IN CANADA

MADE FOR EACH OTHER this fall fur-trimmed coats and companion dresses. A beaver collar trims the fitted coat of rust tweed, left, which tops a matching dress. "Mailman's pouch" pockets of beaver are a feature of the belted coat, right, which is ensembled with a matching dress of heather-colored tweed.

Casual Dresses and Coats Make Happy Wedded Pair

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Wedded this fall in a happy union of tweed are coats and dresses made for each other.

The new importance of casual clothes for daytime wear—worn until 5 o'clock when the little black frock comes on the scene—is underscored this fall by the fur-trimmed coat of tweed and its matching dress.

The tweed coat that takes fur often shows its preference for beaver. Beaver's silvery pile is tied scarf-style around the neckline of one full-length coat and on another is massed pockets as big as a mailman's pouch.

The beaver-pocket coat of heather tweed may be worn loose or belted with a brown snake-skin belt. Eisenberg, its designer, ensembles it with a dress of matching tweed. The dress is simply tailored with unpressed skirt pleats, a round "jewelry neckline" and push-up sleeves.

The coat with the beaver scarf is made of rust-colored tweed; it is fitted and buttoned up with "knots" of antiqued gold. Eisenberg, the matchmaker, also teams this one with a classically tailored dress.

"Is this another of your veiled hints for more housekeeping money?"

Afternoon Tea At St. Luke's Highly Pleasing

St. Luke's Cent-a-Day Group are highly pleased over the success of their tea, held Wednesday afternoon in the Parish Hall. Close to 200 guests attended the event, in spite of rather nasty weather. They were received by Mrs. D. H. Wyatt, president, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Gilling.

Fall flowers in glorious colors were on the tea table, highlighted by pink candles and gleaming silver. Mrs. R. G. Maniece and Mrs. Jack Rogers filled the cups.

Tea arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Ernie Ferguson, who was assisted by Mrs. A. McIlvena, Mrs. A. Dalton, Miss Rona Wickenden, Miss Muriel Curtis, Mrs. I. Batten. Quartette tables were laid for serving.

The home baking was sold by Mrs. Don Walker, Mrs. Lionel Lipsett and Mrs. Roy Sanderson, and candy by Mrs. M. Storey and Mrs. S. Mason.

Miss Joyce Wyatt was in charge of the draw tickets on a quilt, pair of pillow cases and pair of towels, which have been selling for some time. Winners were drawn at close of the tea, as follows: Mrs. W. G. Neck, 660 Ross St., winner of the quilt; Dr. W. Middleton of London, Ont., pillow cases; Miss Verda Robinson, 429 Bellevue St., towels.

Mrs. Margaret Mason conducted the raffle of a large cake, a gift from a local bakery, and it was won by Mrs. S. McCauley, 220 Rogers St.

Style Colors Mirror Nature

NEW YORK (CP) — The approach of fall has brought forth a whole new palette of colors and shades.

New fabrics and latest designs appear in new shades of red as Flame—preferred by college girls—Raisin and Cranberry, which are blended, contrasted or mixed in coats, suits and dresses.

A new shade of green, called Wintergreen, is verdantly deep, that of fir trees silhouetted against the summer sky.

Camel, the color that goes with anything, especially with vivid contrasts, is very pale. It is likely to prove the most popular of the season.

Returning vacationers are being refreshed by a shade of blue called "Spruce Blue." It is very much like slate but softer and lighter.

Teal, another popular member of the blue family, is back again, and will be seen in chilly weather clothes of all kinds.

Roseneath WA Celebrates 15th Anniversary

ROSENEATH, Sept. 22 (ENS)—"Forge ahead and use your talents for Christ seven days a week, so men will know by your word and actions that you are giving your life, as a service to the Master." This was the challenge thrown out by the Rev. H. G. Lester of Warkworth, as guest speaker at the 15th anniversary celebration of the Women's Association of Roseneath United Church.

Three sister societies were guests of the WA at this service, held in Roseneath United Church on Wednesday afternoon. The visiting organizations were Bethesda (Harwood) WMS; Fenella WMS, and Roseneath WMS.

Mr. Lester chose as his subject "Witnesses Unashamed," and urged his listeners to do their share in the fields of service for the Master. He was introduced by the Rev. R. C. White and thanked by Mrs. White.

Mrs. Ford Derry, WA president, presided. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Earl Waldie. The reception committee was Mrs. Bart Thackeray and Mrs. James Thompson.

The worship service and devotional period was in charge of Roseneath WMS, Mrs. Delbert Brisbin presiding and Mrs. C. W. Varvoe as pianist.

The theme of the worship service was "Lighten Someone's Load." Mrs. Brisbin was assisted by Mrs. J. N. Lovelace, Mrs. A. Nill and Mrs. T. S. Coyle, Mrs. Douglas Coyle contributed a song.

Sang Duet

Mrs. Bruce Cole and Miss Clarice Atkinson, students of Briercrest Bible Institute, Caronport, Sask., sang a duet, Mrs. Cole playing accompaniment on her piano accordion.

The secretary, Mrs. Isaac Skuce read the minutes and correspondence. Mrs. Fred Norris, treasurer, reported a balance of $230.05.

The W.A. will cater to a banquet for the Bee Keepers' Association on November 9.

Plans were made for the October meeting to be held in the Town Hall with Mesdames Neil Sherwin and Ivan Thackeray as joint hostesses and Mrs. R. C. White in charge of the program. Mrs. [illegible], president, [illegible], all of Harwood, Mrs. [illegible] of Bethesda W.M.S., brought greetings from her society and announced the following entertainment by Bethesda members: a song by Mrs. George Isaac and Mrs. John Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. Garnet Isaac on the piano; a reading by Mrs. Murray McFiggin.

Mrs. N. C. Leach, president of Fenella W.M.S., spoke briefly. Fenella's contribution to the program was: a group of readings by Mrs. Gordon Jewell and a piano solo by Mrs. Burton Roberts.

Mrs. R. C. White, president of Roseneath W.M.S., stressed the necessity of unity in church organizations. The Rev. R. C. White pronounced the benediction.

Lunch was served to the guests in the township hall.

Included among the guests from a distance were Mrs. L. R. Isaac, Mrs. Chadwick, Mrs. George Isaac, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Garnet Isaac, Mrs. Mel Harvey, Mrs. Ellis Isaac, Mrs. Harry Hutchison, Miss Ina Dennison, Mrs. Jack Robson, Mrs. Murray McFiggin, Mrs. R. E. Drope, Mrs. A. Lawton and Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Carl McNaught, Mrs. Burton Roberts, Miss Linda Roberts, Mrs. Frank Down, Mrs. Laurie Hope, Mrs. Gordon Jewell and Mrs. N. C. Leach, of Fenella.

HOME AND SCHOOL COUNCIL

Mrs. C. G. Collins, vice-president, conducted the meeting of Home and School Council Wednesday evening in the YWCA. In her opening remarks she stressed creating a greater and wider interest in the organization and asked for an endeavour to reach out in the membership when making appointments.

Mrs. E. Chambers, district chairman, paid tribute to the late Mrs. W. R. Morris, pioneer of Home and School in this city, and a short silence was observed in her memory.

Conveners' reports included: leadership, Mrs. L. M. Richardson; publications, Mrs. C. J. English; health, Mrs. V. R. Henry who stated more than 70 per cent took advantage of the pre-school check-up; finance, Mrs. G. Hutchinson; home education, Mrs. D. Rostocky, an outstanding report in connection with study books.

Mrs. Chambers gave highlights of the June board meeting of the Ontario Federation, held in Toronto, with reference to each of the subjects taken up.

King Edward Association members were hostesses for refreshments at close of the meeting.

Auxiliary Meets

HASTINGS, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Evening Auxiliary of Trinity United Church motored to Omemee on Wednesday to hold the monthly meeting at the home of Miss Jessie Lamb. After a pot luck supper, the president Carrie Baker presided.

C. Baker read a message from the Missionary Monthly. Gladys Burnham had charge of the worship and prayer was led by Helen Crate, Audrey Fisher and Rose Baker. Gladys Burnham read the lesson.

The secretary, Madaline Thompson, read the minutes. Amy Peck gave a report on the card money, Jessie Orr reported that the dishes ordered were now in stock. Norwood extended an invitation to attend the W.M.S. Rally on Sept. 27 in Norwood United Church. It was moved by Helen Crate and Francis Hess that Gladys Burnham be delegate to Norwood. Dorothy Humphries is to replace Margaret McKeener as auditor.

Associate members committee includes: Lola Scriver, Ruby Dodd, Thelma Lockhart. A donation was received from Miss Hyland.

Helen Crate gave the Treasurer's report. Ruby Dodd gave a reading on Stewardship and a reading on temperance was given by Marjorie Scriver. Helen Crate invited the members to her home for the October meeting.

Program Committee: Ruby Dodd, Francis Hess, Eileen Glass and Mae Huckye. Madaline Thompson and Francis Hess sang a duet. The Omemee ladies took the first part of the new study book.

Marjorie Scriver and Carrie Baker played a piano solo. Eileen Glass moved a vote of thanks to the hostess.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are in a position where you feel you really should invite someone into your house, but you know that the living-room is not in order, being cluttered with children's toys, etc.

WRONG WAY: Don't invite the person in.

RIGHT WAY: Invite the person in, since it is better to be hospitable than to try to save yourself embarrassment by not having your house seen unless it is "ready for company."
